THIS WAS THREE TIMES THE NUMBER COMPLETED IN JANUARY, 1946.

HOWEVER, ONLY AN ESTIMATED 42,100 NEW PERMANENT DWELLING UNITS WERE STARTED IN JANUARY, THE BUREAU SAID, ADDING THAT EXPENDITURES FOR NEW HOUSING DECLINED FOR THE FOURTH STRAIGHT MONTH.

THE BUREAU ALSO SAID THE TOTAL NUMBER OF WORKERS EMPLOYED IN BUILDING HAD DROPPED IN JANUARY FOR THE FOURTH STRAIGHT MONTH.

A FEBRUARY INCREASE IN THE NUMBER OF APPRENTICES HIRED WAS REPORTED BY THE LABOR DEPARTMENT'S APPRENTICE TRAINING SERVICE. IT SAID THAT DESPITE A RELATIVELY LOW VOLUME OF CONSTRUCTION LAST MONTH DUE TO UNFAVORABLE WEATHER, THERE WERE 93,035 APPRENTICES IN FEBRUARY, COMPARED WITH 91,093 IN JANUARY.

MEANWHILE DOUGLAS WHITLOCK, CHAIRMAN OF THE BUILDING PRODUCTS INSTITUTE, TOLD THE SENATE BANKING COMMITTEE IN A TELEGRAM THAT THE CONSTRUCTION INDUSTRY WANTS MORE TIME IN WHICH TO PRESENT ITS VIEW ON THE TAFT-ELLENDER-WAGNER PUBLIC HOUSING BILL.

HEARINGS ARE SCHEDULED TO START SHORTLY AND WHITLOCK SAID THE INDUSTRY HAS BEEN GRANTED ONLY TWO DAYS' TIME TO "DISCUSS AN OMNIBUS BILL OF 112 PAGES AND 25,000 WORDS WHICH CAN IN NO WAY BE REGARDED AS EMERGENCY LEGISLATION." ++

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., MARCH 22-(AP)-THE FIRST RUSSIAN VETO IN SIX MONTHS LOOMED TODAY IN THE UNITED NATIONS SECURITY COUNCIL.

FRANCE HELD THE KEY TO THE LATEST TEST BETWEEN THE EAST AND THE WEST, AND HER VOTE FOR OR AGAINST RUSSIA WAS VIEWED AS THE DETERMINING FACTOR IN WHETHER ANDREI A.GROMYKO WOULD INVOKE THE SOVIET VETO FOR THE 10TH TIME.

IF FRANCE JOINED WITH THE WEST, GROMYKO WAS NOT EXPECTED TO HESITATE TO KILL A RESOLUTION FINDING THAT ALBANIA "HAD KNOWLEDGE" OF THE LAYING OF A FATAL MINEFIELD IN THE CORFU CHANNEL OFF HER COAST LAST OCT. 22. TWO BRITISH DESTROYERS WERE DAMAGED THERE WITH A LOSS OF 44 LIVES, AND GREAT BRITAIN SEEKS A VERDICT OF GUILTY AGAINST THE SOVIET-SPONSORED TIRANA GOVERNMENT. GROMYKO SAID THERE WAS NO BASIS FOR THE CHARGES AND THAT THEY SHOULD BE THROWN OUT.

TO MAKE IT MORE SIGNIFICANT, THE SHOWDOWN VOTE WILL COME NEXT TUESDAY, THE FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF COUNCIL DELIBERATIONS ON AMERICAN

THE VETO SITUATION DEVELOPED AS THE WHOLE U.N. ORGANIZATION, UNDOUBTEDLY AFFECTED SOMEWHAT BY THE UNITED STATES UNILATERAL PROPOSAL ON GREECE AND TURKEY, ANXIOUSLY WATCHED CONGRESS IN WASHINGTON AND THE FOREIGN MINISTERS IN MOSCOW FOR TRENDS.

THERE WAS A FEELING HERE THAT AMERICAN DELEGATE WARREN R.AUSTIN WOULD RETURN FROM HIS WASHINGTON CONFERENCE WITH SOME KIND OF A REPORT TO SECRETARY-GENERAL TRYGVE LIE.

LIE STILL DECLINED TO COMMENT BUT IN THE ABSENCE OF INTERIM DEVELOPMENTS MAY TOUCH ON THE SUBJECT NEXT WEDNESDAY WHEN HE DELIVERS A SPEECH OPENING THE 10-NATION TRUSTEESHIP COUNCIL.

IN CONNECTION WITH THE START OF THAT COUNCIL, THE LAST MAJOR U.N. ORGAN TO GET UNDER WAY, THERE WAS SOME CONCERN HERE OVER RUSSIA'S FAILURE TO NAME A DELEGATE. THE SOVIET UNION REFUSED TO SUPPORT PARTS OF THE TRUSTEESHIP PROGRAM ALL THE WAY THROUGH LAST FALL'S GENERAL ASSEMBLY, AND GROMYKO TURNED ASIDE QUERIES AS TO A RUSSIAN DELEGATE WITH A TERSE "NO COMMENT."

A148

A CHECK WITH DELEGATES SHOWS THAT THE PRESENT MINE-LAYING RESOLUTION, PUT FORWARD BY THE UNITED STATES IN WATERING DOWN BRITISH DEMANDS FOR A FLAT VERDICT THAT ALBANIA LAID THE MINES, PROBABLY COULD MUSTER THE NECESSARY SEVEN VOTES SHOULD FRANCE COME ALONG.

AS A PART TO THE DISPUTE, BRITAIN WILL HAVE NO VOTE, BUT COLOMBIA, AUSTRALIA, BELGIUM, BRAZIL AND CHINA HAVE INDICATED, EITHER ON OR OFF THE COUNCIL FLOOR, THAT THEY WOULD ACCEPT THE AMERICAN VERSION; RUSSIA AND POLAND OPPOSE IT STRENUOUSLY, AND SYRIA, LIKE FRANCE, IS STILL NOT COMMITTED.

SOME OBSERVERS SAW IN THE CASE EVEN THE POSSIBILITY OF A DOUBLE VETO. THIS SPECULATION WAS BASED ON THE UNDERSTANDING THAT SEVERAL NATIONS FAVORED REFERENCE OF THE CASE TO THE INTERNATIONAL COURT OF JUSTICE AS A FIRST ALTERNATIVE. SHOULD THAT SITUATION ARISE, GROMYKO WOULD HAVE TO DECIDE WHETHER TO VETO, ABSTAIN OR GO ALONG WITH A PLAN TO PASS TO THE HAGUE COURT A CASE WHICH HE HAS REPEATEDLY CONTENDED HAS NO BASIS IN FACT.

THE LAST SOVIET VETO CAME SEPT. 20, 1946, WHEN GROMYKO VETOED A PROPOSAL TO SET UP A BALKAN INVESTIGATING COMMISSION. LATER A FACT-FINDING BODY WAS ESTABLISHED UNDER DIFFERENT CIRCUMSTANCES AND NOW IS OPERATING IN GREECE.

PREVIOUSLY RUSSIA HAD EXERCISED VETOES IN THE LEVANT CASE, THE SPANISH CASE AND ON MEMBERSHIP APPLICATIONS. THE ONLY OTHER NATION USING THE VETO SO FAR HAS BEEN FRANCE, WHICH INVOKED THE SPECIAL VOTING PRIVILEGE ONCE DURING BALLOTING ON THE SPANISH CASE.

LAKE SUCCESS,N.Y., MARCH ~~22 (AP) SECRETARY~~-GENERAL TRYGVE LIE ANNOUNCED TODAY THAT WORK WOULD BE STARTED ON CONSTRUCTION OF THE UNITED NATIONS SKYSCRAPERS HEADQUARTERS IN MID-TOWN MANHATTAN BY JULY 1 WITH AN INITIAL OUTLAY OF $1,825,000.

LIE ADVISED NEW YORK'S MAYOR WILLIAM E.O'DWYER BY LETTER THAT HE HAD AUTHORIZED THE EXPENDITURE OF $1,000,000 FOR DEMOLITION, EXCAVATION AND RELATED WORK AND THAT THIS WOULD GET UNDER WAY WITHIN THREE MONTHS.

LIE ALSO SAID THAT $700,000 HAD BEEN ALLOCATED FOR DRAWINGS, RESEARCH AND SPECIFICATIONS AND THAT ANOTHER $125,000 WOULD GO TO THE BOROUGH OF MANHATTAN TO COVER COSTS OF PLANNING ALTERATIONS ALONG EAST RIVER DRIVE, WHICH WILL BORDER THE HEADQUARTERS.

UNDER A SPEED-UP BUILDING PROGRAM, OFFICIALS HERE EARLIER ESTIMATED THAT THE UNITED NATIONS COULD MOVE INTO ITS NEW HOME BY THE END OF NEXT YEAR. UNDER THESE PLANS, A SUFFICIENT PART WOULD BE COMPLETED TO HANDLE ALL EXCEPT MEETINGS OF THE 55-NATION GENERAL ASSEMBLY BY THAT TIME. THOSE SESSIONS WOULD CONTINUE AT FLUSHING--AT THE OLD WORLD'S FAIR SITE IN FLUSHING PENDING COMPLETION OF THE ENTIRE HEADQUARTERS.

NO ESTIMATE HAS BEEN GIVEN AS TO THE COST OF THE ENTIRE PROJECT.

NEW YORK, MARCH 22-(AP)-THE NEW YORK TIMES SAID TODAY IT HAD LEARNED THAT "WHEN STABILITY IS RE-ESTABLISHED IN GREECE, THE UNITED STATES WILL FOLLOW A MODERATE POLICY OF TRYING TO OBTAIN WHAT IT REGARDS AS A JUST POLITICAL AND TERRITORIAL SETTLEMENT BETWEEN GREECE AND HER COMMUNIST NEIGHBORS."

THE NEWSPAPER QUOTED A REPORT THAT U.S. POLICY FAVORS "DEVELOPMENT OF A FREE ZONE UNDER GREEK SOVEREIGNTY IN THE PORT OF SALONIKA."

IN A DISPATCH FROM WASHINGTON, THE NEW PAPER SAID THAT "ACCORDING TO A RELIABLE WRITTEN REPORT CIRCULATING IN THE CAPITAL, UNITED STATES POLICY ON THE TERRITORIAL QUESTIONS THAT DIVIDE GREECE, ALBANIA, YUGOSLAVIA AND BULGARIA WILL BE BASED ON THE FOLLOWING POINTS:

"(1) 'THE UNITED STATES RECOGNIZES,' THE REPORT STATES, 'THAT THE MAINTENANCE OF GREEK INDEPENDENCE AND TERRITORIAL INTEGRITY IS OF IMPORTANCE TO THE SECURITY AND INDEPENDENCE OF THE WHOLE NEAR AND MIDDLE EASTERN AREA, WHICH IS OF VITAL IMPORTANCE TO UNITED STATES SECURITY.'

"(2) THE UNITED STATES FAVORS THE RETENTION, WITHOUT CHANGE, OF THE 1938 BOUNDARIES OF GREECE. IT DOES NOT SUPPORT GREECE'S CLAIM ON ALBANIA FOR NORTHERN EPIRUS, BUT WILL ACCEDE TO GREECE'S WISH TO RAISE THAT QUESTION IN THE COUNCIL OF FOREIGN MINISTERS AFTER THE COUNCIL HAS COMPLETED ITS WORK ON THE PEACE TREATIES.

"(3) TO EASE THE PRESSURE FROM YUGOSLAVIA AND BULGARIA ON GREECE, THE UNITED STATES FAVORS THE 'DEVELOPMENT OF A FREE ZONE UNDER GREEK SOVEREIGNTY IN THE PORT OF SALONIKA, AND IS PREPARED TO ENCOURAGE GREECE TO ESTABLISH ADEQUATE FACILITIES AND TO STRIVE FOR FRIENDLY RELATIONS WITH HER NEIGHBORS IN ORDER THAT THIS FREE ZONE WILL IN REALITY SERVE THE PURPOSE FOR WHICH IT WAS INTENDED.' IN SHORT, THE UNITED STATES RECOGNIZES 'THE ADVANTAGE OF A COMMERCIAL OUTLET TO THE AEGEAN FOR BULGARIA AND YUGOSLAVIA.'

"(40) THE UNITED STATES CONSIDERS THAT THE QUESTION OF CYPRUS, EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN BRITISH ISLAND, WHOSE NATIVE POPULATION IS MAINLY GREEK, SHOULD BE SETTLED BILATERALLY BETWEEN THE GREEKS AND THE BRITISH. HOWEVER, THE UNITED STATES FAVORS THE ISLAND'S CESSION TO GREECE, PROVIDED SUCH A TRANSFER WAS SATISFACTORY TO BOTH GOVERNMENTS AND PROTECTED THE SECURITY OF THE NON-GREEK INHABITANTS AND OF THE LINES OF COMMUNICATIONS IN THE EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN.

"(5) THE UNITED STATES DOES NOT INTEND TO DEMAND CHANGES IN THE GREEK GOVERNMENT, BUT IT HAS URGED, AND WILL CONTINUE TO URGE, THAT "'ALL EFFORTS SHOULD BE MADE TO BROADEN THE GOVERNMENT' TO INCLUDE 'ALL LOCAL GREEK PARTIES, WHETHER OR NOT REPRESENTED IN THE PRESENT PARLIAMENT.'"

"THE REPORT CANNOT BE DESCRIBED AS A COMPLETE AND OFFICIAL STATEMENT OF UNITED STATES POLICY, BUT THERE IS EVERY REASON TO BELIEVE IT AUTHENTIC," THE PAPER SAID.

(ADVANCE) NEW YORK, MARCH 22-(AP)-STATE GOVERNMENTS WILL GO ON THE BIGGEST BORROWING SPREE IN HISTORY TO PAY FOR G.I.BONUSEES AND HOUSING LOANS EXPECTED TO TOTAL MORE THAN $3,000,000,000.

EIGHT STATE TREASURIES HAVE ALREADY BEEN AUTHORIZED TO RAISE ABOUT $1,000,000,000 FOR BONUS PAYMENTS TO VETERANS.

ANOTHER $2,500,000,000 IS IN VARIOUS STAGES OF CONSIDERATION AMONG ABOUT 27 STATES. THE BALANCE HAVE TAKEN NO ACTION.

MICHIGAN HIT THE NEW MONEY MARKET NEARLY THREE WEEKS AGO IN WHAT WAS DESCRIBED AS THE LARGEST PIECE OF NEW FINANCING EVER HANDLED BY UNDERWRITERS. THE STATE SOLD TO AN INVESTMENT SYNDICATE AT COMPETITIVE BIDDING $200,000,000 OF AN AUTHORIZED $270,000,000.

THE INVESTING PUBLIC GAVE THE MICHIGAN BONDS A GOOD RECEPTION AND BOND DEALERS GENERALLY REGARDED THE OPERATION AS SUCCESSFUL.

ILLINOIS IS NEXT ON THE SCHEDULE WITH SALE OF $300,000,000 BONDS ON MAY 1 OUT OF AN AUTHORIZED $385,000,000.

STILL SUBJECT TO FURTHER ACTION ARE SUCH GIANT ISSUES AS $600,000,000 PROPOSED FOR PENNSYLVANIA, $400,000,000 TO BE CONSIDERED BY NEW YORK VOTERS THIS NOVEMBER, $325,000,000 TO $500,000,000

PROPOSED IN THREE BILLS IN THE OHIO LEGISLATURE AND $300,000,000 TO $500,000,000 BONUS BILL INTRODUCED IN THE 1947 TEXAS LEGISLATURE.

A COMPLATION BY THE BOND BUYER, AUTHORITATIVE PUBLICATION IN THE MUNICIPAL FINANCING FIELD, SHOWS THE STATUS OF BOND ISSUES OF ABOUT $100,000,000:

WASHINGTON, BILL INTRODUCED IN BOTH BRANCHES OF THE LEGISLATURE LAST JANUARY; MISSOURI, EXPECTED TO BE CONSIDERED IN LEGISLATURE IN LATE APRIL; NEW JERSEY, EXPECTED TO BE INTRODUCED IN LEGISLATURE IN LATE MARCH; MARYLAND, INTRODUCED IN LEGISLATURE IN FEBRUARY, WOULD BE SUBMITTED TO VOTERS IN 1948.

THE DELAWARE LEGISLATURE HAS UNDER STUDY A BILL TO SELL A $7,500,000 ISSUE TO FINANCE BONUS PAYMENTS.

FLORIDA'S CONSTITUTION PROHIBITS BONDING THE STATE FOR ANY PURPOSE OTHER THAN FOR REPELLING INVASION OR SUPPRESSING INSURRECTION.

NO ACTION HAS BEEN TAKEN BY, AMONG OTHERS, IDAHO, KANSAS, MONTANA, NORTH AND SOUTH CAROLINA, AND UTAH.

VERMONT HAS ALREADY PAID ABOUT $3,700,000 OUT OF CURRENT FUNDS AND RHODE ISLAND MARKETED $20,000,000 OF BONUS BONDS LAST NOVEMBER.

OTHERS APPROVED, THE BOND BUYER SAID, INCLUDE CALIFORNIA $100,000,000 ($30,000,000 BONDS AUTHORIZED IN 1945, SOLD IN 1945 AND 1946), MASSACHUSETTS ESTIMATED $170,000,000 TO $180,000,000. ($80,000,000 IN NOTES SOLD IN 1946 AND $30,000,000 IN 1947); OREGON $30,000,000 (SOLD $1,000,000 BONDS IN 1945 AND $1,000,000 IN 1947); NEW HAMPSHIRE $6,000,000, OF WHICH PART ALREADY HAS BEEN SOLD.

SMALLER ISSUES IN THE PENDING COLUMN INCLUDE: CONNECTICUT, SUPREME COURT MUST PASS ON LEGALITY; GEORGIA $40,000,000, PROBABLY BE SUBMITTED TO VOTERS IN 1948; INDIANA $40,000,000, APPROVED BY LEGISLATURE, REFERENDUM IN 1948; IOWA $90,000,000, TWO BILLS INTRODUCED IN LEGISLATURE IN JANUARY; MAINE $25,000,000 TO $50,000,000, CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE SUBMITTED NEXT SEPTEMBER; MINNESOTA $45,000,000, CONSIDERATION EXPECTED BY 1947 LEGISLATURE; NEBRASKA $65,000,000, IN LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE, TO BE FINANCED BY PROPERTY TAX; NORTH DAKOTA $27,000,000, APPROVED BY LEGISLATURE, CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED JUNE 1948; SOUTH DAKOTA $20,000,000 TO $30,000,000, APPROVED BY LEGISLATURE, WILL GO TO ELECTORATE 1948; WISCONSIN $80,000,000, BILL IN LEGISLATURE, TO BE FINANCED BY INCOME SURTAX.

PAYMENTS AND BENEFITS TO VETERANS WILL PROBABLY ACCOUNT FOR THE LARGEST PART OF VAST LOCAL GOVERNMENT BORROWING IN 1947 AND 1948 BUT THE TOTAL WILL ALSO BE SWOLLEN BY WAR-DELAYED PROJECTS SUCH AS LOW-COST HOUSING, AIRPORT FACILITIES, ROAD IMPROVEMENT, EDUCATIONAL AND HEALTH PROGRAMS.

RAISING THESE SUMS WILL CALL FOR DELICATE JUDGMENT IN ONE OF THE FINANCIAL WORLD'S MOST INTRICATE OPERATIONS.

A PRIMARY PROBLEM WILL BE THE TIMING NECESSARY TO AVOID COMPETITION AMONG THE VARIOUS STATES, AS WELL AS CORPORATIONS, ALL IN THE MARKET FOR NEWS CAPITAL.

SOVIET TREATY PLAN DOUBTED

GALLAGHER

Communist Bid To Germans Suspected By British

Moscow, March 23 (AP)—British and American sources today viewed Russia's proposal for a centralized German government as a bid for German support and an attempt to create a system which the Communist party will have the best chance to control.

Generally the British appeared more perturbed than the Americans by the proposal Vyacheslav M. Molotov, Soviet Foreign Minister, advanced yesterday. One British source described the entire Soviet approach at the Foreign Ministers' Council as "sinister" in that, in his view, it appeared to put the wooing of German support above the question of European security.

Sorted By Special Committee

Despite the two-day recess until Tuesday in the ministers' meetings, delegations of the four powers were busy as a special committee sorted out the main points of disagreement and agreement over the proposals on Germany.

With two weeks work behind it, the Foreign Ministers' Council has yet to come to agreement on any fundamental principles. Most observers felt the conference would run another month at least, unless differences become so great Gen. George C. Marshall, Secretary of State, decides it is no further use to argue questions at this time.

Even the Austrian treaty, which was expected to be comparatively easy, had made virtually no progress.

Score In Clark's Summary

Gen. Mark W. Clark's summary to the Council disclosed the following score on that pact:

Political Clauses—Eight agreed, seven disagreed, six of these seven major issues.

Military Articles — Seven agreed, eleven disagreed, with five major disagreements.

Economic Clauses—One agreed, nine disagreed, fifteen yet to be discussed.

General Marshall, seeking to speed the Austrian treaty, has a proposal before the foreign ministers that the deputies concentrate on the main issue of German assets, the chief stumbling block thus far. His proposal has not been acted upon.

Separate Discussion Expected

The American Secretary was expected to take up separately with the Soviet Foreign office questions of payment for lend-lease and discussion of the Hungarian political situation. When this will occur was not learned, but it was known that General Marshall is anxious to concentrate on Germany, which he regards as the top issue of all.

The chief objection from the West to the Soviet proposals for a German Government similar to the old Weimar republic was that it provides easy machinery for a single party to seize control of all Germany.

The Americans, British and French feel that with the main powers resting in the German states it would be difficult for one party, such as the Soviet-sponsored, Communist - dominated Socialist Unity party in the Russian zone, to take control of Germany.

Also Object To Voting System

Western nations object also to the proportional representation list system of voting in which the voters choose one party list or another instead of balloting for individuals.

Today Eugene Tarle, Soviet economist, writing in the Government newspaper Izvestia in support of the Russian position, charged that the United States and Britain were trying to set up a German government from which American and British capital could spread its influence to France, Italy, the Balkans and Scandinavian countries.

A large part of Molotov's speeches appear to be destined for consumption as propaganda in Germany.

Yesterday, when Molotov put forth his plan for a centralized German government, the Soviet radio was on the air with a full text before the meeting was over. This was made available in Germany for morning papers.

Combatted By Bevin

Ernest Bevin, British Foreign Secretary, has been quick to note this line of approach and combat it with arguments on all points, even minor ones.

General Marshall and Georges Bidault, French Foreign Minister, have ignored largely this propaganda attack and its possible effect on the German people.

It was understood that General Marshall sees the German problem largely from the viewpoint of a military man who has watched Germany plunge the world into war twice and he is not too concerned with the propaganda effect of the conference on the German people.

Others close to the German problem feel that the United States must combat Soviet propaganda.

Russian Attacks German Plan of U.S. and Britain

Economist Charges 2 Seek a Base of Operations for Their Capitalists

MOSCOW, March 23 (AP).—Eugene Tarle, Soviet economist and historian, said in the government newspaper "Izvestia" today that the United States and Britain were seeking to create the kind of Germany from which American and British capital could spread its influence to France, Italy, the Balkans and the Scandinavian countries.

"The Soviet Union's plan for a united, actually democratic Germany is being opposed by some political leaders of the Anglo-Saxon countries who have their defenders in the Council of Foreign Ministers," he wrote in an article entitled, "Unity or Federalization?"

"The Soviet people understand that Germany as a state cannot be destroyed," Mr. Tarle said. "However, the Hitlerite centralization . . . should be eliminated."

"A close study of the various plans for federalization show that they do not pursue a course of peaceful reorganization of Germany and are dictated by entirely different considerations," wrote the economist, who is highly respected in Russia.

He said representatives of what he termed "monopolistic capital" sought "a peaceful economic conquest of the country by foreigners."

Another "Izvestia" writer, R. Morin, accused those whom he called "reactionaries" of trying to inspire "mass indignation" at Soviet Foreign Minister Viacheslav M. Molotov's proposal to review information on China.

He said that "naturally, no mass movement is forming," and added that such efforts are "doomed to failure."

Both George C. Marshall, American Secretary of State, and Ernest Bevin, British Foreign Secretary, rejected Mr. Molotov's proposal for informal discussion of China.

African Colonies To Be Discussed

London, March 23 (AP)—The Foreign Office said today that four-power discussions on what to do with Italy's African empire were expected to start "in the very near future—probably around Easter."

A spokesman declined direct comment on a Sunday Times article suggesting that the United States might seek a United Nations trusteeship for Cyrenaica and make Tobruk a base for an American fleet.

U.N. Turns To World Arms Cuts

Lake Success, N.Y., March 23 (AP)—The United Nations officially embarks tomorrow on its drive to slash world armaments.

As the eleven-nation Commission on Conventional Armaments prepared for its opening session, the United States served notice that any program for cutting down troops and arms must be accompanied by air-tight provisions for safeguards and inspections.

Herschel V. Johnson, American delegate, planned to emphasize these points:

1. The world cannot expect a general arms reduction system to function until safeguard and inspection provisions are ready.

2. Arms slashing must go hand in hand with general security, noting here that the military staff committee has made little progress toward establishment of an international military force.

3. The world will be in better condition actually to scrap guns once the peace treaties are signed.

4. Arms reduction is only one step toward peace and by itself might boomerang into war.

Wants To Clarify Conditions

The United States will make it clear that it is ready to go to work on the problem but wants to clarify the conditions facing the Security Council's commission.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, of Great Britain, generally going along with the American ideas, was represented as wanting to emphasize the relationship between control and disarmament.

The Commission will be limited to discussions of weapons outside the range of the Atomic Energy Commission, which covers the atom bomb and other weapons of mass destruction. The first report to the Council is due May 13.

Hasluck In Line For Chairman

The first session was expected to be devoted principally to election of a chairman, statements by delegates, and a broad discussion of the work program.

Security Council organs in the past have worked on a monthly rotation system by alphabet for the chairmanship. This would mean Paul Hasluck, of Australia, would take the gavel first, followed by Fernand van Langenhove, of Belgium.

Members of the commission are Great Britain, United States, Russia, China, France, Belgium, Australia, Brazil, Poland, Colombia and Syria.

Busy Program For Week

Elsewhere the United Nations had a busy program lined up for the week, including these items:

1. The Economic and Social Council worked through the week end to meet a Tuesday adjournment deadline.

2. The Security Council was summoned to meet Tuesday morning for a vote on Great Britain's mine-laying charges against Albania. The first Russian veto in six months was a possibility.

3. Andrei A. Gromyko, Russian chairman of the Atomic Commission, called the working committee into closed session, also for Tuesday, to begin work on the atomic report sent back by the Security Council.

Trusteeship Group To Convene

4. The ten-nation Trusteeship Council, last major organ to get under way, will convene Wednesday with Secretary-General Trygve Lie giving the welcoming address. Delegates anticipated that Lie would touch on some of the top issues of the day, perhaps commenting on the American unilateral plan for action in Greece and Turkey. Russia still had not named her delegate to the Council.

5. Warren R. Austin, American chief delegate, was expected back from Washington about Thursday, perhaps with some official report to the United Nations on the Greek question. With his return, the Security Council will be ready to resume debate on the American plan to take over the Japanese mandated islands in the Pacific under a "strategic area" trusteeship.

SOVIET ZONE EMBARGO OFF

Russians Given Fresh Chance On Steel Commitments

Berlin, March 23 (AP)—American officials said today an embargo on steel shipments into Germany's Soviet zone has been held in abeyance to give the Russians "another chance" to meet commitments under a $21,000,000 trade pact with the British-American zones.

The embargo on export of pig iron and steel and standard steel products was scheduled to go into effect last Friday, according to an official communiqué withheld from general release. An earlier British-American statement said shipments had been reduced to the Soviet zone, and a total embargo was under consideration because delinquencies in the shipments from the Russians had "placed the United States-British zone in an extremely difficult position."

"Leaning Over Backward"

M. S. Szymczak, director of the economics division of the American Military Government, said today the joint statement was a faux pas. Further efforts are being made to get the Russians to fulfill their commitments, he said, because "I am sure the Russians are as anxious to keep this trade in balance as we are."

He declared, however, that the Russians have been warned twice and that unless delinquencies in shipments are made up "there is no question but we will have to inform them our shipments must be reduced."

He added that "we are leaning over backwards in this matter because we don't want to give any appearance of being arbitrary and we do want to make clear this has no relation to the Moscow Foreign Ministers' Conference, but is strictly a business deal between the zones."

"Progressively Delinquent"

Joint Anglo-American action in the matter had reached the point where an official communiqué had been drafted announcing that "shipment to the Russian zone of pig iron and steel and standard iron and steel products was suspended March 21 for an indefinite period by German producers in the United States and British zone."

The communiqué was withheld from general release here after its contents had become known from officials at Minden, seat of the two-zone economic control group.

The joint statement had said that the British-American zone had shipped 95 per cent of its commitments to the Soviet zone under the trade pact, but that the Russian zone "has progressively become delinquent in its promised deliveries, and these shortages have become more pronounced during January and February."

No Reply From The Russians

Szymczak declared the Russians had been cautioned orally about their deliveries, during the winter, and that this was followed up by a formal statement "three or four weeks ago" to the director of economics of the Soviet Military Administration requesting renewed Soviet efforts to bring interzonal trade into balance.

To date, there has been no reply, Szymczak added.

"As of the present moment we have made no reduction nor embargo of shipments," he said. "But there is no question if this trade is not balanced we will have to set a date for action.

"That doesn't mean we will send steel deliveries elsewhere, but rather that we will hold them aside until the Russians catch up with deliveries of their products to our zone. Now that spring weather relieves transport conditions, they may catch up."

Russian Side Of Argument

The German Central Ministry for Trade in the Russian zone disputed British-American claims that big delinquencies existed only on the Soviet zone's side.

A statement issued through the Soviet-controlled German news agency said "deliveries in all zones had been retarded through winter transport difficulties . . . delinquincies of the Soviet zone are by no means larger than those of the Western zones."

It said trade with the Western zones was in balance as of March 20, and that deliveries from the western zones were only 30 per cent of commitments in the first quarter.

Disputed By AMG Official

This was disputed by an interzonal trade official of the American Military Government. He asserted the American zone had supplied the Soviet zone with 50,000 more tons of steel than was called for in their interzonal agreement.

The American and British zones merged economically January 1, and the official said this "over delivery" recorded as of December 31, 1946, had put the Soviet zone far in arrears in trade with the combined zone.

He said the Soviet zone was behind in its deliveries to the American zone under the 1946 agreement which preceded the bizonal merger.

"It's all right for the Russians to say all zones are behind," the official commented, "but the question is who is more delinquent. And the answer to that is the Russian zone is farther behind."

U. S. Soldier Shoots Russian

BERLIN, March 23 (AP)—The United States Army Provost Marshall's Office said today that United States guards at a railway station had wounded a Russian soldier in the hip when he disregarded their challenge. The wounded Russian was turned over to Soviet authorities and a joint investigation was undertaken.

333 Berlin Suicides In 2 Months

Berlin, March 23 (AP)—The American licensed newspaper Tagesspiegel said today that 333 residents of Berlin committed suicide in January and February, including 186 who "feared they would starve to death." The city Health Ministry estimated 400 Berliners died of hunger and exposure in December.

Stassen Arrives In Berlin

2 GUNMEN SLAY RED MEMBER OF GERMAN BOARD

STUTTGART, Germany, March 23—(AP) Two masked gunmen broke into the bedroom of Rheinold Hub, 41, a Communist, at Oehringen yesterday and shot him to death in the American occupation zone.

Hub, known as a man with "many friends and many enemies," died a half hour after the shooting in the arms of his wife, Lina, who said it was "political" murder. The gunmen were still at large tonight.

Police Inspector Otto Oster declared, however, that the case had many earmarks of a slaying perpetrated during a robbery. Mrs. Hub said the gunmen went directly into the bedroom and shot her husband, but Oster asserted the Hubs had been warned to stay in bed and Hub was shot only when he tried to get up.

Outside Aid Listed As Cause Of Greece's Internal Strife

Salonika, Greece, March 23 (AP)—An unofficial survey of the United Nations Balkans Investigating Commission disclosed today that a majority considered outside assistance a prime reason for internal fighting in Greece.

The commission, ending nearly two months' inquiry into Greek charges that rebellious Leftists were spurred and helped by Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania, started leaving Greece early today. The group will visit Sofia and Belgrade briefly, then proceed to Geneva to write the final report, which is expected to be highly controversial.

The majority was represented as believing excesses from the left and right wing elements were stimulating the bitter fighting and sharpening political differences in Greece.

No Formal Votes Taken

No formal votes have been taken by the eleven-nation commission and compromises have been reached on virtually all issues. In the proceedings, Russia and Poland have consistently lined up against the United States, the United Kingdom, Australia, France, Belgium, Syria, Colombia, Brazil and China.

The Russian and Polish delegates were expected to oppose any suggestion in the written report that Greece's northern neighbors had assisted Left-wing revolutionists in Greece. They have maintained from the start that the Greek problem was purely internal.

A United States and British proposal that the United Nations establish a permanent group of frontier observers was expected to become another issue, opposed by Russia and Poland.

Ministers To Probe Killings

Athens, March 23 (AP)—Three Cabinet ministers left today for Ghythion in the Southern Peloponnesus to investigate circumstances in which 32 Communist prisoners were killed in the storming of a prison last Friday and to supervise imposition of martial law in the area.

The ministers making the trip were George Papandreou, Interior; Napoleon Zervas, Public Order, and George Stratos, War.

The Communist prisoners reportedly were executed when a band of villagers from the area surrounding Ghythion stormed the prison in reprisal for the slaying of the leader of a Right-wing band.

Yugoslavia Sends Back Men Who Crossed Morgan Line

ROME, March 23 (AP)—Three American soldiers of the 88th Division occupying Venezia Guilia were returned to Allied Military Headquarters yesterday by their Yugoslav captors, the Mediterranean Theatre Command said today.

They were Pfc. Robert Damore of Susquehanna, Pa.; Pfc. Thomas E. Vowper of Chicago and Pvt. George J. Fite of Chillicothe, Ohio.

A Yugoslav patrol picked up Damore and Vowper last Sunday and Fite was taken the next day. They had wandered across the Morgan Line into the former Italian territory occupied by Yugoslavia. United States Army authorities lodged a series of protests which brought about their release.

SLAYER OF IL DUCE IDENTIFIED AS RED

ROME, March 23—(AP) The man who slew Benito Mussolini was identified by the Italian Communist party today as Walter Audisio, 37, a bookkeeper and member of the anti-Fascist underground.

Audisio, a Communist since 1931, was asked to appear tomorrow in a Rome theater to describe the dictator's execution, but the Communists tonight postponed his appearance for a week "in a place still to be decided" because the theater hired for tomorrow was "too small to accommodate the extraordinary crowds expected."

Luigi Ferrari, chief of the Italian federal police, denied reports he had warned the Communists to call off the meeting for reasons of public safety, but said the police had complained because "we had no previous notification."

The Communists' announcement said that Audisio, known to the underground as "Col Valerio," had killed Mussolini at Dango on April 28, 1945, "under orders of his superiors."

Franco Reported Ready To Reveal Regency Plan

MADRID, March 23 (AP).—Several Monarchist youths were injured slightly today in a street clash with Falagist supporters of Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

The clash, in which several hundred youths took part, coincided with an unverified report that Franco was about to announce a regency to succeed him in the event of his death or incapacitation.

The report, which could not be confirmed at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, said three men would be designated—the Archbishop of Toledo, the president of the Spanish Cortes (parliament) and the ranking lieutenant-general of the army.

Use of the world "regency" was thought to indicate there was still some chance of the monarchy might return. The plan was supposed to have been approved at a Cabinet meeting on Feb. 28.

Jewish Underground Makes Requests From Palestine

Jerusalem, March 23 (AP)—The Jewish underground organization Irgun Zvai Leumi urged today that Jews throughout the world boycott British goods "as part of our fight against imperialism."

Irgun said in a communique that the boycott would bring results, "since the British now are particularly sensitive to economic reprisals in view of the current struggle for economic existence."

Ends Series Of Meetings

The Jewish Agency Executive ended a week of closed meetings called to consider ways of presenting the Jewish case to the United Nations. A statement on the Executive's decisions was scheduled to be issued tomorrow.

A source close to the Executive said he believed the agency announcement tomorrow would demand "unlimited Jewish immigration to Palestine governed only by the country's absorptive capacity."

Meanwhile, it was learned reliably from a private source that the Palestine Government had decided that all twenty crew members, including eighteen Americans, of the American-owned ship Abril, which attempted to land uncertified immigrants in Palestine two weeks ago, would not be brought to trial, but would be deported to the United States.

The men had been arrested on charges of aiding and abetting illegal immigration.

It was presumed the deportation of the Abril crew would take place aboard the American ship Marine Carp, reportedly due at Haifa on March 30.

BRITISH PARLEY SEEN ON PALESTINE ISSUE

JERUSALEM, (Monday), March 24—(AP) An offical government spokesman said today that the High Commissioner for Palestine, Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, and the commander of British forces in Palestine, Lt. Gen. G. H. A. MacMillan, left by plane for London last night "to report to his majesty's government on the situation in Palestine."

Flareup In India

New Delhi, India, March 23 (AP)—Communal fighting broke out between Moslems and Sikhs in the old city of Delhi today in a Pakistan Day flareup which coincided with the opening here of an inter-Asian conference representing more than twenty countries.

At least one person was killed and several were injured. Military patrols were called out, and a curfew was imposed from 4 P.M. to 7 A.M. in Delhi.

The fighting occurred despite an appeal by M. A. Jinnah, president of the Moslem League, for peaceful observance of Pakistan Day, on which all members of the league were to renew their pledges to achieve Pakistan—an independent Moslem state.

Situation Calm In New Delhi

The situation remained calm in New Delhi, where Lord Mountbatten, Viceroy Designate, had taken up residence in the Viceregal Lodge.

NIGHT

In Bombay, efforts to halt a paralyzing strike of streetcar and bus employés failed, and employers and employés announced service would cease at midnight. Union officials said the strike was for higher wages.

Jawaharlal Nehru, opening the inter-Asian conference, told 250 delegates that "countries of Asia can no longer be used as pawns by others" and that "there can be no peace unless Asia plays her part."

Soviet Units Represented

Nehru, Congress Party leader and vice president of India's interim government, denied that the conference was "aggressive" in purpose "or against any other continent or country."

The Moslem League has boycotted the meeting on grounds that it is sponsored by the predominantly Hindu Congress Party, and as such is "a hoax."

Representatives came from some republics of the Soviet Union, China, Egypt, Afghanistan, Malaya, Burma, Palestine, Tibet, Turkey, Siam, Indo-China and Ceylon. Delegations from the Philippines and Korea were expected tomorrow.

100 Iranian Soldiers Killed In Border Clash

Tehran, March 23 (AP)—More than 100 Iranian Government soldiers and three officers were killed several days ago in a clash with the Barzani tribes near the Iraqui border, said reports received today.

A Kurdish leader who arrived in Tehran said the Iranian army had been pushing the tribesmen slowly toward Iraq.

The Barzani Kurds fled Iraq last year after several of their leaders were sentenced to death. They occupied several Iranian cities and prevented the entry of Government troops into the area for more than a year.

Shipper Will Defy Dutch Regulations

Batavia, Java, March 23 (AP)—James Ryan, general counsel here for the Isbrandtsen Company, Inc., New York shipping firm, announced today he had received a cable stating his company would continue to challenge the Dutch Government's export regulations by sending another ship to Republican Java March 30.

The ship, the 6,214-ton S.S. Flying Cloud, was reported to be carrying a cargo of textiles from Manila.

NIGHT

The $3,000,000 cargo of another Isbrandtsen ship, the Martin Behrman, was seized recently by Dutch naval forces at the Republican port of Cheribon on the ground that the cargo was loaded without Dutch authority. The vessel took on sugar, rubber, and other commodities.

A Dutch decision to permit the Martin Behrman to sail from Batavia with a duplicate cargo was rejected yesterday at New York by Hans Isbrandtsen, head of the shipping company. He said the proposal was "not acceptable because it settles nothing."

CHINA ASKS REDS GIVE ACCOUNT OF MANCHURIA BOOTY

NANKING, March 23—(AP) The Central committee of the Kuomintang, China's governing party, urged today that Russia be called upon to fulfill the treaty of 1945 and open negotiations over removal of industrial equipment from Manchuria.

The demand was in the form of a resolution which persons in attendance said ended the closed 10-day policy session of the committee.

DAY

Reds Given Certain Rights

The 1945 treaty gave Russia certain special rights in Manchuria, including joint operation of some railroads, use of Port Arthur as a naval base, and joint use of China of Dairen as a free commercial port under Chinese administration.

A Chinese government army still is sitting outside, Dairen waiting for the Russians to hand it over. There has been no inkling of Soviet intentions, but the independent newspaper Hsin Min Pao published a wholly unconfirmed account that a warship of "a certain power" had just taken over Haiyang Island, 80 miles east of Dairen and a similar distance west of Soviet-occupied northern Korea. Government sources said they knew nothing about it.

The Manchurian industrial equipment, upon which China was counting for her own rehabilitation, was removed during the Soviet occupation of all Manchuria after the Japanese surrender.

China's attitude towards Russia was the subject of warm debate in the Kuomintang committee. Several members charged Foreign Minister Wang Shih-chieh with being "weak-kneed," but Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek defended him.

The Chinese remained officially mum on a United States reminder that settlement was in order for a two-billion-dollar lend-lease balance, but informed quarters said the request was "a considerable surprise."

One Kuomintang leader said China was seeking further financial support rather than settlement of old debts.

Probe of Funds Asked

On the problem of government finances, the committee was reported to have demanded a special investigation of transactions by high government officials, with confiscations and ousters of those found culpable.

Another resolution colled for "reorientation" of government policy towards the Chinese Communists in an undisclosed manner.

On the military side, there was a continuing welter of unconfirmed Chinese newspaper reports.

Besides the report about Haiyang Island, Hsin Min Pao reported that the Chinese Communists had established headquarters in Suiteh, 70 miles northeast of their fallen capital, Yenan.

It said government armies were moving on Suiteh from the south, northwest and northeast.

The Communist radio, continuing to broadcast from somewhere in "North Shensi Province," snorted defiance. It said the battle for the northwest "has only just begun," and said that Chiang Kai-shek was using so many troops there that he would have trouble elsewhere.

House Foreign Affairs Committee for "background" on the administration's program to help Greece and Turkey ward off encroaching Communism—reported, too, that Britain had asked this nation to take over the "major responsibility" for financing military as well as civilian needs in the two southern European countries.

"Armed band activities, directed and assisted from outside the country, are part of a master plan to separate Macedonia from Greece and to make untenable any Greek government not subservient to Communist aims.

"U. S. representatives in Greece have become convinced that the increasing effrontery of Greece's northern neighbors and of EAM (the Communist organization) is an indication of belief that Greece port for Bulgaria and Albania in disputes with Greece.

"There is no indication," this report said, "that the Soviet Union will change its attitude of hostility toward the present Greek government. The USSR may be expected to continue its verbal hostility to the present Greek government and to applaud the active opposition elements in Greece.

Documents Reveal Russia's Campaign to Dominate Balkan Country.

GREEK PLANS DIVULGED

Maintenance of Democracy in Near East Called Vital to U. S. Security.

WASHINGTON, March 23—(AP) United States documents — their "secret" label removed tonight under congressional pressure—accused Russia of waging a "war of nerves" against Turkey, told of a "master plan" to bring Greece under Communist domination, and called Poland frankly a Soviet "satellite."

Vital To U. S. Security

One document declared that "the United States recognizes that the maintenance of Greek independence and territorial integrity is of importance to the security and independence of the whole near and middle eastern area, which is of vital importance to U. S. security."

It also disclosed that the United States:

1. Has advised Greece that "we x x x favor a retention without change of 1939 Greek boundaries" in the "interests of overall Balkan stability."

2. Will support the Greek desire to present its claim against Albania for northern Epirus to the foreign ministers' council after the council had completed the peace treaties.

3. Favors the development of a free zone under Greek sovereignty in the port of Salonika, to provide a commercial outlet to the Aegean for Bulgaria and Yugoslavia.

4. Favors Britain's ceding to Greece the island of Cyrus, where Britain now holds Jews attempting to enter Palestine.

5. Is now negotiating a treaty of friendship, commerce and navigation with Greece.

Red Activity Assailed

In outlining the plight of Greece, another document placed the primary responsibility for the "steadily deteriorating economic conditions and worsening of internal order" upon the "Communist-controlled left movement in Greece."

And it added:

is a 'ripe plum ready to fall into their hands' within a few weeks through lack of support by the western democracies."

The document apparently was prepared earlier this month. It did not specify the authorship of the "master plan."

It accused the Communist press and radio of carrying on a ceaseless campaign of "vilification and distortion" ever since the liberation of Greece, "the purpose of which obviously has been to undermine confidence in British and U. S. actions regarding Greece."

The documents traced the development of the critical Greek situation through the war and after liberation up to the time the British ambassador to Washington, Lord Inverchapel, handed this country two notes on Feb. 24 which have not been made public in full.

"These notes," one document said, "hoped that in view of the British inability to continue financial assistance to these two countries, the U. S. would be willing to take over the major responsibility for the military and civilian needs which must be financed from abroad."

Moscow's Hostility Cited

The detailed file, reflecting intensive study and accumulation of material over a long period, said that "Soviet policy with respect to Greece has taken the form of strong verbal attacks, coupled with some positive acts." It listed among these positative acts Russian sup-

"The Soviet member on the UN commission, aided by his Polish satellite, has done everything possible to place Greece in an unfavorable light and place the blame for frontier clashes on the Greek government." This was believed to be the first reference to Poland as a "satellite" in a document of this type.

In dealing with the situation in Turkey, the documents declared that the "Moscow press and radio constantly vilify the 'Fascist' regime in Turkey, and Turkish language broadcasts from Radio Moscow even go so far as to call upon the people of Turkey to rise in revolt and overthrow their government."

Turks' "War of Nerves"

"Turkey," said one document, "can do little to combat this war of nerves, but the Turks have made it clear that they will oppose with force any attempt to violate their sovereignty and territorial integrity." The documents put the key to Turkey's troubles in this way:

" x x x The Soviets continue to seek special privileges in the control and defense of this waterway (The Dardanelles Straits). The Soviets, who have indicated a desire for certain strategic areas in northeastern Turkey, are Turkey's neighbors on both east and west, so long as Soviet occupation of Balkan countries continues, and the present critical condition in Greece is causing the Turkish government the greatest anxiety.

"Nevertheless, despite the Turkish desire to return the country to conditions of political normalcy, to commence demobilization of the excessively large army, and to reconstruct and develop the national economy, the Turks are united and adamant in resisting outside pressure."

Then it outlined the significance of the American plan to send money and material to the Turks:

"Financial credit from sources which believe that the territorial integrity and independence of the Middle East are necessary for world stability would constitute firm assurance to the Turks that encroachment upon their sovereignty or integrity will not be countenanced."

Speedy Action Seen Vital

The documents set forth in detail the reasons behind the United States plan to act independently in Greece and Turkey, rather than call upon the United Nations to shoulder the burden. In general, they followed the arguments advanced by President Truman and Undersecretary of State Acheson — that swift action is essential, that the UN is not yet equipped to deal with the situation.

"But," said one document, "We can take immediate steps to initiate international action to assist Greece in the solution of some of her problems.

"The United States is prepared to aid the Greek government in developing projects which might qualify for a loan from the international bank. x x x United States personnel who assist in the administration of funds advanced to Greece will be instructed to make all possible efforts looking toward the stabilization of the Greek currency.

"Through our direct economic assistance x x x we hope to set Greece on the path to rehabilitation.

"We are well aware that in the long run world-wide economic stability can only be obtained and preserved with maximum advantage to the United States by using international agencies wherever appropriate. For this reason, we are exploring every possible means of building upon the foundation we expect to lay with the funds and assistance which we now propose be made available for Greece."

HOOVER PRESENTS PLAN TO CREATE SOLVENT GERMANY

Urges End of Plant Removals, Retention of Rhineland and Ruhr.

WOULD BOOST EXPORTS

Visions Relief for American Taxpayers, Speedier European Aid.

WASHINGTON, March 23—(AP) Herbert Hoover outlined today an economic program which he said would promote Germany's exports, "relieve American taxpayers of the burdens of relief" and speed the "economic recovery of Europe."

This program would include a German industry free of foreign ownership but subject to a control commission; the cessation of the removal and destruction of plants, except direct arms plants, and the continuation of the Ruhr and Rhineland as part of Germany.

Must Restore Production

Declaring that production was "the only path to recovery in Europe," the former president said in his third report to President Truman on his economic mission to Germany and Austria that "the productivity of Europe cannot be restored without the restoration of Germany as a contributor to that productivity."

He accused the Russians and the French of creating some of the difficulties encountered in restoring German economy, asserting they have failed to fulfill the provisions of the Potsdam agreement for economic unity in the four Allied zones.

Both the Russian and the French zones, Hoover continued, also "are producing industrial commodities which would relieve necessities in the Anglo-American zones and could contribute to exports with which to pay for food." He went on to declare that "the United States and Britain through relief are paying Russian and French reparations."

Hoover suggested the following four-point economic program for Germany:

4-Point Economic Program

"(1) We should free German industry, subject to a control commission, which will see that she does no evil in industry, just as we see that she does not move into militarism through armies and navies.

"The difference between this concept and the 'level of industry' concept (agreed upon March 26, 1946, by the United States, Great Britain, Russia and France) is the savings of several hundred million of dollars a year to the American and British taxpayers. It is the difference between the regeneration and a further degeneration of Europe

"(2) The removal and destruction of plants (except direct arms plants) should stop.

"(3) A further obstacle to building Germany as an essential unit of European economy arises from the Russian government's acquiring a large part of the key operating industries in their zone. Germany in peace must be free from ownership of industry by a foreign government. Such ownership can thwart every action of control or of upbuilding by joint action of other nations. German industry must be operated by Germans if any international control is to work, if she is to recover production and is to serve all nations equally.

"(4) There can be no separation or different regime of the Ruhr or Rhineland from the new Germany. That is the heart of her industrial economy. Any control commission can dictate the destination of coal or other exports from that area and even such control would not be needed after the era of scarcity passes from Europe."

No "Sentiment" Involved

Hoover declared that "these conclusions are not the product of sentiment nor of feeling toward a nation which has brought such misery upon the whole earth.

"They are not given in condonement of the enormity of her crimes," he added. "They are the result of a desire to see the world look forward, get into production and establish a lasting peace. They are based upon the stern necessities of a world involved in the most dangerous economic crisis in all history."

He continued:

"At the present time the taxpayers of the United States and Britain are contributing nearly $600,000,000 a year to prevent starvation of the Germans in the American and British zones alone The drain is likely to be even greater after peace unless the policies now in action are changed.

30.24-8697

"Therefore, entirely aside from any humanitarian and political aspects, policies which will restore productivity in Germany and exports with which to buy their food and relieve this drain upon us are of primary importance.

Recovery Desperately Needed

"But our economic interest is far wider than this. We desperately need recovery in all of Europe. We need it not only for economic reasons but as the first necessity to peace.

"There is only one path to recovery in Europe. That is production. The whole economy of Europe is interlinked with German economy through the exchange of raw materials and manufactured goods. The productivity of Europe cannot be restored without the restoration of Germany as a contributor to that productivity."

In his previous reports to President Truman, Hoover recommended that the United States pay $475,000,000 for food for German civilians in the 18 months beginning last Jan. 1 as an essential contribution to peace and order in the western world. The plan, however, recommended that Germany be required to repay the amount from exports.

He also recommended that an estimated $155,000,000 be spent for Austrian relief during the next 15 months but said the country probably could be self-supporting by 1950 or 1951 if its land and equipment were freed by a peace treaty and foreign troops removed from its soil

In his report today, Hoover said that no one could tell "how long it may be before there is such a constructive peace with Germany.

"It may be long delayed," he added. "In the meantime, we are faced with the feeding of the people in the Anglo-American zones on a level just above starvation until we can develop enough export goods from these zones so that the Germans may pay for their food."

Following is the text of Report No. 3 by Herbert Hoover on the President's economic mission to Germany and Austria:

March 18, 1947

The President
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

I am sending you herewith my conclusions upon the problems of reviving German industry and thus exports with which to relieve American and British taxpayers from their burden in preventing starvation in Germany. These problems also involve economic stability and peace in Europe.

Whatever may have been our policies in the past, I am convinced that the time has come to face the realities that have developed. The mission you assigned to me would be less than performed if I did not state the stark situation and make such recommendations as seem to me necessary.

I wish again to express my appreciation to you for your consideration, to my colleagues Lr. Hugh Gibson, Dr. Gustav Stolper, Dr. Dennis A. Fitzgeerald, Dr. William Sebrell, Jr. and Messrs. Louis Lochner, Frank Mason and Tracy Voorhees and to our military and civil officials in Germany.

Yours faithfully,

HERBERT HOOVER.

INTRODUCTION

Inquiry into the economic policies in Germany which would relieve financial support from the United States was one of the subjects assigned to my mission to that country. Aside from a mass of information and statistical material secured on this journey, I have been familiar with German economic problems over many years, including my experience before and after World War I. In view of the gravity of the crisis which confronts the world, it would be an ill service if I did not state my conclusions fully and frankly.

These conclusions are not the product of sentiment nor of feeling toward a nation which has brought such misery upon the whole earth. They are not given in condonement of the enormity of her crimes. They are the result of a desire to see the world look forward, get into production and establish a lasting peace. They are based upon the stern necessities of a world involved in the most dangerous economic crisis in all history.

At the present time the taxpayers of the United States and Britain are contributing nearly $600,000,000 a year to prevent starvation of the Germans in the American and British zones alone. The drain is likely to be even greater after peace unless the policies now in action are changed. Therefore, entirely aside from any humanitarian and political aspects, policies which will restore productivity in Germany and exports with which to buy their food and relieve this drain upon us are of primary importance.

But our economic interest is far wider than this. We desperately need recovery in all of Europe. We need it not only for economic reasons but as the first necessity to peace. The United States, through loans, lend-lease, surplus supplies and relief, in the last two years, has spent, or pledged itself to spend, over fifteen billions of dollars in support of civilians in foreign countries. Even we do not have the resources for, nor can our taxpayers bear, a continuation of burdens at such a rate.

There is only one path to recovery in Europe. That is production. The whole economy of Europe is interlinked with German economy through the exchange of raw materials and manufactured goods. The productivity of Europe cannot be restored without the restoration of Germany as a contributor to that productivity.

Some Assumptions

In order to offer constructive conclusions as to economic policies which will relieve the American taxpayer and will promote economic recovery in Europe, I make six assumptions, which I believe will be accepted by sensible people. They necessarily include certain political aspects which underlie all these economic problems.

First. I assume that we wish to establish a unified federal state in Germany, embracing mainly the present American, British, Russian and French military occupation zones, with economic unity and free trade between the states. I shall refer to this area as the "New Germany."

Second. I assume that our objective must be to clear German life of the Nazi conspirators and to punish those who have contributed to this conspiracy, which murdered millions of people in cold blood and brought this appalling disaster upon the world.

Third. I assume that we will not make the major mistake of Versailles, but will complete absolute disarmament of the Germans so that they shall not be able again to engage in aggressions; that this disarmament will embrace destruction of all military arms, fortifications and direct arms factories, with certain control of industry; that the Germans will have no army, no navy and no air forces, retaining only a constabulary in which no Nazi or previous army officer may be employed; that this disarmament must be continued for a generation or two, until Germany has lost the "know-how" of war and the descent of militarism through birth.

Fourth. I assume that these requirements must be safeguarded by international guarantees and effective police service by the nations.

Fifth. I assume, in our own interest and that of Europe that we wish to restore the productivity of the Continent, that we wish to revive personal freedom, honest elections and generally to reconstruct the German people into a peace-loving nation cooperating in the recovery of Western civilization.

Sixth. I assume that the United States will not join in such guarantees and policing unless the treaty with Germany is so concluded that it contributes to the restoration of productivity and lasting peace in Europe and promptly relieves us of drains upon our taxpayers.

The German Economic Problems

The German economic problems have two aspects:

First, the long-view, broad economic policies toward the New Germany which alone can produce the reconstruction of Europe and peace.

Second, our immediate problems in the joint Anglo-American military zones during the interregnum pending peace.

I therefore divide this discussion into these two parts.

PART I

The Long-View Economic Problem

The long-view economic problems involved in the peace with the New Germany and its aftermaths are greatly affected by war destruction, the boundary settlements for the New Germany, the plant removals for reparations and the policies with respect to "war potential" of industry.

These effects may be summarized:

1. There was considerable destruction of non-war industry from the air and otherwise during the war. The loss to peaceful productivity has not been determined, but it is considerable.

2. The proposed annexations to Poland and Russia, and the possible annexation of the Saar Basin by France, will take from Germany, as compared to 1936,* about 25 per cent of her food supply, about 30 per cent of her bituminous coal and about 20 per cent of her manufacturing capacity.

*I have adopted 1936 as a basis for economic comparisons because it was a full year before German industry was distorted by her annexations and her most intensive armament activity.

3. The population of Germany in 1936 was about 68,000,000. The population of the New Germany by 1949 will be about 71,000,000, due to the expulsion of Germans from the Polish and Russian annexations, from Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Austria, Yugoslavia, Rumania and the return of prisoners into this area.

4. The allied economic policies toward Germany are of two categories: The first involves world safety, and the second, reparations for wrong done:

a. There has necessarily been, or will be, a demolition of all arms plants as part of disarmament. This destruction, however, has included some plants which might have been converted to peaceable production.

b. Reparations have been provided by assignment for removal to the different Allies of certain percentages of "usable and complete industrial equipment." What proportion of Germany's peaceable productive plant has been, or is, in the course of removal in the French and Russian zones is not known. Certainly they have been very large from the Russian zone. The total for all Germany amounts to an important segment of its peaceful productivity. These removals include a large amount of "light industry" (producing mostly consumers' goods) as well as "heavy industry" (producing mostly capital goods). The removal of plants from the American and British zones has been halted because of the refusal of Russia and France to cooperate in interzonal economic unity as provided for at Potsdam.

5. In addition to the above courses of action, there have been general policies of destruction or limitation of possible peaceful productivity under the headings of "Pastoral State" and "War Potential." The original of these policies apparently expressed on Sept. 15, 1944, at Quebec, aimed at: "converting Germany into a country principally agricultural and pastoral," and included, "the industries of the Ruhr and the Saar would therefore be put out of action, closed down. * * *"

This idea of a "pastoral state" partially survived in JCS Order 1,067 of April, 1945, for the American zone. It was not accepted by the British. The "pastoral state" concept was not entirely absent in the Potsdam declaration. It was partially ameliorated or its name changed for another concept, the "level of industry," developed by the agreement of March 26, 1946, and signed by Russia, Britain, France and the United States. This agreement was a compromise between the drastic terms proposed by Russia and France and the more liberal terms proposed by the other two nations.

One major theme of this "level of industry" concept is to destroy Germany's "war potential." Under this concept certain industries are to be blown up or prohibited, others are to be limited as to production. The emphasis was placed upon the limitation of "heavy industry" with the view that Germany could export enough goods from "light industry" to buy her food and necessary raw materials.

The absolute destruction or prohibition includes ocean-going ships, shipbuilding, aircraft, ball bearings, aluminum, magnesium, beryllium, vanadium and radio-transmitting equipment, together with synthetic oil, ammonia and rubber. Some of these provisions may be essential to disarmament. Such exceptions are not included in the discussion which follows.

Beyond these prohibitions, however, the "level of industry" concept provides elaborate restrictions, mostly on heavy industry. The following items are illustrative:

Iron and steel production to be reduced from 19 milliom tons (as in 1936) to a capacity of 7.5 million tons, with a maximum production of 5.8 million tons and only the "older plants" to be used.

Heavy machinery production to be	31% of 1938
Light machinery production to be	50% of 1938
Machine tools to be	38% of 1938
Electrical machinery to be from 30% to	50% of 1938
Agricult'l implements to be	70% of 1936
Trucks to be	67% of 1936
Automobiles to be	10% of 1936
Basic chemicals, including nitrogen, calcium carbide, sulphuric acid, chlorine and alkali, to be	40% of 1936
Cement to be	65% of 1936
Electric pow. produced to be	60% of 1936

No new locomotives until 1949.

Some "light industries" were also to be limited:

Textiles to be	77% of 1936
Paper to be	65% of 1936
Boots and shoes to be	70% of 1936
Precision instruments and optics to be	70% of 1936
Miscellaneous chem'ls to be	70% of 1936
Pharmaceuticals to be	80% of 1936
Dyestuffs (export) to be	58% of 1936

The Consequences to Food Supply

We may first examine what has happened, and what will happen, to the German food supply under all the circumstances of annexation and industrial controls.

Germany in 1936 was, by most intensive cultivation, able to produce about 85 per cent of her food supply. This 85 per cent has now been reduced by 25 per cent through the Russian and Polish annexations, or is down to about 64 per cent because even a larger population is to be concentrated in the New Germany.

Her production, however, was greatly dependent upon intensive use of fertilizers. The New Germany will require at least 500,000 metric tons of nitrogen and 650,000 tons of phosphoric anhydride, she having sufficient potash.

Under the level of industry agreement, the domestic production of nitrogen eventually would be reduced to under 200,000 tons; the production of phosphoric anhydride would be reduced to about 200,000 tons. A larger production of nitrogen is allowed pending an opportunity to import. Part of this reduction is due to the "level of industry" steel reduction from which some nitrogen and a large percentage of phosphoric anhydride requirements were obtained as by-products.

From these figures it is obvious that a great discrepancy exists between minimum agricultural needs and the possible fertilizer reduction under the "level of industry" plan. If we persist in these policies, unless there are large imports of fertilizer, Germany's food production is likely to drop under 60 per cent of her requirements even with an austere diet.

New Germany, if there is to be a will to work, to maintain order and to aspire to peace, must have an average food supply of at least 2,600 calories per person per day, with adequate fats and protein content. (The British average being 2,800-2,900 calories at present and pre-war Germany about 3,000 calories.)

Taking the above limitations into consideration and based upon actual experience in the American and British zones, and extending that experience with adaptations to the Russian and French zones, the indications are that New Germany would need, at present prices, to import over $1,250,000,000 annually in food and animal feed alone.

At the end of the war Germany had a very large nitrogen capacity. Despite losses from war destruction, its potential production was still about 700,000 tons per annum. This capacity, if it had been preserved, would have supplied not only her own needs but large exports to neighboring countries as well. Fertilizers are now sorely needed all over Europe for crop restoration. Therefore, through the fertilizer reduction Germany not only loses in her own food production but her export potential to pay for food, and the crops elsewhere in Europe are reduced.

Consequences of "Level of Industry" Upon "Heavy Industry"

The effect of the agreed "level of industry" is stated in American official reports that "the 'heavy industry' products for which Germany was noted will virtually disappear from her exports."

I have exhaustively examined the production and exports of Germany over some years in the light of this "level of industry" and they amply confirm this statement. What the result may be is indicated by the fact that her exports during peace from now-restricted "heavy industries" comprised between 60 per cent and 70 per cent of the total German exports. In 1936, for instance, a generally prosperous year, they amounted to about $1,900,000,000 out of a total of about $2,700,000,000, both figures converted into present prices. Under the "level of industry" most of this 60-70 per cent is to be abolished, and Germany must pay for most of her imports from exports of "light industry."

Germany must not alone import food and animal feed but also reduced amounts of copper, lead, zinc, iron ore, leather, cotton, wool and other raw materials. Due to the prohibitions, she must import all of her oil and rubber and considerable nitrogen for fertilizers.

It is indeed a cynical fact that today we are supplying Germany with oil and nitrogen at the expense of the American and British taxpayer, at a rate of $70,000,000 per annum, which, except for the "level of industry" and the Russian refusal of zonal cooperation, Germany could have produced herself.

Consequences Upon Light Industry

As I have said, the assumption is that exports from the German "light industry," from coal and native raw materials, such as potash, can pay for her imports of food and other necessities. There are two reasons for believing this assumption to be completely invalid.

Had there been no loss of "light industry" plants by annexation, had there been no destruction of them by war, had there been no removals for reparations, they could not have produced enough exports to pay the food bill alone, and the situation is made doubly impossible by the restrictions now imposed on what "light industry" is left, as for instance, on textiles.

If Germany is to buy food and the necessary imports of raw material for the "light industry," she would require not only complete restoration to pre-war level in "light industry" but a much larger equipment than she had even before the war.

Then Germany, with the expansion of these industries, would be in a competitive field of consumers' goods with all the rest of the world, whose "light industries" have been little damaged by war.

Some Economic Illusions

There are several illusions in all this "war potental" attitude.

a. There is the illusion that the New Germany left after the annexations can be reduced to a "pastoral state." It cannot be done unless we exterminate or move 25,000,000 people out of it. This would approximately reduce Germany to the density of the population of France.

b. There is an illusion in "war potential." Almost every industry on earth is a "war potential" in modern war. No industry (except direct arms manufacture) is a war potential if the energies of a people are confined to the paths of peace. If Germany be disarmed in the way I have assumed above, there must be a control commission to see that they do not have any army or any navy. And two score of intelligent men, as part of that commission, could see that there is no arms production and that no industry is manufacturing or storing materials for evil purposes. Moreover, industry is not likely to waste its substance, either by storing or manufacturing for war, when there is no army or navy to use it.

The question here is not "level of industry." The real question is whether the Allied nations will stick to their abolition of militarism itself in Germany. If they do that, there is little danger from "war potential" in industry.

c. Another illusion is that the "light industry" in Germany can be expanded to a point where she will be able to pay for her imports. In my view, it cannot be done for years, and even then it is doubtful in the face of competition with the "light industries" of other parts of the world.

d. The over-all illusion is that Germany can ever become self-supporting under the "levels of industry" plan within the borders envisioned at present for New Germany.

e. A still further illusion is that Europe as a whole can recover without the economic recovery of Germany.

Consequences to Europe Generally

Thus there is a still wider aspect of this "level of industry"— the needs of the rest of Europe. Germany had been for a century one of the great European centers of production of capital goods—"heavy industry," which I may repeat are construction materials, factory equipment, railway equipment, electrical and heavy machinery. The other nations of Europe are in desperate need of such goods for reconstruction from war damage. Moreover, a considerable part of the European equipment on these lines is German-made, and today they cannot even get replacements and spare parts, in consequence of which their productivity lags.

From the standpoint of other nations, the expansion of "light industry" to a point of self-support for Germany will, by competition, injure these industries in the rest of Europe. On the other hand, the products of "heavy industry" is Europe's first necessity for recovery.

It must not be overlooked that Germany was the market for every nation in Europe and such a reduction of her economy will tend to demoralize the industries and employment in those countries. For instance, Germany was the market for over half the exports of Turkey and over one-third those of Greece. In consequence, their loss of this market contributes to increase the relief they seek from us now.

Another illustration is the proposed limits on steel. Large and efficient steel and iron plants, undamaged or only partly damaged, are standing idle in Germany. Formerly the Germans imported millions of tons of iron ore from France and Sweden. These mines, under the "level of industry," must remain idle until a new steel industry is built elsewhere. That will require years and an amount of capital that is not in sight. In the meantime, Europe needs steel for reconstruction as she never did before.

To indicate the anxiety of surrounding states a memorandum of the Netherlands Government of January, 1947, in presenting the absolute necessity to the surrounding nations that a productive economic state be created in Germany, said: "The provisions of the plan for reparations and the level of German economy of March, 1946, require to be revised * * * it is inadvisable to lay down maximum quota for production of German industries including the iron and steel industries."

The sum of all of this is: Germany, under the "level of industry" concept, unless she is to be allowed to starve, will be a drain on the taxpayers of other nations for years and years to come. In the meantime, if her light industries were built to become self-supporting, she would become an economic menace to Europe; if her heavy industries are allowed to function, she has an ability to export and would become an asset in Europe's recovery. To persist in the present policies will create, sooner or later, a cesspool of unemployment or pauper labor in the center of Europe which is bound to infect her neighbors.

We can keep Germany in these economic chains, but it will also keep Europe in rags.

A New Economic Policy

Therefore, I suggest that we adopt at once a new economic concept in peace with new Germany.

(1) We should free German industry, subject to a control commission, which will see that she does no evil in industry, just as we see that she does not move into militarism through armies and navies.

The difference between this concept and the "level of industry" concept is the saving of several hundred millions of dollars a year to the American and British taxpayers. It is the difference between the regeneration and a further degeneration of Europe.

(2) The removal and destruction of plants (except direct arms plants) should stop.

(3) A further obstacle to building Germany as an essential unit of European economy arises from the Russian Government's acquiring a large part of the key operating industries in their zone. Germany in peace must be free from ownership of industry by a foreign government. Such ownership can thwart every action of control or of upbuilding by joint action of other nations. German industry must be operated by Germans if any international control is to work, if she is to recover production and is to serve all nations equally.

(4) There can be no separation or different regime of the Ruhr or Rhineland from the New Germany. That is the heart of her industrial economy. Any control commission can dictate the destination of coal or other exports from that area and even such control would not be needed after the era of scarcity passes from Europe.

PART II

The Interregnum Before Peace

How long it may be before there is such a constructive peace with Germany, no one can tell. It may be long delayed. In the meantime, we are faced with the feeding of the people in the Anglo-American zones on a level just above starvation until we can develop enough export goods from these zones so that the Germans may pay for their food. I have said, American and British taxpayers are called upon for about $600,000,000 a year for relief.

We have an admirable staff in military government of Germany under Generals Clay and Draper, but their administration is constantly frustrated in building up the needed exports to pay for food and minimum raw material imports. A large part of these delays is due to the following:

a. The Russians and the French have failed to carry out the provisions of the Potsdam agreement for economic unity in the four zones. The Russian zone ordinarily produces a surplus of food but that surplus is used elsewhere, thus increasing the burden of imports on the Anglo-American zones. Both the Russian and French zones are producing industrial commodities which would relieve necessities in the Anglo-American zones and could contribute to exports with which to pay for food. The net effect is that the United States and Britain through relief are paying Russian and French reparations.

b. The inability to determine what specific plants are to be the victims of "level of industry," or destruction or the removal for reparations, produces stagnation because the Germans do not know where to begin work.

c. There is lack of working capital with which to import raw materials for such industries as are allowed to function.

d. An inflated currency and no adequate banking system hampers all forward movement in such industry as is left.

e. While denazification and decartelization are necessary and important, certain phases of them limit recovery. They are so involved as not to warrant description here.

Conclusior as to the Bi-Zonal Administration

If, however, we cannot get a quick and sound peace on the lines I have recounted, the Anglo-American zones should abandon the destruction of plants, the transfer of plants for reparations and the "level of industry" concept, and start every plant, "heavy" as well as "light," which can produce non-arms goods. This will relieve far more rapidly great costs to our taxpayers; it will do infinitely more for Europe than American loans and charity.

Indeed the Congressional Committee on Post-war Economic Policy urged, on Dec. 30, 1946, that the "levels of industry" be ignored wherever they conflict with exports so that there may be earlier recovery and payment of food.

The violation by Russia and France of the agreement for economic unification of the four zones of military occupation and the additional burdens this imposed upon us in consequence certainly warrant our ignoring all agreements for "level of industry," transfer and destruction of non-arms plants.

If this interregnum is to endure for long, we could build a self-sustaining economic community out of the Anglo-American zones alone. This could be only a temporary expedient, not a final solution. Building a lasting peace in Europe should be our objective.

END TO SOVIET AID PROPOSED

Colmer Would "Call Russia's Bluff" In Economic Terms

Washington, March 23 (AP)—Representative Colmer (D., Miss.), a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, proposed tonight that the United States "call Russia's bluff in the only language that the Soviet Union apparently can understand—economic retaliation."

Calling for a stiffer American policy toward Communist-dominated governments, Colmer announced he will introduce tomorrow a resolution to bar any United States loans or other assistance to those countries.

No "One-Way Co-Operation"

The resolution would place Congress on record as advocating:

1. No write-off of lend-lease accounts unless the full terms of the Lend-Lease Act have been satisfied.

2. End of "all aid in any form" to governments which have failed to carry out their commitments to the United States.

3. No new loans for such governments, and suspension of previously negotiated loans, until political agreements with this country have been fulfilled.

4. Action to prevent such nations from obtaining industrial secrets and production "know-how" vital to national security.

5. Complete reciprocity between the United States and other countries on admission and access to industrial plants, instead of "one-way co-operation."

For German Self-Sufficiency

6. Insistence that the United States prevent the stripping of Germany through "excessive reparations," in order to make Germany self-sufficient and end relief expenditures there.

7. Notice to all other nations that the objective of United States policy is "to secure and maintain a just and lasting peace for a free world."

Acknowledging that his resolution is aimed at the Soviet Union, Colmer said in a statement that some governments have failed to keep political agreements for free elections in liberated countries and former enemy territory and have continued "subversive propaganda both in these countries and in the United States tantamount to intervention in their affairs."

Colmer said the resolution is intended to help the State Department and the Administration and to:

"Lay down a positive policy for dealing with countries which by bluff, by time-consuming obstructionist tactics, by openly hostile propaganda, by outright untruths and vicious innuendoes ever since the war's end have blocked return of the world to peace and economic stability."

He accused Russia of "taking advantage of our known desire for peace" and of "waging an aggressive expansion policy since the cessation of hostilities."

"When Russia demonstrates a willingness to keep its wartime promises and postwar settlements, then economic co-operation becomes reasonable and proper," he said. "Until that time comes, we must stop appeasement."

Truman May Consult GOP On New Foreign Problems

WASHINGTON, March 23—(AP) Senator Lucas (D-Ill) predicted today that President Truman may invite Republican consultation on other world problems if two-party cooperation survives congressional debate over the Greek-Turkey proposal.

"We must have two-party support in the whole field of foreign affairs," he declared in an interview. "That is the only way we can present an effective front to the world. And if cooperation is to work out, the Republicans must be consulted on situations everywhere—the little decisions as well as the big ones."

Field Now Limited

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) has pointed out repeatedly that the field of advance consultation thus far has been limited to matters involving the United Nations, the settlement with Germany and the Balkan peace treaties.

He has made some suggestions about American policy in China and Latin America, but there has been no White House move to take the leaders of the congressional majority behind the scenes ahead of time in dealings with those areas. However, the President was reported to have told Vandenberg that he wants to consult with him later about China.

Lucas expressed belief that final Republican reaction to the President's request for $400,000,000 in financial and limited military aid to Greece and Turkey will indicate how far the congressional majority party is willing to go in backing up the administration.

A declaration in New York yesterday by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey that the Greek aid program should have "the full support of the American people" was noted in this connection.

Senator Smith (R-NJ), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, voiced the opinion in an interview that differences among Republicans are not such as to force any break in the bipartisan program now.

"I don't see any reason for the Democrats and Republicans to split into party groups over this proposal," he said. "In my judgment, Congress is going to accept the President's decision but impose some conditions that the majority of both parties can agree to."

Acheson To Testify

Senators get their first chance to question State Department officials about the measure tomorrow when Acting Secretary Acheson will testify before the Foreign Relations Committee in public hearings. The House Foreign Affairs Committee will hear William Clayton, undersecretary for economic affairs, at the same time.

Ahead of the formal debate on the floor, Senator Brewster (R-Me) said in an address for the United Jewish Appeal Conference in San Antonio, Tex., today that "Uncle Samuel's nose is being inserted under the tent of power politics for better or for worse" by action in Greece and Turkey.

"The smell of petroleum is overpowering," he said adding that "the major interest of America in the Middle East must be oil to replenish American reserves sadly depleted by the recent war."

He could not understand, Brewster continued, how Great Britain could maintain 100,000 troops in Palestine and yet be forced by economic reasons to withdraw 10,000 from Greece.

CONGRESSMEN MEAN TO MAKE 'PURGE' STICK

House Members Say They Will Back Truman Order With Pursestrings

Washington, March 23 (AP)—Congressmen bent on ousting any government employés of questionable loyalty proposed today to use their power over the pursestrings to make President Truman's "purge" order stick.

They said they favor withholding appropriations, to a greater extent than ever before, to force the dismissal of officials whose views and actions they consider questionable.

Already the House Appropriations Committee has refused to provide funds to continue Edgar L. Warren in office as director of the conciliation service, and committee members expect the House to uphold the action this week.

They said Warren acknowledged past membership in organizations which the Committee on Un-American Activities called "Communist-inspired fronts," although Warren insisted he had no knowledge of the nature of the groups and has since resigned from them.

Cox Singles Out Lilienthal

Now some House members are talking about denying the funds for David E. Lilienthal to function as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission if the Senate confirms his nomination as expected this week. A pending supply bill carries funds for operation of the Atomic Energy Commission for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Representative Cox (D., Ga.), declaring he favors blocking the Lilienthal appointment by any means, asserted he would oppose appropriating any funds to pay Lilienthal's salary. Cox is a member of the Rules Committee.

Representative Rankin (D., Miss.) advocated dismissal or rejection of all "questionable" persons, but mentioned no one by name.

If denying salary appropriations is the only remedy, "that should be done," Rankin declared, because "there are still a lot of Communists on the pay roll."

House Holds Pursestrings

House Appropriations Committee members noted that the Senate is charged with passing upon presidential appointments by confirming or rejecting them. But one high-ranking Republican on the committee declared:

"We should have some voice in who is going to receive pay. The Senate is not infallible, and anyhow it does not pass on all appointments, only the major ones."

In the future, he predicted, the House will "refuse to appropriate a penny for the pay of anybody it suspects, regardless of what the Senate does by way of confirmation."

Cox, who has criticized Lilienthal frequently in House speeches, said Mr. Truman's order last night for a purge of disloyal employés "is one of the smartest things he has done."

The President's order called for firings when "reasonable grounds" exist to believe employés are disloyal. As one test of disloyalty, it stipulated "sympathetic association" with any totalitarian, Fascist, Communist or subversive group.

SUGAR, RUBBER, DRAFT ISSUES GET SENATE PRIORITY

WASHINGTON, March 23—(AP) Racing against a March 31 deadline, Republican senate leaders today gave sugar and rubber controls and a bill to maintain selective service records top priority in a busy week.

That date originally was the target, too, for action on the plan to aid Greece and Turkey but leaders now have abandoned hope of getting it through Congress this week.

March 31 Deadline

Both the sugar rationing and pricing program and the wartime rubber control program expire automatically at the end of the month unless Congress continues them. The House already has acted to extend both programs until October.

The Selective Service act also expires on March 31, but President Truman has requested legislation to keep intact the registration rolls and other records. The legislation would replace present draft machinery with an agency to maintain the records.

Senate leaders hope to dispose of these measures tomorrow, together with authorization for United States participation in the international refugee organization. This would clear the way for debate later this week on the nomination of David E. Lilienthal as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Forty nine senators—a majority—already have pledged votes for Lilienthal's confirmation but his opponents have made it clear that they intend to wage a bitter fight. The Senate also must act on five other commission nominations.

House leaders, aided by more rigid control over debate, expect quick passage of a $1,600,000,000 bill to provide funds for the Labor Department and security agencies. The bill junks the Federal Conciliation Service by refusing pay for Director Edgar Warren and many of his subordinates.

House Speeds Tax Cut

If this measure is passed on schedule, House Republicans plan to call up Wednesday the bill to reduce federal income taxes 30 percent in the lower brackets and 20 percent elsewhere. The bill cannot be amended on the floor, and House Republican leaders forecast that it will be passed. It will then go to the Senate where opposition is anticipated.

President Truman's plea for a $400,000,000 fund and broad powers to aid Greece and Turkey against Communism will come up for hearings before both Senate and House committees tomorrow.

Other capitol hill business includes closed sessions of the Senate and House labor committees to draft bills to curb industrial disputes; the opening of hearings by the House Committee on un-American Activities on a bill by Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) to outlaw the Communist party, and a session of the Senate Banking Committee to consider rent controls.

FOOD EXPORTS HIT 2 BILLION

Commerce Department Gives Figures For Last Year

Washington, March 23 (AP)—More than $2,000,000,000 worth of foods was exported from this country during 1946, the Commerce Department reported tonight.

The dollar value, $2,166,496,000, was 29.5 per cent more than 1945. Of this, $1,353,579,000, or 62.5 per cent, was paid for in cash while UNRRA and lend-lease made up the rest. Only 28.2 per cent of 1945 food shipments were paid for in cash.

UNRRA shipments were valued at $628,493,000 last year, more than double what they were in 1945, but lend-lease shipments, valued at $184,424,000, were less than a fifth of their 1945 total.

Foodstuff Imports Rise

Imports of foodstuffs into this country rose to $1,342,148,000 last year, up 16.2 per cent from the previous year.

Among the exports, greatest increases in 1946 over 1945 were in meat products, grains and fruits.

Meat shipments rose from 1,000,000,000 pounds in 1945 to 1,300,000,000 last year. Wheat shipments alone were up from 128,000,000 to 187,000,000 bushels, and all grain exports up 77.6 per cent in value to a total of over $788,000,000.

Fruit Shipments Up

Fruit shipments increased about 28 per cent, from $119,000,000 to $153,000,000.

Among farm products outside the food line, tobacco exports showed the greatest increase, rising from $257,897,000 to $414,934,000.

Among imports, the biggest increase was in dairy products, of which $11,400,000 worth, mainly cheese, were brought into this country last year compared with $3,800,000 in 1945.

DOUGLAS NAMED BY U. S.

Will Represent Washington on Italian Colony Issue

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—Government officials said today that Ambassador Lewis W. Douglas was slated to head the United States delegation at a proposed four-power meeting in London to set up machinery for studying the future disposition of Italy's empire.

The selection is tentative, inasmuch as France and the Soviet Union have yet to concur on London as the meeting place. No date has been set.

The four-power conference, officials said, will be limited to establishing the fact-finding commission that will visit Eritrea, Italian Somaliland and Libya. Its report will go to the deputies of the Council of Foreign Ministers.

Government officials said that because of the purely technical nature of the meeting no proposals for the disposition of Italy's overseas possessions would be discussed.

'SUBWAY' IS FEATURE OF NEW ARMY BOMBER

WASHINGTON, March 23—(AP) The Army's new bomber, the VB-36, is so big that it contains a "subway" with a four-wheel scooter to carry crew members between the pilot cabin and the waist section.

The Army Air forces said tonight the communication tunnel is 85 feet long, compared with the B-29's 34 feet. The tunnel provides a passageway along one side of the bomb bay. At high altitudes it is pressurized like the other compartments to allow the crew to move about without oxygen masks and cumbersome air supply tubing.

VETERAN GETS WAIVER, WEDS GERMAN MOTHER

NEW YORK, March 23—(AP) Ruth M. Meyer, first unwed German mother of a GI's child to enter the United States, and William E. Rosch, 27, former master sergeant, were married yesterday by State Supreme Court Justice Morris Eder in his private chambers.

They obtained a marriage license this morning and received a waiver of the 48-hour waiting period usually required after issuance of a license. The waiver was signed by Justice Eder, who said he had taken the "unusual" step because he "recognized the urgency" of the situation.

Miss Meyer, 23, and Rosch, were forbidden to marry in Germany because of the army's non-fraternization rule.

MACVEAGH CITES DEMOCRACY ISSUE IN GREEK CRISIS

BOSTON, March 23—(AP) Lincoln MacVeagh, U. S. ambassador to Greece declared today that "the preservation of democracy in the land of its birth (Greece) is undeniably linked with the defense of democracy throughout the world."

And he reported that "elements deliberately seeking to exploit" that nation's weakened condition for their own gains have "sabotaged the welfare of her entire people." He did not name these elements in his address at a meeting in honor of Greek independence day on March 25.

Nation Has 2 Vital Needs

Turning to the proposal of President Truman to extend financial and other aid to Greece, MacVeagh said:

"The paramount needs of Greece today are two: The removal of the fear of violence that stifles initiative and freedom of action, and the reconstruction of the national economy as a firm foundation for future progress. The program proposed by President Truman is designed to enable the Greek people to achieve both objectives."

MacVeagh noted that "some critics" interpret the President's plan to send American military technicians and financial and economic advisers to Greece as "intervention." But he declared that "just the opposite is the case."

"The Greek government," he continued, "has requested our assistance along this line, and furthermore, there are many precedents in international affairs."

The ambassador also took note of criticism that the program would support "a reactionary government."

"Believe me," he declared, "our policy is not aimed at supporting any government except the government the people may themselves choose when tranquility and security are restored.

Won't Back Extremism

"At the present moment what is at stake is the possibility of any government at all in Greece that can be called democratic in the Greek and American sense of the word. You may be sure that American policy will never support extremism in Greece.

"But if Greece cannot govern herself, it is clear that she will be governed by outside influences. Our policy and the President's program aim at enabling Greece clearly and wholly and without peradventure to govern herself."

MacVeagh said there is no doubt that if Congress adopts the President's program the "democratic elements in Greece x x x will work whole-heartedly with us for the country's economic and political reconstruction."

National UNESCO Units Meet Today

Philadelphia, March 23 (AP)—The vanguard of an expected 1,000 delegates began arriving here today for a three-day discussion of the United States participation in the United Nations program of "peace through understanding."

Called by the National Commission on UNESCO (United Nations Economic, Scientific and Cultural Organization), the parley will bring together what Dean Acheson, Acting Secretary of State, termed "the most comprehensive list of organizations ever to consult on problems of world peace."

The first plenary session is scheduled tomorrow afternoon, with Milton S. Eisenhower, commission chairman, presiding. Other general meetings are scheduled Tuesday and Wednesday, along with meetings of fourteen sections each assigned to discuss one phase of the cultural and educational program of the United Nations.

To Be First Such Meeting

The general meeting, first to be held since establishment of the commission by Congress last year, was termed by Acheson "a basic experiment because mutual suspicion and ignorance is one of the prime difficulties in making peace."

Speakers at the plenary sessions will include William Benton, Assistant Secretary of State; Bernard Drzewieski, director of the Educational Reconstruction and Rehabilitation section, UNESCO; Sir Ramiswami Mudaliar, president of the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations, and Representative Karl E. Mundt (R., S.D.).

Findings of the fourteen sections on the part the people of the United States can best play in the programs of UNESCO will be summarized at the final meeting Wednesday.

FIVE-POINT GREEK PLAN IS OUTLINED

Tsaldaris Reveals New Program Aimed At Easing Russian Tension

Cleveland, March 23 (AP)—A sweeping five-point program designed to solve the explosive Greek problem and ease Russian fears concerning the role of Greece in international affairs has been proposed at Athens by Constantine Tsaldaris, Greece's Foreign Minister, according to a report received today from John Leacacos, Cleveland Plain Dealer correspondent.

In an exclusive interview at Athens last night, Leacacos said, the Foreign Minister made this momentous appeal:

1. Generalissimo Stalin, both as chief of the Soviet Union and of the world's largest and original Communist party, should make a public declaration of policy to followers of communistic doctrine in all countries that Russia's Communist party—in the interests of world peace—prefers the victory of the philosophy of communism through peaceful democratic means and popular elections, rather than armed revolutions.

Would Set Up Neutral Zone

2. A neutral zone, ten to twenty miles wide, then should be fixed at the northern frontiers of Greece by an international or United Nations committee into which Greek guerrillas can enter freely and safely to surrender their arms to a neutral force of Americans, British, French and Russian soldiers, or those of any other nations designated. Greek military operations against guerrilla bands would stop prior to this action.

3. Guerrillas who have surrendered arms should be given a free choice of their future course among these alternatives: cross any frontier they choose, emigrate, remain in Greece under guaranteed police protection or, if they feel insecure in returning to their native villages because of fears of personal vendettas, settle in other Greek towns.

Proposes New Elections

4. New Greek elections would be held three to six months after the surrender of arms, the election to be held under international surveillance, if necessary. Prior to the election, a wide and liberal amnesty would be granted to all guerrillas and political prisoners in custody under a program supervised by an international committee, if desired.

5. Both Yugoslavia and Bulgaria should be given free customs zones in the port of Salonika by new treaties to allow them free access to the Aegean Sea.

Leacacos quoted Foreign Minister Tsaldaris as saying further:

"Then, if by regular democratic methods and arguments the Greek people want to elect Communists to the majority or strong representation in the National Assembly, the Communists are welcome to it.

"The Communists in France, Italy and Belgium have won considerable power and influence through normal participation in the political life of their countries. Why can't the Greek Communists do the same?"

'MATCHBOX' CAMERA BARED AS WAR SECRET

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 23—(AP) A "matchbox" camera which would fit in a man's hand, and a "vestpocket darkroom" aided allied agents to snap photographs behind enemy lines during World War II, the Eastman Kodak company reported today.

One thousand of the cameras were produced for the Office of Strategic Services and underground forces in enemy-held territory, the company said.

Designed at the request of the OSS, the cameras were made to resemble a box of safety matches—from which they got their name. The half-inch square pictures could be enlarged many times.

The miniature "darkroom" with its chemicals in pill form enabled an agent to develop film in a small glass with a single jigger of solution.

ALLEGED RING LEADER ADMITS AIDING EISLER

DAYTON, O., March 23 — (AP) Leon Josephson of New York, described in testimony before the House Committee on Un-American Activities as leader of a passport faking ring, said tonight he once signed a passport as an identifying witness for Gerhart Eisler, anti-Nazi refugee.

Josephson, described before the committee yesterday as a secret agent of the Soviet police, declared that he signed the passport when he sought men to go with to Germany to join the underground against the Nazis.

"I signed as an identifying witness," Josephson said tonight, "for one person I had known for only a half-hour. That man now is alleged to be Gerhart Eisler."

HOUSE TO SPEED TAX BILL DESPITE BUDGET WRANGLE

Martin Declares Both Levy Reduction and Debt Cut Are Feasible.

DEMOCRATS PROTEST

Doughton to Demand Delay When Measure Comes to Vote Thursday.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(AP) Republican leaders plan to push the income tax cut through the House this week despite the collapse of Senate and House efforts to agree first on how much President Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget should be trimmed.

Speaker Martin (R-Mass) told reporters today:

"We are going right ahead with the tax bill. There is no reason for delay. We know we are going to have enough margin between revenues and expenditures for this tax cut and for some debt retirement too."

He called a meeting of all House Republicans for tomorrow to rally support behind the bill.

Doughton Seeks Delay

On the other hand, Rep. Doughton (D-NC), who managed tax legislation when the Democrats controlled Congress, said "the whole business is in a cloud of confusion." He announced that when it comes to a vote, probably on Thursday, he will move to put the tax bill aside until the budget-cutting question is settled and "until we know what our commitments and expenses will be" because of new world developments.

"It is absurd to cut taxes until we have some idea of what the expenses and income of the government will be," he told newsmen. "We would run the risk of throwing the budget out of balance again next year."

While Republican leaders claim a comfortable margin of votes in the House, there are signs that the tax bill will have rough going in the Senate.

Moreover there is the possibility of a veto. Mr. Truman has asked that any treasury surplus in the cal year beginning July 1 be used or payment on the $260,000,000,000 debt instead of for tax relief.

Deadlock on Budget

House and Senate conferees deadlocked on the question of cutting Mr. Truman's budget yesterday. Senators refused demands of Republican House members that the budget ceiling resolution include support for the tax reduction.

The House has voted a $6,000,000,000 cut in the budget; the Senate $4,500,000,000. The Senate stipulated that at least $2,600,000,000 be earmarked for debt payment. The two bodies are unable to agree on how any savings in expenditures shall be used as between debt retirement and tax relief.

U.S. MUST GIVE KOREANS AID, ACHESON SAYS, BLAMES RUSS

Greek, Turk Help Is Held Likely To Be A Gift

Washington, March 27 (AP)—Under Secretaries of State Acheson and Clayton indicated today that the United States must write off as a gift most of the $400,000,000 proposed for Turkey and Greece, and will have to spend large sums in Korea.

These points developed as Senate and House Foreign Affairs committees dug into the broad implications of President Truman's proposal to bolster Greece and Turkey against Communist aggression.

Acheson was before the Senate commitee, where Senator Hickenlooper (R., Iowa) asked whether Iraq, Saudi-Arabia, India and Burma might not ask for help also, saying: "We'd like some of that?"

"I do not think that anybody is going to propel himself into difficulties in order to be extricated," Acheson replied.

No Prediction Of Cost

At the House group's hearings, Representative Vorys (R., Ohio) demanded that Clayton produce later all Administration estimates on aid that might be required throughout the world. Clayton agreed to do so.

Acheson told the Senators the United States must invest funds to put southern Korea on a sound economic basis because Russia has blocked any agreeemnt for a unified government of that country. He was unprepared to predict the cost.

Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) raised the question of whether the Greek-Turkish policy would be a world one. He said President Truman's message seemed to "suggest that we find it necessary to defend the United States against what might be called the chain reaction of aggression wherever it occurs throughout the world."

"Exactly"

Acheson replied that the situations in various countries are utterly different and cannot be met in exactly the same manner as in Greece and Turkey.

"What you're saying," Vandenberg interpreted, "is that we do not necessarily react in the same way every time, but that we do react."

Acheson said that was correct.

The under secretaries testified against a background of developments that included the week-end release of American documents charging that Russia seeks to promote Communist governments in Greece and Turkey.

Form Of "Payment" Suggested

In an exchange with Clayton, Representative Jarman (D., Ala.) identified the documents as the same as those furnished the committee by the State Department last week with "Secret" stamped on them.

On the point of what the United States could ask of Greece and Turkey in return for aid, Representative Dirksen (R., Ill.) proposed that this country request long-term air rights, naval bases, trade concessions and travel privileges.

He also suggested that consideration be given to requiring that Greece and Turkey adopt "a repayment tax" to pay off the "$400,000,000 that President Truman has recommended be advanced to them.

Resources In Russ Zone

Acheson said the State, War and Navy departments are now studying the matter of aid for southern Korea.

Soviet troops occupy the northern half of the country, which contains most of Korea's natural resources, Acheson said. He added that it would be a "struggle" to put the southern part of the country, now occupied by American troops, on its economic feet.

"We have attempted for more than a year to reach an agreement with Soviet Russia for a unified government of the country but have not been able to do so," Acheson commented. "Failure presents a very serious problem."

Different From Greek Aid

He said it was "not at all clear" how much money would be needed. But he promised that when the State, War and Navy departments had completed their estimate of the situation, Congress would be asked to pass on any expenditures to be made.

Vandenberg asked if this paralleled the sort of aid the President proposed to extend to Greece and Turkey.

Acheson said the situations were not exactly parallel.

While the congressional hearings were under way, Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said there had been no new developments at the White House on the Greek-Turkish situation.

He professed no knowledge when asked about a report that Trygve Lie, secretary general of United Nations, might be coming to Washington to discuss the proposed American aid.

Must Wait For Congress

Ross said he knew of no steps to notify the United Nations of the projected American action.

The latter point was raised with Acheson by Vandenberg.

To Vandenberg's question, Acheson replied that this Government could not very well tell any international organization its intention until Congress had decided final policy by supporting or rejecting the President's proposal.

He noted that the Export-Import Bank had earmarked $500,000,000 for a possible loan for China, that Congress had authorized aid for the Philippines and that this Government had spent nearly a billion dollars in Italy since that country surrendered, without notifying the United Nations of any of these actions.

Observing that the projected aid to the two Mediterranean countries "goes far beyond the bounds of these parallels," Vandenberg said he thinks it would be a "matter of comity" to tell the United Nations this nation's plans after Congress acts.

"That would be a desirable thing to do," Acheson replied.

As he did in previous testimony before the House group, Acheson stressed that Greece might collapse if the United States waited for the United Nations to extend help.

In response to questions by Vandenberg and Senator Connally (D., Texas), Acheson said it would take at least 30 days to get the United Nations Assembly into meeting.

Many other details would be required before any action could be taken, he said.

Not Asked, Foreseen, Intended

"If we waited until all of these things happened," Connally asked, "it might spell the collapse of Greece?"

"The situation in Greece is very immediately critical, sir," Acheson replied quietly. "The answer to your question is 'Yes.'"

On the point of whether troops would be sent to Greece or Turkey, Acheson said: "We have not been asked to do so. We do not foresee any need to do so. And we do not intend to do so."

At the request of Senator Elbert Thomas (D., Utah), Acheson discussed the possible effect of the Greco-Turkish troubles on other countries east and west.

"Immediate . . . Profound" Effect

"Should htre be a failure of the constitutional system in Greece and Turkey, the effect throughout the whole area from the Dardanelles to the China Sea would be immediate and I think porfound," Acheson said.

He said the repercussions would be felt in Iran, Iraq, Palestine, Saudi, Arabia, India, Burma, Indonesia, French Indo-China, and—to the west—in Hungary, Australia, Italy and France.

"Failure in these key countries would echo through a vast region," he said.

Lead To Peace, Not War

As he did before the House Foreign Affairs Committee last week, the acting Cabinet officer said he does not think the aid proposals will lead to war.

"I think that quite the opposite is true," Acheson told the senators.

"These proposals are designed to increase the stability of, and to further the opportunity for democratic development in, two countries most important to the world community.

"These are not acts which lead to war.

"They lead in the other direction.

Documents Made Public

"They help to maintain the integrity and independence — what the United Nations Charter calls the 'sovereign equality'— of states. That is one of the principles upon which the whole effort to organize the world for peace is founded."

Nature Of Missions

Concerning troops, Acheson asserted:

"We have no understandings with either Greece or Turkey, oral or otherwise, in regard to the sending of troops to those countries.

"Our military missions . . . will be small ones, whose task will probably be to find out the local need for military equipment and to see to it that needed material is delivered and is in the hands of the proper authorities. Our missions will consist only of observers and advisers."

Acheson did not attempt to answer the more than 125 questions submitted to the State Department by various senators through Vandenberg.

Loan From RFC?

Meanwhile, chances developed that it might be at least two weeks after March 31—the Administration's original goal for the measure's passage—before the legislation could clear both the House and Senate.

Hence a move got under way to give President Truman stopgap authority to borrow $100,000,000 from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, in anticipation of the bill's eventual approval.

Greek Aid Plan Includes Arms, Clayton Says

Washington, March 24 (AP)—Under Secretary of State Will Clayton said today that all but $150,000,000 of the Administration's $400,000,000 program to help Greece and Turkey ward off communistic domination would go for military expenditures.

Clayton expressed the belief that assistance for military purposes, "being essential to our own security," should be made as an outright grant.

But he said that aid for civilian purposes would fall into a different category. He told the House Foreign Affairs Committee that repayment could be sought "when the direct effect of the finacial aid was to create the ability on the part of the receiving country to meet its obligations in foreign exchange."

Reasons Explained

Then he added:

"However, I do not believe that we should create financial obligations for which there is no reasonable prospect of repayment."

In both countries, Clayton emphasized in testimony prepared for the committe, economic rehabilitation and financial stability depend directly upon insuring their national independence and military effectiveness.

At the hearing Clayton and Representative Mundt (R., S.D.) engaged in an exchange over whether or not the Administration's plans for Turkey and Greece constitute a change in American foreign policy.

Mundt Critical

"I wonder if we didn't write [illegible] policy in April, 1941," observed Clayton. That was the time when this nation began its lend-lease program.

"Are you suggesting that we are heading for another war?" Mundt demanded.

"No, not at all," Clayton replied.

Shaking his head vigorously, Mundt said that "if you are making an analogy of this with lend-lease, which was all aid short of war, then you are going a lot further than the American people want to go."

Wants Amendment

Mundt announced that he would introduce an amendment to set apart $5,000,000 each for Turkey and Greece to send Turk and Greek students and observers to this country to study the workings of American democracy.

That, he said, "will do a lot more good than having soldiers marching up and down the streets of Athens and Ankara." He contended that the Administration has a "rather strange belief that if we can keep enough rifles on the shoulders of enough soldiers, we can preserve democracy."

Clayton, in charge of the department's economic affairs, broke down the Administration's request into two parts—$300,000,000 for the Greeks, $100,000,000 for the Turks.

Appropriation's Analyzed

Of the Greek allotment, he furnished these figures:

One hundred and fifty million dollars for military purposes.

Eighty million dollars for internal costs such as reconstruction of railroads and roads.

Fifty million dollars to stabilize foreign exchange costs.

Twenty million dollars for agricultural needs such as the importation of livestock.

As for the $100,000,000 recommended for Turkey, Clayton said the full sum "will be devoted to equipment for the Turkish armed forces and projects such as the rehabilitation of the Turkish railway ssytem which will contribute most directly to the maintenance of security in Turkey."

Clayton disclosed for the first time that $50,000,000 in a separate pending measure to authorize the expenditure of $350,000,000 for foreign relief has been earmarked for Greece.

This measure was approved by the House Foreign Relations Committee last week and may reach the floor within a few days.

Other beneficiaries under this post-UNRRA program would include Italy, Hungary, Austria, Poland and China.

Clayton emphasized, however, that this relief aid would be insufficient "to restore domestic security" in Greece "or provide the minimum reconstruction and stability which are necessary if Greece is again to take her place among the self supporting democratic nations of the world."

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—Secretary of War Patterson urged congress today to rush aid to Greece lest armed bands led by Communists seize control.

Secretary of the Navy Forrestal disclosed that four mine sweepers already have been sold to Turkey and that nation, with Greece, has called for more naval ships.

And Undersecretary of State Acheson, asked whether any country besides Russia threatens Turkey, declared that "I do not know of any other country which is a potential aggressor as far as Turkey is concerned."

Destroyers to be Sent

The three testified before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, with both Patterson and Acheson giving assurances that the sending of American troops to Greece or Turkey is not in President Truman's plans—"not contemplated," said Patterson; "We do not intend to," said Acheson.

But more than half of the $400,000,000 to be spent in Greece and Turkey as a bulwark against Communism will go for military purposes. This was disclosed by Undersecretary of State William L. Clayton in testimony before the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

The military funds would be an outright grant to the two Mediterranean countries, not a loan, and it was strongly indicated that most of the other money likewise would be a gift. Acheson said he expects only some $50,000,000 to be repaid.

Moreover, Acheson declared, the United States must put more money into southern Korea because Russia has blocked efforts to unify that country. The amount is "not at all clear," he said, but congress will have the final say.

One phase of Acheson's testimony appeared in direct conflict with the text of the Tehran "Big Three" agreement made public by the State department during the day.

Acheson testified that Turkey had served the allied cause during the war by blocking, with her neutrality until shortly before the German collapse, a possible Nazi entry to the east. This point also was made in "background" documents released over the weekend.

But the text of the Roosevelt-Stalin-Churchill agreement showed that the Tehran conferees, on Dec. 1, 1943, "agreed that, from the military point of view, it was most desirable that Turkey should come into the war on the side of the allies before the end of the year."

The text of the agreement, like the documents, was made public at congressional insistence.

The Senate committee, opening its hearings, heard Acheson, Patterson and Forrestal in quick order.

Patterson Urges Speed

In calling for speed on the aid to Greece in view of the armed menace which he said is led by Communists, Patterson proposed that congress make a quick $100,000,000 available.

"This procedure," he explained, "will give us time to supplement our present information concerning the nature and extent of Turkish requirements and to determine the manner in which these requirements can best be met."

He reported the Turkish army has material of German design which is wearing out, "much of their equipment is obsolete," and "they are deficient in mobility and communications."

He added that the number of American military advisors to be sent to Greece would be "anywhere from 10 to 40" and:

"The sending of combat troops is not contemplated."

Forrestal said the navy is ready to send small groups of experts to Greece and Turkey to appraise their naval needs.

"For what purpose?" demanded Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), the committee chairman. "You're not providing ships on a belligerent basis, are you?"

Forrestal replied that the ships would be small vessels to police commerce and sweep mines, mentioning tank landing ships, passenger boats and tugs.

U. S. Flag 'Going Everywhere'

Senator Pepper (D-Fla) inquired whether the navy is sending warships to the Mediterranean for "demonstrations for political purposes."

"I have said for some time," Forrestal answered, "that the American flag is going everywhere—that the sight of it in any part of the world is going to be so common as not to provoke unusual interest. We are going to have naval craft wherever there is a sea."

It was Pepper, too, who raised with Acheson the question whether any nation but Russia is a potential aggressor against Turkey.

"I do not know of any other country which is a potential aggressor as far as Turkey is concerned," the witness replied.

Acheson's word on whether American troops would be sent to Greece or Turkey was this: "We have not been asked to do so. We do not foresee any need to do so. And we do not intend to do so."

William L. Clayton, undersecretary for economic affairs, gave to the House Foreign Affairs Committee the first public breakdown of the $400,000,000 requested by President Truman to be used by June 30, 1948:

Turkish
military purposes .$100,000,000
Greek
military purposes ..$150,000,000
Total military $250,000,000

The remaining $150,000,000 would go to Greece for: Internal economic costs, $80,000,000; foreign exchange costs, $50,000,000; livestock, farm equipment and other goods, $20,000,000.

Asked Funds For Greece

Clayton also disclosed for the first time that Greece is scheduled to get, in addition to these sums, $50,000,000 out of the pending $350,000,000 appropriation for post-UNRRA relief in liberated countries. This would make a year's total of $350,000,000 for Greece.

The full $100,000,000 for Turkey, Clayton testified, "will be devoted to equipment for the Turkish armed forces and projects such as the rehabilitation of the Turkish railway system which will contribute most directly to the maintenance of security in Turkey."

The legislation which the twin committees are considering would give the President much discretion to parcel out the funds either as loans or grants. Clayton and Acheson indicated most would be grants.

While the congressional hearings proceeded, these other developments arose:

1. Mr. Truman received reports from Paul Porter, who headed an economic mission to Greece, and from his cabinet food committee but no details were made public.

2. The State Department renewed its request to Congress for expansion of its inter-American cultural exchange program to world scale. It provides for the exchange with other nations of students, teachers, books and services in the fields of health, agriculture and science.

3. "Background" documents released over the week-end were revised by the source to eliminate a statement that the United States favors Britain's ceding the island of Cyprus to Greece. Rep. Jarman (D-Ala.) of the Foreign Affairs Committee identified the published documents, on the record, as those furnished to the committee last week by the State Department. The revision was made after unfavorable reaction from London.

The House committee, after hearing Clayton in public, scheduled a closed-door session tomorrow to hear from Lincoln Macveagh, U. S. ambassador to Greece. It will resume public hearings Thursday with Secretary of War Patterson as a witness.

Porter Describes Greece to Truman

Washington, March 24 (A. P.).—Paul Porter reported to President Truman today on his economic investigation in Greece.

Leaving the White House, the head of the American Economic mission declined to discuss his findings.

He said that he would file a formal report with the State Department soon and that it would be up to the Department whether it should be made public.

Porter spent an hour and 15 minutes at the White House, talking part of the time with Clark M. Clifford, counsel to the President.

Cession Of Cyprus Dropped As Greek Aid

Washington, March 24 (AP)—A statement that the United States favors cession to Greece of Britain's Mediterranean island of Cyprus was omitted today from a "revised" version of documents submitted to congressmen as aid for Greece and Turkey.

The revision was made known after British Government officials in London said they were "surprised and disappointed" at the proposal. London newspapers attributed the documents to the State Department.

British Object To Ceding Of Cyprus

London, March 24 (AP)—British Government sources said today they were "surprised and disappointed" at a Washington proposal that Britain cede Cyprus to Greece.

One official, who refused to be identified, said: "It will be a relief to all of us in this country when some people in the United States overcome their tendency to be so liberal with territory that does not belong to them."

Britain has refused previously to change the island's status, saying it helped secure her imperial lifelines.

Policy Stated Repeatedly

A foreign spokesman said:

"British policy in regard to Cyprus is plain. It has been stated repeatedly."

In a reply to a question, the spokesman said any United States views on Cyprus conveyed to Britain would receive normal consideration. He said Britain so far had received no official or unofficial communications from the State Department indicating the United States Government's views on Cyprus.

Greece Known To Favor Union

The Greek Government was known to favor a union with the island, he added, but no request for consideration of the issue has been received from Athens.

Cyprus was colonized by the ancient Greeks. Conquered by a British monarch, Richard Couer de Lion, in 1191, it has changed hands many times but in 1914 was formally annexed to the British Empire.

British Discuss New U.S. Loan

London, March 24 (AP)—Britain's spring flood, wiping out crop prospects over many acres, has brought talk in London that the British might seek another American loan. The Government, however, was silent on the subject today.

The American loan negotiated a year ago placed $3,750,000,000 to Britain's credit. Latest reports showed about $900,000,000 of this had been used.

Drain On Loan

The British Government estimates it will import $2,900,000,000 worth of food and agricultural supplies this year—much of it from the United States, Canada and other dollar areas. This in itself means a big drain on the loan unless exports to dollar areas and home production can alleviate the situation.

Capt. Raymond Blackburn, a Labor member of Parliament, told a political gathering last week end that unless Britain increased her exports the nation would "either have to get another American loan next year or eat less food, smoke less tobacco and accept a lowering of our standard of living."

Policy "Reshaping"

The New Statesman and Nation, a weekly paper, said "the alternative of paying the political price for another American loan is a drastic reshaping of our home and foreign policy."

Many economists figure the dollar credits will run out early next year, and are writing and talking at length about steps Britain will have to take when credits are exhausted.

The United States' new Ambassador, Lewis W. Douglas, told his first London news conference that no new loan question had been raised and added that neither had "the necessity for it, if it ever arises."

But he added he had not had time to "assess the facts" and did not mean to imply that a new loan "might or might not be requested."

DIFFER ON PRICE FOR WORLD WHEAT

London, March 24 (A. P.)—Argentine delegates still refused today to commit their country to both a world price and an allotment of wheat exports, while a special sub-committee of the international wheat conference met to discuss whether the maximum price for five years should be $1.55 or $1.80 per bushel.

Well-informed conference sources said that the United Kingdom—the largest single wheat importer in the world—refused to accept the United States view that maximum prices should be $1.80.

Canada was reported to be supporting the United States, but one informant said that the British hoped to get the Canadians to agree to the $1.55 ceiling.

The Argentine delegates, who are not attending the sub-committee meetings, said today that the expected instructions from Buenos Aires had not yet arrived.

Another source said that the Argentines apparently are acting on the basis of previous instructions which were reflected in the opening speech by the head delegate, Anselmo Viacava, when he told the conference that Argentina was reluctant to accept definite prices for her wheat when she was paying enormously increased costs for her imports of manufactured goods.

An informant said today that other delegations were inclined to admit that the present instability of prices of all goods throughout the world made it difficult for them to accept fixed prices for wheat.

The informant said that some such delegations now were considering a tentative proposal to leave the price question out of the eventual agreement, which would be confined to the setting up of an international body.

The agreement, the informant added, might be left open for revision in a year's time.

Big Ben's Lights On Again

LONDON, March 24 (AP).—The lights of Big Ben, the clock atop the Houses of Parliament, went on again tonight. They were switched off two months ago when a shortage of electricity shut down industrial plants. Use of electricity in homes in Great Britain is still banned for five hours daily.

Liner Monarch Of Bermuda Damaged By Flames

Hebburn-on-Tyne, England, March 24 (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin swept the three upper decks of the 22,424-ton British liner Monarch of Bermuda as she lay in drydock here today.

The blaze, fanned by a strong wind, was discovered shortly after 3 A.M. and was not brought under control until eight hours later. There was no immediate estimate of the loss.

More than 200 firemen poured tons of water into the vessel. Five were injured and many overcome by fumes.

The liner was used as a troopship during the war.

Early last year fires broke out in twelve ships in British ports within a five-week period, causing reports—denied by Scotland Yard—that a "sabotage ring" was operating.

The liner, owned by Furness, Withy & Co., Ltd., entered drydock six weeks ago after having carried 160,000 British and American troops about 400,000 miles since 1940.

She served as an evacuation ship during the fall of France and the threat to Egypt, was a troop transport in the North African campaign and carried the first contingent of Canadian troops to Europe.

BRITISH LINER SWEPT BY FIRE IN DRY DOCK

HEBBURN-ON-TYNE, Eng., March 24—(AP) The 22,424-ton liner Monarch of Bermuda was damaged heavily in dry dock today by a mysterious fire that raged through three upper decks and left her superstructure a tangle of hot metal.

The blaze broke out at 4 a. m. while the vessel, unscathed in six years of wartime troopship service in dangerous waters, was being refitted for the New York-Bermuda passenger trade. The fire was declared under control at noon, but firemen said it might not be completely extinguished for another day.

More than 200 firemen poured tons of water into the vessel, which was launched in 1931 and once held the passenger speed record for the New York to Bermuda run. Five firemen were injured and many were overcome by flames.

BRITISH DELEGATE JOINS IN TELLING U.N. GROUP SECURITY IS FIRST STEP

Commission On Conventional Armaments Opens Session With Arguments That International Confidence Must Be Backed By Police Force

Lake Success, N.Y., March 24 (AP)—The United States and Britain told the United Nations almost in unison today that the world is not yet ready for disarmament and won't be until international security is established.

Russia, which presented the original arms-slashing proposals in a speech by Vyacheslav M. Molotov, Foreign Minister, to the United Nations General Assembly last October, remained silent on the issue as the two western powers opened debate at the first meeting of the eleven-nation Commission on Conventional Armaments.

Awaits "Spirit of Peace"

"When peace is concluded and security is organized, reduction of armaments then will be politically feasible," Herschel V. Johnson, American delegate, told the initial arms session on the eve of the United Nations' first anniversary in the United States.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, declared that the United Nations must establish international confidence with a global police force as its bulwark before "any concrete measures to regulate or reduce armaments can be put into effect."

Both the speakers emphasized they were ready to go ahead with a study of arms reduction immediately, but held little hopes for early results.

Delegates Watch Dispatches

As the discussions got under way delegates kept a sharp eye on Moscow and Washington dispatches for trends such as might be indicated by the conference between Ernest Bevin, British Foreign Secretary, and Generalissimo Stalin in the Soviet capital and the statement by Dean Acheson, Under Secretary of State, that Russia is a "potential aggressor" against Turkey.

"The regulation of armaments is not itself the ultimate objective," Johnson said. "The ultimate objective is a world in which free men can live in peace and security."

Lays Down Four Conditions

He then laid down four conditions which must be met:

1. Safeguards as an inseparable part of any system of regulation.
2. Completion of the peace treaties with Germany and Japan.
3. Conclusion of special agreements setting up an international military force.
4. Establishment of strict international control of atomic energy.

"The United States thinks that our work can be best accomplished by gearing it to the other efforts now being made to establish and maintain peace and security," Johnson continued.

Must Be Reinforced

"We think this is so because no system for the regulation of armaments can be successfully established and maintained, except it be reinforced by effective measures for control and enforcement, and the stages in its accomplishment synchronized with the progressive evolution of international security."

Johnson said the framers of the United Nations Charter recognized security as the primary problem and knew "that the world is still a long way from the stage where even civilized men can live under law without some form of power as a sanction."

Stressing a need for speed in setting up the global police, he commented that "military force has a legitimate place in the organization for peace and security."

Cadogan Points Similar

Cadogan laid down three basic principles which he said must be accepted if the United Nations is to succeed with any arms reduction program. Differing little from the United States points, they were:

1. The reduction and regulation of armaments and armed forces depends primarily on the establishment of international confidence; the converse argument is misleading and dangerous.
2. Completion of an international military force would contribute greatly to the desired establishment of international confidence.
3. The establishment of an effective system of international control and verification must precede the adoption of any system for arms reduction.

Put First By Russia

In the past, Russia has taken the view that disarmament should be the first step taken, with general world security to follow, and was inclined to view any opposition as an attempt at delay. Cadogan referred to such an opposition theory with the declaration that it was the stand taken by Mussolini and he hoped "no one will be inclined to repeat the Fascist Government's contention today."

Both Johnson and Cadogan mentioned previous failures to bring about worldwide disarmament and cautioned that governments would continue to hesitate to lay down their arms until security was established.

"We want genuine disarmament; we do not want the illusion of disarmament or the dangers of unbalanced disarmament," Cadogan said. "Let us at least assume that we all honestly desire disarmament."

U.S. Declares World Not Ready To Disarm

Excerpts From the British and U. S. Statements Before Conventional Arms Body

(Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 24—Following are excerpts from statements by Sir Alexander Cadogan, the British representative, and Herschel V. Johnson, deputy representative of the United States, at the opening session of the Commission on Conventional Armaments:

By Sir Alexander Cadogan

I wish to establish certain principles, the acceptance of which is, in my Government's view, essential if useful progress is to be made with plans for the regulation of armaments. These principles are as follows:

First, the reduction and regulation of armaments and armed forces depends primarily on the establishment of international confidence; the converse argument is misleading and dangerous.

Secondly, the completion of the international arrangements for collective security contemplated under Article 43 of the Charter would contribute greatly to the desired establishment of international confidence. These arrangements should, therefore, be completed before any practical measures to regulate or reduce armaments are actually adopted. Naturally, however, the study of disarmament can and should proceed concurrently.

For Effective Control First

Thirdly, the establishment of an effective system of international control and verification must precede the adoption of any system for the regulation and reduction of armaments.

Unlike the control of atomic energy, which, as Secretary Marshall has recently pointed out, is not a problem of disarmament in the conventional sense and poses fundamentally new questions of international relations, the control of conventional weapons, as everyone here knows, has been attempted before. I refer, of course, to the work of the Preparatory Commission on Disarmament from 1925-1930 and of the World Disarmament Conference which began in 1932.

I do not think any one will deny that we have something to learn from these earlier efforts to achieve the same object as that which we have now before us. Much as we must deplore the failure of those discussions during the period between the two World Wars, we can at least try to learn something from them. Indeed, we must do so, if we do not wish to incur the risk of facing the same failure again today.

The circumstances of that time were not, after all, so different from those of our own. Then, as now, governments and peoples wished to avoid the intolerable burden of an arms race. Then, as now, widespread demand for disarmament was expressed by governments, private groups and organizations, representing millions of people all over the world. Then, as now, all governments hoped to find a degree of security in the Covenant of the League of Nations instead of relying solely on national armaments. It was only as the League went from one failure to another in attempts to keep the peace and restrain aggression that Japan, Italy and Germany came to place reliance on military force, and eventually to use it for aggressive purposes.

The World Disarmament Conference of 1932 received no less than nineteen carefully thought out written plans for multilateral disarmament. Why was it that not one of these plans won general acceptance? Why were the excellent intentions of the sixty delegations frustrated? It is true that in October, 1933, Germany walked out of the Disarmament Conference; but it could not be said that in the course of the first year's work of the conference any one nation had sought to sabotage the general objective of disarmament. Why then was nothing achieved in that first year? * * *

National states have one perfectly intelligible reason for maintaining their armaments in the world as we know it: to maintain their own security and to frustrate the aggression of their neighbors. Clearly, therefore, governments hesitate, and with some justification, to agree to a plan for disarmament before a dependable alternative system of security is established.

In order that the nations may disarm without fear it is indispensable that there should be an alternative system to which the countries of the world may appeal and from which they may secure redress when they are made the victims of political, economic or military aggression, or when they are coerced or wronged. Security and disarmament must go hand in hand, and it is unrealistic and unprofitable to study disarmament without a concurrent study of the related problem of security.

At Geneva the French delegation, with the logic of their race and with their own bitter experience in mind, seem to have understood the position better than did most other countries. Accordingly, in the plans which they laid before the Disarmament Conference in 1932 they emphasized the essential link between disarmament and security. I hope we may now learn the lesson which they sought to teach us then.

But even an international system of security will not come to be relied upon by the nations of the world until there is international confidence. Unfortunately, such confidence cannot be built up overnight. Good faith during the years, and the scrupulous carrying out of international treaties, will foster and strengthen it. This is a fact, and there is nothing to be gained from shutting our eyes to it.

There will not be the necessary degree of world confidence until a working world system of cooperation is in effect. That is, a world peace system. * * * The United Nations in all its branches—political, economic and social—is designed to be such a peace system. It is not a system of peace-making; it is a system of peace-keeping. The peace is not yet made. It is not surprising, therefore, that our U. N. system of peace-keeping is not working with clockwork precision.

If satisfactory peace treaties can be concluded; if we can advance economic reconstruction in the world; if we can establish the truth of the interdependence of nations of the world; if we can work together in harnessing nuclear energy for the good of all mankind, we shall be contributing to a state of world confidence without which nations will continue to trust in their own strong right arms.

The establishment of confidence must be a long-term process dependent on proof of continued good faith and loyal cooperation. But we could make a start at once with at least one concrete, and I hope practical, project; viz., the putting into effect of the security system contemplated by the Charter under Article 43.

For World Police Force

The importance of the arrangements foreshadowed in this article appears at this time to be altogether underestimated. In the view of my Government, the effective conclusion of the work upon which the Military Staff Committee is now engaged is a sine qua non of security and, therefore, of disarmament. * * *

I am not saying that we cannot, and should not, concurrently carry out a thorough study of disarmament. I have already stated that we intend to submit certain practical proposals on which such a study might be based, but I do maintain that the completion of the security arrangements under Article 43 bears an essential relationship to the whole problem of disarmament. * * *

Nothing is more striking to anyone who reads or remembers the history of those long and sterile debates on disarmament than the way in which close theoretical analysis of the disarmament problem coincided in time with the progressive violation and abandonment of the system of collective security provided for in the Covenant of the League of Nations.

In a world in which international confidence was being shaken by successive shocks, no nation dared to propose a system which would deprive it of whatever particular form of armaments it regarded as essential for its own defense. That in itself suffices to explain the failure to adopt any of the many and contradictory plans put forward. We must not let ourselves be placed in that position again. But the only way to avoid doing so is to insure that nations will not have to rely for security solely on the remainder of armaments which may be left to them after a system of arms limitation and control has been established. That alone, it seems to me, would justify us in urging the rapid completion of the international arrangements for collective security contemplated by the Charter.

Finally, we can have no sure hope that there will be either confidence, security or even disarmament unless and until there is an effective system of control of armaments and verification of disarmament measures.

Clearly such a commission presents a challenge to the cherished rights of sovereign states, but we are living today in a period when ancient conceptions of sovereign rights are tending to fade away. Even in 1932 there seems to have been a very general readiness to adopt a more liberal view. Let us hope that today we can at least do as well in this respect. In process of time, sovereign rights are gradually whittled down by every international treaty that comes into force. It is sad that the sovereign right to which states seem likely to cling to the last is the right to plunge the world to destruction.

We want genuine disarmament, we do not want the illusion of disarmament or the dangers of unbalanced disarmament.

By Mr. Johnson

No system for the regulation of armaments can be successfully established and maintained except it be reinforced by effective measures for control and enforcement, and the stages in its accomplishment synchronized with the progressive evolution of international security.

The disarmament negotiations in the period between the two wars provide a lesson which I think we will ignore today only at our peril. Surely the world's experience in these last twenty-five years has shown that security and mutual confidence based upon demonstrated proof of good intentions is the foundation and the necessary prerequisite to disarmament.

The Charter provides for the organization of military force and in Article 43 places upon the Security Council the duty of negotiating as soon as possible military agreements which will make military force available to the United Nations. The efforts of this commission must be exerted with Article 43 constantly in mind. The United States believes that these special agreements referred to in Article 43 should be negotiated with the least possible delay. When they are negotiated, one important element of security, on which successful armaments regulation depends, will have been brought about.

The United States delegation believes that in the plan of work which we must prepare we should recommend that the commission devote particular attention to the study of safeguards.

Mentions Atomic Energy

At this time it is unlikely that any of us around this table can envisage clearly all the features of such a system of safeguards. With respect to atomic energy, the requirements of a system for safeguarding the control of this force for peaceful purposes have been sketched in the first report of the Atomic Energy Commission to the Security Council.

We are not so far advanced in the study of what would be involved in safeguards over conventional armaments. Here we are starting from scratch. None of the disarmament arrangements accepted and applied in the two decades from 1919 to 1939 provide us with much guidance. Arrangements voluntarily assumed by the powers victorious in the last war, for limiting and reducing their armaments, contained no safeguards. The consequence was the unilateral disarmament of peace-loving states and the concurrent rearmament, largely carried out in secret, of those nations whose subsequent aggression brought on World War II.

Let me illustrate this point by referring to one of the disarmament efforts made after the war of 1914-1918. I refer to the naval limitation treaty concluded at the Washington Conference in 1921-1922. You will recall that, according to that treaty, the principal naval powers agreed to limit naval armaments and to reduce their existing armaments to the established limits. In the case of the United States this meant not only abandoning plans for ships which had been authorized, but also scrapping major units which were already partly constructed, and in some cases fully built and commissioned. The United States and others lived up to their engagements and loyally observed the restraints upon their freedom to build naval armaments without limit.

But one party to the treaty, Japan, did not live up to the obligations which it had voluntarily assumed. Not only did Japan scrap blueprints while the United States scrapped battleships; Japan also violated the accompanying prohibition against fortifying Pacific islands. As the world knows to its sorrow, the absence of any system of safeguards, such, for instance, as inspection, to see that Japan carried out its engagements resulted in these islands being used for attack against the United States. Consequently, in the absence of safeguards, the United States was, in effect, unilaterally disarmed.

The unhappy experience of the United States with arms limitation unaccompanied by effective safeguards, and its determination to profit by the lesson learned at such high cost in blood and treasure, have led my Government to the conviction that this commission should focus its attention from the outset upon the safeguards indispensable to an effective system of armaments regulation.

French Say Rebel Bands Are Fleeing Indo-China

PARIS, March 24 (AP).—Dispatches from Indo-China today reported new French successes against Viet Namese (Nationalist) forces in northeastern Tonkin Province and said native guerrillas were attempting to flee across the frontier into southern China.

The French said they intercepted a number of guerrillas near Mon Cay but that others made good their flight further west, near Dinn Lap. These others, dispatches said, were disarmed by Chinese military forces and interned.

Other activity was reported in the area south of Hanoi, where, the French said, they repulsed a Viet Namese attack on Ha Dong, a few miles southwest of the Tonkin capital.

Soviet Foreign Minister V.M. Molotov was present during the interview.

NIGHT

It had been understood that Bevin intended to discuss with Stalin a United States proposal for a four-power pact covering German demilitarization for 40 years. There was no official anouncement, however, of what was covered in the meeting.

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault conferred last week with Stalin. U.S. Secretary of State Marshall is the only visiting member of the council of foreign ministers who has not yet met with the generalissimo.

Council Reconvenes Tomorrow

The council was in recess today, but will reconvene tomorrow for the third week of discussions on Germany and Austria.

Other developments today included:

1. The French delegation proposed that a four-power meeting be convened in Paris before next July 1 to organize emigration of Germans from Germany to France and other countries. This action was taken in connection with French plans to reduce the heavy population of Germany, which the French contend is a "war potential."

The French also proposed that the transfer of German nationals to Germany, from such countries as Poland and Czechoslovakia, be suspended.

2. A four-power coordinating committee, appointed by the ministers to sort out matters of agreement and disagreement on the German treaty, held a stormy meeting. Subjects covered thus far indicated that the ministers, during the first two weeks of their session, were in disagreement on about three-quarters of the matters discussed.

3. Marshall was reported to have recommended that the number of Allied troops in Germany be reduced to a bare essential minimum, so as to cut occupation costs and help Germany get on her feet economically.

An authoritative source said Marshall's proposal was contained in one of three American papers circulated among the other three ministers. The other papers dealt with German democratization and the compensation of allied nationals whose property had been removed from Germany as reparations or as war booty.

Marshall Asks Troops Cut

Marshall's proposal on occupation troops was reported to specify that the number be cut to the minimum necessary to carry out allied policies and protect security in Germany.

Under the American recommendation, the Allied Control council for Germany would be directed to report by next June 1 on the number of forces it considered needed for each of the four zones as of next July 1 and as of July 1, 1948.

The paper asked the ministers specifically to declare that a reduction in occupation costs was necessary to make the German economy self-supporting, and to expedite German production for exports, the informant said.

The paper on democratization provided that:

1. The German state and federal constitutions should guarantee freedom from search, seizure and arbitrary arrest; and should also guarantee other basic rights.

2. Elections throughout Germany should be supervised by the four-powers. The Allied Control council should be instructed to require observance of the principles of freedom of political action for national political parties.

3. Trade unions should be guaranteed freedom.

4. Ideas and media which contain ideas should be allowed to circulate freely through all of Germany, except for the requirements of military security. Such media should be free from domination by any German government, national or local.

5. Allied personnel and goods should be allowed to move freely through Germany.

The paper on compensation would direct the deputy foreign ministers, who are expected to continue their meetings after their chiefs return home, to work out a plan to compensate United Nations nationals whose property had been removed from Germany. The deputies would report back to the next session of the ministers.

Marshall proposed that no compensation be paid to persons owning interests in German enterprises organized exclusively for war production.

U.S. Urges Big 4 To Cut Troops In Germany

MAR 5 1947

Moscow, March 24 (AP)—An authoritative source disclosed tonight that United States Secretary of State Marshall had proposed that the Council of Foreign Ministers, in effect, order a reduction of Allied occupation forces in Germany to the minimum necessary to carry out Allied policies and protect security.

The proposal was made in a paper circulated among V. M. Molotov, Ernest Bevin and Georges Bidault, the Russian, British and French Foreign Ministers, it was learned.

DAY

Under the proposal, the Allied Control Council for Germany would be directed to report by next June 1 what forces it considered necessary for each of the four zones on July 1 and give a similar estimate for July 1, 1948.

Three Papers Passed Around

The paper on occupation forces was one of three passed around by the American delegation to the other Foreign Ministers.

The other papers covered proposals on German democratization and on compensation for Allied nationals whose property had been removed from Germany as reparations or war booty.

In the occupation paper, Marshall asked the Council of Foreign Ministers—which was in recess today—to declare that a reduction of forces and occupation costs is necessary to make the German economy self-supporting as soon as possible and to help expedite German production for export.

The paper on democratization set forth the following main points as representing what the United States wanted in the way of a democratic Germany:

1. Every German state and federal constitution should contain specific and effective guarantees of freedom from search, seizure and arbitrary arrests and guarantees of other basic human rights.

2. The Allied Control Council should be instructed to require observance of the principles of freedom of political action for national political parties, whose leaders would be elected by the membership and responsible to it. Elections throughout Germany should be under four-power supervision and inspection.

3. Freedom for trade unions, with leaders responsible to the membership, would also be guaranteed and the federating of trade unions would not be allowed to impose on the financial or organizational autonomy of member groups.

4. Freedom would be required for the circulation of ideas and the media carrying ideas throughout all Germany, except for the requirement of military security. Marshall specifically said that all such media should be free from the domination of any German government, national or local.

5. Freedom would be guaranteed for the movement of Allied personnel and goods throughout Germany on any form of transportation, including air, and present restrictions would be eliminated except for those that may legally be imposed on individuals by judicial bodies or those that the Control Council might order as necessary for military security and occupation duties.

Directed To Deputies

While the papers on the occupation forces and the various freedoms were laid down as directives for the Council to give to the Allied Control Council, the paper on compensation would be directed to the Deputy Foreign Ministers, who are expected to continue meeting after the Moscow Council adjourns.

The deputies, under Marshall's plan, would be told to recommend to the next Foreign Ministers Council a method for compensating United Nations nationals whose property had been removed from Germany for reparations or war booty. Exceptions would be United Nations nationals who had owned interests in German enterprises organized exclusively for war production.

Marshall Jests About New Rumor Of Assassination

MAR 5 1947

Moscow, March 24 (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, Secretary of State, laughed today about a report that he had been assassinated.

"Well, I was 'assassinated' once in China," he said when asked about the latest report, this one with Moscow as the locale. "Now here it is again. It's the third time I'm worried about. That might be fatalistic."

NIGHT

The latest assassination rumor circulated last week in some parts of the United States.

TWO MOSCOW SOCIAL EVENTS IN CONFLICT

Moscow, March 24 (A. P.).—Two social events will compete tomorrow night for the attention of the Big Four Foreign Ministers—a gala ballet performance and a reception to celebrate Greece's Independence Day.

DAY

Invitations for the reception at the Greek Embassy were sent out early last week to all the Foreign Ministers, many of their delegations and members of the diplomatic corps. Invitations to the performance of "Romeo and Juliet" at the Bolshoi Theater went out only yesterday. The conflict in dates caused considerable talk.

PALESTINE JEWS RAP TERRORISTS

MAR 5 1947

JERUSALEM, March 24—(AP) The Jewish Agency Executive, declaring that every homeless Jew had a right to emigrate to Palestine, said today it would "defend the rights of the Jewish people" before the United Nations.

A resolution passed by the Agency after a week of closed sessions said that if the Palestine question was considered by the UN, the executive "will put the Jewish problem in all its comprehensiveness and urgency before the highest international forum."

"The Jewish people claims for every homeless Jew a right to return to his national home, there to rebuild his life," the resolution continued. "The executive sends greetings to all disposed Jews who are longing for rehabilitation in Palestine x x x."

NIGHT

The executive criticized Jewish terrorist organizations in the Holy Land, and said that they distorted "the true character of Palestine Jewry in the eyes of the world and defeat our political efforts."

Meanwhile, the unexpected departure of Britain's two highest ranking officers in Palestine started a wave of speculation that the British might be planning new security measures for the Holy Land.

Lt. Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, high commissioner, and Lt. Gen. G. H. S. MacMillan, military commander, arrived in London by plane for high-level talks.

There also were many rumors that one or more ships were approaching the coast bearing uncertified Jewish refugees.

The only major act of violence reported during the day was the holdup of the Palestine Discount Bank of Tel Aviv. Ten armed men fled with $110,000 after firing a pistol at one clerk and slugging another.

Jewish Agency Moves To Give Case To U.N.

MAR 5 1947

Jerusalem, March 24 (AP)—The Jewish Agency Executive adopted a resolution today to put the Jewish problem "before the highest international forum," charged Britain with violating its obligations under the Palestine mandate, and said the Jews' fate should rest in their own hands.

DAY

The resolution adopted after a week of closed meetings, said every effort would be made to defend Jewish rights under the mandate if the Palestine problem came before the United Nations. It called for the right to free immigration and large-scale land settlement of Jews in Palestine and demanded establishment of a Jewish state.

It was understood that the presentation of the Jewish case would be left to the six American members of the executive, headed by Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver of Cleveland, Ohio, plus Dr. Nahum Goldman of London, who is leaving this week for New York.

Meanwhile the Jewish underground organization, Irgun Zvai Leumi, urged that Jews throughout the world boycott British goods as "part of our fight against imperialism." Irgun issued a communique declaring that such a boycott was bound to be effective "because the British now are particularly sensitive to economic reprisals in view of the current struggle for economic existence."

To Deport Yanks.

At the same time it was reported that the Palestine Government had decided that eighteen American sailormen from the ship Abril, which attempted to land uncertified Jewish immigrants in Palestine two weeks ago, would be deported to the United States instead of being tried on charges of abetting illegal immigration.

Tel Aviv Gang Robs Bank Of $80,000

Jerusalem, March 24 (AP)—Tel Aviv police reported that a gang robbed the Palestine Discount Bank of 20,000 pounds (about $80,000) at the peak of business this morning.

The report from the all-Jewish coastal city northwest of here said a group of men first walked into the bank as a screen for the gunmen.

Ten armed men followed a few minutes later, the police reported, and forcing a dozen employés and 50 customers to hold up their hands, scooped up cash from the tills.

The account said that the robbers stopped on their way to a vault at a clerk's cry for help, that one fired at the clerk and another hit him in the head and that the whole gang then fled in waiting taxicabs.

Palestine Chiefs In London For Talks

London, March 24 (AP)—Lieut. Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham and Lieut. Gen. G. H. A. McMillan, British High Commissioner and military commanders, respectively, for Palestine, flew in today for talks on the Holy Land's immediate future.

Police guarded London airport when the two men arrived. Whitehall sources reported that Cunningham would see Colonial Secretary Arthur Creech Jones and Prime Minister Attlee to discuss conditions in Palestine following the lifting of martial law.

Arabs Warn Big Four of Trouble

CAIRO, March 24 (AP).—A member of the Palestine Arab Executive Committee said today that the Haj Amin el-Husseini, the exiled Mufti of Jerusalem, had advised the Council of Foreign Ministers in Moscow that "unless Palestine Arabs are given their rights, tremendous disturbances" could be expected not only in Palestine but over the entire Middle East.

The committee member said the Mufti, head of the Executive Committee, had sent a cable to the Moscow conference declaring that the Arabs are "impatient for independence and the end of Jewish immigration into Palestine."

U. S. Consulate In Egypt Threatened

Alexandria, Egypt, March 24 (A. P.).—The United States and Swedish consulates here received notes today signed by the National Committee for National Freedom" threatening destruction by bombs unless Egyptian flags were flown to the right of the consulates' national flags. Several foreign-owned theaters have received similar notes demanding that they play the Egyptian national anthem before and after the screening of films.

Cairo Notified On Loss of Plane

Cairo, March 24 (A. P.).—Egyptian Airlines officials said today they had been advised that a twin-engined Beechcraft plane purchased by the company in the United States had crashed in the Azores while en route here. The pilot and co-pilot were reported killed. No one else was aboard.

The flight was said to have originated in Wichita, Kan.

The United States Army Air Transport Command said in New York last night that the wreck of the plane had been found near Santa Maria, in the Azores, by two search planes from the near-by ATC base at Lagens Field. A dispatch from Montreal said that the pilot and co-pilot were Canadians ferrying the craft to Cairo. They were identified as Capt. Hector Smith, 27, and Radio Navigator Gerald L. Pollock, 33 years old, both of Montreal.

Fight to Finish On Reds Urged By Kuomintang

MAR 5 1947

'Aid in Crushing Rebellion' Promised, but Hope for Final Settlement Is Held

NANKING, March 24 (AP).—The executive committee of the Kuomintang (government party) issued a manifesto today calling for a finish fight against "the Communist rebellion" but holding out some hope of an eventual settlement. The manifesto declared the Communists were "the greatest obstacle to national unity and enforcement of the constitution."

It said that after completion of the projected government reorganization the Kuomintang would co-operate with minority parties to "crush the Communist rebellion, protect the existence of the Chinese race and deliver the populace from its present privations."

It concluded: "By carrying on the fight against the Communists we want to convince them of the undependability of their armed strength, so that they eventually will change their minds, cease destructive activities and become a lawful party."

In winding up a long committee session, the members adopted a fifteen-point economic program calling for currency stabilization, aid to private enterprise, invitations to foreign capital and prohibition of monopolies.

Generallissimo Chiang Kai-shek told a joint meeting of the government heads and committee members that they must have confidence in his leadership. He deplored committee attacks on Foreign Minister Wang Shih-chieh, Governor Chen Yi, of Formosa and former Premier T. V. Soong.

ernment party) convention, today demanded confidence in his leadership and said the political future of the Kuomintang depended upon unity within the party.

The Generalissimo deplored attacks at the convention against Government officials and declared that the period between now and September would be a most critical one for the Kuomintang. He obviously referred primarily to the campaign against the Chinese Communists.

Secret Policy Debate

Chiange spoke after the Kuomintang's Central Committee, concluding a ten-day secret debate on China's foreign policy, urged that Russia be asked to hand over the Manchurian port of Dairen and open negotiations over industrial machinery removed from Manchuria.

Sources who attended said the committee adopted a formal resolution urging this action. It called specifically for prompt Russian fulfillment of the Chinese-Russian treaty of 1945, under which Dairen was to be a Chinese-administered free port. Thus far, Chinese troops are outside the city, waiting for the Soviet garrison to move out.

A second meeting of Kuomintang delegates was concluded with issuance of a manifesto in which the party reiterated its determination to stamp out the Chinese Communists as "the greatest obstacle to national unity and enforcement of the constitution."

"By carrying on the fight against the Communists, we want to convince them of the undependability of their armed strength so that they eventually will change their minds, cease destructive activities and become a lawful party," the manifesto added.

Mission Pillage Laid To Reds

MAR 5 1947

Vatican City, March 24 (AP)—Chinese Communists are accused of destroying Catholic missions under "a preconceived plan" in dispatches received from Peking and Tientsin by the Catholic news agency Fides.

L'Osservatore Romano, the Vatican newspaper, published them today.

Three missions of Shienhsien, Kinghsien and Taming in the Communist-controlled area south of Peking—operated by French, Austrian and Hungarian Jesuits—have been reduced to ruins during the past year with "an identical procedure," the dispatches said.

Aroused Public Feeling

The procedure started with a two-month campaign to arouse public feeling against the missionaries, it was charged.

Finally, last January 5, members of the "people's militia" broke into one of the mission houses, arrested Msgr. Brellinger, apostolic prefect; eight priests and a brother—all of them Austrians.

Dragged To Public Square

Shouting "down with foreign oppressors of the people" and "down with the capitalists," the militiamen dragged the group to a public square. There a gathering of some 5,000 persons acted as a "tribunal of the people."

Accusations against the missionaries went back 47 years to the time of the Boxer Rebellion. When commissioners asked what should be done with the missionaries, the throng replied that they should be imprisoned.

Three days later the group was fined 53,000,000 Communist dollars by a court of 100 commissioners. The missionaries, excepting the apostolic prefect and another, were then set free, but on the following day, the Fides dispatches said, "The pillage began."

Belongings Seized

Furniture, equipment and livestock were taken—all of it in supposed satisfaction of the fine. For the liberation of the two missionaries still held the commissioners asked another 5,000,000 Communist dollars.

The result to date, Fides said, has been the confiscation of everything that the missions owned.

MONTBATTEN TAKES OATH

MAR 5 1947

New Viceroy Of India Pleads For National Unity

New Delhi, March 24 (AP)—Admiral Lord Mountbatten was sworn in today as Viceroy of India and, in a precedent-breaking speech, called upon India's political leaders to set their house in order by the time the British leave the country.

A short time later he conferred with three of India's biggest political leaders. They were the Nawab of Bhopal, Chancellor of the Chamber of Princes; Jawaharlal Nehru, leader of the All-India Congress Party; Laquat Ali Khan, of the Moslem League. Nehru and Ali Kahn are members of the Interim Indian Government.

Mountbatten conferred also with the Maharajah of Bikaner, a power in the Chamber of Princes.

The swearing in and conferences took place against a background of communal violence which has accompanied the inability of the dissident factions to get together on a plan for Indian independence.

A Government communiqué from the Punjab tonight said eight persons were killed, two of them burned to death, in rioting at Hodal, near the border of Delhi province.

Resplendent in his white navy uniform decorated with his many service ribbons, the new Viceroy said from the viceregal throne:

"This is not a normal viceroyalty on which I am embarking. His Majesty's Government are resolved to transfer power by June, 1948, and, since new constitutional arrangements must be made and many complicated questions of administration resolved — all of which will take time to put into effect—this means a solution must be reached within the next few months.

"I believe that every political leader in India feels, as I do, the urgency of the task before us. I hope soon to be in close consultation with them and I will give them all the help I can.

"Meanwhile, every one of us must do what he can to avoid any word or action which might lead to further bitterness or add to the toll of innocent victims."

Mountbatten Takes Oath As Viceroy

MAR 5 1947

New Delhi, March 24 (AP)—Admiral Viscount Mountbatten was sworn in as India's last viceroy today and promptly broke precedent by making a speech from the viceregal throne in which he appealed for co-operation in finding a solution to India's problems "within the next few months."

He took the oath in the presence of princes in gay turbans, more soberly clad members of the Cabinet and about 400 guests gathered in Durbar reception hall.

Commenting that it was not usual for a speech to be made at a swearing-in ceremony, Mountbatten said:

"This is not a normal viceroyalty on which I am embarking. His majesty's Government is resolved to transfer the power by June, 1948, and since new constitutional arrangements must be made and many complicated questions of administration resolved—all of which will take time to put into effect—this means a solution must be reached within the next few months.

"I believe that every political leader in India feels as I do the urgency of the task before us. I hope soon to be in close consultation with them and I will give them all the help I can.

"Meanwhile," he continued, "everyone must do what he can to avoid any word or action which might lead to further bitterness or add to the toll of innocent victims.

I know," Mountbatten said, "how very many there are who are determined to work to that end, and I shall do everything I can to support them. . . . I am under no illusion about the difficulty of my task. I shall need the greatest good will possible and I am asking India today for that good will."

Meanwhile, renewed outbreaks between old Delhi's religious communities resulted today in the imposition of a week-long 6-P.M.-to-7-A.M. curfew, prepublication censorship of news about communal disturbances in Delhi province, and renewed patrolling by the police and military.

Five persons were officially reported injured in stabbings and stone throwings following yesterday's Sikh-Moslem clashes on Pakistan Day, in which two persons were killed and a number injured.

Deputy Commissioner M. S. Randhawa said he led the searches of a number of places for weapons and at one spot seized a bundle of about twenty spears and arrested 25 persons, including Moslem League national guardsmen.

Dutch, Indonesians Set Signing Of Agreement

MAR 5 1947

Batavia, Java, March 24 (AP)—Officials of the Dutch, Government and the Indonesian Republic agreed today to sign the Cheribon agreement tomorrow, thus ending nineteen months of revolution and bloodshed.

The ceremony will take place in ancient Rijswijk Palace in Batavia. Under the agreement, the Netherlands will recognize the sovereignty of the Indonesian Republic over Java, Sumatra and Madoera. In return, the republic will affiliate with Borneo, Celebes, Netherlands New Guinea, the Lesser Sundas and other Dutch islands, in a United States of Indonesia. The Indonesian states will be linked with Holland under the Dutch crown.

Cargo Seizure Ruled Legal

MAR 5 1947

Batavia, Java, March 24 (AP)—Judge M. L. Swaab of the Dutch Land Court today confirmed confiscation by the Netherlands East Indies Government of the $3,000,000 cargo of the United States Liberty ship Martin Behrman.

The Government seized the cargo, including rubber, cinchona (quinine) bark and sisal fiber, early this month on ground that the cargo, taken on at the Indonesian Republican port of Cheribon, had been loaded in defiance of Dutch export regulations.

DAY

Costs Levied Against Captain

The court ordered that costs of the legal proceedings be paid by Capt. Rudy Gray, master of the 7,176-ton vessel, which is operated by the Isbrandtsen Company, Inc., of New York. Gray and James Ryan, company lawyers, earlier had left the courtroom after challenging the court's jurisdiction.

The court clerk said the judgment directed Gray to hand over the Martin Behrman's cargo to the N.E.I. Government at once. Unloading of the ship, under way for ten days, was expected to be finished late this week in Batavia harbor, where she was brought from Cheribon.

Ryan said yesterday the company had notified him that it would send a second ship—the 6,214-ton Flying Cloud—to Java. The Flying Cloud, loaded with textiles from Manila, was expected to reach Java next Sunday.

Hans Isbrandtsen, head of the firm in New York, was reported to have rejected a Dutch offer to let the Martin Behrman leave Batavia with a duplicate cargo. He was quoted as saying the proposal settled nothing.

South Africa Concessions Denied

CAPETOWN, South Africa, March 24 (AP)—Finance Minister J. H. Hofmeyr said today that no concessions were made to American industries before South Africa's recent lend-lease settlement. He also told the House of Assembly that no permission was given to the United States to use strategic bases in the Union. His statement was made in reply to questions by opposition members as to whether secret clauses were attached to the settlement.

B-17 Blasted And Riddled By Storm Lands Safely

MAR 5 1947

Tokyo, March 24 (AP)—Far East Air Force headquarters told today of the terror-ridden flight of a Flying Fortsess lashed by lightning that riddled it with holes and rocked it with explosions but failed to knock it down.

The Fortress, en route to Okinawa from Japan, ran into sleet, snow, rain—and lightning—while flying at 8,000 feet on the morning of February 26, the announcement said. Lieut. Col. Michael N. W. McCoy, of Los Angeles, was commanding the ship, and five others were aboard.

DAY

Damage Listed

The plane landed at Okinawa after three hours of flying by dead reckoning and the shaken crew found these damages:

Seventeen holes through the right wing and aileron; numerous holes from nose to tail with assorted wrinkles, melted wiring and other "bruises"; camera doors blown open; part of the underside of the left wing blown out; shield of the loop antenna destroyed; trailing antenna knocked off; No. 1 turbo-amplifier burned out.

Radios Burned Out

McCoy said the first flash of lightning apparently struck the plane's right wing tip. A few minutes later the crew heard an explosion like a 75-mm. cannon's report. Other explosions followed.

"That was only the beginning," said McCoy. "The radio floor was blown up against the ceiling of the airplane, all radio sets being burned out. Air was rushing up through the bottom of the fuselage, as the camera doors had been blown off. We decided to descend as rapidly as possible in order to ditch the aircraft in case of fire and get out of the weather conditions that were causing the trouble."

The plane emerged from the storm at 1,500 feet. Since it was still flying, McCoy decided to continue to Okinawa, three hours away.

War Crime Tribunal Seeks To Speed Trials

Tokyo, March 24 (AP)—The International Military Tribunal trying 26 Japanese leaders on war-crime charges offered today to grant the defense a week's recess on condition that future testimony be submitted in advance in affidavits and that the defense be prepared to continue until June without further delay.

DAY

The tribunal move came after hearings revealed the defense case was near a breakdown because of two factors — inadequate stenographic equipment and language difficulties in interviewing prospective witnesses.

Tribunal President Sir William Webb said submission of testimony in affidavit form appeared the only way to expedite the trial and prevent Japanese witnesses from delivering lengthy speeches.

7 Fires In British Zone

Kure, Japan, March 24 (AP)—The seventh large fire in the British Commonwealth occupation force zone within two weeks gutted the men's canteen at the 20th Australian Field Ambulance cantonment in Kaitaichi yesterday. Two soldiers, who were fireproofing heaters in the building when the fire started, escaped injury.

Venereal Disease Rate Cut.

Yokohama, March 24 (A. P.).—The venereal disease rate for United States Eighth Army troops has dropped to one case per 478 men, the lowest since November 16, 1945, Col. Phillip L. Cook, Eighth Army surgeon, reported today. He attributed the drop to intensive education of the men.

Plea Of Innocent Made In Roxas Grenade Case

Manila, Tuesday, March 25 (AP)—Julio Guillen, 50-year-old barber, pleaded innocent to charges of murder and multiple attempted murder in the attempt to assassinate President Manuel A. Roxas a fortnight ago.

The charges were filed yesterday after a Government alienist reported Guillen was sane.

Guillen told the Court he was not ready to make his plea; he needed more time, he said, to explain properly why he tried to kill the President. The plea of innocent was entered, however.

The grenade which was thrown at Roxas failed to injure the President, but wounded six others, one of whom later died.

Transfer Of Army Surplus Goods Denied

MAR 5 1947

Manila, March 24 (AP)—A charge by a Philippine senator that United States Army surplus properties were being transferred from the Philippines to several Asiatic countries by American authorities was denied today by a United States Army spokesman.

The spokesman said that aside from a shipment to Korea, no authorized transfers were being made. Whatever shipments of military supplies were going to southeast Asia undoubtedly were streaming through black-market channels, he added.

Senator Salipada Pendatun had said surpluses were being transferred to the Netherlands East Indies, Indo-China, China, India and Korea.

U. S. Honors Spanish Priest

MANILA, March 24 (AP).—A Spanish Jesuit priest, the Rev. Miguel Selga, has received an award of the American Medal of Freedom from the United States Army for aiding American forces by maintaining weather services during the initial weeks of the Pacific war. Selga, now en route to retirement in Spain, was director of the Philippine Weather Bureau observatory.

Philippines Re-enter Straw Hat Market

Manila, March 24 (A. P.).—The Philippines re-entered the quality straw hat market yesterday with the shipment by air of 20,000 buntal fiber hats similar to the so-called Panama hats of Ecuador and Colombia.

The shipment was destined to a New York manufacturer (Knox). Shippers said it was the first of a series to be sent monthly

STRIKE BEGINS IN KOREA

Utilities Workers Demand Release of 3 Union Officials

SEOUL, Korea, March 22 (AP)—Employes of the Government-controlled National Railroad, the Seoul Electric Company and the Seoul Telephone Company began a twenty-four-hour strike today.

Occupation intelligence officers said the strikers were affiliated with the leftist South Korean Labor party. The officers called the strike "a show of strength by the party."

The strikers demanded the release of three union officials arrested recently for calling an unauthorized meeting, freedom of unions "from police interference," "progressive labor laws" and an increase in food rations by about one-third.

KOREA SEIZES LEFTISTS

MAR 5 1947

Officers of Unions Accused of Fomenting Utility Strike

SEOUL, Korea, March 24 (AP)—Metropolitan Police Chief T. S. Chang announced today the arrest of 120 persons throughout American-occupied southern Korea on charges of fomenting a twenty-four-hour strike of railroad and utility company employes.

He said those arrested were "leading officers" of five Leftist political and labor organizations.

The struck companies resumed normal operations today.

Leftist newspapers attacked a report that an interim independent Government responsible to an American civilian high commissioner might succeed the Military Government in southern Korea. The report, given to the press in Washington by Dr. Syngman Rhee, Korean leader, was described as "a scheme to sell Korea down the river."

Leftist Press Attacks Korea Occupation Plan

Seoul, March 24 (AP)—Leftist newspapers attacked editorially today a report that an interim independent government responsible to an American civilian high commissioner might succeed the military government in American-occupied South Korea.

The report, given to the press in Washington by Dr. Syngman Rhee, South Korea independence leader, was described by the Leftist papers as "a scheme to sell Korea down the river" and "intrigue to divide and dissent the country permanently."

Russia, occupying North Korea, has rejected United States proposals to resume negotiations for uniting the country under a provisional government.

Chungoi Daily News, published by Lyuh Woon Hyung, former head of the Leftist Peoples party, declared that "if one Korean government were set up from Washington and aother from Moscow, only lunatics would believe the Korean question would be satisfactorily solved."

Canada Checks Loyalty Of Its Civil Service

OTTAWA, March 24 (AP).—An inter-departmental committee is making a survey of measures now being taken to check on the loyalties of persons in Canada's civil service with a view to determining whether present precautions are sufficient, it was learned today.

The committee was established some time after publication of the Royal commission report on espionage activities in Canada. One official said there has been no change in procedure in civil service admissions. All employees are subjected to a thorough screening before entering the service and those whose records are in question are not employed.

SAYS SOCIALISM FAILS

Montreal, March 24.—The failure of collectivism is "inevitable" because it cannot raise the standard of living sufficiently, Robert R. Wason, president of Manning, Maxwell & Moore, Inc., and chairman of the board of the National Association of Manufacturers, declared here today.

Urging that Canada work with the United States in exporting the private competitive enterprise system, Wason told the Canadian Club that his prediction included the democratic socialism being tried in Britain and the totalitarian socialism of Soviet Russia.

DAY

"The United States and Canada alone believe that improved standards of living cannot be obtained by national monopolies or international cartels," he said. "If our peoples projected our faiths in the competitive enterprise that made us, as Communism has pressed its will on poverty-stricken people, this struggle would have been won and liberty in the world would now be certain."

DOWNED ARMY C-54 SIGHTED

Boats And Helicopter Going To Rescue In Newfoundland

NIGHT

Stephenville, Newfoundland, March 24 (AP)—A United States Army C-54 transport, missing since Sunday afternoon, was found today crashed 25 miles south of here, and rescue operation directors promised that survivors would be evacuated by tomorrow afternoon.

Two boats carrying ground rescue parties were to leave here at midnight for the crash scene, and a United States Coast Guard helicopter, flown from New York, was being prepared for evacuation hops to begin at 5 A.M. tomorrow.

Signals Indicate Casualties

Nine persons were aboard the plane when it crashed. Crewmen of search planes which located it today said four or five men were seen walking near the wreck. The four-engined transport appeared to be little damaged, but signals from the survivors indicated there were several injuries.

Survival kits were dropped at the scene by a search plane, a United States Army Transport Command plane based at Harmon Field, Stephenville.

There are no roads on the 1,500-foot plateau where the transport came down. The desolate, forested area is about 4 miles from the Newfoundland Railroad and about the same distance from the fishing village of St. Teresa on St. George's Bay, but isolated from both by cliff-like rocks and dense forest.

Tribute To Pilot's Skill

Veteran pilots at Harmon Field said the fact that there were any survivors of the crash was a tribute to the pilot's skill. They said he apparently had crash landed without much damage to the plane and had prevented fire.

The cause of the accident remained unknown. It occurred only a few miles from the scene of the wreck of an American Overseas airliner last Fall in which 39 persons died.

The four-engined Skymaster was en route Sunday from Westover Field, Mass., to Stephenville. It last reported its position as five miles southwest of Harmon field at 2.30 P.M.

When it failed to appear over the field, search planes were sent up and a crash boat was sent cruising St. George's Bay to look for signs of wreckage.

Allies Wanted Turkey to Enter Conflict in 1943, Documents Disclose.

WASHINGTON, March 24—(AP) Secret sections of the wartime Big Three agreements were made public tonight, disclosing that the United States and its allies wanted Turkey in the war in 1943.

This contrasted with a view expressed by Undersecretary of State Acheson during his testimony on the pending proposal to aid Turkey and Greece against Communism. He told congress that Turkey's neutrality served the allies better than if she had gone to war against Germany.

NIGHT

The State Department released what it said was the complete text of the agreements made at Tehran and Yalta by the late President Roosevelt, Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill, and at Potsdam by President Truman, Stalin and Prime Minister Attlee of Britain.

It did so at the demands of congressmen who wanted the information made public in connection with the Greek-Turkey plan.

Most of the contents of these agreements had come to light previously. What was new was the full statement of the military conclusions reached at Tehran, and the exact wording of other papers whose substance only had been known.

The documents showed that Russia, now seeking a share with Turkey in defense of the Dardanelles, had raised the proposal at Yalta in February, 1945. Stalin sought revision of the Montreux Convention which covers control of the straights, and Roosevelt and Churchill agreed that Turkey "should be informed at the appropriate moment."

Then, at Potsdam, the Big Three "recognized" that the Montreux pact "should be revised as failing to meet present-day conditions." No details were stipulated.

"It was agreed," the text shows, "that as the next step, the matter should be the subject of direct conversations between each of the three governments and the Turkish government."

The wording of this agreement, which now has given rise to controversy between Moscow and the western capitals, had not been available previously. The Russians hold that it sanctions two-sided negotiations between Russia and Turkey. The United States contends that any negotiations with Turkey should be by Russia, Britain and the U.S. together.

Stand On Turkey Revealed

The proposal for Turkey to enter the war was outlined in the Tehran military conclusions. Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin were "agreed that, from the military point of view, it was most desirable that Turkey should come into the war on the side of the Allies before the end of the year." That was on Dec. 1, 1943.

In that connection, Stalin pledged that "if Turkey found herself at war with Germany and as a result Bulgaria declared war on Turkey or attacked her, the Soviet would immediately be at war with Bulgaria." Negotiations were proposed to inform Turkey of this commitment by Moscow.

Russia then was officially at peace with Bulgaria, which borders that part of Turkey north and west of the Dardanelles. But Russia declared war on Bulgaria anyway on Sept. 5, 1944.

Turkey did not enter the war until Germany's end was near—Feb. 23, 1945, effective March 1.

The Tehran military conclusions also contained these clauses:

1. "That the partisans in Yugoslavia should be supported by supplies and equipment to the greatest possible extent and also by commando operations."

2. "Took note of Marshall Stalin's statement that if Turkey found herself at war with Germany and as a result Bulgaria declared war on Turkey or attacked her, the Soviet would immediately be at war with Bulgaria."

3. Said that operation "Overlord"—the secret word which sent Allied forces swarming across the channel—was originally scheduled for May, 1944. The actual invasion took place a month later. The Big Three conference noted Marshal Stalin's declaration that the Soviet forces simultaneously would launch an offensive against Germany from the east to prevent a diversion of Hitler's armies to the west.

The documents, disclosing approximately 20 clauses which never have been made public, were furnished the press as a result of congressional demands for publication of "background" material in connection with the Greek-Turkish aid program.

Yalta Points Revealed

Release of the formal protocol of the Crimea conference at Yalta disclosed these new points:

1. Agreement by the United States, Britain and Russia that they would act collectively to insure the "complete disarmament, demilitarization and dismemberment of Germany," as deemed "requisite for future peace and security."

(A point of issue in current discussions in Moscow by the foreign ministers conference is over making Germany an economic, self-supporting entity.)

2. Here it was decided that France should be given a zone of occupation in Germany and agreed upon that the French provisional government—then headed by Gen. DeGaulle—should be invited to become a member of the allied control council for Germany.

3. Reviewed reparations to be collected from Germany, deciding that they would be in three forms—removal within two years of such things as equipment, machine tools, rolling stock, German investments abroad and shares of industrial, transport and other German enterprises "to destroy the country's war potential"; goods from current production for a period to be fixed, and "use of German labor."

This offered the first evidence that the United States, through President Roosevelt, had agreed that labor should be listed as an item for reparations.

4. Disclosed that even then the Soviet Union had put forward proposals calling for the revision of the Montreux Convention—the diplomatic document which governs control of the strategic Dardanelles Straits. This statement said that the Turkish government "should be informed at the appropriate moment."

The question of the Dardanelles has been a major factor in the American decision to send aid to Greece and Turkey.

Britain To Publish Yalta, Potsdam Pacts

London, March 24 (AP)—Minister of State Hector McNeil announced today that Britain would publish the complete Yalta and Potsdam agreements.

The white papers, McNeil told the Commons, will include a protocol on the employment of German labor as reparations.

Pressed by Laborites who complained they had been assured there was no secret agreement of any kind, McNeil replied that he could speak only for Britain's present Government, and added:

"I can only repeat that we are arranging for the publication of the two complete agreements. It is true that the Crimea Conference agreement did deal with prisoner-of-war labor."

The Text of the Full Potsdam Agreement as Made Public Yesterday by State Department

MAR 5 1947

(Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, March 24 — Following is the text of the agreements made at the Berlin (Potsdam) conference between President Truman, Prime Minister Attlee and Generalissimo Stalin, as released today by the State Department:

Protocol of Proceedings of Berlin Conference

The Berlin conference of the three heads of government of the U.S.S.R., U.S.A., and U.K., which took place from July 17 to Aug. 2, 1945, came to the following conclusions:

I. ESTABLISHMENT OF A COUNCIL OF FOREIGN MINISTERS

The following section of the agreement was published Aug. 3, 1945.

A. The conference reached the following agreement for the establishment of a Council of Foreign Ministers to do the necessary preparatory work for the peace settlements:

There shall be established a Council composed of the Foreign Ministers of the United Kingdom, the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, China, France and the United States.

[2]

(I) The Council shall normally meet in London, which shall be the permanent seat of the joint secretariat which the Council will form. Each of the Foreign Ministers will be accompanied by a high-ranking deputy, duly authorized to carry on the work of the Council in the absence of his Foreign Minister, and by a small staff of technical advisers.

(II) The first meeting of the Council shall be held in London not later than Sept. 1, 1945. Meetings may be held by common agreement in other capitals as may be agreed from time to time.

(I) As its immediate important task the Council shall be authorized to draw up, with a view to their submission to the United Nations, treaties of peace with Italy, Rumania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland, and to propose settlements of territorial questions outstanding on the termination of the war in Europe. The Council shall be utilized for the preparation of a peace settlement for Germany to be accepted by the Government of Germany when a Government adequate for the purpose is established.

(II) For the discharge of each of these tasks the Council will be composed of the members representing those states which were signatory to the terms of surrender imposed upon the enemy state concerned. For the purpose of the peace settlement for Italy, France shall be regarded as a signatory to the terms of surrender for Italy. Other members will be invited to participate when matters directly concerning them are under discussion.

(III) Other matters may from time to time be referred to the Council by agreement between the member Governments.

(I) Whenever the Council is considering a question of direct interest to a state not represented thereon, such state should be invited to send representatives to participate in the discussion and study of that question.

(II) The Council may adapt its procedure to the particular problems under consideration. In some cases it may hold its own preliminary discussions prior to the participation of other interested states. In other cases, the Council may convoke a formal conference of the state chiefly interested in seeking a solution of the particular problem.

B. It was agreed that the three Governments should each address an identical invitation to the Governments of China and France to adopt this text and to join in establishing the Council. The text of the approved invitation was as follows:

Council of Foreign Ministers draft for identical invitation to be sent separately by each of the three Governments to the Governments of China and France.

The Governments of the United Kingdom, the United States and the U.S.S.R. consider it necessary to begin without delay the essential preparatory work upon the peace settlements in Europe. To this end they are agreed that there should be established a Council of the Foreign Ministers of the five great powers to prepare treaties of peace with the European enemy states, for submission to the United Nations. The Council would also be empowered to propose settlements of outstanding territorial questions in Europe and to consider such other matters as member Governments might agree to refer to it.

The text adopted by the Three Governments is as follows:

"In agreement with the Governments of the United States, His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom and U.S.S.R., the United States Government, the United Kingdom and the Soviet Government extend a cordial invitation to the Government of China (France) to adopt the text quoted above and to join in setting up the Council. His Majesty's Government, the United States Government, the Soviet Government attach much importance to the participation of the Chinese Government (French Government) in the proposed arrangements and they hope to receive an early and favorable reply to this invitation."

C. It was understood that the establishment of the Council of Foreign Ministers for the specific purposes named in the text would be without prejudice to the agreement of the Crimea Conference that there should be periodical consultation between the Foreign Secretaries of the United States, the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and the United Kingdom.

D. The conference also considered the position of the European Advisory Commission in the light of the agreement to establish the Council of Foreign Ministers. It was noted with satisfaction that the Commission had ably discharged its principal tasks by the recommendations that it had furnished for the terms of surrender for Germany, for the zones of occupation in Germany and Austria and for the inter-Allied control machinery in those countries. It was felt that further work of a detailed character for the coordination of Allied policy for the control of Germany and Austria would in future fall within the competence of the Control Council at Berlin and the Allied Commission at Vienna. Accordingly, it was agreed to recommend that the European Advisory Commission be dissolved.

[The section from this point to the next italicized note was published Aug. 3, 1945.]

II. THE PRINCIPLES TO GOVERN THE TREATMENT OF GERMANY IN THE INITIAL CONTROL PERIOD

A. Political Principles.

In accordance with the agreement on control machinery in Germany, supreme authority in Germany is exercised, on instructions from their respective Governments, by the commanders in chief of the armed forces of the United States of America, the United Kingdom, the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and the French Republic, each in his own zone of occupation, and also jointly, in matters affecting Germany as a whole, in their capacity as members of the Control Council.

So far as is practicable, there shall be uniformity of treatment of the German population throughout Germany.

[3]

The purposes of the occupation of Germany by which the Control Council shall be guided are:

(I) The complete disarmament and demilitarization of Germany and the elimination or control of all German industry that could be used for military production. To these ends:

(a) All German land, naval and air forces, the SS, SA, SD and Gestapo, with all their organizations, staffs and institutions, including the general staff, the officers' corps, reserve corps, military schools, war veterans organizations and all other military and semi-military organizations, together with all clubs and associations which serve to keep alive the military tradition in Germany, shall be completely and finally abolished in such manner as permanently to prevent the revival or reorganization of German militarism and nazism;

(b) All arms, ammunition and implements of war and all specialized facilities for their production shall be held at the disposal of the Allies or destroyed. The maintenance and production of all aircraft and all arms, ammunition and implements of war shall be prevented.

(II) To convince the German people that they have suffered a total military defeat and that they cannot escape responsibility for what they have brought upon themselves, since their own ruthless warfare and the fanatical Nazi resistance have destroyed German economy and made chaos and suffering inevitable.

(III) To destroy the National Socialist party and its affiliated and supervised organizations, to dissolve all Nazi institutions, to insure that they are not revived in any form and to prevent all Nazi and militarist activity or propaganda.

(IV) To prepare for the eventual reconstruction of German political life on a democratic basis and for eventual peaceful cooperation in international life by Germany.

All Nazi laws which provide the basis of the Hitler regime or established discriminations on grounds of race, creed or political opinion shall be abolished. No such discriminations, whether legal, administrative or otherwise, shall be tolerated.

[5]

War criminals and those who have participated in planning or carrying out Nazi enterprises involving or resulting in atrocities or war crimes shall be arrested and brought to judgment. Nazi leaders, influential Nazi supporters and high officials of Nazi organizations and institutions and any other persons dangerous to the occupation or its objectives shall be arrested and interned.

[6]

All members of the Nazi party who have been more than nominal participants in its activities and all other persons hostile to Allied purposes shall be removed from public and semi-public office and from positions of responsibility in important private undertakings. Such persons shall be replaced by persons who, by their political and moral qualities, are deemed capable of assisting in developing genuine democratic institutions in Germany.

[7]

German education shall be so controlled as completely to eliminate Nazi and militarist doctrines and to make possible the successful development of democratic ideas.

[8]

The judicial system will be reorganized in accordance with the principles of democracy, of justice under law and of equal rights for all citizens without distinction of race, nationality or religion.

[9]

The administration in Germany should be directed toward the decentralization of the political structure and the development of local responsibility. To this end:

(I) Local self-government shall be restored throughout Germany on democratic principles and in particular through elective councils as rapidly as is consistent with military security and the purposes of military occupation;

(II) All democratic political parties with rights of assembly and of public discussion shall be allowed and encouraged throughout Germany;

(III) Representative and elective principles shall be introduced into regional, provincial and state (Land) administration as rapidly as may be justified by the successful application of these principles in local self-government;

(IV) For the time being, no central German Government shall be established. Nothwithstanding this, however, certain essential central German administrative departments, headed by state secretaries shall be established, particularly in the fields of finance, transport, communications, foreign trade and industry. Such departments will act under the direction of the Control Council.

Subject to the necessity for maintaining military security, freedom of speech, press and religion shall be permitted, and religious institutions shall be respected. Subject likewise to the maintenance of military security, the formation of free trade unions shall be permitted.

B. Economic principles:

In order to eliminate Germany's war potential, the production of arms, ammunition and implements of war as well as all types of aircraft and sea-going ships shall be prohibited and prevented. Production of metals, chemicals, machinery and other items that are directly necessary to a war economy shall be rigidly controlled and restricted to Germany's approved post-war peacetime needs to meet the objectives stated in Paragraph 15. Productive capacity not needed for permitted production shall be removed in accordance with the reparations plan recommended by the Allied Commission on reparations and approved by the Governments concerned, or if not removed, shall be destroyed.

At the earliest practicable date, the German economy shall be decentralized for the purpose of eliminating the present excessive concentration of economic power as exemplified in particular by cartels, syndicates, trusts and other monopolistic arrangements.

[13]

In organizing the German economy, primary emphasis shall be given to the development of agriculture and peaceful domestic industries.

[14]

During the period of occupation Germany shall be treated as a single economic unit. To this end, common policies shall be established in regard to:

(a) Mining and industrial production and its allocation;
(b) Agriculture, forestry and fishing;
(c) Wages, prices and rationing;
(d) Import and export programs for Germany as a whole;
(e) Currency and banking, central taxation and customs;
(f) Reparation and removal of industrial war potential;
(g) Transportation and communications.

In applying these policies, account shall be taken, where appropriate, of varying local conditions.

Allied controls shall be imposed upon the German economy, but only to the extent necessary:

(a) To carry out programs of industrial disarmament, demilitarization, of reparations and of approved exports and imports.
(b) To assure the production and maintenance of goods and services required to meet the needs of the occupying forces and displaced persons in Germany and essential to maintain in Germany average living standards not exceeding the average of the standards of living of European countries. (European countries means all European countries, excluding the United Kingdom and the U.S.S.R.)
(c) To insure in the manner determined by the Central Council the equitable distribution of essential commodities between the several zones so as to produce a balanced economy throughout Germany and reduce the need for imports.
(d) To control German industry and all economic and financial international transactions, including exports and imports, with the aim of preventing Germany from developing a war potential and of achieving the other objectives named herein.
(e) To control all German public and private scientific bodies, research and experimental institutions, laboratories, etc., connected with economic activities.

In the imposition and maintenance of economic controls established by the Control Council, German administrative machinery shall be created and the German authorities shall be required to the fullest extent practicable to proclaim and assume administration of such controls. Thus it should be brought home to the German people that the responsibility for the administration of such controls and any breakdown in these controls will rest with themselves. Any German controls which may run counter to the objectives of occupation will be prohibited.

[17]

Measures shall be promptly taken:

(a) To effect essential repair of transport;
(b) To enlarge coal production;
(c) To maximize agricultural output; and
(d) To effect emergency repair of housing and essential utilities.

[18]

Appropriate steps shall be taken by the Control Council to exercise control and the power of disposition over German-owned external assets not already under the control of United Nations which have taken part in the war against Germany.

[19]

Payment of reparations should leave enough resources to enable the German people to subsist without external assistance. In working out the economic balance of Germany, the necessary means must be provided to pay for imports approved by the Control Council in Germany. The proceeds of exports from current production and stocks shall be available in the first place for payment for such imports.

The above clause will not apply to the equipment and products referred to in Paragraphs 4 (a) and 4 (b) of the reparations agreement.

III. REPARATIONS FROM GERMANY

Reparation claims of the U.S.S.R. shall be met by removals from the zone of Germany occupied by the U.S.S.R. and from appropriate German external assets.

[2]

The U.S.S.R. undertakes to settle the reparation claims of Poland from its own share of reparations.

[3]

The reparation claims of the United States, the United Kingdom and other countries entitled to reparations shall be met from the Western zones and from appropriate German external assets.

[4]

In addition to the reparations to be taken by the U.S.S.R. from its own zone of occupation, the U.S.S.R. shall receive additionally from the Western zones:

(a) 15 per cent of such usable and complete industrial capital equipment, in the first place from the metallurgical, chemical and machine manufacturing industries as is unnecessary for the German peace economy and should be removed from the Western zones of Germany, in exchange for an equivalent value of food, coal, potash, zinc, timber, clay products, petroleum products and such other commodities as may be agreed upon.
(b) 10 per cent of such industrial capital equipment as is unnecessary for the German peace economy and should be removed from the Western zones, to be transferred to the Soviet Government on reparations account without payment or exchange of any kind in return.

Removals of equipment as provided in (a) and (b) above shall be made simultaneously.

The amount of equipment to be removed from the Western zones on account of reparations must be determined within six months from now at the latest.

[6]

Removals of industrial capital equipment shall begin as soon as possible and shall be completed within two years from the determination specified in Paragraph 5. The delivery of products covered by 4(a) above shall begin as soon as possible and shall be made by the U.S.S.R. in agreed installments within five years of the date hereof. The determination of the amount and character of the industrial capital equipment unnecessary for the German peace economy and therefore available for reparation shall be made by the Control Council under policies fixed by the Allied Commission on Reparations, with the participation of France, subject to the final approval of the zone commander in the zone from which the equipment is to be removed.

[7]

Prior to the fixing of the total amount of equipment subject to removal, advance deliveries shall be made in respect to such equipment as will be determined to be eligible for delivery in accordance with the procedure set forth in the last sentence of Paragraph 6.

[8]

The Soviet Government renounces all claims in respect of reparations to shares of German enterprises which are located in the Western zones of Germany as well as to German foreign assets in all countries except those specified in Paragraph 9 below.

[9]

The Governments of the U. K. and U. S. A. renounce all claims in respect of reparations to shares of German enterprises which are located in the Eastern zone of occupation in Germany, as well as to German foreign assets in Bulgaria, Finland, Hungary, Rumania and eastern Austria.

[10]

The Soviet Government makes no claims to gold captured by the Allied troops in Germany.

[Here ends the previously published section of the agreement.]

IV. DISPOSAL OF THE GERMAN NAVY AND MERCHANT MARINE

A. The following principles for the distribution of the German Navy were agreed:

[1]

The total strength of the German surface navy, excluding ships sunk and those taken over from Allied nations, but including ships under construction or repair, shall be divided equally among the U. S. S. R., U. K., and U. S. A.

Ships under construction or repair mean those ships whose construction or repair may be completed within three to six months, according to the type of ship. Whether such ships under construction or repair shall be complete or repaired shall be determined by the technical commission appointed by the three powers and referred to below, subject to the principle that their completion or repair must be achieved within the time limits above provided, without any increase of skilled employment in the German shipyards and without permitting the reopening of any German shipbuilding or connected industries. Completion date means the date when a ship is able to go out on its first trip, or, under peacetime standards, would refer to the customary date of delivery by shipyard to the government.

[3]

The larger part of the German submarine fleet shall be sunk. Not more than thirty submarines shall be preserved and divided equally between the U. S. S. R., U. K. and U. S. A. for experimental and technical purposes.

[4]

All stocks of armament, ammunition and supplies of the German Navy appertaining to the vessels transferred pursuant to Paragraps 1 and 3 hereof shall be handed over to the respective powers receiving such ships.

[5]

The three Governments agree to constitute a tripartite naval commission comprising two representatives for each Government, accompanied by the requisite staff, to submit agreed recommendations to the three Governments for the allocation of specific German warships and to handle other detailed matters arising out of the agreement between the three Governments regarding the German fleet. The commission will hold its first meeting not later than 15 Aug., 1945, in Berlin, which shall be its headquarters. Each delegation on the commission will have the right on the basis of reciprocity to inspect German warships wherever they may be located.

[6]

The three Governments agreed that transfers, including those of ships under construction and repair, shall be completed as soon as possible, but not later than 15 Feb., 1946. The commission will submit fortnightly reports, including proposals for the progressive allocation of the vessels when agreed by the commission.

B. The following principles for the distribution of the German merchant marine were agreed:

The German merchant marine, surrendered to the three powers and wherever located, shall be divided equally among the U.S.S.R., the U. K. and the U. S. A. The actual transfers of the ships to the respective countries shall take place as soon as practicable after the end of the war against Japan. The United Kingdom and the United States will provide out of their shares of the surrendered German merchant ships appropriate amounts for other allied states whose merchant marines have suffered heavy losses in the common cause against Germany, except that the Soviet Union shall provide out of its share for Poland.

[2]

The allocation, manning and operation of these ships during the Japanese war period shall fall under the cognizance and authority of the combined shipping adjustment board and the United Maritime Authority.

[3]

While actual transfer of the ships shall be delayed until after the end of the war with Japan, a tripartite shipping commission shall inventory and value all available ships and recommend a specific distribution in accordance with Paragraph 1.

[4]

German inland and coastal ships determined to be necessary to the maintenance of the basic German peace economy by the Allied Control Council of Germany shall not be included in the shipping pool thus divided among the three powers.

[5]

The three Governments agree to constitute a tripartite merchant marine commission comprising two representatives for each Government, accompanied by the requisite staff, to submit agreed recommendations to the three Governments for the allocation of specific German merchant ships and to handle other detailed matters arising out of the agreement between the three Governments regarding the German merchant ships. The commission will hold its first meeting not later than Sept. 1, 1945, in Berlin, which shall be its headquarters. Each delegation on the commission will have the right on the basis of reciprocity to inspect the German merchant ships wherever they may be located.

[The sections from this point to the next italicized note, except for the single sentence at the end of "VII. Austria," were published Aug. 3, 1945.]

V. CITY OF KOENIGSBERG AND THE ADJACENT AREA

The conference examined a proposal by the Soviet Government to the effect that, pending the final determination of territorial questions at the peace settlement, the section of the western frontier of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics which is adjacent to the Baltic Sea should pass from a point on the eastern shore of the Bay of Danzig to the east, north of Braunsberg-Goldap, to the meeting point of the frontiers of Lithuania, the Polish Republic and East Prussia.

The conference has agreed in principle to the proposal of the Soviet Government concerning the ultimate transfer to the Soviet Union of the City of Koenigsberg and the area adjacent to it as described above, subject to expert examination of the actual frontier.

The President of the United States and the British Prime Minister have declared that they will support the proposal of the conference at the forthcoming peace settlement.

VI. WAR CRIMINALS

The three Governments have taken note of the discussions which have been proceeding in recent weeks in London between British, United States, Soviet and French representatives with a view to reaching agreement on the methods of trial of these major war criminals whose crimes under the Moscow declaration of October, 1943, have no particular geographical localization. The three Governments reaffirm their intention to bring these criminals to swift and sure justice. They hope that the negotiations in London will result in speedy agreement being reached for this purpose, and they regard it as a matter of great importance that the trial of these major criminals should begin at the earliest possible date. The first list of defendants will be published before 1 September.

VII. AUSTRIA

The conference examined a proposal by the Soviet Government on the extension of the authority of the Austrian Provisional Government to all of Austria. The three Governments agreed that they were prepared to examine this question after the entry of the British and American forces into the City of Vienna.

It was agreed that reparations should not be exacted from Austria.

VIII. POLAND

A. Declaration:

We have taken note with pleasure of the agreement reached among representative Poles from Poland and abroad which has made possible the formation, in accordance with the decisions reached at the Crimea Conference, of a Polish Provisional Government of National Unity recognized by the three powers. The establishment by the British and United States Governments of diplomatic relations with the Polish Provisional Government of National Unity has resulted in the withdrawal of their recognition from the former Polish Government in London, which no longer exists.

The British and United States Governments have taken measures to protect the interest of the Polish Provisional Government of National Unity as the recognized Government of the Polish state in the property belonging to the Polish state located in their territories and under their control, whatever the form of this property may be. They have further taken measures to prevent alienation to third parties of such property. All proper facilities will be given to the Polish Provisional Government of National Unity for the exercise of the ordinary legal remedies for the recovery of any property belonging to the Polish state which may have been wrongfully alienated.

The three powers are anxious to assist the Polish Provisional Government of National Unity in facilitating the return to Poland as soon as practicable of all Poles abroad who wish to go, including members of the Polish armed forces and the merchant marine. They expect that those Poles who return home shall be accorded personal and property rights on the same basis as all Polish citizens.

The three powers note that the Polish Provisional Government of National Unity, in accordance with the decisions of the Crimea Conference, has agreed to the holding of free and unfettered elections as soon as possible on the basis of universal suffrage and secret ballot, in which all democratic and anti-Nazi parties shall have the right to take part and to put forward candidates, and that representatives of the Allied press shall enjoy full freedom to report to the world upon developments in Poland before and during the elections.

In conformity with the agreement on Poland reached at the Crimea Conference, the three heads of Government have sought the opinion of the Polish Provisional Government of National Unity in regard to the accession of territory in the north and west which Poland should receive. The President of the National Council of Poland and members of the Polish Provisional Government of National Unity have been received at the conference and have fully presented their views. The three heads of Government reaffirm their opinion that the final delimitation of the western frontier of Poland should await the peace settlement.

The three heads of Government agree that, pending the final determination of Poland's western frontier, the former German territories east of a line running from the Baltic Sea immediately west of Swinemuende, and thence along the Oder River to the confluence of the Western Niesse River and along the Western Niesse to the Czechoslovak frontier, including that portion of East Prussia not placed under the administration of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics in accordance with the understanding reached at this conference and including the area of the former Free City of Danzig, shall be under the administration of the Polish state and for such purposes should not be considered as part of the Soviet zone of occupation in Germany.

IX. CONCLUSION OF PEACE TREATIES AND ADMISSION TO THE UNITED NATIONS ORGANIZATION

The three Governments consider it desirable that the present anomalous position of Italy, Bulgaria, Finland, Hungary and Rumania should be terminated by the conclusion of peace treaties. They trust that the other interested Allied Governments will share these views.

For their part, the three Governments have included the preparation for a peace treaty for Italy as the first among the immediate important tasks to be undertaken by the new Council of Foreign Ministers. Italy was the first of the Axis powers to break with Germany, to whose defeat she has made a material contribution, and has now joined with the Allies in the struggle against Japan. Italy has freed herself from the Fascist regime and is making good progress toward re-establishment of a democratic government and institutions. The conclusion of such a peace treaty with a recognized and democratic Italian Government will make it possible for the three Governments to fulfill their desire to support an application from Italy for membership of the United Nations.

The three Governments have also charged the Council of Foreign Ministers with the task of preparing peace treaties for Bulgaria, Finland, Hungary and Rumania. The conclusion of peace treaties with recognized democratic governments in these states will also enable the three Governments to support applications from them for membership of the United Nations. The three Governments agree to examine each separately in the near future, in the light of the conditions then prevailing, the establishment of diplomatic relations with Finland, Rumania, Bulgaria and Hungary to the extent possible prior to the conclusion of peace treaties with those countries.

The three Governments have no doubt that in view of the changed conditions resulting from the termination of the war in Europe, representatives of the Allied press will enjoy full freedom to report to the world upon developments in Rumania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland.

As regards the admission of other states into the United Nations organization, Article 4 of the Charter of the United Nations declares that:

"1. Membership in the United Nations is open to all other peace-loving states who accept the obligations contained in the present Charter and, in the judgment of the organization, are able and willing to carry out these obligations.

"2. The admission of any such state to membership in the United Nations will be effected by a decision of the General Assembly upon the recommendation of the Security Council."

The three Governments, so far as they are concerned, will support applications for membership from those states which have remained neutral during the war and which fulfill the qualifications set out above.

The three Governments feel bound, however, to make it clear that they, for their part, would not favor any application for membership put forward by the present Spanish Government, which, having been founded with the support of the Axis powers, does not, in view of its origins, its nature, its record and its close association with the aggressor states, possess the qualifications necessary to justify such membership.

X. TERRITORIAL TRUSTEESHIP

The conference examined a proposal by the Soviet Government on the question of trusteeship territories as defined in the decision of the Crimea Conference and in the Charter of the United Nations organization.

After an exchange of views on this question, it was decided that the disposition of any former Italian colonial territories was one to be decided in connection with the preparation of a peace treaty for Italy and that the question of Italian colonial territory would be considered by the September Council of Ministers of Foreign Affairs.

XI. REVISED ALLIED CONTROL COMMISSION PROCEDURE IN RUMANIA, BULGARIA AND HUNGARY

The three Governments took note that the Soviet representatives on the Allied Control Commissions in Rumania, Bulgaria and Hungary have communicated to their United Kingdom and United States colleagues proposals for improving the work of the Control Commissions, now that hostilities in Europe have ceased.

The three Governments agreed that the revision of the procedures of the Allied Control Commissions in these countries would now be undertaken, taking into account the interests and responsibilities of the three Governments which together presented the terms of armistice to the respective countries, and accepting as a basis, in respect of all three countries, the Soviet Government's proposals for Hungary as annexed hereto. (Annex I).

XII. ORDERLY TRANSFER OF GERMAN POPULATIONS

The three Governments, having considered the question in all its aspects, recognize that the transfer to Germany of German populations, or elements thereof, remaining in Poland, Czechoslovakia and Hungary will have to be undertaken. They agree that any transfers that take place should be effected in an orderly and humane manner.

Since the influx of a large number of Germans into Germany would increase the burden already resting on the occupying authorities, they consider that the Control Council in Germany should in the first instance examine the problem, with special regard to the question of the equitable distribution of these Germans among the several zones of occupation. They are accordingly instructing their respective representatives on the Control Council to report to their Governments as soon as possible the extent to which such persons have already entered Germany from Poland, Czechoslovakia and Hungary and to submit an estimate of the time and rate at which further transfers could be carried out, having regard to the present situation in Germany.

The Czechoslovak Government, the Polish Provisional Government and the Control Council in Hungary are at the same time being informed of the above and are being requested meanwhile to suspend further expulsions pending an examination by the Governments concerned of the report from their representatives on the Control Council.

XIII. OIL EQUIPMENT IN RUMANIA

The conference agreed to set up two bilateral commissions of experts, one to be composed of United Kingdom and Soviet members, and one to be composed of United States and Soviet members, to investigate the facts and examine the documents, as a basis for the settlement of questions arising from the removal of oil equipment in Rumania. It was further agreed that these experts shall begin their work within ten days, on the spot.

XIV. IRAN

It was agreed that Allied troops should be withdrawn immediately from Teheran and that further stages of the withdrawal of troops from Iran should be considered at the meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers to be held in London in September, 1945.

XV. THE INTERNATIONAL ZONE OF TANGIER

A proposal by the Soviet Government was examined and the following decisions were reached:

Having examined the question of the Zone of Tangier, the three Governments have agreed that this zone, which includes the City of Tangier and the area adjacent to it, in view of its special strategic importance, shall remain international.

The question of Tangier will be discussed in the near future at a meeting in Paris of representatives of the Governments of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, the United States of America, the United Kingdom and France.

XVI. THE BLACK SEA STRAITS

The three Governments recognize that the convention concluded at Montreux should be revised as failing to meet present-day conditions.

It was agreed that as the next step the matter should be the subject of direct conversations be-

Agreements Reached at Yalta Parley

of Big Three Before Germany's Defeat

MAR 5 1947

Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

WASHINGTON, March 24—The text of the agreements reached at the Crimea (Yalta) Conference between President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Generalissimo Stalin, as released by the State Department today, follows:

Protocol of Proceedings of Crimea Conference

The Crimea Conference of the heads of the Governments of the United States of America, the United Kingdom, and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, which took place from Feb. 4 to 11, came to the following conclusions:

I. WORLD ORGANIZATION

It was decided:

1. That a United Nations conference on the proposed world organization should be summoned for Wednesday, 25 April, 1945, and should be held in the United States of America.

2. The nations to be invited to this conference should be:

(a) The United Nations as they existed on 8 Feb., 1945; and

(b) Such of the Associated Nations as have declared war on the common enemy by 1 March, 1945. (For this purpose, by the term "Associated Nations" was meant the eight Associated Nations and Turkey.) When the conference on world organization is held, the delegates of the United Kingdom and United States of America will support a proposal to admit to original membership two Soviet Socialist Republics, i.e., the Ukraine and White Russia.

3. That the United States Government, on behalf of the three powers, should consult the Government of China and the French Provisional Government in regard to decisions taken at the present conference concerning the proposed world organization.

4. That the text of the invitation to be issued to all the nations which would take part in the United Nations conference should be as follows:

"INVITATION

"The Government of the United States of America, on behalf of itself and of the Governments of the United Kingdom, the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and the Republic of China and of the Provisional Government of the French Republic, invite the Government of ———— to send representatives to a conference of the United Nations to be held on 25 April, 1945, or soon thereafter, at San Francisco, in the United States of America, to prepare a charter for a general international organization for the maintenance of international peace and security.

"The above-named Governments suggest that the conference consider as affording a basis for such a Charter the proposals for the establishment of a general international organization which were made public last October as a result of the Dumbarton Oaks conference and which have now been supplemented by the following provisions for Section C of Chapter VI:

C. VOTING

"'1. Each member of the Security Council should have one vote.

"'2. Decisions of the Security Council on procedural matters should be made by an affirmative vote of seven members.

"'3. Decisions of the Security Council on all matters should be made by an affirmative vote of seven members, including the concurring votes of the permanent members; provided that, in decisions under Chapter VIII, Section A and under the second sentence of Paragraph 1 of Chapter VIII, Section C, a party to a dispute should abstain from voting.'

"Further information as to arrangements will be transmitted subsequently.

"In the event that the Government of ———— desires in advance of the conference to present views or comments concerning the proposals, the Government of the United States of America will be pleased to transmit such views and comments to the other participating Governments."

Territorial trusteeship:

It was agreed that the five nations which will have permanent seats on the Security Council should consult each other prior to the United Nations conference on the question of territorial trusteeship.

The acceptance of this recommendation is subject to its being made clear that territorial trusteeship will only apply to (a) existing mandates of the League of Nations; (b) territories detached from the enemy as a result of the present war; (c) any other territory which might voluntarily be placed under trusteeship; and (d) no discussion of actual territories is contemplated at the forthcoming United Nations conference or in the preliminary consultations, and it will be a matter for subsequent agreement which territories within the above categories will be placed under trusteeship.

[The section from this point to the next italicized note was published Feb. 13, 1945.]

II. DECLARATION ON LIBERATED EUROPE

The following declaration has been approved:

The Premier of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, the Prime Minister of the United Kingdom and the President of the United States of America have consulted with each other in the common interests of the peoples of their countries and those of liberated Europe. They jointly declare their mutual agreement to concert during the temporary period of instability in liberated Europe the policies of their three Governments in assisting the peoples liberated from the domination of Nazi Germany and the peoples of the former Axis satellite states of Europe to solve by democratic means their pressing political and economic problems.

The establishment of order in Europe and the rebuilding of national economic life must be achieved by processes which will enable the liberated peoples to destroy the last vestiges of nazism and fascism and to create democratic institutions of their own choice. This is a principle of the Atlantic Charter—the right of all peoples to choose the form of government under which they will live—the restoration of sovereign rights and self-government to those peoples who have been forcibly deprived of them by the aggressor nations.

To foster the conditions in which the liberated peoples may exercise these rights, the three Governments will jointly assist the people in any European liberated state or former Axis satellite state in Europe where, in their judgment, conditions require, (a) to establish conditions of internal peace; (b) to carry out emergency measures for the relief of distressed peoples; (c) to form interim governmental authorities broadly representative of all democratic elements in the population and pledged to the earliest possible establishment through free elections of Governments responsive to the will of the people; and (d) to facilitate where necessary the holding of such elections.

The three Governments will consult the other United Nations and provisional authorities or other Governments in Europe when matters of direct interest to them are under consideration.

When, in the opinion of the three Governments, conditions in any European liberated state or any former Axis satellite state in Europe make such action necessary, they will immediately consult together on the measures necessary to discharge the joint responsibilities set forth in this declaration.

By this declaration we reaffirm our faith in the principles of the Atlantic Charter, our pledge in the Declaration by the United Nations and our determination to build in cooperation with other peace-loving nations world order, under law, dedicated to peace, security, freedom and general well-being of all mankind.

In issuing this declaration, the three powers express the hope that the Provisional Government of the French Republic may be associated with them in the procedure suggested.

III. DISMEMBERMENT OF GERMANY

It was agreed that Article 12 (a) of the Surrender Terms for Germany should be amended to read as follows:

"The United Kingdom, the United States of America and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics shall possess supreme authority with respect to Germany. In the exercise of such authority they will take such steps, including the complete disarmament, demilitarization and dismemberment of Germany as they deem requisite for future peace and security."

The study of the procedure of the dismemberment of Germany was referred to a committee consisting of Mr. [Anthony] Eden [their Foreign Secretary] (chairman), Mr. [John] Winant [of the United States] and Mr. [Fedor T.] Gusev. This body would consider the desirability of associating with it a French representative.

IV. ZONE OF OCCUPATION FOR THE FRENCH AND CONTROL COUNCIL FOR GERMANY

It was agreed that a zone in Germany, to be occupied by the French forces, should be allocated tween each of the three Governments and the Turkish Government.

XVII. INTERNATIONAL INLAND WATERWAYS

The conference considered a proposal of the United States delegation on this subject and agreed to refer it for consideration to the forthcoming meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers in London.

XVIII. EUROPEAN INLAND TRANSPORT CONFERENCE

The British and United States delegations to the conference informed the Soviet delegation of the desire of the British and United States Governments to reconvene the European Inland Transport Conference and stated that they would welcome assurance that the Soviet Government would participate in the work of the reconvened conference. The Soviet Government agreed that it would participate in this conference.

XIX. DIRECTIVES TO MILITARY COMMANDERS ON ALLIED CONTROL COUNCIL FOR GERMANY

The three Governments agreed that each would send a directive to its representative on the Control Council for Germany informing him of all decisions of the conference affecting matters within the scope of his duties.

XX. USE OF ALLIED PROPERTY FOR SATELLITE REPARATIONS OR "WAR TROPHIES"

The proposal (Annex II) presented by the United States delegation was accepted in principle by the conference, but the drafting of an agreement on the matter was left to be worked out through diplomatic channels.

[The section from this point to the next italicized note was published on Aug. 3, 1945.]

XXI. MILITARY TALKS

During the conference there were meetings between the Chiefs of Staff of the three Governments on military matters of common interest.

[Here ends the previously published section of the agreements.]

ANNEX I

Text of a letter transmitted on July 12 to the representatives of the United States and United Kingdom Governments on the Allied Control Commission in Hungary.

"In view of the changed situation in connection with the termination of the war against Germany, the Soviet Government finds it necessary to establish the following order of work for the Allied Control Commission in Hungary.

"1. During the period up to the conclusion of peace with Hungary the president (or vice president) of the ACC will regularly call conferences with the British and American representatives for the purpose of discussing the most important questions relating to the work of the ACC. The conferences will be called once in ten days, or more frequently in case of need.

"Directives of the ACC on questions of principle will be issued to the Hungarian authorities by the president of the Allied Control Commission after agreement on these directives with the English and American representatives.

"2. The British and American representatives in the ACC will take part in general conferences of heads of divisions and delegates of the ACC, convoked by the president of the ACC, which meetings will be regular in nature. The British and American representatives will also participate personally or through their representatives in appropriate instances in mixed commissions created by the president of the ACC for questions connected with the execution by the ACC of its functions.

"3. Free movement by the American and British representatives in the country will be permitted, provided that the ACC is previously informed of the time and route of the journeys.

"4. All questions connected with permission for the entrance and exit of members of the staff of the British and American representatives in Hungary will be decided on the spot by the president of the ACC within a time limit of not more than one week.

"5. The bringing in and sending out by plane of mail, cargoes and diplomatic couriers will be carried out by the British and American representatives on the ACC under arrangements and within time limits established by the ACC, or in special cases by previous coordination with the president of the ACC.

"I consider it necessary to add to the above that in all other points the existing statutes regarding the ACC in Hungary, which was confirmed on Jan. 20, 1945, shall remain in force in the future."

ANNEX II

Use of Allied property for satellite reparations or "war trophies."

1. The burden of reparation and "war trophies" should not fall on Allied nationals.

2. Capital equipment. We object to the removal of such Allied property as reparations, "war trophies" or under any other guise. Loss would accrue to Allied nationals as a result of destruction of plants and the consequent loss of markets and trading connections. Seizure of Allied property makes impossible the fulfillment by the satellite of its obligation under the armistice to restore intact the rights and interests of the Allied nations and their nationals.

The United States looks to the other occupying powers for the return of any equipment already removed and the cessation of removals. Where such equipment will not or cannot be returned, the United States will demand of the satellite adequate, effective and prompt compensation to American nationals and that such compensation have priority equal to that of the reparations payment.

These principles apply to all property wholly or substantially owned by Allied nationals. In the event of removals of property in which the American as well as the entire Allied interest is less than substantial, the United States expects adequate, effective and prompt compensation.

3. Current production. While the United States does not oppose reparation out of current production of Allied investments, the satellite must provide immediate and adequate compensation to the Allied nationals including sufficient foreign exchange or products so that they can recover reasonable foreign currency expenditures and transfer a reasonable return on their investment. Such compensation must also have equal priority with reparations.

We deem it essential that the satellites not conclude treaties, agreements or arrangements which deny to Allied nationals access, on equal terms, to their trade, raw materials and industry; and appropriately modify any existing arrangements which may have that effect.

to France. This zone would be formed out of the British and American zones and its extent would be settled by the British and Americans in consultation with the French Provisional Government.

It was also agreed that the French Provisional Government should be invited to become a member of the Allied Control Council for Germany.

V. REPARATION

The following protocol has been approved:

PROTOCOL

ON THE TALKS BETWEEN THE HEADS OF THREE GOVERNMENTS AT THE CRIMEAN CONFERENCE ON THE QUESTION OF THE GERMAN REPARATIONS IN KIND

1. Germany must pay in kind for the losses caused by her to the Allied nations in the course of the war. Reparations are to be received in the first instance by those countries which have borne the main burden of the war, have suffered the heaviest losses and have organized victory over the enemy.

2. Reparations in kind is to be exacted from Germany in three following forms:

(a) Removals within two years from the surrender of Germany or the cessation of organized resistance from the national wealth of Germany located on the territory of Germany herself as well as outside her territory (equipment, machine tools, ships, rolling stock, German investments abroad, shares of industrial, transport and other enterprises in Germany, etc.), these removals to be carried out chiefly for purpose of destroying the war potential of Germany.

(b) Annual deliveries of goods from current production for a period to be fixed.

(c) Use of German labor.

3. For the working out on the above principles of a detailed plan for exaction of reparation from Germany an Allied reparation commission will be set up in Moscow. It will consist of three representatives—one from the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, one from the United Kingdom and one from the United States of America.

4. With regard to the fixing of the total sum of the reparation as well as the distribution of it among the countries which suffered from the German aggression, the Soviet and American delegations agreed as follows:

"The Moscow reparation commission should take in its initial studies as a basis for discussion the suggestion of the Soviet Government that the total sum of the reparation in accordance with the points (a) and (b) of the Paragraph 2 should be 20 billion dollars and that 50 per cent of it should go to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics."

The British delegation was of the opinion that, pending consideration of the reparation question by the Moscow reparation commission, no figures of reparation should be mentioned.

The above Soviet-American proposal has been passed to the Moscow reparation commission as one of the proposals to be considered by the commission.

VI. MAJOR WAR CRIMINALS

The conference agreed that the question of the major war criminals should be the subject of inquiry by the three Foreign Secretaries for report in due course after the close of the conference.

[The section from this point to the next italicized note was published Feb. 13, 1945.]

VII. POLAND

The following declaration on Poland was agreed by the conference:

"A new situation has been created in Poland as a result of her complete liberation by the Red Army. This calls for the establishment of a Polish Provisional Government which can be more broadly based than was possible before the recent liberation of the western part of Poland. The Provisional Government which is now functioning in Poland should therefore be reorganized on a broader democratic basis with the inclusion of democratic leaders from Poland itself and from Poles abroad. This new Government should then be called the Polish Provisional Government of National Unity.

"M. Molotov, Mr. Harriman and Sir A. Clark Kerr are authorized as a commission to consult in the first instance in Moscow with members of the present Provisional Government and with other Polish democratic leaders from within Poland and from abroad, with a view to the reorganization of the present Government along the above lines. This Polish Provisional Government of National Unity shall be pledged to the holding of free and unfettered elections as soon as possible on the basis of universal suffrage and secret ballot. In these elections all democratic and anti-Nazi parties shall have the right to take part and to put forward candidates.

"When a Polish Provisional Government of National Unity has been properly formed in conformity with the above, the Government of the U.S.S.R., which now maintains diplomatic relations with the present Provisional Government of Poland, and the Government of the United Kingdom and the Government of the United States of America will establish diplomatic relations with the new Polish Provisional Government of National Unity, and will exchange Ambassadors by whose reports the respective Governments will be kept informed about the situation in Poland.

"The three heads of Government consider that the eastern frontier of Poland should follow the Curzon Line with digressions from it in some regions of five to eight kilometers in favor of Poland. They recognize that Poland must receive substantial accessions of territory in the north and west. They feel that the opinion of the new Polish Provisional Government of National Unity should be sought in due course of the extent of these accessions and that the final delimitation of the western frontier of Poland should thereafter await the peace conference."

VIII. YUGOSLAVIA

It was agreed to recommend to Marshal Tito and to Dr. [Ivan] Subasitch:

(a) That the Tito-Subasitch agreement should immediately be put into effect and a new Government formed on the basis of the agreement.

(b) That as soon as the new Government has been formed it should declare:

(I) That the Anti-Fascist Assembly of the National Liberation (AVNOJ) will be extended to include members of the last Yugoslav Skupstina who have not compromised themselves by collaboration with the enemy, thus forming a body to be known as a temporary Parliament and

(II) That legislative acts passed by the Anti-Fascist Assembly of National Liberation (AVNOJ) will be subject to subsequent ratification by a Constituent Assembly; and that this statement should be published in the communiqué of the conference.

IX. ITALO-YUGOSLAV FRONTIER—ITALO-AUSTRIAN FRONTIER

Notes on these subjects were put in by the British delegation, and the American and Soviet delegations agreed to consider them and give their views later.

X. YUGOSLAV-BULGARIAN RELATIONS

There was an exchange of views between the Foreign Secretaries on the question of the desirability of a Yugoslav-Bulgarian pact of alliance. The question at issue was whether a state still under an armistice regime could be allowed to enter into a treaty with another state. Mr. Eden suggested that the Bulgarian and Yugoslav Governments should be informed that this could not be approved. Mr. Stettinius suggested that the British and American Ambassadors should discuss the matter further with Mr. Molotov in Moscow. Mr. Molotov agreed with the proposal of Mr. Stettinius.

XI. SOUTHEASTERN EUROPE

The British delegation put in notes for the consideration of their colleagues on the following subjects:

(a) The Control Commission in Bulgaria.

(b) Greek claims upon Bulgaria, more particularly with reference to reparations.

(c) Oil equipment in Rumania.

XII. IRAN

Mr. Eden, Mr. Stettinius and Mr. Molotov exchanged views on the situation in Iran. It was agreed that this matter should be pursued through the diplomatic channel.

[The section from this point to the next italicized note was published Feb. 13, 1945.]

XIII. MEETINGS OF THE THREE FOREIGN SECRETARIES

The conference agreed that permanent machinery should be set up for consultation between the three Foreign Secretaries; they should meet as often as necessary, probably about every three or four months.

These meetings will be held in rotation in the three capitals, the first meeting being held in London.

XIV. THE MONTREUX CONVENTION AND THE STRAITS

It was agreed that at the next meeting of the three Foreign Secretaries to be held in London, they should consider proposals which it was understood the Soviet Government would put forward in relation to the Montreux Convention, and report to their Governments. The Turkish Government should be informed at the appropriate moment.

The foregoing protocol was approved and signed by the three Foreign Secretaries at the Crimean Conference Feb. 11, 1945.

AGREEMENT REGARDING JAPAN

The leaders of the three great powers—the Soviet Union, the United States of America and Great Britain—have agreed that in two or three months after Germany has surrendered and the war in Europe has terminated, the Soviet Union shall enter into the war against Japan on the side of the Allies on condition that:

1. The status quo in Outer Mongolia (the Mongolian People's Republic) shall be preserved;

2. The former rights of Russia violated by the treacherous attack of Japan in 1904 shall be restored, viz.:

(a) The southern part of Sakhalin as well as the islands adjacent to it shall be returned to the Soviet Union;

(b) The commercial port of Dairen shall be internationalized, the pre-eminent interests of the Soviet Union in this port being safeguarded, and the lease of Port Arthur as a naval base of the U.S.S.R. restored;

(c) The Chinese-Eastern Railroad and the South Manchurian Railroad, which provide an outlet to Dairen, shall be jointly operated by the establishment of a joint Soviet-Chinese company, it being understood that the pre-eminent interests of the Soviet Union shall be safeguarded and that China shall retain full sovereignty in Manchuria;

3. The Kurile Islands shall be handed over to the Soviet Union.

It is understood that the agreement concerning Outer Mongolia and the ports and railroads referred to above will require concurrence of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. The President will take measures in order to obtain this concurrence on advice from Marshal Stalin.

The heads of the three great powers have agreed that these claims of the Soviet Union shall be unquestionably fulfilled after Japan has been defeated.

For its part, the Soviet Union expresses its readiness to conclude with the National Government of China a pact of friendship and alliance between the U.S.S.R. and China in order to render assistance to China with its armed forces for the purpose of liberating China from the Japanese yoke.

The Teheran Declarations

Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

WASHINGTON, March 24—The text of the military and other conclusions reached at the Teheran conference, as announced today by the State Department:

The conference:

(1) Agreed that the partisans in Yugoslavia should be supported by supplies and equipment to the greatest possible extent, and also by Commando operations;

(2) Agreed that, from the military point of view, it was most desirable that Turkey should come into the war on the side of the Allies before the end of the year;

(3) Took note of Marshal Stalin's statement that if Turkey found herself at war with Germany, and as a result Bulgaria declared war on Turkey or attacked her, the Soviet would immediately be at war with Bulgaria. The conference further took note that this fact could be explicitly stated in the forthcoming negotiations to bring Turkey into the war;

(4) Took note that Operation Overlord [the landings in Normandy] would be launched during May, 1944, in conjunction with an operation against southern France. The latter operation would be undertaken in as great a strength as availability of landing craft permitted. The conference further took note of Marshal Stalin's statement that the Soviet forces would launch an offensive at about the same time with the object of preventing the German forces from transferring from the eastern to the western front;

(5) Agreed that the military staffs of the three powers should henceforward keep in close touch with each other in regard to the impending operations in Europe. In particular it was agreed that a cover plan to mystify and mislead the enemy as regards these operations should be concerted between the staffs concerned.

Declaration of the Three Powers Regarding Iran

[This declaration was published Dec. 7, 1943.]

The President of the United States, the Premier of the U.S.S.R. and the Prime Minister of the United Kingdom, having consulted with each other and with the Prime Minister of Iran, desire to declare the mutual agreement of their three Governments regarding their relations with Iran.

The Governments of the United States, the U.S.S.R. and the United Kingdom recognize the assistance which Iran has given in the prosecution of the war against the common enemy, particularly by facilitating the transportation of supplies from overseas to the Soviet Union.

The three Governments realize that the war has caused special economic difficulties for Iran, and they are agreed that they will continue to make available to the Government of Iran such economic assistance as may be possible, having regard to the heavy demands made upon them by their worldwide military operations and to the worldwide shortage of transport, raw materials and supplies for civilian consumption.

With respect to the post-war period, the Governments of the United States, the U.S.S.R. and the United Kingdom are in accord with the Government of Iran that any economic problems confronting Iran at the close of hostilities should receive full consideration, along with those of other members of the United Nations, by conferences or international agencies held or created to deal with international economic matters.

The Governments of the United States, the U.S.S.R. and the United Kingdom are at one with the Government of Iran in their desire for the maintenance of the independence, sovereignty and territorial integrity of Iran. They count upon the participation of Iran, together with all other peace-loving nations, in the establishment of international peace, security and prosperity after the war, in accordance with the principles of the Atlantic Charter, to which all four Governments have subscribed.

TRUMAN SEEKS EXTENSION OF WAR POWERS

MAR 5 1947

Holds Special Conference At White House With Top Congressmen

Washington, March 24 (AP)—President Truman appealed to a conference of congressional leaders tonight for an extension of war-power authority to control sugar, rice and other grains and certain strategic materials.

In an unusual night meeting with the congressional "Bix Six," the President did not even touch on the international situation, conferees said afterward.

Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.), presiding officer of the Senate, was asked if United States aid to Greece and Turkey came up during the conference.

Discussions Limited

"Not once," he replied. "I can say that honestly."

Vandenberg and Senator Barkley (D., Ky.), the Senate minority leader, said the discussions were devoted entirely to an extension of authority under the War Powers Act.

The President, Barkley said, expressed the need for continued controls over materials such as tin, antimony, sugar, rice, hemp fibers and certain medicines, including the new drug streptomycim.

While Barkley said there was general agreement on the need for exploration for methods of controling at least some of these items, the question as to how to proceed was left up to Congress.

NIGHT

General Omnibus Bills

Barkley explained the question discussed was whether to have a general bill calling for the extension or to handle the various items by separate measures.

House Majority Leader Halleck said the President had suggested that the items be handled separately, but he did not make clear whether this suggestion was made tonight.

The question of rent controls did not come up.

Prior to the conference, there had been suggestions that the President might want to enter into further discussion on his proposed $400,000,000 aid to Greece and Turkey to bulwark those nations against the spread of communism.

Others At Conference

However, after the 30-minute session in the President's study, Vandenberg, who also is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the talk was confined entirely to the Second War Powers Act. Authority to control some articles under that act expires March 30.

Besides Vandenberg, Barkley and Halleck, the conferees included Senator White (Maine), Republican leader in the Senate; Speaker Martin (R., Mass.) of the House, and Representative Rayburn (Texas), House Democratic leader.

All conferees emphasized that there was no undue emphasis to be placed on the night meeting.

"Very Profitable One"

Subsequently, John R. Steelman, assistant to the President, described the meeting as a "very profitable one" and agreed with the conferees that discussion was confined to the one topic.

Steelman said the President told the conferees what he hoped to see done in the way of extended authority, repeating requests made in a message to Congress January 31.

In his message of that date the President had said that, while it had been possible to dispense with many controls that were essential during the war, "effective completion of reconversion" would require the continued use of some War Act powers beyond their scheduled expiration.

MAR 5 1947

Congressmen Back Hoover Reich Plan

Washington, March 24 (AP)—Herbert Hoover found strong Republican and Democratic support in Congress today for his proposal to revive German industrial production minus its military potential.

Senators of both parties labeled as "fundamentally sound" the former President's suggestion to (a) free German industry of foreign ownership and operate it at home, subject to a control commission; (b) halt the removal and destruction of all except arms plants and (c) retain the highly industrialized Ruhr and Rhinelands within Germany.

DAY

Hoover declared in his third report to President Truman on his economic mission to Germany and Austria that production is "the only path to recovery in Europe." He called this "the first necessity to peace."

"Fundamentally Sound"

Senator Lucas, of Illinois, the Democratic whip, said "the Hoover approach to a very difficult problem seems to me to be fundamentally sound.

Senator McCarthy (R., Wis.), a World War II veteran, said he thinks Hoover hit the nail on the head.

Senator Chavez (D., N.M.) said he favored the points set out by Hoover. And Senator Ellender (D., la.) declared that France "should not seriously protest because her only objection is based on the theory that if Germany grows too strong another war may be in the offing."

Reds May Have More Planes Than U.S.

MAR 5 1947

Washington, March 24 (AP)—Russia may have more military planes operating today than the United States.

On the basis of official and unofficial records available here, the relative position of the two powers appears to be as follows:

RUSSIA—About 16,000 planes of all types in use, the majority of which are fighter types.

UNITED STATES — About 13,000 operational aircraft, of which a little more than 5,000 are Army Air Force and about 8,000 navy or marine planes, carrier and landbased.

[Russia's naval strength is believed to be of so minor a nature that her naval aviation is of unimportant size.]

DAY

Reserve Not Included

These figures do not embrace reserve aircraft of which America possesses a number approximating her operational force, although these are in widely varying states of readiness. The size of Russia's reserve is not known.

A comparison of production potentialities is difficult, mainly because Russian objectives or present capabilities are not known. Air strategists note, however, that Russia has turned away from the idea of building up a strong naval fleet except for submarines. This could mean that material and manpower otherwise used for shipbuilding could be diverted to aircraft production.

LILIENTHAL FIGHT OPENS IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(AP) David E. Lilienthal's nomination as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission encountered outspoken objections today as soon as Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) called it up for action in the Senate.

Senator Bridges (R-NH) jumped in first with a declaration that Lilienthal is "neither a great businessman nor a good scientist" and quickly picked up support from Senator Wherry (R-Neb), the Republican whip; Senator Overton (D-La), Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) and Senator McKellar (D-Tenn).

Backed by McMahon

Hickenlooper voted for Lilienthal's confirmation in the Atomic Energy Committee which he heads and is manager of the confirmation drive on the floor. In the opening hour of debate late today he got assistance from Senators McMahon (D-Conn), Morse (R-Ore), Hatch (D-NM) and Democratic leader Barkley.

Although the debate may stretch out several days, there appears to be little doubt that the Senate eventually will confirm Lilienthal and five other nominees to Atomic Energy Commission posts. Forty-nine senators—a clear majority—already have told the Associated Press they plan to vote for Lilienthal.

NIGHT

Hickenlooper told the Senate in his opening statement that evidence taken in five weeks of hearings had failed to disclose that Lilienthal is either a Communist or a fellow-traveler. On the contrary, the senator said, Lilienthal is a man of high intelligence and great administrative ability, as demonstrated by his years of service on the board of directors of the Tennessee Valley Authority. The nominee has served since 1941 as TVA chairman.

Lilienthal's nomination emerged from that committee bearing an 8 to 1 vote of approval. Only Senator Bricker voted against him.

Assailed by Bridges

Amplifying on his prepared statement, Hickenlooper said he was not sure in his own mind just what kind of man was needed as chairman of an organization pioneering in such problems as atomic energy.

"I have come to the conclusion," he said, "that we probably need more intelligent business administration than meticulous scientific direction."

It was then that Bridges broke in to declare that the nominee is "neither a great businessman nor a good scientist."

"He can probably spend the taxpayers' money faster than any other man, without accounting to Congress for it," the New Englander added.

Senator Wherry noted that Lilienthal himself had disclaimed any scientific or engineering attainments, and the senator questioned his business ability.

"Do you mean that by spending $626,000,000 (in the TVA) and getting $17,000,000 back he made an outstanding business success?" He asked.

Senator Aiken (R-Vt) declared that TVA had turned back considerable money, which had been plowed back into the project. Senator Morse said that $600,000,000 would be a small amount of the benefits received from TVA.

McMahon told Wherry that until the Atomic Energy Commission was organized, TVA was the government's largest business enterprise, and Lilienthal made "an outstanding success" operating it.

Enough Here to Form 10 Military Divisions, House Group Is Told

MAR 5 1947

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(AP) The House Committee on Unamerican Activities heard testimony today that there are enough Communists in the United States to form the framework of ten military divisions and that their aim is to soften this country "for the ultimate assault the Soviet government intends to make."

The estimate of Communist party strength and organization came from James F. Green of Omaha, chairman of the American Legion's Americanism Commission. Saying there are at least 100,000 Communists in this country, he added:

Enough For 10 Divisions

"Here are cadres for ten divisions already on American soil."

William C. Bullitt, former Ambassador to Moscow, made the assessment of aims, coupling it with the assertion that if Russia had the atom bomb "it would already have been dropped on the United States."

Russia, Bullitt said, "will not choose to attack until it has manufactured atomic bombs in quantity and until it feels that it has an air force stronger than the United States."

NIGHT

That gives us a certain time "in which we can say stop to Stalin and mean it, and he will stop," Bullitt said. But Stalin will not stop of his own accords, Bullitt added, any more than Hitler did.

He recommended "emphatically" that America keep an ample supply of atomic bombs on hand.

Legion spokesmen endorsed the measures pending before the Un-American Activities Committee, one to make membership in the Communist party illegal and another to make it unlawful for Communists to run for federal or state office, or for anyone to teach Communism or mail Communist propaganda. They expressed belief the laws would work and wanted to go farther.

Bullitt, however, expressed doubt that Americans are "sufficiently aware of the danger to them in the existence of the party and the determination of the Soviet Union to conquer us." Thus, he felt uncertain whether the public would support the heavy penalties proposed.

Bullitt Offers Curbs

As a substitute he suggested bigger FBI appropriations so that Communists could be tabbed and seized "when the crisis comes" as easily as were members of the German-American Bund. He also recommended these other laws:

A requirement that the Communists list all dues-paying members.

A legal assumption of fraud when a Communist applies for citizenship.

Bullitt and Green agreed that the loyalty of Communists is to the Soviet Union—not to America.

The witnesses were called by the committee after it had voted unanimously to cite Leon Josephson, New York lawyer, for contempt for refusal to testify before a subcommittee in New York.

Josephson, described in committee testimony Friday as a member of the Russian secret police and a figure in a passport fraud ring, had declined earlier to testify when the subcommittee tried to question him about passports.

In an interview in Dayton, Ohio, Saturday, he said he once signed a passport as identifying witness for Gerhard Eisler, described by the Unamerican Activities Committee as the "supreme" Communist authority in America. But he said testimony before the group was an attempt to "smear" him and part of a movement to "create a Communist scare."

Faces Contempt Action

The contempt citation now goes to the House and; if it approves, to a United States district attorney for presentation to a grand jury. Conviction could bring a penalty of a year in jail and a fine of $1,000.

Green, first witness after the Josephson affair was disposed of, told the committee that to American Communists, this country is but a theater of operations, with the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics their motherland.

"The allegiance of Communists in America is to a country other than America," he said.

"We are determined that these traitors shall not use the protection of our flag to launch an attack on us."

James F. O'Neil, vice chairman of the Legion Americanism Commission, urged that the Communist party be wiped out as a "subversive international conspiracy masking as a democratic political party."

He agreed with Rep. Nixon (R-

Josephson Cited For Contempt Of House

MAR 5 1947

Washington, March 24 (AP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee today unanimously cited Leon Josephson, of New York, for contempt. He has refused to testify before a subcommittee.

Josephson was described in testimony to the committee Friday as a member of the Russian secret police and a figure in a passport-forging ring in America.

The subcommittee, which held hearings in New York, sought to question him about false passports.

Goes To Entire House

The contempt citation will be sent to the House. If it approves, the citation then will be turned over to a United States attorney to present to a grand jury. Conviction of contempt of the House is punishable by up to $1,000 fine and a year in jail.

Josephson said in an interview in Dayton, Ohio, Saturday that he once signed a passport as an identifying witness for Gerhart Eisler, Calif) that in attempting to meet the issue of Communism head-on, "the greatest care and judgment" must be exercised to avoid hitting "liberals." But he told the committee:

"This is the time for the knockout blow and to expel Communists from the nation's scene as a danger to our security."

He said the Legion knows Communists have been ordered to invade it.

"But we can report the invasion is being repelled," he said.

Enlarging on some of the Legion's legislative purposes, O'Neil said a Legion telegraphic poll shows many states have acted on their own to bar Communists from the ballots.

Regarding registration of aliens, he said "there are thousands of aliens in this country whose movements we know nothing about."

Rep. Bonner (D-NC) asked O'Neil how many active, full time Communist workers are operating in America.

The witness said that on the basis of Legion records he would estimate 10,000.

The committee has called Eisler the "supreme" Communist authority in the United States.

But Josephson said the testimony regarding him before the committee was an attempt to "smear" him. He said it was part of a "movement to create a Communist scare in this country."

Party-Ban Hearing Opens

The committee acted against Josephson as it opened general hearings on the question of legislative action against Communists. One proposal is to outlaw the Red party.

American Legion officials were the first witness and asked that Congress ban the Communist party as a danger to democratic America.

James F. Green, of Omaha, chairman of the Americanism Commission of the veterans' organization, called the party "the willing instruments of a foreign power bent upon the destruction of American democratic government by violent uprising."

100,000 In U.S., He Says

Saying there are at least 100,000 Communists in the country, exclusive of sympathizers and fellow travelers, Green declared:

"Here are cadre for ten foreign divisions already on American soil. To them this country is but a theater of operations, with the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics their mother. The allegiance of Communists in America is to a country other than America."

James F. O'Neil, of Machester, N.H., vice chairman of the Americanism Commission, praised President Truman's order to oust disloyal employés of the Government.

But in addition, he asked the committee to push legislation to:

1. Outlaw the Communist party.
2. Ban the use of the mails to Communist publications.
3. Provide universal finger printing and identification.
4. Continue the registration of all aliens and check their movements.
5. Discontinue Federal aid to institutions of learning which refuse to purge their faculties of Communists and "fellow travelers."
6. Deport all aliens advocating the overthrow of the Government by force and violence.
7. Deny admission to the United States of all nationals from any country refusing to accept those ordered deported.

"Not Political Party"

In the opinion of the Legion, O'Neil said, the Communist party is not a political party, but is an agency under foreign influence "set up for the purpose of destroying our democratic form of government."

Involved are broad questions of policy — the American policy of political freedom, the policy toward Russia and a policy to estabilsh the the best method of rooting out communism at home. Chairman Thomas (R., N.J.) said hearings will continue as long as necessary to permit a fair and sound conclusion.

Opinions Differ On Approach

Already a difference of opinion is apparent in Congress over the most effective way to combat communism.

Some members say: "Outlaw the party"—as recommended by Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach. Others say that step would only drive the party into hiding and that communism can be fought more easily if it operates at least partly in the open.

But there is general agreement that something should be done.

Oven the week end, President Truman ordered a purge of disloyal employés from Government departments and agencies. The House Labor Committee is considering proposals to bar Communists from offices in labor unions.

Two Bills Pending

Before the Un-American Activities Committee is a bill to make it unlawful to join the Communist party. Another would make it illegal for a Communist to run for state or Federal office, or for anyone to teach Communism or mail Communist propaganda.

Representative Nixon (R., Cal.), a committee member, said:

"All of us believe in democracy and want to stop Communism. The reason we are having hearings is that we want to find the best way. We, of course, believe a case has been made for the conclusion that Commnuist infiltartion is detrimental to our Government and our way of life, and that it should be curbed if possible."

But there will be disagreements as to the method, Nixon said.

The only Communist scheduled to testify is Eugene Dennis, secretary of the party.

STORY BY STEWART CALLED FANTASTIC

MAR 5 1947

Washington, March 24 (A. P.)—Donald Anderson, special prosecutor, described as "utterly unreasonable" and "fantastic" today the testimony of Douglas M. Stewart, former editor of Scribner's Commentator, in his perjury trial in Federal court here.

Anderson, in closing arguments to the jury, asserted that Stewart's testimony was "concocted to throw you off the main issue."

The perjury charges grew out of Stewart's appearance before a Federal Grand Jury in 1943 in connection with a $15,000 gift. He told the Grand Jury that he found the money on a table in his Lake Geneva, Wis., home and that he did not know where it came from. The Government alleges the money was given him by Heribert van Strempel, then an official of the German embassy, in a New York hotel room in 1941.

Alfons Landa, defense counsel, said the story told by Stewart was not improbable and that every word he told was the truth.

The case probably will reach the jury late today or tomorrow morning.

Sabath Speech Expunged

March 17 'Holy War of Extinction' Charges Stricken From Record

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP).—The House voted 324 to 1 today to strike from its permanent record a March 17 speech in which Representative Adolph J. Sabath, Democrat, of Illinois, declared several House members "seem bent and determined on involving us in an unwarranted holy war of extinction."

Representative Sabath referred in his speech to "daily outbursts on the part of two or three members" but mentioned by name only Representative John E. Rankin, Democrat, of Mississippi.

The rare motion to expunge was made by Representative Clare E. Hoffman, Republican, of Michigan, who contended Representative Sabath's remarks had reflected on the patriotism and loyalty of members and tended to "undermine the confidence of the people." The single negative note was cast by Representative Helen Gahagan Douglas, Democrat, of California. Representative Sabath did not vote.

GERMAN SCIENTIST JOB BAN IS URGED

MAR 5 1947

Washington, March 24 (A. P.).—The Federation of American Scientists urged today that the German scientists brought to this country for work on miltary research projects be denied jobs in private industry or education.

Their return to Germany "as soon as possible" also was suggested in a letter to President Truman fro mW. A. Higinbotham, executive secretary of the federation.

"During this critical postwar period of national and international adjustment, wholesale importation of scientists is not in keeping with the best objectives of American domestic and foreign policy," Higinbotham wrote Mr. Truman, adding:

"Any favor extended to such individuals, even for military reasons, represents an affront to the people of all countries who so recently fought beside us, to the refugees whose lives were shattered by Nazism, to our unfortunate scientific colleagues of formerly occupied lands, and to all of those others who suffered under the yoke these men helped to forge.

"We therefore respectfully urge that the use of Nazi scientists by the armed forces be held to an absolute minimum, that none of them be granted citizenship, that none of them be given employment in industrial or academic installations, and that all of them be sent back to Germany as soon as possible."

Senate Approves U. N. Aide

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—The Senate passed and sent to the House today a measure authorizing reappointment in the foreign service of Herschel V. Johnson, deputy representative on the United Nations Security Council.

CHAUTEMPS FEELS HURT

Says That He Has Been Put in 'Grievously Wrong Position'

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—Camille Chautemps, former Premier of France, said today he had refused to return to France for trial on his wartime activities because he felt he had been placed in a "grievously wrong and unjust position."

M. Chautemps, who fled to the United States shortly after the fall of France in 1940, lives in Chevy Chase, Md.

The former Premier is to be tried in absentia before the French High Court of Justice, starting tomorrow, on charges of sabotaging Free French movements through influence with American officials.

M. Chautemps today released copies of a letter to the president of the court in Paris, declaring that he "strongly censured every outrageous act of the Vichy Government" throughout his wartime residence in Washington.

U. S. Atom Commission Opens Office in Capital

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP).—Dial Executive 1616, and the operator answers "atomic energy!"

That's the telephone number of the Atomic Energy Commission, which opened for business today in its new offices—the gleaming white Public Health Building on Constitution Avenue, opposite the Navy Department.

Security is the watchword. A visitor has to state his name, business and citizenship status to a guard and get a telephone approval from the man he wants to see. The guard gives him a numbered badge and escorts him wherever he goes.

This system was used at the War and Navy Departments and other key agencies during the war but wsa abandoned after V-J Day. The Atomic Energy Commission is now the only one using it.

CUT IN AIR CARRIERS DECLARED UNWISE

MAR 5 1947

Carleton Putnam Makes Plea for Cooperation to Save Lines by Mail Rates

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—Carleton Putnam, president of Chicago and Southern Air Lines, Inc., said today "shotgun weddings" were not the best solution for money-losing air carriers.

Mr. Putnam told the American Public Relations Association in a prepared address that he believed "our problems can be better solved without any forced reductions in the number of carriers."

This, he said, was the financial situation in a nutshell: "Mail-rate support knocked out from under the majority of the carriers because of the special, compensating circumstances of wartime, followed by the return of normal conditions without restoration of that support."

"Yet the situation in certain quarters, both inside and outside Government, seems to be causing gloom and surprise," he stated.

Mr. Putnam said that "it is quite unsound to say, as some do, that the trouble with the industry is that there have been too many new routes granted by the Civil Aeronautics Board since before the war, and that competition is the source of all our troubles."

Air lines, he added, carried 1,000,000,000 passenger miles in 1940 and 6,000,000,000 in 1946.

"We have half again as many route miles, but we have six times as many passenger miles," he said. "In other words, the on-line density of all existing routes today is four times what it was before the war. To say that the board's granting of new routes is the cause of our troubles under such circumstances is simply nonsense."

A country "with 131 Class I railroads can certainly afford sixteen air lines," he added. "This diversified opportunity is the very essence of the American way of life."

Mr. Putnam said that he favored an "attitude of cooperation among the carriers and between the carriers and the Civil Aeronautics Board, within the limits of existing law, in solving this problem."

"What I object to is that slightly sinister suggestion one hears too often lately—the suggestion of the shotgun wedding," he added.

"I think our problems can be solved better if we consider calmly the rights and real wishes of the parties, without any forced reductions in the number of carriers in the pattern, because I believe that if such a policy be followed it will preserve a healthly number of carriers in the end.

"For the time being, it is going to take a return to the plane-mile mail rate to do this in a majority of cases."

SENATE UNIT BACKS RENT CONTROL BILL

MAR 5 1947

Measure Would Shift Power To Housing Expediter

Washington, March 24 (AP)—Senator Buck (R., Del.), chairman of the Senate rent subcommittee, said today that his group has approved a bill transferring rent controls from OPA to the housing expediter.

Frank R. Creedon holds the expediter's post now.

Buck said the subcommittee probably will meet tomorrow to pass on the final form of the measure extending the rent ceilings to next February 29 and giving broad authority to proposed local advisory boards.

The bill then will go to the full Senate Banking Committee.

Could Recommend Decontrol

The new rent administrator would take over the first month after passage of the measure, which could be ahead of June 30 when OPA dies. He would be authorized to appoint the local nonpaid boards with the advice of the various state governors.

The boards could recommend decontrol of whole rent areas or parts of areas, call for an area-wide increase and, in general, supervise individual adjustments. Their recommendations would become effective in 30 days unless countermanded by the Federal administrator.

Creedon, who takes over the housing functions of the Civilian Production Administration on April 1 by executive order, said all construction control will be continued "in full force and effect."

An Economy Move

Enforcement cases inherited from CPA "will be carried through just as though no transfer of functions had occurred," he added in a statement.

Six CPA district construction offices will be merged into other district offices as an economy move, Creedon said.

But approximately 1,200 CPA employes now concerned with construction will be taken over by the expediter's office.

CPA's ten regional construction offices will be abolished and their functions transferred to district offices or to Washington.

Shifts In District Offices

The $50,000,000-a-week limit on construction of commercial and industrial projects will be continued, Creedon said, as well as the permit system governing housing construction and the allocation of a few basic materials such as pig iron, in order to channel materials into the housing program.

The following shifts in district offices were ordered:

The office at Tampa will turn over its functions to Jacksonville, Fla.; Tulsa's functions will be assumed by Oklahoma City; Toledo's by Detroit; Columbus' will be divided between Cleveland and Cincinnati; activities of the Camden (N.J.) office will be divided between Newark and Philadelphia, and Fort Worth's functions will be taken over by Dallas except for eight counties west of the Pecos River, which go to San Antonio.

Senate Tax-Slash Battle Planned By Democrats

MAR 5 1947

Record Surplus

Washington, March 24 (AP)—Continuing heavy returns from 1946 income-tax payments sent the Government's budget surplus to the highest point in history today.

The excess of the income over spending during the current fiscal year was recorded on Treasury books as $2,367,316,000 on March 20. This margin is expected to be reduced considerably in the three months left before the fiscal period ends June 30. Nevertheless, Treasury officials expect to come up to date with the first budget surplus in seventeen years.

Washington, March 24 (AP)—Senate Democrats may try to block any cut in income taxes until Congress can add up the cost of Government operation for the year beginning July 1.

Senator George (Ga.), top Democrat on the Senate Finance Committee, said that if the House stamps its expected okay this week on a measure providing for tax reductions ranging from 20 to 30 per cent the bill would face delaying action in the Senate.

"I don't see how we can act intelligently in cutting taxes until we know whether there is going to be any surplus of Government income over expenses," George said. "All that is in sight now is a fictitious surplus and it's poor business to be giving it away until it becomes actual."

Takes Issue With Martin

He thus took sharp issue with House Speaker Martin (R., Mass.), who announced plans for going "right ahead" with the tax-cutting bill. A vote is set tentatively for Wednesday.

"There is no reason for delay," Martin said. "We know we are going to have enough margin between revenues and expenditures for this tax cut and some debt retirement too."

But George insisted that Congress won't know definitely how much the Government is going to cost next year until it completes passing all of the departmental appropriations bills.

Whether the minority Democrats can attract enough Republican support to bring about such a delay appeared in doubt, however.

Senator Taft (Ohio), chairman of the Republican Policy Committee, has said repeatedly that he favors an over-all cut of 20 per cent.

Compromise Sidetracked

Taft found himself on the opposite side of the fence from Martin last week, however, when a Senate-House Conference Committee tossed overboard a proposed compromise on the pledge to cut President Truman's budget.

Martin was credited with having instructed the House members not to accept any proposal which might not leave room for the $3,800,000,000 tax reduction proposed in the House bill.

Taft and Senator Bridges (R., Ohio) thought they had an agreement with Chairman Taber (R., N.Y.) of the House Appropriations Committee and other GOP representatives for approval of a resolution pledging a $5,250,000,000 cut in the President's $37,500,000,000 budget, a $2,000,000,000 reduction in the national debt and a "substantial" slash in taxes.

MARTIN PREDICTS HOUSE PASSAGE OF INCOME TAX CUT

DAY

WASHINGTON, March 24—(AP) Speaker Martin (R-Mass) predicted overwhelming House approval of the income tax cut after a GOP conference today but Democratic leaders voted unanimously to fight it to the

NIGHT

Martin told reporters that about 200 of the 245 House Republicans attended a meeting in the House chamber behind closed doors and that when those opposed to the bill were asked to stand, not one arose. He claimed virtually unanimous GOP support.

However, Rep. Engel (R-Mich), who has called the GOP-backed measure "a rich man's bill," left the meeting early and said he will carry his fight to the floor when debate begins Wednesday. The vote is due Thursday.

Democrats to Fight Cut

Rep. Rayburn (Tex), the Democratic floor leader, announced that the House Democratic steering committee and other party leaders decided unanimously to support President Truman's position that now is not the time to cut taxes, but that any surplus should be applied on the debt. The Democrats have 188 members.

"This thing should be deferred," Rayburn said, "until such time as we have information on which we can legislate intelligently. It might remove the prospect of a balanced budget.

While the bill appears bound to pass the House, storm signals are ahead in the Senate. Senator George (D-Ga), Democratic chieftain on tax legislation, said today it would face delaying action.

There is also a possibility of a Presidential veto which would be sustained if Democratic lines held tight, preventing the two-thirds vote necessary to override.

Martin Confident

Martin told reporters smilingly, "when the roll is called in the House Thursday I expect a lot of Democrats are going to answer aye."

The bill would slash by 30 percent the taxes of more than 20,000,000 small income persons and give a 20 percent cut to most of the others among the 46,000,000 income taxpayers.

Rep. Knutson (R-Minn), chairman of the Ways and Means Committee and author of the measure, will go before the rules committee tomorrow to recommend procedure by which amnedments would be barred. This is the usual House procedure for tax measures.

Rayburn announced that Rep. Doughton (D-NC), House tax manager when the Democrats controlled Congress, will offer a motion Thursday to put the tax bill aside until Congress has a better idea of what expenditures and revenues will be.

SENATE APPROVES RUBBER CONTROLS TO APRIL, 1948

MAR 5 1947

WASHINGTON, March 24—(AP) The senate today approved legislation continuing controls on use and allocation of rubber through March 31, 1948.

The measure also ends exclusive government purchase of natural rubber at the end of this month.

The bill was passed by unanimous consent on a voice vote and now goes back to the house for concurrence in changes made by the senate.

The purpose of the legislation is to keep wartime rubber emergency controls in effect until a permanent program can be established to maintain a synthetic rubber industry in the United States.

The present program will expire March 31, unless renewed.

The government currently is the only U.S. importer of natural rubber.

The senate wrote into the House bill at the request of the reconstruction Finance Corporation authority for the disposal of a number of synthetic rubber facilities pending pernament legislation to cover the domestic industry.

The amendment would require that in the interim the government retain manufaturing units with a capacity of not less than 600,000 long tons a year.

In a related action, the senate judiciary committee agreed to extend for three months most priorities and allocation powers of the Civilian Production Agency.

EXPORTS TO EUROPE HIGHER IN JANUARY

MAR 5 1947

But Census Bureau Analysis Reports Drop In Shipments to Asiatic Destination

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—Exports to Europe increased $75,000,000 during January over the previous month while those to Asia declined $54,000,000, the Census Bureau reported today.

An over-all rise of $19,000,000 in exports to a total of $1,116,000,000 in January had been announced earlier.

On the import side there were January declines of $13,000,000 and $2,000,000, respectively, in receipts from Europe and Latin America. There were increases of $11,000,000 and $6,000,000 respectively from Asia and Africa.

Over-all imports declined $3,000,000 to a total of $533,000,000.

Country-by-country foreign trade data for the first month of this year included:

Britain—Receipts from this country rose $34,000,000 to a total of $108,000,000, highest since August, 1945. Tobacco, merchant ships and dried eggs were leading commodities in the increase. British shipments to this country increased by $2,700,000 to a total of $16,900,000.

France—Receipts from the United States rose $15,000,000 to a total of $70,000,000. Shipments to the United States declined $2,600,000 to a total of $6,200,000.

Russia—Receipts from United States increased $14,000,000 to a total of $24,000,000. Shipments to the United States dropped $7,000,000 to a total of $16,000,000.

Canada—Receipts from the United States declined $6,500,000 to a total of $146,300,000. Shipments to the United States dropped $10,960,000 to a total of $79,300,000.

W.A.A. Says Surplus Job Is More Than Half Done

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP).—The War Assets Administration, closing its first year of business, reported tonight that its surplus disposal job is more than half completed and predicted "speedy disposal" of the rest of the dismantled war machine.

Disposals to date amount to $16,000,000,000 worth of property (original cost), said an anniversary report by W. A. A. Administrator Robert M. Littlejohn. The agency still has an estimated $13,000,000,000 to go.

Figures were not given for the actual recovery in dollars. Officials explained that leases and installment purchases, free gifts to schools and many other factors complicate the matter of dollar recovery.

"W. A. A. expects to be out of business at the end of next year with residue surplus transferred to an old-line government agency," Mr. Littlejohn's report said.

Retail Food Prices Show Drop For 3d Month, Agency Says

MAR 5 1947

Washington, March 24 (AP)—Retail food prices declined in the month ended February 15 for the third consecutive month, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today.

Housewives in the 56 large cities in which prices are surveyed regularly paid 0.8 per cent less for foods on February 15 than on January 15.

The retail food price index in mid-February was 182.3 per cent of the 1935-1939 average. This was only three per cent below the record high of mid-November, and was 31 per cent above a year ago and 95 per cent above August, 1939.

Increases To Be Reflected

Increases in wholesale food prices between mid-February and early March will be reflected in the retail food price index for March 15, the bureau said.

A drop of six per cent in the price of eggs, four per cent in dairy products and one per cent in meats brought about the general decrease in the family food bill.

Retail eggs continued to decline seasonally. Prices of dairy products dropped in all cities, with decreases of more than four per cent for butter and fresh milk.

Fresh Pork And Veal Rise

Meat prices were forced downward by a drop of five per cent for poultry and fish, two to nine per cent for cured pork products and smaller decreases for beef and lamb. However, fresh pork went up five per cent and veal three per cent.

Fresh fruits and vegetables combined rose two per cent during the month, but the canned products were nearly one per cent lower—the first price decline since last June.

The bureau said that among the 56 cities, retail food prices were lower in 34 cities, higher in 14 and approximately the same in 8. The greatest regional declines occurred in New England cities.

REPORTS RELIEF BALANCE

Red Cross Has 6 Million Left Out of 35 Million for Overseas

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—The American Red Cross completed its overseas relief program with an unobligated balance of $6,115,233 of the $85,000,000 that Congress has provided for this purpose since 1941. The report on the program was sent to Congress today by President Truman.

Included in relief supplies sent abroad were garments, food, soap, materials and equipment for hospital and medical use, ambulances and other automotive equipment.

The distribution was handled by 3,939,412 volunteer workers connected with Red Cross societies in each country and other national and local agencies.

Truman To Speak At 'Jefferson' Dinner

Washington, March 24 (AP)—President Truman today discussed with George Killion, Democratic national treasurer, the arrangements for Truman's address to the $100-a-plate Jefferson Day dinner here April 5.

Killion told reporters the address will be broadcast by all the major networks at 10.30. It will last thirteen to fifteen minutes.

He also said reservations for the dinner had been received from Henry A. Wallace, deposed Commerce Secretary, and Cordell Hull, former Secretary of State.

Unoccupied Bikini For Decades Seen

New York, March 24 (AP)—Bikini lagoon and its twenty islands may have to remain depopulated for decades until the atom bomb radioactivity drops to safe limits.

This prediction was made today by Col. Stafford Warren, who was chief of medical and radiological safety of the Crossroads Operation last Summer.

Warren also said that if the rain that fell from the underwater bomb had dropped on a city, that city might have had to remain deserted of inhabitants for years.

Ship Out Of Baltimore Drifting At Sea

New York, March 24 (AP)—The Italian freighter Orata radioed today that she had suffered rudder damage and was drifting in the North Atlantic, 1,000 miles east of New York and about 400 miles south of Cape Race, Newfoundland.

The Coast Guard said the Foundation Maritime Company, of Halifax, had sent a salvage tug to her assistance. The 8,631-ton vessel with a crew of 44 was bound from Baltimore to Genoa.

Information Service Support Sought

Philadelphia, March 24 (AP)—William Benton, assistant Secretary of State, today urged 1,000 delegates at the opening of the first national conference on UNESCO to lend their support in the continuation of the Office of International Information and Cultural Affairs in the Department of State.

"Our Government is also attempting to carry out the broad aims of UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization) through the program of the Office of International Information" said Benton. "It is the purpose of this office to give to foreign peoples a truthful picture of the United States, its people and their aspirations."

Program Modest

After outlining the functions of the office, the assistant secretary declared the United States conducts only a modest program in these fields compared with some other countries.

"Even this modest program is now in mortal danger and may be legislated out of existence by the present Congress," he said.

"The proposed budget for the Office of International Information and Cultural Affairs is only one fourth of one per cent of the budget for our Army and Navy; and the current budget for UNESCO is, I would estimate, no more than one hundredth of one per cent of the world's military expenditures."

"Like A Pigmy"

He pointed out that "UNESCO is like a pigmy which is trying to make war against giants," drawing attention to the fact that the budget for the entire year is only $6,000,000.

"UNESCO is not a substitute for a foreign policy, or for the Security Council of the United Nations," he declared. "We cannot resolve today's crisis by today's lesson in the schoolroom.

"And yet it is a fatal error to mistake the immediate necessity of foreign policy for its basic long-range aims. We were compelled by Axis aggression to wage a war for freedom. To wage a war was necessary, but it was not our basic aim.

"Our basic aim was then, and is now, to establish a lasting peace based on justice and mutual understanding among free peoples. We must be prepared to spend real money on it."

UNESCO's answers to the problem, he added, is "start learning and teaching now."

U.S. To Outline Policies In Greek, Turkish And Arabic

Philadelphia, March 24 (AP)—Plans for acquainting the Greek, Turkish and Arabic people in their own language of the United States' foreign policy were announced today by William Benton, Assistant Secretary of State for Public Affairs.

At a press conference, held after urging delegates to the first national conference on UNESCO (United Nations Education, Scientific and Cultural Organization) to support the State Department's bill to expand its cultural exchange program, Benton said definite plans were under way to acquaint these nations with a true picture of this country's foreign policy, as set forth in President Truman's recent speech.

Misrepresentation Charged

The Secretary specially charged the Soviet radio with misrepresenting the facts to the Greeks and Turks.

The full text of the President's speech and comprehensive summaries of the test were broadcast by the voice of the U.S.A. in the 25 major languages of the world, but not in Greek, Turkish or Arabic, the Secretary said.

In Greece, he pointed out, the only version was in English, relayed through Algiers. Under the new setup the broadcast will be via Munich.

Halted By Retrenchment

During the war the United States made broadcasts to both Greece and Turkey in their own languages, but after cessation of hostilities they were eliminated in a general retrenchment program.

"Events in the Middle East since the war have made clear how important it is for the United States to proclaim and explain its new foreign policy to those people in their own languages," Benton said.

He said he wouldn't venture a guess on how long it would take to set up the service, pointing out that more than 400 people were interviewed to get five men for the Russian broadcasts.

PHILADELPHIA, March 24 (AP)—The heavy cruiser Macon sailed from the Philadelphia Naval Base today with more than 700 naval reserves for a two-week training cruise.

The 13,000-ton warship, commissioned here soon after the surrender of Japan, also carried its normal Navy crew on her way to San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The reserves will get shipboard training and will receive shore leave in Puerto Rico before returning here April 5.

EX-FEDERAL JUDGE IS ACQUITTED IN CONSPIRACY CASE

MAR 5 1947

HARRISBURG, PA., March 24 (AP)—A federal jury today acquitted former U. S. District Judge Albert W. Johnson of conspiracy to defraud the government in proceedings of the court over which he presided.

The three men and nine women also exonerated one of Johnson's sons—Capt. Albert W. Jr.,—of the same charges but convicted two other sons—Donald M. and Miller A.—and co-defendants John Memolo and Jacob Greens.

Maximum Punishment

Maximum punishment of two years imprisonment and $10,000 fines immediately was assessed all those convicted by presiding Judge James Alger Fee of Oregon. Defense attorneys filed notice of appeal.

The six were tried together on indictments charging corruption in 11 cases of receiverships, bankruptcies and criminal cases before Johnson during his more than 20 years in the middle Pennsylvania district court where he was tried.

Well wishers crowded the 74-year-old former jurist after his exoneration and his wife, tears streaming down her face, kissed him. Johnson said in a statement:

"This is the first opportunity that my cause came before an impartial court and jury. The verdict establishes my innocence. I have suffered untold heartaches because of a vicious political persecution to get my seat on the bench."

The four convicted immediately were placed in custody and removed to jail, Judge Fee refusing their release with the assertion "the trial judge thinks it is his obligation to deny bail and part of his public obligation to see that sentence is promptly imposed and served."

Separate Verdicts

There was no explanation on the jury findings brought in 44 hours after the case was submitted. Judge Fee had directed that separate verdicts be returned as to each defendant. Defense Counsel Charles J. Margiotti declared in his opinion the verdict against the two Johnsons "was not justified by the evidence and the law."

The 29-page indictment was returned while Johnson's official conduct was under investigation by the house Judiciary Committee in 1945 when he resigned.

The government produced 30 witnesses at the 22-day trial. Some testifying that they never knew of any illegal agreement that included the former judge.

The Johnson sons, all of them attorneys, were accused of conspiring with their father, Greenes and Memolo to accept gifts of money from persons involved in litigation.

Donald Johnson, the only defendant to testify, denied he ever approached his father in an effort to influence court action or that he had "anything to do with appointment of trustees, receivers or counsel in cases handled by my father's court."

Navy Task Group 98 Ends Pacific Cruise

San Diego, Cal., March 24 (AP)—The U.S.S. Iowa dropped anchor off Coronado today after "surviving" a bombing and strafing attack from swarms of Navy and Marine planes in the final act of maneuvers which took the superbattleship to the Central Pacific and back as flagship of Task Force 98.

Navy and Marine scouting planes from here and El Toro sighted the returning task force yesterday before the carrier Boxer and escorts headed for San Francisco and the cruisers Astoria, Springfield and Pasadena broke away for Long Beach.

The Iowa, with the force commander—Vice Admiral Alfred E. Montgomery—and its four escort destroyers were "attacked" about 50 miles out after dawn today by fighters and bombers from the North Island Navy Air Station and the Miramar Marine Base.

ACHESON

FIRST LEAD FOREIGN
BY ALEX H. SINGLETON
(ADVANCE)—WASHINGTON, MARCH 24—(AP)—UNDERSECRETARY OF STATE DEAN
ACHESON DECLARED FIRMLY AND FLATLY TODAY THAT AMERICAN PLANS FOR BULWARKING GREECE AND TURKEY AGAINST COMMUNISM "DO NOT INCLUDE OUR SENDING TROOPS."

"WE HAVE NOT BEEN ASKED TO DO SO." ACHESON ASSERTED. "WE DO NOT FORESEE ANY NEED TO DO SO. AND WE DO NOT INTEND TO DO SO," IN OPENING OF HEARINGS BY THE SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE ON PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S PROGRAM FOR SHORING UP THE INDEPENDENCE OF THE TWO SOUTHERN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES WITH AMERICAN DOLLARS, WEAPONS AND LIMITED MILITARY MISSIONS.

AS HE DID BEFORE THE HOUSE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE LAST WEEK, THE ACTING CABINET OFFICER SAID HE DOES NOT THINK THE AID PROPOSALS WILL LEAD TO WAR.

"I THINK THAT QUITE THE OPPOSITE IS TRUE," ACHESON TOLD THE SENATORS. "THESE PROPOSALS ARE DESIGNED TO INCREASE THE STABILITY OF, AND TO FURTHER THE OPPORTUNITY FOR DEMOCRATIC DEVELOPMENT IN, TWO COUNTRIES MOST IMPORTANT TO THE WORLD COMMUNITY.

"THESE ARE NOT ACTS WHICH LEAD TO WAR.

"THEY LEAD IN THE OTHER DIRECTION.

"THEY HELP TO MAINTAIN THE INTEGRITY AND INDEPENDENCE—WHAT THE UNITED NATIONS CHARTER CALLS THE 'SOVEREIGN EQUALITY'—OF STATES.

THAT IS ONE OF THE PRINCIPLES UPON WHICH THE WHOLE EFFORT TO ORGANIZE THE WORLD FOR PEACE IS FOUNDED."

ACHESON'S TESTIMONY BEFORE THE SENATE COMMITTEE WAS ONE SIDE OF A TWO-WAY CONGRESSIONAL DRIVE TO PRESS THE AID PROGRAM THROUGH. IT WAS SPURRED BY DOCUMENTARY ACCUSATIONS THAT RUSSIA IS ATTEMPTING TO HOIST THE FLAG OF COMMUNISTIC CONTROL OVER BOTH GREECE AND TURKEY.

THESE DOCUMENTS--THEIR "SECRET" LABEL REMOVED UNDER CONGRESSIONAL PRESSURE TO GIVE THE NATION THE "FULL FACTS"--ACCUSED RUSSIA OF WAGING A "WAR OF NERVES" AGAINST TURKEY, TOLD OF A "MASTER PLAN" TO MAKE GREECE COMMUNISTIC, AND CALLED POLAND A SOVIET "SATELLITE."

IN THE SECOND SEGMENT OF THE CAPITOL HILL DRIVE, UNDER SECRETARY OF STATE WILL CLAYTON PREPARED A REPORT FOR THE HOUSE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE REVIEWING THE DOLLAR-AND-CENTS ASPECTS OF THE AID PROGRAM.

IN SAYING THAT NO TROOPS WOULD BE SENT TO EITHER GREECE OR TURKEY, ACHESON ASSERTED:

MAR 5 1947

"WE HAVE NO UNDERSTANDINGS WITH EITHER GREECE OR TURKEY, ORAL OR OTHERWISE, IN REGARD TO THE SENDING OF TROOPS TO THOSE COUNTRIES.

"OUR MILITARY MISSIONS X X X WILL BE SMALL ONES, WHOSE TASK WILL PROBABLY BE TO FIND OUT THE LOCAL NEED FOR MILITARY EQUIPMENT AND TO SEE TO IT THAT NEEDED MATERIAL IS DELIVERED AND IS IN THE HONDS OF THE PROPER AUTHORITIES. OUR MISSIONS WILL CONSIST ONLY OF OBSERVERS AND ADVISERS."

TO ANSWER THE MORE THAN 125 QUESTIONS SUBMITTED TO THE STATE DEPARTMENT BY VARIOUS SENATORS THROUGH CHAIRMAN VANDENBERG (R-MICH) OF THE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE.

BUT THE WITNESS TOOK NOTE OF THE INQUIRIES, PARTICULARY THOSE CONCERNING THE FACT THAT SOME BRITISH TROOPS WILL BE LEFT IN GREECE AFTER ENGLAND FORMALLY WITHDRAWS HER ECONOMIC AID TO THAT COUNTRY ON MARCH 31. HE SAID:

"WUESTIONS SUBMITTED TO THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE APPEAR TO ASSUME THAT TH

"QUESTIONS SUBMITTED TO THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE APPEAR TO ASSUME THAT THE PRESENCE OF THESE FORCES WILL MEAN THAT THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT WILL DIRECT THE POLICIES OF THE GREEK GOVERNMENT WHILE THE UNITED STATES SUPPLIES NECESSARY ECONOMIC AID."

MAR 5 1947

"THIS," SAID ACHESON, "IS NOT THE CASE."

HE EMPHASIZED THAT THE UNITED STATES IS NOT "ASSUMING BRITISH OBLIGATIONS OR UNDERWRITING BRITISH MILITARY POLICY--THERE OR ELSEWHERE."

"WE PROPOSE, RATHER," HE SAID, "A PROGRAM DESIGNED BY THIS GOVERNMENT TO PROMOTE STABILITY IN GREECE, TURKEY, AND THE MIDDLE EAST GENERALLY AND THEREBY TO PAVE THE WAY FOR PEACEFUL AND DEMOCRATIC DEVELOPMENT."

ACHESON DID NOT RULE OUT THE POSSIBILITY THAT THE ACTION IN GREECE AND TURKEY MIGHT LEAD TO SIMILAR ASSISTANCE FOR OTHER COUNTRIES ELSEWHERE IN THE WORLD. HE SAID:

"ANY REQUEST OF FOREIGN COUNTRIES FOR AID WILL HAVE TO BE CONSIDERED ACCORDING TO THE CIRCUMSTANCES IN EACH INDIVIDUAL CASE. X X X WE WOULD HAVE TO STUDY WHETHER THE COUNTRY IN QUESTION REALLY NEEDS ASSISTANCE, WHETHER ITS REQUEST IS CONSISETNT WITH AMERICAN FOREIGN POLICY, WHETHER THE REQUEST FOR ASSISTANCE IS SINCERE, AND WHETHER ASSISTANCE BY THE UNITED STATES WOULD BE EFFECTIVE IN MEETING THE PROBLEMS OF THAT COUNTRY."

MAR 5 1947

BUT ACHESON ADDED THAT IT CAN NOT BE ASSUMED THIS GOVERNMENT "NECESSARILY" WILL UNDERTAKE MEASURES IN ANY OTHER COUNTRY "IDENTICAL OR EVEN CLOSELY SIMILIAR TO THOSE PROPOSED FOR GREECE AND TURKEY."

REFERRING TO AN ON-THE-SPOT INVESTIGATION OF THE GREEK SITUATION BY A UNITED NATIONS SECURITY COUNCIL COMMISSION, THE WITNESS SAID:

"WE DO NOT KNOW WHAT THE REPORT WILL CONTAIN OR THE ACTION THAT MAY BE TAKEN BY THE UNITED NATIONS UPON IT. WE HOPE AND BELIEVE THAT THE UNITED NATIONS ACTION IN THIS MATTER WILL RESULT IN THE CESSATION OF DISTURBANCES ALONG GREECE'S NORTHERN BORDER.

"SUCH A RESULT WOULD BE A MOST VITAL CONTRIBUTION TO THE SITUATION IN GREECE AND MAKE POSSIBLE THE TASK OF STABILIZATION AND REHABILITATION." HE ADDED, HOWEVER, THAT IT "WOULD NOT BE A SUBSTITUTE FOR THE ASSISTANCE WHICH GREECE HAS ASKED FROM THE UNITED STATES. MORE IS NEEDED TO DEAL WITH INTERNAL DISORDER AND ECONOMIC BREAKDOWN."

POSING AT ONE POINT THE QUESTION "WHAT ARE THE PROBABLE CONSEQUENCES OF NOT EXTENDING AID TO GREECE AND TURKEY?" ACHESON ANSWERED IT HIMSELF IN THESE WORDS:

"I NEED NOT EMPHASIZE TO YOU WHUT WOULD MORE THAN LIKELY BE THE EFFECT OF THE NATIONS IN THE MIDDLE EAST OF A COLLAPSE IN GREECE AND TURKEY AND THE INSTALLATIONS OF TOTALITARIAN REGIMES THERE. BOTH FROM THE POINT OF VIEW OF ECONOMIC AND MORAL, THE EFFECT UPON COUNTRIES TO THE EAST WOULD BE ENORMOUS, ESPECIALLY IF THE FAILURE IN GREECE AND TURKEY SHOULD COME ABOUT AS THE RESULT OF THE FAILURE OF THIS GREAT DEMOCRACY TO COME TO THEIR AID."

AT THE SAME TIME, ACHESON SAID THAT THE AMERICAN MOVES IN GREECE AND TURKEY ALSO ARE "BEING WATCHED WITH DEEPEST ANXIETY BY THE PEOPLES TO THE WEST, PARTICULARLY THE PEOPLES OF EUROPE WHO X X X ARE STRUGGLING AGAINST DIFFICULTIES TO MAINTAIN THEIR FREEDOM AND INDEPENDENCE WHILE THEY REPAIR THE DAMAGES OF WAR."

MAR 5 1947

THEN HE TOOK UP THE QUESTION OF WHETHER THE PROPOSED UNITED STATES PROGRAM FOR GREECE "CONSTITUTES A BLANKET ENDORSEMENT OF THE PRESENT GOVERNMENT."

"THE MERE FACT THAT GREECE HAS A KING," HE SAID, "DOES NOT NECESSARILY MAKE GREECE'S FORM OF GOVERNMENT LESS DEMOCRATIC THAN THAT OF OTHER COUNTRIES, AS IS SHOWN FOR INSTANCE BY THE GOVERNMENTS OF NORWAY, SWEDEN, DENMARK, THE NETHERLANDS AND GREAT BRITAIN.

"IT IS NOT THE OBJECT OF OUR AID TO GREECE EITHER TO HELP TO MAINTAIN OR TO HELP TO REMOVE THE PRESENT GOVERNMENT OR THE KING OF GREECE.

MAR 5 1947

"IT IS OUR OBJECT TO HELP TO MAINTAIN THE PRESENT CONSTITUTIONAL SYSTEM OF GREECE SO LONG AS THE MAJORITY OF GREEKS DESIRE IT X X X .

"IN GREECE TODAY WE DO NOT HAVE A CHOICE BETWEEN A PERFECT DEMOCRACY AND AN IMPERFECT DEMOCRACY.

"THE QUESTION IS WHETHER THERE SHALL BE ANY DEMOCRACY AT ALL."

AS THE TWO UNDER SECRETARIES LAID THEIR CASES BEFORE SENATE AND HOUSE COMMITTEES THERE WERE THESE RELATED DEVELOPMENTS:

CHANCES DEVELOPED THAT IT MIGHT BE AT LEAST TWO WEEKS BEYOND MARCH 31--THE ADMINISTRATION'S ORIGINAL GOAL FOR THE MEASURE'S PASSAGE--BEFORE THE LEGISLATION COULD CLEAR BOTH THE HOUSE AND SENATE.

OF GREECE, THE FORMERLY SECRET DOCUMENTS DECLARED:

"ARMED BAND ACTIVITIES, DIRECTED AND ASSISTED FROM OUTSIDE THE COUNTRY, ARE PART OF A MASTER PLAN TO SEPARATE MACEDONIA FROM GREECE AND TO MAKE UNTENABLE ANY GREEK GOVERNMENT NOT SUBSERVIENT TO COMMUNISTIC AIMS.

MAR 5 1947

"U.S. REPRESENTATIVES IN GREECE HAVE BECOME CONVINCED THAT THE INCREASING EFFRONTERY OF GREECE'S NORTHERN NEIGHBORS AND OF EAM (THE COMMUNIST ORGANIZATION), IS AN INDICATION OF BELIEF THAT GREECE IS A 'RIPE PLUM READY TO FALL INTO THEIR HANDS' WITHIN A FEW WEEKS THROUGH LACK OF SUPPORT BY THE WESTERN DEMOCRACIES."

OF TURKEY, THE DOCUMENTS SAID THAT COUNTRY'S TROUBLE STEMS FROM DEMANDS FROM RUSSIA FOR "SPECIAL PRIVILEGES" IN THE STRATEGIC DARDANELLES, AND FOR "STRATEGIC AREAS" IN NORTHWESTERN TURKEY. THEY ADDED:

"TURKEY CAN DO LITTLE TO COMBAT THIS WAR OF NERVES, BUT THE TURKS HAVE MADE IT CLEAR THAT THEY WILL OPPOSE WITH FORCE ANY ATTEMPT TO VIOLATE THEIR SOVEREIGNTY AND TERRITORIAL INTEGRITY." MAR 5 1947

OF THIS NATION'S STAKE IN THE OUTCOME:

"THE UNITED STATES RECOGNIZED THAT THE MAINTENANCE OF GREEK INDEPENDENCE AND TERRITORIAL INTEGRITY IS OF IMPORTANCE TO THE SECURITY AND INDEPENDENCE OF THE WHOLE NEAR AND MIDDLE EASTERN AREA, WHICH IS OF VITAL IMPORTANCE TO U.S. SECURITY.

AND OF THE AMERICAN DECISION TO ACT ALONE RATHER THAN CALLING UPON THE UNITED NATIONS TO SHOULDER THE LOAD, THE DOCUMENTS EMPHASIZED THAT U.N. IS NOT NOW EQUIPPED FOR ACTION AND THAT SPEED IS ESSENTIAL. THEY ADDED HOWEVER:

"WE ARE WELL AWARE THAT IN THE LONG RUN, WORLD-WIDE ECONOMIC STABILITY CAN ONLY BE OBTAINED AND PRESERVED WITH MAXIMUM ADVANTAGE TO THE UNITED STATES BY USING INTERNATIONAL AGENCIES WHEREVER APPROPRIATE. FOR THIS REASON, WE ARE EXPLORING EVERY POSSIBLE MEANS OF BUILDING UPON THE FOUNDATION WE EXPECT TO LAY WITH THE FUNDS AND ASSISTANCE WHICH WE NOW PROPOSE BE MADE AVAILABLE FOR GREECE."

IN ADDITION TO THE DATA COVERED IN THE "BACKGROUND" DOCUMENTS, SENATORS--BOTH REPUBLICAN AND DEMOCRATIC--HAVE PROPOUNDED SOME 125 QUESTIONS CONCERNING THE SPECIFIC AMERICAN AID PROPOSAL. THESE WERE COMPILED BY SENATOR VANDENBERG (R-MICH), CHAIRMAN OF THE SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE, AND SUBMITTED TO ACHESON FOR DIRECT REPLIES.

IT APPEARED DOUBTFUL THAT HIS PREPARED TESTIMONY FOR THE COMMITTEE WOULD COVER ALL THE POINTS RAISED, HOWEVER. RATHER SOME SENATORS SAID THEY EXPECTED THE UNDER SECRETARY TO SUBMIT THE ANSWERS FORMALLY IN A LETTER PERHAPS LATER TODAY.

BUT ACHESON WAS EXPECTED IN HIS ORAL TESTIMONY TO BROADEN THE OUTLINE HE ALREADY HAS GIVEN THE HOUSE GROUP. CLASZYTOO, IS DUE FORMTHYZY

BUT ACHESON WAS EXPECTED IN HIS ORAL TESTIMONY TO BROADEN THE OUTLINE HE ALREADY HAS GIVEN THE HOUSE GROUP. CLAYTON, TOO, IS DUE FOR A LATER APPERANCE BEFORE THE SENATE COMMITTEE.

YET DESPITE THESE EVIDENCES THAT CONGRESS IS HITTING FULL STRIDE IN CONSIDERING THE PRESIDENT'S REQUEST FOR SWIFT AID, SENATOR TAFT (R-OHIO), TOLD REPORTERS THERE IS LITTLE CHANCE LEGISLATION TO PUT THE PLAN INTO EFFECT CAN BE CLEARED BY THE MARCH 31 DEADLINE.

"WE WILL BE LUCKY IF WE CAN DISPOSE OF THE MATTER IN THE SENATE DURING THE FIRST TWO WEEKS OF APRIL," TAFT SAID.

THE PENDING $400,000,000 AID BILL INCLUDES AUTHORIZATION FOR A $100,000,000 TEMPORARY LOAN BY THE RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORPORATION. HENCE THERE WAS GROWING TALK OF SEPARATING THIS PROVISION FROM THE BILL AND ACTING ON IT IMMEDIATELY.

A WEEK-END STATEMENT BY REPUBLICAN GOV. THOMAS E. DEWEY OF NEW YORK THAT THE PRESIDENT'S GREEK AID PROGRAM SHOULD HAVE "THE FULL SUPPORT OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE" ENCOURAGED ADMINISTRATION LIEUTENANTS TO BELIEVE THAT GOP BACKING FOR THE BIPARTISAN FOREIGN POLICY PROGRAM WILL BE SUFFICIENTLY GREAT TO OBTAIN CONGRESS APPROVAL OF THE PENDING MEASURE WITHOUT EMASCULATING AMENDMENTS.

SENATOR MCMAHON (D-CONN), TOLD A REPORTER HE BELIEVES THE BIPARTISAN POLICY WILL SURVIVE THE TEST OF CONTROVERSIAL DEBATE ON THE PROPOSAL. SENATOR LUCAS OF ILLINOIS, THE DEMOCRATIC WHIP, SAID HE BELIEVES THAT TWO-PARTY COOPERATION IS GOING TO BE BROADENED TO INCLUDE AMERICAN POLICY DECISIONS IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

DEWEY'S ASSERTION MADE IN A ROUTINE STATEMENT DESIGNATING TUESDAY AS "GREEK WAR RELIEF" DAY IN NEW YORK, AVOIDED ANY REFERENCE TO TURKEY AND DEMOCRATS WONDERED IF THIS WAS SIGNIFICANT.

SENATOR ELLENDER (D-LA), HAS TAKEN EXCEPTION TO THE PLAN TO HELP TURKEY ON THE CONTENTION THAT THE COUNTRY WAS NOT TOO COOPERATIVE WITH THE ALLIES DURING THE WAR.

HOWEVER, THE DOCUMENTS MADE PUBLIC LAST NIGHT DEFENDED TURKEY'S DECISION TO MAINTAIN HER NEUTRALITY STATUS UNTIL GERMANY'S COLLAPSE BECAME APPARENT.

MAR 5 1947

"IT IS THE VIEW OF THE AMERICAN GOVERNMENT," ONE OF THE BACKGROUND PAPERS SAID, "THAT OUR INTEREST WOULD PROBABLY NOT HAVE BEEN BETTER SERVED BY TURKEY'S ENTRY INTO THE WAR AT AN EARLIER DATE.

"TURKEY ALONE COULD HAVE ACCOMPLISHED LITTLE AGAINST THE GERMANS, AND THE UNITED NATIONS WERE UNABLE TO DIVERT SUPPLIES AND TROOPS TO ASSIST TURKEY IN A BALKAN CAMPAIGN."

THE REFERENCE TO POLAND AS A SOVIET "SATELLITE"--PERHAPS THE FIRST TIME THIS HAS OCCURRED IN SIMILAR CIRCUMSTANCES--CAME IN CONNECTION WITH A REVIEW OF WHAT THE DOCUMENTS CALLED RUSSIA'S "ATTITUDE OF HOSTILITY TOWARD THE PRESENT GREEK GOVERNMENT."

NOTING THAT A UNITED NATIONS COMMISSION HAS BEEN NAMED TO INVESTIGATE BORDER FIGHTING IN NORTHERN GREECE, THE DOCUMENTS ADDED:

"THE SOVIET MEMBER ON THE U.N. COMMISSION, AIDED BY HIS POLISH SATELLITE, HAS DONE EVERYTHING POSSIBLE TO PLACE GREECE IN AN UNFAVORABLE LIGHT AND PLACE THE BLAME FOR FRONTIER CLASHES ON THE GREEK GOVERNMENT."

SECRETARY-GENERAL TRYGVE LIE DECLARE THAT PROGRESS TOWARD STRIPPING DOWN THE WORLD'S ARMS WAS ONE OF THE KEYS TO U.N. SUCCESS.

"THE ATTENTION OF THE WORLD IS FOCUSED UPON YOU," LIE ADVISED THE 11-NATION BODY. "YOUR ABILITY TO MAKE PROGRESS IN THE CONTROL OF CONVENTIONAL ARMAMENTS WILL BE DIRECTLY ASSOCIATED IN PEOPLE'S MINDS WITH THE ABILITY OF THE UNITED NATIONS TO MAINTAIN PEACE.

"THE CONTINUED EXPENSE OF ARMAMENTS WEIGHS HEAVILY ON THE NATIONS AND CONTINUES TO HANDICAP THEM IN THEIR EFFORTS TO REPAIR THE DAMAGES OF WAR AND TO GIVE THEIR PEOPLES A BETTER LIFE. THUS ANY PROGRESS WHICH YOU MAY MAKE WILL HAVE A MOST DIRECT MEANING FOR MILLIONS OF PEOPLE."

AS LIE STARTED THE MEETING ATTENTION WAS CENTERED ON POLICY SPEECHES EXPECTED FROM RUSSIA, GREAT BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES.

MAR 5 1947

SIR ALEXANDER CADOGAN, BRITISH DELEGATE, WAS READY TO STRESS A NEED FOR A CLEAR UNDERSTANDING OF THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN GENERAL SECURITY AND DISARMAMENT. HE THUS HOPED TO BRING ALL VIEWS INTO THE OPEN AT AN EARLY STAGE.

A SOURCE CLOSE TO CADOGAN SAID THE BRITISH DELEGATE HOPED TO FORCE "AN EARLY TEST OF SINCERITY" BEFORE AGREEING TO LAUNCH INTO WEEKS AND MONTHS OF DISCUSSIONS ON ARMS REDUCTION.

WHILE CADOGAN WAS NOT PREPARED TO QUESTION THE MOVES OF ANY ONE COUNTRY, IT WAS RECALLED THAT THE WHOLE BROAD ARMS SLASHING PROPOSAL WAS TOSSED INTO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY IN A SURPRISE STEP LAST FALL BY SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTER V.M. MOLOTOV.

THIS SOURCE DID COMMENT THAT CADOGAN EXPECTED HIS SPEECH TO GET A COOL RECEPTION FROM ANDREI A. GROMYKO, SOVIET DELEGATE.

THE BRITISH WERE REPRESENTED AS BEING OPPOSED TO STARTING TECHNICAL DISCUSSIONS UNTIL THE BASIC PRINCIPLES HAD BEEN LAID DOWN, PREFERABLY IN OPENING MEETINGS OF THE COMMISSION.

IN KEEPING WITH HIS STAND, CADOGAN WAS READY TO GO ALONG WITH THE UNITED STATES' POSITION THAT ANY ARMS CUTTING PROGRAM MUST BE ACCOMPANIED BY AIR TIGHT PROVISIONS FOR SAFEGUARDS AND INSPECTIONS.

THIS PROVISION WAS EXPECTED TO RUN INTO THE SAME RUSSIAN OBJECTIONS WHICH HAVE SLOWED DOWN DISCUSSIONS ON ATOMIC CONTROL. GROMYKO HAS SAID HE COULD NOT AGREE TO UNLIMITED CONTROL AND INSPECTIONS AND MENTIONED INFRINGEMENT ON SOVEREIGNTY. THE UNITED STATES REPEATED THAT NOTHING LESS THAN FULL INSPECTION RIGHTS WOULD SUFFICE.

WHILE MAKING IT CLEAR THAT THE UNITED STATES WAS READY TO GO TO WORK ON THE ISSUE, AMERICAN DELEGATE HERSCHEL V. JOHNSON DRAFTED HIS POLICY STATEMENT ALONG THESE LINES:

MAR 5 1947

A22

1-THE WORLD CANNOT EXPECT A GENERAL ARMY REDUCTION SYSTEM TO FUNCTION UNTIL SAFEGUARDS AND INSPECTION PROVISIONS ARE READY.

2-ARMS SLASHING MUST GO HAND IN HAND WITH GENERAL SECURITY.

3. THE WORLD WILL BE IN BETTER CONDITION TO SCRAP GUNS ONCE THE PEACE TREATIES ARE SIGNED.

4. ARMS REDUCTION IS ONLY ONE STEP TOWARD PEACE AND BY ITSELF MIGHT BOOMERANG INTO WAR.

30.24-8723

THE COMMISSION, DUE TO MAKE ITS FIRST REPORT TO THE PARENT SECURITY COUNCIL BY MAY 13, WILL BE LIMITED TO DISCUSSIONS OF WEAPONS OUTSIDE THE RANGE OF THE ATOMICC ENERGY COMMISSION. THAT 10-MONTH-OLD BODY WILL DEAL WITH THE ATOMIC BOMB AND OTHER WEAPONS OF MASS DESTRUCTION.

DRAWING OF A FINE LINE BETWEEN MASS DESTRUCTION WEAPONS AND ORDINARY WEAPONS PROMISED TO PROVIDE SOME INTERESTING DEBATE. THE COMMISSION ALSO MUST DECIDE WHEN AND HOW IT WILL COLLECT FIGURES ON EVERY NATION'S TROOPS AND ARMAMENTS, FACTS GENERALLY CONSIDERED NECESSARY TO ANY REDUCTION PLANS.

ASIDE FROM ELECTION OF A CHAIRMAN, STATEMENTS BY DELEGATES CONSTITUTED THE ONLY OTHER ITEM ON THE OPENING AGENDA.

SECURITY COUNCIL ORGANS IN THE PAST HAVE WORKED ON A MONTHLY ROTATION SYSTEM BY ALPHABET FOR THE CHAIRMANSHIP. THIS WOULD MEAN PAUL HASLUCK OF AUSTRALIA WOULD TAKE THE GAVEL FIRST, FOLLOWED BY FERNARD VAN LANGENHOVE OF BELGIUM.

MAR 5 1947

MEMBERS OF THE COMMISSION ARE THE UNITED STATES, GREAT BRITAIN, RUSSIA, FRANCE, CHINA, BELGIUM, SYRIA, POLAND, COLOMBIA, AUSTRALIA AND BRAZIL.

BERLIN, MARCH 24-(AP)-AN AMERICAN OFFICIAL IN THE ECONOMICALLY MERGED UNITED STATES-BRITISH ZONES OF GERMANY SAYS THAT AS YET ZONAL AUTHORITIES "HAVE MADE NO REDUCTION NOR EMBARGO OF SHIPMENTS" OF IRON AND STEEL TO THE RUSSIAN ZONE BUT THAT THEY WILL "HAVE TO SET A DATE FOR ACTION" IF INTERZONAL TRADE IS NOT BROUGHT INTO BALANCE.

M.S. SZYMCZAK, DIRECTOR OF THE ECONOMICS DIVISION OF THE AMERICAN MILITARY GOVERNMENT, MAKING THIS STATEMENT YESTERDAY, DESCRIBED AS A "FAUX PAS" A BRITISH-AMERICAN ANNOUNCEMENT FRIDAY THAT SUCH SHIPMENTS TO THE SOVIET ZONE HAD BEEN REDUCED AND THAT A FULL EMBARGO WAS BEING CONSIDERED.

SUBSEQUENT TO THE LATTER ANNOUNCEMENT, A RELEASED CLEARED BY THE PUBLIC RELATIONS OFFICE OF THE BIZONAL ECONOMICS ADMINISTRATION AT MINDEN BECAME KNOWN THROUGH OFFICIALS THERE. THIS RELEASE SAID THAT THESE SHIPMENTS "WERE TODAY (FRIDAY) SUSPENDED FOR AN INDEFINITE PERIOD." THE RELEASE WAS BASED ON A COMMUNIQUE ALREADY DRAFTED BUT THEN STILL UNDER DISCUSSION IN BERLIN.

THE JOINT STATEMENT MENTIONING SUSPENSION OF SHIPMENTS SAID THE ACTION WAS BEING TAKEN BECAUSE THE RUSSIAN ZONE HAD BECOME MORE AND MORE DELINQUENT IN DELIVERIES TO THE BRITISH-U.S. ZONE PROMISED IN AN INTERZONAL TRADE PACE.

THE STATEMENT SAID THAT THE BRITISH-AMERICAN ZONES HAD SHIPPED 94 PERCENT OF PACT COMMITMENTS TO THE SOVIET ZONE.

SZYMCZAK SAID THAT THREE OR FOUR WEEKS AGO THE DIRECTOR OF ECONOMICS OF THE SOVIET MILITARY ADMINISTRATION HAD BEEN GIVEN A FORMAL REQUEST FOR FRESH RUSSIAN EFFORTS TO BRING INTERZONAL TRADE INTO BALANCE. HE REPORTED THAT THE DIRECTOR HAD NOT YET REPLIED.

WARNING THAT SOME ACTION MIGHT BE TAKEN EVENTUALLY, SZYMCZAK ADDED: "THAT DOESN'T MEAN WE WILL SEND STEEL DELIVERIES ELSEWHERE, BUT RATHER THAT WE WILL HOLD THEM ASIDE UNTIL THE RUSSIANS CATCH UP WITH DELIVERIES OF THEIR PRODUCTS TO OUR ZONE. NOW THAT SPRING WEATHER RELIEVES TRANSPORT CONDITIONS, THEY MAY CATCH UP."

THE GERMAN CENTRAL MINISTRY FOR TRADE IN THE SOVIET ZONE TOOK EXCEPTION TO BRITISH-U.S. CHARGES OF OVERWHELMINGLY ONE-SIDED SOVIET DELINQUENCIES IN A STATEMENT PUT OUT THROUGH THE RUSSIAN-CONTROLLED GERMAN NEWS AGENCY.

THIS STATEMENT SAID WINTER TRANSPORT TROUBLES HAD SLOWED DOWN DELIVERIES IN ALL ZONES AND THAT "DELINQUENCIES OF THE SOVIET ZONE ARE BY NO MEANS LARGER THAN THOSE OF THE WESTERN ZONES."

THE MINISTRY SAID INTERZONAL TRADE WAS IN BALANCE AS OF MARCH 20. IT DECLARED THE WESTERN ZONES DELIVERED ONLY 39 PERCENT OF THEIR COMMITMENTS IN THE FIRST 1947 QUARTER.

TAKING ISSUE WITH THIS, AN INTERZONAL TRADE OFFICIAL OF THE AMERICAN MILITARY GOVERNMENT SAID THE U.S. ZONE BY DEC.31 HAD SHIPPED THE SOVIET ZONE 50,000 MORE TONS OF STEEL THAN THEIR 1946 -&433.3,5 :-))3$!94, WHI

SHIPPED THE SOVIET ZONE 50,000 MORE TONS OF STEEL THAN THEIR 1946 AGREEMENT CALLED FOR, WHILE THE SOVIET ZONE AT THAT TIME WAS BEHIND IN DELIVERIES. HE DECLARED THE ARREARAGE CARRIED OVER WHEN THE U.S. AND BRITISH ZONES WERE COMBINED FOR ECONOMIC PURPOSES ON NEW YEAR'S DAY.

NOTE TO EDITORS:

IN CONNECTION WITH THE BERLIN STORY BY RICHARD KASISCHKE (429) DEALING WITH IRON AND STEEL SHIPMENTS TO GERMANY'S SOVIET ZONE, THE FOLLOWING IS FOR YOUR INFORMATION AND FOR PUBLICATION IF DESIRED:

IN LAST FRIDAY'S DAY REPORT, THE ASSOCIATED PRESS TRANSMITTED A BERLIN STORY MENTIONING A REPORT FROM MINDEN, HEADQUARTERS OF THE BRITISH-AMERICAN ECONOMIC CONTROL GROUP, TO THE EFFECT THAT AN EMBARGO ON IRON AND STEEL SHIPMENTS HAD BEEN ORDERED EFFECTIVE THAT DAY. THE STORY SAID THE REPORT COULD NOT BE CONFIRMED OFFICIALLY.

IN THE FRIDAY NIGHT REPORT, THE AP TRANSMITTED A BERLIN STORY SAYING THAT AMERICAN AND BRITISH AUTHORITIES ACTUALLY HAD ORDERED SUCH AN EMBARGO THAT DAY IN THE FORM OF AN INDEFINITE SUSPENSION OF THE SHIPMENTS. THIS STORY REFERRED TO A FORMAL LETTER FROM THESE AUTHORITIES TO A GERMAN ECONOMICS EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE AT MINDEN.

THE BASIS FOR THE LATTER STORY WAS AN OFFICIAL PRESS RELEASE WHICH WAS CLEARED BY THE PUBLIC RELATIONS OFFICE OF THE BIZONAL ECONOMICS ADMINISTRATION AT MINDEN AND WHICH BECAME KNOWN THROUGH OFFICIALS THERE. THIS ANNOUNCED THAT SHIPMENTS OF THE SORT "WERE TODAY (FRIDAY) SUSPENDED FOR AN INDEFINITE PERIOD."

THIS RELEASE WAS NOT ISSUED AT THE SAME TIME IN BERLIN. HOWEVER, ON FRIDAY NIGHT THE CHIEF PUBLIC RELATIONS OFFICER OF THE ALLIED MILITARY GOVERNMENT'S ECONOMICS DIVISION IN BERLIN TOLD THE ASSOCIATED PRESS THAT BRITISH AND U.S. AUTHORITIES HAD REACHED AGREEMENT ON ALL PARTS OF THE RELEASE AND THAT IT WAS TO BE RELEASED GENERALLY AT 11 A.M. SATURDAY. SINCE IT ALREADY WAS IN THE HANDS OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, HE AGREED THAT IT COULD BE USED FRIDAY NIGHT.

AT NO TIME DID PUBLIC RELATIONS ADVISE THE ASSOCIATED PRESS THAT THE RELEASE WAS TO BE WITHHELD NOR AT ANY TIME WAS THERE ANY REQUEST FOR A CORRECTION.

BERLIN, MARCH 24-(AP)-O.W. THEY ARE TAKING THEIR POSTS IN APPROXIMATELY 10 DAYS AFTER SHORT ORIENTATION COURSES. WILSON SAID A COUNTER INTELLIGENCE GROUP OF AT LEAST THREE AMERICANS WAS ATTACHED TO EACH CAMP TO HANDLE CLASSIFIED MATERIAL IN THE DOSSIERS AS NAZI AND S.S. LEADERS COME TO TRIAL.

MAR 5 1947

"THERE ALWAYS HAS BEEN AN AMERICAN MILITARY GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL ASSIGNED TO OUR LARGEST CAMP AT DARMSTADT," WILSON SAID. "WE FOUND AS A RESULT OPERATIONS THERE WERE BETTER THAN IN ANY OTHER CAMP. IN THE LIGHT OF THAT EXPERIENCE WE FELT IT WOULD PAY DIVIDENDS TO DO LIKEWISE ELSEWHERE"

THERE ARE 11,000 INMATES IN THE DARMSTADT CAMP, 12,000 IN SIX CAMPS IN WUERTTEMBERG BADEN AND 25,000 IN FIVE CAMPS IN BAVARIA.

TO SHOW HOW THE PRESENCE OF AN AMERICAN MILITARY GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL SPEEDED UP THE TRIALS, WILSON SAID AS OF FEB.1 1,122 CASES WERE COMPLETED AT DARMSTADT BUT ONLY 95 CASES AT WUERTTEMBERG BADEN AND 130 IN BAVARIA.

ALL CAMPS WERE TURNED OVER TO GERMAN CONTROL LAST NOVEMBER.

"NATURALLY THESE APPOINTMENTS ALSO WILL IMPROVE SECURITY BUT THE RECORD OF ESCAPES DOESN'T COMPARE UNFAVORABLY WITH ESCAPES FROM ANY PENAL INSTITUTIONS", WILSON SAID.

MOSCOW, MARCH 24-(AP)-GEN.MARK W.CLARK, SEEKING TO BLOCK HEARING OF A YUGOSLAV REPARATIONS CLAIM AGAINST AUSTRIA, CITED TODAY A HERETOFORE SECRET AGREEMENT MADE AT POTSDAM WHICH AMERICAN SOURCES SAID PROVIDED THAT "NO REPARATIONS WOULD BE EXACTED FROM AUSTRIA."

CLARK BROUGHT UP THE MATTER IN THE MEETING OF THE DEPUTH FOREIGN MINISTERS DRAFTING AN AUSTRIAN PEACE TREATY TO MEET RUSSIAN INSISTENCE ON HEARING THE YUGOSLAV CLAIM, FOR $150,000,000.

THE AMERICAN DEPUTY ARGUED THAT THIS MADE IT UNNECESSARY TO HEAR THE YUGOSLAVS. THE RUSSIANS, HOWEVER, DECLINED TO ACCEPT THE AMERICAN VIEW ON THE MEANING OF THE SECRET ACCORD.

FEODOR GOUSEV,5 583 47''8-, $30756, SAID THE POTSDAM AGREEMENT OF PRESIDENT TRUMAN, PRIME MINISTER STALIN AND PRIME MINISTER ATTLEE MUST BE RESPECTED AND ITS DECISIONS REMAIN IN FORCE, BUT THAT THE SECTION CITED DID NOT PRECLUDE A DISCUSSION OF YUGOSLAV DEMANDS.

THE ISSUE THUS WAS ADDED TO THE GROWING LIST OF DIFFERENCES OVER THE AUSTRIAN TREATY WHICH APPARENTLY CAN BE SETTLED ONLY BY THE FOREIGN MINISTERS THEMSELVES.

MAR 5 1947

THE DEPUTIES ALSO SPLIT OVER EVERY OTHER IMPORTANT QUESTION THAT EMERGED TODAY. THE UNITED STATES AND BRITAIN FOUGHT FOR A CLAUSE WHICH WOULD HOLD AUSTRIA RESPONSIBLE FOR REDEEMING ALLIED CURRENCY AT THE END OF THE OCCUPATION ONLY WHERE THE CURRENCY WAS OF FIVE SCHILLING (ABOUT 50 CENTS) OR LOWER DENOMINATION. ALL THE HIGHER DENOMINATIONS WERE CALLED IN SOME TIME AGO, BUT AMERICAN SOURCES ESTIMATED THAT ABOUT 1,000,000,000 SCHILLINGS OF LARGE DENOMINATIONS WERE OUTSTANDING, OF WHICH THE RUSSIANS WERE REPORTED HOLDING ABOUT 900,000,000, ESTIMATED AT THE OFFICIAL EXCHANGE RATE AT $90,000,000.

THE RUSSIANS AND FRENCH DID NOT AGREE WITH THE BRITISH AND AMERICANS ON THIS CLAUSE.

THE DEPUTIES ALSO DISAGREED GENERALLY ALONG A LINE OF THE SOVIETS VERSUS THE WESTERN NATIONS ON VARIOUS PROPOSALS FOR HANDLING AUSTRIAN CLAIMS TO PROPERTY LOOTED BY GERMANS AND ON AUSTRIAN PROPERTY IN GERMANY.

UNITED STATES POLICIES AS ARGUED BY CLARK BROADLY FAVORED A MORE LIBERAL TREATMENT FOR THE AUSTRIANS AND THEIR CLAIMS THAT THE SOVIETS WERE WILLING TO AGREE TO.

AT ONE STAGE, THE UNITED STATES, BRITAIN AND FRANCE JOINED IN SUPPORTING A CLAUSE THAT IDENTIFIABLE PROPERTY REMOVED FROM AUSTRIA TO GERMANY BY FORCE OR DURESS--LOOTED PROPERTY--SHOULD BE RETURNED TO THE AUSTRIAN OWNERS, EXCEPT THOSE WHO WERE WAR CRIMINALS. WESTERN INFORMANTS SAID GOUSEV'S RESPONSE WAS THAT IT WAS WELL KNOWN THAT AUSTRIA HAD A RESPONSIBILITY FOR AN INTEGRAL PART IN THE WAR WITH GERMANY.

RQ1002AES

MOSCOW, MARCH 24-(AP)-BORIS IZAKOV, WRITING IN THE COMMUNIST PARTY NEWSPAPER PRAVDA, SAID TODAY THAT ENTERPRISES IN AUSTRIA THAT HAD BECOME SOVIET PROPERTY REPRESENTED NOT MORE THAN 10 PER CENT OF AUSTRIA'S TOTAL PRODUCTIVE CAPACITY AND WERE FORMER GERMAN--NOT AUSTRIAN--ENTERPRISES.

HIS DISCUSSION OF GERMAN ASSETS IN AUSTRIA CONCERNED A SUBJECT THAT HAS BEEN A STUMBLING BLOCK TO THE MAKING OF A PEACE TREATY WITH AUSTRIA--ONE GOAL OF THE BIG FOUR FOREIGN MINISTERS COUNCIL NOW IN CONFERENCE HERE.

MAR 5 1947

THE PRAVDA WRITER SAID THE ASSERTION HAD BEEN MADE THAT SOVIET MILLS IN AUSTRIA HAD BEEN BUILT WITH AUSTRIAN CAPITAL, BUT DECLARED "THAT IS A DELIBERATE UNTRUTH."

"IT IS PRECISELY KNOWN WHERE AND WHEN AND HOW MUCH MONEY GERMAN CAPITALISTS INVESTED IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF AUSTRIAN INDUSTRY," HE WROTE.

IZAKOV DENIED ALSO THAT AUSTRIAN LABOR HAD BEEN USED IN BUILDING GERMAN PLANTS. HE SAID THE STRONGEST AND ABLEST WORKERS IN AUSTRIA HAD BEEN PUT INTO HITLER'S ARMY, WHILE "TENS OF HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF FOREIGN WORKERS AND PRISONERS OF WAR SENT INTO AUSTRIA BY FORCE" BUILT THE FACTORIES.

MAR 5 1947

IZAKOV SAID THE SOVIET OWNED FACTORIES "REMAIN IN AUSTRIAN TERRITORY AND SHOULD BE OPERATED ON THE SAME BASIS" AS OTHER ENTERPRISES THERE, PAYING AUSTRIAN TAXES. HE DECLARED THAT THEY WOULD STRENGTHEN AUSTRIA'S ECONOMY AND PROVIDE WAGES FOR MANY AUSTRIANS.

"NUMEROUS MILLS WHICH ARE UNDER FOREIGN OWNERSHIP OPERATE IN AUSTRIA, TOO, PARTICULARLY THOSE OWNED BY THE AMERICANS AND BRITISH," HE SAID. "XXX THIS IS CONSIDERED NORMAL."

SIMILARLY, THE WRITER CONTENDED, THERE COULD BE NO OBJECTION OT SOVIET OWNERSHIP OF FACTORIES IN THE SAME COUNTRY.

IN A NUTSHELL, THE PROPOSALS SUBMITTED LAST WEEK SHOW, SAID THESE OFFICIALS, THAT THE SOVIET UNION WANTS TO BUILD THE GOVERNMENT FROM THE TOP DOWN, WHILE THE U.S. AND BRITAIN WANT TO CONSTRUCT IT FROM THE BOTTOM UP.

AMERICANS AND BRITONS PRIVATELY EXPRESSED THE BELIEF THAT RUSSIA WAS SEEKING A SYSTEM BY WHICH THE BIG POWERS VIRTUALLY COULD HANDPICK THE FIRST GROUP OF GERMAN AUTHORITIES, IN THE HOPE THAT SHE THEREBY COULD ATTAIN A GREATER REPRESENTATION OF COMMUNIST PERSONALITIES AND INFLUENCE.

WESTERNERS SAID THE SOVIET UNION WOULD GIVE THE CENTRAL GOVERNMENT DOMINANCE OVER THE STATE GOVERNMENTS, WHEREAS THE BRITISH AND AMERICAN PLANS WOULD RESERVE TO THE STATES ALL POWERS NOT SPECIFICALLY GRANTED TO THE CENTRAL ADMINISTRATION. THEY MAINTAINED THAT THE LATTER PROPOSALS WOULD BE MORE LIKELY TO PRODUCE A WESTERN-TYPE DEMOCRACY IN GERMANY.

THE SOVIET VIEW, AS EXPRESSED BY ECONOMIST EUGENE TARLE IN THE GOVERNMENT NEWSPAPER IZVESTIA YESTERDAY, WAS THAT WHAT THE WESTERNERS REALLY SOUGHT WAS ORGANIZATION OF GERMANY FAVORABLE TO THE COUNTRY'S EXPLOITATION BY CAPITALISTS, WHO, HE SAID, THEN WOULD SPREAD THEIR INFLUENCE THROUGHOUT EUROPE.

A COUNTERCHARGE FROM AMERICAN AND BRITISH SOURCES WAS THAT MOSCOW ALREADY WAS DIRECTING A CAMPAIGN TO TURN THE GERMAN PEOPLE TOWARD RUSSIA AND THAT THIS WAS THE REASON FOR MOLOTOV'S BLAST SATURDAY AT WESTERN SPONSORSHIP OF GERMAN FEDERALIZATION.

THE REAL ISSUES WERE SEEN AS REFLECTING A BASIC WORLDWIDE SPLIT BETWEEN EAST AND WEST AND A DEEP SUSPICION HAMPERING WORK ON COMMON PROBLEMS DESPITE HOPEFUL OFFICIAL STATEMENTS FROM ALL SIDES THAT AGREEMENT COULD BE REACHED.

THE BEST INFORMED WESTERN AUTHORITIES SAID THE TASK WAS ENORMOUS. THEY EXPRESSED DOUBT TENTATIVELY WHETHER THE CONFERENCE WOULD PRODUCE ANY FINAL, DEFINITIVE DECISIONS ON MAJOR GERMAN ISSUES. THEY STILL VOICED HOPE THAT THE AUSTRIAN TREATY MIGHT BE COMPLETED HERE. MUCH INTEREST CENTERED IN THE EXPECTED ARRIVAL OF AUSTRIAN GOVERNMENT REPRESENTATIVES FOR CONSULTATION, PROBABLY WITHIN A FEW DAYS.

A20

ON GERMANY, THE TALKS TO DATE HAD PRODUCED SO MANY CONFLICTING VIEWPOINTS THAT NOBODY YET COULD SEE A WAY OUT. PROPOSALS MADE ON THE GERMAN ECONOMY SHOWED THESE MAIN ISSUES:

THE RUSSIANS WANT FIRST OF ALL TO ASSURE THEMSELVES A STEADY FLOW OF REPARATIONS FROM A UNITED GERMANY. TO GET THIS, THEY HAVE REVERSED AN EARLIER STAND AND NOW ARE ANXIOUS TO RAISE THE LEVEL OF INDUSTRY IN GERMANY CONSIDERABLY.

THE BRITISH AND AMERICANS WANT MOST TO MAKE GERMANY SELF SUPPORTING THROUGH ECONOMIC UNIFICATION SO THAT THEY CAN QUIT SUPPORTING THE COUNTRY. FOR THIS PURPOSE, THEY ALSO ARE WILLING TO RAISE THE LEVEL OF INDUSTRY SOMEWHAT. HOWEVER, THEY INSIST THAT MEASURES FOR SELF SUFFICIENCY TAKE PRECEDENCE OVER ALL ELSE. THIS APPLIES PARTICULARLY TO ANY AGREEMENT THEY MAE BE FORCED TO MAKE FOR CONTINUING REPARATIONS OUT OF CURRENT PRODUCTION.

THE FRENCH TAKE STILL ANOTHER POSITION ON ECONOMICS. FIRST, THEY WANT TO BE ASSURED OF A COAL SUPPLY. THEN THEY EXPRESS DETERMINATION NOT TO AGREE TO ANY INCREASE IN GERMAN PRODUCTION, EITHER FOR REPARATIONS OR SELF SUFFICIENCY, WHICH WOULD TEND TO MAKE GERMANY POWERFUL AGAIN.

POLITICALLY ALSO, THE FRENCH TAKE A VIEW SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT FROM THAT OF ANY OTHER POWER. THEY CALL FOR CREATING MUCH STRONGER STATE GOVERNMENTS AND A MUCH WEAKER CENTRAL GOVERNMENT THAN ANY OF THE OTHERS WANT OR BELIEVE PRACTICAL.

NEW DELHI, MARCH 24-(AP)-A JEWISH DELEGATE FROM PALESTINE WALKED OUT TODAY ON THE INTERASIAN RELATIONS CONFERENCE BECAUSE HE WAS NOT PERMITTED TO REPLY TO ARAB CRITICISM OF JEWISH AIMS IN THE HOLY LAND. HE WAS PERSUADED BY AN INDIAN DELEGATE TO RETURN.

THE WALKOUT ENLIVENED THE SECOND PLENARY SESSION OF THE CONFERENCE, ATTENDED BY NEARLY 10,000 PERSONS.

DR.HUGO BERGMANN, THE PALESTINE DELEGATE, TOLD THE CONFERENCE "IT IS OUR HOPE THAT PALESTINE, NOTWITHSTANDING PRESENT DIFFICULTIES, WILL NOT GO THE EUROPEAN WAY OF 'SOLVING' SO TO SPEAK PROBLEMS BY DISPOSSESSING POPULATIONS, BUT BY A COMMON EFFORT TO USE RESULTS OF SCIENCE AND RESEARCH TO MAKE ROOM FOR MORE PEOPLE."

TAAQUIDDIN AL SOLH, ARAB LEAGUE OBSERVER WHO SAID HE REPRESENTED SEVEN ARAB STATES, SAID LATER THAT "IN PALESTINE THE EUROPEAN JEW HAS COME TO MAKE PALESTINE A NATION OF HIS OWN UNDER BRITISH BAYONETS. WE OBJECT TO THIS AND I HOPE YOU WILL STAND BY THE SIDE OF RIGHT--WITH US."

THEN MISS FATIMA KARIMA OF EGYPT, INVITED BY JAWAHARLAL NEHRU, PRESIDING OFFICER, TO REPLY TO BERGMANN, ASSERTED "WE STRONGLY OBJECT TO ANY SETTLEMENT IN PALESTINE EXCEPT FOR THE ARABS THEMSELVES. X X X WE HAVE WELCOMED THE JEWS INTO PALESTINE X X X BUT WE HAVE NO DESIRE TO GET THE BRITISH OUT AND REPLACE THEIR RULE BY RULE OF EUROPEAN JEWS."

WHEN BERGMANN ASKED PERMISSION TO REPLY, NEHRU SAID INTERNAL POLITICS COULD NOT BE DISCUSSED. HE SAID HE HAD ACCEDED TO A "LADY'S REQUEST" IN HEARING MISS KARIMA.

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA, MONDAY, MARCH 24-(AP)-A JAPANESE ARMY CAPTAIN HAS JUST LEARNED THE WAR IS OVER AND IS WONDERING WHETHER HIS PARENTS, WHO LIVED NEAR HIROSHIMA, ARE NOW ALLIED SLAVES.

THE STORY OF THE BLISSFULLY IGNORANT JAPANESE WAS TOLD BY NEIL MURRAY, CORRESPONDENT FOR THE SYDNEY SUN AT RABAUL, A TOWN ON THE ISLAND OF NEW BRITAIN IN THE BISMARCK ARCHIPELAGO.

THE JAPANESE IDENTIFIED HIMSELF AS KESAJI SATO, "ABOUT 44," AND TOLD AUSTRALIAN WAR CRIMES INVESTIGATING OFFICERS HE HAD LIVED WITH INHABITANTS OF AN ISLAND HE CALLED GUMASHI FOR ALMOST FOUR YEARS.

SATO SAID HE WAS ATTACHED TO A FIELD ARTILLERY REGIMENT ON NEW BRITAIN AND THAT IN MARCH, 1943, LEFT FOR LAE, NEW GUINEA, IN A CONVOY.

AMERICAN BOMBERS SANK ALL THE VESSELS IN THE CONVOY, HE SAID, AND THOUSANDS OF JAPANESE PERISHED, BUT HE WAS AMONG 35 WHO REACHED THE SHORE. HE ADDED, HOWEVER, THAT ALL THE SURVIVORS EXCEPT HIMSELF WERE KILLED WHEN THEY ATTACKED A GROUP OF 400 AMERICANS WITH SWORDS AND BAYONETS THEY HAD CARRIED FROM THEIR SINKING SHIPS.

SATO SAID THE NATIVES MOVED HIM TO THE ISLAND HE CALLED GUMASHI, WHERE HE LIVED UNTIL HE WAS TAKEN TO SAMARAI BY NEW GUINEA POLICE 10 DAYS AGO AND LEARNED OF JAPAN'S DEFEAT. SATO WAS FLOWN TO RABAUL WHERE HE IS BEING HELD UNDER MILITARY GUARD, BUT NOT IN THE WAR CRIMINAL PEN, MURRAY SAID.

TOKYO,MARCH 24-(AP)-THE UNITED NATIONS MUST UNDERTAKE SUCH TASKS AS SUPERVISION OF JAPAN AFTER A FORMAL PEACE HAS BEEN SIGNED, AMBASSADOR A.D.F.GASCOIGNE, HEAD OF THE UNITED KINGDOM LIAISON MISSION HERE, SAID TODAY.

THE AMBASSADOR STRONGLY SUPPORTED GENERAL MACARTHUR'S RECENT PROPOSALS FOR AN EARLY PEACE AND SUBSEQUENT U.N. STEWARDSHIP OVER JAPAN. HOWEVER, HE STRESSED AT A PRESS CONFERENCE THAT HIS REPLIES WERE NOT OFFICIAL, BUT MERELY HIS OPINIONS.

ASKED IF HE THOUGHT THE UNITED NATIONS HAD PROGRESSED SUFFICIENTLY TO MAINTAIN THE "CONTROL AND GUIDANCE" OVER JAPAN'S DEMOCRATIZATION, THE BRITISH DIPLOMAT SAID:

"I THINK THE UNITED NATIONS WILL HAVE TO GET DOWN AND DO A JOB LIKE THAT. THEY MUST."

GREAT BRITAIN, HE SAID, "IS ANXIOUS FOR A SPEEDY PEACE TREATY" FOR JAPAN, AND HOPES FOR EARLY RESUMPTION OF PRIVATE TRADE.

AUSTRALIA AND NEW ZEALAND SHOULD HAVE ROLES IN ANY PEACE TREATY FOR "THE PART THEY PLAYED IN WINNING THE WAR," THE AMBASSADOR SAID.

GASCOIGNE EXPRESSED THE OPINION THAT COMMONWEALTH OCCUPATION TROOPS WOULD REMAIN IN JAPAN UNTIL THE PEACE TREATY WAS SIGNED.

HE PREDICTED THAT JAPAN'S ECONOMY "IS MORE LIKELY TO EMERGE AS A MANAGED ECONOMY LIKE BRITAIN'S THAN AS A FREE ECONOMY LIKE THAT OF THE UNITED STATES."

"THE OCCUPATION UNDER MACARTHUR HAS DONE ALMOST EVERYTHING THERE IS TO REMOVE OBSTACLES TO DEMOCRACY," THE AMBASSADOR COMMENTED. "THE STAGE NOW IS SET FOR DEMOCRACY TO STAY X X X. WHETHER THE JAPANESE WILL BECOME GOOD DEMOCRATS IS A PROBLEM THAT MAY TAKE 50 YEARS TO KNOW. PERSONALLY, I HAVE FAITH IN THEM."

TOKYO,MARCH 24 (AP)-THE JAPANESE GOVERNMENT, REPORTING TO ALLIED HEADQUARTERS THAT BADLY-NEEDED COAL PRODUCTION MAY TOTAL ONLY 26,000,000 TONS IN THE NEXT 12 MONTHS, HAS ADVISED THAT "FLOWER-SEEING PSYCHOLOGY" WILL BE PARTLY TO BLAME FOR NEXT MONTH'S DECLINE.

PRODUCTION WILL FALL OFF IN AUGUST BECAUSE OF THE SUMMER HOLIDAYS, THE GOVERNMENT ADVISED, AND A DIP MAY BE EXPECTED IN JANUARY BECAUSE OF THE "NEW YEAR PSYCHOLOGY."

FLOWER-SEEING APPARENTLY CORRESPONDS TO THE AMERICAN SPRING FEVER. HEADQUARTERS OFFICIALS, WHO SAY JAPAN NEEDS 30,000,000 TONS YEARLY AS A BARE MINIMUM, CALLS THE GOVERNMENT'S DIAGNOSIS FANTASTIC.

THERE ARE SOME MITIGATING CIRCUMSTANCES. LABOR TROUBLES HAVE PLAGUED COAL MINES. MANY DIGGINGS ARE IN POOR CONDITION BECAUSE OF A LACK OF MACHINERY AND MATERIALS AND BECAUSE MAINTENANCE WAS POOR DURING THE WAR. BUT OCCUPATION OFFICERS ARE BECOMING INCREASINGLY IMPATIENT WITH THE GOVERNMENT'S WEIRD APPROACH TO A PROBLEM SO IMPORTANT TO THE NATION'S ECONOMY.

GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS, JOTTING DOWN "FLOWER-SEENG PSYCHOLOGY," OFFER NO PROPOSALS FOR ELIMINATION OF THIS ATTITUDE OR METHODS TO COMBAT IT. HEADQUARTERS OFFICERS SAY THAT UNTIL THE GOVERNMENT ASSUMES AN AFFIRMATIVE, AGGRESSIVE APPROACH TO A SOLUTION OF THE PROBLEM, THE "FLOWER-SEEING PSYCHOLOGY" WILL PREVAIL AND PERILOUSLY LOW STOCKPILES WILL BE DEPLETED EVEN FURTHER.

HONOLULU, MARCH 24-(AP)-THE ACTION OF THE TERRITORIAL GOVERNMENT MAY SOON INTRODUCE THE 20TH CENTURY TO TINY NIIHAU ISLAND, OWNED OUTRIGHT BY A SINGLE FAMILY AND TERMED BY A SPECIAL SENATE COMMITTEE THE LAST "PRIMITIVE COMMUNITY" OF THE HAWAIIAN CHAIN.

THE COMMITTEE RECOMMENDED TODAY A BROAD SET OF PROPOSALS DESIGNED TO GIVE THE TERRITORIAL GOVERNMENT A FOOTHOLD IN THIS "FEUDAL BARONY ON THE 19TH CENTURY SCOTTISH PLAN."

CRITICIZED BY THE COMMITTEE WERE NIIHAU'S LACK OF TELEPHONES, RADIOS, NEWSPAPERS, ELECTRICITY, EDUCATION (BEYOND A FEW ELEMENTARY GRADES), PORT OR AIRPORT FACILITIES, LAND FOR SHOPS AND MOTION PICTURE THEATERS, AND MEDICAL FACILITIES. IT URGED THAT THE TERRITORY ACQUIRE SUFFICIENT LAND--BY CONDEMNATION, IF NECESSARY--TO PERMIT OPENING UP THE ISLAND TO SUCH MODERN DEVELOPMENTS.

NIIHAU IS OWNED BY THE ROBINSON FAMILY, DESCENDANTS OF ELIZA SINCLAIR, WIDOW OF A BRITISH NAVAL CAPTAIN. SHE PURCHASED THE ISLAND IN 1863 FROM KING KAMEHAMEHA IV FOR $10,000.

VISITORS MUST OBTAIN PERMISSION OF THE OWNERS BEFORE SETTING FOOT UPON NIIHAU--AND VISITS ARE NOT ENCOURAGED. A SMALL MILITARY GARRISON WAS STATIONED THERE DURING THE WAR, BUT THE ROBINSON FAMILY SUCCEEDED IN IMPOSING "BLUE LAWS" UPON THE GIS. MEN WERE FORBIDDEN USE OF LIQUOR AND ANY CONTACT WITH THE NIIHAUANS, EVEN TO ATTENDING THE LONE CHURCH.

THERE WAS ONLY ONE CONCESSION TO THE SOLDIERS--THEY WERE PERMITTED TO USE TOBACCO.

WITH A LIMITED WATER SUPPLY CAUGHT IN 1,000-GALLON TANKS DURING THE RAINY SEASON, NIIHAU IS RESTRICTED TO A POPULATION OF 250. TWENTY MILES LONG AND ABOUT SIX MILES WIDE, IT SUPPORTS 1,000 CATTLE; 10,000 SHEEP AND 300 HORSES OF ARABIAN STOCK.

EDUCATION IS OFFERED CHILDREN ONLY UP TO THE FIFTH GRADE, AND A CHILD OF 10 IS CONSIDERED READY TO EARN HIS KEEP, THE COMMITTEE NOTED. ANYONE LEAVING THE ISLAND WITHOUT PERMISSION, TO SAMPLE LIFE ABROAD, FINDS IT DIFFICULT TO RETURN.

EVEN LEGISLATORS WHO VISITED NIIHAU LAST SUMMER REPORTED SOME ENCUMBRANCES TO CIRCULATING FREELY AMONG THE HAWAIIAN RESIDENTS.

DESPITE THE MODERN WAY OF LIFE ELSEWHERE IN HAWAII, NIIHAU HAS REMAINED LARGELY UNCHANGED, LARGELY UNKNOWN THROUGH THE YEARS.

PURGE

WASHINGTON, MARCH 24-(AP)-CONGRESS TOOK TODAY TO PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S ORDER FOR A PURGE OF DISLOYAL FEDERAL EMPLOYES LIKE A DUCK TAKES TO WATER.

WHILE THERE WAS WIDESPREAD COMMENT ON CAPITOL HILL THAT THE ORDER SHOULD HAVE BEEN ISSUED LONG AGO, CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS LOST NO TIME IN LAYING THE FOUNDATION FOR WHATEVER NEW LEGAL BACKING MAY BE NECESSARY.

REP. REES (R-KAS), CHAIRMAN OF THE HOUSE CIVIL SERVICE COMMITTEE WHICH HAS JURISDICTION OVER GOVERNMENT EMPLOYES, SAID HE WOULD CALL THE GROUP INTO SESSION QUICKLY TO DETERMINE WHETHER LEGISLATION IS NEEDED TO PUT TEETH INTO THE ORDER.

TERMING THE PRESIDENT'S WEEKEND ACTION "GOOD AS FAR AS IT GOES," REES SAID IN A STATEMENT THAT IT FAILS, HOWEVER, TO PLACE FIRING RESPONSIBILITY DIRECTLY ON DEPARTMENTAL AND AGENCY HEADS.

IN DIRECTING THE DISMISSAL OF ALL FEDERAL EMPLOYES WHENEVER "REASONABLE GROUND" EXISTS TO DOUBT THEIR LOYALTY, MR.TRUMAN ORDERED THE NAMES OF ALL WORKERS TO BE CHECKED AGAINST FBI RECORDS.

HE ALSO ORDERED A "MASTER INDEX" OF ALL PERSONS WHOSE LOYALTY HAS BEEN INVESTIGATED SINCE SEPT. 1, 1939, AND CALLED FOR THE COMPILATION OF A SINGLE LIST OF ALL SUBVERSIVE ORGANIZATIONS.

AND HE SPECIFIED THAT ANY EMPLOYE AFFILIATED WITH OR IN "SYMPATHETIC ASSOCIATION" WITH ANY TOTALITARIAN, FASCIST, COMMUNIST OR SUBVERSIVE GROUP IS TO BE BANNED FROM THE FEDERAL PAYROLL.

MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE AND THE COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES--BOTH OF WHICH HAVE BEEN SPEARHEADING THE CONGRESSIONAL DRIVE AGAINST GOVERNMENT WORKERS WITH QUESTIONABLE BACKGROUND--SAW IN THE PRESIDENTIAL ACTION A VINDICATION OF THEIR POSITION.

REP. KEEFE (R-WIS), VIEWED THE ORDER AS STRENGTHENING THE STAND OF THE HOUSE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE IN REJECTING FUNDS FOR THE OFFICE OF DIRECTOR OF THE CONCILIATION SERVICE, HEADED BY EDGAR L.WARREN. KEEFE, CHAIRMAN OF THE SUB-COMMITTEE WHICH RECOMMENDED THE ACTION, QUESTIONED WARREN'S LOYALTY DURING COMMITTEE HEARINGS. WARREN DENIED ANY DISLOYAL OR "RADICAL" BELIEFS.

"I AM EXTREMELY HAPPY," KEEFE SAID, "TO NOTICE THAT THE PRESIDENT IS NOW ASSUMING A ROLE WHICH MANY OF US ASSUMED A LONG TIME AGO WHEN WE WERE CALLED RED BAITERS. I WILL DO EVERYTHING IN MY POWER TO SEE TO IT THAT NO FUNDS ARE SUPPLIED FOR THE PAYMENT OF ANY SUBVERSIVES."

"I AM 100 PER CENT FOR THAT," COMMENTED REP. RANKIN OF MISSISSIPPI, RANKING DEMOCRAT ON THE HOUSE COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES, WHICH STARTS HEARINGS TODAY ON LEGISLATION TO OUTLAW THE COMMUNIST PARTY.

HOUSE SPEAKER MARTIN (R-MASS), SAID IT WAS "GOOD TO SEE THAT HE (THE PRESIDENT), HAS FINALLY AWAKENED TO THE TRUTH OF WHAT WE HAVE BEEN TELLING HIM FOR THE LAST FEW YEARS."

CHAIRMAN WILEY (R-WIS), OF THE SENATE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE, TERMED THE ORDER LONG-OVERDUE, ADDING:

"THE ACTION DOESN'T CALL FOR WITCH HUNTING. IT CALLS FOR A REALISTIC APPROACH TO DO THAT WHICH IS NECESSARY FOR THE SAFETY AND THE ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL HEALTH OF THE NATION."

A WHITE HOUSE OFFICIAL ALSO SAID THE ORDER WILL NOT RESULT IN A "WITCH HUNT" AND ADDED:

"I CAN'T IMAGINE THAT ANY GREAT NUMBER OF FIRINGS WILL RESULT."

MR.TRUMAN'S ACTION WAS BASED ON A REPORT FROM A SIX-MEMBER "TEMPORARY COMMISSION ON EMPLOYEE LOYALTY" HEADED BY A. DEVITT VANECH, ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL.

THE PRESIDENTIAL ORDER DID NOT GO AS FAR, HOWEVER, AS THE COMMISSION HAD URGED.

IN ADDITION TO ITS RECOMMENDATIONS WHICH WERE ACCEPTED, THE GROUP HAD URGED COUNTER-ESPIONAGE WITHIN THE GOVERNMENT SERVICE AND HAD PROPOSED THAT THE ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION AND THE SECRETARIES OF STATE, WAR AND NAVY BE AUTHORIZED TO REMOVE ANY WORKER SUMMARILY, WITHOUT THE NEED TO PROVE HIM DISLOYAL.

A STEP-BY-STEP APPEAL PROCEDURE IS SET UP IN THE PRESIDENTIAL ORDER WHEREBY EMPLOYES CAN FIGHT ANY CHARGES AGAINST THEM.

RUSS VETO ALBANIA CHARGES

Accusation On Mines Blocked

Seven Nations' Verdict In Channel Mine Case Is Against Tirana

F. Carpenter

Lake Success, N.Y., March 25 (AP). Andrei A. Gromyko cast Russia's tenth veto in the United Nations Security Council today to defeat a majority verdict against Albania for the mine-blasting of two British destroyers in which 44 Royal Navy sailors were killed in Corfu Channel October 22.

On this first anniversary of the Security Council's initial session in the United States, Gromyko calmly raised his hand in the negative on a British resolution holding that the mines could not have been laid "without the knowledge of the Albanian authorities."

NIGHT

Threats Against Greece

Then, with special consent to make a statement, Gromyko lashed at the Greek Government for what he called its failure to provide proper protection for the Soviet members of the United Nations commission investigating conditions in the Balkans. The Security Council took note of his remarks that it should safeguard its inquiry commission.

The seven nations voting to sustain Britain's charges against Soviet-satellite Albania after they were watered down by French and United States amendments were: Australia, Belgium, Brazil, China, Colombia, France and the United States. Poland voted with Russia, Syria abstained, and Great Britain could not vote because she was a party in the dispute.

To Seek Court Intervention

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, served notice off the floor that his Government now would seek to have the case sent to the International Court of Justice, a course he previously had rejected.

Other United Nations developments:

1. The United States asked the secretariat to schedule a speech by Warren R. Austin, chief United States delegate, on the Greek-Turkish issue. The Security Council adranged to meet Friday with Austin speaking on a program also slated to deal with American proposals for sole United States strategic area administration of the Japanese-mandated islands.

Look For British Decision

2. The United Nations looked to the British to make a final decision on a special 55-nation assembly or a special inquiry commission of the member nations to take up the Palestine case. The British request must be received within a week or such a session might run dangerously close to the regular Assembly set for next September.

3. The working committee of the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission settled down behind closed doors trying to reach unanimous agreement on atomic controls. It also must draft a treaty for the Security Council to consider. (insert)

Raises Veto Total To 11

The veto cast today brought the Security Council's total to eleven since it began work in London in January, 1946. France voted with Russia on one vote in the Franco-Spain case last June.

In the Albanian case, which still remains on the Security Council calendar and will come up again in the near future, Britain brought the formal charge on January 10 that Albania had laid a mine field in the channel between the Greek island of Corfu and the Albanian mainland. The British demanded apologies and compensation from Albania for the damages and deaths.

British Lose In Move

Lake Success, N.Y., March 25 (AP)—Soviet Russia today invoked the veto in the United Nations Security Council to block a majority decision upholding British mine-laying charges against Albania.

This was the first time the veto had been used in the Council since last September 20, when Russia cast it to kill the original United States proposal for an on-the-spot investigation of the Balkan situation.

DAY

The vote was on an amended British resolution which declared that the laying of mines in peacetime, without notification, is "an offense against humanity" and that the mines that damaged two British warships last October 22 and killed 44 men could not have been laid without the knowledge of Albania.

Poland Votes Against

The vote was 7 to 2, with Syria abstaining. The negative votes were cast by Russia and Poland. British Delegate Sir Alexander Cadogan, as a representative of a party to the dispute, was not permitted to vote.

Dr. Oswaldo Aranha, of Brazil, president of the Council, ruled formally that the resolution had been vetoed by Soviet Delegate Andrei E. Gromyko after receiving the minimum affirmative majority of seven votes.

The Balkan Commission proposal, after being vetoed by the Russians last fall, was offered again and finally approved unanimously December 19. (insert)

ATOMIC UNIT GIVEN WARNING BY RUSSIA

Soviet Plan Cannot Be By-passed, Gromyko Declares

Lake Success, N.Y., March 25 (AP)—Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate, warned the working committee of the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission tonight that the delegates could not "by-pass" Russia's proposal for atomic energy control.

Speaking to the delegates at a closed meeting of the committee, Gromyko proposed that they start work again on an atomic control system by taking up the thirteen Soviet proposals he offered in February, which differed widely from the United States plan as adopted by the United Nations Aatomic Energy Commission last December.

Seek Picture As Whole

Paul Hasluck, of Australia; Frederick H. Osborn, of the United States, and Sir Alexander Cadogan, of Great Britain, said they preferred to deal with the whole picture of atomic control instead of taking up the Soviet amendment now.

NIGHT

Gromyko replied that his proposals had not been discussed in the Security Council after he had offered them there; they had not been discussed in the atomic-energy commission when the Security Council sent the problem back to the commission earlier this month; and now some delegates wanted to pass them over again.

He said this could not be done; that if the procedure of taking the problem up as a whole was adopted, it would be without the consent of the Soviet delegation. He asked if this would make agreement on the problem easier.

Reach No Decision

Hasluck and Osborn replied that they had no intention of bypassing the Soviet proposals. They said they merely wanted to look at the whole picture and start from that basis.

The committee, comprising members of the commission sitting as a committee of the whole, adjourned until Monday without a decision.

The delegates have before them the United States plan for atomic control, which would waive any veto on punishment, and the Russian plan, which would ban the atomic bomb immediately by convention, and would provide for controls to be set up by another convention.

U.N. May Hold Early Session On Palestine

M. Harrelson

Lake Success, N.Y., March 25 (AP). A British spokesman said today that a decision would be made within a week on whether Britain would call for a special session of the United Nations Assembly to take up the explosive Palestine issue.

Other informed quarters said a special session undoubtedly would be approved by a majority of the 55 member nations if Britain asked for it.

DAY

London was reported holding up the final decision pending the outcome of conversations between the Foreign Office and the American State Department.

Secretary General Trygve Lie and his top advisers were reported to have come around to the idea that a special session might be the best way to tackle the problem.

If a special session is called, informed quarters said, it would probably be held either in May or June. The main purpose would be to set up a commission to draft a solution to the problem for presentation to the regular meeting in September.

United Nations officials expressed belief that the special session might be a streamlined affair, with only one delegate and a few advisers from each country instead of the large delegations which normally attend.

Faris el Khoury, Syrian delegate to the Security Council and leading spokesman for the Arab states, said he was opposed to calling a special session unless Britain formally laid the problem before the United Nations together with a proposed solution.

If a British request for a special session is received within a week, the meeting could be held about the middle of May at the earliest. Under the rules of procedure a session can be convened no less than 45 days after the time of the original request.

13 Detained After Search Of Town Near Tel Aviv

Jerusalem, March 25 (AP)—Thirteen persons were detained after screening today in a search of Rishon le Zion, near Tel Aviv, by soldiers and police, who cordoned off the town and three suburbs for the operation.

A search also was carried out in the Mea Shearim section of Jerusalem, the Jewish quarter which was recently under martial law, but no one was detained, police said.

Jerusalem, March 25 (AP)—Four alleged members of the Jewish underground went to trial before a military court today on charges of participating in an attack in which part of the Jerusalem railway station was destroyed last October 30.

Meyer Feinstein, 17, youngest of the accused, followed the usual course of defendants in such proceedings by refusing to enter a plea and challenging the jurisdiction of the court on the ground he was a "prisoner of war."

Two of the remaining defendants—Moshe Horowitz, 23, and Masud Butoni, 22—pleaded innocent, but the fourth—Daniel Azulai, 20—requested a one-day adjournment in order to brief a new defense attorney. The request was granted and the trial recessed until tomorrow.

New Parliament Vote Is Forecast

London, March 25 (AP)—Conservative party leaders speculated today—despite Labor denials—that the British Cabinet would dissolve Parliament and call new elections, in seeking to obtain public approval of a broad new program to combat a darkening economic crisis.

Prime Minister Attlee's press officer and the party's press spokesman both described the reports as "wishful thinking."

Conservative and Liberal party newspapers attributed their information to rank and file Laborites in the House of Commons.

A Conservative party spokesman said his party's machine was "operating in high gear" because of what he termed "the likelihood" of new voting. He quoted Winston Churchill, the party leader, as having told his political henchmen that "it is impossible to know" when an election may be arranged.

Conference May 26

Most opposition speculation said the time would be in the summer of 1948 but some usually well-informed sources mentioned this coming summer, suggesting that rank-and-file opinion on an economic program would be sampled first at the Labor party's annual conference May 26.

The party has been conducting "seminars" among the rank and file on foreign policy—a sore point with some left-wing members. Recently it announced plans to set up a chain of some 400 Labor newspapers to combat the predominantly Conservative provincial press.

Attlee prompted a new flood of election reports with a statement in the House of Commons economic debate earlier this month.

Working On 5-Year Plan

"Just because we have not produced a five-year plan does not mean that we aren't working on one," he said. "We are."

Conservative observers noted that any five-year plan instituted soon would be interrupted by the regular election campaign in 1950 unless the voters gave the Government a new five-year lease on life in earlier balloting.

Some suggested that Attlee would arrange a new election not only to seek voters' approval of a plan but also to seek assurance that there would be time to carry it out.

Conservative and Liberal reports alike said a predominant Socialist goal in any early election would be to replace some Labor members of Parliament who have rebelled against some Government policies.

Might Be Worst Year

These unconfirmed reports also took the line that the Government considered it more "advantageous" to go to the polls before 1949 rather than immediately after that year, which, the reports said, might be Britain's worst year financially.

Swept into power in the general elections of 1945, the Labor party ordinarily would not face the voters until 1950.

However, the party in power can force an election at any time merely by resigning and recommending to the King that new elections be held.

General Election Order By Attlee Is Rumored

London, March 25 (AP)—Persistent reports—officially denied—circulated today that Prime Minister Attlee's Socialist Cabinet, facing a darkening economic crisis, planned to dissolve Parliament and order a new general election.

The reports, appearing mostly in Conservative newspapers, were ridiculed by a Labor party spokesman as "wishful thinking." The Prime Minister's office said "there is no truth at all in these rumors."

A Conservative party spokesman, however, said there was "increasing expectation" among Conservatives that a new election would be called. He quoted Winston Churchill, the party leader, as having told party men that "it is impossible to know" when.

Gist Of Reports

The gist of the reports was that Attlee would arrange a vote some time next year—the summer was most frequently named—with these goals in mind:

1. To ask voters' approval for a broad program for economic recovery. The reports had it that Attlee felt he had no mandate from the people for anti-crisis measures he believes necessary.

2. To go to the polls again at "the most advantageous moment." According to this line, 1949 will be Britain's worst year financially, and the Government would fare better in an election held before then. The next general election—as now scheduled—will be held in 1950.

3. To unseat some Labor members of Parliament who have rebelled against the Government's foreign policies.

Government-backed candidates would be entered in the election to oppose them, supporters of this theory argue. They take the line that the Government would be willing to reduce its majority in the House of Commons "because it has proved unwieldly."

BRITAIN PLANNING PHILIPPINE TREATY

May Attack U.S. Pact With Manila At Conference

London, March 25 (AP)—A Foreign Office spokesman disclosed today that Britain is negotiating a friendship treaty with the Philippines.

At the same time it was hinted in a debate in the House of Commons that Britain may attack the recently completed United States-Philippines 25-year preferential trade treaty at the International Trade Conference in Geneva next month.

There was no indication of any connection between the diplomatic negotiations and the trade-treaty discussions, which will be handled by Sir Stafford Cripps, president of the Board of Trade, at a Geneva (Switzerland) meeting beginning April 10.

Observers in London's financial district said the Philippines agreement was one of the chief points on which the United States might be open to attack in any attempt by Washington negotiators to lower or eliminate Britain's empire trade preference system with the dominions.

Bevin May Quit As Foreign Aide

LONDON, March 26 (Wednesday) (AP).—The News Chronicle said today that it was "strongly rumored in high government circles" that Ernest Bevin may resign as Foreign Secretary when he returns from the Moscow conference to take over the job as British production chief.

Douglas Received At Buckingham

LONDON, March 25 (AP).—Lewis W. Douglas, wearing a morning coat and topper, motored to Buckingham Palace in a royal limousine this afternoon to presnt his credentials as United States Ambassador to the Court of St. James's.

In the absence of King George VI, Douglas was received by the Duke of Gloucester and the Princess Royal, members of the Council of State which performs the monarch's duties, The King is in Africa.

The ceremony was finished in a few minutes and, for the first time since October, 1946, when W. Averell Harriman was recalled to become Secretary of Commerce, the United States had an accredited Ambassador in London.

British to Pay for Ships

LONDON, March 25 (AP).—Britain and The Netherlands today signed an agreement providing for a $34,000,000 British payment to Holland for the use by Britain of Dutch merchant vessels during the war.

Food Pact Signed By Britain, Russia

LONDON, March 25 (AP).—Food Minister John Strachey announced tonight the negotiation of Britain's first post-war food agreement with Soviet Russia by which this country will import the equivalent of 10,000,000 cans of red salmon and 2,500,000 cans of crabmeat.

"It is a very small proportion of our total import of salmon," Strachey told a news conference.

BRITAIN NOW SEEKS 30 CONSTELLATIONS

London, March 25 (A. P.).—Official spokesmen said today that the British Cabinet was expected to decide this week whether to buy or hire in the United States a fleet of at least thirty Constellation airliners to maintain Britain's status in international civil aviation.

If outright purchase is decided on, they said, food, tobacco and film imports from the United States would have to be reduced because dollar payment from Britain's dwindling hard currency is called for by American aviation interests. The estimated cost of thirty Constellations was about $30,000,000, the officials said.

Britain now has twelve Boeing Stratosphere airliners on order from the United States at a cost of about $12,000,000, they added.

British Shed Red Coats

London, Wednesday, March 26 (AP)—British infantry soldiers will discard their dress parade "red coats"—traditional since before the days of the American Revolution—for uniforms of green or blue. Scarlet cloth costs more, Frederick Bellenger, War Minister, said today.

300 Palestine Jews Returned

Jerusalem, March 25 (AP)—Three hundred Palestine Jews, who had been mistaken by the British for illegal immigrants and deported to Cyprus, were brought back to the Holy Land today aboard the British transport Empire Lifeguard, a Government source said.

The 235 men and 65 women were sent in busses provided by the Government to their homes in southern Palestine.

It was unofficially reported that 150 other Jews still in detention camps on Cyprus also claimed to be Palestinians and might be brought home later.

Those who arrived today were among 800 persons rounded up by the British March 12, after the refugee ship Susanna, bearing approximately that many uncertified immigrants, had eluded the Royal Navy's blockade and run aground near Gaza, in southern Palestine.

In order to hinder the British search for the immigrants, many legal residents mingled with the newcomers and were taken into custody. The final sorting out was done on Cyprus.

Gruner Proceeding Deferred

London, March 25 (AP)—The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, Britain's highest legal tribunal, deferred for 24 hours today its consideration of a petition for leave to appeal from the death sentence imposed on Dov Bela Gruner, convicted of terrorist action in Palestine.

Constantine Gallop, counsel for the petitioner, Frank Gruner, of New York city, an uncle of Dov Gruner, asked the delay on the ground that another Gruner counsel, Patrick Devlin, was unable to be present. He said he also wanted time to study a previous legal ruling in a case in Palestine which might have a bearing in the case.

Dov Bela Gruner, 33-year-old Hungarian Jew who served for five years in the British Army, was convicted last January under emergency defense regulations on a charge of shooting at a member of the British forces. His sentence set off a series of anti-British incidents in the Holy Land.

Chautemps Guilty, Gets 5 Yrs. for Harmful Acts

PARIS, March 25 (AP).—Camille Chautemps, three times Premier of France, was found guilty in absentia tonight of committing acts harmful to his country's national dignity and was sentenced to five years' imprisonment by a purge court at Versailles.

Chautemps also was sentenced to national indignity for life and all of his property confiscated. He now is residing in the United States.

The former Premier served as Minister of State in the first Government of Marshal Henri Philippe Petain in June, 1940.

In written testimony read into the court record, Sumner Welles, former U. S. Undersecretary of State, declared that Chautemps was "violently opposed" to collaboration between France and Germany.

CHAUTEMPS RAPS VERDICT

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP).—Camille Chautemps, former Premier of France, said tonight, "It is just what I expected," when informed that he had been convicted by the French High Court of Justice of committing acts harmful to his country during the war.

Now living at Chevy Chase, Md., Chautemps was tried in his absence and sentenced to five years imprisonment.

"The judgment of Paris can appear to any impartial man only as a flagrant and scandalous denial of justice," he said.

"The fight for my vindication and my political honor is by no means finished. It is just beginning, and I am confident of its outcome."

Chautemps' statement, running nearly 500 words, was issued within five minutes after word of the Paris verdict was received by cable in this country.

Win Indo-China Clashes

French Take Ninh Binh and Phy Ly on Right Bank of Rouge River

PARIS, March 25 (AP).—French Army dispatches from Indo-China said today that French troops had captured the towns of Ninh Binh and Phy Ly, on the right bank of the Rouge River in the Tonkin delta region north of Haiphong.

A French general staff communique said the two strategic towns were seized from the Viet Namese by separate expeditions on March 23. There was sharp fighting at Ninh Binh, the communique said, but resistance was feeble at Phy Ly, although Viet Namese troops there had dug trenches and laid land mines.

U. S. Artist Holds Preview in Paris

Paris, March 25 (A. P.).—Leslie Lane, 42-year-old Nantucket, Mass., artist, held a preview last night of his collection of seventy-five paintings of the surroundings of thirty-eight American world war II military cemeteries in France, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg and Ireland.

His entire collection of about 100 paintings, made during a twelve-months jeep tour of Europe, will be exhibited here as part of the American observance of Memorial Day.

Russ Near A-Bomb: German Scientist

The account of a German physicist on atomic research in Russia told in the following dispatch is known to British-American military authorities. The scientist declared he "feared the result" if he were publicly identified by name.

Neustadt, Germany, March 25 (AP)—A German atom scientist, who said he recently "escaped" from a Russian Government laboratory in Moscow, asserted today that the Soviet Union is "very near" to developing an atom bomb.

Lifting the curtain on what he described as Russia's "all-out" attempts to match—perhaps better—America's mighty secret, the nuclear physicist said:

"In 3 To 5 Years"

"From what I have seen, I believe Russia will have a bomb similar to the United States within three to five years."

Russia's efforts to harness the atom are "relentless," the scienist declared.

"Her scientists are sweating blood day and night."

The scientist said he returned to Germany "at the risk of his life" and asserted he hoped to go to the United States soon.

Tells "Secrets"

Insisting that he must not be identified by name, the German professor said some of the "secrets" of Russian atomic research were:

1. "At least 200 German scientists and technicians, including some of Germany's foremost nuclear physicists, are working for the Russian Government in a virtual paradise on problems of nuclear fission.

2. More "recruits" are being sought in all zones of Germany, including the American and particularly the Russian, "by Russion officers and by Germans sent back to convince former colleagues a paradise is awaiting them."

3. The German scientists have everything they need for their research—and are treated equally, if not better, than Russian physicists. "They work in Moscow, in the great spaces of southern Russia and in Siberia, beyond the Urals."

4. Rare German cyclotrons and other high-voltage equipment used in atomic and radiation experiments "have been moved from the Russian zone of Germany to the Soviet Union."

5. Some 12,000 engineers and miners, Russian and German, are hunting pitchblende—the source of uranium—in utmost secrecy in Russian-occupied Germany. "If they escape and are caught—they are punished in the Russian way," he said.

Back To Recruit

The German said he worked in Russia many months. He said he was one of several scientists brought back under escort in an attempt to recruit others. He said he escaped "because I was not willing to work in Russia on problems of atomic energy."

"I feel," he said, "that the atom bomb in the hands of the United States is the only means of securing world peace and the freedom of scientists to continue their work in liberty."

Important Equipment

The physicist said he was "deported" from the Russian zone to Moscow late in 1945. Long before that, he asserted, German scientists were "already working in Russia."

"In March, 1945—before the end of the war — valuable German equipment used in nuclear research had already been packed by German scientists who had made up their minds to go to Russia. They left for Moscow right after the Russian occupation," he declared.

"These men," he went on, "have been working on the most important nuclear problems of the present time and they can be a danger to the United States, for they will surely help Russia develop an atom bomb."

The scientist described his life and work in Russia like this:

"A Russian officer came to me one day and said, 'You come to Moscow with us. You know about the atom bomb and have worked on its problems,' I replied, 'No I am not willing to work in Russia.'

Work On Cancer

"I told him I wanted to continue my work with my colleagues on studying the effects of radiation on cancer cells. But the Russians knew I had written some papers on rare elements and they ordered me, 'You come.'

"They promised. 'We give you great institute, we give you plenty of pay, everything you want and Moscow is wonderful.'

"German scientists," he continued, "get everything they want for their work and their personal needs. But in reality, they live in a golden cage.

"You get paid from $14,000 to $36,000 a year.

"They give you big houses and all the personal servants you need. If you want cigarettes, you get all you can smoke. If you want luxury foods, you get them. But you are trapped in the golden cage. You can't leave Russia, for the Russians have a proverb, 'Those who know much are our friends, but those who know too much are our enemies.'"

German scientists, he said, are organized into collectives. Each has his or its own project.

"Some are evolving the 'know-how' of separating the explosive isotope, U-235, from uranium, and others are working on construction of production plants, of the effects of radiation on life and of laying the techniques of the necessary industrial effort," the scientist declared.

The Germans, he said, exchange lectures, telling each other what they are doing.

"They are organized into little universities," he said, "but so far the auditors are German. The Russian scientists are engaged on their own projects. One reason the Germans don't instruct the Russians is the language difficulty.

"I think another reason is that no German scientific worker knows what the total knowledge is. It is like a mosaic. Somebody is collecting all the information and putting each stone into the pattern.

"From the advanced work being done and from what I have seen and heard, I estimate Russia will know how to make an atom bomb within three to five years."

"The German scientists," he said, "get the best and most modern laboratories.

"You say you want more equipment," the German professor continued, "and it arrives immediately. You say, 'I need physicists to work under me'—and you get all the German physicists, specialists and technicians you want. You want pitchblende or refined uranium—and you get it."

Uses Of Atomic Energy

The German physicist said he believed atomic energy could be harnessed easily in Russia, "with its great spaces like the United States, with men, materials, money and the governmental power."

"But," he went on, "scientific research can't be done the way the Russians do it. It seems they have said to Kapiiza (foremost Russian atom specialist), 'Today the Americans have a bomb 1,000 times bigger than that dropped on Hiroshima. Build us a bomb like this quickly.'

"But scientific work needs time and an honorable man can't work the Russian way."

Every Russian general in Germany, he said, "strives hard to bring first-class German nuclear experts to the Soviet Union."

When he returned to Germany, the physicist added, he found great secrecy surrounding Russian efforts to raise uranium from the granite mass of the Erz mountains dividing Saxony from the Sudetenland.

Twelve-foot high fences, he said, have been erected around restricted areas near Schneeberg, where mining is under way in the galleries of old silver mines. Armed guards, he said, patrol the area.

Pitchblende Rumor

"People there told me," he said, "that every day freight cars piled high with little boxes roll out of the area. The Russians spread the rumor they are getting pitchblende. But I don't believe it. Unless all German experts are mistaken, there is no pitchblende on the German side of the mountain."

But across the mountains, near the Czecho-Slovak town of St. Joachimstal, he said, mining was continuing for pitchblende in an area where Pierre and Marie Curie first obtained it for their pioneer work in obtaining radium. The former German director of a large Czech research station near St. Joachimstal, he said, was among the scientists now working for Russia.

Verdict To 'Satisfy Victims' Asked

Nuremberg, Germany, March 25 (AP) — United States Prosecutor Clark Denny today demanded a verdict against Field Marshal Erhard Milch which would satisfy "the ghostly assemblage" of slave labor worked to death and victims who died under medical experimentation.

Concluding the war-crimes trial, Denny told the United States tribunal that the slave labor program of the Third Reich "could not have functioned" without the central planning board—a group of three leaders which included Milch.

To 'Democratize' Schools

A. M. G. Director Tells Germans He Won't "Americanize" Them

WIESBADEN, Germany, March 25 (AP).—Dr. Harry A. Wann, educational director of the American Military Government in Hesse, assured the Germans today that the A. M. G. did not intend to "Americanize" German schools but only to "democratize" them.

In his first press conference since his recent appointment, he told German reporters that the score of American educators recently brought here would consult with Germans about Germany's problems, rather than import their own methods.

Court Rejects Schacht's Plea

STUTTGART, Germany, March 25 (AP).—A Wuerttemberg-Baden appeals court rejected today a petition by Hjalmar Schacht pleading that he was arrested illegally by the Germans after the International Military Tribunal acquitted him on war-crimes charges. The former Finance Minister will be tried by a de-Nazification court April 9.

Wants All Reich To O. K. Treaty

MOSCOW, March 25 (AP).—The United States proposed tonight that the whole German people be required to accept terms of the German peace treaty, and that an advisory peace conference be held by all nations which declared war on the Nazis.

U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall told the four-Power Council of Foreign Ministers that no German government should be saddled with the onus of signing the treaty, but that the German people should agree in their national constitution to accept the terms of the pact.

2 POWERS SUPPORT

Georges Bidault, French Foreign Minister, supported Marshall's proposal that the German people accept the pact, but Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov of Russia and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain voiced at least tentative objections.

Bevin said he doubted the legality of such a clause in the German constitution. Molotov said he would have to consider the proposal further, but that he believed a German government should be required to sign the treaty.

Molotov also suggested that Iran and Albania be allowed to participate in any German peace conference. (Iran declared war on Germany in 1943. Albania was taken over by Italy before the start of the war.)

Marshall said acceptance of the treaty by the German people followed logically from the unconditional surrender imposed on their country.

"If our view prevails, when the Germans accept the constitution they will be obliged to accept the peace settlement," he said. "Then the German people, and not any particular officials or parties, become responsible for acceptance of the constitution and the peace settlement."

Marshall declared that the advisory peace conference should be called by the five major Allies—the United States, China, Russia, Britain and France. All Powers which declared war on the Nazis should have an equal voice at the conference, he added, and "no state that contributed to victory should be denied a voice in the peace."

The Secretary proposed that the four-power Council write the final draft of the treaty, but said the pact should be based on recommendations approved by the peace conference.

Recommendations approved by a two-thirds vote of the peace conference should be given top priority in the final pact, he said, and recommendations which pass by only a simple majority should be "taken into consideration" by the ministers.

Follows Paris Procedure

The same procedure was followed at the Paris Peace Conference and the New York meeting of the four-power Council last year, at which the treaties for Italy and four satellite nations were drafted. However, Molotov declined to be bound by two-thirds decisions of the Paris conference.

Marshall's proposal to admit to the peace conference all states which declared war on Germany would include some Latin American nations which did not participate in the 21-nation Paris conference.

He said some of the Latin American states did not send troops to Europe because they were advised by the big powers that they could make other contributions that would be more useful.

Progress On Austrian Pact

The deputy foreign ministers, meeting today to discuss the proposed Austrian treaty, agreed on six clauses and reached partial agreement on a seventh. This constituted the greatest progress made to date on the Austrian pact.

Feodor T. Gusev, Russian deputy, finally agreed with the western powers to use the word "Nazi' instead of "Fascist" in the pact. Gen. Mark W. Clark pointed out that Russians had referred to certain members of the United States delegation as "Fascists," and objected to the use of the term in the treaty.

Gusev also agreed to a British proposal, previously indorsed by the United States and France, that the Austrian army be limited to 53,000 men.

Treaty For All Germans Urged By Marshall

Moscow, March 25 (AP)—United States Secretary of State Marshall proposed to the Council of Foreign Ministers tonight that the whole German people be required to accept the forthcoming peace treaty, rather than any German government.

DAY

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault supported the American view, but British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said he doubted the legality of such a clause.

Along with this revolutionary proposal, which Marshall said logically followed from the unconditional surrender imposed on the Germans, the American Secretary urged acceptance of a principle that "no state that contributed to victory should be denied a voice in the peace."

Peace-Parley Proposal

He added a proposal that the United States, Russia, Britain and France, along with China, jointly call a peace conference that would have great power in determining the final substance of the treaty.

As the four-power council took up the discussion of procedure for the German treaty, Marshall referred to some Latin-American nations which he said had refrained from sending armed forces into the theater of war on the advice of the major powers because they could contribute more usefully in other ways. These nations, he said, should not be penalized for this.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov urged that Albania and Iran be included among the members of the consultative and information conference that would assist in drafting a preliminary treaty. The question of participation of these two countries was referred to the ministers' deputies.

Conference Decisions

Marshall also urged that, after the peace conference, the Foreign Ministers draft a final treaty for Germany, considering as top priority all recommendations passed by a two-thirds vote of the conference. He asked that note be taken of all other recommendations passed by a majority vote.

Bevin said he doubted the legality of such a clause as Marshall proposed on the German treaty ratification.

Bevin also urged the participation of all powers that had been at war with Germany. He said the Council of Foreign Ministers should not act "in a dictatorial manner" with regard to participation by the smaller countries.

The Soviet Minister held that the German Government should sign the peace treaty.

The session broke up early, without any decision. Members of the Council had been invited to attend a performance of the ballet, top social event thus far of the conference.

"Nazi" Term Accord

Russia agreed today to use the word "Nazi" instead of "Fascist" in the Austrian treaty draft, bowing after a dispute of several months to views of the Western powers.

Feodor T. Gousev, deputy Russian Foreign Minister, agreed to the change suddenly and made several other minor concessions that resulted in four-power agreement on six clauses in the Austrian treatment and one partial agreement on another clause.

This was the most progress made in any one sitting of the Deputy Foreign Ministers preparing the Austrian accord for discussion by their superiors.

Bevin Sees Stalin

Bevin, of Great Britain, talked last night with Prime Minister Stalin, leaving only Secretary of State Marshall of the Big Four Ministers who had not seen the Russian leader. Authoritative informants speculated that Marshall would seek a conference with Stalin when the Council of Foreign Ministers reaches the showdown stage on Germany, unless Stalin should invite him to the Kremlin earlier.

The sudden Russian concessions on the Austrian treaty were not explained, Gousev for months had insisted that outlawed organizations and persons be described as "Fascist."

Clark's Position

Gen. Mark W. Clark, United States deputy and chief spokesman for the Western powers, had pointed out that the Russians called a number of prominent members of American delegations "Fascist." He had objected strongly to the use of "Fascist" in the Austrian treaty. Clark contended that "Nazi" was a much more exact term.

The Russian delegate also agreed to a British proposal that the Austrian Army be limited to 53,000 men, a figure previously approved by the United States and French delegations.

Gousev also agreed that Austria should be denied all weapons adaptable to mass destruction, as defined by the United Nations.

General Treaty Provisions

Other agreements were reached on general treaty provisions for contracts and negotiable instruments, insurance, dissolution of Nazi organizations and the exclusion of Nazis from the Austrian armed forces.

Gousev said the Russians would make new proposals during the day on displaced persons, dealing with the evacuation from Austria of persons of German origin and providing that Austria undertake to evacuate all displaced persons within six months after the treaty was signed.

Marshall-Call Prospects

The chief interest among the American delegation in the Stalin-Bevin meeting last night centered on what Stalin might have told the British Foreign Secretary about American and British policies in Greece and Turkey. There appeared little doubt that the subject was discussed.

The full force of top Soviet reaction to American moves in those countries was expected only when Marshall makes a call at the Kremlin. If and when that happens, it is believed that much plain talk will be heard from both sides.

Statements by Marshall

MOSCOW, March 25 (AP)—The text of Secretary of State Marshall's statement to the Council of Foreign Ministers on a German peace conference:

The American deputy refrained from taking a positive position on the peace conference. He did so not because the United States is not whole-heartedly in favor of a peace conference, but because we thought this matter required the attention of the Ministers.

It is the view of the United States that this Council, with China as a member, should invite all states at war with Germany to a peace conference to consider the draft of a peace settlement as soon as its preparation is sufficiently advanced. It is our view that all these states should be accorded full and equal rights as members of the conference.

At the close of the conference the four members of the Council of Foreign Ministers, which had prepared the preliminary text of the peace settlement, should draft the final text of the settlement on the basis of the recommendations of the peace conference which are supported by a two-thirds vote of those present and voting at the conference, taking into consideration other recommendations which are supported by a majority of those present and voting at the conference.

Signing by All Urged

The final text of the peace settlement, when completed, should be submitted for signatures by all the states at war with Germany.

Responsible representatives of Germany should be given an opportunity to present their views to the conference. Since, however, the Allies required the unconditional surrender of Germany, particular officials should not, in our opinion, be obliged to take upon themselves the burden of signing a settlement or voting for its ratification.

We have suggested that the Allies should require the German constitution to contain a clause which clearly provides that all powers thereunder shall be exercised subject to and in accordance with the peace settlement that may be agreed upon by and between the Allies.

If our view prevails, when the Germans accept the constitution, they will be obliged thereby to accept the peace settlement. Then the German people, and not particular officials or parties, become responsible for the acceptance of the constitution and the peace settlement of the statute.

Role for Smaller States

Secretary Marshall also made the following recommendation for the participation of the smaller Allied states in the peace settlement:

While for practical reasons it may be impracticable to grant all Allies the same degree of participation at every stage, the United States hopes that all states at war, large and small, will be granted some degree of participation at all stages.

The United States supports the view that cooperation of the Allies in the making of the peace should not be less extensive than their cooperation in making war. No state that contributed to victory should be denied a voice in the peace.

For that reason we welcome the French proposal for the setting up of an informational and consultative conference to provide the Allied states with current documentation of the work of the Council, deputies and committees and to afford them the opportunity to comment and offer suggestions on the work of settlement and its progress. There would be no voting in this body. It would provide a channel to keep the Allied states informed of the work of the Council and the Council informed of the views of the Allied states.

In view of the character of the proposed informational and consultative conference, we see no reason why we should not include all the states at war with Germany, and we so urge.

A number of states which declared war against Germany did not contribute armed forces because they were told that they could contribute more effectively in other ways. We do not believe that they should be penalized for taking our advice.

[General Marshall made it clear later that he was referring to Latin American states in connection with the last paragraph of his statement.]

Marshall's Walks Well Attended

Moscow, March 25 (AP)—United States Secretary of State Marshall, who appears to be the only one of the visiting Foreign Ministers who is fond of walking, is creating considerable stir on the Moscow streets with his daily strolls—and the entourage that follows him.

Walking down residential Arbat street with a friend, Marshall is followed by his Soviet guard, who is in turn followed by a group of Americans. The Americans in their turn are followed by some more Russians. A crowd of curious small boys brings up the rear.

The procession usually attracts a large crowd of onlookers.

FRIENDS IN MOSCOW SAVE GREEKS' FETE

Marshall, Bevin Attend Party at Embassy After Going to Ballet as Soviet's Guests

J. Hightower

MOSCOW, March 25 (AP)—Greek Ambassador Athanasios Politis, with a row of medals on his chest and a beaming smile on his face, listened to popping champagne corks and the gay laughter of his guests tonight and thoughtfully decided the day had been saved for Greece.

Secretary of State Marshall and British Foreign Secretary Bevin had joined the Ambassador in toasting Greece on her independence day. Scores of other notables of Moscow diplomatic life had rallied 'round for his party. Parked cars spread for two or three blocks outside his house.

But earlier Mr. Politis probably would not have taken any bets that it would turn out that way. For a while it seemed as if he might have been trapped in a diplomatic conflict between the United States and Russia over Greece—and perhaps he was. At least rumors to that effect were heard in the western delegations at the Foreign Ministers' conference.

Early last week Mr. Politis sent out to conference delegates, the press and the diplomatic corps invitations to attend a party honoring Greece's winning of her independence from Turkey a century and a half ago.

Then, last week-end, the Soviet Government sent invitations to a performance of the ballet "Romeo and Juliet" at the Bolshoi Theatre. Rumors started. By today every diplomatic mission in Moscow was wondering whether the Russians were trying to take the edge off Mr. Politis' party.

Secretary Marshall and Mr. Bevin went to the ballet, and then to the Greek Embassy. Foreign Minister Bidault of France attended the Russians' party, but not the Greek affair.

The United States Ambassador Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, sent regrets on the ballet, saying he had a previous engagement, which was literally true, and went to the Greek Embassy soon after the doors had opened.

Others drifted in during the early evening. Then, when the ballet ended, the crowd really poured in—American, British, French and many others.

General Marshall stayed at the party about an hour—a long time for him at a social function—and Mr. Bevin remained a little longer.

Mussolini Shook in Terror And Babbled as He Died

By George Bria

ROME, March 25 (AP).

BENITO MUSSOLINI, who vain-gloriously urged his countrymen to live like heroes, died a coward, shaking with terror and babbling incoherently, Walter Audisio, tall, dark bookkeeper and the man reputed to have executed him, said today.

Audisio, who was identified last Saturday as Mussolini's slayer and recommended by the Communists for Italy's highest military award, said he would have preferred to have his identity remain secret.

In an interview, Audisio said that when he arrived at the farmhouse near Dongo, he found Mussolini and Claretta Petacci, his mistress, fully dressed and Mussolini pacing the floor.

NIGHT

"Mussolini said in terror, 'What's there?' when I opened the door.

"I said, 'I have come to liberate you.' . . .

"He immediately assumed the tone of Il Duce.

"He said, 'I'll give you an empire.' . . .

"When we got in the car (to drive to the execution spot) Mussolini kept touching his bald head and saying, "They'll recognize me. What shall I do?'

"I told him to cover his head.

"WHEN we got out and I stood him against the wall, he still didn't know what to do.

"When I read him the death sentence in the name of the command of the Volunteers of Liberty, he began to tremble like a sheep and babbled, 'But, but, but, Mr. Colonel.'

"I pulled the trigger of my submachine gun, but it didn't fire. I pulled out a pistol but it caught, too.

"Then I walked 10 yards to where the partisan who accompanied me was standing guard and I took his submachine gun.

"Mussolini didn't try to escape or to attack me. He didn't move. When I returned he was still shaking.

"He died without saying one word to Petacci or trying in any way to save her.

"He died a coward."

AUDISIO said he had no intention of killing Petacci, but she "threw herself in front of him."

Audisio said Petacci kept saying "Mussolini must not die," and was in front of il Duce when Audisio fired five bursts from the submachine gun.

Audisio, who was known in the underground movement as "Colonel Valerio," said he felt "no sorrow" for having killed her. "You can't dramatize the role of this woman. Events were superior to her forces."

The 37-year-old bookkeeper said he had "no reaction" when he received the order to kill Mussolini from the command of the Volunteers of Liberty, a partisan movement, the night of April 27, 1945.

"I am very cold in nature," he explained. "My only thought was to organize the mission and carry it out."

UPON orders of the Volunteers, he also took the two bodies for public view in the square of Milan.

"Fifteen partisans had been killed there on the orders of Mussolini himself," said Audisio, explaining that this public exhibition was ordered so there would be "no doubt" that Mussolini was dead.

He said he did not know that the armistice terms called for Mussolini to be turned over to the Allies.

Duce Died A Coward

Rome, March 25 (AP)—The reputed executioner of Benito Mussolini declared today that "Mussolini died a coward."

"He stood against the wall shaking with terror," said Walter Audisio, 37-year-old bookkeeper, who was identified by the Italian Communist party Saturday as il Duce's killer, and known to the Italian underground as "Colonel Valerio."

"He kept babbling 'but, but, but, but, Mr. Colonel.'

"I killed him with five shots from a submachine gun.

Feels "No Sorrow"

"I had no intention of killing Claretta Petacci," Audisio continued, adding that the woman, Mussolini's mistress, threw herself in front of him to protect il Duce.

"She said, 'Mussolini must not die,'" Audisio declared. "I told her: 'Get out of the way, or I'll shoot you, too.'

"But she kept moving in front of him.

"I feel no sorrow for having killed her, too. You can't dramatize the role of this woman; events were superior to her forces."

Mussolini was slain in Dongo on April 28, 1945.

Put On Display

Audisio said he took the bodies to Piazza Loreto in Milan, where they were exposed to the populace, upon orders of the command of the Volunteers of Liberty (the Partisan movement).

"Fifteen Partisans had been killed there on orders of Mussolini himself," Audisio said.

"This (the exposure of Mussolini's body) was the epilogue of the glorious struggle for resistance. Also, there must be no doubt that he died. We had to prove that.

"He got what he deserved."

Mum On Bodyguard

Audisio is dark, 6 feet tall and wears a small black mustache. He smoked incessantly while being interviewed, but he did not appear nervous. He refused to say whether the Communists have assigned a bodyguard for his protection. The Communist party announcement Saturday said he had been a member of the party since 1931.

"I got the order to kill Mussolini from the command of the Volunteers of Liberty on the night of April 27, 1945," Audisio said. "They were all agreed he should be executed. They shook my hand as I left. I don't remember who was present at the meeting.

"I didn't know that the armistice terms said Mussolini was to be turned over to the Allies."

Award Recommended

Audisio added that "certainly the Allies have never said anything about it since the execution."

The Communist party has recommended that Italy award Audisio the highest military honors and said it was making his identity public to counteract "reactionary newspapers and neo-Fascists who have the effrontery to treat as a criminal act that which was one of the most meritorious actions of which the partisans can boast."

A controversy has been going on as to whether all parties in the Committee of National Liberation for northern Italy were agreed on the execution of il Duce.

"I had no reaction when I received the order to kill Mussolini," Audisio said.

"Trembled And Babbled"

After removing Mussolini and Miss Petacci from the house where he found them, Audisio said he drove them to the execution spot.

Then Audisio stood him against the wall and read the death sentence.

"He began to tremble like a sheep and babbled: 'Ma, ma, ma, ma, Signore Colonello,' Audisio said.

"I pulled the trigger on my submachine gun, but it didn't fire. I pulled out a pistol, but it caught, too.

"Then I walked 10 yards to where the partisan who accompanied me was standing guard and I took his submachine gun.

"Mussolini didn't try to escape or to attack me. He didn't move. When I returned he was still shaking.

"He died without saying one word to Petacci or trying in any way to save her."

Food Ship Hits Mine Off Yugoslavia

Belgrade, March 25 (A. P.).—An official of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration said today that the 7,607-ton American ship St. Lawrence Victory, carrying relief goods to Yugoslavia, had struck a mine off the Dalmatian coast within sight of Dubrovnik and was sinking.

No casualties were reported immediately, but the official said there was danger of losing the entire cargo of 6,500 tons of eating and seed potatoes sent from the United States to stave off hunger in southern Yugoslavia. Aid was reported on the way to the vessel.

CHINA REPORTS DAIREN MOVE

Russia Agrees To Turn Over City, Nanking Says

Nanking, March 25 (AP)—Foreign Office sources today reported Russia has agreed that China take over administration of Dairen, important port city in Manchuria, but gave no date or details.

An informed source in Moscow confirmed that the Soviet Union had agreed to the change, but he said the word transfer was "rather broad."

[In Washington, the State Department—which had urged the transfer in notes both to Nanking and Moscow—said Russia notified the United States she is ready to take "appropriate steps" to turn over Dairen to China. There were no details.]

The August, 1945, Sino-Soviet treaty specified that China should administer Dairen. However, the Russians have continued to occupy the port since they seized it at the end of the war.

Troops Reduced

Months ago, Chinese Government forces moved to within 35 miles of Dairen as they sought to push Chinese Communists out of Liaotung peninsula, but were careful not to provoke any incidents with the Russians in the port city. Later they moved to within about 15 miles of the city, presumably with Russian approval, but continued to headquarters at Pulantien, 35 miles northwest.

A few weeks ago Chinese officials reported the Russians had reduced their Dairen garrison considerably, presumably preparatory to quitting the city. They also revived or made reports from reliable but not quotable sources that the Russians had removed much machinery and other industrial equipment from the port.

Should Be Open Port

The Sino-Soviet treaty stipulated that Dairen should be an open port, but Russia has not opened the city to visitors or commerce. Early this year, a small, unarmed American naval vessel was granted 48 hours in the port on official business, but was given an ultimatum to depart immediately after it overstayed its authorized leave by twenty minutes. The Russians denied an American correspondent and a business man aboard permission to go ashore.

The Chinese have said they repeatedly tried to put the treaty into effect to help restore normal conditions in the Far East, but the Russians declined to co-operate.

Soviet Ready to Quit Dairen

Notifies U. S. of Willingness To Turn Over Port to Chinese Control.

Washington, March 25 (A. P.).—Russia has notified the United States that she is ready to take "appropriate steps" to carry out an agreement to give China control of the Manchurian port of Dairen, the State Department announced today.

The notice was in the form of a Russian reply, dated February 27, to an American note to Moscow and Nanking, dated January 3, expressing hope that the "current unsatisfactory situation" at Dairen could be settled soon.

Through its press officer, Lincoln White, the deaprtment added that the United States in the last few days expressed hope that Russia and China would complete arrangements for the transfer in the near future.

Dairen has been under Soviet military control since the Russians moved into Manchuria in the closing days of the war with Japan. The Chinese and Soviet Governments agreed on August 14, 1945, that control should be turned over to a Chinese administration and the port opened to international commerce. That agreement has never been carried out, however. American citizens have been denied permission to enter Dairen and a United States naval vessel was ordered out of the harbor early this year upon ehr expiration of its authorized leave.

China likewise has replied to the American note. The Chinese expressed agreement with the American view that the transfer would help restore normal conditions in the Far East. They said they had made earnest efforts to put the agreement into effect.

China to Agree To U. S. Talks On Lend-Lease

Will Open Negotiations on Her Balance, Is Shipping Goods to Repay Russia

NANKING, March 25 (AP).—A Foreign Ministry spokesman said today the Chinese government "will agree to open negotiations" with the United States "on the matter of China's lend-lease balance."

The negotiations, spokesman Chang Yuan-hang said, will be conducted through regular diplomatic channels. The United States recently requested action in the matter.

Mr. Chang also said China was continuing regular shipments of tungsten, wool, tea and other products to Russia in repayment for war materials Russia furnished during the early part of the Sino-Japanese war.

Bretton Woods Bill Passed in Australia

Canberra, March 25 (A. P.).—A bill to give effect to Australia's ratification of the Bretton Woods agreement was passed by the Senate today without amendment. The bill went through the House of Representatives last week.

INDONESIAN PACT SIGNED

Dutch And Republic Move May Pave Way For Exports

Batavia, Java, March 25 (AP)—Dutch and Indonesian officials signed the Cheribon agreement today after nineteen months of bloodshed and revolution, possibly paving the way for the export of vast riches bottled up in the East Indies.

A national holiday marked by fireworks displays was proclaimed in Java today, and tomorrow was designated as a day of prayer. Thousands of persons filed through decorated streets in front of Batavia's Rijswijk Palace where the pact was signed.

The Cheribon agreement of last November recognizes the sovereignty of the Indonesian Republic over Java, Sumatra and Madoera. The republic will become a member of the United States of Indonesia, which will have a population of nearly 80,000,000 and include all of the former Netherlands East Indies islands.

The United States of Indonesia will be permanently linked with Holland under the Dutch Crown, and will be granted full independence on January 1, 1949.

Premier Sutan Sjahrir, who signed the accord for the Indonesian Republic, cautioned against the belief that all problems were solved but said the agreement was the "first step" toward complete independence.

He added that doubt and hatred would have to be overcome before complete reconciliation could be reached between the Dutch and Indonesians.

Hubertus J. Van Mook, Acting Governor General of the Netherlands East Indies, hailed the end of "times of quarreling negotiations," and said the Indonesian nation had become an "organized reality."

Guarantees Their Return

The agreement guaranteed that non-Indonesians could return to their property, including large plantations many of which had been seized by the republic.

Dutch officials were optimistic that an economic agreement would be reached permitting the export of huge stocks of sugar, rubber, cinchona (quinine) and sisal (hemp) bottled up within territory held by the republic.

U.S.-Of Indonesia Plan Signed

Batavia, Java, March 25 (AP)—The long-delayed agreement ending the 19-month-old Indonesian revolution and establishing a master plan for a United States of Indonesia was signed today by a Netherlands commission general and a delegation for the Indonesian Republic.

Restoration of all property owned by non-Indonesians inside the republic was guaranteed by the agreement.

Hundreds of Dutch and Indonesians lined garlanded streets outside the white-porticoed Rijswijk Palace as William H. C. Schermerhorn, Dutch commissioner for the Netherlands East Indies; Premier Sutan Sjahrir of the Indonesian Republic, and other members of the two delegations affixed their signatures to the historic agreement.

The entire diplomatic corps was present.

DAY

Full Independence In 1949

The agreement recognized the republic's de facto sovereignty over Java, Sumatra and Madoera. Under it, the republic agreed to become a member of the Federal United States of Indonesia, which will have a population of nearly 80,000,000 and embrace all of the former Netherlands East Indies.

The state of East Indonesia—including all that part of the Netherlands East Indies east of Borneo and Java, except New Guinea, and including Bali, Celebes and Dutch Timor—and the projected state of Borneo will be equal partners with the republic in the U.S.I. and will be permanently linked with Holland in the Netherlands-Indonesian union under the Dutch crown.

The United States of Indonesia, under the agreement, is to be granted full independence on January 1, 1949, at which time the Netherlands will propose the new nation for membership in the United Nations.

Until that time, the republic will hold de facto sovereignty over its areas, while the Dutch will retain sovereignty de jure over the Netherlands East Indies, which has been a Dutch colony for 350 years, one of the richest colonial empires in the history of the world.

Japs Told U.S. Will Fight 'Ruthless Political Communism'

Tokyo, Wednesday, March 26 (AP). The United States will fight communism which is "purely political and ruthlessly aggressive" anywhere in the world, Lieut. Col. Pieter Roest, chief of supreme headquarters' political affairs division, told the Japanese at a press conference yesterday.

Colonel Roest declared the United States would combat this type of communism, just as it had nazism and fascism and Hideki Tojo's Japan.

"America is predominantly capitalistic," he said, "but it sees no threat in Britain's socialism of coal mines or in Sweden's co-operative industry, or in Russia's state commerce or in the communistic way of life of many religious orders.

Rigged Elections

"But it is deeply concerned about the political system under which these various economic orders operate and it abhors to see democracy destroyed in country after country by 'rigged' elections, by stifling the voice of the people who protest, by all the high handed and violent methods by which one-party control is established and perpetuated.

"It is this anti-democratic, purely political, ruthlessly aggressive communism that America will fight anywhere in the world as it had to fight nazism and fascism and Tojo's Japanism.

Roest said democracy at present faced its greatest crisis after a global war which broke the might of three rapidly expanding dictatorships.

Democracy, he added, "now faces the subtler, but equally destructive onslaught of its 'fifth column'—the enemy who seeks to destroy democracy in the name of democracy itself."

Roest declared that democracy's life depended upon free, universal suffrage and representative government, which could be dismissed at the will of the people.

New Blow Struck At Jap Monopolies

Toyko, March 25 (AP) — Allied headquarters struck another blow today at what it terms monopolistic companies, ordering the Japanese Government to assume actual operation of properties of the International Telecommunications Company, Ltd., as rapidly as possible.

The company at its peak had huge investments in Korea, Formosa, Mongolia, Manchuria, central China, Netherlands East Indies, Singapore, Hong Kong, Hainan and Palao.

The company also held half interests in the Japan Telegraph and Telephone Construction Company, Ltd., which enjoyed a monopoly on Government construction, and in the Japan Submarine Cable Company, Ltd.

Jap War Trial Procedure Revised

Tokyo, March 25 (AP)—A drastic revision in procedure giving judges of the international military tribunal the right to pass in advance on testimony of all future witnesses was ordered today over protests of counsel for 26 Japanese wartime leaders on trial.

The tribunal ordered a recess until April 6 for the defense to meet the condition that henceforth copies of affidavits of all witnesses must be submitted to the judges three days in advance.

The prosecution will be permitted to continue extemporaneous cross-examination and the defense may conduct verbal redirect examination.

DAY

Most of the American attorneys agreed that more control must be exercised over statements by witnesses, but defense attorney Owen Cunningham, of Des Moines, Iowa, protested vigorously.

Took Dead's Clothing, Witness Testifies

Yokohama, March 25 (AP)—Prisoners aboard an ice-covered Japanese hellship took clothing from the dead in a desperate effort to fight off cold, a survivor testified today in the trial of nine Japanese accused in the death of 1,300 men on the nightmare voyage.

Fred C. Threatt, of Minden, La., said he had only his underclothes and that the icy weather forced him to take a shirt from a dead man.

Less than 300 of 1,619 Allied prisoners completed the voyage from Manila to Japan. The nine Japanese are accused of responsibility for beheadings and deaths from crowding into holds, and lack of food, water and medical attention.

Threatt said he was wounded when Allied planes attacked during the voyage. His shoulder wound was not given attention until four days after the ship docked at Formosa, he said.

Threatt was taken prisoner while a civilian employé in the Philippines.

Pearl King Wants to See U. S.

TATOKU ISLAND, Japan (AP)—Spry, old Kokichi Mikimoto, king of the cultured pearl industry, has received orders from U. S. Army post exchanges for 50,000 strands of pearls this year, or 20,000 more than he sold in his biggest prewar year. Though he is 88 years old, he says that when America is opened to Japanese again, "Mikomoto will be the first one in."

Filipino Denies Assassin-Try Charge

Manila, March 25 (AP) — Julio Guillen, Manila barber held for the attempted grenade assassination of President Manuel A. Roxas two weeks ago, pleaded innocent to charges of murder and multiple attempted murder. The charges were filed today after a Government alienist reported the prisoner sane.

Roxas escaped injury but another man was killed. Five others were wounded.

The plea was entered by the court despite the 50-year-old defendant's protest that he needed more time to explain properly why he had tried to kill the President.

NINE ON ARMY PLANE SURVIVE CRASH LANDING

Helicopter Takes Men From Remote Newfoundland Plateau To Hospital

Stephenville, Newfoundland, March 25 (AP)—All nine crewmen of a United States Army C-54 transport plane which pancaked atop a 1,500-foot plateau 25 miles south of here Sunday, were found safe today. Five already were in a Stephenville hospital for rest and observation.

The five—including the only injured man among them—were flown by helicopter to Harmon Field here. Authorities said the other four would be in the hospital in a few hours. All were shaken up by the crash landing.

An air search party under direction of Capt. Warren Hamilton, of Upland, Cal., spotted the survivors yesterday walking near the wreckage.

NIGHT

Rescue Delays

Ground search parties set out at once, but faced extremely rugged terrain and a hard four-mile climb to the plateau.

However, the helicopter, flown from Floyd Bennett Field, N.Y., bridged the gap. The craft, piloted by United States Coast Guardsman Walter Bolton, of Milton, Mass., took the survivors from the plateau in relays.

The injured man, whose name was withheld here pending notification of relatives, suffered only minor hurts, authorities said. (He was identified at Westover Field, Mass., as Staff Sergeant William Brotzman, radio operator, of Warner Robin Field, Macon, Ga.).

The C-54 was en route from Westover Field, Mass., to Stephensville when it ran into trouble over wild terrain just a few miles from the scene of the crash on an American overseas airliner last fall which killed 39 persons.

All 9 In C-54 Crash Alive, Says Army

Westover Field, Mass., March 25 (AP)—All nine persons aboard an army C-54 transport which crashed Sunday on a Newfoundland plateau are alive and only one was injured, the Army reported today.

The one injured man has been flown by helicopter to Harmon Field, near the crash scene, and the other survivors will be flown to Harmon Field in relays because of rough terrain which prevents full loading of the rescue plane.

Radioman Injured

Capt. Theodore Wood, public relations officer, identified the injured crewman as Radioman S/Sergt. William Brotzman, stationed at Warner Robins Field, Macon, Ga.

Captain Wood said Brotzman was loaded aboard the helicopter in a litter but that Harmon Field Hospital reported he was not seriously injured.

DAY

He said the helicopter reached the downed crewmen at 7.15 A.M. (Newfoundland time).

Ground Crews Push On

As the plane circled for its rescue mission, ground crews labored to reach a 1,500-foot high plateau 25 miles south of Stephenville, Newfoundland.

The crew who dismantled the helicopter and then flew to Harmon Field and reassembled it, included James Boone, AMM first class, of Baltimore.

The rescue parties set out at midnight last night in two boats to cross St. Georges Bay to the fishing village of St. Teresa, twelve miles away.

Facing Four-Mile Climb

After landing, the parties still had a hard four-mile overland climb to the plateau where the survivors of the crash are awaiting aid.

There are no roads on the plateau. The area is only four miles from a railroad, but is isolated by cliffs and thick woods.

The C-54, which was en route from Westover Field, Mass., to Stephenville when it crashed, was spotted by search planes yesterday. The transport appeared to be little damaged, and four or five persons were seen walking near the wreck.

The crash occurred only a few miles from the scene of the wreck of an American overseas airliner last fall in which 39 died.

Army Announces Names

The nine aboard and the addresses of their next of kin, as announced by the United States Army Air Force headquarters in Washington:

Capt. Clyde C. Angley, pilot, Macon, Ga.

Lieut. Col. Maxwell W. Roman, copilot, Chevy Chase, Md.

First Lieut. Arthur Shay, navigator, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Mast. Sergt. Marion E. Oberhelman, engineer, Parkville, Mo.

Staff Sergeant William M. Brotzman, radio engineer, Macon, Ga.

Capt. Patrick J. Hunes, Arlington, Va.

First Lieutenant James B. Deas, Washington, D.C.

Second Lieutenant Richard E. Hummel, St. Paul, Minn.

Chief Warrant Officer Earl M. Gay, Northumberland, Pa.

End Search for Plane, 3 Men

GOOSE BAY, Labrador, March 25 (AP).—Organized search for a United States Army plane and three airmen, missing for a fortnight, has been abandoned, officials announced tonight. The three men, Lieutenant Edward Teague, of Bossier City, La.; Lieutenant William Haemker, of Lewell, Ind., and Sergeant Patrick Hayes, of Green Bay, Wis., disappeared on a flight to Goose Bay from Cape Harrison, 150 miles away.

Truman Asserts U.S. Policy Is to Strengthen the U.N.

Sends Message to Trygve Lie—Austin Will Talk to Security Council Friday About Greco-Turk Situation.

Washington, March 25 (A. P.).—President Truman said today that "the United States, in all its acts, seeks to add strength to the United Nations and to give effect to the principles and purposes of the United Nations charter."

DAY

Mr. Truman made the statement in a message to Trygve Lie, Secretary General of the U. N., on the anniversary of the international organization's first meeting in the United States. It took on more than routine significance, however, because of his proposal to help Greece and Turkey resist communist aggression.

Only a few hours before the White House made the message public, Warren Austin, American representative to the U. N., announced after a conference with Mr. Truman that he will make a statement to the U. N. Security Council Friday on the Greek and Turkish situations.

Leaving the President's office, Austin told reporters:

"I am going to make a statement in the first meeting that the Security Council holds after my return to New York. I can only say that it will deal thoroughly with the item in our Security Council business which relates to disturbances on the northern border of Greece."

He nodded affirmatively when asked whether he would include the Turkish problem.

30. 24- 8739

One of the key issues which has developed in Congress over President Truman's proposal for $400,000,000 in aid to Greece and Turkey is whether such action would in effect by-pass the United Nations.

2 Senators Offer New Plan.

Senators Pepper (D.-Fla.) and Taylor (D.-Idaho), who contend that it would, proposed today an alternate plan for aid to Greece through the United Nations. Under their measure, the United States would advance $250,000,000 to the Greeks through U. N., but give no aid to Turkey. A companion measure was introduced in the House by Representative Blatnik (D.-Minn.).

There have been frequent reports on Capitol Hill that the United States was considering offering an explanation of its position to the United Nations. In his message to Congress the President said that the urgency required that the United States act at once, since he expressed the view that the United Nattions was not yet ready to cope with the situation.

Austin, choosing his language carefully, did not say that he would talk directly to the U. N. about the proposal Mr. Truman has put before Congress.

On Capitol Hill:

1. Representative Eaton (R.-N. J.), chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said he did not believe Congress could pass on the aid bill by March 31 and urged a $100,000,000 stop-gap advance to Greece.

2. Under-Secretary of State Clayton hinted that the State Department hopes Moscow will lift pressures off Turkey if Congress votes $400,000,000 for Greek-Turkish aid.

A March 31 deadline has been set for action on the President's request because that is the date when Great Britain is ending her aid to Greece.

Eaton told the newsmen after a committee meeting with Lincoln MacVeagh, United States Ambassador to Greece: "We can't get it through by that date."

He said he did not know who would introduce the stop-gap loan proposal, which would authorize the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to make a $100,000,000 advance. Eaton and other members declined to divulge the nature of MacVeagh's testimony.

Clayton was testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and in response to a question from Senator Hickenlooper (R.-Iowa) said that if the program is carried out, it is hoped that Turkey's need to keep an army ready for action, will disappear and she can devote a greater amount of her revenue to domestic rather than military uses.

Hickenlooper's question was along a line of other Congress members are asking: How far would the policy back of the Greek-Turkish aid lead? Would other nations need help? Would more have to be voted for the Greeks and Turks after the $400,000,000 was spent? Specifically, he wanted to know how, if Turkey can't support herself now, how can she hope to do so in the future.

At one point in a lengthy session with the Senators, Clayton said he believes world peace depends to a great extent on the preservation of the independence of sovereign nations throughout the world. That comment came when Senator George (D.-Ga.) remarked that implications of the proposed aid for Greece and Turkey appeared to go much further than simply helping them.

Issue of a Power's Expansion.

George said that as he saw it the United States must face the fact that "there is a great Power in Europe that is engaged in a great program of expansion." If the United States does not develop a positive program against that policy of expansion, he added, "it will run its course." He went on to say that almost any one would concede the need of Greece for relief aid. But he observed that President Truman's proposal appears to go much further than that.

"Isn't this just one phase of the big program?" he asked.

Clayton replied with the observation about world peace depending upon the preservation of the independence of sovereign nations. He added specifically as to Greece and Turkey:

"I think if we have disintegration in these two countries (Greece and Turkey), they run a great danger of losing their integrity and independence, which I think would be a great blow to the peace of the world."

George, saying the issue is one of "throwing up a barrier against further expansion," said a big question seems to be this: "Whether or not when we put into operation forces against this expanding program, the other peace minded countries may not care to take their stand by our side, and aid in checking this expansion, which might not stop at any ocean barriers."

U.S. Greek Aid Statement To U.N. Slated

Washington, March 25 (AP)—Warren R. Austin, American representative to the United Nations, disclosed after a conference today with President Truman that he will make a statement to the United Nations Security Council Friday on the Greek and Turkish situations.

Leaving the President's office, the former Republican Senator told reporters:

"I am going to make a statement in the first meeting that the Security Council holds after my return to New York.

"I can only say that it will deal thoroughly with the item in our Security Council business which relates to disturbances on the northern border of Greece."

To Include Turkey

Austin nodded affirmatively when asked whether he would include the Turkish problem.

One of the key issues which has developed in Congress over President Truman's proposal for $400,000,000 in aid to Greece and Turkey is whether such action would in effect bypass the United Nations.

Senators Pepper (D., Fla.) and Taylor (D., Idaho), who contend it would, proposed today an alternative plan for aid to Greece through the United Nations. Under their measure, the United States would advance $250,000,000 to the Greeks through the United Nations but give no aid to Turkey.

A companion measure was introduced in the House by Representative Blatnik (D., Minn.).

Capitol Hill Explanation

There have been frequent reports on Capitol Hill that the United States was considering offering an explanation of its position to the United Nations.

In his message to Congress, the President said that the urgency required that the United States act at once since he expressed the view that the United Nations was not yet ready to cope with the situation.

Austin, choosing his language carefully, did not say that he would talk directly to the United Nations about the proposal Mr. Truman has put before Congress.

Urges Stopgap Aid

On Capitol Hill:

1. Representative Eaton (R., N.J.), chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said he did not believe Congress could pass on the aid bill by March 31 and urged a $100,000,000 stopgap advance to Greece.

2. Under Secretary of State Clayton hinted that the State Department hopes Moscow will lift pressure off Turkey if Congress votes $400,000,000 for Greek-Turkish aid.

A March 31 deadline has been set for action on the President's request because that is the date when Britain is ending her aid to Greece.

Eaton told newsmen following a committee meeting with Lincoln MacVeagh, United States Ambassador to Greece:

"We can't get it through by that date."

For 100 Million Advance

He said he did not know who would introduce the stop-gap loan proposal, which would authorize the RFC to make a $100,000,000 advance.

Eaton and other members declined to divulge the nature of MacVeagh's testimony.

Clayton was testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and in response to a question from Senator Hickenlooper (R., Iowa) said that if the program is carried out, it is hoped that Turkey's need to keep an army ready for action will disappear and she can devote a greater amount of her revenue to domestic rather than military uses.

Only "Potential Aggressor"

While Clayton did not mention Russia, Under Secretary Dean Acheson has testified that Turkey needs help because she must maintain a large army. Acheson also said that, so far as he knew, the only "potential aggressor" against Turkey was Russia.

Hickenlooper's question was along a line other Congress members are asking: How far would the policy back of the Greek-Turkish aid lead? Would other nations need help? Would more have to be voted for the Greeks and Turks after the $400,000,000 was spent?

Specifically, he wanted to know how, if Turkey can't support herself now, can she hope to do so in the future.

Links Peace, Independence

At one point in a lengthy session with the senators, Clayton said he believes world peace depends to a great extent upon the preservation of the independence of sovereign nations throughout the world.

That comment came when Senator George (D., Ga.) remarked that implications of the proposed aid for Greece and Turkey appeared to go much further than simply helping them.

George said that as he saw it the United States must face the fact that "there is a great power in Europe that is engaged in a great program of expansion."

Urges "Positive Program"

If the United States does not develop a positive program against that policy of expansion, he added, "it will run its course."

The Georgia Senator went on to say that almost anyone would concede the need of Greece for relief aid. But he observed that President Truman's proposal appears to go much further than that.

"Isn't this just one phase of the big program?" he asked.

Clayton replied with the observation about world peace depending upon the preservation of the independence of sovereign nations.

William C. Bullitt, former ambassador to Moscow, had told the House Committee on Un-American Activities he believed that if Russia had the atomic bomb that country would have attacked the United States by now.

Taft For Plan, Conditionally

Mr. Truman's proposal picked up influential support when Senator Taft (R., Ohio) indicated in an interview that he would back it although with some reservations.

Taft said that if he supports Mr. Truman's program, he wants to be certain the State, War and Navy departments "don't work at cross purposes" in handing out supplies and technical advice to the two countries.

"There should be a five-man commission on the ground to direct all of the activities," he said. "Where you have two or three Government departments engaged in the same project, you always have a mess unless there is some directing authority."

Clayton was called before the Senate committee to discuss economic phases of the proposal. As he did yesterday to the House Foreign Affairs Committee, he explained that most of the $100,000,000 intended for Turkey would go for military assistance.

Estimates Breakdown

Of the $300,000,000 for Greece, he estimated $150,000,000 would be needed for military requirements, $80,000,000 for internal economic costs, $20,000,000 for livestock and agricultural rehabilitation, and $50,000,000 in foreign exchange to pay for goods or services brought in from abroad.

He said it is hoped this will put Greece into an economic situation so much better that she can seriously be regarded as a possible borrower from the World Bank.

Clayton said the civilian mission names in mind and would have no objection to a requirement that the choice for head of the mission must be approved by the Senate.

BENDER CRITICAL OF TRUMAN MOVES

Washington, March 25 (A. P.).—"The time has come," Representative Bender (R.-Ohio) said today, "for Congress to tell our War and Navy departments and President Truman that only Congress has the power to declare war."

Bender made the suggestion in a speech prepared for delivery in the House. He also criticized the Navy for sending ships to the Mediterranean and asked the State Department for answers to four questions on the proposed loan to Greece:

1. "What do the words 'advisor' and 'advice' cover?

2. "Will our advisors direct the activities of the Greek Army?

3. "What have been the British casualties in Greece in the last two years?

4. "If we grant this power requested by the President, do we by implication grant authority to send American military missions anywhere in the world at the discretion of the President?"

Bender asked what Russia thinks of the ships recently sent to the Mediterranean, and added: "I personally don't like, and I resent the waste involved for the American taxpayers for these belligerent, nonsensical, foolish displays of military power."

Petition Opposes Sending Army Goods

Washington, March 25 (A. P.).—A petition signed by 100 citizens of Columbia, Mo., expressing disapproval of sending any military supplies to Greece and Turkey, has been received by Representative Max Schwabe (R.-Mo.).

Schwabe said the petition added, however, that the signers had no objection to sending economic help to the two countries.

Women Paraders Protest

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP).—A protest demonstration against President Truman's proposed aid plan for Greece and Turkey was carried out today by several hundred women paraders from the New York area.

They said they represented the Congress of American Women, and described themselves as affiliated with 81,000,000 women of the Women's International Federation.

Among the banners they carried from Union Station to Capitol Hill were some reading "Mothers and wives reject proposals that lead to new world conflict," "What did Turkey do to win the war?" and "Unity in United Nations."

The group, said by Mrs. Bert Sigrid, of Brooklyn, executive secretary of the Brooklyn chapter, to number 400 women from New York, Brooklyn and the surrounding area, was led by Mrs. William Howard Melish, president of the Brooklyn chapter.

Among the organizations listed as being represented were American Committee for Greek Democracy, American Labor party, American Veterans Committee, American Youth for Democracy, Jewish War Veterans, National Maritime Union and National Negro Congress.

Landon Supports Truman On Plan to Aid Greece

TOPEKA, Kan., March 25 (AP).—Alfred M. Landon, Republican Presidential candidate in 1936, said tonight this country had never made a more fateful decision than that announced in President Truman's message on aid to Greece.

Declaring that policies the President proposed were too big for partisanship, Mr. Landon said he was supporting the President's request without any strings attached.

Addressing an annual meeting of Kansas book dealers, Mr. Landon hit at what he termed the "too apparent feeling of inferiority of the mighty American people which too often underlies our great country's relations with other nations."

Mr. Landon declared "there can be little doubt that the same debate has been going on in the Kremlin that went on in the Reichchancellery under Hitler. That is, how far should Russia go, by striking while the iron was hot, or whether to stop and consolidate her gains."

Mr. Landon asserted the actions of the Soviet Union "threaten the independence and political integrity of all nations."

Herbert Hoover Says Stalin Could Lift Much Misery'

New York, March 25 (AP)—Herbert Hoover told a Greek War Relief dinner tonight that a large part of the "chaos and misery" in Greece "could be lifted by one man in the world if he is willing," adding:

"That man is Marshal Joseph Stalin."

"It is within his power," continued the former President, "to stop the aggressive war in the form of guerrilla raids from Yugoslavian, Bulgarian and Albanian territory.

"It is within his power to see that the Communist bands in Greece stop killing and abide by constitutional means to express their views.

"That Would Bring Peace"

"That would bring peace to Greece. Then American aid could be devoted to restoring productivity of the Greek people instead of our wasting our generosity on military equipment."

Hoover, speaking before members of the Federation of Hellenic Societies of Greater New York, gathered to observe the one hundred and twenty-sixth anniversary of the independence of Greece from Turkey, did not mention directly President Truman's $400,000,000 program of aid to Greece and Turkey.

However, he remarked that "America has shown its constant solicitude" for Greece "and has given generously both private and governmental aid. We propose to continue to do so."

Praises Greek Ideals

The former President, whose address was broadcast, paid high tribute to the Greek people, asserting "there is no race that has fought so persistently for these ideals and so valiantly held aloft the torch of freedom."

But the nation emerged "exhausted" after the recent war, Mr. Hoover said, adding "nor has the attack upon her independence and her internal freedoms yet ended."

Referring to the Greek War Relief Association's current drive for $12,000,000, Mr. Hoover said, "the generous appropriation of our Government serves to provide the bare necessities of life and defense. It remains for private charity to aid in stamping out the ravages of malaria and tuberculosis, to restore the subnormal children, to provide shelter and to care for the multitude of orphans."

symptoms of standing our ground there have been loud cries that we better not 'get tough' lest some other nation get angry at us.

"We are possessors of the 'big stick' but I sometimes feel we speak too softly. Only if we encourage the American people to awaken to their full strength can we expect our statesmen to speak with full voice."

SENATE GIVES IRO APPROVAL

O.K.'s Bill Authorizing U.S. To Join Refugee Aid Unit

Washington, March 25 (AP)—The Senate approved legislation today authorizing the United States to join the International Refugee Organization and to spend $75,000,000 for the care of displaced persons.

Before passing the measure on a voice vote and sending it to the House, the Senate adopted an amendment specifying that participation in the relief program set up by the United Nations may in no way lower this country's immigration barriers.

In urging this policy, Senator Revercomb (R., W.Va.) told his colleagues "we must protect this country from communism."

Economy Seen

The vote for United States membership in the IRO came after Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told the Senate this would lead to a "very substantial economy."

The Michigan Senator said America's share of the cost of IRO during the fiscal year starting July 1 amounts to $75,000,000, or $55,000,000 less than the United States is spending in fiscal 1947 to care for 588,000 displaced persons in Germany and Austria.

The present American program is being handled jointly by the Army, UNRRA, and in inter-governmental committee on refugees.

Vandenberg said that with UNRRA about to close up shop, the only alternative to United States membership in IRO would be for the Army to administer the United States program alone at a cost of about $100,000,000.

All members of the United Nations are eligible to join the IRO. Vandenberg estimated that fifteen to twenty will do so, but said he did not expect Russia or any of its associated states to come in.

Vandenberg Says IRO May Save U.S. Millions

Washington, March 25 (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) told the Senate today that American participation in the International Refugee Organization would save the United States $55,000,000 in the care of displaced persons.

Opening debate on a resolution authorizing this country to join the IRO, Vandenberg said the cost to the United States under the present program—administered jointly by the Army, UNRRA and an intergovernmental committee on refugees—amounts to $130,000,000 for fiscal 1947.

This program, the Michigan Senator added, provides care for 588,000 displaced persons and refugees in Germany and Austria.

Substantial Saving

"Under the IRO, our share of the cost would be a maximum of $75,000,000," Vandenberg said. "Thus at the outset we are confronted with a very substantial economy."

The IRO was created by the United Nations. All member nations are eligible to join. Vandenberg told the Senate that fifteen to twenty are expected to do so.

He said the "only alternative" to American participation is for the Army to handle the American program alone, since UNRRA is about to expire.

Army Estimates Cost

The Army has estimated, Vandenberg said, that it could not administer the program for less than about $100,000,000.

Senator Revercomb (R., W.Va.), declared Congress should keep immigration bars in place when authorizing United States membership in the IRO.

Joining Not Opposed

Revercomb did not oppose United States participation in I.R.O., but said he fears an effort will be made to shunt some of the displaced persons to the United States without further authorization.

Vandenberg assured Revercomb that the Foreign Relations Committee is anxious to prevent that, and believed it had done so by an amendment written to the resolution.

That amendment specifies that the resolution is not to be construed as authorizing any emergency admission of refugees to the United States or as abrogating any United States law.

Ike, Spaatz Ask Congress Pass Merger Bill

Washington, March 25 (AP)—Two of the nation's top military leaders today urged Congress to enact legislation unifying the armed services, saying, "there is no such thing as a separate land, sea or air war."

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Army's chief of staff, and Gen. Carl Spaatz, top Air Force officer, told the Senate Armed Services Committee that the co-operation of all branches—Army, Navy and Air Force—"must be closely integrated" to insure victory in any global conflict.

Spaatz testified that the unification bill is the only method to obtain a single command with proper use of air power for national defense and future war.

Coequal Status

The measure would raise the air force to coequal status with the Army and Navy, with all three functioning under a single Cabinet secretary of national defense. Each branch would be administered separately under a secretary for each, but they would not have Cabinet status.

Eisenhower sought to quiet expressed fears of concentration of authority in one man after Senator Bridges (R., N.H.) asked whether the proposel secretary of national defense would "not have the power of a czar."

"We have Congress and we have the President," Eisenhower said. "Our system of checks and balances on this fellow will keep him from doing too much. There may come a time when you want him to do more."

Medical Provisions

Saying that a national shortage of doctors would be a grave problem if global war strikes, the General told the committee that a bill would be presented to build up the army medical service.

In such a conflict, he said, the medical service should answer to one man and he would have "as big a responsibility in keeping Chicago and Gary, Ind., healthy as the soldier in the front line."

He said he had "enlisted everybody's help I could think of" to build up the medical service. He disclosed that he had discussed with the Veterans Administration only today the possibility of combining the VA and Army Medical Corps.

Eisenhower testified that a detailed presidential order for unification is already prepared and wants only congressional approval of basic legislation.

He said this order was "agreed upon" as part of the Army-Navy compromise that produced the present legislative plan for a single department.

Questions by Senator Byrd (D., Va.), who has been critical of the merger legislation, disclosed existence of the proposed presidential order.

Copy Is Provided

Chairman Gurney (R., S.D.) immediately called for a copy, and Eisenhower, after conferring with Admiral C. W. Nimitz and Under Secretary of War Royall, produced a copy.

Eisenhower said he has no objection to its publication, and Nimitz and Royall agreed.

Although details of the executive order were not made public immediately, Eisenhower assured Byrd that it protects both the Marine Corps and naval air power.

The order simply listed functions of the different armed services.

Stresses Flexibility

The Army Chief of Staff said unification would provide flexibility now lacking to "balance the security forces against world conditions."

Under present world conditions, Eisenhower said, he does not believe any of the services "are a single man too strong."

Byrd suggested that definite functions of the Army, Navy, Air Forces and Marine Corps be spelled out in the legislation.

"I would object to freezing everything," Eisenhower replied.

The General explained that "basic" functions are contained in the pending bill. He suggested that definite details be left to the proposed new overall Secretary of National Defense.

Washington, March 25 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today that no country at present "would deliberately provoke war."

The Chief of Staff told a National Press Club luncheon, however, that there always exists the possibility of an incident precipitated by some "immature nation."

(D., Tenn.) emphasized this contention as Senator Hickenlooper (R., Iowa), chairman of the Senate's special Atomic Committee, urged confirmation of Lilienthal and five others to the control agency.

Hickenlooper read extracts from the public hearings to show Lilienthal had conferred often with General Groves and other military aides.

New Proposal Gives Marshall Atomic Energy Control Post

Washington, March 25 (AP)—A plan to put Gen. George C. Marshall, Secretary of State, at the head of a board to control atom energy was proposed today by five senators, one of whom said it would strengthen Marshall's hand in dealing with totalitarianism.

The proposal was made as the Senate debated the question of confirming David E. Lilienthal to head the civilian Atomic Energy Commission.

The new plan would scrap this commission and replace it with a board consisting of Marshall, the secretaries of War and Navy and two civilians to be named by the President.

"5 Minutes Past Midnight"

Sponsors of the bill are Senators Ecton (R., Mont.), Malone (R., Nev.), McCarthy (R., Wis.), Overton (D., La.) and Elmer Thomas (D., Okla.).

Ecton said:

"It looks like the State Department is going to get tough—so let's give them the means to get real tough.

"I'm a fellow who likes to get along with people, but if somebody doesn't want to get along with me—well, I sure don't want to disappoint him."

"It's about five minutes past midnight," Ecton added cryptically.

Lilienthal Moves Debated

He told the Senate "many of us have felt that perhaps it would take a little more than just American dollars to stop totalitarianism. We think General Marshall's hand ought to be strengthened in other ways."

During the Senate debate opponents of Lilienthal said the nominee had failed to consult Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves or other army and navy atomic experts since he was named by the President.

ATOMIC BOMB EFFECT CITED

Evidence Uncertain On Malformed Children Born In Japan

Washington, March 25 (AP)—The Atomic Comb Commission said today some malformed children are being born among survivors of atom-bombed Hiroshima and Nagasaki in Japan, but the evidence is not conclusive that the bomb's lethal rays produce freaks.

The commission, composed of two civilian scientists, two army and two navy medical officers, studied the bombed populations. It reporteded:

1. Men died in greater numbers than women from atomic-bomb radiations.

Sterility Evedence Definite

2. Human sterility "definitely belongs" among injurious after-effects to which survivors are "vulnerable."

3. Cancer may or may not result from burns inflicted by the flash heat of the bombs. The commission said further study is neened to determine the answer to that question.

The report quoted Prof. Masao Tsuzuki, of the Tokyo Imperial Medical University, head of a special commission on atomic bomb injuries, as saying:

"We already have clear evidence that the human sexual cells are affected by the atomic bomb injuries. There is the possibility of malformation of the descendants."

Calls For Future Study

Professor Tsuzuki declared, however, that future generations must be studied to determine the long-time effect on descendants.

30. 24-8741

Paul S. Henshaw, of the Oak Ridge (Tenn.) atomic laboratory, and Dr. Austin M. Brues, of the Argonne laboratory at Chicago, said at a War Department news conference that "some midwives" in Japan had reported malformations. But, he said, the number "doesn't seem" unusual.

Within Mile Radius

The commission's report said that for a radius of slightly less than a mile from the heart of the bomb blasts, fewer women died than men from radiation. Beyond that range, the fatalities were about equal for both sexes.

Noting that many of the victims had large quantities of scar tissue on their skins—medically termed "keloids"—the commission said:

"These keloids raise several questions: Are they the forerunners of cancer? Are they the early result of poor treatment, delayed healing, infection, poor general condition of the survivors, or of some other cause or causes?"

"Misunderstanding," Swedes Say

STOCKHOLM, Wednesday, March 26 (AP)—The Swedish Foreign Office made public early today a United States note protesting Swedish import restrictions, and said the protest resulted from a "misunderstanding" of Sweden's views and intentions.

SWEDEN SENT U.S. PROTEST

Import Rules Said To Break Reciprocal Agreement

Washington, March 25 (AP)—The United States has protested "strongly" to Sweden that her new import restrictions discriminate against American products.

A note made public by the State Department asserted that the Swedish regulations, announced March 15, violated the reciprocal trade agreement with this country. It added that the United States "cannot but strongly protest."

The note was delivered yesterday in Stockholm. It said that the Swedish import program would admit certain commodities from countries with which Sweden has bilateral (two-way) agreements, while barring similar products from the United States.

Earlier Agreements Involved

Sweden has a new bilateral agreement with Soviet Russia, but officials said products covered by earlier agreements with other countries were those principally involved.

The American protest said that the reciprocal trade agreement was a prior committment of the Swedish Government. It cited provisions giving American products treatment at least as favorable as that accorded similar goods originating in a third country.

The Swedish import regulations were imposed to prevent a further decline in foreign exchange reserves. The United States note contended that carrying out the announced policy would "lead to a complete breakdown of multilateral nondiscriminatory trade among nations."

Fight Is On To Save Conciliation Staff

Washington, March 25 (AP)—House Democrats waged an uphill battle today to save top officials of the Federal Conciliation Service from a "purge" by the Appropriations Committee.

Representative Keefe (R., Wis.) predicted that before adjourning today the House would uphold him in his demand that Director Edgar L. Warren and about 100 others be given their walking papers.

Keefe headed the Appropriations subcommittee which wrote next year's $1,685,586,780 supply bill for the Labor Department and Federal Security agency. The group refused to provide salary funds for the disputed jobs.

Links Truman Order

A House vote to back up the subcommittee, Keefe said, would give effect to President Truman's week-end order that persons with "questionable background" be removed from the Government pay roll.

The basis for the subcommittee action was (1) Warren's acknowledgement that he once belonged to two organizations labeled "Communist inspired" by the Committee on Un-American Activities and (2) the claim that he discharged competent field conciliators to set up a large departmental staff in Washington.

Keefe accused Warren yesterday of "wrecking" the service.

Not Very Optimistic

Democrats led by Representative Rooney, of New York, said they would try to restore enough of the Labor Department's $12,000,000 budget cut to take care of the conciliation service at least. But with a partisan vote in prospect, they were not very optimistic.

Rooney challenged the propriety of letting a congressional committee exercise removal powers in the executive branch. He said that under the same procedure a committee might "dictate who shall be a member of the Supreme Court."

Another battle appeared likely on funds for the National Labor Relations Board. The Appropriations Committee whacked $3,950,300 from the board's $7,984,000 budget and said in its report that some committeemen thought the board should be abolished.

Aliens To Be Urged To Become Citizens

Clark Names Committee to Aid Justice Department

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—Attorney General Tom Clark today named a citizens committee to work with the Department of Justice in "a continuous effort to stress the significance of American citizenship" for aliens.

The committee will use printed pamphlets in diverse languages and work with civic, educational and patriotic organizations, an announcement said.

Justin Miller, president of the National Association of Broadcasters, was named chairman of the group, to be known as the Advisory Committee on Citizenship. Its other members are:

Judge Florence E. Allen, of the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals; Bishop William R. Arnold, retired chief of Army chaplains; Mrs. Harold Hitz Burton, of the Washington Society, National Civilian Rehabilitation; Miss Lucy Carner, of the Chicago Council of Social Agencies; Assistant Attorney General Theron L. Caudle, president of the Federal Bar Association.

Also District Judge Philip Forman, of New Jersey; Paul H. Griffith, national commander of the American Legion; Dr. Charles S. Johnson, of Fiske University, Nashville, Tenn.; Dr. Richard B. Kennan, of Washington; Dr. Peter Marshall, Senate chaplain; Henry Monsky, national president of B'nai B'rith.

Also Clyde E. Murray, of New York, president of the National Federation of Settlements; Mrs. Robert P. Patterson, of the Junior Army-Navy Guild Organization, Inc.; Angelo Patri, author; Judge Orie L. Phillips, of Denver; Judge Dan Pyle, of South Bend, Ind.; Willis Smith, of North Carolina, former president of the American Bar Association.

Also Roy Sorenson, of the Young Men's Christian Association; Ugo Carusi, commissioner of the Immigration and Naturalization Service; Henry P. Chandler, director of the Administrative Office of the United States Courts, and Mrs. Ruth Shipley, chief of the State Department's passport division.

Communists Not Strong Enough To Justify Ban, Green Declares

Washington, March 25 (AP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, testified today that the AFL is opposed unswervingly to communism, but declared that the United States Communist party is not enough of a threat to require erasing it by "totalitarian methods."

He advocated a policy of withering communism through "merciless" exposure.

Green spoke before the House Committee on Un-American Activities against bills to outlaw the party and forbid Communists to run for state or Federal offices.

The AFL chieftain's views contrasted with testimony by Allen P. Solada, national executive director of the American Veterans of World War II, who called for nothing less than outlawing of the Communist party.

"Cannot Debate Democracy"

"Today we cannot debate democracy," Solada said. "We must defend democracy.

"Inasmuch as one of the avowed purposes of the Communist party is to overthrow the American Government and thereby democracy, we believe the Communist party should be outlawed in the United States."

Solada said the Amvets consider the Communist party "a conspiracy against the American way of life and the United States Government."

His organization, one of the younger veterans' groups, does not admit Communists or their sympathizers to membership, he said.

Green praised the motives behind the proposed legislation, but said:

"Without minimizing the danger or odium of communism, we think it accurate to say that it has not reached the point in this country—and never will—in terms of the number of its adherents or to the extent of its influence, where we are forced to adopt laws which constitute so sharp and drastic a departure from our traditional constitutional concepts. . . .

Dennis To Give Views

"Such a law would imply what is not true—namely, that communism has become so extensive in this country as to require us to adopt a tactic which savors more of Communist Russia and Nazi Germany than of democratic America."

Eugene Dennis, secretary of the Communist party, gets a chance to lay down the party line on the legislation tomorrow.

Green recommended more than half a dozen measures for fighting communism, short of wiping out its party.

Among other things, he suggested:

1. Enlarging President Truman's plan to fire disloyal employés of Government agencies to extend it to Congress and the courts. A Hollywood producer, Cecil B. De Mille, urged the same step in a telegram to the committee.

2. Halting traffic across our borders in money, men and propaganda intended for subversive use.

Commission Proposed

3. Creating a national commission to draw up a program for the internal and external security of the country.

4. Passing laws to ward off poverty, insecurity and fears which feed "the fires of communism and every other totalitarian ideology."

Outlawing the party, Green said, would drive it underground and help rather than hinder the spread of communism.

He said a bill by Representative Rankin (D., Miss.) to prevent Communists from becoming political candidates and bar the teaching of communism or the mailing of Communist propaganda "would be tantamount to a declaration of voluntary bankruptcy of the ideas and ideals of American democracy."

Green said it might lead to persecution of liberals and to "witch hunts" with innocent victims. It would be a "dangerous thrust at academic freedom and freedom of the press in clear violation of the Constitution," he declared.

Latin-America Plot Unknown to U. S.

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP).—The State Department issued a statement tonight saying it "knows of no plot" to overthrow the governments of Costa Rica, Nicaragua and Honduras.

Earlier a diplomat told reporters that the Department had been informed of such a plot and that two other Latin-American countries were alleged to be involved in it. This official withheld the use of his name.

Ambassadors of Costa Rica, Nicaragua and Honduras did call Saturday to see Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson, the Department said, then continued in its statement:

"They left a memorandum with Mr. Acheson. This memorandum simply reiterated what had been published previously with reference to unauthorized arms shipments which were seized in Mexico and New Orleans."

MacArthur Visit Sought In House

Washington, March 25 (AP)—A resolution asking President Truman to call Gen. Douglas MacArthur back to the United States for at least 30 days was introduced in the House today by Representative Van Zandt (R., Pa.).

Van Zandt said in a statement that the views of the United States commander in chief in the Far East on "our national security, infiltration of foreign influences and the decline or morality" would be a "stabilizing influence" for the American people.

He suggested that MacArthur discuss these subjects at a joint meeting of the House and Senate.

LANE RESIGNS POST

Washington, March 25 (A. P.).—Arthur Bliss Lane resigned today as United States Ambassador to Poland after asserting that the situation in that nation is a "tragedy."

In a letter to Presideent Truman, Lane declared that the Polish elections were not "free and unfettered" in keeping with the pledge of the Polish provisional government of national unity under terms of the Yalta agreement. He asserted that the pre-election period was "characterized by coercion, intimidation and violence—thus rendering the elections a farce and indicating on the part of the Polish government a cynical disregard of its international obligations."

BUCK JOINS FOES OF LILIENTHAL

Washington, March 25 (A. P.).—Senator Buck (R.-Del.) said today that he intends to vote against confirming David E. Lilienthal as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. He was the twenty-sixth Senator to line up in oppositon to Lilienthal. However, forty-nine or more than a majority of the Senate, have told the Associated Press that they intend to support the nominee.

Buck made his intentions known in a statement while Senate debate on a refugee aid bill delayed discussion of the nomination. He said he would vote against Lilienthal because "personal and political prejudice arise in men's minds whenever his name is mentioned"; Lilienthal is "unstable" regarding the preservation of the republican system of government; his personal history "indicates a great desire for personal power," and he has demonstrated "a lack of realization of the need for cautious handling of the atomic secret."

Heads Army Engineers Division

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The Army Engineers announced today appointment of Brig. Gen. John F. Conklin to be chief of their personnel division. He now is commanding officer at the Fort Lewis (Wash.) replacement training center.

Guam Citizenship Proposed

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP).—Legislation to extend American citizenship to residents of Guam and establish a civil government there has been introduced by Representative Norris Poulson, Republican, of California.

Continues in Export Post

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP).—Captain Granville Conway agreed today after a conference with President Truman to continue indefinitely as co-ordinator of emergency export programs. James Stillwell, adviser on supply to Under Secretary of State William L. Clayton, who has charge of economic affairs for the State Department, was assigned as deputy co-ordinator to assist Mr. Conway.

Douglas Stewart Is Acquitted of Perjury Charge

Federal Jury Upholds Him in Denial He Knew Nazi Source of $15,000 Gift

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP).—Douglas MacCollum Stewart, former Lake Geneva, Wis., publisher, was acquited today of a perjury charge by a United States District Court jury after two and a half hours' deliberation.

The trial, which began two weeks ago today resulted from statements by Mr. Stewart, former publisher of "Scribner's Commentator" and "The Lake Geneva Herald," before a Federal Grand Jury investigating subversive activities in 1943.

The government charged he perjured himself when he told the grand jury he did not know the source of $15,000 which he said he had received in 1941.

Mr. Stewart said then and repeated at his trial that the money came from an anonymous source and was left at his Lake Geneva home. The government said it was given to Mr. Stewart in New York by Heribert von Strempel, former first secretary of the German Embassy.

The government contended that Mr. Stewart went to New York in September, 1941, met Strempel and returned to Lake Geneva with $15,000 that Strempel had turned over to him. The government contended the money was used to aid in financing the two publications and that they followed "the Berlin line of propaganda."

Strempel, testifying for the government, told the jury that he placed a brown paper-wrapped bundle containing $15,000 on a table in Mr. Stewart's New York hotel room in the presence of Mr. Stewart and another man.

Defense counsel brought in numerous witnesses who testified they were with Mr. Stewart in his New York hotel room at the time he was supposed to have received the money and did not see Strempel.

Mr. Stewart asserted that he had taken one package containing $15,000 from Lake Geneva to deposit it in a New York bank but changed his mind and took the money back to Lake Geneva.

Mr. Stewart testified that he had received $39,000 from anonymous sources at various times. He said many wealthy industrialists in the Chicago area had agreed with his policy of "trying to keep America out of the war" and had indicated that they would contribute to his publications if they could do so anonymously.

Chief Justice Bolitha J. Laws presided at the trial.

House Preview On Tax-Slash Bill Debate

Washington, March 25 (AP)—The sharply split Ways and Means Committee today gave this preview of House debate over the Republican bill to cut income taxes $3,840,000,000:

The fifteen-man Republican majority declared in a report that a tax cut is "imperative" to combat the "stultifying effect" of existing tax rates.

A nine-man Democratic minority protested that the bill is a "discriminatory patchwork of political expediency, neither equitable, timely nor sound." Representative West, Texas Democrat who joined Republicans last week in approving the bill, did not sign the minority report.

The legislation would trim taxes of small taxpayers by 30 per cent, and those of most others by twenty per cent.

Cleared For Floor Action

The House Rules Committee cleared the bill for floor consideration under a procedure whereby the House would vote for the proposed cut or no tax reduction at all. This is the usual rule for consideration of complex tax bills and Democrats made no objection to it.

Debate on the bill begins in the House tomorrow, with a final vote set for Thursday.

Leading Democratic congressmen believe that President Truman wil lveto the bill if it reaches the White House in its present form.

The Democratic minority on the Ways and Means group protested that the legislation is a "windfall to the wealthiest taxpayers."

Cite "Outraged Public"

Only an "outraged public," they said, caused the Republicans to revise original plans and grant small taxpayers more than a flat 20 per cent reduction.

The original bill, by Ways and Means Chairman Knutson (R., Minn.), proposed a straight 20 per cent cut to all except the biggest taxpayers.

The minority report recalled that President Truman has urged applying any Treasury surpluses this year to debt payment instead of tax cutting. The report added:

"Today, in addition to obligations held by financial institutions, insurance companies and other corporations, there are 85,000,000 individual bondholders who share in the public debt.

Stresses Obligation

"Our Government has a solemn obligation to these bondholders. It is now the duty of Congress to demonstrate its determination to keep faith by beginning to pay off the debt."

The Democrats further charged that the proposed 30 per cent cut for the lowest brackets is "the thinnest of political sugar-coating."

"It still cannot hide the bitter fact that the income taxes of the vast majority of taxpayers would be substantially higher than before World War II while taxes in the highest brackets would be returned to approximately prewar levels," the minority said, adding:

"This is the reward to veterans, farmers, factory workers and 85 million war-bond holders, all of whom by their joint effort won the war."

Republican Reply

The Republican majority countered that "the stultifying effect of the existing individual income-tax rates makes tax reduction imperative.

"The severity of existing taxes makes them a real threat to the initiative and new investment essential to a high level of employment. Present taxes also limit the income available for consumer expenditures, thus further endangering the maintenance of the present high level of business activity."

GOP's Tax Schedule

Washington, March 25 (AP)—The revised Republican $3,840,000,000 tax-cutting bill as printed today embodies this new table for the reduced withholdings from wages and salaries, effective June 1, if Congress and the President approve the bill:

Senate Sugar Fight Set

Washington, March 25 (AP)—Senator McCarthy (R., Wis.), claiming strong party backing, said today he would carry to the floor his fight to end sugar rationing at once.

McCarthy said efforts to reach a general agreement among the 51 GOP senators on the sugar question had collapsed with rejection of a compromise which he offered.

The present sugar controls expire next Monday. Before the Senate is a bill approved by its Banking Committee which would extend controls a year but give the Department of Agriculture authority to drop them next fall if feasible.

Conferred With Flanders

McCarthy and Senator Flanders (R., Vt.), who opposes immediate abandonment of rationing, were delegated by the Senate Republican Conference to seek a compromise. McCarthy said it didn't work out.

He said he is willing to extend rationing to October 31—the date set in a bill passed by the House—provided that the housewife is given a sizable increase and industrial uses held at present levels until there is sufficient for home canning.

If this proposal fails, McCarthy said, he would revert to the bill which he and Senator Bricker (R., Ohio) introduced to wipe out rationing on the theory that there would be enough sugar to go around this year. The bill would set up inventory controls to prevent hoarding. Export controls would continue.

Others Steps Being Taken

Two other moves were under way to amend the Banking Committee bill by raising the housewives' canning quota. Senator Wherry (R., Neb.) proposed yesterday to increase it from 35 pounds to 45.

Senator Ellender (D., La.) said he is canvassing members on a suggestion that the prewar ratio between housewives and industrial users be put into effect and that chances for such an amendment "look good."

Truman Gets Rubber Allocation Measure

Washington, March 25 (A. P.).—Legislative action was completed today on a bill extending until March 31, 1948, the Government's allocation authority over rubber. The measure altso authorizes the Government to continue in the synthetic rubber producing business.

The legislation takes the Government out of the natural rubber purchasing field after March 31 of this year. It now has exclusive purchasing an allocation powers. House acceptance of minor Senate amendments to the original House-passed bill sent the legislation to President Truman.

OPA ISSUES NEW RULE ON HOUSING

MAR 1947

Washiigton, March 25 (A. P.).—The OPA ruled today that landlords may collect one additional month's advance rent as a security deposit on newly built furnished dwellings which are rented, for the first time, beginning tomorrow.

Previously the agency barred all security deposits in excess of one month's advance rent on ground that such payments open the door to ceiling evasion.

The change, it was explained, is in line with the Government policy of encouraging the building of as much new rental housing as possible. It applies only to new units which are rented fully furnished under a written lease.

LANDING SYSTEM WIDENED

Civil Planes Now Can Be 'Talked' Down at 20 Military Fields

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration announced today a system by which civil aircraft now can use military GCA (radar talk-down landing system) installations at seven Army and thirteen Navy airfields in emergencies.

The bar to use of military GCA by civil planes has been the lack of common radio communications channels, which are essential in the talk-down method.

La Guardia for Lower Interest

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP).—Former Mayor F. H. La Guardia of New York told a Senate committee today that he believed that 4 per cent interest on government loans to small business is "too high." He testified before a Senate Banking Subcommittee for legislation which would direct that Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans be made available to small business enterprises. He was informed by Senator Homer E. Capehart, Republican, of Indiana, chairman, that R. F. C., Treasury and other government officials had testified that the R. F. C. has authority to make such loans and has been doing so.

Fears Aviation Relapse

Industry Leader, at House Inquiry, Cites Production Drop

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP).—Oliver P. Echols, president of the Aircraft Industries Association, told Congress today that the United States was neglecting to keep in position where it could quickly expand production of military planes if needed.

Testifying before the House Commerce Committee, Mr. Echols called attention to a drop in military-plane production to 1,330 units last year, compared with 46,819 in 1945. He said he feared a repetition of the relapse in aviation which followed the first world war, when fifteen or eighteen plane makers went out of business.

The committee is considering a bill by Representative Carl Hinshaw, Republican, of California, which would establish a national aviation council to determine national policies regarding aviation.

Commercial Gasoline From Coal Near

1947

Pittsburgh, March 25.—Gasoline may be made from coal on a commercial scale within the year, according to an announcement in which the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company and the Standard Oil Development Company joined today. This will be made possible by the application of a process developed in the war for production of high octane aviation gasoline.

High-octane gasoline will be only one of the products of the pilot plant expected to be in operation before 1947 ends at Library, Pa., near Pittsburgh. Gas fuel of high heat value, diesel fuel, chemicals and chemical raw materials also would be forthcoming.

Construction and operation of the plant will be a joint project of the coal company, which is the largest in the nation, and the central technical organization of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. Both have been engaged in preliminary research for some time. Already there is a pilot plant in the field of coal carbonization at the Disco plant of Pittsburgh Consolidation.

Although great technical difficulties and many scientific problems confront the researchers, the process in a nutshell is to transform coal into gas, and then to treat the gas so as to create from it the desired products. Much of the treatment will be by the fluidized solids treatment, the war process which made flight fuel.

Cost Factors.

Robert P. Russell, president of the development company, asserted that gasoline produced from coal by the new method would cost more than gasoline from petroleum, but said that in all likelihood, the average motorist still could operate his car with it at a cost of about 10 cents a day more than at present. He added that it was not the intention to supplant petroleum-gasoline, however, and that large scale production of coal-gasoline would require huge investment and construction of plants.

There are two main reasons for perfecting the process, he continued.

"The first," he stated, "is that it would assure the United States of an enormous potential reserve of liquid fuel. The second is that the cost of finding oil and its production is mounting and will probably continue to rise.

Synthetic Gas Produced.

"Coal is by all means our greatest source of energy. Commercial reserves of all grades of coal total about 3.18 trillion tons. If half of that can be used for syntheisis, coal could represent a potential gasoline reserve, for example, of 3.7 trillion barrels or enough to last more than 3,000 years."

The fluidized solids technic, as used in the oil industry introduces a catalyst which whirls around like a dust storm in temperatures close to 1,000 degrees and controls the cracking of oil molecules to give gasoline of the right sizes and shape for high octane gasoline. In transforming coal into gas, instead of furiously tossing a clay catalyst arpund as in the refinery, the fluid process is used to agitate the powdered coal or coke into a veritable cyclone. The powdered coal, when reacted with oxygen and steam in a generator, forms a mixture of carbon monoxide and hydrogen which is called synthesis gas.

Once the synthesis gas is formed and purified it can be treated in a reactor, using the fluidized technic with a catalyst, and can be converted into synthetic gasoline, diesel oil and chemicals.

AIR-CONDITIONED CRUISER LAUNCHED

Quincy, Mass., March 25 (A. P.).—The 100th ship built at the Quincy yard of the Bethlehem Steel Company since Pearl Harbor—the air-conditioned cruiser Salem—was launched today.

The craft, one of the largest of its type is named after the city of Salem—the second United States warship to bear the name of that community. The first, a scout cruiser, was launched in 1907 at the same site where the new Salem was constructed.

The keel of the new Salem was laid on July 4, 1945, but construction was delayed somewhat after the Japanese surrender, and the design was reviewed to take advantage of the most recent developments originating from war experiences.

The air-conditioning will serve all living spaces, control centers, and working compartments, except the boiler and main engine rooms. Separate ventilation and forced draft blowers will supply air to those compartments.

This extensive installation was decided upon as a result of knowledge gained from operation of warships in tropical waters during the war. It was designed to increase efficiency and morale of crews in areas where high temperature and humidity combine, in certain seasons, to reduce stamina.

The craft, propelled by geared turbines, is 716 feet in length overall, 40 feet longer than predecessors of the Baltimore class.

Miss Mary G. Coffey, sister of Mayor Edward A. Coffey of Salem, sponsored the vessel.

DAY U.N. (SOO)

BY FRANCIS W.CARPENTER

MAR 1947

LAKE SUCCESS,N.Y., MARCH 25-(AP)-THE UNITED STATES DELEGATION TO THE UNITED NATIONS ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION WANTS TO START WORK NOW ON DRAFTING A TREATY FOR ATOMIC CONTROLS, AN INFORMED SOURCE SAID TODAY.

THIS INFORMANT, WHO WOULD NOT BE FURTHER IDENTIFIED, SAID THAT THE U.S. ATOMIC EXPERTS WOULD GO INTO THE FIRST CLOSED MEETING OF THE WORKING COMMITTEE OF THE ATOMIC COMMISSION TODAY (3 P.M. EST) WITH THE FIRM IDEA THAT THE DELEGATES SHOULD START IMMEDIATELY PREPARING A TREATY.

IT WAS RECOGNIZED THAT A LONG AND HARD ROAD LAY AHEAD, BUT THE COMMISSION IS UNDER ORDERS TO FRAME A TREATY OR CONVENTION "IN DUE COURSE" AND THE AMERICANS WERE SAID TO BE READY TO TACKLE THE TASK IMMEDIATELY.

THIS WAS THE FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF THE FORMAL OPENING OF UNITED NATIONS ACTIVITIES IN THE UNITED STATES. THE SECURITY COUNCIL CONVENED AT HUNTER COLLEGE ONE YEAR AGO TO TAKE UP THE IRANIAN CASE, WHICH IS STILL ON ITS WORK SHEET BUT WHICH HAS BEEN VIRTUALLY FORGOTTEN SINCE RUSSIAN TROOPS WITHDREW FROM IRAN.

THE SECURITY COUNCIL WAS CALLED TO MEET TODAY (11 A.M. EST) TO TRY TO DISPOSE OF THE ALBANIAN CASE. GREAT BRITAIN HAS CHARGED ALBANIA WITH RESPONSIBILITY FOR MINE DAMAGE TO TWO BRITISH DESTROYERS AND THE DEATHS OF 44 BRITISH SAILORS IN CORFU CHANNEL LAST OCT. 22.

OTHER UNITED NATIONS DEVELOPMENTS TODAY INCLUDED:

1. MEMBERS OF THE COMMISSION ON CONVENTIONAL ARMAMENTS WEIGHED THE OPENING DECLARATIONS OF GREAT BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES AT YESTERDAY'S FIRST SESSION OF THAT BODY. BOTH BIG WESTERN POWERS SPOKE FOR SAFEGUARDS IN ARMS LIMITATIONS AND URGED THE OTHER NATIONS TO PROFIT FROM THE LESSONS OF THE PAST, WHEN ATTEMPTS TO DISARM HAVE FAILED.

2. PREPARATIONS WERE ALMOST COMPLETE FOR THE FIRST SESSION TOMORROW (11 A.M. EST) OF THE TRUSTEESHIP COUNCIL, THE LAST OF THE U.N. CHAIN OF COUNCILS. RUSSIA SO FAR HAS NOT SUBMITTED THE NAME OF HER REPRESENTATIVE AND THE SOVIET DELEGATION TO THE U.N. HAS ANSWERED "NOTHING TO SAY" TO REPEATED REQUESTS FOR INFORMATION ON THAT POINT.

3. THE ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL WORKED AT A BIT PILE OF BUSINESS IN AN ATTEMPT TO WIND UP ITS CURRENT SESSION BY MID-WEEK.

U.N. OBSERVERS NOTED THAT THIS WAS THE FIRST WEEK IN UNITED NATIONS HISTORY TO HAVE SESSIONS OF ALL THREE COUNCILS SET UP UNDER THE U.N. CHARTER.

DELEGATES TO THE ATOMIC COMMISSION EXPRESSED HOPE BEFORE TODAY'S SECRET MEETING, THE FIRST OF A LONG SERIES TO COME, THAT THEY WOULD NOT HAVE TO GO BACK OVER OLD GROUND ON WHICH ALL THE MEMBERS ARE AGREED.

SOME DELEGATES ALSO SAID THEY WANTED MORE SPECIFIC INFORMATION FROM ANDREI A.GROMYKO, SOVIET DELEGATE, REGARDING TECHNICAL DETAILS OF THE RUSSIAN ATOMIC PLAN.

THE DELEGATES RENEWED THEIR SEARCH FOR CONTROLS ACCEPTABLE TO EVERY NATION WITH TWO MAJOR PROPOSITIONS BEFORE THEM. THEY ARE:

A17

1. THE UNITED STATES PLAN, WHICH THE AMERICAN DELEGATION NOW WANTS TO BE CALLED THE "COMMISSION PLAN" SINCE IT WAS ADOPTED BY A 10 TO 0 VOTE OF THE COMMISSION. THIS WOULD SET UP AN INTERNATIONAL ATOMIC DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY, WITH FULL CONTROL OVER ATOMIC MATTERS EVERYWHERE, AND WOULD WAIVE THE VETO ON ATOMIC PUNISHMENTS.

2. THE RUSSIAN PLAN, WHICH WOULD BAN ATOMIC WEAPONS IMMEDIATELY BY CONVENTION AND THEN WOULD HAVE THE NATIONS WORK OUT CONTROLS, WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK OF THE SECURITY COUNCIL, BY ANOTHER CONVENTION. RUSSIA HAS DEFENDED THE VETO AND HAS REJECTED THE UNITED STATES PLAN.

FREDERICK H.OSBORN OF NEW YORK WAS READY FOR HIS FIRST CLOSED MEETING OF THE DELEGATES. ASSOCIATES SAID HE HAS STUDIED THE PROBLEM THOROUGHLY AND IS PREPARED TO TAKE UP THE INTRICATE DISCUSSIONS.

TRYGVE LIE, UNITED NATIONS SECRETARY-GENERAL, CONVENED THE COMMISSION ON CONVENTIONAL ARMAMENTS AT 3:13 P.M. EST. YESTERDAY WITH A STATEMENT THAT THE ABILITY OF THE COMMISSION TO MAKE PROGRESS IN CONTROLLING CONVENTIONAL ARMAMENTS "WILL BE DIRECTLY ASSOCIATED IN PEOPLES' MINDS WITH THE ABILITY OF THE UNITED NATIONS TO MAINTAIN THE PEACE."

THE COMMISSION DECIDED TO ROTATE ITS CHAIRMEN IN ENGLISH ALPHABETICAL ORDER EACH MONTH AND CHOSE PAUL HASLUCK, 42-YEAR-OLD AUSTRALIAN HISTORY TEACHER WHO HAS TURNED INTO A DIPLOMAT, AS CHAIRMAN UNTIL APRIL 30.

MAR 1947

SIR ALEXANDER CADOGAN, UNITED KINGDOM REPRESENTATIVE, MADE THE FIRST DECLARATION. HE SAID HIS GOVERNMENT FELT THESE PRINCIPLES WERE ESSENTIAL TO PROGRESS IN THE REGULATION OF ARMAMENTS:

1. THE REDUCTION AND REGULATION OF ARMAMENTS AND ARMED FORCES DEPENDS PRIMARILY ON THE ESTABLISHMENT OF INTERNATIONAL CONFIDENCE.

2. THE COMPLETION OF THE UNITED NATIONS POLICE FORCE WOULD CONTRIBUTE GREATLY TO THE ESTABLISHMENT OF INTERNATIONAL CONFIDENCE.

3. THE ESTABLISHMENT OF AN EFFECTIVE SYSTEM OF INTERNATIONAL CONTROL AND VERIFICATION MUST PRECEDE THE ADOPTION OF ANY SYSTEM FOR THE REGULATION AND REDUCTION OF ARMAMENTS.

BOTH CADOGAN AND HERSCHEL V.JOHNSON, WHO SPOKE FOR THE UNITED STATES, SAID THEY WOULD HAVE CONCRETE PROPOSALS LATER. JOHNSON STRESSED ESPECIALLY THE UNITED STATES CONCERN FOR SAFEGUARDS IN ANY ARMAMENTS REDUCTION SCHEME.

"WITH THE SAFEGUARDS THT MUST BE AN INSEPARABLE PART OF A SYSTEM OF REGULATION ONE CONDITION OF SECURITY WILL HAVE BEEN MET," JOHNSON SAID. "ANOTHER CONDITION IS THE COMPLETION, TO THE SATISFACTION OF THE WARTIME ALLIES, OF THE PEACE SETTLEMENTS WITH GERMANY AND JAPAN. STILL ANOTHER IS THE CONCLUSION OF THE SPECIAL AGREEMENTS FOR MAKING ARMED FORCES AVAILABLE TO THE SECURITY COUNCIL. AND, OF COURSE, STRICT INTERNATIONAL CONTROL OF ATOMIC ENERGY MUST BE ESTABLISHED."

THE ARMS COMMISSION ADJOURNED UNTIL FRIDAY (3 P.M. EST).

U.N.-TRUSTEESHIP (500)

BY MAX HARRELSON

MAR 1947

LAKE SUCCESS, MARCH 25-(AP)-RUSSIA'S CONTINUED DELAY IN NAMING A REPRESENTATIVE TO THE UNITED NATIONS TRUSTEESHIP COUNCIL GAVE RISE TODAY TO WIDESPREAD SPECULATION THAT THE SOVIET UNION MIGHT IGNORE THE OPENING SESSION OF THAT MAJOR U.N. AGENCY TOMORROW.

SOVIET DEPUTY FOREIGN MINISTER ANDREI A. GROMYKO, WHEN ASKED WHETHER RUSSIA WOULD HAVE A TRUSTEESHIP DELEGATION ON HAND, REPLIED: "I HAVE NOTHING TO SAY." OTHER RUSSIAN SOURCES GAVE A TERSE "NO COMMENT."

U.N. OFFICIALS, POINTING OUT THAT THE RUSSIANS OFTEN HAD BEEN AMONG THE LAST TO NAME THEIR REPRESENTATIVES TO VARIOUS AGENCIES, STILL HOPED THAT A DELEGATE WOULD BE DESIGNATED BY TOMORROW. IT WAS POINTED OUT FURTHER THAT RUSSIA'S TWO OUTSTANDING TRUSTEESHIP EXPERTS, AMBASSADOR NIKOLAI V.NOVIKOV AND PROF. BORIS STEIN, ARE BOTH IN MOSCOW AT PRESENT.

LAW EXPERTS OF THE U.N. SAID THE FAILURE OF MOSCOW TO SEND A REPRESENTATIVE TO THE OPENING SESSION WOULD HAVE NO LEGAL EFFECT ON THE COUNCIL, LAST MAJOR ORGAN OF THE WORLD ORGANIZATION TO BE SET UP.

THEY EXPLAINED THAT RUSSIA, AS ONE OF THE FIVE PERMANENT MEMBERS OF THE SECURITY COUNCIL, WAS AUTOMATICALLY A MEMBER OF THE TRUSTEESHIP BODY UNDER THE U.N. CHARTER AND THAT IF SHE FAILED TO NAME A REPRESENTATIVE SHE WOULD MERELY BE RECORDED AS ABSENT.

UNDER THIS INTERPRETATION, THE COUNCIL WOULD BE ABLE TO PROCEED WITH ITS WORK, BUT IT WAS GENERALLY CONCEDED THAT A BOYCOTT BY RUSSIA WOULD COME AS A BLOW TO THOSE WHO HOPE TO SEE THE COUNCIL TAKE A LEADING ROLE IN THE BROAD U.N. PICTURE.

THERE WAS NO CLEAR-CUT ANSWER TO THE QUESTION WHY RUSSIA WOULD WANT TO BOYCOTT THE COUNCIL WHOSE ESTABLISHMENT IS PROVIDED FOR IN THE CHARTER WHICH SHE HAD RATIFIED. IT WAS POINTED OUT, HOWEVER, THAT THE SOVIET DELEGATION TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY REFUSED TO APPROVE ANY OF THE EIGHT DRAFT TRUSTEESHIP AGREEMENTS FOR FORMER LEAGUE OF NATIONS MANDATE TERRITORIES WHOSE ADMINISTRATION THE COUNCIL WILL SUPERVISE.

IN THE ASSEMBLY'S TRUSTEESHIP DEBATES, RUSSIA FOUGHT TO THE LAST FOR A NUMBER OF IMPORTANT AMENDMENTS TO THE DRAFT AGREEMENTS BUT WAS DEFEATED ON EVERY MEASURE.

TOMORROW'S SESSION WILL BE OPENED BY SECRETARY-GENERAL TRYGVE LIE. THIS WILL BE HIS FIRST PUBLIC APPEARANCE SINCE BEFORE PRESIDENT TRUMAN PROPOSED THAT THE UNITED STATES GIVE $400,000,000 AID TO GREECE AND TURKEY. AS A RESULT THERE HAD BEEN SOME SPECULATION THAT LIE MIGHT MAKE A REFERENCE TO THE PRESIDENT'S MOVE, WHICH HAS CAUSED CONSIDERABLE CONCERN IN U.N. CIRCLES.

LIE'S ASSOCIATES, HOWEVER, SAID HE DID NOT PLAN TO REFER TO THE GREEK-TURKISH SITUATION IN ANY WAY, AND ADDED THAT HIS SPEECH WOULD BE DEVOTED ALMOST EXCLUSIVELY TO PROBLEMS OF THE TRUSTEESHIP COUNCIL.

THE INITIAL SESSION OF THE COUNCIL WILL BE DEVOTED PRIMARILY TO THE ELECTION OF OFFICERS AND THE DRAFTING OF RULES OF PROCEDURE. OTHER ITEMS ON THE AGENDA INCLUDE A PETITION FROM A GROUP OF LEADERS IN WESTERN SAMOA, ASKING FOR SELF-GOVERNMENT, AND A NUMBER OF PETITIONS FROM FORMER GERMAN RESIDENTS OF TANGANYIKA ASKING THAT THE COUNCIL ACT TO PREVENT THEIR REPATRIATION TO GERMANY.

BY LARRY HAUCK

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., MARCH 25-(AP)-A 42-YEAR-OLD HISTORY PROFESSOR AND NEWSPAPERMAN WHO PREFERS NOT TO BE KNOWN AS A DIPLOMAT TOOK UP TODAY THE TASK OF GUIDING THE UNITED NATIONS' MOMENTOUS DISCUSSIONS ON PLANS TO STRIP DOWN THE WORLD'S ARMAMENTS.

PAUL HASLUCK, A RUDDY-FACED AUSTRALIAN, WILL HOLD THE CHAIRMANSHIP OF THE 11-NATION COMMISSION ON CONVENTIONAL ARMAMENTS UNTIL APRIL 30 UNDER A SYSTEM OF ROTATING THE GAVEL MONTHLY.

HASLUCK WAS CALLED INTO GOVERNMEMT SERVICE AT THE START OF THE WAR, BUT HE STILL CONSIDERS HIMSELF A TEACHER AND WRITER.

"AS SOON AS POSSIBLE--I DON'T KNOW WHEN--I PLAN TO RETURN TO MY ACADEMIC WORK," HE SAID. "I CAME INTO GOVERNMENT SERVICE BECAUSE THERE WAS A JOB TO BE DONE. I AM NOT A CAREER DIPLOMAT OR A PARTY MAN."

HASLUCK IS THE SPOKESMAN HERE FOR DR. H.V.EVATT, MINISTER OF EXTERNAL AFFAIRS WHO IS KNOWN INTERNATIONALLY FOR HIS BITTER VERBAL CLASHES WITH THE RUSSIANS. EVATT'S NAME IS CARRIED ON OFFICIAL LISTS AS THE AUSTRALIAN DELEGATE TO THE VARIOUS BODIES, BUT HE REMAINS IN CANBERRA.

CARRYING THE RANK OF COUNSELLOR, WHICH ON THE DIPLOMATIC LADDER STANDS JUST BELOW AMBASSADOR AND MINISTER, HASLUCK IS ONE OF THE BUSIEST MEN HERE. HE HAS NO ALTERNATES AND SITS PERSONALLY FOR AUSTRALIA ON THE SECURITY COUNCIL, ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION AND NOW THE ARMS BODY. HE HAS ONLY FOUR MEN ON HIS ENTIRE STAFF.

HASLUCK, WHO LOOKS ALMOST LIKE A BOY BESIDE SOME OF THE VETERANS OF INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS, HAS BEEN CLOSELY ASSOCIATED WITH THE UNITED NATIONS FROM THE START. HE WAS ADVISER TO THE AUSTRALIAN DELEGATION AT SAN FRANCISCO AND WAS AN ALTERNATE DELEGATE TO THE PREPARATORY COMMISSION WHICH WORKED IN LONDON THROUGH THE CLOSING MONTHS OF 1945 PREPARING FOR THE OFFICIAL OPENING OF THE U.N.

BORN IN FREEMANTLE, WESTERN AUSTRALIA, HASLUCK WAS GRADUATED FROM PERTH MODERN SCHOOL AND THE UNIVERSITY OF WESTERN AUSTRALIA. UPON LEAVING THE UNIVERSITY HE JOINED THE STAFF OF THE WEST AUSTRALIAN, PERTH MORNING NEWSPAPER, WHERE FOR 17 YEARS HE HANDLED "EVERY TYPE OF NEWSPAPER ASSIGNMENT."

HASLUCK LECTURED IN HISTORY AT HIS ALMA MATER FROM 1939 TO 1941, WHEN HE WAS LOANED TO THE DEPARTMENT OF EXTERNAL AFFAIRS -- WHICH IN THE UNITED STATES FORM OF GOVERNMENT WOULD BEST CORRESPOND TO THE STATE DEPARTMENT.

THERE HASLUCK WAS IN CHARGE OF THE POST-WAR SECTION AND IN 1944 BECAME DIRECTOR OF THE POST-HOSTILITIES DIVISION. HE WAS SECRETARY OF THE AUSTRALIAN-NEW ZEALAND CONFERENCE IN CANBERRA THE SAME YEAR AND THEN PLUNGED INTO U.N. WORK. #

1. PRESIDENT TRUMAN, IN A MESSAGE TO SECRETARY-GENERAL TRYGVE LIE ON THE ANNIVERSARY, SAID THAT "THE UNITED STATES, IN ALL ITS ACTS SEEKS TO ADD STRENGTH TO THE UNITED NATIONS AND TO GIVE EFFECT TO THE PRINCIPLES AND PURPOSES OF THE UNITED NATIONS CHARTER." ARANHA RULED THAT THE CASE REMAINED BEFORE THE COUNCIL BUT WAS CHALLENGED BY GROMYKO, WHO SAID HE DID NOT CONSIDER IT REMAINED ON THE AGENDA "SINCE THE COUNCIL HAS BEEN UNABLE TO TAKE A DECISION ON THE MATTER."

CADOGAN CALLED FOR A VOTE. AUSTRALIAN DELEGATE PAUL HASLUCK INTERVENED, HOWEVER, TO SAY THAT ARANHA HAD RULED IT WAS ON THE AGENDA AND THAT IT REMAINED THERE UNLESS SOME DELEGATE OFFERED A MOTION TO CHALLENGE THE CHAIR.

SYRIAN DELEGATE FARIS EL KHOURY SAID THAT AS LONG AS THE CASE WAS NOT SPECIFICALLY DROPPED BY THE COUNCIL, IT REMAINED ON THE AGENDA.

THAT IS WHERE IT STOOD WHEN THE COUNCIL ADJOURNED.

BRITISH SOURCES SAID LATER THAT CADOGAN NOW IS PREPARED TO OFFER A RESOLUTION PROPOSING THAT THE CASE BE SUBMITTED TO THE INTERNATIONAL COURT OF JUSTICE AT THE HAGUE. HE PREVIOUSLY HAD OPPOSED SUCH A MOVE BUT WAS SAID TO FEEL THAT IT WAS USELESS TO TRY TO PURSUE IT FURTHER IN THE SECURITY COUNCIL IN VIEW OF THE RUSSIAN BETO.

A SPOKESMAN FOR THE UNITED STATES DELEGATION, JOINING THE REVIVED TALK OF A SPECIAL SESSION, ALSO EXPRESSED THE BELIEF THAT ACTION WOULD BE TAKEN QUICKLY. WHILE THE UNITED STATES HAS NOT YET TAKEN AN OFFICIAL POSITION IN FAVOR OF A SPECIAL SESSION, THE SPOKESMAN SAID THAT WASHINGTON CERTAINLY WOULD NOT OPPOSE SUCH A MEETING IF BRITAIN PROPOSED IT. (Hanelsan)

SECRETARY-GENERAL TRYGVE LIE AND HIS TOP ADVISERS WERE REPORTED TO HAVE COME AROUND TO THE IDEA THAT A SPECIAL SESSION MIGHT BE THE BEST WAY TO TACKLE THE PROBLEM.

IT WAS FOR THIS REASON THAT HE FIRST SUGGESTED INFORMALLY TO REPRESENTATIVES OF THE BIG FIVE THAT THE PROBLEM MIGHT BE HANDED OVER TO A COMMISSION WHICH HE BELIEVED COULD BE SET UP WITHOUT CALLING A MEETING OF THE ASSEMBLY. (Hanelsan)

THIS PLAN WAS DROPPED WHEN THE UNITED STATES REFUSED TO STATE ITS POSITION UNTIL BRITAIN ACTUALLY LAID A "CONCRETE FORMULATION OF THE PROBLEM" BEFORE THE UNITED NATIONS. BRITAIN, ON THE OTHER HAND, DID NOT WANT TO TAKE THE INITIATIVE ON THE COMMISSION IDEA WITHOUT ADVANCE APPROVAL BY ALL THE OTHER BIG POWERS.

LONDON, MARCH 25-(AP)-A DELEGATE TO THE INTERNATIONAL WHEAT CONFERENCE SAID TODAY CONCERTED ACTION BY THREE OF THE WORLD'S BIG WHEAT EXPORTING COUNTRIES MIGHT LEAVE ARGENTINA WITH NO OUTLET FOR HER SURPLUS WHEAT IN FUTURE YEARS IF THAT COUNTRY NOW REFUSES TO ENTER AN EXPORT PRICE AGREEMENT.

THE INTERNATIONAL WHEAT CONFERENCE, IN ITS SECOND WEEK, IS ATTENDED BY DELEGATES OF 41 NATIONS SEEKING TO WORK OUT METHODS OF STABILIZING WORLD WHEAT PRICES AND SUPPLIES FOR FIVE YEARS.

MAR 1947

ARGENTINE DELEGATES HAVE THUS FAR REFUSED TO COMMIT THEIR COUNTRY TO A WORLD PEACE.

THE DELEGATE SAID THE THREE OTHER BIG EXPORTERS--THE UNITED STATES, CANADA AND AUSTRALIA--MIGHT EVENTUALLY PRODUCE ENOUGH WHEAT FOR THE WORLD "AT A MODEST PRICE" AND ARGENTINA WOULD THEN HAVE NO PLACE TO EXPORT HER SURPLUS.

ARGENTINA, EXPERTS SAID, HAS TRADITIONALLY BEEN OPPOSED TO INTERNATIONAL PRICE FIXING FOR WHEAT EXPORTS.

A COMMENT BY ONE CONFERENCE SOURCE THAT "THE UNITED STATES IS BEING STUBBORN" IN THE MATTER OF PRICES BROUGHT NO REACTION FROM AN AMERICAN DELEGATE WHO DECLINED TO SAY WHAT STAND THE UNITED STATES DELEGATION HAS TAKEN IN THE CLOSED CONFERENCE.

OTHER SOURCES HAVE SAID THE AMERICAN VIEW IS THAT THE MAXIMUM PRICE SHOULD BE $1.50 A BUSHEL.

ONE DELEGATE, WHO TOOK NOTE OF THE FACT THAT THE ARGENTINE DELEGATION HAS REFUSED TO SHOW ITS HAND, POINTED OUT THAT IN RECENT SESSIONS "THE ARGENTINE HAS PROTESTED SOME POINTS QUITE STRONGLY--WHICH THEY WOULDN'T DO IF THEY WISHED TO STAY OUT."

NIGHT LEAD BOAC (260)

BY ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON, MARCH 25-(AP)-BRITAIN'S CABINET WAS REPORTED TODAY TO BE CALCULATING WHETHER THE COUNTRY CAN AFFORD 30 AMERICAN CONSTELLATION AIRLINERS AT THE EXPENSE OF VITALLY-NEEDED FOOD AND TOBACCO IMPORTS FROM THE UNITED STATES.

GOVERNMENT SOURCES SAID THE CABINET WOULD DEBATE ALSO WHETHER IT WOULD BE BETTER TO HIRE A FLEET OF AT LEAST 30 CONSTELLATIONS TO BOLSTER BRITAIN'S INTERNATIONAL CIVIL AVIATION. (more)

30.24-8747

ESTIMATED COST OF 30 CONSTELLATIONS WAS $30,000,000, THE OFFICIALS SAID. BRITAIN ALREADY HAS ORDERED SIX (CORRECT) BOEING STRATOCRUISERS FROM THE UNITED STATES AT A COST OF ABOUT $12,000,000,. CHIEF OBSTACLE TO BUYING THE $1,000,000 PLANES, THEY SAID, WAS THE DRAIN ON DWINDLING DOLLAR RESOURCES.

THESE TWO PROPOSALS HAVE BEEN SUBMITTED TO THE CABINET FOR DECISION, THE INFORMANTS SAID:

A.) TO HIRE A FLEET OF LOCKHEED CONSTELLATION AIRLINERS AND FIT THEM WITH BRITISH BRISTOL CENTAURUS ENGINES.

B.) TO PURCHASE OUTRIGHT BETWEEN 20 AND 40 CONSTELLATION AIRLINERS FROM THE LOCKHEED AIRCRAFT CORPORATION.

MAR 1947

BOTH LOCKHEED AND BRITISH OVERSEAS AIRWAYS HAVE INDICATED WILLINGNESS TO CARRY OUT THE FIRST PROPOSAL, THE SOURCES SAID.

MINISTRY OF AVIATION AND BOAC SOURCES AGREED TODAY IT WOULD TAKE BRITAIN AT LEAST FIVE YEARS TO TURN OUT AN AIRCRAFT ABLE TO COMPETE IN PERFORMANCE, RANGE, LOAD AND SPEED WITH THE CONSTELLATION.

BOAC NOW USES FIVE CONSTELLATIONS ON ITS TRANS-ATLANTIC SERVICE.

THE RUSSIANS ALSO DISAPPROVED THE CORRESPONDENTS' REQUEST TO VISIT FOUR CITIES, SWINEMUENDE, PEENEMUENDE, ROSTOCK AND ORANIENBURG.

THE AMERICAN CORRESPONDENTS ASSOCIATION OF BERLIN DISPATCHED TO MARSHAL VASSILY ~~D.SOKOLOVSKY,~~ CHIEF OF THE SOVIET MILITARY ADMINISTRATION IN GERMANY, A PROEST AGAINST THE BANNING OF THE TRIBUNE'S CORRESPONDENT, HAL FOUST, AND AN "URGENT REQUEST" THAT THE DELETED CITIES BE REINSTATED TO THE ITINERARY.

THE RUSSIANS ACCEPTED 11 OF 12 CORRESPONDENTS PROPOSED FOR THE TOUR WHICH IS SCHEDULED TO START MARCH 31 AND CONCLUDE APRIL 5. IT WILL BE THE FIRST SUCH TRIP INTO THE ZONE SINCE SEPTEMBER 1946, ALTHOUGH THE RUSSIANS SEVERAL WEEKS AGO PERMITTED CORRESPONDENTS OF WESTERN NATIONS TO VISIT THE LEIPZIG FAIR.

A SPOKESMAN FOR THE SOVIET BUREAU OF INFORMATION INFORMED THE AMERICAN MILITARY GOVERNMENT'S PUBLIC RELATIONS SECTION THAT IT WAS NECESSARY TO DISAPPROVE VISITS TO SEVERAL TOWNS BECAUSE THE ITINERARY PROPOSED BY THE CORRESPONDENTS WAS "TOO LONG FOR A WEEK'S TOUR." IN THE CASE OF PEENEMUENDE, THE RUSSIAN SPOKESMAN SAID, A VISIT WAS IMPOSSIBLE BECAUSE "PEENEMUENDE IS UNDER POLISH JURISDICTION."

THE CORRESPONDENTS HAD DESIRED TO VISIT ORANIENBURG TO CHECK ON RECURRENT REPORTS THAT IT WAS THE SITE OF A BIG INTERNMENT CAMP WHERE THE RUSSIANS ARE CONFINING GERMANS THEY CONSIDER DANGEROUS. PEENEMUENDE AND SWINEMUENDE ON THE BALTIC COAST WERE NAZI ROCKET SITES.

FOREIGN MINISTERS SIDEBAR (470)

BY EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, MARCH 25-(AP)-THE GREAT GAME OF "HARD TO GET" CONTINUED IN THE RUSSIAN CAPITAL TODAY--BUT WITH ONLY TWO PLAYERS STILL SITTING IN.

HAVING NOW SEEN FRENCH FOREIGN MINISTER GEORGES BIDAULT AND BRITISH FOREIGN SECRETARY ERNEST BEVIN--BOTH MORE OR LESS AT THEIR OWN SUGGESTION--PRIME MINISTER JOSEPH STALIN APPARENTLY HAS DECIDED TO SIT BACK AND DO SOME MORE WAITING, AT WHICH HE IS VERY GOOD.

AT THE OTHER END OF THE CITY FROM THE GOLDEN-DOMED KREMLIN SITS U.S. SECRETARY OF STATE GEORGE C. MARSHALL, WHO HAS BEEN HERE 16 DAYS WITHOUT MEETING THE SOVIET LEADER AND WHO HAS MADE NO OFFICIAL MOVE TO SEE HIM UP TO NOW.

AS THOSE FAMILIAR WITH PROCEDURE HERE KNOW, IT IS USUALLY THE KREMLIN WHICH DOES THE INVITING WHERE TALKS WITH STALIN, ARE CONCERNED.

ON THIS OCCASION, HOWEVER, BIDAULT STARTED THINGS ROLLING BY LEAVING HIS VISITING CARD FOR STALIN. HE FOLLOWED THIS UP BY A FORMAL REQUEST TO SEE THE PRIME MINISTER, WHICH WAS GRANTED.

BEVIN SUBSEQUENTLY INDICATED THAT HE WAS READY TO DISCUSS WITH THE RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT THE QUESTION OF REVISION OF THE SOVIET-BRITISH TREATY OF ALLIANCE, AND HE WAS INVITED TO THE KREMLIN LAST EVENING FOR A 75-MINUTE CHAT.

OBSERVERS NOTED THAT THE OFFICIAL SOVIET ANNOUNCEMENT OF THIS MEETING REFERRED TO STALIN SIMPLY AS CHAIRMAN OF THE COUNCIL OF MINISTERS AND NOT AS GENERALISSIMO. THIS LED TO SOME SPECULATION THAT HE HAD DROPPED THIS TITLE SINCE HE RESIGNED RECENTLY AS MINISTER OF THE ARMED FORCES, ALTHOUGH HE STILL WEARS THE UNIFORM.

MOSCOW NEWSPAPERS FEATURED ON THEIR FRONT PAGES TODAY THE STORY OF STALIN'S MEETING WITH BEVIN, BUT THERE WERE NO PHOTOGRAPHS OF THE EVENT. NO PHOTOGRAPHS WERE PUBLISHED AFTER BIDAULT'S MEETING WITH THE PRIME MINISTER.

IF MARSHALL IS PERTURBED OVER THE FACT THAT HE HAS NOT RECEIVED AN INVITATION TO THE KREMLIN HE IS NOT SHOWING IT--ALTHOUGH HE HAS BEEN HERE LONGER WITHOUT SEEING STALIN THAN ANY OTHER FOREIGN MINISTER WHO HAS VISITED MOSCOW IN THE FIVE AND ONE-HALF YEARS THIS CORRESPONDENT HAS BEEN IN THE SOVIET CAPITAL.

AUTHORITATIVE INFORMANTS HINTED TODAY THAT MARSHALL MIGHT ASK TO SEE STALIN WHEN THE CONFERENCES ON GERMANY GET DOWN TO BED ROCK. HOWEVER, THE FACT IS THAT AT PRESENT IT LOOKS LIKE A DOUBLE BUSINESS OF PLAYING "HARD TO GET."

A77

THE MOST INTERESTING BIT OF NEWS TODAY OUTSIDE THE FOREIGN MINISTERS CONFERENCE ITSELF INVOLVED THE CONFLICT IN TWO IMPORTANT SOCIAL EVENTS TONIGHT--THE GREEK EMBASSY CELEBRATION OF GREECE'S NATIONAL INDEPENDENCE DAY AND A RUSSIAN PARTY FOR THE FOREIGN MINISTERS AT THE BOLSHOI THEATER.

THE GREEKS ISSUED THEIR INVITATIONS A WEEK AGO, WHILE THE INVITATIONS TO THE RUSSIAN PARTY ONLY CAME THROUGH SUNDAY--PROVOKING A CRY OF "POLITICS" IN SOME QUARTERS.

THE VISITING FOREIGN MINISTERS, WHO ARE EXPECTED, OF COURSE, TO APPEAR AT THE THEATER, ARE REPORTED PLANNING TO ATTEND THE GREEK PARTY, TOO--ALTHOUGH IT WILL MAKE A LONG NIGHT FOR THEM.

THE PROGRAM AT THE THEATER PROBABLY WILL NOT END UNTIL 11:30 P.M., AND THE PARTY AT THE GREEK EMBASSY IS SCHEDULED TO BEGIN AT 9:30.

MOSCOW, MARCH 25-(AP)-IZVESTIA DECLARED TODAY THAT BRITAIN'S SOCIALIZATION OF GERMAN INDUSTRY WAS A MASQUERADE IN WHICH "SOCIALIZED MONOPOLIES" ARE TRYING TO SEIZE THE ECONOMY OF ALL GERMANY.

COMMENTATOR A. D. KRAMINOV WROTE:

"ENGLISH OCCUPATIONAL AUTHORITIES ARE WILLING TO COOPERATE WITH GERMAN INDUSTRIALISTS, ENTRUSTING TO THEM AN ELABORATE PROGRAM OF SO-CALLED 'SOCIALIZATION' OF GERMAN INDUSTRY.

"ACTUALLY, THE TALK IS SIMPLY ABOUT A CHANGE OF NAME OF CAPITALISTIC CONCERNS INTO 'SOCIALIZED SHARE COMPANIES.' BUT THIS MASQUERADE HAS DECEIVED NO ONE. THESE 'SOCIALIZED MONOPOLIES' ARE TRYING TO SEIZE THE ECONOMY OF ALL GERMANY.

"BEVIN'S EFFORTS TO MINIMIZE THE IMPORTANCE OF THE RUHR IN THE SYSTEM OF GERMAN ECONOMY CANNOT BE REGARDED AS SOLVENT. EVERYBODY KNOWS THE RUHR WAS, AND STILL IS, THE HEART OF THE GERMAN MILITARY INDUSTRIAL POTENTIAL AND THE GUNSMITH SHOP OF ARMAMENTS FOR GERMAN MILITARISM."

THE COMMENTATOR DECLARED THAT FOR A YEAR AND A HALF THE BRITISH HAD DONE ALMOST NOTHING TO FULFILL THE DECISIONS OF THE POTSDAM CONFERENCE ON THE RUHR. REFERRING TO THE TIME THE BRITISH TOOK OVER THE COAL INDUSTRY, HE SAID:

"THIS STEP WAS ACCOMPANIED BY A GREAT NOISE OF THE ENGLISH AND GERMAN PRESS, CONTROLLED BY ENGLISHMEN, WHO PREDICTED THE NEAR NATIONALIZATION OF GERMAN INDUSTRY. IN FACT, VERY LITTLE WAS CHANGED."

IZVESTIA SAID BRITAIN PRESENTLY CONTROLS ALMOST THREE-FOURTHS OF THE COAL CONSUMED BY EUROPE FROM GERMAN MINES BEFORE THE WAR.

"BEING UNABLE, HOWEVER, TO SEIZE THE EUROPEAN COAL MARKET," KRAMINOV CONTINUED, "BRITAIN PUTS BRAKES ON THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE OUTPUT OF COAL IN THE RUHR IN CONSEQUENCE OF WHICH THERE IS A COAL FAMINE IN EUROPE AND DELAY IN THE RESTORATION OF EUROPEAN COUNTRIES WHICH SUFFERED FROM THE WAR.

"IT IS ENTIRELY OBVIOUS THAT THE RUHR'S INDUSTRIAL DISTRICTS, WHICH ARE OF VITAL IMPORTANCE FOR THE POSTWAR RESTORATION OF EUROPE, CANNOT REMAIN IN THE HANDS OF THE BRITISH ONLY, WHO DO NOT FULFILL THE DECISIONS OF THE BERLIN (POTSDAM) CONFERENCE ON DESTROYING THE GERMAN MILITARY INDUSTRIAL POTENTIAL."

signs multiplied in washington today of a progressively toughening official attitude toward russia, and in moscow the world's top diplomat waited for the full force of high-level soviet reaction to the most recent ame ic an moves.

This reaction from moscow, the diplomats expected, might come and if when u.s. secretary of state marshall makes a call at the Kremlin for a talk with prime minister Stalin. when that event takes place, the opinion there was that much plain talk will come from both s ides.

Among the world latest developments on this score were these:

1. support in washington from the republican leadership for president truman's program of aid to turkey and greece narrowed the field of possible congressional opposition to a policy looked upon as a determined move to stem the tide of communism.

2. william c. bullitt, one-time u.s. ambassador to moscow, has told the house committee on un-american activities that russia was intent ultimately upon an assault on the united states, and that if she had the atom bomb "it would already have been dropped on the united states."

3. in neus tadt, germany, a scientist who said he feared the result if he were identified by name told the associated Said in an interview was he believed "from what i have seen," russia would have an a tom bomb similar to that of the united states within three to five years. The scientist, who escaped said he had from a government laboratory in moscow, added that russian scientists are sweating blood day and night in atomic bomb research.

4. President Truman has laid down a dictum forbidding communists to work for the united s tates government.

While these developments crowded one upon the other the council of foreign ministers in moscow bumped away at the job of framing the german and austrian peace treaties.

At the same time the pros pect of a meeting between stalin and marshall was the center of speculation. Persons close to the american secretary said he was prepared to discuss in the firmest manner the basic american policy toward russia, should the subject come up

He also was expected to take up u.s. undersecretary of state dean acheson's testimony yesterday before the senate foreign relations committee that all of the proposed $190,000,000 loan to turkey would be for military aid. Acheson said he did not know of any other country than russia which could be identified as a "potentia l ag gressor, as far as turkey is concerned."

A239 INSERT MOSCOW (KYL - FOR. MIN.) AFTER 11TH GRAF XXX PAR FR.

MEANWHILE, THERE WAS CONSIDERABLE SPECULATION IN AMERICAN CIRCLES ABOUT LAST NIGHT'S MEETING OF BEVIN AND PRIME MINISTER STALIN, PARTICULARLY ABOUT WHAT THE RUSSIAN LEADER MAY HAVE SAID CONCERNING BRITISH AND AMERICAN POLICIES TOWARD GREECE AND TURKEY. (Gallagher)

THERE APPEARED TO BE LITTLE DOUBT THAT THE SUBJECT WAS DISCUSSED, ALONG WITH THE POSSIBLE EXTENSION AND STRENGTHENING OF THE PRESENT RUSSIAN-BRITISH ALLIANCE AGAINST FUTURE GERMAN AGGRESSION.

THE BRITISH DELEGATION SEEMED TO FEEL GUARDEDLY OPTIMISTIC ABOUT RUSSIAN-BRITISH RELATIONS. THIS MAY MEAN THAT SOME PROGRESS WAS MADE ON THE BRITISH PROPOSAL TO EXTEND THE 20-YEAR ALLIANCE SIGNED IN 1942.

TOP SOVIET REACTION TO PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S PLAN TO AID GREECE AND TURKEY MAY NOT BE KNOWN UNTIL-SUCH TIME AS MARSHALL VISITS THE KREMLIN. A RESPONSIBLE OFFICIAL SAID THAT THE UNITED STATES SECRETARY WOULD NOT SEEK A MEETING WITH STALIN UNTIL THE COUNCIL OF MINISTERS HAD NEARED A SHOWDOWN ON GERMANY.

A POSSIBILITY REMAINED, HOWEVER, THAT STALIN MIGHT INVITE MARSHALL TO THE KREMLIN BEFORE THAT TIME. MARSHALL IS THE ONLY VISITING FOREIGN MINISTER WHO HAS NOT MET WITH THE RUSSIAN LEADER.

BRITISH SOURCES WERE SILENT ABOUT THE BEVIN-STALIN MEETING, AS CUSTOMARY AFTER THESE KREMLIN GATHERINGS, BUT AVAILABLE INFORMATION POINTED UP TWO ITEMS. ADD 1ST NEW COMY-FOR. MIN.) XXX SIDES

THESE WERE THAT THE BRITISH DELEGATION FELT GUARDEDLY OPTIMISTIC ABOUT THE GENERAL STATUS OF RUSSIAN RELATIONS--WHICH PROBABLY MEANS PROGRESS ON THE ANGLO-SOVIET ALLIANCE REVISION--AND ALSO THAT SEVERAL SUBJECTS WERE SAID TO HAVE BEEN DISCUSSED BY STALIN AND BEVIN, EVEN THOUGH THE MEETING LASTED ONLY 75 MINUTES.

BEVIN WENT INTO THE SESSION PLANNING TO BRING UP MAINLY THE MATTER OF TREATY REVISION, CURRENT PROBLEMS IN GERMANY, AND A BIG FOUR PACT TO KEEP GERMANY POWERLESS. APPARENTLY WELL GROUNDED BELIEF, THEREFORE, WAS THAT THE MIDDLE EAST SITUATION WAS MOST LIKELY RAISED BY THE RUSSIAN PRIME MINISTER. (Highlights)

ALL ASPECTS OF KREMLIN REACTION TO AMERICAN MOVES IN THE MIDDLE EAST HAVE NOT YET BEEN DISCLOSED, BUT DIPLOMATS OF THE WESTERN POWERS WERE INTERESTED IN ONE LINE WHICH THE MOSCOW PRESS HAS BEEN PROMOTING TO SOME-EXTENT: THAT THE UNITED STATES ACTUALLY WAS TRYING TO DISPLACE GREAT BRITAIN AS THE LEADING MIDDLE EAST POWER.

SINCE FRENCH FOREIGN MINISTER GEORGES BIDAULT SAW THE RUSSIAN NO. 1 MAN LAST WEEK, MARSHALL IS THE ONLY ONE OF THE VISITING FOREIGN MINISTERS WHO HAS NOT MADE A KREMLIN CALL.

AMERICAN QUARTERS IN MOSCOW NOTED WITH INTEREST THE FACT THAT BEVIN'S VISIT RESULTED AFTER HE HAD INQUIRED ABOUT SOME CONVERSATIONS CONCERNING REVISION OF THE BRITISH-SOVIET ALLIANCE AND THAT BIDAULT'S VISIT ALSO RESULTED FROM AN INITIAL MOVE ON HIS PART.

BELIEF THUS HAS GROWN THAT MARSHALL MAY NOT BE INVITED UNTIL HE INDICATES SOME INTEREST IN A MEETING HIMSELF. HIS FEELING IS REPORTED TO BE THAT SUCH A TETE-A-TETE WOULD BE MOST PROFITABLE AFTER GERMAN ISSUES BEFORE THE COUNCIL ARE CLEARLY DRAWN.

A STALIN-MARSHALL MEETING PROBABLY WOULD BE A LIVELY ONE AT ANY TIME, SINCE PERSONS CLOSE TO THE AMERICAN SECRETARY SAY HE IS PREPARED TO DISCUSS IN THE FIRMEST MANNER THE BASIC U.S. POLICY TOWARD RUSSIA,

IF THE SUBJECT COMES UP, AND SUCH THINGS AS UNDERSECRETARY OF STATE DEAN ACHESON'S TESTIMONY REGARDING RUSSIA AND TURKEY ARE KEEPING THE SITUATION WELL STIRRED UP HERE.

(ACHESON TOLD THE U.S. SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE YESTERDAY THAT ALL OF THE PROPOSED $150,000,000 U.S. LOAN TO TURKEY WOULD BE FOR MILITARY AID, AND SAID HE DID NOT KNOW OF ANY OTHER COUNTRY THAN URRIA WHICH COULD BE IDENTIFIED AS A "POTENTIAL AGGRESSOR AS FAR AS TURKEY IS CONCERNED.")

BEVIN WENT TO THE KREMLIN OVER RAIN-POLISHED STREETS AT 10 P.M. MOSCOW TIME, ACCOMPANIED BY THE BRITISH AMBASSADOR TO MOSCOW, SIR MAURICE DRUMMOND PETERSON, AN INTERPRETER AND A SECRETARY. SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTER V.M. MOLOTOV WAS WITH STALIN DURING THE AUDIENCE. THIS CONFERENCE TOPPED OFF AN ACTIVE DAY, DESPITE THE FACT THE COUNCIL HAD BEEN IN RECESS SINCE SATURDAY.

AMONG THE MOST IMPORTANT LATE DEVELOPMENTS WERE A MARSHALL PROPOSAL FOR PROGRESSIVE REDUCTION OF OCCUPATION FORCES IN GERMANY IN ORDER TO HLEP THAT BEATEN COUNTRY GET BACK ON ITS ECONOMIC FEET; A BIDAULT SUGGESTION FOR A BIG FOUR CONFERENCE IN PARIS BEFORE JULY 1 TO ORGANIZE EMIGRATION FROM GERMANY AND THUS REDUCE THE POPULATION; AND THE DISCLOSURE THAT A COORDINATING COMMITTEE IS FINDING ABOUT 75 PERCENT DISAGREEMENT AND ONLY 25 ERCENT AGREEMENT IN THE PROPOSITIONS PUT FORWARD BY THE FORZIGN MINISTERS TO DATE.

THE COMMITTEE, WHICH WAS SCHEDULED TO REPORT AGREEMENTS AND DISAGREEMENTS TO DATE TO THE COUNCIL TONIGHT, KICKED UP SUCH WRANGLES ITSELF THAT ITS FULL REPORT PROBABLY WILL NOT BE READY IN TIME. SEVERAL CLASHES DEVELOPED BETWEEN GEN. LUCIUS D.CLAY OF THE UNITED STATES, AND DEPUTY FOREIGN MINISTER ANDREI J.VISHINSKY OF RUSSIA.

AT ONE POINT IN THE HEATED DISCUSSION, VISHINSKY SAID HE COULD NOT AGREE TO A PROPOSAL BECAUSE HE DIDN'T WANT TO LOSE HIS REPUTATION AS A GOOD DEMOCRAT. CLAY QUIPPED THAT HE PERSONALLY WOULD NOT HAVE MUCH TO LOSE.

THE COMMITTEE'S FINDING CONCERNING THE LARGE NUMBER OF DISAGREEMENTS FURTHER SUBSTANTIATED THE BELIEF OF SOME WESTERN DIPLOMATS THAT EVEN THOUGH THE REAL TESTS ON THE VARIOUS POWERS' INTERESTS IN GERMANY REMAIN TO BE MADE, THE CURRENT BIG FOUR SESSION WILL DO LESS TOWARD SOLVING PROBLEMS THAN TOWARD MAKING THEM CLEAR TO EACH OTHER.

BEVIN'S MEETING WITH STALIN, AS IS CUSTOMARY WITH THE KREMLIN, WAS CLOAKED WITH CONSIDERABLE SECRECY, BOTH BEFORE AND AFTER THE EVENT. IT WAS KNOWN, HOWEVER, THAT REVISION AND EXTENSION OF THE 1942 BRITISH-RUSSIAN PACT WAS LISTED AS THE MAIN SUBJECT FOR DISCUSSION, HAVING RECENTLY BEEN THE SUBJECT OF SOME CONTROVERSY BETWEEN THE TWO MEN.

DIPLOMATIC INFORMANTS CONSIDERED PROSPECTS GOOD FOR REVISING AND EXTENDING THE TREATY AS EVIDENCE OF OFFICIAL BRITISH AND RUSSIAN DESIRES TO TIGHTEN MUTUAL BONDS FOR STRENGTHENING SECURITY AGAINST GERMANY.

AMERICAN OFFICIALS, WHILE FORMALLY TAKING THE LINE THAT THEY ARE ALWAYS GLAD TO SEE FRIENDLY NATIONS GET CLOSER TOGETHER, ACTUALLY AND PRIVATELY VIEW RUSSIAN EMPHASIS ON THE ALLIANCE TREATY AS AN EFFORT TO DRIVE A WEDGE BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND BRITAIN.

NEITHER THE BRITISH NOR THE AMERICANS THINK IT WILL WORK OUT THAT WAY, HOWEVER, SINCE POWER POLITICS PRESSURES, AS ALMOST INVARIABLY DEMONSTRATED HERE, HAVE FOUND THE BRITISH LINING UP ALONGSIDE THE AMERICANS AGAINST RUSSIA.

NANKING, MARCH 25-(AP)-A U.S. NOTE URGING CHINA TO TAKE OVER DAIREN, MANCHURIA, FROM THE RUSSIANS AS SOON AS POSSIBLE AND ADVISING THAT THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT HAD AGREED TO THE TRANSFER WAS REPORTED BY SOURCES CLOSE TO THE FOREIGN OFFICE TODAY.

(IN MOSCOW AN INFORMED SOURCE SAID THE SOVIET UNION HAD AGREED TO TRANSFER DAIREN, BUT THAT THE WORD TRANSFER WAS "RATHER BROAD.")

CHINESE PRESS DISPATCHES, MEANWHILE, TOLD OF GOVERNMENT PREPARATIONS TO MOVE INTO THE BIG PORT CITY.

DAIREN, IN RUSSIAN HANDS SINCE THE END OF THE WAR, WAS TO BECOME A CHINESE-ADMINISTERED FREE PORT UNDER TERMS OF THE CHINESE-RUSSIAN TREATY OF 1945.

PRESS REPORTS FROM MUKDEN SAID TWO TRANSPORT CENTERS HAD BEEN ESTABLISHED AT HAILUNG AND MEIHOKOW, ABOUT 125 MILES NORTHEAST OF MUKDEN, TO FACILITATE MOVEMENT OF TROOPS ALONG THE KIRIN-DAIREN RAILROAD. GEN.HSIUNG SHIH-HUI, DIRECTOR OF CHIANG KAI-SHEK'S HEADQUARTERS IN MANCHURIA, WAS REPORTED TO HAVE CONFERRED WITH GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS ASSIGNED TO ASSIST IN THE OPERATION.

ON THE INTERNAL POLITICAL FRONT, CHINA'S KUOMINTANG (GOVERNING PARTY) ENDED ITS SECRET POLICY CONFERENCE TODAY WITH ONLY TWO CLEAR-CUT RESULTS MADE KNOWN: CHIANG'S POWER REMAINS UNIMPAIRED, AND HIS MILITARY LEADERS HAVE ACHIEVED TEAMWORK IN THEIR BATTLE AGAINST COMMUNISM.

THE CONFERENCE CLOSED WITH NO DEFINITE INDICATION OF THE VICTOR IN THE STRUGGLE FOR POWER BETWEEN CONSERVATIVE AND MODERATE FACTIONS. OBSERVERS WHO WATCHED BEHIND-THE-SCENES ACTIVITIES THROUGHOUT THE 10-DAY SESSION SAID CHIANG'S CONTINUED POWER OVER THE WHOLE PARTY WAS EVIDENT, WHILE THE STRUGGLE OF FACTIONS UNDER HIM WAS BEST DESCRIBED AS A TEMPORARY STALEMATE.

THEY SAID THAT CONSERVATIVES, HEADED BY MINISTER OF ORGANIZATION CHEN LI-FU, MAINTAINED CONTROL OF THE NATION'S INTERNAL AFFAIRS, BUT THAT MODERATES -- SUPPORTED BY CHIANG KAI-SHEK'S DEFENSE OF THE POLICIES OF HIS FOREIGN MINISTER WANG SHIH-CHIEH -- APPEARED TO HAVE INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS WELL IN HAND.

FIELD REPORTS TODAY INDICATED THE KUOMINTANG ARMIES NORTH AND EAST OF YENAN WERE JOINING GEN. HU TSUNG-NAN'S TROOPS, WHICH TOOK YENAN, AND WERE PRESSING THE REDS IN A WIDENING SECTOR OF SHENSI PROVINCE. THE LATEST DISPATCH FROM SIKING (SIAN), SOUTH OF YENAN, SAID GENERAL HU'S FORCES WERE MOPPING UP ALL REDS WITHIN A RADIUS OF 17 MILES OF YENAN AFTER "HEAVY" FIGHTING.

SIKING DISPATCHES ALSO REPORTED THAT A GOVERNMENT GARRISON IN YULIN, 110 MILES NORTH OF YENAN AND LONG BESIEGED BY REDS, HAD SENT A COLUMN SOUTHWARD, WHILE OTHER GOVERNMENT FORCES WERE PUSHING INTO THE NINGSIA-SHENSI BORDER REGION AND HAD CAPTURED YENCHIH, A CITY 135 MILES NORTHWEST OF YENAN. OTHER DISPATCHES REPORTED CAPTURE OF YENCHANG, 40 MILES EAST OF YENAN.

(IN PEIPING, THE GOVERNMENT ORDERED CHINESE-LANGUAGE NEWSPAPERS TO SUPPRESS A BITTER STATEMENT BY FORMOSANS RESIDING IN THE CITY. THE STATEMENT BLAMED THE RECENT UPRISING ON THE ISLAND ON AUTHORITIES "WORSE THAN THE SWORN ENEMY, JAPAN."

"UNSCRUPULOUS, CORRUPT OFFICIALS WHO WERE SENT TO GOVERN OUR BELOVED ISLAND RUINED IT BY THEIR GREED AND INCOMPETENCE," THE STATEMENT SAID.

BY ROBERT BUNNELLE (280)

OTTAWA, MARCH 25-(AP)-THE CANADIAN GOVERNMENT DISCLOSED TODAY THAT IT WAS COOPERATING WITH THE UNITED STATES IN ESTABLISHING A SERIES OF LONG RANGE RADAR STATIONS "IN THE NORTH," THUS FURTHERING THEIR JOINT DEFENSE PLAN.

IN A FORMAL STATEMENT L. S. ST. LAURENT, SECRETARY OF STATE FOR EXTERNAL AFFAIRS, SAID THAT TWO LORAN (LONG RANGE RADAR AID TO NAVIGATION) STATIONS WOULD BE CONSTRUCTED IN 1947 AND "POSSIBLY A THIRD IN 1948."

"IN ORDER THAT THESE STATIONS MAY BE CONSTRUCTED AND IN OPERATION AT AN EARLY DATE," HE SAID, "THE UNITED STATES HAS OFFERED TO ASSIST US BY SUPPLYING TECHNICAL PERSONNEL UNTIL SUFFICIENT TRAINED CANADIAN PERSONNEL ARE AVAILABLE FOR REPLACEMENT AS WELL AS CERTAIN SPECIAL TECHNICAL EQUIPMENT NOT AVAILABLE IN CANADA."

WHILE THE STATEMENT EMPHASIZED THAT THE LORAN SYSTEM WAS BEING ESTABLISHED "TO INCREASE THE SAFETY OF AIR AND SEA TRAVEL," THE USEFULNESS OF THE LONG RANGE RADAR SCREEN IN THE NORTH IN WAR AS WELL AS PEACE IS OBVIOUS.

LOCATION OF THE STATIONS WAS NOT ANNOUNCED, BUT ST. LAURENT SAID CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES ALREADY HAD BEEN TESTING JOINTLY OPERATION OF THREE EXPERIMENTAL TRANSMITTING STATIONS AT HAMLIN, SASKATCHEWAN, GIMLIKO, MANITOBA, AND DAWSON CREEK, BRITISH COLUMBIA, WHICH WILL BE DISCONTINUED WITH THE ESTABLISHMENT OF REGULAR STATIONS.

HE SAID "EXPERIMENTAL WORK ALREADY CARRIED OUT HAS SHOWN SUFFICIENT PROMISE TO JUSTIFY EXTENSION OF THE PROGRAM INTO THE NORTHERN LATITUDES WHERE THE SYSTEM WILL PROVIDE MUCH GREATER MEASURE OF SECURITY FOR FLIGHTS."

ESTABLISHMENT OF THE NEW STATIONS TIES IN WITH CONSTRUCTION OF NINE WEATHER STATIONS TO BE BUILT IN THE NORTHERN WASTELANDS IN THE NEXT THREE YEARS AND OPERATED JOINTLY BY THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA.

ST. LAURENT SAID THAT INITIALLY THE LORAN STATIONS WOULD BE OPERATED IN CONJUNCTION WITH EXISTING RADAR STATIONS ON UNITED STATES TERRITORY, PRESUMABLY ALASKA.

MONTREAL, MARCH 25-(AP)-MAJOR NEWSPRINT PRODUCERS REMAINED SILENT TODAY AS SPECULATION CONTINUED ABOUT WHETHER THEY WOULD FOLLOW THE LEAD OF CANADIAN INTERNATIONAL PAPER SALES CO., IN BOOSTING NEWSPRINT $6 A TON LAST WEEK. ONE OTHER FIRM, ABITIBI POWER AND PAPER CO., TOOK ACTION SIMILAR TO INTERNATIONAL.

INTERNATIONAL'S PRICE INCREASE WAS REPORTED TO HAVE COME AS A SURPRISE TO A GOOD SECTION OF THE INDUSTRY IN THIS AREA.

QUEBEC PROVINCE COMPANIES WERE REPORTED STILL FEELING THE EFFECTS, SO FAR AS KEEPING NEWSPRINT ON THE GO FROM PRODUCTION POINTS AS CONCERNED, OF THE NEAR-PARALYSIS CAUSED BY A FREIGHT-CAR SHORTAGE RESULTING FROM TIE-UPS CAUSED BY WINTER STORMS. THE SHORTAGE, WHICH HIT ITS PEAK AT THE END OF FEBRUARY AND THE BEGINNING OF MARCH, FORCED THE GOVERNMENT TRANSPORT CONTROLLER TO GRANT PRIORITY ORDERS FOR FREIGHT CARS TO NEWSPRINT CONCERNS.

THIS STEP WAS MADE NECESSARY WHEN OFFICIALS OF NEWSPRINT COMPANIES STRESSED THAT IT MIGHT BE NECESSARY TO SHUT DOWN SOME MILLS BECAUSE FREIGHT CARS WERE UNAVAILABLE AND ALL POSSIBLE STORAGE SPACE HAD BEEN UTILIZED. NEWSPRINT OFFICIALS INTIMATE THE SITUATION STILL HAS NOT RETURNED TO NORMAL.

MAR 1947

DIFFICULTY FACED BY NEWSPAPERS IN OBTAINING NEWSPRINT WAS POINTED UP LAST WEEK BY THE METHOD EMPLOYED BY A SMALL ST.ALBANS, VT., DAILY (THE DAILY MESSENGER). THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER RAN A PROMINENT DISPLAY ADVERTISEMENT FOR SEVERAL DAYS IN A MONTREAL NEWSPAPER (THE GAZETTE) ASKING ANYONE ABLE TO PROVIDE 11 TONS OF NEWSPRINT BY [illegible] TO NOTIFY THE PAPER BY TELEPHONE OR WIRE.

"UNLESS THEY DO BETTER, CONDITIONS HERE ARE GOING TO GET STEADILY WORSE," HE SAID. "WE ARE IN DANGER OF NOT MEETING OUR COMMITMENTS

NIGHT LEAD FOREIGN

BY J.M.DAVIS

WASHINGTON,MARCH 25-(AP)-PRESIDENT TRUMAN TODAY REPLEDGED FULL FAITH IN THE UNITED NATIONS, IN OBVIOUS REPLY TO CRITICS WHO COMPLAIN THAT THE ADMINISTRATION IS DAMAGING THE U.N'S PRESTIGE BY BYPASSING IT IN FAVOR OF LONE-HANDED AID TO GREECE AND TURKEY.

IN A MESSAGE TO SECRETARY GENERAL TRYGVE LIE ON THE FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF THE INITIAL U.N. MEETING IN THE UNITED STATES, THE PRESIDENT SAID THE AMERICAN PEOPLE "BELIEVE IN THE FUTURE OF THE UNITED NATIONS WITH FIRM CONVICTION."

MAR 1947

HE ADDED:

"THE UNITED STATES, IN ALL ITS ACTS, SEEKS TO ADD STRENGTH TO THE UNITED NATIONS AND TO GIVE EFFECT TO THE PRINCIPLES AND PURPOSES OF THE UNITED NATIONS CHARTER."

THIS DEVELOPMENT FOLLOWED AN ANNOUNCEMENT BY WARREN R.AUSTIN, U.S. REPRESENTATIVE TO THE U.N., THAT HE WILL GIVE THE WORLD PEACE-KEEPING ORGANIZATION A STATEMENT FRIDAY ON THE GREEK-TURKISH SITUATION.

ONE OF THE MAIN ISSUES IN THE ADMINISTRATION PLAN TO SHORE UP THE GREEK AND TURKISH GOVERNMENTS AGAINST COMMUNISM IS: DOES THE UNITED STATES PROPOSE THEREBY TO DITCH THE PROCESSES OF THE UNITED NATIONS?

WITH THAT AS THE BACKGROUND, AUSTIN CALLED ON MR.TRUMAN TODAY. LATER HE TOLD REPORTERS AT THE WHITE HOUSE OF HIS PLAN TO MAKE THE STATEMENT BEFORE THE SECURITY COUNCIL IN NEW YORK.

"IT WILL DEAL THOROUGHLY WITH THE ITEM IN OUR SECURITY COUNCIL BUSINESS WHICH RELATES TO DISTURBANCES ON THE NORTHERN BORDER OF GREECE," HE SAID. ASKED WHETHER HE WILL COVER THE TURKISH SITUATION AS WELL, AUSTIN NODDED THAT HE WILL.

UNDERSECRETARY OF STATE CLAYTON APPEARED BEFORE THE SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE TO BACK UP MR.TRUMAN'S REQUEST FOR $400,000,000 IN AID TO GREECE AND TURKEY. HE EXPRESSED BELIEF THAT WORLD PEACE DEPENDS TO A LARGE EXTENT ON THE PRESERVATION OF THE INDEPENDENCE OF SOVEREIGN NATIONS THROUGHOUT THE WORLD.

SENATOR HICKENLOOPER (R-IOWA) ASKED:

"SUPPOSE IT (THE $400,000,000 PROGRAM) DOESN'T WORK. THEN WHAT? DO WE CONTEMPLATE GOING ON WITH ANOTHER GRANT?"

A9WX

CLAYTON REPLIED THAT THIS ISN'T EVEN BEING CONSIDERED--"WE HAVE NOT ASSUMED FAILURE IN THIS ENTERPRISE; WE HAVE ASSUMED SUCCESS."

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS OF THE DAY, BEARING ON THE PROPOSED GREEK-TURKISH AID AND OTHER FOREIGN MATTERS AS WELL, INCLUDED:

1. REP.EATON (R-NJ), CHAIRMAN OF THE HOUSE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE, SAID HE DOES NOT BELIEVE CONGRESS CAN FINISH WITH THE AID BILL BY MARCH 31, WHEN BRITISH ECONOMIC AID WILL END FOR GREECE. HE URGED A $100,000,000 STOP-GAP ADVANCE TO GREECE.

2. CLAYTON REPLIED TO A SIMILAR PROPOSAL IN THE SENATE COMMITTEE THAT "PARTIAL ACTION" WOULD RAISE "GRAVE DOUBT IN THE MINDS OF THE GREEK PEOPLE" WHO HAVE BEEN "PESSIMISTIC SO LONG, THEY NEED A RESURGENCE OF HOPE."

3. SENATOR GEORGE (D-GA) COMMENTED THAT "A GREAT POWER OF EUROPE" IS TRYING TO EXPAND ITS CONTROL. HE SAID THE QUESTION IS WHETHER "THE OTHER PEACE MINDED COUNTRIES MAY NOT CARE TO TAKE THEIR STAND BY OUR SIDE, AND AID IN CHECKING THIS EXPANSION, WHICH MIGHT NOT STOP AT ANY OCEAN BARRIERS."

4. ON THE SPECIFIC POINT OF TURKEY, CLAYTON HINTED AT A HOPE THAT THE AID PROGRAM WILL RID TURKEY OF THE NEED TO MAINTAIN AN ACTIVE ARMY FOR DEFENSE. HE DID NOT SPECIFY DANGERS TO TURKEY, BUT UNDERSECRETARY DEAN ACHESON HAS SAID THE ONLY "POTENTIAL AGGRESSOR" THERE WAS RUSSIA.

5. ARTHUR BLISS LANE FORMALLY RESIGNED AS AMBASSADOR TO POLAND, WRITING PRESIDENT TRUMAN THAT HE WISHED TO BE ABLE AS A PRIVATE CITIZEN "TO SPEAK AND WRITE OPENLY X X X REGARDING THE PRESENT TRAGEDY OF POLAND." LANE SAID THAT THE RECENT POLISH ELECTIONS, IN WHICH THE COMMUNIST ELEMENTS TRIUMPHED, WERE ANYTHING BUT "FREE AND UNFETTERED."

6. THE UNITED STATES, IN A NOTE TO SWEDEN, PROTESTED "STRONGLY" AGAINST SWEDISH IMPORT RESTRICTIONS WHICH PROMISE TO FAVOR RUSSIAN GOODS OVER AMERICAN.

7. GENERAL DWIGHT D.EISENHOWER TOLD THE NATIONAL PRESS CLUB THAT NO COUNTRY AT PRESENT "WOULD DELIBERATELY PROVOKE WAR." HE ADDED THAT SOME "IMMATURE NATION" MIGHT POSSIBLY CREATE AN "INCIDENT."

8. RUSSIA NOTIFIED THE UNITED STATES THAT SHE IS READY TO TAKE "APPROPRIATE STEPS" TO TURN BACK THE MANCHURIAN PORT OF DAIREN TO CHINA THIS IS THE PORT FROM WHICH A U.S.VESSEL WAS ORDERED TO DEPART LAST DECEMBER BY RUSSIAN AUTHORITIES.

THE QUESTION OF U.S. VS. U.N. ACTION IN GREECE AND TURKEY HAS BEEN ALIVE SINCE MR.TRUMAN ORIGINALLY REQUESTED AMERICAN ACTION ALONE. HE SAID THEN THAT THE U.N. IS NOT READY.

TO COVER THE SITUATION, SENATORS VANDENBERG (R-MICH) AND CONNALLY (D-TEX) HAVE PROPOSED THAT THE AID BILL STATE AT THE OUTSET THAT IT IS A FREEDOM-AND-INDEPENDENCE MEASURE "IN CONFORMITY WITH THE PRINCIPLES AND PURPOSES" OF THE U.N. CHARTER.

SENATORS PEPPER (D-FLA) AND TAYLOR (D-IDAHO) PROPOSED TODAY THAT THE U.S.ADVANCE $250,000,000 IN GREEK AID THROUGH THE U.N. AND GIVE NOTHING TO TURKEY.

ARGUING AGAINST PEPPER, CONNALLY TOLD THE SENATE THAT THE RECENT U.S.LOANS TO ENGLAND, FRANCE AND ITALY WERE MADE TO STOP THE "SURGES OF COMMUNISM."

CONNALLY SAID THAT UNLESS THE UNITED STATES HAD GONE TO THEIR "ECONOMIC RELIEF" THESE NATIONS MIGHT HAVE BEEN "SUBMERGED BY COMMUNISM."

EVERYONE KNOWS, HE SAID, THAT SO FAR THE "UNITED NATIONS DOES NOT HAVE A DIME NOR DOES IT HAVE ONE SOLDIER."

HE PREDICTED A DELAY FOR A YEAR OR MORE IF GREEK AID WERE HANDLED THROUGH U.N.

AND IF AN APPEAL WENT TO THE U.N.SECURITY COUNCIL, CONNALLY CONTINUED:

"YOU KNOW WHO SITS THERE ON THE SECURITY COUNCIL. TEN TIMES AND

30.24-8759

MORE THEY HAVE EXERCISED A VETO."

CONNALLY SAID HE WAS REFERRING TO RUSSIA.

PRINTED HEARINGS OF THE HOUSE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE, RELEASED TONIGHT, SHOWED THAT NINE DAYS BEFORE PRESIDENT TRUMAN MADE HIS BID FOR HELP FOR GREECE AND TURKEY ON MARCH 12, CHAIRMAN EATON TOLD FELLOW MEMBERS IN A CLOSED-DOOR MEETING:

"THERE IS NO DOUBT IN THE WORLD THAT IF RUSSIA TAKES OVER GREECE, THEN TURKEY, THEN ARABIA, THEN INDIA, THEN COMES AROUND TO CHINA, RUSSIA WILL HOLD THE WORLD IN THE HOLLOW OF HER HAND, AND WHAT HAPPENS TO US WILL BE OF ENORMOUS AND UNMEASURABLE EXPENSE AND COST, AND PERHAPS AN ULTIMATE FAILURE.

"THE ISSUE IN THE WORLD TODAY IS BETWEEN FREEMEN AND SLAVERY OF MEN AND THAT ISSUE IS GOING TO BE FOUGHT OUT AND SETTLED."

JOHN J.MCCLOY, PRESIDENT OF THE WORLD BANK, DISCLOSED MEANWHILE THAT GREECE HAS NOTIFIED THE BANK OF INTENTIONS TO SEEK A LOAN FROM IT "AT SOME LATER DATE."

THE SUM TO BE SOUGHT WAS NOT MENTIONED. U.S.OFFICIALS HAVE SAID GREECE COULD NOT QUALIFY FOR A WORLD BANK UNTIL ITS ECONOMY IS RESTORED TO A POINT WHERE IT WOULD BE A BETTER RISK.

BY WILLIAM F.ARBOGAST

MAR 1947

WASHINGTON,MARCH 25-(AP)-REPUBLICANS HELD THEIR BUDGET-CUTTING LINES FIRMLY TODAY AS THEY RAMMED THROUGH THE HOUSE A $1,684,586,700 APPROPRIATION BILL FOR THE LABOR DEPARTMENT AND THE FEDERAL SECURITY AGENCY.

AMENDMENT AFTER AMENDMENT TO INCREASE THE FUNDS APPROVED BY THE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE WAS BATTED DOWN. THE SINGLE CHANGE WAS A FURTHER REDUCTION OF $1,000,000 IN THE PREVIOUSLY-SHAVED ALLOTMENT FOR THE BUREAU OF LABOR STATISTICS.

DEFEATED WERE PROPOSALS TO ABOLISH THE NATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS BOARD, TO ADD FUNDS FOR THE VETERANS' JOB REPLACEMENT SERVICE AND TO RESTORE THE JOBS OF EDGAR L.WARREN AS DIRECTOR OF THE LABOR DEPARTMENT'S CONCILIATION SERVICE AND SCORES OF CONCILIATION SERVICE EMPLOYES.

AS IT WENT TO THE SENATE, THE BILL, CARRIED $89,864,200 FOR THE LABOR DEPARTMENT, $899,045,180 FOR THE FEDERAL SECURITY AGENCY, $4,033,700 FOR THE NLRB, $850,000 FOR THE NATIONAL (RAILWAY) MEDIATION BOARD AND $690,793,000 FOR THE RAILROAD RETIREMENT BOARD.

A36WX

THE OVERALL TOTAL WAS $78,825,520 BELOW THE PRESIDENT'S BUDGET ESTIMATES AND $365,170,277 ABOVE CURRENT YEAR APPROPRIATIONS. THE INCREASE WAS DUE TO ENLARGEMENT OF THE RAILROAD RETIREMENT ACCOUNT.

THE ACTION TODAY RAISED TO $975,898,270 THE TOTAL CUTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S BUDGET ON THE TWO BIG APPROPRIATION BILLS NOW PASSED BY THE HOUSE. THE TWO TOGETHER--CARRYING FUNDS FOR THE LABOR DEPARTMENT-FEDERAL SECURITY AGENCY AND THE TREASURY-POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENTS--ACCOUNT FOR APPROXIMATELY 40 PER CENT OF THE TOTAL PRESIDENTIAL BUDGET OF $37,500,000,000 FOR THE FISCAL YEAR STARTING NEXT JULY 1.

THE FIGHT IN THE BILL CENTERED AROUND THE CONCILIATION SERVICE AND DIRECTOR WARREN.

THE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE KNOCKED OUT FUNDS FOR WARREN'S OFFICE AND THE POSITIONS OF MANY OF HIS AIDES AFTER THE DIRECTOR ADMITTED HAVING HELD MEMBERSHIP IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE FOR PEACE AND DEMOCRACY AND THE WASHINGTON BOOKSHOP, WHICH THE COMMITTEE SAID WERE 'COMMUNIST-INSPIRED FRONTS."

HE LATER RESIGNED, WHEN HE DISCOVERED THE NATURE OF THE ORGANIZATIONS, WARREN SAID, AND NO LONGER HELD TO HIS ONCE-VOICED BELIEF THAT GOVERNMENT WORKERS SHOULD HAVE THE RIGHT TO STRIKE.

THE COMMITTEE INSISTED THAT THE ACTION WOULD NOT PUT THE CONCILIATION SERVICE OUT OF BUSINESS.

REP.ROONEY (D-NY) SOUGHT TO RESTORE THE $598,400 THE COMMITTEE CUT FROM WARREN'S OFFICE. HE CONTENDED THE SERVICE COULD NOT OPERATE EFFECTIVELY ON WHAT THE COMMITTEE RECOMMENDED, BUT A VOICE VOTE SNOWED UNDER HIS AMENDMENT.

A41WX

THE ONLY ROLL-CALL VOTE DURING THE TWO DAYS OF CONSIDERATION, ASIDE FROM THAT ON FINAL PASSAGE, WAS ON A GROUP OF AMENDMENTS BY REP. VANZANDT (R-PA) TO RESTORE $2,208,286 CUT FROM THE VETERANS' JOB

PLACEMENT ALLOTMENT.

VANZANDT, FORMER NATIONAL COMMANDER OF THE VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS, TOLD THE HOUSE THE SERVICE WOULD BE CRIPPLED BY THE CUTS. HE LOST ON A VOTE OF 212 TO 169.

REP. SCHWABE (R-OKLA) INTRODUCED THE ONLY AMENDMENT ADOPTED, CUTTING $1,000,000 FROM THE BUREAU OF LABOR STATISTICS. SCHWABE ACCUSED THE BLS OF HAVING PUT OUT "UNRELIABLE STATISTICS."

EWAN CLAGUE, COMMISSIONER OF THE BUREAU OF LABOR STATISTICS, TOLD REPORTERS, WHO INQUIRED ABOUT THE EFFECT, THAT ABOUT 1,000 EMPLOYES WOULD HAVE TO BE DISMISSED, LEAVING 600 ON THE BUREAU STAFF.

HE ADDED THAT IT WOULD MEAN THE ELIMINATION OF MANY STATISTICS NOW PROVIDED ON PRICES, WAGES, STRIKES, HOUSING, ETC., AND THE CLOSING OF THE EIGHT REGIONAL OFFICES ALONG WITH THE THREE BRANCH OFFICES IN PHILADELPHIA, KANSAS CITY AND LOS ANGELES.

PASSAGE OF THE BILL FOLLOWED AN ACCUSATION BY CHAIRMAN TABER (R-NY) OF THE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE THAT "THERE IS A NATIONWIDE PLOT ON THE PART OF BUREAUCRATS, LEFT-WINGERS AND NEW DEALERS TO SABOTAGE THE WORK OF THE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE" BY "AN INSIDIOUS CAMPAIGN OF MISREPRESENTATION, DECEIT AND FALSEHOOD X X X TO THE EFFECT THAT WE ARE SCUTTLING ESSENTIAL PUBLIC SERVICES."

TABER TOOK THE FLOOR AFTER REP.GORE (D-TENN) SAID THAT THE REPUBLICAN PROMISE TO CUT THE PRESIDENT'S BUDGET BY $6,000,000,000 WAS "COMPLETELY BOGGED DOWN."

THE TENNESSEAN CONTENDED THAT IF "ALL THE PHONEY CUTS" ARE THROWN OUT, THE BUDGET REDUCTION TO DATE IS LESS THAN 1 PER CENT, WHILE IT WOULD BE ONLY ABOUT 6 PER CENT IF "THE PHONIES" WERE CONSIDERED.

SECRET AGREEMENTS

WASHINGTON, MARCH 25 (AP) A SCORE OF LONG SUPPRESSED CLAUSES OF THE TEHRAN, YALTA AND POTSDAM AGREEMENTS WERE SPREAD ON THE RECORD TODAY WITH AN OFFICIAL PROMISE THAT THEY WERE THE LAST OF THE SECRETS FROM THE WAR-TIME MEETINGS OF THE ALLIED BIG THREE.

THE OFFICIAL TEXTS PUBLISHED BY THE STATE DEPARTMENT INCLUDED DISCLOSURE OF AN AGREEMENT AT TEHRAN BY PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, MARSHAL STALIN AND PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL FAVORING TURKEY'S ENTRY INTO THE WAR AGAINST THE AXIS BEFOE THE END OF 1943.

ACTING SECRETARY OF STATE DEAN ACHESON TOLD THE SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE YESTERDAY THAT TURKEY'S NEUTRALITY AIDED THE ALLIED CAUSE BY BARRING THE WAY TO AXIS EXPANSION INTO THE MIDDLE EAST.

THE TEHRAN "MILITARY CONCLUSIONS" SPOKE OF FORTHCOMING NEGOTIATIONS TO BRING TURKEY INTO THE WAR BUT LEFT UNANSWERED WHETHER THE TURKS ACTUALLY WERE PRESSED AT THE TIME TO JOIN THE ALLIES. THEY EVENTUALLY DID DECLARE A STATE OF WAR WITH GERMANY AND JAPAN EFFECTIVE MARCH 1, 1945, LESS THAN THREE MONTHS BEFORE V-E DAY.

ALSO AT TEHRAN, THE AGREEMENT DISCLOSED, STALIN PLEDGED THAT SHOULD TURKEY BECOME A FOE OF GERMANY AND AS A RESULT BE ATTACKED BY BULGARIA, RUSSIA WOULD DECLARE WAR ON BULGARIA.

THE STATE DEPARTMENT PUBLISHED THE OFFICIAL TEXTS AT THE DIRECTION OF ACHESON, WHO AGREED TO THE ACTION AT LAST WEEK'S HEARINGS IN THE HOUSE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE ON THE PROPOSAL FOR $400,000,000 OF AID TO GREECE AND TURKEY.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS DID NOT RAISE ANY QUESTIONS ABOUT THE CAIRO, CASABLANCA AND QUEBEC CONFERENCES WHICH STALIN DID NOT ATTEND.

ASIDE FROM THE TEHRAN MILITARY CONCLUSIONS, SECTIONS WHOSE TEXTS HAD NOT BEEN PREVIOUSLY PUBLISHED INCLUDED:

1. A YALTA CONFERENCE AGREEMENT TENTATIVELY FIXING GERMAN REPARATIONS AT $20,000,000,000 AND AUTHORIZING PAYMENT FROM CURRENT PRODUCTION AND USE OF GERMAN MANPOWER. THIS WAS DISCLOSED AT MOSCOW LAST WEEK BY SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTER MOLOTOV. THE UNITED STATES AND BRITAIN HAVE CONTENDED THAT THE YALTA PLAN WAS SUPERSEDED AT POTSDAM.

2. A POTSDAM AGREEMENT TO DIVIDE SHIPS OF THE GERMAN NAVY AND MERCHANT FLEET EQUALLY AMONG RUSSIA, BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES.

A42WX

3. A POTSDAM AGREEMENT THAT THE MONTREUX CONVENTION GOVERNING TURKEY'S CONTROL OF THE BLACK SEA STRAITS SHOULD BE REVISED "AS FAILING TO MEET PRESENT-DAY CONDITIONS." EACH OF THE BIG THREE POWERS WAS AUTHORIZED TO CARRY ON DIRECT CONVERSATIONS WITH TURKEY ON THE ISSUE. SOVIET RUSSIA'S DEMANDS HAVE SINCE MET WITH FIRM U.S. AND BRITISH OPPOSITION.

4. A POTSDAM AGREEMENT THAT NO REPARATIONS SHOULD BE EXACTED FROM AUSTRIA. THIS WAS CITED YESTERDAY AT MOSCOW WHERE RUSSIA SUPPORTED A YUGOSLAV CLAIM ON AUSTRIA FOR A $150,000,000 PAYMENT.

COMMUNISTS MAR 1947

BY DOUGLAS B.CORNELL

WASHINGTON, MARCH 25-(AP)-TESTIMONY BY FORMER AMBASSADOR WILLIAM C.BULLITT THAT "TIME IS RUNNING SHORT" BECAUSE RUSSIA DEFINITELY INTENDS TO "ASSAULT" AND "CONQUER" THE UNITED STATES STIRRED THE HOUSE COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES TODAY.

IT PRODUCED:

A CALL FROM CHAIRMAN THOMAS (R-NJ), FOR AN IMMEDIATE "SHOWDOWN" TO PUT AMERICAN RELATIONS WITH THE SOVIET UNION ON A STRICT GIVE-AND-TAKE BASIS.

SUGGESTIONS FROM REP. BONNER (D-NC), FOR A "SHOW OF STRENGTH" TO RUSSIA AND FOR "AROUSING AMERICA TO THE SOVIET MENACE."

A PROPOSAL BY REP. RANKIN (D-MISS), THAT THE UNITED STATES LAY IN AN "AMPLE" SUPPLY OF ATOMIC BOMBS AND ENOUGH PLANES AND PILOTS TO HANDLE THEM.

BULLITT APPEARED BEFORE THE COMMITTEE YESTERDAY AT HEARINGS ON BILLS TO OUTLAW THE COMMUNIST PARTY. HE SAID THE TIME IS NOT RIPE FOR THAT.

HE SAID AMERICANS ARE NOT YET SUFFICIENTLY AWARE OF "THE DANGER TO THEM IN THE EXISTENCE OF THE PARTY AND THE DETERMINATION OF THE SOVIET UNION TO CONQUER US" TO SUPPORT THE HEAVY PENALTIES WHICH WOULD BE NECESSARY TO ENFORCE SUCH A BAN.

TESTIFYING UNDER OATH, BULLITT DECLARED THAT IF RUSSIA HAD THE ATOMIC BOMB, "IT WOULD ALREADY HAVE BEEN DROPPED ON THE UNITED STATES."

BONNER ASKED THE QUESTION THAT BROUGHT THAT STATEMENT. HE TOLD A REPORTER LATER HE WAS SO "SHOCKED" HE NEGLECTED TO ASK WHAT SHOULD BE DONE ABOUT THE DANGER AND ABOUT SAFEGUARDING AMERICA'S ATOMIC BOMB SECRETS.

"IT TOOK THE WIND RIGHT OUT OF ME," HE SAID.

BULLITT CALLED THE COMMUNIST PARTY A "SOVIET AGENCY DESIGNED TO WEAKEN AMERICA FOR THE ULTIMATE ASSAULT SOVIET RUSSIA INTENDS TO MAKE ON THE UNITED STATES."

HE SAID IT IS COMPOSED OF "POTENTIAL TRAITORS." AND HE SAID IT IS "A CONSPIRACY TO COMMIT MURDER ON A MASS SCALE."

THE FORMER DIPLOMAT--THIS COUNTRY'S FIRST AMBASSADOR TO MOSCOW AFTER THE UNITED STATES RECOGNIZED THE SOVIET UNION IN 1933--AGREED "EMPHATICALLY" WITH RANKIN ON KEEPING PLENTY OF A-BOMBS, PLANES AND PILOTS READY FOR AN EMERGENCY.

HE SAID AMERICA SHOULD "RUN OUR RELATIONS WITH RUSSIA ON A COMPLETE BASIS OF RECIPROCITY" SO FAR AS POSSIBLE.

ENLARGING ON THIS POINT AFTER THE COMMITTEE SESSION, THOMAS TOLD A REPORTER "THERE MUST BE A SHOWDOWN."

MAR 1947

A10WX

"BEFORE THERE CAN BE ANY PEACE IN THE WORLD," THE COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN ASSERTED, "SECRETARY OF STATE MARSHALL AND FOREIGN COMMISSAR MOLOTOV WILL HAVE TO BRING ABOUT TRUE RECIPROCITY--RECIPROCITY ON EVERYTHING THAT DOES NOT INTERFERE WITH THE SECURITY OF THE TWO COUNTRIES.

"THAT MEANS RECIPROCITY OF THE PRESS, TRAVEL, IMMIGRATION, PATENTS AND DIPLOMACY."

BULLITT SAID COMMUNISM IS "MUCH THE GREATEST THREAT THERE IS TO ANY FORM OF DECENT LIFE ON THIS GLOBE."

BUT HE CAUTIONED AGAINST MAKING "MARTYRS OF ANYONE."

"I AM NOT AT ALL SURE," HE SAID, "THAT THIS IS THE TIME TO DECLARE IT A CRIME FOR ANYONE TO BELONG TO THE COMMUNIST PARTY."

INSTEAD OF OUTLAWING THE PARTY, THE ONE-TIME ENVOY RECOMMENDED:

STRENGTHENING THE FBI AND BACKING IT WITH ENOUGH MONEY SO IT COULD SEIZE COMMUNISTS "WHEN THE CRISIS COMES" AS EASILY AS IT DID MEMBERS OF THE GERMAN-AMERICAN BUND.

REQUIRING THE COMMUNIST PARTY TO LIST ALL DUES-PAYING MEMBERS.

MAKING IT A LEGAL BASIS FOR CHARGES OF FRAUD WHEN A COMMUNIST APPLIES FOR CITIZENSHIP.

BIDDLE SERVED AS ENVOY TO THE KREMLIN FOR THREE YEARS AND LATER WAS AMBASSADOR TO FRANCE. HE HAS HELD NO GOVERNMENT JOB SINCE 1943 WHEN HE WAS A SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE SECRETARY OF THE NAVY.

THE COMMITTEE SUMMONED AFL PRESIDENT WILLIAM GREEN AND RAY SAWYER, NATIONAL COMMANDER OF THE AMERICAN VETERANS OF WORLD WAR II FOR THEIR VIES TODAY (10 A.M., EST).

FLEMING TOLD A HOUSE PUBLIC WORKS SUBCOMMITTEE THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT SHOULD BE PERMITTED TO RECAPTURE A PORTION OF THE COST OF THE PROJECTS BY SALES TO COMMUNITIES.

HE SAID A BILL BY REP. JOHNSON (R-CALIF) TO MAKE THE PROPERTIES A GIFT WOULD "OPERATE UNFAIRLY" TO COMMUNITIES WHICH PUT UP A LARGE PORTION OF THE ORIGINAL COST.

FLEMING ALSO ARGUED THAT DONATIONS COULD NOT BE JUSTIFIED WITHOUT REIMBURSING OTHER COMMUNITIES THE $104,000,000 SPENT FOR PROJECTS BUILT IN COOPERATION WITH THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT.

JOHNSON CONTENDED THAT MANY COMMUNITITS ARE UNABLE TO PAY FOR THE FEDERAL SCHOOLS AND RECREATIONAL FACILITIES, AND SHOULD RECEIVE THEM WITHOUT CHARGE AS A "PRACTICAL AID TO EDUCATION." HE SAID HE DID NOT FAVOR REIMBURSING CITIES WHICH ALREADY HAVE CONTRACTED TO BUY.

REP. BOYKIN (D-ALA) SAID HE BELIEVED THE ADMINISTRATIVE COST OF SELLING THE PROPERTY MIGHT EXCEED THE RETURN. REP. MCGREGOR (R-OHIO) COMMENTED THAT SELLING A BUILDING FOR $100 IS BETTER THAN GIVING IT AWAY.

REPRESENTATIVES WHO ASKED PERMISSION TO FILE STATEMENTS IN SUPPORT OF THE JOHNSON BILL INCLUDED SIKES (D-FLA), MILLER (D-CALIF), PHILLIPS (R-CALIF), HOBBS (D-ALA), WHEELER (D-GA), JENNINGS (R-TENN), SMATHERS (D-FLA), FLETCHER (R-CALIF), BRAMBLETT (R-CALIF) AND HENDRICKS (D-FLA).

NEW YORK, MARCH 25-(AP)-RAYMOND B. FOSDICK, PRESIDENT OF THE ROCKEFELLER FOUNDATION, SAYS THAT "PERHAPS THE MOST IMPERATIVE" TASK OF THIS GENERATION IS TO BRIDGE "IDEOLOGICAL CHASMS" NOW DIVIDING THE WORLD AND JEOPARDIZING PEACE.

FOSDICK, IN A REVIEW OF 1946 GRANTS OF THE FOUNDATION, SAID LAST NIGHT THAT FOR 14 YEARS IT HAD SOUGHT TO BRIDGE SUCH A CHASM BETWEEN EAST AND WEST BY SUPPORTING SCHOOLS IN CHINA.

"IT IS NOT MERELY THE SOVIET SYSTEM VERSUS THE WEST," HE SAID, "IDEOLOGICAL STRESSES AND STRAINS ARE PRESENT EVERYWHERE -- CHINA AGAINST THE WEST, FOR EXAMPLE; INDIA AGAINST THE WEST, THE NEAR EAST AGAINST THE WEST X X X

FOSDICK SAID:

"IT IS EASY TO PREACH TOLERANCE. IT IS EASY TO SAY THAT IRRECONCILABLE AND DYNAMIC BELIEFS CAN LIVE SIDE BY SIDE IN PEACE IN THE SAME WORLD. BUT AS THE SITUATION IS DEVELOPING NOW, THERE MAY NOT BE TIME TO ACHIEVE THIS TOLERANCE.

"WE MAY BE MOVING TOWARD CATASTROPHE WITHOUT EVEN THE DESIRE TO EXAMINE OBJECTIVELY THE NATURE OF THE DIFFERENCES THAT DIVIDE US OR TO EXPLORE THE POSSIBILITY THAT WIDELY SEPARATED CULTURES COULD REINFORCE AND SUSTAIN RATHER THAN COMBAT AND DESTROY ONE ANOTHER."

FOSDICK SAID THE FOUNDATION ALLOCATED, THROUGH THE GENERAL EDUCATION BOARD, $500,000 TO SUPPORT COLLEGES IN CHINA. THIRTEEN WERE OPERATING BEFORE THE WAR, BUT THEY ARE BEING REDUCED TO EIGHT THROUGH CONSOLIDATION.

LARGEST 1946 GRANT, HE SAID, WAS $7,500,000 TO CONTINUE "ON A REDUCED SCALE" EDUCATION WORK IN THE SOUTH WHICH HE SAID "LAGS SERIOUSLY BEHIND THE REST OF THE UNITED STATES IN MANY ESSENTIALS."

"THE PRESENCE OF 10,000,000 NEGROES IN THE POPULATION--THE MAJOR PART OF THE NEGROES IN THE UNITED STATES--IMPOSES BURDENS UNEQUALLED IN OTHER PARTS OF THE COUNTRY AND COMPLICATES MANY UNDERTAKINGS WHICH ARE FUNDAMENTAL TO THE PROGRESS OF THE SOUTH," FOSDICK SAID.

"EXTENSIVE READJUSTMENTS IN THE ECONOMIC LIFE OF THE SOUTH, BOTH AGRICULTURAL AND INDUSTRIAL, ARE NOW UNDER WAY. THE NEED FOR THEIR INTELLIGENT GUIDANCE IS PARAMOUNT IF THE SOUTH IS TO FIND A BASIS FOR THE SUPPORT OF ITS OWN CULTURAL INSTITUTIONS; AND IT IS ONLY THROUGH RESEARCH AND EDUCATION THAT THE GOAL WILL BE ACHIEVED," HE SAID.

ROCKEFELLER MADE THE PRESENTATION IN BEHALF OF HIS FATHER, JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, JR., WHO WAS OUT OF THE CITY. TRANSFER TO THE U.N. OF TITLE TO THE SIX-BLOCK SITE ALSO WAS BEGUN TODAY.

BIG 4 WARNED BY MARSHALL ON TRIVIALITIES

Secretary Says Probability of Progress Is Reduced. (D)

ONE AGREEMENT CARRIED

Ministers Vote to Let Yugoslavs Have Their Say on Austrian Peace Settlement.

MAR 1947

Moscow, March 26 (A. P.).—Secretary of State Marshall warned the Big Four Council of Foreign Ministers tonight, after a session of four hours and forty-five minutes, that it was becoming ensnarled in trivial complications, making the probability of "reasonable progress unfortunately remote."

The Ministers arrived at only one agreement at their longest session so far. It was agreed that a Yugoslav Government delegation may come to Moscow for consultation in connection with the Austin Treaty. The Soviet Foreign Minister, V. M. Molotov, who proposed this, said also that Marshal Tito's Government wants a voice in any discussion of the financial situation of Trieste, the former Italian port recently internationalized.

Marshall, backed by Foreign Secretary Bevin and the French Foreign Minister, Georges Bidault, said that if the Yugoslavs were heard on Trieste, Italy likewise must be heard. That question was put off until tomorrow.

Stands Up for Canada.

Marshall also renewed his demand that all nations that declared war on Germany be represented at the peace conference, saying that he particularly was concerned about "our South American allies" who wanted to send troops to Europe but yielded to American advice that they use their manpower for labor. Marshall further cited the Canadian war effort, saying that Canada had 1,000,000 men under arms, suffered 100,000 casualties, and spent $19,000,000,000 on the war.

With the release of a report from the Council of Foreign Ministers deputies to the Big Four Council itself on procedure for preparing the German peace treaty, a wide variety of disagreements became officially evident.

These followed the same pattern of splits heretofore unofficially reported from the deputies' meetings over such issues as the kind of voice that should be given to all nations in treaty making and whether the German Government should be compelled to sign the treaty.

The peace conference report, which the deputies gave the Council of Foreign Ministers two days ago, said: "The United Kingdom and the French delegations consider that China should be one of the convening powers of the conference. The Soviet delegation disagrees."

Data Exchange Accepted

At the time this report was written, the United States had reserved its position on procedure. But Secretary of State Marshall told the Council last night he strongly favored including China as an inviting power.

Earlier, Molotov had agreed to Marshall's proposal for a written exchange of information on China, but said the Russian Government still believed informal Big Three discussions offered a better means of dealing with the Chinese problem.

"I have no objection to offer to your suggestion," Molotov told Marshall, but he added:

"Such a way of communicating information does not seem to me to be entirely satisfactory."

Bevin Calls On Marshall

Molotov made known his views in a letter to Marshal. He also communicated his views to British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, who called on Marshall at the United States Embassy, where they conferred briefly.

The subject of this talk was not disclosed, but it was believed to deal with the China question. The Molotov letter was delivered last night.

The proposal that the Chinese situation be taken up during the present conference in Moscow was broached by Molotov at the very outset of the Foreign Ministers' meetings.

Marshall's position was that he could not consent to a discussion of Chinese problems unless representatives of China were invited to sit in on the talks—a position with which Molotov did not agree. Marshall then proposed that the ministers exchange written information by April 1, making copies available to the Chinese Government.

Little Progress On Austria

The deputy foreign ministers working on Austrian peace problems made little progress today.

Several economic clauses were discussed but no agreement was reached. The United States found itself alone among the four powers on the question of restitution by Austria of United Nations property there. The United States position is that this property should be restored "as is," while the other three powers maintain the property should be returned "in good order."

Gen. Mark W. Clark, the United States deputy, based his position on the fact the Austrian economy could not stand such a burden of restoration and if any repair of damage was done it should be by Germans.

Gruber Arrives

Austrian Foreign Minister Karl Gruber arrived meanwhile for consultation on the Austrian treaty draft, and his presence was expected to give new impetus to work on the Austrian settlement.

Gruber said he would seek immediately to confer with the Council to get a definite idea of what his role here will be.

A staff of twelve, including the Austrian Minister for Planning and Economy, Peter Kraulain, and the Austrian Minister to London, Heinrich Schmid, accompanied Gruber.

Concessions In The Air

Meanwhile, both the United States and the Soviet Union were reported authoritatively to be considering important concessions in their demands on Germany, so as to accomplish their major aims for a peace settlement in the Council of Foreign Ministers.

Officials were doubtful, however, of any deals of sufficient import to produce major agreement during the current Moscow sessions.

Remarks by Gen. Marshall

MOSCOW, March 26 (AP)—The text of Secretary of State Marshall's statement today to the Council of Foreign Ministers on participation of small nations in the peace conference:

I should like to refer at this time to what I said yesterday—that the Allied states should specifically include all states at war with Germany. The United States has consistently supported participation in the making of peace with Germany by those states which helped win the war. We want that participation to be as broad and dignified as circumstances permit.

In accordance with our belief, we agree to the organization of four permanent committees with subcommittees, as well as to an information and consultation conference.

We insist that these Allied states who have participated in the winning of the war, whether they be large or small, should share at least in some degree the honor as well as the responsibility for this work. I stress the word "responsibility" because I find it of importance that states associated with us in winning the war should shoulder responsibility for the maintenance of peace.

I am naturally concerned that our allies in the Western Hemisphere be recognized. They cooperated loyally and often adapted themselves to our views as to the manner of their participation in the waging of war. Just as most men prefer active combat posts in wartime, Mexico, for example, urgently desired to send an expeditionary force. We recommended against it for logistical reasons—shortage of supplies, etc.

But Mexico, as did others, made substantial contribution in other ways, particularly in the economic field and in manpower. Mexico, therefore, should have a dignified place in the making of peace. Other American republics should, we feel, be represented on the proposed information and consultation conference.

The countries whose armed forces fought with us certainly acquired, by the expenditure of men and resources, the right to participate in the organizing of peace. The example of Canada, however, would emphasize what I mean. Canada had over 1,000,000 in her armed forces, of which 400,000 were under arms as early as 1941. Canada suffered over 100,000 casualties, provided naval power for the North Atlantic, was fourth among the nations in air power and expended about $19,000,000,000 for war purposes, to say nothing of the value of vital metals and other supplies.

Facts of this kind cannot be ignored in the selection of our associates who will work with us in preparing the peace.

I recommend that my colleagues instruct their deputies to agree to our proposals for membership of all states at war in the information and consultation conference and for participation of a convenient number of other Allied states in the permanent committees and principal subcommittees. In that way we shall recognize the wartime contribution of our allies and obtain the benefit of their cooperation in the peace.

Moscow Reception Clear

MOSCOW, March 26 (AP)—The "Voice of America"—the United States Russian-language broadcast—is finally making itself heard in Russia.

The "Voice of America," on a new waveband, pounded into Moscow tonight as loud as the Moscow radio, clear, and with no interference.

The program received numerous comments from local listeners, who said they were impressed.

SAVE-GRUNER MOVE BLOCKED

J. SMITH

Privy Council Rejects Plea To Prevent Execution

London, March 26 (AP)—Britain's highest judicial body, the King's Privy Council, blocked today a "despairing effort" to prevent the execution of Dov Bela Gruner, so-called Jewish terrorist who seeks martyrdom for his cause in Palestine.

Britons feared the action would touch off new violence in the Holy Land where the sentencing of Gruner set off previous periods of bloodshed. The Cabinet was reported to be discussing the situation with Britain's two top-ranking Palestine officials, called home to report on security. They are Lieutenant General Sir Alan Cunningham, high commissioner, and Lieut. Gen. G. H. A. MacMillan, British commander.

New Appeal Planned

A Jerusalem dispatch quoted Max Seligman, an attorney, as saying that Gruner's sister planned to attempt a new appeal to the Privy Council. The sister, Mrs. Helen Friedman, of Lancaster, Pa., flew to Palestine last month to plead for Gruner. Seligman said the absence of Cunningham from Palestine might result in delaying the execution.

A highly placed British Government source said Cunningham and MacMillan had told the Cabinet that the recent period of martial law in major Jewish sections of Palestine had failed to stop organized terrorism.

The informant said the Cabinet and the two officials probably also would discuss ways of tightening the blockade against uncertified Jewish immigration and of maintaining stability until the Holy Land's future is settled by the United Nations.

Immigration Increase

Other Whitehall sources said Cunningham was pressing for an increase in the present Jewish immigration quota of 1,500 a month to a minimum of 2,500. They added, however, that it was unlikely the Government would agree, because of commitments announced during the recent conference here of British and Arab leaders.

Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish underground organization, has threatened revenge against the British if Gruner is executed. Several other members of underground organizations also are under death sentences in Palestine, and some sources have said that the Gruner case is a cause celebre which would determine the fate of all.

Gruner himself, refusing to recognize the legality of any British court in Palestine, has refused steadfastly to appeal, saying "I am prepared to die."

Petition By Uncle

The action today by the Privy Council's judicial committee rejected a petition by Gruner's uncle, Frank Gruner, of New York city, for permission to appeal in his behalf. The committee held that the uncle was not "personally affected" and therefore not legally involved.

The ruling meant that Gruner, who was sentenced by a Palestine military court, would be executed unless he changes his mind and successfully asks an appeal, or unless British military authorities intervene.

The Palestine Supreme Court already has rejected an application for an order to prevent the Government from putting him to death.

Despairing Effort

Frank Gruner's lawyer, Constentin Gallop, told the council committee that "Dov Gruner will not submit himself to the jurisdiction of the court in Palestine, and his uncle is making what may be described as a despairing effort on his behalf."

Gallop called Gruner a "man of exemplary character," and said that his record of five years' war service in the British Army "must have appealed" to the Palestine Supreme Court, which earlier held it had no jurisdiction in the case.

The real point of the appeal, the attorney said, was whether "under a very dubious set" of regulations the Palestine administration's power "to stop military court death sentences was cut off."

Petitioner's Competence

"The high commissioner's voice has been silenced in favor of that of the general officer commanding Palestine," Gallop declared.

Lord Thunkerton, who presided over the five-man judicial committee, said he realized "the situation of Gruner," but "we must have some regard to the limits of the question before us, which is the competence of the petitioner before the Privy Council." Gruner was convicted of participating in an attack last April on a police station. Two police officers were killed.

Gruner Appeal Denied; May Be Hanged (D)

London, March 26 (AP)—The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, Britain's highest court, dismissed today a petition asking permission to appeal from the death sentence imposed on Dov Bela Gruner, a Hungarian Jew convicted of anti-British violence in Palestine.

The action presumably meant that the sentence—which touched off a wave of widespread violence against the British—will be carried out.

Gruner, 33-year-old veteran of the British Army, was sentenced to hang after being convicted by a British military court January 1 of participating in an attack on the Ramat Gan police station last April 23.

The Supreme Court of Palestine previously dismissed an application for an order preventing the Government from executing Gruner.

Uncle Filed Petition

The petition to the Privy Council was filed by Gruner's uncle, Frank Gruner, of New York city. The council's committee ruled that the uncle could not be deemed personally affected by the order and, therefore, was not competent to file an appeal.

Dov Gruner himself refused to tile the appeal and refused to recognize jurisdiction of the court on the ground that he actually was a prisoner of war and should be treated as one.

Gruner's sister, Mrs. Helen Friedman, of Lancaster, Pa., and others appealed to President Truman to intervene, but the White House declined and the United States State Department said the reason was that Gruner was not an American citizen. Mrs. Friedman flew to Palestine in February and visited her brother in his cell in Jerusalem.

[In Jerusalem, Attorney Max Seligman, of Tel Aviv, said today that Mrs. Friedman would petition Palestine courts for permission to appeal her brother's case to the British Privy Council.]

Ready To Die, He Says

"I am prepared to die," Gruner said after he was sentenced and Irgun Zvai Leumi, the Jewish underground organization, declared he would be eulogized as a martyr.

Colonial Secretary Arthur Creech Jones declared last February that Irgun would turn Palestine into a blood bath if Gruner's execution were carried out.

Several other members of underground organizations are under death sentence in Palestine, and some sources previously said they believed the outcome of the Gruner case would determine the fate of all.

A Government source, meanwhile, said Britain's two top men in Palestine had informed the Cabinet that imposition of limited martial law in the Holy Land had failed to stop organized violence.

The officials—Lieut. Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, Palestine high commissioner, and Lieut. Gen. G. H. A. MacMillan—arrived here Monday to report to the Government on the security situation, and disclosed, the informant said, that:

1. Although nearly 100 members of so-called terrorist organizations were arrested and acts of violence continued throughout the period of martial law showed that the organizations were not suppressed.

2. While organized terrorism was able to continue, certain elements of Palestine's moderate Jewish population had shown a willingness to co-operate with authorities in stemming violence.

Although the question of security inside Palestine was the primary reason for the London visit of Cunningham and MacMillan, the informant said, a wider range of subjects probably will be discussed.

Government sources reported that Cunningham was pressing the Colonial Office to increase the Jewish immigration quota from 1,500 monthly to a minimum of 2,500 monthly. They said it was unlikely the Government would agree to such a move because at the time of the recent London conferences with Arab leaders it was announced that no change in the present quota was contemplated.

BRITISH PRESS PROBE TO OPEN

MAR 1947

Aristotelian Scholar Heads Royal Commission Of 17

(AP)

London, March 26 (AP)—The Government chose a 69-year-old scholar of Aristotie today to direct an investigation of the British press—free since Oliver Cromwell abolished the star chamber in 1641—and see if its liberty has been impaired by modern financial methods.

A royal commission of seventeen headed by Sir David Ross, provost of Oriel College, Oxford, will inquire into the financing, control, management and ownership of newspapers, periodicals and news agencies.

Under its scrutiny will come all publications, from the Times, of London, and the centuries-old weekly Spectator founded by Steele and Addison, to the smallest provincial weekly.

3 Women On Commission

Membership of the commission—which includes three women, an Evangelical minister, Author J. B. Priestley, two labor unionists, a sociologist, three lawyers, an authority on art, two liberal politicians and only one full-time newspaper man, Sir George Alexander Waters, editor of the Scotsman, in Edinburgh—was announced in the House of Commons by Prime Minister Attlee.

Attlee said the commission's job would be to further "the free expression of opinion through the press and the greatest practicable accuracy in the presentation of news, to inquire into the control, management and ownership of the newspaper and periodical press and the news agencies, including the financial structure and the monopolistic tendencies in control, and to make recommendations thereon."

Probe Ordered By Commons

The House of Commons, voting, 270 to 157, ordered the investigation five months ago, acceding to the demands of the National Union of Journalists and more than 100 Labor members of Parliament led by Herbert Morrison, lord president of the council and Deputy Prime Minister.

The journalists' request for an investigation was based on what they described as "increasing public concern at the growth of monopolistic tendencies."

Recently the Labor party disclosed plans to start 200 labor papers, big and small, to combat the predominantly Conservative press.

Provost Since 1929

Sir David said the commission would meet soon. Attlee said it would have power to subpoena witnesses.

The commission chairman said,

"I have had no direct contact or association with the press. That was probably the reason I was chosen, because I could view the question quite impartially."

Since 1941 he has been a member of the National Arbitration Tribunal. For two years of the war he was chairman of the Appellate Tribunal for conscientious objectors.

He has been provost of Oriel College since 1929. He edited the Oxford translation of Aristotle and is a former president of the Aristotelian Society.

Press Probe Head Named By Attlee

London, March 26 (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee announced today the appointment of Sir David Ross, provost of Oriel College, Oxford, as chairman of a royal commission to investigate the British press.

The commission will study the development of monopolies, chain newspapers, the extent to which freedom of reporting exists and the financial structure of the newspaper industry.

Object Explained

It will have authority to propose measures for maintaining and increasing freedom of the press.

The object of the investigation, Attlee told the House of Commons, will be to "further free expression of opinion with the greatest practicable accuracy in the presentation of news."

The investigation also will cover periodicals and press associations, their financial structure and any monopolistic tendencies in their control.

Priestley On List

Serving with Sir David will be sixteen prominent Britons, including J. B. Priestley, author and lecturer.

The investigation, first proposed by the National Union of Journalists, was ordered by the Labor Government following a debate in Commons.

Yugoslavs Refuse To Return Ships

London, March 26 (AP)—Yugoslavia has turned down United States and British demands that she give up ten Italian merchant vessels seized as war prizes after the Allies signed the September, 1943, armistice with Italy, official sources said today.

A Foreign Office spokesman said the Yugoslav Government had sent a "not very satisfactory" reply to a British demand made in a note February 18. The United States State Department sent its views to Belgrade at the same time as Britain.

Treaty Binds Tito

The official sources said the reply drew attention to a Yugoslav Admiralty Court ruling that the ten Italian merchantmen were prizes.

Under the armistice terms, the Allies agreed that any enemy shipping seized after the signature should be made available for disposal by the United Nations.

Although Yugoslav was not a signatory to the Italian armistice, official sources said Premier Marshal Tito's republic was bound by the agreement because it became party to the peace treaty. The peace settlement, they explained, embodied the armistice provisions.

Churchill Predicts Unsinkable Warships

London, March 26 (AP)—Winston Churchill, former Prime Minister, who was Britain's First Lord of the Admiralty at the start of both world wars, forecast tonight the development of unsinkable warships.

Addressing the Institution of Naval Architects, he said:

"Once you have great surface warships—and among these I include aircraft carriers—you will be given to the inevitable logic that those guardians and carriers must be protected step by step from the attack of other surface ships, until something which—I cannot give the secret away tonight, but it may be called an unexpungeable naval vessel—is found to give sanction to the whole operations which proceed around a battle fleet."

Argentina Bars Ceiling Wheat

LONDON, March 26 (AP).—An informed source said Argentina told the International Wheat Conference today she will not accept a ceiling price on her wheat exports unless countries from which she buys manufactured goods agree to put ceilings on those prices.

Use of Synthetic Rubber in 1946 Sets World Peak

But Production Decline Is Noted; Big Rise Due This Year for Natural Type

LONDON, March 26 (AP).—World consumption of synthetic rubber increased from 290,000 tons in 1943 to a record of 910,000 tons in 1946, the London Rubber Secretariat reported today.

The secretariat, sponsored by the American, British, Dutch and French governments to gather rubber statistics, reported, however, a decline in synthetic rubber production from a record of 900,525 tons in 1944 to 806,563 in 1946.

A secretariat source forecast that natural rubber production would rise to about 1,500,000 long tons in 1947 and that synthetic rubber production would drop to about 600,000.

"The value of synthetic rubber now is that it enables strategic stocks of natural rubber to be built up," he said.

World natural rubber stocks totalled 600,000 tons in January, 1946, and 885,000 tons at the end of the year, the secretariat reported. In the same period, United States stocks rose from 133,294 to 273,502 tons, the organization said.

French Report New Indo-China Victories

Paris, March 26 (AP) — French forces reported new victories in Indo-China today as the liner Ile de France landed 4,600 troop reinforcements near Saigon in what was scheduled to be the ship's final trip to the embattled colony as a troop transport.

A general staff communiqué said French forces had attacked and dispersed a "strong concentration" of Viet-Namese troops 50 miles north of Hanoi near Luc Nam, about halfway between Hanoi and the Chinese frontier. Two mortars and a large number of rifles and submachine guns were captured, the communiqué said.

SECRET NAZI PLOT SMASHED

Army Reveals Underground Was Wrecked In July

J. DEVLIN

Frankfurt, Germany, March 26 (AP)—United States Army officials disclosed today the smashing last July of a secret Nazi organization known as DFFB which plotted wholesale sabotage and overthrow of the German civil government, and whose password was "Twelve-Carat Diamond."

A headquarters command announcement said the underground network had been wiped out with the arrest of four former high-ranking Storm Troop officers, who will go on trial before a military government court in Munich April 7, charged with "acts hostile to the interests of the Allied forces."

The arrests had been kept secret for eight months, the Army said, to permit investigation of the organization's ramifications "outside the American zone of Germany."

Financed By Black Market

Large-scale black-market dealings financed the underground plotters, who intended to use secret radio transmitters to call upon the German people to join in the movement, an army spokesman said.

One such transmitter actually was being built from stolen parts when army agents stepped in.

The full name of the organization was Deutsche Freiheits und Friedensbewegung (German Liberty and Peace Movement). The announcement said that a large staff of leaders had been projected for sabotage in the American and British zones, but that "prompt arrests smashed the movement before it could embark on its ambitious program."

The principal plotter was identified as Brig. Gen. Albert Wiczonke, a man who made an avocation of finding a chemical formula that would remove telltale SS (Elite Guard) tattoo marks.

Arrested with him, the Army said, were Maj. Gen. Wilhelm Ditter, Col. Ewald Bartel and Senior Colonel Arno Schieffner. All four former Brownshirts were members of the fanatical Felherrnhalle Regiment, an Elite outfit directly under Adolf Hitler's personal command.

The plotters were said to plan to install five to ten "experts" in each major city, at least in the American and British zones.

Ring Of Nazis Broken Up, 4 Leaders Held

Frankfurt, March 26 (AP)—The United States Army today announced "the discovery and smashing of another Nazi attempt to form a large-scale organization" with the arrest of four former high officers in the notorious SA (Storm Troops).

A network of secret leaders in many German cities was formed by the group "to attempt to overthrow the present civil government in Germany and to act against the occupying powers by means of wholesale sabotage," a headquarters command announcement said.

The four officers under arrest are SA Maj. Gen. Wilhelm Dittler, SA Brig. Gen. Albert Wiczonke, SA Col. Edward Bartel and SA Senior Colonel Arno Schieffner, all former members of the SA Division Feldherrnhalle.

The four officers will go on trial before a Munich military government court April 7, charged with "acts hostile to the interests of the Alied forces."

German Church Freed From State Control

Berlin, March 26 (AP)—The Allied Control Council has repealed the Nazi law of July 14, 1939, approving the constitution of the German Evangelical Church, thus erasing an assumption of state control over the church and leaving to the church the right to manage its own internal affairs.

The Nazis, in passing the law recognizing the validity of the church constitution, which had been approved three days earlier by the church, laid the basis for interfering in the affairs of the church and attempting to control it.

Abrogation of the law gives a new guarantee of freedom of religion to the Germans.

SOCIALIST PARTY WINS VICTORY IN BERLIN ELECTIONS

MAR 1947

BERLIN, March 26 (AP) The Soviet-sponsored Socialist Unity party (SED) retained its grip on Berlin's economic life today after a land-slide victory in elections of the Federation of Free German Trade Unions here over the week-end.

The rival Social Democratic party charged that the SED victory was achieved with the aid of special favors from the Russian authorities and with Soviet-inspired propaganda technique.

Complete results showed that SED delegates had won 83 per cent of the 436 places to the city conference which will elect the majority of the Federation heads. A breakdown showed that even in the U. S. sector of the city, a stronghold of the Social Democrats, the SED had won large majorities. In only two of the city's 20 bezirks (districts) did the Social Democrats—who won last October's Berlin municipal elections—had predicted they would win at least 40 per cent of the seats in the city conference elections and thereby would break the Communist-dominated Socialist Unity party's grip on the unions.

U. S. Military government officials, while declaring that they had felt for some time the Social Democratic estimates were too optimistic, said the results were "very surprising." They attributed the SED victory chiefly to superior organization and more effective planning.

Reds Fine German Paper For Editorial on Bidault

BERLIN, March 26 (AP).—Russian authorities announced today they had suspended and fined the German newspaper "Berlin am Mittag" for printing an editorial which they said had offended French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault.

The newspaper, which operates under a license from the Soviet military administration, was suspended for three days and fined five thousand marks ($500) at the military exchange rate.

The editorial, discussing Mr. Bidault's proposal to the Foreign Ministers Council in Moscow that France take immigrants from shrunken Germany's "surplus population," asserted he has "shown himself an adherent of a counterfeit theory." It said Germans could survive on their reduced territories if given sufficient industrial production, and added: "For this very reason Mr. Bidault has fallen for a false prophet, because he insists on a German solution which would deny us a really intensive use of German production capacity through the economic and political unification of Germany."

Stassen Off To Warsaw

Berlin, March 26 (AP)—Harold Stassen, former governor of Minnesota and Republican presidential aspirant, left by plane today for Warsaw to continue his fact-finding tour of Europe. He had spent three days here conferring with American Military Government leaders and visiting German institutions.

Ethridge, in letters to the Yugoslav and Bulgarian liaison officers serving with the commission, asked them to clarify the positions of their nations—Bulgaria with regard to Thrace, and Yugoslavia on the Macedonian question.

Bulgaria and Greece have conflicting territorial claims in Thrace. With regard to Macedonia, the bulk of which lies in northern Greece adjoining Yugoslavia, the Greeks have accused the Yugoslavs of fostering a separatist movement aimed at bringing all Macedonia within the federated Yugoslav republics.

13 Go On Trial

[Thirteen members of a group accused of organizing to separate Yugoslav Macedonia from the federation and to set up a "sovereign Macedonia," went on trial for treason today in Skoplje, Yugoslavia.]

The informant gave this account of today's meeting:

The Soviet representaitve insisted that the Ethridge proposal concerned territorial issues with which the commission had no power to deal. Ethridge contended these issues were related closely to the border dispute which the Security Council authorized the commission to investigate.

Lavrischev contended that the territorial questions involved here had been settled in the Paris Peace Conference and in New York. He added that the commission could deal with the Macedonian question if it could prove Bulgaria was assisting with arms in an attempt to detach Macedonia from Greece.

Three Charges Made

Ethridge said there existed three important charges: that guerrillas involved in the fighting in northern Greece were trained and armed in Bulgaria and Yugoslavia; that Bulgaria and Yugoslavia were fostering the autonomy movement for territorial purposes, and that the frontier incidents in northern Greece resulted from the Greek internal situation. The latter was the countercharge of Greece's neighbors.

Ethridge said this commission would be negligent in its duty, the informant said, if the question of the Yugoslav and Bulgarian aspirations did not come before the delegates. These charges would have to be recorded, Ethridge was quoted, if they were not refuted before the commission.

Russ, Pole Fight U.S. Plan To Probe Thrace Problem

Sofia, Bulgaria, March 26 (AP)—A United States proposal that Yugoslavia and Bulgaria state plainly their aspirations with regard to Macedonja and Thrace touched off a dispute in the United Nations Balkan Investigating Commission today between the Soviet and American delegates.

An informed source said Soviet Delegate A. A. Lavrischev and the Polish representative both opposed the inclusion on the commission's agenda of United States Delegate Mark E. Ethridge's March 16 proposal.

1,417,600 Poles Resettled In Silesia

Warsaw, March 26 (AP)—The Polish Government announced today that 1,417,600 Poles had been resettled in Silesia since the end of the war in 1945. A total of 203,307 Germans were reported still awaiting expulsion.

The former German city of Breslau, now Wroclaw, was said to have a population of 194,187 Poles and only 16,465 Germans.

'Legal' Jews Returned

Jerusalem, March 26 (A. P.).—Three hundred Palestine Jews, whom the British deported to Cyprus recently under the impression they were illegal immigrants, were back in the Holy Land today and it was reported still more might be returned later.

The Jews, who arrived yesterday aboard the British transport Empire Lifeguard, were among 800 persons rounded up on March 12 after the refugee ship Susanna had eluded the Royal Navy and landed approximately that many uncertified immigrants near Gaza.

In an attempt to hinder the British search for the immigrants, many Palestine Jews mingled with the newcomers and were taken into custody. The final sorting out was done at Cyprus.

Approximately 150 other Jews claiming legal residence in Palestine were reported still in detention camps on Cyprus and it was said they would be returned later if their claims were established.

Jerusalem Explosions

Jerusalem, March 26 (AP)—Two explosions were heard tonight in the Jewish city of Tel Aviv, but a check of military installations in the area indicated that no attacks had been made.

Tel Aviv police theorized that the explosions, apparently in the Hatikva quarter, may have been accidental blasts in an underground mine factory. The Hatikva area is inhabited largely by Yemannite Jews.

Irgun Denies Truce

JERUSALEM, March 26 (AP)—The Irgun Zvai Leumi broadcast today a declaration that its members would not conclude an armistice with the British and would not "lay down our arms as long as the British prevent Jewish immigration to Palestine." The broadcast was apparently made to deny recent reports that the Irgun and the Stern gang were negotiating for an armistice.

Consul Warned To Fly Egyptian Flag Or Else

Alexandria, Egypt, March 26 (AP). H. A. Doolittle, United States consul, was threatened with death in a note today because, the writers said, he had ignored a previous demand that he fly the Egyptian flag with the American colors.

The threat was signed by "The National Committee for National Freedom." The American and Swedish consulates previously received warnings signed by the same organization, threatening bombings unless they flew Egyptian flags.

ASIA GROUP FOR EQUALITY

Adopts a Definition—American Wants Japanese at Meeting

NEW DELHI, India, March 26 (AP)—The Inter-Asian Relations Conference today adopted a report urging all Asiatic nations to recognize equality among all their citizens, regardless of race or creed.

The report, which condemned any legislation based upon racial discrimination, contained a definition of the principles that it said should "govern relations of different racial groups in all Asiatic countries."

Garland Hopkins, official of the Methodist Church from Winchester, Va., here as an observer of the conference, said he had cabled to President Truman and Gen. Douglas MacArthur, urging that a Japanese delegation be flown to the conference. He said the absence of the Japanese here was "badly affecting Asian-United States relations."

she desperately needed outside money to reconstruct her economy most persons looked upon the proposed assistance in its broader aspect.

Agriculture Minister Faik Kurdoglu said in a speech yesterday:

"The American offer is important not because of the amount of money, which is symbolic, but because it expresses the great confidence and appreciation the United States has toward our country."

Bullitt View A Sensation

The statement of William C. Bullitt, former United States Ambassador to Moscow, that Russia was preparing to attack the United States, created a sensation.

The influential newspaper Cumhuriyet said Bullitt's declaration was important because it "reveals the degree of evolution which has taken place in the public opinion of the New World." The editorial continued:

"The United States has abandoned its pacifist optimism. An atmosphere of nervousness, similar to that which preceded the second World War, is reigning now."

Turks Reported Eyeing 'Strings' On U.S. Loan

E, B, GREENWARE

Istanbul, March 26 (AP)—The Cabinet was reported to have considered proposed United States aid to Turkey at lengthy sessions today and particularly the implications of any conditions Congress might attach.

Some unofficial objections have been raised to attaching any strings to the loan, such as requiring full freedom of the press and sending observers.

Kuvvet, Democratic party newspaper at Ankara, said in an editorial that Turkey should not accept any conditions, and that the imposition of any indicated that the United States did not "believe in the political maturity of Turkey and in her capacity to use the American money well."

Official Sources Silent

Official sources have been silent about conditions to the grant, but informed sources said this was one of the topics before the Cabinet meetings, for which all Ministers hurried to Ankara. The Cabinet met twice today and will continue its sessions tomorrow.

NANKING, March 26 (AP).—More than seventy Formosans, constituting the self-styled "people's government" of Formosa during recent rioting, were executed by National government authorities Monday, press reports stated today.

The "people's government" centred at Kiayi, a rail town thirty-five miles northeast of Tainan.

The Central News agency quoted an official Tainan garrison communique as adding that more than 100 persons suspected of subversive activities had been arrested

Stiff Penalties Provided For Food Theft In Reich

Berlin, March 26 (AP)—An Allied Control Council law promulgated today provided penalties up to life at hard labor or fines up to 5,000,000 Reichsmarks ($50,000) for the theft or unlawful use of foodstuffs, goods and rationing documents.

The law was enacted "to protect the rationed foodstuff reserves and other rationed goods destined for the German population," the council said.

DAIREN FIGHT FORECAST NOW

China May Have To Battle For City, Nanking Says (U)

Nanking, March 26 (AP)—Chiang Kai-shek's troops may find it difficult to take over Dairen, treaty designated free port in Manchuria, despite Russia's announced willingness to evacuate it soon.

"Certain obstacles raised by the Chinese Communists remain to be removed," said a Foreign Office spokesman, Chang Yuan-zang. He did not elaborate, but unofficial quarters freely predicted Government troops might have to fight their way into Dairen.

In Shanghai, reliable Chinese sources openly expressed fear that Russia would quit Dairen suddenly, enabling the Chinese Communists to take over and precipitating a fight for the city.

Sea Entry Proposed

These sources speculated that Nanking is negotiating with Russia to permit Government troops to enter the city from the sea. That move would trap strong Communist forces reported occupying the area between Dairen and the Government controlled sector, which begins some 15 miles to the northwest.

There seems little question that Gen. Tu Li-ming's large Manchuria force could batter its way into Dairen, but a fight would damage the port heavily and the Communists have followed a policy of firing many of the cities they have lost to the Government.

The Dairen area is a haven for Chinese Communists who were squeezed into the southern tip of Liaotung Peninsula some months ago by a Government drive to push them off that narrow strip of land.

To Avoid Incidents

The nationalists halted northwest of Dairen to avoid possible incidents with the Russians, and many thousands remain there. The Communists' only escape route, across the mouth of the Gulf of Chihli, virtually was cut off by national forces in northern Shantung province.

The Government's highest officials were conferring here on plans to move into Dairen after the Russians depart, but the deliberations were highly secret. They declined to comment on the Shanghai speculation that they sought to enter Dairen by sea.

Fight With China Reds At Dairen Now Feared (U)

Nanking, March 26 (AP)—Government sources said today that China hoped to take over Dairen from Russia within two weeks but a Foreign Office spokesman implied that it might be necessary to fight the Chinese Communists for the big port.

The spokesman, Chang Yuan-zang, reserved comment on Washington's announcement yesterday that Russia was ready to "take appropriate steps" to turn over the Manchurian port under terms of its treaty with China.

Before Government troops (now camped 15 miles outside the city) can take over, "certain obstacles raised by the Chinese Communists remain to be removed," Chang told a press conference.

High Officials Confer

It was known that the highest Chinese officials were conferring on the subject.

Foreign Office sources refused to admit that Dairen was a subject of international negtiations with Russia, pointing out that the question was fully covered by the Chinese-Russian treaty.

Chinese quarters in Shanghai, being unofficial, were less reticent. They openly expressed fear that Russian troops might pull out of Dairen suddenly, leaving the Chinese Communists in control.

They believed that Chinese officials are making every effort to induce Moscow to avoid such a course.

In any event, Gen. Tu Li-ming, Government commander in Manchuria, is known to have sufficient troops and equipment to batter his way into Dairen past the Communists, but it is feared that a fight might cause considerable damage to the port.

Nationalists Capture Town

SHANGHAI, March 26 (AP).—Central News Agency reported today National government troops captured Ansai, twenty miles northwest of Yenan, after bitter street fighting, and that Chinese Communists were battling to slow down the government's northward drive.

The Communist New China News Agency reported in a broadcast from Manchuria that more than 800 men of the Nationalist 5th Regiment of the 52d Army had been captured and 300 killed Sunday in a battle fifteen miles north of Tunghua, in Antung province. The report said that units of the United Democratic (Red) Army had recaptured Changling, thirty-three miles north of Changchun.

M'Arthur Seeks Early Jap Pact To Bar Crisis

Tokyo, March 26 (AP)—General MacArthur's recent proposals for an early peace treaty with Japan were based on long-range planning to avert a possible crisis here should American aid be curtailed sharply or canceled.

Highest sources in occupation headquarters, interested diplomats and others agree on this point. They likewise support the supreme commander's proposals for a formal peace treaty "as soon as possible," the end of military occupation and subsequent "control and guidance" of Japan by the United Nations.

Unavoidable Delays Cited

However, an "early" peace undoubtedly could not be concluded before another year, even if all parties agreed from the outset. More likely it would take a year and a half or longer. The withdrawal of military forces would probably take a full year after the treaty was signed.

It is generally believed that General MacArthur envisioned the end of occupation at that time, but the United Nations would continue to supervise the nation and periodic and thorough inspection trips would be made to supplement reports of persons permanently stationed in the country.

Four-Point Basis Of Proposals

The supreme commander in looking ahead for two years or more is believed to have based his proposals on four points.

1. The Japanese must be placed more firmly on their feet if they are to build an economy capable of sustaining the country without American financial aid.

2. The Allies have gone almost as far as possible with what MacArthur termed "bayonet backed" democracy. From now on Japan's reformation will result only from evolution by the people, who in two years should be much further toward constitutional government than at present.

3. Japan's progress actually is hampered by the continued occupation because the country is becoming increasingly dependent upon Allied help and advice and guidance.

4. International differences as well as ordinary diplomatic procedure necessitate a prompt start on a peace treaty to avoid unnecessary delay.

Now Dependent On U.S.

The Japanese future, in effect, is dependent to a considerable extent on a race between American patience and Japanese recuperative ability. The best sources here believe that Congress will be increasingly reluctant to continue to underwrite the millions of dollars spent annually now to keep Japan alive.

Japan cannot produce enough to feed itself and so far lacks sufficient exports to pay for even the barest sort of an import program. Americans alone have undertaken this financial burden.

Would Face Collapse

If this aid ceases before the Japanese reach a minimum of self-sufficiency, starvation will be a definite threat and the structure of peoples' rights which the occupation forces have tried to establish would collapse.

The exact mechanics of the United Nations control over Japan, if United Nations undertook the task, would, of course, be decided at Lake Success. MacArthur envisions a "mild" control which would place upon the Japanese the maximum burden of caring for themselves and take them off the back of the American taxpayer.

U.S. WARNS JAPS ON COMMUNISM

MacArthur Aid Says We'll Fight Ruthless Reds.

Tokyo, March 26 (A. P.).—The Japanese press heard from one of Gen. MacArthur's staff offcers today that the United States will fight "purely political, ruthlessly aggressive Communism, anywhere in the world."

Lieut.-Col. Piter Roest, chief of MacArthur's political affairs division, made it clear in a talk with Japanese news men that he was making a distinction between the Russian system and "anti democratic" forces.

"America is predominantly capitalistic," he said, "but it sees no threat in Britain's socialism of coal mines, or in Sweden's cooperative industry, or in Russia's State commerce, or in the communistic way of life of many religious orders. But it is deeply concerned about the political system under which these various economic orders operate, and it abhors to see democracy destroyed in country after country by 'rigged' elections, by stifling the voice of the people who protest, by all the high handed and violent methods by which one-party control is established and perpetuated.

"It is this anti-democratic, purely political, ruthlessly aggressive Communism that America will fight anywhere in the world, as it had to fight Nazism and Fascism and Tojo's Japanism."

MacArthur's Return.

MacArthur received without comment today news of the resolution by Representative Van Zandt (R.-Pa.) asking President Truman to recall the Supreme Commander to the United States for at least thirty days.

It was believed at headquarters, however, that the news was welcome to the Supreme Commander, since it is known that he is anxious that Congress and other Washington officials be fully informed of his recent proposals for future handling of Japan.

Two Injured In Japanese Diet Brawl

Tokyo, March 26 (AP)—A free-for-all battle broke up a meeting of the Election Committee of the lower house of the Diet today and caused minor injury of two of the representatives.

The meeting lasted just five minutes, but long enough for Chairman Nobuyuku Iwamoto to ignore a Socialist speaker in accepting a motion from another committeeman and for the Socialists to fly at the chairman in rage.

In the ensuing tussle, Iwamoto and Liberal Party Member Teijo Isozaki were scratched and pummeled. The committee had started to consider election-law revisions.

Second Largest Party In Japan Is Dissolved

Tokyo, March 26 (AP)—The Progressive party, the second largest political party in Japan, was dissolved today at its convention.

The party had been headed by former Premier Baron Kijuro Shidehara.

Plans were laid for the immediate establishment of a new organization to be known as the Democratic party. Leaders said it would be opposed "to boss politics and leftist tendencies for dictatorship."

Philippine Senate Ratifies U. S. Treaty

Manila, March 26 (A. P.)—The Philippine Senate tonight ratified by a vote of 18 to 0 the United States-Philippine treaty providing for United States military bases in the islands.

Two Senators who opposed the treaty on the floor of the Senate during debate left before the vote was taken.

Canada Ends Meat Rationing

Ottawa, March 26 (AP) — Canada will discontinue meat rationing for householders tomorrow, but two meatless days a week still will be observed in public eating establishments so that exports, especially to the United Kingdom, will not suffer.

Ottawa, March 26 (AP)—Development of the Arctic wasteland, key to global air travel in war as well as peace, took another long step forward today through a joint United States-Canadian plan to throw a radio screen around the far north.

Establishment of a series of Loran (long range radio aid-to-navigation) stations—two to be completed this year and possibly another in 1948—was seen as materially increasing the potentialities of northern bases.

In addition, some Canadians viewed last night's announcement of the joint project by Louis S. St. Laurent, Canada's External Affairs Minister, as adding force to United States moves in the international political field—recently emphasized by President Truman's call for aid to Greece and Turkey.

Security Reasons Seen

Construction of the Loran system for the Arctic was seen as a logical continuation of steps to secure North American dominance of aerial short cuts across the frozen top of the world, following a joint United States-Canadian program of winter maneuvers, experimental flights and the projected building of nine weather stations in the area in the next three years.

President Truman's contemplated visit to Canada in early June was viewed in some Canadian quarters as an additional demonstration of the close friendship binding this country and the United States.

Locations Undisclosed

St. Laurent, in his announcement of the Loran program, declared:

"In order that these stations may be constructed and in operation at an early date, the United States has offered to assist us by supplying technical personnel until sufficient trained Canadian personnel are available for replacement, as well as certain special technical equipment not available in Canada."

The exact location of the stations was not disclosed, but St. Laurent said that initially they would be operated in conjunction with existing stations on United States territory, presumably Alaska.

RUSSIA SHUNS U.N. SESSION

MAR 1947 (NS)

Trusteeship Council Formed With No Soviet Member

M. HARRISON

Lake Success, N.Y., March 26 (AP)—Russia today boycotted the opening session of the United Nations Trusteeship Council on which she holds automatic membership under the United Nations charter.

This was the first time since the dramatic walkout on the Security Council by Andrei A. Gromyko, the Soviet delegate, a year ago that a major organ of the United Nations met without a Soviet representative.

Although the absence of Russia raised no legal difficulties, it caused concern among United Nations officials, already worried by what appeared to be a growing tendency to bypass the organization on important problems.

Follows Albanian Case Veto

The Soviet absence became a certainty 24 hours after Gromyko had upset a majority of the Security Council by using Russia's big power veto to block a decision upholding British mine-laying charges against Albania.

Concern was reflected in the opening address of the United Nations Secretary General, Trygve Lie, who appealed to all members of the United Nations to resort to the world peace organization on all international problems "even when the most vital national interests are at stake."

Lie made no direct reference to President Truman's request to Congress for $400,000,000 aid to Greece and Turkey or the President's declaration that the United Nations was unable at present to deal with totalitarian threats to those countries.

Described As Object Lesson

"This opening meeting of the Trusteeship Council," he said, "should be a useful object lesson to those who underestimate the potentiality of the United Nations, or the ability of its members to reach agreement on difficult issues."

Lie told the Trusteeship Council frankly he did not know whether Russia would name a delegate to the newly created organ, which has the important mission of looking after the interests of the world's nonself-governing peoples.

He disclosed that the Soviet Government had not replied to a communication he sent out in January asking the ten members of the Trusteeship Council to submit names of their representatives.

Sayre Named Council Head

The only delegate to comment on the absence of Russia was Francis B. Sayre, of the United States, who said:

"I would like to record my regret that a representative of the Soviet Union is not here. I hope with all my heart that this great country will be represented shortly."

Sayre, son-in-law of the late Woodrow Wilson and former High Commissioner to the Philippines, was elected president of the Council, and Sir Carl Berendsen, of New Zealand, was elected vice president.

Associates of Sayre said he felt Russia might yet send a representative. It was said, however, that he planned no effort to make contact with Soviet officials on the subject.

Assembly Move Recalled

The reason for the Soviet boycott was not entirely clear, but it was recalled that the Soviet delegation at the General Assembly last fall contended that the eight draft trusteeship agreements, placing former League of Nations mandates under the trusteeship system, were invalid.

Russia voted against all of them, and it was generally believed that her absence at the council table was in protest against the majority decision of the Assembly.

At its afternoon session, the Trusteeship Council disregarded Russia's absence and plunged immediately into the task of drafting rules of procedure. It was estimated that this migght take as long as two weeks.

organization on important problems.

Gromyko Is Silent

There was no explanation from the Soviet delegation headed by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. He refused to make any statement on Russian plans.

Some delegates expressed the belief that the naming of a Soviet delegate had merely been delayed and might come through later.

During the General Assembly debate on trusteeship last fall, Russia refused to approve any of the eight draft trusteeship agreements covering former League of Nations mandate territories now placed under the trusteeship system.

Russ Hold Them Invalid

The Soviet delegation then took the view that these agreements were invalid because of several of their provisions.

Secretary General Trygve Lie opened the session with an appeal to members to resort to the United Nations on all international problems "even when the most vital national interests are at stake."

This was Lie's first public address since President Truman declared that the United Nations was unable to deal with totalitarian threats to Greece and Turkey.

At the end of his prepared speech, Lie said he must call attention to the vacant Soviet seat. He said Russia had not replied to his letter of last January asking the ten member governments to name representatives to the Council and that now he could submit credentials for only nine members.

Sayre Voices "Regret"

Francis B. Sayre, United States delegate, then said:

"I would like to record my regret that a representative of the Soviet Union is not here. I hope with all my heart that this great country will be represented shortly."

Sayre was elected president of the Council in a secret ballot. The former High Commissioner to the Philippines, a son-in-law of Woodrow Wilson, received five votes. Luis Padillo Nervo, of Mexico, got three, and Col. W. R. Hodgson, of Australia, one.

This was the first Russian absence from a major meeting of the United Nations since Gromyko, after a dramatic walkout, boycotted the Security Council last spring during debate on Iran's complaint against the Soviet Union.

Without referring directly to the Greek-Turkish situation, Lie asserted that "the bedrock on which alone the United Nations can build solidly and securely for the future" is a readiness of members to resort to the United Nations and to live up to the "solemn principles and purposes of the United Nations."

Palestine Issue Soon

On another phase, Lie said the Palestine problem probably would come before the United Nations at an early date.

"This opening meeting of the Trusteeship Council," he said, "should be a useful object lesson to those who would underestimate the potentiality of the United Nations, or the ability of its members to reach agreement on difficult issues."

He congratulated the Council on "the spirit of conciliation and determined effort" which resulted in the creation of this last major organ of the United Nations at the recent session of the General Assembly and added:

"In all earnestness, I express the hope that this same spirit and determination will pervade all the work of the United Nations. If it does, there can be no doubt of the ultimate success of this great effort to insure a world at peace."

Russians Ignore Opening Of U.N. Trustee Unit

Lake Success, N.Y., March 26 (AP)—Soviet Russia ignored the opening session today of the United Nations Trusteeship Council, whose designated mission is to look after the interests of the world's nonself-governing peoples.

The absence of a Soviet delegate did not prevent the Council from proceeding with immediate business.

It caused concern, however, among United Nations officials already worried by what appeared to be a growing trend to bypass the

Lie Envisions U.N. Edifice

New York, March 26 (AP)—Secretary-General Trygve Lie says the United Nations will build a "dignified and appropriate headquarters" on the site to be purchased with the check for $8,500,000 handed him yesterday by John D. Rockefeller 3d.

Rockefeller presented the check yesterday on behalf of his father, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who was out of the city.

Lie predicted the headquarters on the six-block mid-Manhattan site would become "a great monument to peace and security."

Truman Hopes For Greek Aid By March 31

AMBASSADOR—Patterson not returning to Yugoslavia as U.S. Ambassador. [Page 3.]

MERGER—U.S. has up-to-date plan for defense, Nimitz says. [Page 3.]

Washington, March 26 (AP)—President Truman expressed hope today that Congress will approve his $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid program before March 31—the deadline for British withdrawal of aid to Greece.

He made that comment when asked if he favored a stopgap loan to Greece.

There has been talk in Congress of making an immediate $100,000,000 loan to Greece since Administration officials say that country's situation is serious. This proposal assumes that the President's $400,000,000 program cannot receive action by March 31.

Austin To Cover Situation

The President also told his weekly news conference that Warren Austin, American representative to the United Nations, will cover the whole Greece-Turkish situation in a speech Friday to the United Nations Council.

A reporter asked whether Austin will present the views of the President.

Mr. Truman replied he didn't like to anticipate the speech, but that it would cover the whole situation.

A reporter finally asked whether Mr. Truman would support a stopgap loan to Greece if it became apparent there would be unusual delay in acting on his request to Congress.

The President replied that he preferred to await events.

Brewster Urges Air Rights

At the Capitol, the discussion, both formal and informal, of the Greek-Turkish aid proposal went on in this fashion:

Senator Brewster (R., Maine), told reporters the United States, in helping Greece and Turkey resist Communist aggression, should insist that those countries grant commercial air rights for American air lines.

This country, Brewster declared, "frittered away" opportunities to expand airborne commerce and secure such rights when setting lend-lease.

The House Foreign Committee heard United States Ambassador Edwin C. Wilson behind closed doors, and Chairman Eaton (R., N.J.) told newsmen the envoy to Turkey was "most informative and instructive."

Sees March 31 Race Lost

Eaton said the House group could not have a bill ready by the March 31 deadline and doubted if it would end its hearings before then. Tomorrow it will hear War and Navy secretaries.

He said he hoped it would not be necessary to enact a stopgap bill authorizing an RFC loan to Greece but indicated he would urge that course if necessary.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, after hearing officials argue for the program for two days, began hearing critics of it.

Sees "Economic War"

The Rev. William Howard Melish, New York, chairman of the National Council of American-Soviet Friendship, said:

"This proposal, as our President with candor has interpreted it, implies that we are now to do the very thing that Hitler did—declare war on the Soviet Union and its nearly two hundred million people."

Charles G. Bolte, national chairman of the American Veterans Committee, declared:

"We cannot stop the spread of Communist ideology by bolstering a corrupt and reactionary regime, nor can we stop the Red armies by giving $125,000,000 worth of American arms to Greece."

"Guns Instead Of Milk

Broadus Mitchell, of New York, who said he represented the Post-war World Council, told the senators that three fourths of the children in Greece are reported to be suffering from tuberculosis.

"And instead of cod-liver oil and milk, they are to be treated to more machine guns!" he exclaimed.

"What is posed as mercy plus military suppression of a Greek faction may becme at any moment war on the Soviet Union."

Katherine Lee Marshall, Washington, D.C., of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, said the carrying out of President Truman's plan would have a "stunting" effect on the United Nations.

Sees No Need Of Haste

She argued that statements by Under Secretary of State Clayton indicated there was no necessity for haste in extending aid to Turkey.

Only yesterday, Mr. Truman made clear that helping Greece and Turkey means no lack of faith in the United Nations.

The Socialist party, meanwhile, made public testimony prepared for the Senate committee, urging that all military aspects of the assistance program be deleted in favor of "generous loans" for relief and rehabilitation purposes only.

The statement by Harry Fleischman, national secretary, said:

"We Socialists believe that Russia can be stopped without war—but . . . a declaration of economic warfare against Russia plus sending United States military missions to the reactionary, undemocratic governments of Greece and Turkey is not likely to mean peace or stop the march of communism."

Not Told Of Sullivan Statement: Truman

Washington, March 26 (AP)—President Truman said today that he had no advance knowledge of a congressional proposal by Gael Sullivan, Democratic party leader, for a joint Republican - Democratic indorsement of the Greek-Turkish aid program.

He told a news conference he did not see the statement or discuss it with Sullivan until it appeared in the newspapers. But, he added smilingly, he doesn't think Sullivan has any intention of resigning as executive director of the Democratic National Committee as a result of the furore he caused.

CLAYTON LINKS WORLD PEACE TO GREEK CRISIS

MAR 1947

Declares Shaky Economies Anywhere Endanger All Nations.

TESTIFIES IN HOUSE ON I. T. O.

Says Projected Agency Will Not Be a Supergovernment With Tariff-fixing Powers.

Washington, March 26 (A. P.)—William Clayton, Undersecretary of State, said today that the plight of Turkey and Greece clearly shows that peace cannot be "stable or long enduring" under a shaky economy. Hence the more the United States can do to bring about "healthy economic conditions," he said, "the fewer political problems we will have."

He testified before the House Ways and Means Committee which recently voted to conduct a searching inquiry into the administration's reciprocal trade program. The group is expected to inquire also into the eighteen-nation conference on trade and employment opening at Geneva on April 10.

Clayton said in his prepared testimony that "our kind of a system cannot fully succeed while widespread poverty and want exist."

"On the contrary," he added, "it is the continuation of such conditions that gives rise to the serious political problems in many parts of the world."

Outlines Geneva Objections.

Referring to President Truman's request for aid to Greece and Turkey, Clayton declared the United States has never said international economic co-operation in itself would assure international peace.

"But it is clear," he said, "that in the absence of satisfactory economic conditions, political problems become intensified and political peace cannot be stable or long enduring."

He said that at Geneva delegates from the eighteen invited nations will:

1. Conclude preparations for an international conference on world trade and employment and finish drafting a charter for an international trade organization.

2. Negotiate trade agreements to reduce tariffs and other trade barriers and work for the substantial elimination of trade restrictions.

What the I. T. O. Will Not Be.

The Under-Secretary said the I. T. O. will not be an "international super-government" in the economic field with power to fix tariffs or control either foreign or domestic trade. He continued:

"The whole aim and purpose of the International Trade Organization and of the suggested charter is to reduce and minimize, not to increase, governmental interference with foreign trade carried on by private traders, and to guide that trade on economic, not political principles."

The United States, he said, has emerged from the war as the "giant of the economic world" and "what we do or don't do with our power will determine the course of events not only in this country but throughout the world."

WALLACE HAS NEW AID PLAN

Proposes 10-Year Program For Balkan Industries

New York, March 26 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace today opposed President Truman's proposal for "military loans" to Greece and Turkey and advocated instead an economic ten-year plan to industrialize the Balkans and Greece "to remove unrest in one of the great trouble spots of the world."

The former Vice President, writing in the New Republic magazine, of which he is editor, said there would be "not one cent for Turkey" under the ten-year plan he estimated might cost as much as $600,000,000 a year.

Proposes Extension

Wallace said the report of the Unite dNations' FoFod and Agriculture Organization on Greece, providing for economic rehabilitation of that nation, "is the one fundamentally constructive program that exists today," and should be extended to such countries as Bulgaria, Yugoslavia, Romania and Hungary, as well as Poland.

Funds for this reconstruction task, he said, should be made available by the international bank.

"The strategists of the Truman doctrine," he said, "propose to reenforce (SIC) the military systems of Greece and Turkey as a frontal bulwark against the Soviet Union. At teh same time they acuse Russia of outflanking the security of the Near East by infiltratiop from within.

Questions Security

"Where is the security in superimposing the weapons of war upon a sickly social order? The second World War unmasked the hopelessness of such adventures. . . .

"Both Administration spokesmen and party leaders in Congress who indorse the Truman line concede that $400,000,000 is a small down payment on an endless installment contract. . . .

"So far as Turkey is concerned, there is not a shred of evidence before the American people to justify giving her a loan."

HOUSE G.O.P. WINS IN FIRST TEST ON INCOME TAX SLASH

MAR 1947

Rushes Bill Toward Showdown on 'Take-It or Leave-It' Basis.

BARS AMENDMENTS

Martin Predicts 'Certain Passage' Today; Truman Renews Opposition.

WASHINGTON, March 26—(AP) Republicans scored their first big victory toward lower taxes today as the G.O.P.-controlled House rushed a $3,840,000,000 tax-cut bill toward a showdown on a take-it or leave-it basis amid renewed opposition from the White House.

The House capped a session of shouting, acrimonious debate by binding itself to vote for the so-called 30-20 income tax bill or none at all.

Martin Predicts Passage

Speaker Martin (R-Mass) predicted certain House passage of the measure, in final form, tomorrow.

The "this or nothing" procedure, barring amendments to the bill, was approved by voice vote.

President Truman again stood firm against the G.O.P. sweep for smaller taxes, citing at a new conference his January budget message to Congress in which he declared flatly: "I cannot recommend tax reduction."

In his January message, Mr. Truman had expressed the conviction that at present "high taxes contribute to the welfare and security of the country."

Snyder Joins Opposition

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder also joined the administration's battle against the G.O.P.-sponsored tax program and intimated broadly that he will advise Mr. Truman to veto the bill, if and when it passes the Senate.

Asked if he would recommend a veto, Snyder told reporters:

"I am very positively opposed in these prosperous times to having the government do deficit financing."

If government spending exceeds revenue—another term for "deficit financing"—it would have the effect of further boosting prices, Snyder asserted. And prices, he said, are already "out of line."

But G.O.P. Floor Leader Halleck, of Indiana, told his House colleagues that "we are going to balance the budget and reduce taxes, too."

The legislation would slash 30 percent off the federal taxes of 25,000,000 persons with taxable incomes of $1,000 or less; and 20 per cent from most of the others among the 46,000,000 income taxpayers. The tax cut would be retroactive to Jan. 1.

Senate Changes Seen

However, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) indicated, even before the House voted, that the measure will be changed when it reaches the Senate—to make the cut effective July 1. This would reduce the tax cut in the 1947 calendar year to about $1,900,000,000.

Although Rep. Sabath (D-Ill) cried "this is the most vicious gag rule ever brought to this floor," most Democrats did not oppose the no-amendment rule. Republicans argued it is the usual procedure for considering tax measures.

With party lines tightly drawn, the showdown will occur tomorrow when Democrats will seek to set aside the bill until Congress has a clearer idea of federal expenditures and revenues, along with potential commitments because of new world developments.

G.O.P. Confident of Victory

Republicans were confident of victory. They hold 245 House seats to 188 by Democrats.

Politics crackled all over the House floor after Rules Chairman Allen (R-Ill) presented the bill, saying it "redeems one of the pledges made by the Republican policy committee."

Rep. Doughton of North Carolina, 83-year-old Democratic manager of tax legislation, shouted:

"This tax bill seems to be predicated upon promises made in the 1946 campaign rather than upon analysis of the fiscal and economic conditions necessary to be taken into account in formulating sound tax policy."

Chairman Knutson (R-Minn) of the tax-framing Ways and Means committee, author of the tax bill, argued that it would lighten the burden of little taxpayers, stimulate risks by businessmen to develop new industry, and "put the axe to punitive taxes."

Knuteon, leading off the debate for the bill, declared:

"It is a fair bill because it puts the axe to punitive taxes designed by alien minds and whizzed through subservient congresses—a tax program that fitted neatly into the new dealers' master plan to put ceilings over all Americans and make of this a nation of automatons."

Doughton, asserting the Republicans are risking the solvency of the government in presenting the measure without adequate consideration, asked:

"Would it not be far better for the majority and for the entire country to relieve them (the Republicans) of their campaign pledges than to plunge our nation into so hazardous a fiscal policy?"

Truman Seeks Industry Aid On Prices

Washington, March 26 (AP)—President Truman and Secretary of Treasury Snyder today expressed concern over rising prices. Snyder said some big basic industries have indicated plans to reduce costs to consumers.

Mr. Truman told his news conference that he hopes industry will co-operate to reduce prices and follow the line of Ford Motor Company and International Harvester, which have reduced costs of their products.

He said he does not want to see a spiral in prices that might lead to inflation.

Wage Comment

At his news conference, Snyder did not disclose which large basic operators have given indication of price cutting. In response to questions, he added that "labor must not make overdemands or they will force prices up."

Snyder said he was "not too optimistic," but that reductions by basic industries will be reflected in lower costs down the line—meaning in a wide range of goods destined for consumers.

He said "prices are out of line at this time," but added he is "encouraged that they (the basic operators) are thinking" about cutting. He said the prime reason he would like to see prices reduced would be to lower living costs and take off pressure for wage boosts.

Handwriting On Wall

Mr. Truman, holding the one hundredth news conference of his administration, said he hopes business will see the handwriting on the wall.

Asked what he meant about the handwriting on the wall, he said that continued price rises would start a spiral of inflation.

Mr. Truman said he has been concerned about increases for some time and that was the reason he asked for continuance of price controls.

Survey Being Made

He said that his economic advisory council is now making a complete survey of the situation.

Asked for comment on negotiations on wages now going forward, the President said he doesn't think the rubber workers' contract will cause any inflation.

Mr. Truman steered clear of committing himself on pending legislation to bar portal-to-portal pay suits.

He said he will give his answer on this legislation when it reaches his desk.

Head Of Retail Group Calls Prices Too High

New York, March 26 (AP)—Lew Hahn, president of National Retail Dry Goods Association, agreeing "wholeheartedly" today with President Truman's stand on high prices, said if they go higher "the public will stop buying and we will have to sell goods at any price we can get for them."

Stating that when the price of a product is determined by what the customer will pay "every effort will be bent to getting costs down," Hahn added:

"Your really smart operator will see the need of anticipating that condition and getting prices down now while the public still is interested."

Hahn asserted he disagreed with President Truman's statement that the rising spiral of prices would lead to inflation because:

"We have inflation now, and further increases will lead to a very serious deflation," he said.

Last Consumers' Price Index Shows Drop Of 0.2 Per Cent

Washington, March 26 (AP)—The consumers' price index went down two tenths of one per cent during the month ended February 15—the second minor decline since December—the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today.

Declines in the family food bill more than offset higher prices for other major items in the family budget, the bureau said.

The index, formerly called the cost-of-living index, stood at 152.8 on February 15. The base period from 1935 to 1939 is figured at 100 for comparison.

Dairy Prices Decline

Other figures from the index:

In mid-February, consumers goods and services used by families in large cities were 17.9 per cent higher than a year ago and 51.6 per cent above the January 1, 1941, level.

Retail food prices in large cities dropped 0.8 per cent between mid-January and mid-February and were 2.09 per cent below the mid-November record high of 187.7. A seasonal drop of 6.5 per cent in egg prices was accompanied by a 3.6 per cent decline for dairy products and lower prices for meats, fish and poultry.

Fresh fruit and vegetable prices advanced 2.08 per cent on the average during the month. Green beans increased 35 per cent and lettuce 13 per cent. Coffee and sugar continued to advance.

Clothing prices advanced for the 44th consecutive month, and were 1.1 per cent higher in mid-February than in mid-January. They have risen almost 80 per cent since August, 1939.

Women's clothing advanced sharply between mid-January and mid-February. Higher prices were reported for cotton house dresses, rayon dresses, hosiery and undergarments, reflecting earlier increases in manufacturers' prices. Men's suits and top coats and work clothing also went up in most cities. Footwear rose 1.2 per cent during the month.

House furnishings increased 0.6 per cent between mid-January and mid-February. Washing machines, gas stoves and floor coverings continued their rise. Higher prices for gasoline, newspapers, motion picture admissions, and beauty shop services helped to boost prices in the miscellaneous goods and services group 0.1 per cent.

Rents And Fuel

The rent index, based on rent changes in six cities, rose 0.1 per cent to 108.9 on February 15. Rents advanced 0.3 per cent in Memphis and New Orleans, and 0.4 per cent in Washington since last September. Philadelphia experienced a rent boost of 0.4 per cent since last August.

Fuel, electricity and ice costs rose 0.2 per cent on the average. A rate change in Philadelphia boosted costs to domestic consumers by 11 per cent. A reduction in rates in Denver lowered electricity costs there by 21 per cent.

N. Y. Group Fights U. S. Housing Bill

Long-Range Legislation Called 'Inflationary'

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP).—The Commerce and Industry Association of New York today criticized the Taft-Ellender-Wagner long-range housing legislation as "a very bad bill" and "inflationary."

Thomas A. Holden, an association director, told the Senate Banking Committee that the measure "assumes that the Federal government shall become the all-wise guardian and mentor of all the people with respect to their housing needs."

Joseph H. Deckman, representing the National Home and Property Owners Foundation, said the legislation embraced "an experiment into state socialism." He called it "primarily a public housing bill."

George M. Englar, of Baltimore, president of the National Apartment Owners Association, declared the bill "would only give us more bureaus, red tape, more government in business, and fewer houses."

George W. West, United States Chamber of Commerce construction chairman, told the committee, "we hold no brief for slums, but we cannot agree with the proponents of this legislation that the way to improvement is to set up an elaborate and expensive establishment in Washington to administer large Federal subsidies."

The measure calls for a $6,000,000,000 Federal outlay over the next forty-five years, Mr. West said, but its net accomplishment for low-income families would be to provide only 500,000 low-rent dwellings.

LaGuardia Urges Rent-Control Extension

Washington, March 26 (AP)—Former Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York appealed today for at least one more year of Federal rent controls without change in the present system.

Testifying before the House Banking Committee, LaGuardia also urged:

1. Continued priorities and restrictions on use of building materials, channeling the materials into housing and emergency repair work until at least 1,500,000 new dwelling units have been built.

2. Continued preference to veterans in housing.

LaGuardia said the Government must step in and provide low-rent housing for 30 per cent of the population.

Representative Smith (R., Ohio) took issue, contending that such an idea amounts to socialism.

LaGuardia replied that his view was similar to expressions by Senator Taft (R., Ohio). Smith replied Taft did not speak for most of the people of Ohio on that subject.

Senator Buck Optimistic

Senator Buck (R., Del.) forecast that the Senate Banking Committee would approve a bill he plans to offer to extend rent controls until next February 29.

Worked out by a subcommittee which Buck heads, the measure would designate Housing Expediter Frank Creedon as national rent administrator to enforce the controls. In this role, Creedon would succeed the OPA, which expires June 30.

Buck said the proposal drops two features of a previous subcommittee bill which members of the main committee rejected. These were (1) enforcement by the courts and (2) an across-the-board increase in rent ceilings.

Under the new bill, Creedon would appoint rent advisory boards for each of the 600 OPA rent areas with the guidance of state governors.

The boards could recommend the lifting of controls or rent adjustments in entire areas. Their findings would become effective unless overruled by Creedon with 30 days.

Buck Forecasts Rent Curb Passage

Washington, March 26 (AP)—Senator Buck (R., Del.) today forecast that the Senate Banking Committee would approve a bill he plans to offer to extend rent controls until next February 29.

SENATE WEIGHS PLAN TO INCREASE SUGAR ALLOTMENT

WASHINGTON, March 26—(AP) Supporters of legislation to extend sugar rationing through March, 1948, won an initial victory today when the Senate refused to table a proposal assuring each person 35 to 50 pounds of sugar this year.

The roll call vote was 48 to 26.

A further vote is required for adoption or rejection of the amendment offered by Senator Tobey (R-NH). The amount of sugar available to each person in 1946 was 25 pounds.

Housewives to Benefit

Meanwhile Secretary of Agriculture Anderson informed the Senate that any extra sugar availale this year—up to 50 pounds per person—would go to housewives ahead of industrial users.

Anderson's views were disclosed in a letter which Senator Flanders (R-Vt) read to the Senate as he urged a one-year extension of rationing and price controls. Tentative plans call for 35 pounds of table sugar this year per ration book, an increase of 10 pounds over 1946.

Flanders also disclosed that former President Herbert Hoover told him over the telephone that Anderson is the best informed official on sugar supply. He said Hoover described Anderson as a "man of complete honesty and ability."

The Vermont senator said he telephoned to ask Hoover's opinion on continuance of sugar controls and on accepting advice of Anderson. He quoted Hoover as saying he is not sufficiently familiar with facts to pass on lifting controls, but that if they are removed sugar export controls should be retained.

Flanders said some extra sugar would be diverted for preservation of perishable foods such as condensed milk and fruits.

Specific Prices On Sugar Planned

Washington, March 26 (AP)—The OPA announced today that it will establish specific dollar-and-cent retail ceilings prices on sugar and rice on about April 15.

Since last October, dealers have computed their own ceiling prices on the basis of permitted "mark-ups" over their costs.

OPA said the change is being made because "the consumer has inadequate information concerning the exact ceiling prices "where the dealer computes his own ceiling." It said the new ceilings will be uniform for types of stores in each pricing area and are to be computed by the OPA regional offices.

OPA MAY DROP 'MINOR' SUITS

Would Speed Prosecution of 'Flagrant' Cases.

Washington, March 26 (A. P.).—The OPA may toss out nearly 8,000 "minor" price control cases to speed up prosecution of suits against "flagrant violators and black market operators" involving more than $75,000,000 in possible damages. William E. Remy, deputy OPA commissioner for enforcement, stated that Congress will be asked for informal approval of the plan, which calls for:

1. An intensive drive to wind up prosecution of about 800 criminal cases, 1,872 cases involving overcharges in which damages totaling $65,913,000 are claimed, and about 2,600 cases involving violation of meat controls which have held up payment of more than $11,500,000 in Government subsidy payments.

2. Granting amnesty to about 7,803 defendants in "minor" cases, including those accused of making overcharges totaling up to $3,000.

All these 13,075 pending cases involve reported violations of OPA regulations governing commodities and services on which controls were ended last November. They do not include "several thousand" involving rent, sugar and rice controls.

"Even if we don't get congressional approval," Remy said, "we'll have to go ahead and drop some of the cases, for we don't have the staff nor the money to continue them. We have the right to knock them out in the public interest, but we'd like Congress to approve it."

A general amnesty bill covering all violations involving decontrolled commodities and services has been introduced in the House by Representative Harris (D.-Ark.), Remy said. No hearings have yet been held on that bill. Opposing general amnesty, Remy said it would be "unfair" both to defendants who have been fined or paid damages and to dealers who abided by the regulations, and would "make enforcement of present regulations harder." Further, he said, the amount of money involved is "important." He estimated it would take "one to two years" to complete action in the suits OPA intends to follow through. However, since OPA is scheduled to die June 30, agency officials said the prosecutions may be turned over to the Justice Department.

FBI HEAD ASSAILS RED FIFTH COLUMN

Communists Directed Via 'Paris-Moscow Pipeline,' He Tells Probers.

WASHINGTON, March 26—(AP) In a thunderous scene a congressional committee ejected the general secretary of the Communist party from a hearing today and later heard FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover denounce the Communists as a "fifth column."

Eugene Dennis was ousted by the House Committee on unAmerican Activities because he refused to give any other name but Eugene Dennis. He also refused to tell where or when he was born.

Both Hoover and Robert E. Stripling, the committee's chief investigator, said Dennis was born as Francis Eugene Waldron and has used many aliases.

Fraudulent Passports Cited

Stripling said the aliases have been used in getting "fraudulent passports."

Hoover testified:

1. That the Communists are directed "from Paris with a very definite pipeline into Moscow" and that they are a present danger to this country in the event of war with a Communist nation.

2. That he has "grave doubts" as to the wisdom of making martyrs out of Communists by outlawing them. Also, he said the law might later be ruled unconstitutional.

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce also told the committee it questions the wisdom of outlawing the party. The Daughters of the American Revolution favored outlawing it.

Dennis, a man with pink cheeks, neat mustache, and red necktie, appeared at his own request to oppose the bills that would outlaw Communists.

He never mentioned the bills because the committee insisted he tell his former name and he replied that such questions were "irrelevant and incompetent."

Appearing at an afternoon session of the committee, J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the FBI, testified that the Communist party in this country is a "fifth column," far better organized than were Nazi fifth columns in Europe prior to the war.

"Communism in reality is not a political party," he said. "It is a way of life—an evil and malignant way of life. It reveals a condition akin to disease that spreads like an epidemic and, like an epidemic, quarantine is necessary to keep it from infecting the nation."

FERGUSON NEW LILIENTHAL FOE

Michigan Senator To Vote Against Atomic Group Head

Washington, March 26 (AP)—Senator Ferguson (R., Mich.) came out today against confirmation of David E. Lilienthal as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, calling him a crusader for "big government" who has proved himself "indifferent to Communists."

In a Senate speech announcing his voting intention, Ferguson cited statements and actions from Lilienthal's career as chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority. He said these showed Lilienthal should not be approved now to head the Atomic Control Board.

Ferguson was the twenty-seventh Senator to announce against Lilienthal. However, 49, or more than a majority, have stated they are supporting him.

Convinced He Is No Communist

While saying he is convinced that Lilienthal is not a Communist, the Michigan lawmaker contended he made an error in his judgment when he "brushed aside as of no consequence" the presence of a small number of Communists in TVA.

"Communist minorities are different than ordinary minority groups," Ferguson said. "Indifference to Communists is not excusable, because of their tactics and because of the destructive nature of their movement. The smallness of their number bears no relation to their effectiveness and to the damage they can do.

"Certainly this would be the case in atomic energy development."

Although conceding that Lilienthal is sincere in his belief, Ferguson said he is convinced the nominee is a man "who would push big government until government dominated the lives and property of all its people."

Labeled "Social-Aristocrat"

"A new name is needed to describe men like Mr. Lilienthal," he said. "His philosophy is what might be called 'social-aristocrat'.

"It is socialist because he believes in Government ownership and controls. It is aristocratic because he believes that experts should be the new governing class."

Ferguson said men such as Lilienthal are impatient with Congress and the legislatures, and put up with them only because they need them to win broad powers.

What Ferguson Fears

"It is a gesture to get popular support just as the Nazi plebiscites were gestures of popular support, but otherwise meaningless," he declared.

Ferguson said the people demanded that control of atomic energy be taken away from the military and placed in civilian hands, because they were "fearful of the military frame of mind."

"Well," Ferguson said, "I'm fearful of the authoritarian frame of mind—of the people who would push Government ownership, planning, management and control over our lives. I am convinced that no matter how good his intentions may be, Mr. Lilienthal falls within that group."

Dennis—Mr. Chairman.

Chairman Thomas (R., N.J.)—I want you to answer the question.

Dennis—Did you ask any other witnesses that question?

Thomas—We're asking it of you.

Dennis—The color of my hair is gray. I'm in my early 40's——

Thomas—No, no, no. We don't want that. No, no. Mr. Stripling, serve a subpoena on this man. He's through for the day. You're excused.

Capitol police crowded around. One seized Dennis by the arm, as Stripling knifed through with the subpoena.

Basis For Challenge

Dennis told reporters he challenged the committee's authority to issue the subpoena for these three reasons:

First, the Congress of the United States has not specified exactly the authority of this committee.

Second, the Communist party and communism are not un-American and do not come under the jurisdiction of this committee.

Third, this committee is unlawfully constituted, at least one member seated there unlawfully holds his office—namely, Mr. Rankin (D., Miss.), who legally cannot be seated under the Fourteenth and Fifteenth amendments to the Constitution.

To Hear FBI Chief

The committee arranged to hear later FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover's ideas on outlawing the party, a move which Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach already has advocated.

President Truman told a news conference today that Schwellenbach was speaking for himself in making the proposal at recent hearings on labor legislation. The Chief Executive gave that reply to a question whether Schwellenbach acted on behalf of the Administration. He added that he had no comment on the proposal itself.

Dr. Emerson Schmidt, secretary of the United States Chamber of Commerce Committee on Communism preceded Dennis as a witness. He opposed the measure, saying it would only drive many of the party's activities underground.

Dismissal Applauded

Dennis appeared at the hearing wearing a dull red necktie, a blue shirt and gray suit. Applause swept through the committee room when Thomas said he was through. Cries arose of, "Take him out, take him out."

Time after time, Dennis had insisted to the committee that it was "quite irrelevant and incompetent" whether he ever had used any other name. All the committee could get out of him was that he had gone by the name of Dennis for a "great, great many years."

A pipe in one hand, Dennis pointed a finger at committee members and demanded their names when they tossed questions at him.

Promises Truth

When Stripling asked him point blank whether Dennis is his real name or party name he replied:

"I am known as Eugene Dennis. Whether my name is Smith or Jones or Cohen, my testimony will be valid and the truth."

Dennis turned on Stripling at one point, demanding politely but loudly, "Who are you, please?"

Stripling gave his name and identified himself as chief investigator.

"Oh, I see, a member of the old Dies committee," Dennis remarked scornfully.

As for the matter of passports, Dennis said it had no bearing on the hearings whether "I may or may not have taken out a passport under X, Y or Z."

Stripling told reporters later that Dennis can be cited for contempt if he fails to appear April 9.

He said Dennis was born in Seattle in 1905 as Francis Eugene Waldron. Since then, Stripling said, he has been known as Francis Xavier Waldron, Jr., Frank Waldron, Eugene Dennis, F. E. W. Dennis, Gene Dennis, Paul Eugene Waldron and simply as "Milton."

Dennis brought with him a nineteen-page statement, but the committee refused to accept it after his dismissal. Various Communist publications were distributed in the hearing room before he appeared. One was the party's constitution.

Schmidt told the committee that outlawing the party might conceivably make it more effective.

Wants It Registered

He suggested, instead, that the Justice Department "rule officially" that the party is an agency of a foreign power and subject to the Voorhis and Logan acts.

The Voorhis Act requires the registration of foreign agents, with a full statement of their activities, revenues, expenditures and membership lists.

The Logan Act prohibits attempts by United States citizens or foreign agents to influence relations between this country and any foreign government.

Rankin's View

Some members predicted the committee might reject proposals to destroy the party in favor of other measures.

One suggestion favored by Thomas was to strengthen the FBI.

Red Party Chief Refuses Right Name, Ousted As Witness

MAR 1947

Washington, March 26 (AP)—Eugene Dennis, secretary of the Communist party, was dismissed abruptly as a witness before the House Un-American Activities Committee today after he refused repeatedly to give his real name.

Robert E. Stripling, chief committee investigator, handed Dennis a subpoena to return before the committee April 9. Dennis took it in his hand.

Stripling told reporters Dennis accepted the subpoena. Dennis told reporters he did not and "that you will find it on the floor of the committee room."

Requested Appearance

Dennis said he challenged the authority of this committee to issue a subpoena. He had requested a chance to testify on bills to outlaw the Communist party. He had been allotted two hours and he was sworn under oath to tell the truth.

Committee members hammered at him time after time to give his real name. Stripling said there was "considerable evidence that he has used a number of names both in procuring of fraudulent passports and party activities."

Clash Develops

The blowup came when Stripling asked: "When and where were you born?"

Dislikes Ouster By Fund Slash, Truman Says

Washington, March 26 (AP)—President Truman declared today he did not like the practice of dismissing a Federal officeholder by cutting off funds for his salary.

The President made that comment in response to news conference questions about congressional moves to bar salary appropriations for Conciliation Service Director Edga. L. Warren and his top aides.

Asked if he considered this proper procedure, he said that while he was a member of Congress he did not like the practice generally.

Veto Held No Remedy

Mr. Truman promised to discuss the measure eliminating Warren's salary when it reaches his desk, but he agreed with one reporter that a veto of one appropriation bill could not restore the salary of any official.

As the President spoke, the House passed by voice vote and without debate a bill appropriating $243,255,607 to meet the cost of pay raises granted Federal employés by the last Congress.

The money supplements appropriations previously made for the various departments for the current fiscal year ending June 30.

Allotments Listed

The allotments by departments: Post Office, $176,642,400; Veterans' Administration, $48,292,500; Legislative Branch, $3,977,711; Judiciary, $1,763,996; Executive Office of the President, $479,950; Federal Works Agency, $4,321,100; miscellaneous independent offices, $3,571,150; District of Columbia Government, $4,226,800.

Stinging from a Democratic contention that their highly publicized economy drive "has bogged down," House Republican fiscal managers put fresh steam today behind their determination to slash Government spending.

"We Republicans are determined to do our job, and if the administrators cannot give efficient service on the appropriations granted, then we manifestly need new administrators," was the ultimatum issued by Representative Taber (R., N.Y.), chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

Taunted By Gore

Taber's statement followed a claim by Representative Gore (D., Tenn.) that Republican budget cutting so far has fallen far short of the rate necessary to accomplish the promised sixteen per cent, $6,000,000,000 reduction.

With a little more than 40 per cent of the President's $37,500,000,000 budget for the fiscal year 1948 already disposed of by the House, Gore said, reductions have been less than one per cent if "phonies" are not considered and slightly over six per cent "if you consider the phonies."

But Taber pointed to yesterday's passage of a $1,684,586,700 appropriation for the Labor Department and the Federal Security Agency as evidence that Republicans not only intend to "cut to the bone" but to dismiss agency heads they do not regard as suitable.

The bill's total was $78,825,520 below budget estimates and, coupled with the already-passed Treasury-Post Office supply bill, brought to $975,898,270 the budget reductions voted by the House this year.

Paul T. Culbertson Shifted To Madrid Post

Washington, March 26 (AP)—The State Department announced today the assignment of Paul T. Culbertson, veteran chief of its Western European Affairs Division, to be charge d'affaires at Madrid, succeeding Philip Bonsal.

The announcement was accompanied by a statement that no change was involved in this Government's attitude toward the authoritarian regime of Generalissimo Franco. The attitude is one of opposition.

There has been no United States Ambassador in Madrid since the departure of Norman Armour in 1945. The United States delegation supported a United Nations General Assembly resolution last year calling on all United Nations members to recall their ambassadors and ministers from Spain.

TRUMAN TO NAME NEW AMBASSADOR TO YUGOSLAVIA

WASHINGTON, March 26—(AP) President Truman opened the way today for an almost entirely new American diplomatic lineup in the Soviet satellite states of eastern Europe with the disclosure that Ambassador Richard C. Patterson will not return to his post in Yugoslavia.

The announcement at the White House news conference followed by a day the resignation of Arthur Bliss Lane as ambassador to Warsaw.

Lane explained he wants to speak freely on the "present tragedy of Poland."

The United States already was without full diplomatic representation in Romania, Bulgaria and Albania, Balkan states which like Poland take their cue from Moscow.

Posts to be Filled Shortly

Successors to Patterson and Lane will be appointed shortly, the President said. He thereby put an end to speculation that their posts might be left vacant indefinitely as a result of continuing friction in relations with Yugoslavia and Poland.

Diplomatic vacancies in Romania and Bulgaria, where this government currently is represented only by secondary officials, likewise may be filled soon. There have been no hints, however, of intent to resume relations soon with Albania. These came to an end with the withdrawal of an American mission last fall.

Patterson has been in the United States since last November. He has stirred criticism in the Yugoslav press since his return with a series of "off the record lectures" on Marshal Tito's government.

The lectures were the subject of inquiries to the State department last month from Yugoslav Ambassador Slava Kosanovic. He was told, officials indicated, that Mr. Patterson was speaking as a private citizen and that the lectures did not represent this government's official view. The officials said there was no formal Yugoslav protest.

PLEA IS RENEWED BY YUGOSLAVIA FOR U. S. GRAIN

MAY 1947

WASHINGTON, March 26—(AP) Once rebuffed, Yugoslavia renewed a plea to the United States today for 250,000 tons of grain and potatoes to tide it over until the summer harvest.

Ambassador Sava Kosanovic told Undersecretary William L. Clayton that Yugoslavia's present average diet of 1,240 calories would have to be reduced to 642 calories unless these foods are supplied in the next four months.

Charges 'Confusion'

Kosanovic said he undertook in the talk with Clayton to clear up "some of the confusion" he said resulted from last week's State department announcement rejecting a Yugoslav plea for a food allotment at least before May or June.

In a blunt statement, the department served notice Yugoslavia could expect no share of a proposed $350,000,000 relief program. It noted that Yugoslavia has exported food and said the Yugoslav government would have to show determination to distribute supplies "efficiently and without discrimination."

(The department did not say so, but there have been charges that the Communist-controlled Yugoslav government exported grain to Romania and Albania, primarily for political purposes).

Terms Accusations 'Absurd'

The ambassador told reporters that foreign observers who witnessed distribution of UNRRA supplies agreed that charges that food was used for political purposes were "absurd."

He said although Yugoslava had negotiated to export food, none would be shipped before the late summer harvest. A shipment of 20,000 tons of grain from Yugoslavia to Romania, he said, was actually a loan which is being repaid.

"Our general economic situation is good compared to other countries," he said. "We have no inflation and no black market and the whole nation is working hard on reconstruction. But we have to have food from abroad for the time being."

Kosanovic said 200,000 tons of grain and 50,000 tons of potatoes are needed.

NIMITZ CALLS U.S. PREPARED

Admiral Tells Senators It Is Ready For Any Attack

Washington, March 26 (AP)—Assurance that the Navy, Army and Air Forces have detailed plans to meet any surprise attack on the United States came today from Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz.

The Navy's top-ranking officer told the Senate Armed Services Committee about "comprehensive, integrated and complex defense" plans as he added his support to the army-navy unification bill asked by President Truman.

"I am delighted to hear that," Senator Bridges (R., N.H.) told Nimitz. "It will give the country a feeling of confidence."

Bridges told Nimitz that Robert P. Patterson, Secretary of War, has testified there is no overall plan for defending the nation and will not be until the Army, Navy and Air Forces are under a single secretary of national defense provided by the unification bill.

Plans Constantly Revised

Nimitz, who led the Pacific Fleet in the victory over Japan, told the senators that as soon as that fight ended the joint army-navy chiefs of staff began work on defense plans that were constantly revised to fit the "complex international situation."

He said these include a joint defense plan for the United States and Canada against any attack from that direction; separate plans for Alaska and the Mariannas in the far Pacific; bases for military, naval and air forces, and everything from a local domestic emergency to another major war.

Nimitz said the general purpose of all these plans is to "keep the ravages of war and areas of conflict as far removed from" the continental United States as possible.

He agreed with Patterson and other army, navy and air force spokesmen who have preceded him that under unification these plans could be "expedited and facilitated."

Opposed Bill Year Ago

"I don't think you can write the complete ticket now," the Admiral advised lawmakers as they questioned him about safeguarding the Marines and navy air power, or protecting navy appropriations under the fused single department.

Last year Nimitz and other navy leaders protested that a somewhat similar merger bill would "sink the Navy" and endanger its Marines and Air Forces.

"Are you perfectly satisfied with the bill as it is?" asked Senator Maybank (D., S.C.).

"I am," Nimitz replied.

"Are you asking amendments?" Maybank pressed.

Wants Bill Unchanged

Nimitz said he is not because the present bill is a compromise of conflicting navy, army and air force views and any changes might throw their agreement "out of balance."

Nimitz assured senators he has no fears about overall powers of the proposed single secretary who would direct subordinate secretaries of Navy, Army and Air Forces.

"He will have just as much and just as little authority as the President gives him," he said, adding that no president could avoid major decisions regarding the armed forces.

ACHESON ASKS RADIO SETUP

Proposes U.S. Foundation For Overseas Broadcasts

Washington, March 26 (AP)—Dean Acheson, Acting Secretary of State, asked Congress today to set up an "International Broadcasting Foundation of the Unite dStates" to direct the broadcast of American foreign language radio programs overseas.

William Benton, Assistant Secretary of State, said one advantage would be that casual foreign listeners would be less likely to interpret teh broadcast—now beamed abroad in 25 languages—as official United States policy.

He said it would also eliminate any question on the nonpartisan character of the broadcasts.

Asailed As Monopoly

The proposal, described by Acheson as having the blessing of Gen. George Marshall, Secretary of State, drew quick fire from Walter S. Lemmon, president of the World Wide Broadcasting Foundation, in New York.

Lemmon termed it a "new form of Government monopoly" and an automatic death blow to "all American private enterprise in the field of international broadcasting, now and in the future."

He said in a statement it would forms of free expression, such as the press and motion pictures."

Acheson proposed that the Foundation be directed by a fourteen man board named by the President, including the Secretary of State. It would take over all overseas programs now directed by the State Department's Office of International Information and Cultural Affairs.

FBI Investigating Newsprint 'Plot'

Washington, March 26 (AP)—The Justice Department disclosed today that the FBI is investigating "complaints of a conspiracy among newsprint manufacturers operating in Canada" and said it expects "to proceed further by means of grand jury subpoenas."

Attorney General Clark ordered the investigating and it has been underway "several months," the department said.

News of the investigation first came from Senator Hill (D., Ala.), who released a letter from Assistant Attorney General Wendell Berge, anti-trust chief, saying that grand jury action is expected "in the near future."

"Voluntary Plan"

The printing industry has complained for months of a newsprint shortage and the Senate's Small Business Committee recently summoned producers and publishers to a series of conferences seeking a voluntary solution.

Hill said he was "not optimistic over the co-called 'voluntary plan.'" He quoted Berge as writing him:

"For the past several months we have been investigating complaints of a conspiracy among newsprint manufacturers operating in Canada to restrain trade into the United States. These manufacturers, including subsidiaries of American firms, supply approximately 80 per cent of the United States newsprint demand."

Hill said that monopolistic practices of the newsprint industry are forcing small publishers to the wall," and that he was "pressing for thorough and vigorous investigation by the anti-trust division."

"Small printers and publishers are being frozen out by long-term contracts favoring big accounts," he said.

Search Told Of In N.Y.

New York, March 26 (AP)—A spokesman for a leading paper company said today that FBI agents had visited all paper companies in New York in the last 30 days and completed an inspection of their records. No findings were reported.

Publishers Give Newsprint Plan To Senate Body

Pledge Aid to All General Papers, Propose Board to Investigate Others' Lack

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP).—A committee of leading publishers, appointed two weeks ago to examine the question of voluntary better distribution of newsprint, submitted to the Senate Small Business Subcommittee today a report which:

1. "Reaffirmed the voluntary undertaking of the publishers to do all in their power through local associations and otherwise to see that all newspapers of general circulation, dailies and weeklies, obtain sufficient newsprint to continue to publish."

2. Proposed creation of a committee of seven, to include paper manufacturers, paper jobbers and others, to investigate "distress" cases of fraternal, religious, labor, civic and other publications.

Senator Homer E. Capehart, Republican, of Indiana, chairman, said that the Senate Subcommittee favored the idea and that a meeting would be held in Washington next Wednesday to which heads of each group would be invited. He congratulated the newspaper publishers "for their voluntary co-operation in a very creditable way."

Senator Capehart said also that the subcommittee will hold hearings next month on labor problems of weekly and small daily newspapers.

He told a news conference that he has received "hundreds and hundreds of letters" concerning "the high cost of labor, the high cost of operating weeklies and small dailies, reports of their help moving to the cities, inability to get help, and lack of apprenticeships in the printing field."

The subcommittee has been looking into the difficulties newspapers are having in getting sufficient printing paper. At its request leading publishers met with the group and named the committee which reported today.

The complete text of the report:

"We reaffirm the voluntary undertaking of the publishers to do all in their power through local associations and otherwise to see that all newspapers of general circulation, dailies and weeklies, obtain sufficient newsprint to continue to publish.

"With respect to other publications included under Section 521 of the postal laws and regulations, the committee is of the view that newpaper publishers cannot undertake to provide newsprint for such users. However, we are willing and desirous to co-operate with the manufacturers, paper jobbers and magazines to assist in resolving any difficulty due to a newsprint shortage involving publications coming under Section 521.

"To this end, we recommend an over-all committee of seven which in addition to newspapers should include representatives of the above-mentioned groups.

"Such committee would investigate any cases of distress involving newsprint to uncover the causes and to seek a solution.

"This committee believes that the records of the Senate Small Business Subcommittee show that distress situations have arisen almost invariably from circumstances where a newsprint mill has been taken out of production or converted to the manufacture of another type of paper; or when a merchant or jobber has diverted tonnage from a regular customer, sometimes in order to obtain a higher price or to secure some one whom he considers a more desirable customer. It is a problem which the entire paper industry, including its customers, must attempt to solve, and not any one segment.

"This committee suggests the inclusion of manufacturer, jobber and magazine representatives because in its opinion adjustment of the problem is dependent upon increased newsprint production and/or improved distribution of it, the solution of which lies mainly with the entire group. Representatives of magazines are suggested because of the number of them which use newsprint and because a diversion of newsprint mills to magazine types of paper has contributed to the present situation.

It is the thought of this committee that assistance, information and guidance from all groups may materially help solve the current problem.

"A very important contribution to the over-all supply of newsprint was made by publishers who invested substantial amounts of capital in the establishment of new mills and machines, the output of which is used by themselves and other newspapers. Had this not been done, these publishers would now be taking their needs out of a much smaller available supply. This contribution, however, has not kept pace with the diversion of newsprint mills to other paper. The committee feels that further steps in the development of newsprint mills should be encouraged.

NEWS FREEDOM HELD IN DANGER

MAR 1947

Commission Lists 3 Reasons After Three-Year Study

Chicago, March 26 (AP)—A special commission of educators and others declare after a three-year study that America's freedom of the press is in danger.

Included in the study, financed by grants of $200,000 from Time, Inc., and of $15,000 from the Encyclopedia Britannica, Inc., are newspapers, radio, motion pictures, magazines and books. All of these media are referred to by the commission as "the press."

The commission, headed by Robert M. Hutchins, chancellor of the University of Chicago, gives three reasons:

1. The development of the press as an instrument of mass communication "has greatly decreased the proportion of the people who can express their opinions and ideas through the press."

'Stage In The Long Struggle'

2. "The few" able to use the press "have not provided a service adequate to the needs of society."

3. They "have engaged from time to time in practices which society condemns."

However, the danger is not so great, the commission says, that "freedom will be swept away overnight," and "the present crisis is simply a stage in the long struggle for free expression."

The report is in the form of a 139-page book, "A Free and Responsible Press," to be issued tomorrow by the University of Chicago Press.

The report says the "number of units" in the communications industry has declined, with the opportunities for newcomers in those fields "strictly limited."

'Excellence Unsurpassed'

If the "concentrations of power" in the press become "so powerful that they are a threat to democracy," the commission says, there is a risk of Government control and of a "long step" toward totalitarianism.

But it declares "the American press is less venal and less subservient to political and economic pressure than that of many other countries . . . and the leading organs . . . have achieved a standard of excellence unsurpassed anywhere in the world."

In summarizing its criticisms of the press, the commission says:

"The news is twisted by the emphasis on firstness, on the novel and sensational; by the personal interest of owners; and by pressure groups.

'The Greatest Danger'

"Too much of the regular output of the press consists of a miscellaneous succession of stories and images which have no relation to the typical lives of real people anywhere.

"Too often the result is meaningless, flatness, distortion and the perpetuation of misunderstanding among widely scattered groups. . . .

"When we look at the press as a whole . . . we must conclude that it is not meeting the needs of our society. The commission believes that this failure of the press is the greatest danger to its freedom."

The commission makes thirteen recommendations as to what can be done to improve the press.

It urges "that the constitutional guarantees of the freedom of the press be recognized as including the radio and motion pictures."

Would Change The Law

The Government, it says, should "maintain competition among large units through the anti-trust laws" but use those laws only "sparingly" to break up such units. "Where concentration is necessary," it says, the Government should try to see that "the public gets the benefit."

The commission suggests legislation by which a party injured by libel might obtain a "retraction or a restatement of the facts by the offender or an opportunity to reply."

It would change the law to allow "expressions in favor of revolutionary changes" in the Government where "there is no clear and present danger that violence will result."

It says the Government should have the right "to inform the people in regard to its program or to supplement and correct the picture of this country which . . . results from misinformation or lack of information."

Advertising Plan For Radio

The commission also recommends that the press "be hospitable to ideas and attitudes" different from its own and present them to the public as meriting attention; that it finance new "literary, artistic or intellectual" activities for "serious minorities," engage in "mutual self-criticism," and "use every means that can be devised to increase the competence" of its staff.

Schools of journalism, it says, should give their students "the broadest and most liberal training." Radio is urged to take control of its programs away from advertisers and "treat advertising as it is treated by the best newspapers."

It recommends that "nonprofit institutions help supply the variety, quantity, and quality of press service required," and that a "new and independent agency" be established to study and report annually on what the press is doing.

Other Commission Members

Members of the commission besides Hutchins are:

Zechariah Chafee, Jr., vice chairman, professor of law at Harvard University; Professors John M. Clark, of Columbia University; John Dickinson, of the University of Pennsylvania; William E. Hocking, of Harvard; Harold D. Lasswell, of Yale; Charles E. Merriam, of the University of Chicago, and Reinhold Neibuhr, of Union Theological Seminary.

Also, Robert Redfield, of the University of Chicago; Arthur M. Schlesinger, of Harvard; Archibald MacLeish, formerly Assistant Secretary of State; Beardsley Ruml, chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, and George N. Shuster, president of Hunter College.

The commission also is issuing studies on each of the five media.

Probers' Demands Met By Howard Hughes

Washington, March 26 (AP)—Senator Brewster (R., Maine) said tonight he had withdrawn a Senate subpoena for Howard Hughes, Hollywood movie maker and airplane manufacturer, after Hughes agreed to disclose records and accounts on two experimental aircraft built for the Government.

Brewster, chairman of the Senate War Investigating Committee, said the two planes have already cost the Government more than $40,000,000. He said Hughes previously had refused to make all the records available to a committee investigator on the West Coast.

GREEN SEES TRUMAN

Washington, March 26 (A. P.).—An American Federation of Labor delegation told President Truman today that four-power control of Germany is a "colossal failure." The group headed by William Green, A. F. of L. president, also expressed opposition to permitting a delegation of the World Federation of Trade Unions to visit Japan.

"We pointed out that this Federation of Trade Unions is directly controlled by communism," Green told reporters afterward. He said that the War Department gave the Federation delegation "a green light" after Gen. MacArthur had denied it permission to visit Japan.

In a statement, Green said that he and George Meany, secretary-treasurer, and David Dubinsky, vice-president of the A. F. of L., told the President: "Establishment of a central government for Gerany, pending the completion of a permanent peace treaty, should be attempted as rapidly as possible."

LOAN BIDS EXCEED BANK'S RESOURCES

Washington, March 26.—Foreign loan applications at the World Bank have climbed to $2,300,000,000, three times the bank's present resources.

John J. McCloy, new president of the bank, took a look at the institution's portfolio and loan requests and reported that eight governments have thus far sought loans for reconstruction or development funds. To meet all loan requests the bank would have to borrow some $1,600,000,000 from the public.

The largest loan request—$500,000,000—comes from France, the second largest—$350,000,000—from Czecho-Slovakia. Both countries plan to use the proceeds, if the loans are granted, to purchase raw materials for domestic industries and construction and transportation equipment. France plans to use a large part of its loan for fuel and public utilities equipment.

The World Bank now has resources of only $562,000,000. An additional call of 5 per cent of the bank's capital has been authorized. When this capital is paid in resources will total $721,000,000.

Other governments which have made loan applications are Chile, Denmark, Iran, Luxembourg, the Netherlands and Poland.

Greece has informed the bank it plans to submit an application.

Wheeler Heads U.S. Unit For World Wool Parley

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP). Under Secretary of State Dean Acheson designated today Leslie A. Wheeler to head the five-man United States delegation to a thirteen-nation wool conference in London beginning March 31. Mr. Wheeler is director of the Agriculture Department's foreign agricultural relations. The conference will study problems of wool production, consumption and trade.

Meanwhile, the House Agriculture Committee approved a resolution continuing the domestic wool price support program until the end of 1948.

In order to get rid of huge stocks it has on hand, the measure will allow the Commodity Credit Corp. to sell its wool at below the parity price, which on Feb. 15 was 40.4 cents a pound. The support price will remain between 41.6 and 42.4 cents a pound, where it has been since the buying program began in 1943.

Note Dropped With Nagasaki A-Bomb Returned To Authors

Berkeley, Cal., March 26 (AP)—A letter written by three American scientists and dropped along with atomic bomb on Nagasaki in the hope of persuading Japan to surrender has been returned to its authors, they disclosed today.

The missive was composed on the spur of the moment by Dr. Luis W. Alvarez, one of the atom-bomb scientists, on Tinian Island a few hours before the bombing, and addressed to Prof. R. Sagane, a Japanese researcher who once had worked in the United States.

A Copy To Each Transmitter

It asked Sagane to warn the Japanese general staff that Nippon would be showered with atom bombs unless surrender was immediate.

A copy of the letter was attached to each of three sondes or radio transmitters, lowered by parachute to record the bomb's blast wave. It was designated as being from three of Sagane's scientific acquaintances in America. They were Alvarez, Dr. Robert Serber and Dr. Phillip Morrison, but they were not named in the message.

It urged Sagane to tell Japan's leaders that their country would face "total annihilation of all your cities," if the war continued, and that "unless Japan surrenders at once this rain of atomic bombs will continue manyfold in fury."

Letter Reached Sagane

A year later, Dr. G. W. Fox, professor of physics at Iowa State College, who was in Japan on a scientific mission, wrote Alvarez that the letter had been delivered to Sagane on October 1, 1945, six weeks after the Japanese agreement to surrender. A Japanese admiral had told Sagane about it.

Whether the letter hastened Japan's submission never was determined, but the Nipponese proclaimed their willingness to quit a week after the Nagasaki blast.

U.S. To Sell 137 Ships To British For Cash

Washington, March 26 (AP)—The Maritime Commission tonight announced it has approved immediate cash sale of 30 merchant ships to the British Government and 107 to shipowners in Britain.

Sale of the 137 ships will bring this Government approximately $72,000,000, it said.

Russian Lack Stressed By Elliott Roosevelt

New York, March 26 (AP)—Elliott Roosevelt today told the Overseas Press Club of America that Russia was "in a very bad economic condition, and her lack of manpower is a tremendous problem in her economic rebuilding."

The son of the late President said that Russia was not in a position to wage war, but "maybe in a few years, yes." In commenting on what he termed the United States "shortsighted" foreign policy, he said, "we are scared of a people that can't fight us yet."

"We are faced with a situation where the great mass of people in the United States would do anything, with honor, to preserve peace," he said. "I saw the same thing among the people in Russia. The great majority of the officials in Russia, the same as in the United States, desire to achieve peace."

French Navy Buys 3 LST's Now At Norfolk

Norfolk, Va., March 26 (AP)—The French Navy has purchased three LST's (landing ship, tanks) from the United States Government and will send crews to this country next month to sail the ships to France, naval spokesmen here disclosed today.

Officers and men to man the landing vessels will arrive at Norfolk April 8 aboard the French cruiser Montcalm.

The three ships, which are at the amphibious training base at near-by Little Creek, are now manned by skeleton crews totaling seven officers and 53 men of the French Navy, who arrived in the United States March 1.

The first of the three LST's was turned over to the French March 12, the second March 13 and the third yesterday. Naval spokesmen said no ceremony attended the transfers.

Incomplete Battleship Illinois Is Scrapped

Philadelphia, March 26 (AP)—The 45,000-ton superbattleship Illinois started out to be a sister ship to the famed U.S.S. Missouri, on whose deck the Japanese agreed to unconditional surrender terms, but now it's nothing but broken pieces of scrap.

The vessel, one quarter completed on V-J day, was scrapped at the Philadelphia naval base—the only one of six similar battleships of its type not completed. Congressional cuts in naval appropriations prompted the scrapping order from the Navy Department.

Heat Of Rocket Exhaust Set At 3,500 Degrees

Washington, March 26 (AP)—A modification of the method astronomers use in taking the temperature of a comet's tail shows that the exhaust from a rocket like the V-2 is about 3,500 degrees.

This was reported today by the Army Ordnance Corps, as a part of the research under way on the effective fueling of rockets. The temperature was arrived at by a study of wave lengths of molecular radiation.

Admiral Stone Ordered Home

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP).—Rear Admiral Ellery W. Stone has been ordered home from Italy preparatory to being returned to inactive duty, Navy orders revealed today. Admiral Stone, chief of the Italian military affairs section at Allied force headquarters in Rome, served from July, 1944, until last month as chief of the Allied commission which administered the Italian surrender terms. In civil life Admiral Stone, who is a naval reserve officer, was prominent in the telegraph industry. A native of Oakland, Calif., his official address is 40 East Sixty-sixth Street, New York.

MAR 1947

MOSCOW, MARCH 26-(AP)-THE UNITED STATES HAS RECEIVED LESS THAN $275,000,000 IN REPARATIONS FROM GERMANY, ACCORDING TO A STATEMENT CIRCULATED AMONG THE OTHER FOREIGN MINISTERS BY U.S. SECRETARY OF STATE GEORGE C. MARSHALL.

THE STATEMENT, EVIDENTLY INTENDED TO MEET SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTER MOLOTOV'S CHARGES THAT THE UNITED STATES HAS BEEN TAKING BILLIONS IN REPARATIONS FROM GERMANY, SHOWS THAT MOST OF WHAT THE U.S. IS GETTING COMES FROM EXTERNAL ASSETS OF GERMANY.

THE STATEMENT VALUED INDUSTRIAL CAPITAL EQUIPMENT RECEIVED THROUGH THE INTER-ALLIED REPARATIONS AGENCY AT $65,000,000; CAPITAL EQUIPMENT RECEIVED DIRECTLY AT LESS THAN $10,000,000; SHIPS TAKEN OVER AT $5,000,000 AND EXTERNAL ASSETS AT BETWEEN $150,000,000 AND $250,000,000.

THE REPORT LISTED NO VALUATION FOR PATENTS TAKEN FROM GERMANY AND DECLARED THAT NO REPARATIONS HAD BEEN RECEIVED FITHER FROM CURRENT PRODUCTION OR IN THE FORM OF GOLD.

30. 24- 8773

BEVIN SUPPORTED MARSHALL'S STAND, SAYING BRITAIN NEVER COULD ACCEPT ANYTHING PLACING THE DOMINIONS IN A SECONDARY STATUS.

"FACTS OF THIS KIND CANNOT BE IGNORED IN SELECTING OUR ASSOCIATES WHO WILL WORK WITH US FOR THE PURPOSE OF PEACE," MARSHALL SAID.

MOLOTOV REPEATED HIS INSISTENCE THAT PARTICIPATION IN THE PEACE CONFERENCE BE LIMITED TO 18 STATES, OR 19 WITH ALBANIA, WHO WERE NAMED AT NEW YORK. HE AGAIN REFERRED TO THE POTSDAM PROVISIONS.

AFTER A LONG DISCUSSION, THE MINISTERS AGAIN REFERRED THE WHOLE QUESTION OF THE GERMAN TREATY PROCEDURE TO THE DEPUTIES, WITH THE EXCEPTION OF THE POINT AS TO WHAT NATIONS WOULD PARTICIPATE.

ANOTHER ARGUMENT EURPTED OVER WHETHER CHINA SHOULD BE ONE OF THE INVITING POWERS TO THE CONFERENCE. MARSHALL, BIDAULT AND BEVIN SAID SHE SHOULD. MOLOTOV SAID CHINA SHOULD NOT. NO AGREEMENT WAS REACHED BUT THE DISCUSSIONS INDICATED CHINA WILL PARTICIPATE IN THE CONFERENCE AS ONE OF THE PRESIDING CHAIRMAN NATIONS, BUT NOT AS ONE OF THE "INVITING" POWERS. SHE HAD THIS STATUS AT THE PARIS CONFERENCE.

THE MINISTERS ENGAGED IN ANOTHER LONG DEBATE ON WHAT SUBJECTS WOULD BE DISCUSSED TOMORROW. IT WAS DURING THIS TALK THAT MARSHALL EXPRESSED CONCERN OVER THE SLOW PROGRESS OF THE SESSION.

DURING THIS PHASE, IT WAS REVEALED, MOLOTOV REPLIED IN WRITING TO MARSHALL ON THE SOVIET POSITION REGARDING GERMAN ASSETS IN AUSTRIA. DETAILS OF THE REPLY WERE NOT MADE KNOWN. MARSHALL SAID HE SUBMITTED HIS PAPER IN AN EFFORT TO EXPEDITE THE CONFERENCE "BUT APPARENTLY THE PURPOSE FAILED, SINCE THE SOVIET PROPOSAL IS IN COMPLETE DISAGREEMENT WITH THAT OF THE UNITED STATES."

MOLOTOV, WHO UP TO THIS POINT HAD BEEN AGAINST PLACING GERMAN ASSETS IN AUSTRIA ON THE AGENDA FOR TOMORROW, HOLDING THAT THE TOPIC SHOULD COME LAST, SUDDENLY YIELDED AND AGREED THAT THE MATTER SHOULD BE DISCUSSED TOMORROW. /NS.-(MOSCOW)-MARSHALL WARNS-

MOSCOW--FIRST [redacted] (CQ) LEAD FOREIGN MINISTERS (A86) XXX SATISFACTORY." INS-

BRITISH FOREIGN SECRETARY ERNEST BEVIN WAS DISCLOSED LATER TO HAVE RECEIVED A LETTER FROM MOLOTOV ON THE PROPOSED EXCHANGE OF INFORMATION ON CHINA.

THE CONTENTS OF THE LETTER WERE NOT ANNOUNCED.

ALL INDICATIONS ARE THAT THE UNITED STATES IS WILLING TO AGREE TO SOME FORM OF REPARATIONS FROM CURRENT GERMAN PRODUCTION TO CONTINUE FOR SEVERAL YEARS, PROVIDED IT CAN BE ARRANGED WITHOUT FURTHER COST TO THE AMERICAN TAXPAYER.

CONTINUING REPARATIONS ARE BELIEVED TO BE A PRINCIPAL AIM OF THE SOVIET UNION, AND WESTERN DIPLOMATS BELIEVE THE KREMLIN WOULD BE WILLING TO MODIFY SOME OTHER RUSSIAN DEMANDS IN ORDER TO GET THEM.

SPECIFIC INDICATIONS OF POSSIBLE SOVIET CONCESSIONS HAVE NOT BEEN MADE CLEAR IN ANY OF RUSSIAN FOREIGN MINISTER V.M. MOLOTOV'S STATEMENTS TO THE COUNCIL. IT WAS CONSIDERED SIGNIFICANT, HOWEVER, THAT THE BRITISH, AFTER FOREIGN SECRETARY ERNEST BEVIN'S TALK WITH PRIME MINISTER STALIN, TOOK A MODERATELY OPTIMISTIC VIEW OF THE NEGOTIATIONS. THE FRENCH, FOLLOWING FOREIGN MINISTER GEORGES BIDAULT'S VISIT WITH STALIN, SEEMED TO REGARD SOVIET CONCESSION AS A VIRTUAL CERTAINTY WHEN THE CONFERENCE REACHES THE TRADING STAGE.

THE ARRIVAL HERE TODAY OR TOMORROW OF AN AUSTRIAN DELEGATION HEADED BY FOREIGN MINISTER KARL GRUBER WAS EXPECTED TO GIVE FRESH IMPETUS TO WORK ON THE PEACE SETTLEMENT FOR THAT COUNTRY.

SECRETARY OF STATE GEORGE C. MARSHALL AND BEVIN ALSO WERE HOPEFUL OF A PROMPT RESPONSE FROM MOLOTOV TO THEIR REQUEST FOR A DEFINITION OF WHAT CONSTITUTES GERMAN ASSETS IN AUSTRIA. AN AGREEMENT ON THIS POINT WOULD BREAK THE WORST DEADLOCK BLOCKING REAL PROGRESS ON THE AUSTRIAN TREATY.

YESTERDAY'S BRIEF COUNCIL SESSION WAS MARKED BY MARSHALL'S SUGGESTION THAT THE WHOLE GERMAN PEOPLE--NOT A GERMAN GOVERNMENT--BE REQUIRED TO ACCEPT THE TERMS OF A PEACE SETTLEMENT IN THEIR NATIONAL CONSTITUTION.

NIGHT LEAD FOREIGN MINISTERS (600)

BY WES GALLAGHER

MOSCOW, MARCH 26-(AP)-THE FOUR-POWER FOREIGN MINISTERS WRANGLED FOR NEARLY FIVE HOURS TONIGHT WITHOUT REACHING ANY MAJOR DECISIONS, AND SECRETARY OF STATE MARSHALL WARNED THAT THE COUNCIL WAS BECOMING SO "ENSNARLED" THAT "REASONABLE PROGRESS IS UNFORTUNATELY REMOTE."

MARSHALL TOLD HIS COLLEAGUES, DURING THE LONGEST MEETING OF THE MINISTERS TO DATE, THAT MOST OF THE ARGUMENTS HAD BEEN ON RELATIVELY UNIMPORTANT MATTERS.

THE ONLY AGREEMENT WAS TO ALLOW YUGOSLAVIA TO SEND A DELEGATION TO MOSCOW FOR CONSULTATION IN CONNECTION WITH THE AUSTRIAN PEACE TREATY. DR.KARL GRUBER, AUSTRIAN FOREIGN MINISTER, AND A STAFF OF 12 ARRIVED DURING THE DAY FROM VIENNA.

BOTH BRITISH FOREIGN SECRETARY ERNEST BEVIN AND RUSSIAN FOREIGN MINISTER MOLOTOV OPPOSED MARSHALL'S SUGGESTION THAT NO GERMAN GOVERNMENT BE REQUIRED TO SIGN THE GERMAN PACT, BUT THAT THE PACT BE IMPOSED BY INSERTING A COMPLIANCE CLAUSE IN THE NEW REICH CONSTITUTION.

MARSHALL REPLIED THAT THE QUESTION WAS NOT URGENT, AND THAT PERHAPS THE PROPOSED GERMAN PEACE CONFERENCE MIGHT LIKE TO EXPRESS ITSELF ON THE SUBJECT.

THE UNITED STATES SECRETARY MADE ANOTHER DETERMINED PLEA FOR PARTICIPATION IN THE PEACE CONFERENCE OF ALL NATIONS WHICH DECLARED WAR ON GERMANY. MOLOTOV INSISTED THAT THE CONFERENCE BE LIMITED TO THE 18 POWERS--OR 19 INCLUDING ALBANIA--NAMED IN NEW YORK, BESIDES THE INVITING POWERS.

MARSHALL SAID HE WAS PARTICULARLY ANXIOUS THAT "OUR SOUTH AMERICAN

ALLIES," SUCH AS MEXICO, BE INVITED TO PARTICIPATE. HE ALSO CITED THE CANADIAN WAR EFFORT, SAYING THAT CANADA HAD HAD 1,000,000 MEN UNDER ARMS, AND THAT 400,000 CANADIANS WERE FIGHTING BY 1941, WHEN RUSSIA ENTERED THE CONFLICT.

BEVIN SUPPORTED MARSHALL'S VIEW ON THIS SUBJECT, SAYING THAT BRITAIN COULD NEVER AGREE TO PLACE HER DOMINIONS IN A SECONDARY STATUS.

ANOTHER DISAGREEMENT CAME UP ON WHETHER CHINA SHOULD JOIN WITH THE OTHER FOUR MAJOR ALLIES IN ISSUING INVITATIONS TO SMALLER NATIONS TO ATTEND THE PEACE CONFERENCE.

MARSHALL, BEVIN AND FRENCH FOREIGN MINISTER GEORGES BIDAULT SAID CHINA SHOULD BE AN "INVITING POWER." MOLOTOV WAS AGAINST IT. IT APPEARED, HOWEVER, THAT CHINA MAY PARTICIPATE AS ONE OF THE "PRESIDING CHAIRMEN" OF THE CONFERENCE, BUT NOT AS AN "INVITING POWER."

A14

MAR 1947

ANOTHER DISAGREEMENT BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND RUSSIA CAME TO LIGHT WHEN MARSHALL REFERRED TO AN EXCHANGE OF NOTES BETWEEN MOLOTOV AND HIMSELF ON GERMAN ASSETS IN AUSTRIA.

MARSHALL SAID HIS NOTE, WHICH ASKED ABOUT THE RUSSIAN POSITION ON THESE ASSETS, HAD BEEN SUBMITTED TO MOLOTOV TO SPEED THE WORK OF THE CONFERENCE.

"BUT APPARENTLY THE PURPOSE FAILED SINCE THE SOVIET PROPOSAL IS IN COMPLETE DISAGREEMENT WITH THAT OF THE UNITED STATES," THE SECRETARY SAID.

DETAILS OF THE RUSSIAN REPLY HAVE NOT BEEN MADE PUBLIC.

STILL ANOTHER DISPUTE AROSE WHEN MOLOTOV SUGGESTED THAT THE YUGOSLAV DELEGATION TO MOSCOW BE ALLOWED TO PRESENT ITS VIEWS ON THE FINANCIAL SITUATION OF TRIESTE, WHICH WILL BECOME A FREE CITY UNDER THE PROPOSED TREATY FOR ITALY.

THE THREE WESTERN MINISTERS REPLIED THAT IF YUGOSLAVIA IS HEARD ON THE SUBJECT, ITALY WOULD ALSO HAVE TO BE HEARD.

PRIOR TO THE COUNCIL MEETING, MOLOTOV INFORMED MARSHALL BY LETTER THAT HE WOULD AGREE RELUCTANTLY TO THE SECRETARY'S PROPOSAL TO EXCHANGE WRITTEN INFORMATION ON THE CHINESE QUESTION. MOLOTOV SAID HE STILL THOUGHT THAT THE BEST WAY TO EXCHANGE SUCH INFORMATION WAS BY HOLDING INFORMAL CONFERENCES INVOLVING HIMSELF, MARSHALL AND BEVIN.

MOLOTOV PREVIOUSLY HAD SUGGESTED FORMAL DISCUSSIONS, BUT BEVIN AND MARSHALL HAD DECLINED TO PARTICIPATE UNLESS CHINA WAS INVITED TO ATTEND. MARSHALL THEN PROPOSED THE EXCHANGE OF WRITTEN INFORMATION AS AN ALTERNATIVE.

MARSHALL CIRCULATED A STATEMENT AMONG THE MINISTERS SAYING THAT THE UNITED STATES HAD RECEIVED LESS THAN $275,000,000 IN REPARATIONS FROM GERMANY. THIS WAS IN ANSWER TO MOLOTOV'S ALLEGATIONS THAT BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES HAD TAKEN $10,000,000,000 OUT OF GERMANY.

MOSCOW, MARCH 26-(AP)-SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTER MOLOTOV HAS REJECTED SECRETARY OF STATE MARSHALL'S APPEAL FOR A FOUR-POWER AGREEMENT DEFINING GERMAN ASSETS IN AUSTRIA, IT WAS LEARNED TONIGHT, AND THE RESULTING DEADLOCK MAY OBSTRUCT EFFORTS TO FINISH THE AUSTRIAN PEACE TREATY AT THE MOSCOW CONFERENCE.

THE FULL EXTENT OF THE SERIOUSNESS OF THE SITUATION PROBABLY WILL BE SHOWN TOMORROW WHEN THE FOREIGN MINISTERS' COUNCIL IS SCHEDULED TO DISCUSS THE DEFINITION OF ASSETS ON THE BASIS OF AN EXCHANGE OF NOTES BETWEEN THE AMERICAN SECRETARY AND THE SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTER.

MOSCOW--FIRST

AN AUSTRIAN DELEGATION UNDER THE LEADERSHIP OF FOREIGN MINISTER KARL GRUBER ARRIVED EARLIER TODAY TO BE AVAILABLE FOR CONSULTATION WITH THE FOREIGN MINISTERS' COUNCIL.

BRITISH AND AMERICAN AUTHORITIES HAD BEEN FAIRLY HOPEFUL OF PROGRESS ON THE AUSTRIAN SETTLEMENT, WHICH IS REGARDED AS ESSENTIAL TO THE STABILITY OF CENTRAL AND SOUTHEASTERN EUROPE.

MAR 1947

DIPLOMATS SEE THE SOVIET POSITION AS NOT NECESSARILY AIMED AT DELAYING THE TREATY BUT AS BEING ABSOLUTELY FIRM ON THE KEY QUESTION REGARDING THE MAXIMUM ACQUISITION OF GERMAN ASSETS IN AUSTRIA AS A PART OF GERMAN REPARATIONS. THE AMERICANS AND BRITISH CONTEND THAT GERMAN INTERESTS ACQUIRED IN AUSTRIA UNDER FORCE AND DURESS AFTER THE NAZIS TOOK OVER THE COUNTRY CANNOT PROPERLY BE CONSIDERED GERMAN ASSETS FOR REPARATIONS PURPOSES.

THE FOREIGN MINISTERS' DEPUTIES WORKING ON THE AUSTRIA TREATY HAVE NOT MADE ANY HEADWAY TOWARD A SOLUTION OF THE REPARATIONS PROBLEM DURING LENGTHY MEETINGS IN LONDON AND HERE.

FINALLY MARSHALL ASKED THE COUNCIL ITSELF TO TACKLE THE PROPOSITION AND IN AN APPEAL TO MOLOTOV ASKED THAT THE FOREIGN MINISTERS COME TO GRIPS AT ONCE WITH A DEFINITION OF GERMAN ASSETS IN AUSTRIA AND ALSO THE PROBLEM OF SETTING UP AN ABIRRATION MECHANISM--SO THAT THEY COULD GET ON WITH OTHER ISSUES IN THE TREATY MAKING.

MOLOTOV'S REPLY, COPIES OF WHICH ALSO WERE SENT TO BRISH FOREIGN SECRETARY BEVIN AND FRENCH FOREIGN MINISTER BIDAULT, STATED THAT UNDER THE LAW OF THE ALLIED CONTROL COUNCIL IN BERLIN ON EXTERNAL ASSETS THE RUSSIANS HAVE THE FULL RIGHT IN THEIR ZONE TO DETERMINE ASSETS FOR THEMSELVES. THUS MOLOTOV GAVE A FLAT NO TO MARSHALL'S REQUEST FOR A NEW AGREED DEFINITION.

MOLOTOV ALSO SAID HE WOULD NOT AGREE ON THE ARBITRATION MACHINERY AND THAT ANY DISAGREEMENTS OVER GERMAN ASSETS IN SPECIFIC CASES SHOULD BE WORKED OUT BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES INVOLVED.

THE UNITED STATES POSITION, AIMED AT PREVENTING WHAT OFFICIALS CALL THE INDUSTRIAL STRIPPING OF AUSTRIA, HOLDS THAT THE BIG FOUR MUST JOINTLY DETERMINE A DEFINITION OF GERMAN ASSETS APPLICABLE TO ALL ZONES.

DEAR MR. SECRETARY MARSHALL:

I AM IN RECEIPT OF YOUR LETTER OF MARCH 15 ON THE QUESTION OF EXCHANGING INFORMATION WITH REGARD TO CARRYING OUT THE MOSCOW AGREEMENT WITH RESPECT TO CHINA.

THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT CONTINUES TO HOLD TO THE OPINION AS TO THE COMPLETE CONSISTENCY OF EXCHANGING INFORMATION ON THE ABOVE QUESTION IN AN INFORMAL CONFERENCE OF THE THREE MINISTERS IN BEHALF OF WHICH YOU AND MR. BEVIN SPOKE OUT IN THE MEETING OF THE COUNCIL OF FOREIGN MINISTERS.

FOREIGN MINISTERS SEPARATE
BY EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, MARCH 26-(AP)-THE PRINCIPAL DELEGATES TO THE COUNCIL OF FOREIGN MINISTERS AND MOST OF MOSCOW'S FOREIGN COLONY STRUGGLED WEARILY TODAY TO THROW OFF THE EFFECTS OF LAST NIGHT'S STRANGE MIXTURE OF CHAMPAGNE, VODKA, GREEK HOSPITALITY AND RUSSIAN BALLET.

IT WAS, DEFINITELY, A PLEASANT EVENING FOR ALL CONCERNED, BUT IT WAS, JUST AS DEFINITELY, A LONG ONE.

IT STARTED AT ABOUT 7:30 P.M., AT THE BOLSHOI THEATER, WHERE THE FOUR FOREIGN MINISTERS SAT IN THE IMPERIAL BOX TO WITNESS AND ENJOY WHAT THE RUSSIANS HAVE DONE TO WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE'S "ROMEO AND JULIET" IN BALLET FORM.

PRACTICALLY THE ENTIRE FOREIGN COLONY WAS THERE--WITH THE NOTABLE EXCEPTION OF U.S.AMBASSADOR WALTER B.SMITH, WHO PASSED UPTHE TERPSICHOREAN TECHNIQUE OF BALLERINA GALINA ULANOVA BECAUSE OF HIS PREVIOUS ENGAGEMENT AT THE GREEK EMBASSY.

THE WORD HAD GONE AROUND EARLIER IN THE WEEK THAT THE RUSSIANS STAGED THE BALLET COMMAND PERFORMANCE, KNOWING THE GREEKS PREVIOUSLY HAD ARRANGED A FETE IN HONOR OF THEIR INDEPENDENCE DAY, BUT THIS WAS DISCOUNTED IN BRITISH AND AMERICAN QUARTERS.

TO COMPLICATE MATTERS EVEN MORE FOR THE HOLDERS OF THE TWO INVITATIONS FOR THE SAME NIGHT, THE PRETTY WIFE OF THE GREEK AMBASSADOR ATHANASE POLITIS, IS A SOVIET CITIZEN AND SHE STOOD WITH HIM IN RECEIVING TOASTS.

NOTABLE AMONG THOSE WHO DID NOT GO FROM THE BOLSHOI THEATER TO THE GREEK EMBASSY WERE:

SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTER V.M.MOLOTOV.
DEPUTY FOREIGN MINISTER ANDREI Y.VISHINSKY.
FRENCH FOREIGN MINISTER GEORGES BIDAULT.
YUGOSLAV AMBASSADOR VLADIMIR POPOVICH.

MAR 1947

ONE OF THE FIRST TO ARRIVE AT THE GREEK EMBASSY WAS THE TURKISH AMBASSADOR, DESPITE THE FACT THE OCCASION WAS IN COMMEMORATION OF THE DATE GREECE WON HER INDEPENDENCE FROM TURKEY. SECRETARY OF STATE GEORGE C.MARSHALL AND BRITISH FOREIGN SECRETARY ERNEST BEVIN ARRIVED SOON AFTER THE THEATER PERFORMANCE.

BEVIN, STANDING AT A TABLE LOADED WITH FOOD AND DRINK, COMMENTED: "I NEVER THOUGHT I COULD HAVE SUCH A GOOD TIME AT THE EMBASSY OF A SMALL NATION."

THE BEMEDALED POLITIS SMILINGLY, BUT NERVOUSLY, REPLIED:

"I HOPE YOU AND NO ONE ELSE GETS THE WRONG IMPRESSION. I PAID FOR THIS OUT OF POCKET."

"WHICH," ON OF HIS SECRETARIES ADDED, "IS TRUE."

MARSHALL AND BEVIN JOINED POLITIS IN TOASTING THE OCCASION, WHICH TURNED OUT TO BE QUITE A SUCCESS, MUCH TO POLITIS' OBVIOUS RELIEF. MARSHALL STAYED ABOUT AN HOUR--A LONG TIME FOR HIM AT A SOCIAL AFFAIR--AND BEVIN REMAINED A LITTLE LONGER.

A99

THE WORD HAD GONE THROUGH THE BRITISH AND AMERICAN DELEGATIONS EARLIER THAT POLITIS WAS WORRIED ABOUT HOW HIS AFFAIR WAS GOING TO TURN OUT AND THEN THE FURTHER WORD PASSED: "YOU CAN'T LET A PAL DOWN." AMBASSADOR SMITH WALKED IN SOON AFTER THE DOORS OPENED.

AT THE THEATER, THE FOREIGN MINISTERS GOT ALMOST AS MUCH APPLAUSE AS THE PERFORMERS. SPOTLIGHTS WERE TURNEDON THEIR BOX AT THE END OF THE FIRST ACT AND AGAIN AT THE END OF THE SECOND ACT. BOTH TIMES THEY GOT A GENEROUS ROUND OF APPLAUSE.

MARSHALL, WHO DESCRIBED THE PERFORMANCE AS "EXQUISITE" AND "BEAUTIFUL" STAYED TO THE END AND APPLAUDED UNTIL THE VERY LAST CURTAIN CALL AS DID ALL THE GUESTS.

A SIMILAR PETITION ON BEHALF OF GRUNER, MEMBER OF THE JEWISH UNDERGROUND ORGANIZATION IRGUN ZVAI LEUMI WHO WAS SENTENCED TO DIE FOR ANTI-BRITISH VIOLENCE, WAS REJECTED TODAY BY THE JUDICIAL COMMITTEE OF THE PRIVY COUNCIL IN LONDON. LONDON, MARCH 26-(AP)-RUMORS THAT ERNEST BEVIN MIGHT RESIGN AS FOREIGN SECRETARY AFTER THE CURRENT MOSCOW CONFERENCE AND TAKE OVER THE JOB OF BRITAIN'S PRODUCTION CHIEF DREW A QUICK DENIAL TODAY FROM SOURCES CLOSE TO PRIME MINISTER ATTLEE.

THE RUMOR WAS GIVEN PROMINENCE THIS MORNING BY THE LIBERAL NEWS CHRONICLE, WHICH OBSERVED THAT BEVIN WOULD BE A GOOD MAN "FOR THE TITANIC JOB OF MOBILIZING THE COUNTRY FOR PEACE."

THE SOURCE CLOSE TO ATTLEE SAID THE PRIME MINISTER MIGHT "EVENTUALLY THOUGH NOT IN THE IMMEDIATE FUTURE," SHUFFLE THE CABINET BUT DECLARED THERE WAS NO LIKELIHOOD OF BEVIN LEAVING THE FOREIGN OFFICE.

IN ADDITION, THIS SOURCE SAID, DEPUTY PRIME MINISTER HERBERT MORRISON IS AT PRESENT CHARGED WITH RESPONSIBILITY FOR LEADING THE NATION'S RECOVERY DRIVE AND HE COULD BE EXPECTED TO RESIST ANY MOVE AIMED AT HIS DISPLACEMENT.

MORRISON LEFT A LONDON HOSPITAL YESTERDAY TO GO TO SOUTHERN FRANCE FOR A RECUPERATIVE VACATION. HE HAS BEEN SUFFERING FROM THROMBOSIS OF THE LEG FOR NEARLY TWO MONTHS.

LATEST ADVICE FROM HIS PHYSICIANS IS THAT HE WILL BE ABLE TO RESUME HIS DUTIES BY LATE SPRING OR EARLY SUMMER. BOARD OF TRADE PRESIDENT SIR STAFFORD CRIPPS HAS BEEN PINCH-HITTING FOR MORRISON LATELY.

POLITICAL SOURCES POINTED OUT THAT BEVIN AND MORRISON HAVE LONG BEEN KEEN RIVALS WITHIN THE LABOR PARTY AND THAT ATTLEE WOULD BE LOATH TO ADD TO THIS RIVALRY BY MOVING ONE MAN AT THE EXPENSE OF THE OTHER.

A SOURCE CLOSE TO THE PRIME MINISTER SAID APPOINTMENT OF A PLANNING AND PRODUCTION CHIEF OUTSIDE THE CABINET WAS EXPECTED THIS WEEK. THE JOB WAS OFFERED SIR ROBERT SINCLAIR BUT SIR ROBERT, CHAIRMAN OF IMPERIAL TOBACCO COMPANY, REPLIED HIS BUSINESSCOMMITMENTS WOULD MAKE IT DIFFICULT FOR HIM TO ACCEPT THE POST. HE WAS REPORTED TO HAVE ASKED ATTLEE TO FIND ANOTHER CANDIDATE, IF POSSIBLE.

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., MARCH 26-(AP)-AN EMPHATIC RUSSIAN DEMAND FOR IMMEDIATE CONSIDERATION OF THE SOVIET PLAN FOR HARNESSING THE ATOM CONFRONTED DELEGATES TO THE UNITED NATIONS ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION TODAY.

ANDREI A. GROMYKO, SOVIET DELEGATE AND CHAIRMAN OF THE COMMISSION, PUT THE ISSUE UP TO THE DELEGATES DURING A CLOSED MEETING OF THE WORKING COMMITTEE OF THE COMMISSION LAST NIGHT. GROMYKO WARNED THAT HIS PROPOSALS COULD NOT BE "BY-PASSED" AND SAID THEY WOULD HAVE TO BE CONSIDERED IN ATTEMPTS TO REACH AGREEMENT.

HE ADDED THAT ANY MOVES TO PASS OVER HIS PROPOSALS WOULD BE RESISTED.

THE COMMITTEE ADJOURNED UNTIL NEXT MONDAY (3 P.M. EST) WITHOUT A DECISION ON ITS PLAN OF WORK. THE DELEGATES WERE EXPECTED TO CONFER FREQUENTLY AMONG THEMSELVES BEFORE THE NEXT SESSION.

THE RUSSIAN PROPOSALS WERE PUT BEFORE THE U.N. SECURITY COUNCIL IN FEBRUARY AS IT WAS DISCUSSING THE FIRST REPORT OF THE ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION, WHICH WAS BASED PRINCIPALLY ON THE UNITED STATES PLAN FOR ATOMIC CONTROL. THE RUSSIAN AND UNITED STATES PLANS ARE FAR APART ON FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES.

GROMYKO TOLD THE COMMITTEE MEMBERS THAT HIS PROPOSALS HAD NOT BEEN DISCUSSED IN THE SECURITY COUNCIL OR IN THE ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION. NOW, HE SAID, SOME MEMBERS WANT TO TAKE UP THE PROBLEM WITHOUT DISCUSSING THEM.

HE SAID IT WOULD BE BETTER TO DISCUSS THE MAIN QUESTIONS NOW AND NOT SHELVE THEM.

THE UNITED STATES DEPUTY ON THE COMMISSION, FREDERICK H. OSBORN, HAD JOINED WITH PAUL HASLUCK OF AUSTRALIA AND SIR ALEXANDER CADOGAN OF GREAT BRITAIN IN A REQUEST THAT THE COMMITTEE TAKE UP THE PROBLEM AS A WHOLE.

GROMYKO SAID THAT IF THIS PROCEDURE WERE ADOPTED IT WOULD BE ACCEPTED WITHOUT THE CONSENT OF THE SOVIET UNION DELEGATION--AND HE ASKED IF THAT WOULD MAKE AGREEMENT ANY EASIER.

HASLUCK AND OSBORN ASSURED GROMYKO THAT NO ATTEMPT WAS BEING MADE TO BY-PASS THE RUSSIAN PROPOSALS.

U.N. OBSERVERS WHO HAVE FOLLOWED THE COMMISSION SINCE IT BEGAN WORK ON ATOMIC CONTROLS LAST JUNE RECALLED THAT THE RUSSIAN DELEGATION ATTENDED THE LAST FEW MEETINGS BEFORE THE COMMISSION REPORT WAS APPROVED DEC. 30 BUT DID NOT PARTICIPATE IN DRAWING UP THE REPORT. THE REPORT WAS APPROVED BY A 10 TO 0 VOTE, WITH RUSSIA AND POLAND ABSTAINING.

SEVERAL DELEGATES EXPRESSED THE OPINION THAT REAL WORK WOULD BE ACCOMPLISHED WHEN THE MATTER WAS TAKEN UP BY INFORMAL COMMITTEES IN CLOSED SESSIONS, SIMILAR TO THOSE SCIENTIFIC PANELS WHICH PRODUCED A REPORT LAST SEPTEMBER SAYING THAT CONTROL OF ATOMIC ENERGY WAS SCIENTIFICALLY POSSIBLE BUT MAKING NO POLITICAL RECOMMENDATIONS.

OSBORN PROPOSED THAT THE COMMITTEE INSTRUCT ITS POLITICAL COMMITTEE, MADE UP ALSO OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE 12 NATIONS ON THE COMMISSION, TO BEGIN WORK ON FORMULATING SECTIONS OF A TREATY WITH AN EXAMINATION OF THE POWERS, CHARACTERISTICS AND FUNCTIONS OF AN INTERNATIONAL ATOMIC DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY PROPOSED BY THE UNITED STATES AND OUTLINED IN THE FIRST REPORT.

THE UNITED STATES PLAN CALLS FOR THE DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY TO HAVE SUPERVISION OVER ATOMIC MATTERS EVERYWHERE AND WAIVES ANY VETO ON PUNISHMENT FOR ATOMIC CRIMES.

THE RUSSIAN PLAN CALLS FOR AN IMMEDIATE CONVENTION OUTLAWING THE ATOMIC BOMB AND ANOTHER CONVENTION SETTING UP CONTROLS WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK OF THE SECURITY COUNCIL. RUSSIA HAS DEFENDED THE VETO RIGHT AND HAS REJECTED THE UNITED STATES PLAN.

LAKE SUCCESS, MARCH 26-(AP)-PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S PROPOSALS FOR U.S. AID TO GREECE AND TURKEY ARE EXPECTED TO RECEIVE AN AIRING BEFORE THE UNITED NATIONS FRIDAY WHEN WARREN R. AUSTIN MAKES A STATEMENT TO THE SECURITY COUNCIL ON THE SITUATION IN THOSE COUNTRIES.

THE WORLD PEACE-KEEPING ORGANIZATION YESTERDAY REVISED ITS SCHEDULE ESPECIALLY IN ORDER TO HEAR WHAT THE AMERICAN U.N. REPRESENTATIVE HAS TO SAY ABOUT THE PROPOSALS -- WHICH HAVE BEEN INTERPRETED IN SOME QUARTERS AS SHOWING A LACK OF FAITH IN THE UNITED NATIONS.

AUSTIN TOLD REPORTERS IN WASHINGTON YESTERDAY AFTER A CONFERENCE

30. 24- 8785

WITH MR. TRUMAN THAT HE WOULD "DEAL THOROUGHLY" WITH THE GREEK BORDER SITUATION AND ALSO THE TURKISH PROBLEM.

AUTHORITATIVE SOURCES HERE SAID IT WAS "SAFE TO ASSUME" THAT HE WOULD MENTION THE PRESIDENT'S PROJECTED PLANS TO AID GREECE AND TURKEY FINANCIALLY. THE BASIC AIM OT THE AMERICAN PLANS IS TO SHORE UP THE TWO GOVERNMENTS AGAINST COMMUNISM.

IMMEDIATELY AFTER AUSTIN ANNOUNCED HE WOULD MAKE A STATEMENT TO THE SECURITY COUNCIL RELATING TO GREECE AND TURKEY, PRESIDENT TRUMAN DISCLOSED HE HAD SENT A MESSAGE TO SECRETARY GENERAL TRYGVE LIE ON THE FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF THE INITIAL U.N. MEETING IN THE UNITED STATES REPLEDGING FULL FAITH IN THE WORLD ORGANIZATION, MR. TRUMAN SAID:

"THE UNITED STATES IN ALL ITS ACTS, SEEKS TO ADD STRENGTH TO THE UNITED NATIONS AND TO GIVE EFFECT TO THE PRINCIPLES AND PURPOSES OF THE UNITED NATIONS CHARTER."

MR. TRUMAN'S STATEMENT WAS CONSIDERED BY OBSERVERS HERE TO BE AIMED APPARENTLY AT QUIETING FEARS THAT THE NEW U.S. POLICY -- SPECIFICALLY REGARDING GREECE AND TURKEH -- WOUTD DAMAGE THE U.N.'S PRESTIGE. AMERICAN DELEGATION EXPERTS HERE HAVE ARGUED THAT THE U.;'9ACTION IN THEAST M

PRESTIGE. AMERICAN DELEGATION EXPERTS HERE HAVE ARGUED THAT THE U.S. ACTION IN THE EAST MEDITERRANEAN WILL STRENGTHEN RATHER THAN WEAKEN THE HAND OF THE UNITED NATIONS.

MAR 1947

THERE WAS NO INDICATION HOW FAR AUSTIN WOULD GO IN HIS SPEECH, BUT U.N. OFFICIALS AND DELEGATES ANTICIPATED A "HIGHLY IMPORTANT AND PERHAPS FAR-REACHING STATEMENT."

MOST OBSERVERS AGREED THAT GREECE UNDOUBTEDLY WAS GIVING THE U.S. MORE CONCERN THAN TURKEY.

AS FAR AS THE U.S. PLANS FOR GREECE WERE CONCERNED, IT APPEARED THERE WERE TWO OBJECTIVES IN PREPARING AID FOR HER:

ONE, TO COMBAT COMMUNIST INFILTRATION, AND SECONDLY TO KEEP GREECE ALIVE WHILE RESTORING HER EARNING AND PRODUCTIVE POWER UNTIL THE COUNTRY CAN BECOME SELF-SUPPORTING.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN HAS PROPOSED THAT CONGRESS VOTE AID TO GREECE AND TURKEY TO THE EXTENT OF $400,000,000.

UNDER MR. TRUMAN'S PLANS FOR GREECE, 100,000 SOLDIERS WOULD BE TRAINED AND EQUIPPED. IT WOULD BE A STEP TOWARD BUILDING UP A GREEK ARMY THAT COULD SUFFICIENTLY DEAL WITH ROVING LEFTIST BANDS IN THE COUNTRY.

ON THE ECONOMIC SIDE, GREECE MUST RESTORE HER TRANSPORT BEFORE SHE IS ABLE TO BEGIN PRODUCING SO THAT SHE CAN EARN.

IT IS ESTIMATED THAT AT LEAST $50,000,000 WILL BE REQUIRED TO REHABILITATE THE COUNTRY'S RAILROADS, WHICH WERE SMASHED DURING THE WAR.

SOME OF THE PORTS HAVE BEEN CLEARED BY THE BRITISH NAVY. BUT IT IS ESTIMATED THAT SEVERAL YEARS WILL BE REQUIRED FOR COMPLETE RECONSTRUCTION.

AT PRESENT GREECE HAS 99 LIBERTY SHIPS WHICH SHE RECEIVED FROM THE UNITED STATES. SHE IS EXPECTED TO RECEIVE 49 MORE THIS YEAR FROM AMERICA ON A CREDIT. ONCE THIS MERCHANT FLEET IS IN OPERATION, GREECE WILL HAVE ABOUT 1,700,000 GROSS TONS OF SHIPPING, ALMOST UP TO HER PRE-WAR STRENGTH.

BUT THE BIG PROBLEM IS TO GET GREEK SHIPOWNERS TO REINVEST THEIR PROFITS IN GREECE.

ONCE THE COUNTRY GETS TO PRODUCING AND IS ABLE TO IMPORT, SHE WILL FIND MARKETS IN EUROPE FOR TOBACCO, WINES, RAISING AND FIGS.

THERE IS ALSO THE LIKELIHOOD THAT MUCH OF HER TOBACCO WILL FIND ITS WAY TO THE UNITED STATES.

MOST OBSERVERS BELIEVE IT WILL TAKE CAREFUL PLANNING AND GOOD MANAGEMENT OVER A LONG PERIOD TO RESTORE GREECE'S ECONOMIC HEALTH.

BECAUSE OF THE TURBULENT POLITICAL SITUATION SINCE THE WAR, GREECE HAS NOT BEEN ABLE TO DEVOTE HER ENEGIES TO ECONOMIC RECOVERY AS BELGIUM, HOLLAND, NORWAY AND CZECHOSLOVAKIA HAVE DONE.

TURKEY, ON THE OTHER HAND, IS NOT AS BADLYHOFF AS GREECE. HOWEVER, PRESIDENT TRUMAN MADE IT CLEAR THAT HER ECONOMIC STRUCTURE IS IN GRAVE JEOPARDY.

AFRAID OF POSSIBLE RUSSIAN EXPANSION SOUTHWARD, TURKEY IS SPENDING MORE THAN 60 PER CENT OF HER NATIONAL INCOME TO MAINTAIN HER ARMED FORCES ON A WAR-TIME FOOTING. THIS OUTPUT HAS DRAINED HER FINANCIAL RESOURCES TO A GRAVE POINT.

WASHINGTON, MARCH 26-(AP)-THE STATE DEPARTMENT SAYS THREE LATIN AMERICAN REPUBLICS HAVE CALLED THIS COUNTRY'S ATTENTION TO THE SEIZURE OF UNAUTHORIZED ARMS SHIPMENTS IN MEXICO AND NEW ORLEANS.

THE AMBASSADORS OF COSTA RICA, NICARAGUA AND HONDURAS LEFT A MEMORANDUM WITH UNDERSECRETARY DEAN ACHESON REMARKING THE INCIDENTS, THE DEPARTMENT SAID.

ITS STATEMENT ADDED, HOWEVER, THAT "THE DEPARTMENT KNOWS OF NO PLOT TO OVERTHROW THE GOVERNMENTS OF THESE THREE COUNTRIES."

EARLIER A DIPLOMATIC OFFICIAL WHO WITHHELD USE OF HIS NAME HAD TOLD REPORTERS THE DEPARTMENT HAD BEEN INFORMED OF SUCH A PLOT AND HAD BEEN GIVEN THE NAMES OF TWO OTHER LATIN AMERICAN NATIONS ALLEGED TO BE INVOLVED IN IT.

"THE MEMORANDUM DID NOT ATTACH RESPONSIBILITY FOR SUCH SHIPMENTS TO ANY OTHER COUNTRY," THE SUBSEQUENT STATEMENT BY THE DEPARTMENT SAID.

"ITS PURPOSE WAS MERELY TO BRING OFFICIALLY TO THE ATTENTION OF THE DEPARTMENT THESE PREVIOUSLY MENTIONED REPORTS."

THE REPORTS DESCRIBED THE SEIZURE OF A TRUCKLOAD OF SMALL ARMS IN MEXICO IN FEBRUARY TOGETHER WITH TWO MEN BELIEVED TO BE NICARAGUANS, AND OF TWO LST'S (LANDING SHIPS), CONTAINING ARMS AND AMMUNITION IN NEW ORLEANS MARCH 2.

MANY POLITICAL EXILES FROM COSTA RICA, NICARAGUA AND HONDURAS LIVE IN NEIGHBORING COUNTRIES, WHERE THEY CAMPAIGN FOR A CHANGE IN GOVERNMENTS WHICH WOULD PERMIT THEIR RETURN.

WASHINGTON, MARCH 26-(AP)-JACK B. TENNEY, CALIFORNIA REPUBLICAN STATE SENATOR, URGED CONGRESS TODAY TO "TAKE STRONG ACTION NOW" TO SUPPRESS COMMUNIST INFLUENCES IN THE UNITED STATES.

HE TOLD THE HOUSE COMMITTEE ON UNAMERICAN ACTIVITIES:

"IF YOU DON'T, AND IF ANYTHING HAPPENS INTERNATIONALLY, YOU'LL SEE THE GREATEST FIFTH COLUMN, THE MOST FANTASTIC TRAITORS, SABOTEURS, TERRORISTS AND ASSASSINS THE WORLD HAS EVER KNOWN."

TENNEY, CHAIRMAN OF THE STATE LEGISLATURE'S COMMITTEE ON UNAMERICAN ACTIVITIES, RELATING FINDINGS OF HIS COMMITTEE, ESTIMATED THERE ARE 9,000 TO 12,000 COMMUNISTS IN CALIFORNIA. HE SAID THEY HAD INFILTRATED INTO THE MOTION PICTURE COLONY, LABOR UNIONS, FARM ORGANIZATIONS, THE SCHOOL SYSTEM, AND EVEN WOMENS CLUBS.

THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA PRESS, HE SAID, IS USED TO PUBLISH A QUARTERLY MAGAZINE EDITED BY JOHN HOWARD LAWSON.

"THIS MAN," HE SAID, "PULLS THE STRINGS AND TELLS THE COMMUNISTS WHEN TO JUMP IN HOLLYWOOD."

REP. MUNDT (R-SD) ASKED WHY THE STATE ATTORNEY GENERAL DID NOT TAKE ACTION TO STOP PUBLICATION OF THE MAGAZINE AT THE STATE-SUPPORTED SCHOOL.

"UNFORTUNATELY," TENNEY REPLIED, "THE ATTORNEY GENERAL WAS BOB KENNY, WHO IS HEAD OF MOBILIZATION FOR DEMOCRACY, SO WE COULDN'T EXPECT TO DO ANYTHING THERE."

TENNEY SAID HIS COMMITTEE FOUND THAT MOBILIZATION FOR DEMOCRACY AND THE HOLLYWOOD CITIZENS COMMITTEE FOR ARTS, SCIENCES AND PROFESSIONS, WERE "THE KEY COMMUNIST FRONTS IN CALIFORNIA."

TENNEY CHARGED THAT THE JURISDICTIONAL STRIKE IN THE HOLLYWOOD MOVIE STUDIOS OVER WHICH UNION WILL BUILD THE SETS "IS DIRECTED BY THE COMMUNIST PARTY IN LOS ANGELES."

TENNEY SAID A NUMBER OF MOVIE STARS HAVE PERMITTED THEIR NAMES TO BE USED IN CONNECTION WITH VARIOUS ORGANIZATIONS.

THE NAME OF FREDRIC MARCH, THIS YEAR'S ACADEMY AWARD WINNER, REC-

ENTLY APPEARED, TENNEY SAID, AS EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF PROGRESSIVE CITIZENS OF AMERICA.

HE ALSO NAMED JOHN GARFIELD, CHARLIE CHAPLIN AND ROBINSON (FIRST NAME UNMENTIONED) AS "GIVING AID AND COMFORT TO COMMUNIST FRONT ORGANIZATIONS."

FRANK SINATRA, HE SAID, IS LISTED AS A SPONSOR OF AMERICAN YOUTH FOR DEMOCRACY.

TENNEY RECOMMENDED CONTINUED EFFORTS TO "MAKE DEMOCRACY AND OUR ECONOMIC SYSTEM ATTRACTIVE AND MAKE IT WORK."

NEW YORK, MARCH 26-(AP)-FORMER PRESIDENT HERBERT HOOVER SAYS THAT MARSHAL JOSEPH STALIN COULD GIVE THE WORD THAT WOULD LIFT "A LARGE PART OF THAT CHAOS AND MISERY" FROM WHICH GREECE NOW SUFFERS.

SPEAKING LAST NIGHT TO THE FEDERATION OF HELLENIC SOCIETIES OF GREATER NEW YORK AT AN OBSERVANCE OF THE 126TH ANNIVERSARY OF GREEK INDEPENDENCE OF TURKEY, HOOVER SAID:

"AMERICA HAS SHOWN ITS CONSTANT SOLICITUDE AND HAS GIVEN GENEROUSLY BOTH PRIVATE AND GOVERNMENT AID. WE PROPOSE TO CONTINUE TO DO SO.

"BUT A LARGE PART OF THAT CHAOS AND MISERY COULD BE LIFTED BY ONE MAN IN THE WORLD IF HE BE WILLING. THAT IS MARSHAL JOSEPH STALIN.

"IT IS WITHIN HIS POWER TO STOP THE AGGRESSIVE WAR IN THE FORM OF GUERILLA RAIDS FROM YUGOSLAVIAN, BULGARIAN AND ALBANIAN TERRITORY.

"IT IS WITHIN HIS POWER TO SEE THAT THE COMMUNIST BANDS IN GREECE STOP KILLING AND ABIDE BY CONSTITUTIONAL MEANS TO EXPRESS THEIR VIEWS.

"THAT WOULD BRING PEACE TO GREECE. THEN AMERICAN AID COULD BE DEVOTED TO RESTORING PRODUCTIVITY OF THE GREEK PEOPLE INSTEAD OF OUR WASTING OUR GENEROSITY ON MILITARY EQUIPMENT."

SUPPORTING THE $12,000,000 FUND DRIVE OF THE GREEK WAR RELIEF ASSOCIATION, HOOVER SAID SUCH PRIVATE AID WOULD NOT DUPLICATE GOVERNMENT ASSISTANCE BUT WAS NEEDED FOR HEALTH AND CHILD CARE WORK.

THE PROGRAM OF PRESIDENT TRUMAN FOR AIDING GREECE AND TURKEY WAS DISCUSSED AT TWO OTHER MEETINGS HERE.

THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN CLUB ADOPTED A RESOLUTION ADVOCATING "ACTIVE AID TO THOSE PEOPLES AND GOVERNMENTS WHO SEEK TO ESTABLISH BASIC FREEDOMS."

THE FEDERAL COUNCIL OF CHURCHES OF CHRIST IN AMERICA ADOPTED AN INTERIM RESOLUTION STATING THAT "IN SUCH ISSUES AS THOSE PRESENTED IN THE PRESIDENT'S PROPOSAL WE SHOULD GIVE THE UNITED NATIONS FULL INFORMATION; WE SHOULD SEEK THE COUNSEL AND COOPERATION OF THE UNITED NATIONS IN THE ALLOCATION AND EXPENDITURE OF FUNDS; AND WE SHOULD INVITE INSPECTION BY REPRESENTATIVES OF THE UNITED NATIONS OF WHATEVER PROGRAM FOR REHABILITATION IN GREECE AND TURKEY MAY BE ADOPTED..."

Big 4 Seek Compromise On Austria Assets

REDS GIVE GROUND ON KEY OBSTACLE TO AUSTRIAN PACT

Molotov Agrees to Discuss Definition of German Assets.

VICTORY FOR 'BIG 3'

Marshall Reported Greatly Displeased with Slow Progress of Parley.

O. GALLAGHER

MOSCOW, March 27—(AP) Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov gave ground tonight under pressure from the three western nations and agreed to discuss a definition of German assets in Austria, the key issue in the writing of the Austrian peace treaty.

He submitted to the foreign ministers council a compromise proposal which American authorities said unofficially was too vague to permit acceptance. Whether Molotov's retreat foreshadowed agreement on the Austria pact remained in doubt.

For two hours Molotov clung steadfastly to his argument that any German assets in the eastern zone of Austria belonged to Russia without question, and that no definition of what constituted German assets was necessary. The problem, he said, was covered adequately by the Potsdam agreement which Russia had interpreted as allowing her to take whatever she pleased.

Western Powers Insistent

Secretary of State Marshall, French Minister Georges Bidault and British Secretary Ernest Bevin had insisted that it was necessary to define what constitutes German assets in Austria. They maintained that the Germans had seized much Austrian and United Nations property without payment, and this could not be considered German although it was in German hands at the end of the war.

In partial acceptance of a French proposal, Molotov suggested that the deputy foreign ministers be instructed to "prepare a definition of German assets excluding property seized by the Germans by direct force, or as a measure of Aryanization without compensation from the United Nations or Austrians."

The French proposal would have the deputies prepare a "definition of German assets excluding all property taken by force or duress, and in general unduly taken by the Germans from the United Nations or Austria for religious, political and racial reasons."

Molotov's elimination of the phrase "by duress" would give the Russians a right to assets taken by the Nazis by the use of threats and other pressure. Likewise the phrase "as a measure of Aryanization" would apply only to assets taken from Jews, and would still permit the Russians to seize the former property of other religious and political victims.

Bevin, Marshall State Stand

Bevin and Marshall asserted they must have agreement that no property be taken from Austria as German assets if it had been acquired by force or duress after the Germans annexed Austria. They took the position that Austria must be left with sufficient assets in order to be able to survive as an independent nation.

American officials said privately that Molotov's definition was not sufficiently specific and that they would still permit removals of so-called German assets which in the British and American view were not properly classified as such and which would be detrimental to a fledgling Austrian republic.

Marshall said in the council that "I wish to repeat the U. S. delegation does not dispute the right of the U.S.S.R. to German assets in Austria, but we are concerned with the method of determining title in a country passing through the experience that Austria did."

Molotov's reversal on the question came as a complete surprise. Only last night he was reported to have rejected Marshall's appeal for such a definition after months-long Soviet stiffness on the issue.

Earlier Marshall had been reported greatly displeased at lack of progress thus far in the four-power deliberations.

While agreeing to a definition of German assets in Austria, Molotov rejected a French plan for setting up an arbitration board to settle any disputes between the Russians and others that might arise in connection with the issue.

Reads Harriman Letter

During the session Molotov read these paragraphs from a hitherto secret leter of the former U. S. Ambassador to Russia, W. Averell Harriman, to Molotov in September, 1945:

"The Soviet government will dispose of assets in Finland, Hungary, Bulgaria and Romania and assets in eastern Austria without reference to British, French or United States representation:

"British, French and United States representatives on the allied control council will dispose of all other German external assets without reference to soviet representatives."

Marshall replied that Molotov had left out a first clause in the excerpt which said "It is the view of the United States government that although the allied control council has control and power over the disposition of German external assets etc." Marshall added that it was still the United States view that the allied control council has control of German external assets.

Prior to the session Foreign Minister Karl Gruber of Austria spent 40 minutes with Molotov, and told newsmen afterward that he was encouraged over prospects of completing an Austria peace pact in Moscow.

Molotov Yields Point, Spurs Austria-Asset Compromise Hope

Moscow, March 27 (AP)—An official United States delegation statement today characterized as "completely baseless" a report published in London that Secretary of State Marshall and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin were determined to leave Moscow about April 5 if nothing was accomplished by the Council of Foreign Ministers.

J. HIGHTOWER

Moscow, March 27 (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov agreed tonight to consider, as a basis for discussion, a French proposal to define German assets in Austria. This raised hope that the Council of Foreign Ministers might untangle this major complication in the framing of Austria's treaty.

The Russians up to now have held that any German assets in the eastern zone of Austria belonged to them without question and that no definition of them was necessary.

No decision was reached today, but a compromise was thought likely on this most controversial point of the Austrian pact.

Compromise "Inacceptable"

However, Molotov submitted a compromise proposal American authorities said unofficially they considered inacceptable. The Americans and British have insisted there must be agreement that no property would be taken from Austria as German assets which in fact had been acquired by the Germans by force or duress in annexing the nation.

The British and Americans also took the position that Austria must be left with sufficient assets to be able to survive as an independent nation.

American officials said privately that Molotov's proposed definition was not sufficiently specific and would still allow extensive removals of so-called German assets which in the American and British view were not properly so classified, and the removal of which would be detrimental to Austria.

Rejects Arbitration

After a brief recess—the first in these Moscow sessions—Molotov agreed to two points in the French proposal and on one of the points suggested an amendment. He rejected a third point—an arbitration board to settle disputes as to what constituted German assets.

Molotov proposed that the deputies of the Foreign Ministers "prepare a definition of German assets excluding property seized by the Germans by direct force or as a measure of Aryanization without compensation from the United Nations or the Austrians."

The original French proposal called for preparation of "a definition of German assets, excluding all property taken by force or duress and in general unduly taken by the Germans from the United Nations or Austria, for religious, political and racial reasons."

Harriman Letter Quoted

Britain's Foreign Secretary, Ernest Bevin, said he would have to study Molotov's amendment, and the meeting adjourned until tomorrow.

Molotov brought up a heretofore secret letter of the former United States Ambassador to the Soviet Union, W. Averell Harriman, to Molotov in September, 1945. He quoted it as follows:

"The Soviet Government will dispose of assets in Finland, Hungary, Bulgaria and Romania and assets in eastern Austria without reference to British, French or United States representation; British, French and United States representatives on the Allied Control Council will dispose of all other German external assets without reference to Soviet representatives."

Secretary of State Marshall said Molotov had left out the first clause: "It is the view of the United States Government that, although the Allied Control Council has control and power over the disposition of German external assets," and so forth, as Molotov read it.

Marshall said, furthermore, it was still the United States view that the Allied Control Council had control of German external assets. He pointed out that the situation in Austria is different from that in other satellite nations, since the Germans seized property there of United Nations and Austria over a long period.

Molotov repeated time and again that the Soviet Union could not stand for any questioning of its title to reparations.

Recess Then Called

Marshall replied: "I wish to repeat, the United States delegation does not dispute the right of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics to German assets in Austria, but we are concerned in the method of determining title in a country passing through the experience that Austria did."

Just after this the recess was called and Molotov receded from his position that he would not even discuss defining Austrian assets.

Before today's session opened, Marshall was reported annoyed with the lack of progress on the German and Austrian treaties.

Marshall Used To Orderliness

Criticisms in the American delegation were aimed as much at the work of the four-power co-ordinating committee as at the tangle within the Council itself.

The committee was supposed to have completed listing Council agreements and disagreements Tuesday. American and British sources blame the failure to meet that deadline on deliberate efforts by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky to wring concessions from the Western powers even in this purely technical group.

Marshall, who is accustomed to getting things done in an orderly manner, was said by authoritative informants to feel strongly along the line of his comment that progress in the work here seemed "unfortunately remote."

Troops' Exit Is Argued

The Foreign Ministers' deputies working on the Austrian treaty, however, developed a disagreement today over arrangements for withdrawing Allied troops when the treaty became effective. Britain's deputy, Lord Hood, took the position that the Allied Control Council should be disbanded on the effective date of the treaty.

Soviet Deputy Feodor T. Gousev argued that the Control Council should remain active during the 90-day period allowed for troop withdrawals. The United States, backed by Britain, argued that occupation rights and immunities would be protected adequately with a clause in the treaty.

MARSHALL'S STATEMENT

MOSCOW, March 27 (AP) — The text of United States Secretary of State Marshall's statement to the Council of Foreign Ministers on German assets in Austria:

(1) Yesterday I indicated the United States delegation did not agree with the position Mr. Molotov has taken in his paper on German assets in Austria. We do not admit that title to German assets has already passed. However, as I already pointed out in the paper which the United States delegation circulated March 21 on this subject, we feel it is not essential that this question of title be decided now.

(2) Without prejudice to the ultimate decision by the Council on this question of title and in the interests of clearing the way for the Deputies to make some progress in the consideration of this all-important subject, let us assume for the sake of discussion that the question of title has been decided one way or the other. In either event, further clarification of the three points raised in my memorandum is essential:

(A) Definition.
(B) Arbitration.
(C) Application of Austrian law.

(3) Now let me discuss briefly what I mean by "definition." I don't mean definition under Article 10 of Law 5, but instead I am trying to make certain that we understand just what assets the Soviet Union thinks it should have title to as a result of the Potsdam decision on German assets. From our twenty months' experience in Austria we believe there is misunderstanding on this score and that, in some instances, there has been included in the definition of German assets property which is really Austrian and which was taken away from Austria by the Germans after the Anschluss by force or duress, and other property belonging to the United Nations and their nationals. In our view none of the Allies intended at Potsdam to transfer title to German assets which were taken from the victims of Nazi aggression and which justice and equity demanded be returned to them. I am sure you will admit that discussion of this subject by our Deputies will be extremely useful.

Sees Inconsistency in Actions

(4) By now, as to my second, point, "arbitration." Let us again take a hypothetical case in which not only the question of title but also the question of definition have been agreed to. Certainly, as we have provided for the settlement of disputes in satellite treaties, may we not likewise provide for such a settlement on this question of German assets in the Austrian treaty?

(5) My last point has to do with the status in Austria of German assets transferred as German reparations. Again we may assume that we have satisfactorily agreed to the other question enumerated above, that German assets to which the Soviet Union is entitled have been transferred. Certainly Austrian law applies to these properties. It never was intended at Potsdam that assets obtained as German reparations even in Germany would enjoy extraterritorial rights. Mr. Molotov, in his discussion of economic principles in Germany on March 19, 1947, stated as follows, and I quote:

"In accordance with the Berlin decisions, the Soviet Government took measures so that reparations would be obtained from the eastern zone of Germany, a proportion of which has been assigned to Poland. The reparations took the form of removals of capital equipment, deliveries from current production (though these have hardly been sufficient) and the taking of economic enterprises into Soviet possession. No extraterritorial rights are involved with respect to these Soviet-owned enterprises in Germany, since they all function under German law."

It would appear an inconsistency not to admit that this same principle would apply in Austria. If it does not, the United States delegation would feel very definitely that to remove a large segment of Austrian industry from the Austrian economy would nullify the pledge we have taken in the very first article of the treaty: namely, our unanimous agreement to re-establish a sovereign and independent state.

I ask my colleagues to agree to instruct our deputies to discuss and clarify this as well as the other vital questions enumerated above.

Austrian Hopeful After Conferring With Molotov

Moscow, March 27 (AP)—Dr. Karl Gruber, Austrian Foreign Minister, conferred for 40 minutes today with Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and said afterward he was encouraged about the prospect of getting an Austrian peace treaty completed at the Moscow conference.

"I think the Soviet Government wants to get a treaty," he said. "The whole atmosphere of the conversation was very good."

Gruber said that his mission to Moscow, undertaken at the invitation of the Council of Foreign Ministers, was to get a treaty as soon as possible and make sure, as far as possible, that it was a fair treaty.

Effect, If No Treaty

He said he was ready to discuss fully with the Council points that Austria considered most important.

Asked the effect on Austria if the treaty should not be completed here, Gruber replied:

"The effect on Austria would be bad, very bad indeed, but the effect on the whole world would be worse. Such a failure would prove that four powers—the four greatest powers in the world—with all the great problems they have and all their responsibilities, were unable to agree on a matter which actually is not so complicated."

Two Primary Interests

Gruber was expected to receive a chance from the Council soon to present the Austrian viewpoint.

He said his primary interests were German assets and compensation by Austria to United Nations nationals.

Gruber said Austria wanted the Council to deal fairly on forced transfers, meaning German assets that Nazis acquired by force or duress and therefore were supposed not to be taken by the Allies.

Gruber said that in conflicts between Austria and one of the powers over a specific asset, Austria wanted mediation machinery to provide for a just settlement.

British-French Claims

Gruber noted that the major difficulty with compensation for property of Allied nationals destroyed in Austria was not with Russia, but with the British and French.

He said British and French claims for compensation at two thirds value would mean a terrible financial burden and would amount to reparations.

The United States and Russia are opposing the Franco-British formula. The Russians say simply that two thirds is too high; the United States says other nationals should be treated as equals with Austrians in determining compensation.

Friends With Everybody

Gruber said that, once Austria gets a treaty and begins to restore normal conditions, "we will have another difficult year and maybe the second year will be very hard, but we will be on the road upward."

Responding to a question about how Austrian foreign policy would be oriented in relation to the great powers, Gruber said he disliked the word oriented. He continued:

"We want to live in peace and have the friendship of everybody."

Russ 10 Billion Jab Renewed

Moscow, March 27 (AP)—The Communist organ Pravda reiterated today Russian assertions that the United States and Great Britain have received more than $10,000,000,000 in reparations from Germany.

Only yesterday United States Secretary of State Marshall circulated among the foreign ministers a statement saying that the United States thus far had received no more than $275,000,000 in reparations.

Plowden Chosen to Head Economic Battle of Britain

T. WILLIAMS

LONDON, March 27—(AP) The labor government picked a youthful steelmaker today to brain-trust the economic battle of Britain and armed him with wide powers to plan the nation's recovery from six of impoverishing war.

The $26,000-a-year job of mustering the national resources of men, machines and materials went to 40-year-old Sir Edwin Plowden who distinguished himself during the war as chief executive of the aircraft production ministry which kept the RAF in the air.

Heads Economic Battle

The appointment of Plowden to carry out the government's economic plan for 1947 and go forward with a four-year plan still in the making was announced in the House of Commons by Prime Minister Attlee who said the duties would be "to develop the long-term plan for the use of the country's manpower and resources."

Like army, navy and air chieftains during the war, Plowden will be under cabinet supervision and his main job will be to carry out long-term decisions on planning policy formulated by the cabinet.

The 1947 policy outlined in a recent white paper called for stringent economy in all imports, continuation of rationing, direction of manpower and materials into strategic industries for export production, repair and modernization of key industries, and the foregoing of increased leisure by workers.

That Sir Edwin will have a hard row ahead was indicated today when the white paper came under fire from the trade union Congress, backbone of the labor party.

The TUC's general council served notice in a statement that it would stick to its demands for a shorter work week despite the economic crisis.

The white paper had declared "the nation cannot afford shorter hours of work unless these can be shown to increase output per man hour."

The TUC statement declared "it would be unfair and impossible to expect work people in industries on a 48-hour week to abandon their claim to an improvement x x x nor would this encourage them in attempts to increase output."

In general, however, the council did not criticise the production targets set in the white paper.

Seek To Speed Recovery

At thet same time that he announced Plowden's appointment Attlee disclosed government decisions to speed the recovery program.

British householders must save more coal—at least 2,500,000 tons—during the summer, he said, and will be prohibited from using gas or electricity for heating during the frequently chilly summer months. Household use of electricity has been prohibited for daily five-hour periods since the start of the fuel crisis in early february, but there have been no restrictions on gas.

Restrictions on use of electricity for cooking and water heating will continue and will be extended to gas, he added.

The summer economy is necessary to build up a backlog, Attlee explained, or "other means, more drastic, will have to be taken."

Plowden, 40, a director of the chemical, iron and steel firm of C. Tennent and Sons, Lt., and a member of the British South American Airways Corporation, was knighted last year.

He will be directly under Herbert Morrison, lord president of the council and deputy prime minister, and will be assisted in a consultative capacity by Sir Robert Sinclair, 53-year-old vice chairman of the Imperial Tobacco Company.

Plowden To Head Recovery Drive

London, March 27 (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee today appointed Sir Edwin Plowden, chief executive officer of the Ministry of Aircraft Production during the war, to the post of chief planning officer to direct Britain's drive for economic recovery.

The appointment coincided with a Government decision to prohibit the use of gas and electricity for home heating during the summer. The restrictions will be the first applied to users of gas, although their supplies have been cut by reduced pressures.

Attlee, setting 2,500,000 tons of coal as the fuel-savings goal for nonindustrial consumers during the summer, warned that even more stringent economies may be necessary.

Sir Edwin will be called upon to ensure that the nation's maximum productive effort is directed where it is most needed.

However, "all decisions on planning policy will be made by the Cabinet and not by the chief planning officer," Attlee told the House of Commons.

Norwegian Ship Claims Settled

LONDON, March 27 (AP).—Great Britain and Norway signed an agreement today disposing of all major outstanding claims resulting from the British war-time use of Norwegian merchant ships, Alfred Barnes, British Minister of Transport, said that Norway had placed at British disposal some 1,000 ships totaling 4,000,000 tons. About half were tankers, and Mr. Barnes said they transported about 40 per cent of the oil moved across the North Atlantic.

De La Borde Goes on Trial.

Versailles, March 27 (A. P.).—Admiral Jean De La Borde, home fleet commander under the Vichy Government, was called before the French High Court today for trial on charges of intelligence with the enemy and other offenses having to do with the scuttling of the fleet at Toulon in November, 1942. He is the seventh in a group of Vichy officials to face the court.

Bidault Interview With Stalin

Paris, March 27 (AP)—Well-informed French officials today described Foreign Minister Georges Bidault's recent meeting in Moscow with Prime Minister Stalin as "very unsatisfactory." J. DYNAN

At the same time a Foreign Ministry spokesman strongly denied reports abroad that Stalin had offered to make a "deal," proposing to support French claims to the Saar or more coal from the Ruhr, in return for French support for Russian efforts to centralize German administration, increase the Reich's steel production, or secure an equal voice in four-power control of Ruhr mines and mills.

Precluded By Differences

The spokesman said Bidault could not refuse such a "deal" because it never was offered, and indicated that differences in viewpoints in the conference precluded such an offer.

Other quarters said a wide divergence developed when the Russian leader emphasized that Germany should be centralized almost immediately, while Bidault insisted the various German states should be the foundation of the future German regime.

Prime Minister Paul Ramadier told a news conference that France would not make any concessions on her German viewpoint unless she received more coal from the Ruhr.

Not Prompted In Stand

Meantime, French officials emphasized that neither Russia nor any other country had prompted France in giving the United States until June 1 to turn over or remove two shortwave radio stations operated in Algeria by the State Department.

The spokesman said it was "not normal" for a foreign Government, even a friendly allied one, to broadcast from French territory.

The two stations send daily information programs to Central and Eastern Europe.

RETURN OF DE GAULLE TO POLITICS HINTED

PARIS, March 27.—(AP) Several Paris papers today predicted that a speech which Gen. Charles de Gaulle is to deliver at Bruneval, Normandy, on March 30, may be the signal for his return to active politics.

The left-wing liberation said de Gaulle had always made it clear that he would come back, should economic, financial, social and diplomatic difficulties threaten France.

"It's quite significant that the leaders of the republic as well as most of the party leaders do not rule de Gaulle's name from the list of possible chiefs of the government," the paper pointed out.

U.S. 'Taking Seriously' Reports Bormann Lives

Washington, March 27 (AP)—Reginald Mitchell, press officer of the State Department, said today American authorities have "taken seriously" reports that Martin Bormann, missing deputy of Adolf Hitler, may still be alive.

Mitchell said a new crop of reports to this effect are both official and unofficial in origin. Because of them, photographs and descriptions of the condemned Nazi leader are being sent to United States representatives in Europe and Latin America as well.

Bormann, tried in absentia, was condemned to death for war crimes by the International War Crimes Tribunal at Nuernberg.

World Hunt On For Bormann

Berlin, March 27 (AP)—An intensified and widespread manhunt, backed by the United States State Department, is under way for the condemned Martin Bormann, missing deputy of Adolf Hitler, it was disclosed today.

Pictures of the shadowy Nazi bigwig have been produced and distributed by the State Department to its embassies and ministries in Europe, South America and elsewhere.

Bormann, missing since the end of the war and condemned to the gallows in absentia by the International Military Tribunal at Nuernberg, has never been proven dead. On the contrary, he has frequently been reported seen alive at scattered places. None of these reports has been substantiated.

Want Good Likeness

To make the lookout for Bormann more systematic, the State Department requested T. J. Dunnigan, of the American Military Government's political administration here, to obtain a good likeness of him for reproduction and distribution from Washington.

"This action was taken," Dunnigan said, "because we have been receiving hundreds of reports that Bormann has been seen here or there throughout Europe. None of these reports has yet proved concrete and we may be looking for a dead man, but we wouldn't want to chance missing a bet if he is still alive.

"So we want people to know what he looks like, for he was less publicized than the other top Nazis and was a man who preferred to work powerfully behind the scenes rather than bask in the limelight."

Dunnigan chose for distribution a print of a portrait of Bormann done in 1939 at Hitler's suggestion that Bormann should have his likeness painted "for posterity." This portrait is now in United States Army hands and is to be given to a Library of Congress mission here.

He said the State Department also had asked the Army to supply a detailed physical description of Bormann for widespread distribution.

Dunnigan declared that most of the reports about Bormann being seen had come from southern Europe, especially Spain. The embassy in Madrid is to receive a particularly large consignment of Bormann's pictures.

Improve Reich Living, AMG Official Urges

Berlin, March 27 (AP)—Dwight P. Griswold, an American Military Government official, asserted today that, unless the German economy was revived and the standard of living improved, efforts to re-educate the Germans to democracy "will in all likelihood fail and Germany will once more fall into the ways of totalitarianism."

Griswold's statements criticized "people who are of the opinion that no further steps should be taken to rebuild the German economy until definite proof can be given that the German nation has been re-educated to democratic ways."

Griswold, former Governor of Nebraska, is director of the AMG's internal affairs and communications division. "Democratic re-education and a healthy economy must go hand in hand," he said.

Blast Hits Nuernberg Anti-Persecution Office

Nuernberg, Germany, March 27 (AP)—A bomb explosion last night slightly damaged the Nuernberg office of the Bavarian Commissioner for Racial and Political Persecutees, a German official announced today.

At the same time other German officials in the American occupied state of Bavaria reported a wave of anti-Semitic rumors reminiscent of Nazi days.

Hans Dillinger, chief of the commission office for Middle Franconia, disclosed the bomb incident, adding that he "supposed the plot was laid by a Nazi underground movement as a warning to persecutees." American Army investigators withheld comment.

The building was damaged only to the extent of splintered wood and chipped brick, and was quickly repaired. No one was injured.

Dillinger's office is under the superyision of the Bavarian Commissioner for Racial and Political Persecutees, Dr. Philip Auerbach, who is of Jewish descent. The office handles problems arising with Germans who were persecuted either as Jews or as political opponents of the Nazis.

Conference Proposed

In Munich Dr. Auerbach has just announced that he was recommending a state-wide conference of religious, political and trade-union leaders on the new flood of rumors.

He said such a conference should "seek ways of curbing this anti-Semitism in order to prevent the injustices that result."

Army Captain Charged In Slaying Of Soldier

Heidelberg, Germany, March 27 (AP)—United States constabulary headquarters announced today Capt. Vincent Cochran, of Kent, Ohio, has been charged with manslaughter in the fatal shooting of an American soldier in a beer hall near Heilbronn.

The name of the soldier, a member of the constabulary squadron Cochran commanded, was withheld pending notification of relatives.

The headquarters announcement said Cochran, "apparently intoxicated," fired four shots "apparently intended" to go over the heads of four soldiers who were engaged in an argument with the beer-hall proprietor Wednesday.

One of the bullets, however, headquarters said, struck one of the soldiers in his right eye. He died eighteen hours later.

Ex-G. I. Takes Bride in Reich

Marriage of Hempstead Man Is the First Officially Approved in U. S. Zone.

FRANKFORT ON THE MAIN, Germany, March 27 (AP) — Peter Rupeka, former United States Army sergeant from Hempstead, N. Y., married Fraulein Erika Schaefer today in the first officially approved American-German wedding in occupied Germany since the war.

The Army's ban on marriage between Americans and Germans was lifted last December. The 27-year-old Rupeka and his 21-year-old German bride were the first to complete the involved procedure still required for obtaining Military Government and State Department sanction for their nuptials.

Military Government officials in Berlin recently predicted that 6,000 other Americans would follow Rupeka's lead in marrying Germans within a year.

Rupeka, formerly in the 508th Parachute Battalion, has been overseas since April, 1945.

He met his attractive blue-eyed, brown-haired bride while sightseeing in Frankfort's bomb-damaged zoo in September, 1945. He stayed on in Germany as a War Department civilian employe after his Army discharge in the hope of some day being permitted to marry her.

They were married in a brief civil ceremony by the Frankfort city registrar, who repeated the rituals in both English and German.

They will honeymoon at Garmisch-Partenkirchen, famous Alpine resort.

In compliance with Military Government requirements that Americans must leave occupied Germany within a month after marrying Germans, the couple will fly to the United States on April 21, where they plan to live with Rupeka's mother at 217 Fenimore Avenue, Hempstead, or with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Sophie Rupeka, at 359 Amboy Street, Brooklyn.

No estimate was given of the number of personnel believed AWOL.

Greek Guerrillas Reported Repulsed

Athens, March 27 (A. P.).—The conservative newspaper Embros today reported that about eighty guerrillas had been killed or wounded out of a band of more than 400 in a 24-hour battle with Government forces at Marmara near the historic town of Delphi, about 100 miles northwest of Athens. Embros said that strafing aircraft killed thirty guerrillas and wounded many others after they had raided the village of Skopia near Phlorina in northern Greece.

The paper reported a military company stationed at Alyssos near Sparta drove back an attacking force with artillery and armored-car fire.

Goering's Brother Freed From Prison By Czechs

Prague, Czechoslovakia, March 27 (AP)—Albert Goering, younger brother of the late Reichmarshal Hermann Goering, was released from Pankrac Prison several days ago. The Czechs decided there was no basis for trying him for war crimes.

Goering, appointed by the Germans as general manager of the Skoda Munitions Works, was then taken into custody by Americans near Nuernberg, Germany, last spring and was turned over to Czech authorities.

LIDICE KILLERS ON TRIAL

16 Gestapo Men Charged With Massacre of Czechs

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, March 27 (AP)—Harold Wiesman, former Gestapo chief of Kladno, and fifteen of his henchmen went on trial today for the extermination of the village of Lidice.

The prosecutor, Karel Kotznek, charged them with having carried out the June, 1942, massacre on orders of the late Gestapo chief Heinrich Himmler. He said the action had been based on the unfounded suspicion that members of the community had helped to hide the assassins of Reinhard Heydrich, German "protector" of Bohemia-Moravia.

AUSTRIAN LEADER HELD BY RUSSIANS

VIENNA, March 27.—(AP) Informed Austrian government sources said today that Josef Mayer, 48, People's party member of Parliament from Linz, had been arrested by the Russians Sunday and had not been heard from since.

They reported that Mayer was on his way from Linz to his home in Urfahr, across the Danube river, when two Russian civilians took him into custody on the bridge and removed him in a Red army automobile. The Danube at that point is the boundary between the Russian and American zones.

Russian officials in Vienna said today that they knew nothing of the reported arrest.

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, March 27 (AP)—The mine-damaged UNRRA relief ship St. Lawrence Victory, half submerged at the bow and in danger of sinking, was towed today into the Dalmatian harbor of Korcula.

It was hoped that the vessel's cargo of much-needed potatoes could be unloaded there.

DENIES GREEK CHARGE

Sofia, March 27 (A. P.).—The Bulgarian liaison officer attending the United Nations Balkan Investigating Commission today replied to an American request for a statement of Bulgaria's aims in Thrace by asserting that territorial questions were outside the scope of the commission's inquiry. This was the identical argument advanced previously by A. A. Lavrischev, the Soviet member of the commission, which is investigating the Greek border troubles.

The American delegate, Mark F. Ethridge, maintains that the Security Council authorized the commission to investigate the causes of the Greek guerrilla fighting and that the Greek allegations attributing territorial gains to Bulgaria and Yugoslavia could not be separated from the investigation. The Bulgarian officer, George Koulischev, said in a letter to Ethridge that Bulgaria denies the Greek accusations and that the "foreign policy of Bulgaria is clear-cut and well-known," but he did not meet Ethridge's request for a precise statement of Bulgaria's position with regard to Thrace.

U.S. AND SOVIET GREECE CLASH

Probe Members Disagree On Macedonia Inquiries

Sofia, Bulgaria, March 27 (AP)—The United States and Russia clashed publicly today over whether statements of the official policy of Bulgaria and Yugoslavia toward Macedonia should be excluded in the report of the United Nations commission investigating Greek border strife.

Mark Ethridge, United States member of the commission, submitted a formal request that the commission ask for the attitude of the two Governments toward Macedonia, where much of the guerrilla warfare with Greek Government forces is being waged.

A. A. Lavrischev, Soviet member of the commission, opposed the request, contending the matter was territorial and not within the commission's scope.

Accusations Denied

The clash was touched off by the reading of a letter from George Koulischev, Bulgaria liaison officer with the commission, in reply to Ethridge's request for a statement on Bulgaria's aims toward Macedonia.

Koulischev's letter failed to clarify Bulgaria's precise position regarding Greek territory, but denied Greek accusations that she had "relaxed" her demands for part of Macedonia to support Yugoslav aspirations for the territory. In turn, the Greeks said, Yugoslavia would support Bulgarian demands for parts of Thrace.

Ethridge declared that the Security Council in setting up the commission gave it the right to inquire into official Bulgarian and Yugoslav policy on Greek territory.

Strife Encouraged

Ethridge said the Greeks charge that Bulgaria and Yugoslavia encouraged the strife because of territorial designs on Greece.

"This is one of the most serious charges and it is not a territorial question," he said. "I can see no reason why this commission should not take back to the Security Council the information it has requested."

Lavrischev asserted the Greeks had not proved their charges that forces outside Greece had been fomenting trouble "to gain these obscure aims."

He commented that "Macedonians should be considered as Macedonians and not as Greeks," but did not amplify the statement any further.

Palestine Terrorist Chiefs Interviewed in Their Hideout

By CARTER L. DAVIDSON

JERUSALEM, March 27 (AP)—I have just returned from a visit into the strongholds of the Jewish underground, where I was permitted to meet secretly with a group of confident young men who plot to carve with the sword a Hebrew republic on both sides of the Jordan river.

They are the leaders of Irgun Zvai Leumi (national military organization) and from their war chest have sprung most of the tactics which have turned the Holy Land into a battlefield, laced it with barbed wire, drenched it with blood on occasion and, at last, have apparently placed the unhappy country in the lap of United Nations peacemakers.

When I was invited to talk with the Irgun high command, I sent a list of written questions along with my acceptance, questions concerning the organization's performances and policy.

Preliminaries Waiting

The interview itself was so casual in its manner that it might have been a chance gathering of bank clerks or insurance salesmen talking shop had it not been conducted "somewhere in Palestine."

The preliminaries—waiting at a prearranged spot in a prescribed costume, changing from one taxi to another on a dark road, wearing blackout goggles and slumping low on the taxi seat, hearing terse passwords and instructions in Hebrew—were exciting, but the actual meeting was lacking in dramatics.

I was not permitted to see the Irgun commander, Menachim Beigin, "for security reasons." I was assured, however, that he had written the answers to my questions and that he would see me at a later date "when the situation eased."

My well-dressed informants could pass for members of a young businessmen's club in America. They spoke so calmly and matter-of-factly that it was a little difficult to realize they were speaking of their aim to wage "a state of constant warfare" to restore Palestine to the Hebrew people. They call the country Eretz-Israel and mean both Palestine and Trans-Jordan.

Without emotion these men spoke of "an operation staff" and a "board of strategy" and calmly asserted that the Jews, who have not been a warring nation for 2,000 years, "are now turned to warfare and they have proved, at least, that Jewish minds, turned to the art of war as before they turned to the arts of science, music and others, will become proficient."

Campaign of Violence

The Irgun strategy is based on "a constant state of war" geared to "opportune moments." The spokesmen explained that the explosion on March 1 in the Jerusalem British officers' club which killed 16 persons and wounded 20 "might possibly be regarded as an answer to Foreign Minister Bevin's House of Commons speach in which he called us a mere religious sect."

"But generally," they added, "there is no question of limiting the struggle to reactions and retaliations. We strike when and where possible."

The staging of the officers' club attack on the Jewish Sabbath was not a change of policy, they stated. It was based on a precedent of "a war of duty." Such attacks on sabbaths occurred in the Maccabean wars before Christ. They further explained that the operation had been planned originally for after sunset on the sabbath, but had been moved up to the daylight hours because the danger to civilians is increased after dark.

"The requirements of war make essential a tactical coordination between Irgun Zvai Leumi and the Fighters for the Freedom of Israel, the so-called Stern Gang," they explained, "but there have been no actually combined operations recently."

Are Well Armed

The Irgun spokesmen said that while the organization's supplies of munitions were not unlimited, "they are sufficient so that no operation has ever been cancelled or delayed" for lack of weapons.

They added that in addition to the explosives and arms taken from the British in recurrent arsenal raids, the Irgunists now are manufacturing as a home product "an explosive more powerful and useful" that what had been appropriated from the British.

They denied any connection with recent robberies, such as that in which a gang of 10 Jews a few days ago took $12,000 from the Palestine Discount Bank.

GRUNER'S APPEAL TAKEN TO TEL AVIV

Tel Aviv, March 27 (A. P.).—Attorney Max Seligman said today a petition for an appeal from the death sentence of Dov Bela Gruner has been prepared on behalf of Mayor Israel Rokach of Tel Aviv. The filing was delayed, pending approval by the Municipal Council.

The petition would challenge the legality of emergency regulations under which Gruner was condemned for participating in the raid last year on the Ramat Gan police station. The Municipal Council was considering the proposal that Rokach enter the case as head of the community of which Gruner was a resident.

Seligman said the original plan was to file the petition on behalf of Mrs. Helen Friedmann of Lancaster, Pa., Gruner's sister, who is now here. London attorneys advised the change of plan.

Tel Aviv Bombing

Jerusalem, March 27 (AP)—A British constable was reported wounded in one leg today in a bomb attack on two police cars in front of the Tel Aviv divisional police headquarters.

An official announcement said the cars were just leaving the headquarters in the all-Jewish city on a morning patrol when they were the target of one bomb and a small-arms fusillade. The report added that three persons "believed to be Yemenite Jews" were seen escaping toward the water front.

Tel Aviv residents were roused by two explosions last night which seemed to come from the Hatikva quarter, Yemenite Jewish neighborhood.

Police, after ascertaining that no military installations had been under attack, offered the theory that the blasts might have occurred by accident in a mine factory of the Jewish underground.

Soviet 'Field Day' At Asian Parley

New Delhi, March 27 (AP)—A United States observer declared today that "Russian ideology is having a field day "at the Asian Relations Conference now in progress in New Delhi as delegates of six Soviet republics reported on made speeches."

Garland Hopkins, of Winchester Va., representing the World Council of Churches, said his preliminary report to the council's committee on international affairs would contain this statement.

But "Not Taking Over"

Hopkins, however, termed "preposterous" reports that the Russians were "taking over" the conference, which has attracted some 200 delegates from twenty countries.

Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, leading Minister of India's interim government and a conference sponsor, was quoted to the same effect by a reliable source.

J. J. Singh, president of the India League of America, also called such reports preposterous.

Jap Absence "Understood"

Nehru said today he "felt no particular resentment" at the absence of a Japanese delegation from the conference. He expressed belief the delegates understood it was "policy in regard to Japanese nationals—and not this conference" which kept Japan from sending representatives.

Hopkins said yesterday he had cabled Gen. Douglas MacArthur and President Truman to urge that Japanese representatives be flown to the meeting. He reported "nearly unanimous resentment" at absence of the Japanese among delegates with whom he had talked.

6 DEAD, 46 INJURED IN CALCUTTA RIOTING

CALCUTTA, March 27 — (AP)—Rioting between Hindu and Moslem mobs who fought, with knives spears and brickbats killed six persons and injured 46 others here today as communal warfare spread over a wider area of the city.

The latest casualty figures, which were released by the Bengal government, brought the two-day toll to 15 killed and approximately 150 injured. At 6 p.m. to 8 a.m. curfew was extended to eight districts in the city, and police said the situation was quiet tonight.

Police opened fire on 18 occasions to disperse the rioters. The injured streamed into hospitals from north, east and central Calcutta.

More than 200 arrests have been made since the rioting started yesterday.

Sentence Of Chinese Puppet Commuted

Shanghai, March 27 (AP)—The Government commuted to life imprisonment today the death sentence passed last year on Chow Fumai, former puppet Premier of China.

The mandate said commutation was granted because of Chow's efforts to maintain order in the Nanking and Shanghai areas when the Japanese surrendered, which resulted in "minimizing unnecessary loss of lives among the people."

UNRRA Completes North China Relief

Shanghai, March 27 (A. P.).—United States Marine planes completed the distribution of nearly 1,000,000 pounds of UNRRA clothing and medicine in Communist-held areas of North China this week. The organization's China office said today. It was the largest relief air drop ever undertaken in the Orient.

M. P.'S QUIT PEIPING

Peiping, March 28 (A. P.).—A United States Marine detachment escorted a departing military police convoy today along the Peiping-Tientsin highway. The heavily armed convoy, one of the largest ever sent out on the road through Communist-dominated territory, carried three officers and fifty-three enlisted men of the 701st Military Police Battalion.

The military police, the only armed unit of the American branch of the now-disbanded truce headquarters, are going to Taku, near Tientsin, where they will board a tank landing ship for Shanghai. They took with them fifty vehicles, including armored cars, trucks and jeeps under the command of Capt. Frederick M. Drain of Mobile, Ala. Marine observation planes flew overhead. Two Marine tanks were in the escort force.

Marine convoys now are scheduled to run twice weekly over the highway. The Communists were notified that the convoy was coming.

CHINESE RACE TO BLOCK REDS

3 Armies Reported Trying To Cut Off Yenan Retreat

Nanking, March 27 (AP)—Three Chinese Government armies were reported racing today to shut off the retreat toward Manchuria of the Communists fleeing northeastward from fallen Yenan.

Gen. Fu Tso-yi was described in pro-Government dispatches as the man in the key role, thrusting his North China Army rapidly westward across northern Shansi province in the region of the Great Wall.

Field observers said a junction between Fu's army and another Government force on the Suiyuan province border would close the door on the Communists, leaving one group in the northwest provinces of China proper and another in Manchuria, mutually isolated.

Rested Since Kalgan Capture

Fu's army, well-rested since its lightning capture of Kalgan last October 11, was reported to have captured Tsoyun, 275 miles northeast of Yenan, and to have pushed on toward Yuyu, 25 miles farther west, on the Suiyuan border.

Whereabouts of the Suiyuan Government force was not disclosed, but cavalry was reported raiding along the Suiyuan-Shensi border some 100 miles northwest of Yenan.

The Government forces which took Yenan on March 19 were last reported at Tsingkien, 48 miles northeast of Yenan, following the route of the Communist retreat.

Unconfirmed pro-Government press reports have placed the Communist headquarters at Kolan, in Shansi province 180 miles northeast of Yenan and 95 miles southwest of Tsoyun.

Fu Army Drives West To Join Nationalists

Nanking, March 27 (AP)—Gen. Fu Tso-yi's North China army pushed westward today, apparently toward a junction with Nationalist units in Suiyan province which would seal North China Communists off from Red forces in Manchuria.

Fu's troops, well-rested after months of comparative inactivity which followed their capture of Kalgan, Chahar province, were reported to have taken Tsoyun, 130 miles to the west in northern Shansi province. Late reports said the army was advancing toward Yuyu, 25 miles northwest of Tsoyun.

While Fu attacked Communist towns in Shansi, other Government forces continued to fan out from Yenan, fallen Red capital city in neighboring Shensi province. A dispatch from Siking (Sian) said Nationalist cavalry under Ma Hung-kwei, posted along the border of northwestern Shensi, made a surprise assault on Tingpien, 117 miles northwest of Yenan.

Main Force Nears Yenan

The main Nationalist force had driven 48 miles northeast from Yenan, this report said.

An unconfirmed report in Chinese newspapers said Gen. Chou En-lai, No. 2 Communist and the Reds' chief negotiator, had fled to Kolan, 200 miles northeast of Yenan. Thousands of Communist troops were said to be massed at Kolan.

Fighting flared again in Manchuria, where Communists were reported attacking Hailung, 50 miles southeast of Changchun, capital of Manchuria. Another report said the power plant at Panshin, 40 miles northeast of Mukden, had been destroyed by Communists, leaving Mukden without electricity.

Food Shortage In Dairen

The Chinese press meanwhile reported a serious shortage of food in Dairen, Manchurian seaport which the Russians are expected to turn over to Chinese control shortly. The situation was aggravated, these reports said, by Russian shipment of salt to Soviet-occupied North Korea and their buying of large quantities of gold.

The newspaper Hsin Min Pao, quoting "authoritative circles," said today that Chiang Kai-shek would visit Washington and London next month. The Generalissimo's office declined to comment and other Government sources reported such a visit was unlikely.

In Washington, Presidential Press Secretary Charles Ross said the report was "news to me."

In Nanking, Chiang's Government made plans for floating internal loans amounting to $400,000,000 (United States) in another move to strengthen the nation's economy. The loans were approved today by the legislative Yuan.

Japanese Volcano Smoking

TOKYO, March 27 (AP).—A column of smoke is pouring from the volcano Kyunvunkaku in central Hokkaido, and four Japanese scientists have been sent to investigate. The United States 8th Army said today. In 1926, the volcano Maetotokachi, a sister peak, erupted. Within twenty-five minutes the lava flow had struck a near-by town, killing 172 persons. The 8th Army said no American troops are stationed in the vicinity of Kyunvunkaku.

8th Army Smashes Chinese Drug Ring

Yokohama, March 27 (AP)—The United States 8th Army provost marshal announced today that Criminal Investigation Department agents had smashed a Chinese black-market drug ring.

The provost marshal said three men were arrested, including two crew members of the British destroyer H.M.S. Bermuda, docked in Yokohama harbor.

The roundup began with apprehension of Lai Pong-lee, alleged black-market broker, found in possession of 135 vials of penicillin, quantities of sulfadiazine and morphine, the announcement said.

Agents then arrested Hui Wo and Kwong Wing-chee, crew members of the destroyer, as they purportedly attempted to deliver more penicillin to Lee's home. Investigation aboard the Bermuda, the announcement said, uncovered 194 vials of penicillin, 27 bottles of saccharin and a large quantity of other drugs.

Building Boom Seen In Manila

Manila, March 27 (AP)—A building boom is in the making in war-wrecked Manila.

The Bureau of Census and Statistics announced today that building permits reached a record high of $23,500,000 last year—a 1,000 per cent increase over 1941. However, the supply of materials continues critical, although more cement and lumber are being produced locally.

Building prices, and rents as well, are sky-high. The average foreign family pays $250 to $300 dollars rent monthly.

Meat Rationing Ends in Canada

Ottawa—(AP)—Meat rationing to Canadian householders ended today.

Meat price controls, slaughtering quotas and meatless Tuesdays and Fridays in restaurants remained in effect, however.

Douglas C. Abbott, national defense minister, told the House of Commons that the government in this way hoped to avoid reducing meat exports, "particularly to the United Kingdom, where food shortages are still acute."

In announcing the end of rationing of meat to consumers — who have been limited to about two pounds a week, depending upon the cut—Abbott said: "Rationing of any commodity at the consumer level is a difficult and expensive proposition."

U.N. Delegates Given Copies Of Austin's Speech

Lake Success, N.Y., March 27 (AP). The United States tonight gave Russia and other Security Council members advance copies of Warren R. Austin's major American policy address on the Greek-Turkish aid question.

The preview texts were handed to Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, and the others nearly 24 hours ahead of Austin's speech scheduled for delivery in the Security Council at 3 P.M. tomorrow.

Advance distribution emphasized the importance the United States attaches to Austin's remarks. Under previous procedure, foreign delegates were often advised of the general content of an American speech and on a few other occasions were handed textual copies some hours in advance of actual delivery.

To Clarify Whole Position

The 3,000-word address was drafted after extended consultations within the Administration in keeping with the bipartisan American foreign policy and after talks with top United Nations officials.

The speech was expected to clarify the whole broad American position toward Greece and Turkey and attendant United States relations with the United Nations.

Delegates will convene to hear Austin's speech shortly after a meeting of the eleven-nation Commission on Conventional Armaments, which has identical membership with the Security Council. Austin himself was not expected to sit for the arms session, planning to spend his time making final preparations for the major address.

Balkan Probe Link Forecast

Sources close to Austin said he would peg the speech on the Greek problem as it stands before the Security Council itself, which now has an eleven-nation investigating commission operating in the Balkans.

While Gromyko hardly would have the Austin text far enough ahead for communication with Moscow, there was the possibility that he would seize on the opportunity to deliver another speech against the Greek Government.

Lie Sounds Out Capitol

Before leaving by plane for Norway this morning, United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie, dispatched Andrew Cordier, his executive assistant, to Washington for talks with Austin, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R., Mich) and other personages on Capitol Hill. Lie was reported to have taken this action to ascertain the feeling of Government leaders about the United Nations and be informed in advance of what Austin would say.

Lie's decision to go ahead with his trip was interpreted as meaning he personally was convinced that Austin's remarks would not bring any immediate crisis to American relations with the United Nations.

Austin Speech May Set Off Wrangle

Lake Success, N.Y., March 27 (AP)—The possibility arose today that Warren R. Austin's major American policy speech in the United Nations Security Council tomorrow might touch off a bitter wrangle on an official level with Russia over President Truman's plans to aid Greece and Turkey.

An informed source said the set-up for the speech would certainly not preclude a Russian reply, although it might not come immediately. Some observers believed Russia would use this opportunity to launch another attack here against Greece.

One source speculated that any decision to break Russia's top-level silence on the American aid program, designed to halt the spread of Communism, would be made in Moscow only after careful examination of Austin's statement.

May Reply In U.N.

However, this source did not exclude the possibility of a Soviet reply in the Security Council, possibly after an initial statement is made in Moscow by the Russian Government.

Moscow newspapers have already attacked the American plans, virtually accusing President Truman of bypassing the United Nations and acting contrary to the principles of the world charter.

Austin returns to New York today from a week-long round of conferences in Washington. There the American representative of United Nations talked with Mr. Truman and others on a concealed effort to soothe disappointment in some United Nations quarters over the fact that President acted without prior reference to the world peace-keeping agency.

25-Minute Speech

Austin's statement, described by President Truman in Washington yesterday as a document that would cover the whole Greek-Turkish situation, was expected to require about 25 minutes in delivery. It will then be translated into French. Thereafter, under standard Council procedure, other delegates would be free to speak immediately to reserve comment while awaiting instructions from their home governments.

In assessing possible Russian reaction to Austin's speech, observers drew attention to Andrei A. Gromyko's action Tuesday in invoking the veto to kill Britain's complaint against Albania.

This veto—the tenth cast by Russia but the first in more than six months—was seen in some quarters as an indication of a new hardening of Russian policy and a sign that Moscow would not countenance Security Council action against states in the Soviet orbit.

Lie To Norway

New York, March 27 (AP)—Trygve Lie, secretary general of the United Nations, left today by plane for Norway.

He said he expected to return to this country "by Tuesday or Wednesday" after making a report to the Norwegian Parliament. He was Norway's Foreign Minister before joining the United Nations.

During Lie's absence, his duties at the United Nations will be handled by Victor Hoo, of China, assistant secretary general in charge of trusteeship affairs.

Atomic Group Members Seek Compromise On Russ Demand

Lake Success, N.Y., March 27 (AP). United Nations atomic delegates sought today some compromise which would satisfy Andrei A. Gromyko's demand that they take up his thirteen atomic proposals now, point by point.

Atomic authorities predicted a compromise would be offered when the delegates meet again in closed session here next Monday. But the American conferences have not jelled sufficiently to give any concrete shape to the plan now, these sources added.

Study Informal Work Sheet

Meanwhile, experts of the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission studied an informal work sheet said to have come from the Americans. It was reported to list ideas for the first draft of a treaty on atomic controls, which the Security Council has requested.

Gromyko, the Russian delegate and chairman of the commission, told its working committee Tuesday that the proposals for atomic control which he made in the Security Council February 18 must be considered. He proposed that they be taken up immediately.

'30-20' Income Tax Cut, Retroactive to Jan. 1, Passes House, 273-137

MAR 2 1947

G.O.P. BEATS DOWN DEMOCRATS' MOVE TO DELAY ACTION

Measure Expected to Meet Stiff Opposition in Senate.

VETO ALSO LOOMS

Taft Favors Making Slash Effective July 1 in Order to Boost Revenue.

WASHINGTON, March 27—(AP) Republicans rammed their "30-20" income tax slash through the House on schedule today, 273 to 137, and sent it to a less enthusiastic Senate.

The final roll call found 233 Republicans joined by 40 Democrats for the bill. Against it were 133 Democrats and Reps. Engel (R.-Mich.), Buffett (R.-Neb.), H. Carl Anderson (R.-Minn.) and Marcantonio (Al.-N. Y.).

The bill would trim 30 per cent off the taxes of persons with taxable income up to $1,000; and give 20 per cent reductions to most other taxpayers, retroactive to Jan. 1.

Bill's Future Uncertain

Several "ifs" make the future of the bill uncertain.

One is the position of G.O.P. senate leaders that the tax cut should be effective July 1, instead of for the full year of 1947. Another is the opposition of President Truman to any tax cuts now; he may veto the bill. Today's vote was one short of the two thirds necessary to override a veto.

The Senate probably will not act until late in April or later.

Before the final House vote, the Republicans beat down, 237 to 172, a Democratic motion that would have shelved the bill. The motion, by Rep. Doughton (D.-N. C.), proposed:

"To recommit the bill, H.R. 1 to the committee on ways and means for further study with instructions not to report a tax reduction bill until the committee has passed the supply appropriation bills and to consider individual income tax reduction as a part of our over-all post-war tax program and providing for more equitable relief in the lower income brackets."

The bill passed by the House stipulates that withholdings from wages and salaries drop to lower levels on June 1, with all taxpayers getting refunds on overpayments under the old rates from Jan. 1 to June 1.

Senator Taft (R.-Ohio) said this retroactive treatment would cost the Treasury $5,700,000,000 in the fiscal year beginning July 1—almost as much as House Republicans expect to cut President Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget.

Climaxes Bitter Debate

The House vote came after two days of bitter debate. Near the end, Rep. Engel of Michigan, only Republican to speak against the bill, shouted that it "gives a man who made the biggest profits during the war the biggest tax relief."

He asked to whom the campaign promise to reduce taxes was made by the Republicans — "was it to those in the low-income group, including farmers and workers, or was it to the wealthier persons who were best able to kick into the political campaign fund?"

He said several wealthy persons had threatened to attempt his defeat for election next year unless he changes his views.

Republican Leader Halleck, of Indiana, closed the debate for the Republicans, shouting that the C.I.O. Political Action Committee "is not writing this tax bill." He said Republicans are going to cut taxes, balance the budget and pay something on the debt besides.

Democratic Leader Rayburn, of Texas, said the people "want a sound dollar," and that the Republican tax-cutting bill violated previous G.O.P. pledges for "a 100-cent dollar and a balanced budget."

Halleck said the way to have a sound dollar "is to have a sound economy," and that is the objective of the tax bill.

Republican sponsors of the bill contended it would help those hardest hit by increased living costs, encourage risks by businessmen to develop new industries, and end New Deal "punitive taxes."

Democrats said it is a bill to pay off on a Republican campaign pledge without regard to the needs of the Treasury, that it gives a "windfall" to high income persons, and that it is "a discriminatory patchwork of political expedience—neither equitable, timely, nor sound."

Provisions of Measures

The measure, as passed by the House, would work like this:

1. Cut 30 per cent off the tax liability this year for persons with taxable income of $1,000 or less (taxable income—income after personal exemptions and deductions). This means a 30 per cent reduction for: single persons earning up to $1,650; married couples with gross income up to $2,200; married couples with one child to $2,750; and married couples with two children, with gross income up to $3,300.

2. Cut 20 per cent off the taxes of persons with taxable incomes above $1,396, until income reaches $302,-00. On any income above $302,000 the cut would be 10.5 per cent. The 30 per cent cut is not applicable to the first $1,000 of taxable income of persons with incomes larger than that figure.

3. Persons with taxable incomes between $1,000 and $1,396 would get a graduated scale of relief running from $57 for the $1,001 man to $53 for the $1,395 man.

4. An extra $500 personal exemption for persons over 65, bringing their exemption to $1,000. However, the elderly persons must choose between this extra exemption and the exemptions on certain annuities already in the tax law. They could not take both.

5. A new 75.5 per cent ceiling on the amount any income could be taxed, no matter how high it gets. The present ceiling is 86 per cent.

Buffett, one of the three Republicans to vote against the bill, issued a statement saying the tax cut is premature—that the most important goal for every American now is "much lower federal expenditures, a balanced budget and a genuine payment on the debt."

Patterson Says Greek Aid Will Tend to Avert War

MAR 1947

No Place Where Money Could Be Used to Better Advantage, He Asserts.

WASHINGTON, March 27—(AP) Secretary of War Patterson said today that spending $400,000,000 of U. S. funds to help Greece and Turkey against Communism "is the course least likely to result in war."

Further, he told the House Foreign Affairs committee, there is no place in the world where the money could be used to better advantage.

Patterson carried along the administration's arguments for President Truman's proposal as another group of opposition witnesses told the Senate Foreign Relations committee that the plan carries the risk of war.

Takes Opposite View

Mark R. Shaw of the National Council for the Prevention of War, said the program means this:

"We propose to stop Russia all over the world—by force if necessary—and it will lead to disaster."

Under the plan, this country would aid Greece and Turkey with food, war materials and limited military guidance.

In the House committee session, Rep. Merrow (R-N.H.) remarked that Russia maintains the world's largest standing land army and inquired:

"Would it not be wise in view of the world situation to increase our armed forces, particularly the air force, so that our diplomats would have more backing?"

Secretary Patterson contented himself with replying, "I am a strong believer in a strong air force."

Rep. Jackson (R-Calif.) said a lot of people are worrying over this question: "Will this program lead to war?"

MAR 1947

Patterson Means War

Patterson took his time about replying, then said firmly:

"I believe that this will not result in war. It is the course least likely to result in war."

The secretary of war told the questioning Rep. Mundt (R-S.D.) that he would have no objection to an amendment limiting the proposed military missions to 100 men for Greece and 100 for Turkey.

In fact, he said, War Department thinking has been along the lines of missions of 10 to 40 each. He said this is based on the assumption that Great Britain's military mission in Greece "will continue for the time being at least."

One of the strongest-supported ideas in Congress is that the United States, in helping the Greek and Turkish governments otherwise, should not send troops there.

Before the Senate committee, Allen D. Fields of Nation Associates, New York, said the President's plan is "a declaration of political war against Russia."

Mrs. S. J. Moore, a Virginia housewife from Arlington, said that if the plan is carried out "there will be very little difference between Americanism and Naziism."

Clark Eichelberger, representing the American Association for United Nations, told the senators that "I think this program of immediate unilateral (lone-handed) aid is necessary, but the United Nations should be kept fully informed."

Patterson Says Aid Plan Leads 'Away From War'

MAR 1947

Washington, March 27 (AP)—Secretary of War Patterson asserted today that the Administration's $400,000,000 measure to bulwark Greece and Turkey against Communism "is not in the direction of war—but away from it."

His opinion was expressed to the House Foreign Affairs Committee which is conducting hearings on the proposal to send "limited" military missions, as well as money, to the two Mediterranean countries.

Representative Jackson (R., Cal.) told Patterson that "a lot of midnight oil is being burned over the question: 'Will this program lead to war?'

"I believe," said Patterson slowly but firmly, "that it will not result in war. It is the course least likely to result in war."

Meaning Of "Limited"

Patterson was asked by Representative Vorys (R., Ohio) what the term "limited" meant in numbers.

"Anywhere from 10 to 40," Patterson replied. "That is our present estimate. It is based on the assumption that the British military mission will continue (in Greece) for the time being at least."

"And Turkey?" Vorys asked.

"Comparable," Patterson replied.

Representative Mundt (R., S.D.) observed:

"It would be very comfortable to the American people if we could spell that out because this legislation is sort of blank-checkish."

Limit To 100

Mundt added that he "had in mind" offering an amendment limiting the military missions to 100 in each country. He asked:

"Would you have any objection?"

"No, sir," Patterson replied.

Mundt's suggestion is one of a growing crop of proposals in Congress to write limitations into the bill. As prepared by the Administration, the measure would give President Truman broad general authority to lend or give up to $400,000,000 to the Turks and Greeks and send American military men and civilian Government employés to help those countries.

George's Proposal

Senator George (D., Ga.) told reporters he will demand that the whole program be directed by an American commission and that the Senate pass on Mr. Truman's choice of the men to head the commission.

George is a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, also currently conducting hearings on the measure.

That group received from Clark Eichelberger, representing the American Association for the United Nations, a suggestion today that the international organization be asked to establish a permanent mission on Greece's frontiers to prevent military encroachment from without.

Eichelberger indorsed Mr. Truman's proposal, saying:

"I think this program of immediate unilateral aid is necessary, but the United Nations should be kept fully informed of developments."

Opposition Testimony

Mark R. Shaw, representing the National Council for the Prevention of War, opposed the President's program in testimony to the Senate group.

"We propose to stop Russia all over the world—by force, if necessary—and it will lead to disaster," Shaw asserted.

At one point in the House committee's hearings, Mundt suggested that this country might save money by turning over captured German war material to Greece and Turkey.

Patterson disagreed.

He said that the United States is now in the process of destroying German armament, and giving it to the Greeks and Turks would be unwise because it would force them to rely upon Germany for duplications of their weapons once they had worn out.

Question On Spain

Representative Jonkman (R., Mich.) asked Patterson how the Administration "justifies its position" of criticism of the anti-Communist government of Spain with its stand in Greece. He said that Spain conceivably could block American forces from entry to the Mediterranean.

Patterson replied that he was not posted on this country's foreign policy in Spain.

Observing that the measure will "cost the taxpayers a lot of money" Representative Richards (D., S.C.) asked Patterson:

"Assuming that we are going to try to stop aggression in Europe—to be perfectly frank, by Russia—is there any place where we could spend the money more advantageously" other than Greece and Turkey.

"Of Great Importance"

Patterson: "My opinion is that the area is of great importance. The money spent there will not be misdirected." Later he gave a flat "No" answer.

George said that when the Senate committee begins closed-door consideration of the measure he will formally advance his proposal for a Senate checkrein on a commission to administer the program.

Senator Lodge (R., Mass.), a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, introduced three amendments. They would:

1. Require any governments requesting aid to agree not to use any part for payment of a loan it may have received from another government.

2. Require any government receiving assistance to set up a taxation program to support its own national reconstruction.

3. Provide for appointment of an administrator of Greek and Turkish aid. He would be subject to confirmation by the Senate.

George may offer his amendment tomorrow.

LaGuardia Statement

Fiorello H. LaGuardia, former head of UNRRA, said yesterday the program might involve the United States in the Balkans "for a generation."

LaGuardia painted a dark picture of conditions in Greece in urging the foreign relations committee to draft a substitute for the President's plan. He suggested that instead of the pending aid program Congress simply authorize American patricipation in any United Nations "mandate" for action that might be issued after President Truman had reported conditions to the United Nations.

Any American attempt to intervene alone in Greece and Turkey, LaGuardia said, may involve this country in Balkan politics for a generation to come.

"Conditions in the Balkans can't be corrected overnight or in ten years—it will take a generation," the former New York mayor declared. "If we go into Greece, it must be remembered that we are going in there for a good, long time. It we are going to train and equip the Turkish Army, we are certainly going to have a job on our hands."

SENATE VOTES, 46-34, TO END SUGAR CONTROL

Bill, Returned To House, Would Kill Rationing October 31

Washington, March 27 (AP)—Amid bitter charges by Senator Tobey (R., N.H.) that it was opening the way for "a national scandal," the Senate approved and sent back to the House tonight a bill to kill rationing and price control of sugar next October 31.

It stamped final approval on the bill by a 46-to-34 vote after a stormy session in which Tobey shouted that his own party, the Republicans, must shoulder the "blame" for failure to extend controls for a full year.

He said profiteering and gambling in sugar will create the scandal he foresees.

Speculation Feared

Senator Donnell (R., Mo.) remarked that he had "no fear of any great national scandal" and asked Tobey why he made the charge.

Tobey replied that the October 31 deadline would put speculators "on notice when they can make the kill" whereas the longer control period would "make speculators blind."

"The speculators are not blind tonight," Tobey yelled.

Senator Taft (R., Ohio) scoffed at the thought that there would be hoarding of sugar before October 31, end of controls.

"Who can hoard when inventory controls and rationing are in effect and he can't get any more sugar than he needs?" he asked.

Word On Sugar Belt

Senator Butler (R., Neb.) issued a statement with passage of the measure asserting that "farmers should plant sugar beets to the limit, now that they know price controls will come off of sugar next October and they will get a good price."

The House previously had voted for the October 31 date, so that portion of the bill will not be open to changes when attempts are made to compromise other differences between Senate and House versions.

The Senate would put sugar handling in the hands of the Secretary of Agriculture with authority to wipe out controls any time he finds supplies warrant it.

35-Pound Allotment

The vote to wind up the rationing program at the end of October was 45 to 35 on an amendment by Senator McCarthy (R., Wis.).

Earlier, the Senate voted to provide that this year's allotment should be at least 35 pounds per person for home use. Last year's figure was 25. The prewar figure was about 50.

Also, the bill provides that any additional sugar be given the housewife until the individual allotment reaches 50 pounds.

"Gambling And Hoarding"

Supporters of a year's extension of rationing beyond March 31 argued angrily that passage with an October termination date would result in gambling, hoarding and profiteering.

"It would be much better to end rationing today than to continue it for this short period," said Senator Russell (D., Ga.). He added that the bill would lead to "confusion and profiteering."

Senator Maybank (D., S.C.) agreed, saying the result will be "gambling and hoarding."

Fixing The Blame

But Senator Capehart (R., Ind.) said there will be "no more scandal or rise in prices" by ending rationing next October than there would be in cutting it off a year from now.

Senator Morse (R., Ore.) said the bill as it stands "lays the foundation for a serious sugar shortage and plays into the hands of sugar profiteers."

"The Sugar Is Here"

Tobey declared that Clinton P. Anderson, Secretary of Agriculture, told him today that he would "stand unqualifiedly behind the 35 pounds and there is no more sugar available for home consumption. . . . If any more does come across the horizon we will allot it to the housewife."

McCarthy retorted "I do not give a tinker's dam what Secretary Anderson says. The sugar is here."

The Senate rejected, 47 to 32, a proposal by McCarthy to set up a ration of at least 45 pounds of sugar per person for the first ten months of this year.

HOUSE SCRAPS WAR CONTROLS ON MOST ITEMS

Government Controls And Rationing Will End On Many Things Monday

Washington, March 27 (AP)—The House voted overwhelmingly today to scrap almost all rationing and Government controls over use of materials.

Its action, by voice vote, came in passage of a bill extending in skeleton form the Second War Powers Act which expires next Monday midnight.

The measure retains until next June 30 controls on building materials and extends until December 31 domestic allocation controls on cinchona bark and alkaloids, tin and tin products, antimony and streptomycin.

Boxcar Allocations Retained

Also retained until the latter date are controls over tractors for export, materials and equipment for expanding foreign production of materials needed in this country, and equipment needed to meet international obligations.

Domestic allocations of transportation equipment, notably boxcars, also was retained until December 31.

Eliminated from controls as of next Monday midnight are grain and grain products, rice, edible molasses, fertilizer, manila fiber and cordage, imports on fats and oils, meat and meat products, peas, beans, canned fish and protein foods.

Sugar Still Controlled

Separate legislation passed earlier this month dealt with controls on sugar and rubber.

Earlier today, the Senate voted to continue until June 30 controls on manila fiber and cordage, cinchona bark, streptomycin, antimony, tin, steel, rice, protein feeds, fats and oils.

The House action, which came on the Senate bill, means the two chambers will have to try to work out a compromise.

SENATE GROUP APPROVES NEW RENT CONTROL BILL

WASHINGTON, March 27—(AP) A Senate Banking sub-committee today unimanimously approved new rent control legislation and sent it to the full committee.

The bill would continue rent controls until Feb. 29 with Housing Expediter Frank Creedon as administrator. Local advisory boards named by Creedon would have authority to recommend decontrol and rent adjustments with Creedon having final say-so.

The bill would decontrol all hotels and motor courts, dwellings now renting for $225 or more, housing accommodations not rented as such since Jan. 1, 1945, and new construction after Feb. 1, 1947.

REALTY MEN CALL HOUSING BILL RED

Nelson Tells Senate Committee Danger Lies in Proposal of Wagner, Ellender, Taft

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—Real estate spokesmen assailed the Wagner-Ellender-Taft housing bill today as "dangerous" and "Communist."

Herbert U. Nelson, executive vice president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, told the Senate Banking Committee that the long-range housing measure was "dangerous, misleading and fails to accomplish the purpose for which it was presented." The association is "violently opposed" to it, he said.

Morgan L. Fitch, president of the association, said to a meeting of 150 presidents of local real estate boards that "the spearhead of the Communist front is rent control and public housing."

By rent control, he said in his address, "we destroy private property ownership" and by public housing "we expand public property ownership."

"By the two we work to the ultimate goal of the all-powerful state, with man a subject rather than a master," Mr. Fitch added.

Another opponent of public housing, Earl Teckmeyer of Indianapolis, started a mild exchange with Senator Charles W. Tobey, Republican, of New Hampshire, chairman of the Senate committee, by testifying that "it is unfair to tax one group of people to provide housing for another."

Mr. Tobey interjected that the principle of the strong helping the weak was "pretty well accepted."

Mr. Teckmeyer retorted: "The real estate people feel that the Government is going into business right across the street from them."

Other witnesses objected to provisions which would require a down payment of only 5 per cent on new homes costing less than $5,000, by authorizing insured private loans, over a thirty-year period, covering 95 per cent of the total cost.

Douglas Whitlock, chairman of the Building Products Institute, suggested that this would create "a new and hazardous basis for extending credit, wherein need rather than ability to pay is made the criterion of a loan."

Abner H. Ferguson, counsel for the United States Savings and Loan League, said the terms of the bill "seem to violate all the provisions of sound lending."

Before the House Banking Committee Ann Berenson, Washington representative of the CIO Housing Committee, asked that Congress give more encouragement to the pre-fabricated home industry. She declared that "failure to push this program has lost more houses for us this year than any other one thing that has happened."

The committee also heard from James B. Carey, secretary-treasurer of the CIO, and received a statement from R. J. Thomas, vice president of the United Auto Workers, CIO, and chairman of the CIO Housing Committee. Both urged retention of controls with "effective enforcement" of rental ceilings.

Meanwhile, a Senate banking subcommittee unanimously approved a new rent control bill and sent it to the full committee.

The bill would continue rent controls through next February with the Housing Expediter, Frank Creedon, as administrator. Local advisory boards named by Mr. Creedon would have authority to recommend decontrol and rent adjustments, and Mr. Creedon would have the final say-so.

The bill would decontrol all hotels and motor courts, dwellings now renting for $225 or more, housing accommodations not rented as such since Jan. 1, 1945, and new construction after Feb. 1, 1947.

OPA Set To Fire 2,000 More

Washington, March 27 (AP)—OPA prepared dismissal notices for more than 2,000 additional employés today as it sought to bring operating expenses into line with budget reductions ordered by Congress.

Officials of the agency, which is to end activities by June 30, told newsmen OPA personnel will be cut from 13,000 to approximately 10,900 by May 1.

Hoping For Transfers

"By that time," officials said, "we hope that Congress will have decided upon a program for extending the controls over rents, sugar and rice and that plans will have been completed for transferring a number of employés to the agencies that will carry on the programs."

Congress now is considering proposals to transfer rent controls to the Federal housing expediter, and sugar and rice controls to the Agriculture Department.

How Staff Is Divided

OPA said 6,404 employés now are engaged in handling rent controls in 649 rental areas throughout the country, 1,949 are working on sugar rationing and sugar and rice price controls, and 2,615 are working on enforcement. The remainder of the 13,000 employés are doing administrative, clerical and other work.

The new personnel cuts will bring to nearly 23,000 the number of employés terminated since most price controls were scrapped last November. About 3,000 have been released since January 1.

Military A-Bomb Control Urged By VFW Head

Washington, March 27 (AP)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars asked Congress today to restore atomic-energy control to military authorities, interpreting President Truman's proposal to halt communism in Greece and Turkey as an admission of international difficulties.

Louis E. Starr, V.F.W. commander in chief, told the House Committee on Un-American Activities that the proposal to aid Greece and Turkey is a "frank admission that all is not well on the international scene and that a challenge to democracy and freedom again reared its ugly head."

30. 24-8797

He urged military control of atomic power "to warn the challengers of democracy everywhere that we mean business."

Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R., N.J.) and Representative McDowell (R., Pa.) agreed enthusiastically with Starr on control of atomic power.

"I am with you 100 per cent," Thomas said.

"If we put the atomic bomb in the hands of a group of milquetoasts, we can be certain we will just hurry the day when the bomb will be used against us."

Pending Bill Provides Change

Starr's suggestion is in line with views of some members of Congress. Representative Landis (R., Ind.) has introduced a bill to give direction of atomic power development back to military officials.

The committee is considering legislation to outlaw the Communist party. Starr presented two prepared statements, one dealing with international phases of communism and one with domestic.

The V.F.W. head differed with demands by the American Legion and Amvets that the Communist party in this country be erased.

He said the V.F.W. voted in 1946 for exclusion of Communists from the ballot by law. He said the V.F.W. staff since has weighed the implications that this might violate the Constitution or drive communism under ground.

Urges Public Education

So he suggested for the present an "offensive campaign" of public education directed at communism.

Starr said the V.F.W. is throwing Communists out of its meeting places and organizations bodily. He said it is not "Red baiting"—that there is not enough time for that.

"Surely, it is no secret at this late date," the commander said, "that the Communist party members and their spineless, brainless stooges and fellow travelers have penetrated into our social, educational, religious, industrial, labor and governmental structures."

He said a well-directed and well-conceived "plot is in progress to destroy our present form of government," and questioned whether Congress is playing politics instead of meeting the challenge.

His Suggestions

Starr made these four suggestions for striking at communism:

1. That all kinds of organizations, industry and state and local governments apply the same loyalty tests President Truman has ordered for Federal workers.

2. That laws be strengthened to forbid use of funds coming directly or indirectly from a foreign government for influencing political activity.

3. That a thorough screening of textbooks and courses in schools be required by law.

4. That a Government authority representing all phases of American life draw up a program to expose subversive activities and reinstill basic American ideals in the people.

Starr was not clear in his prepared statement on the subject of bills to outlaw the Communist party. Under questioning, however, he said the VFW favors two measures for that purpose now being considered by the committee.

Likened To Felonies

Representative Vail (R., Ill.) asked about the argument that outlawing the Communist party will drive members underground.

"May we not say the same thing," Starr replied, "about some of our felonies—let us not legislate against robbery or felony because it might drive some of the criminals underground?"

He said Communist activities are "just as much a crime as some of the felonies are."

Representative Nixon (R., Cal.) asked whether there is anything significant about Communist growth on the West Coast. Nixon pointed out that FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover testified yesterday that California, Oregon and Washington are among the first five states with respect to number of enrolled Communists.

Cites Shipping Volume

Starr said:

"Yes, I think it is significant. Much shipping is done from the West Coast, and much raw materials are there. Certainly if this nation is embroiled in another international situation Communists in the northwest and on the Pacific Coast can do much to sabotage our efforts. There is another reason. Alaska is the key to the peace of the world. And it's only a step from Alaska to our West Coast."

Decision Seen Nearly Clinched

Hoover's "grave doubts" of the wisdom of outlawing the Communist party had all but clinched a congressional committee decision on that red-hot issue.

"I would hate," Hoover said, "to see a group not deserving the category of martyrs made martyrs by some law which might later be declared unconstitutional."

Nixon said that the House Committee on Un-American Activities must "give a great deal of weight" to Hoover's ideas. Nixon said legislation to outlaw the Communist party "won't be approved as presently written."

And he implied that no bill to outlaw the party will be approv

Bomb Custodianship Proposed

Physicist Szilard Would Set Up Agencies Functioning as a World Government.

San Francisco, March 27 (A. P.).—Creation of a series of agencies to which the United States would contribute one-tenth of its national income and which would function as a world government within sharply restricted spheres of activity was suggested today by Dr. Leo Szilard, atom bomb physicist, as a possible means of preserving the peace.

As Szilard envisioned his scheme, the United States would be expected to furnish most of the money and goods with which these agencies would carry on their duties. It would act in the spirit of the crusader, paying a relatively heavy price to set an example of good faith before other nations.

Agreat movement of this kind might convince Russia and other countries that an America of such generosity could not be a menace to them, and might pave the way for world government, Szilard said.

Szilard outlined his idea to reporters at a conference on atomic energy control. He told the conference that even if Russia agreed to some form of atomic control such as the Baruch plan, the Soviet Union and the United States eventually could not resolve their differences as long as "relative military strength" governed their relationship.

How Secrecy Delayed Bomb.

His personal proposal, visualizing a "world community," was not presented before the conference. He said it would be published in detail in the near future.

Szilard, Chicago University physicist, who aided in the development of the atomic bomb, testifying before a special Senate committee in Washington investigating atomic energy in December, 1945, declared that unnecessary military secrecy had delayed production of the atomic bomb at least eighteen months.

A chairman of a congressional committee on atomic energy noted that without Szilard's contributions there would be no atomic bomb. Back in 1939, when the Hahn fission of uranium was discovered, Szilard borrowed $2,000, rented a gram of radium and brought to this country from England apparatus he had built there. He was described as a violent anti-Nazi.

A native of Hungary, Szilard became a United States citizen in 1943. He is 49 years old and as a young man wanted to became an engineer, but he took up physics and studied in Berlin, where Einstein and others had constructed a great research center. He moved to England when Germany began to embrace Hitlerism.

Cain Says 12 Of 16 Are Anti-Lilienthal

Washington, March 27 (AP)—Senator Cain (R., Wash.) claimed today that at least twelve of the sixteen first-term Republican senators are against confirmation of David E. Lilienthal as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. Cain is one of them.

The Washington lawmaker gave his estimate of the lineup, while another of Lilienthal's opponents, Senator McKellar (D., Tenn.) was expressing confidence that the nomination will be rejected.

Two Confident Of Confirmation

However, both of Alabama's Democratic senators, Lister Hill and John Sparkman, said they believe the Senate is certain to approve Lilienthal. Both belittled possibility of a last-minute switch in voting by senators who already have announced their intentions.

Forty-nine members, more than a majority of the Senate, have said they are supporting Lilienthal. Twenty-seven say they oppose him and nineteen are uncommitted.

Would Surprise Supporters

If Cain's estimate of the freshmen vote division stands up on the final roll call, it will surprise Lilienthal's supporters. They have been figuring on an even break among the new Republicans.

McKellar has been counting noses himself and said he knows of more than 40 who oppose the nominee. He added this is more than his private poll shows will support Lilienthal.

YUGOSLAVS TO GET POTATOES FROM U.S.

Washington, March 27 (A. P.).—The United States has decided to try to make available an undetermined quantity of surplus potatoes to meet part of Yugoslavia's immediate food needs, the State Department announced today. Ambassador Sava Kosanovic appealed yesterday for 50,000 tons of potatoes and 200,000 tons of grain in the next four months.

In today's announcement, the State Department reiterated that Yugoslavia can expect no grain from the United States before May or June, and then only upon assurances that it would be distributed "efficiently and without discrimination."

Roger Tubby, press officer, said some potatoes will be sold either directly to the Yugoslav Government or to the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, for distribution by UNRRA. A shortage of freight cars in the United States, he said, is considered the primary bottleneck in supplying the potatoes.

Communist Party Secretary Is Labeled A Draft-Dodger

Washington, March 27 (AP)—Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the United States Communist party, was labeled by members of the House Un-American Activities Committee today a draft-dodger and bail jumper.

Representative McDowell (R., Pa.) said Dennis, described by J. Edgar Hoover, FBI chief, as a man of many aliases, was the son of Francis Xavier Waldon, Sr. He said the father died in a state hospital for the insane in 1928.

Representative Nixon (R., Cal.) told the committee he had been informed by the Los Angeles police department that "if Frank Waldon, or Eugene Dennis, as he now calls himself, returns to Los Angeles jurisdiction he will be apprehended and jailed."

Change In Dates Noted

Dennis appeared before the committee yesterday, but was ejected amid shouts of "take him out!" after he refused to say where he was born and what other names he had used. A subpoena was issued for his return on April 9.

Nixon, a committee member, said Dennis is wanted by Los Angeles police on a bench warrant issued after he jumped bail on an appeal bond following his conviction for "attempt to riot" in 1930. He had been sentenced to 180 days in jail and fined $500, Nixon said.

McDowell said Dennis registered for selective service in New York stating that he was born August 10, 1904, at Seattle, Wash., whereas school records show he was born August 10, 1905.

Called "Draft Dodger"

McDowell cited a selective service regulation requiring persons born on or after October 17, 1904 to register by October 16, 1940. He said the date is "vital" with reference to selective service, and declared:

"I think it would be applicable to call this man a draft dodger."

Dennis was not available for comment, but in New York a spokesman at Communist headquarters announced tonight that the New York State Communist party had called a meeting for 2 P.M. Sunday at which Dennis "will answer charges made against him."

The spotlight on Dennis's past was shared by continued lively testimony before the committee, which is considering bills to outlaw the Communist party.

Points To "A Pet Hate"

Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association, defended Hollywood films as the "No. 1 hate" of Communists and told the committee that if the Communists have set out to capture the movie industry "they have suffered an overwhelming defeat."

He said Hollywood Communists have failed to "poison American films" and declared that the industry will "undoubtedly" produce movies showing the evils of communism.

"American films are the target for bitter, organized attack by Communists all over the world," he told the committee.

"The Communists hate and fear American motion pictures."

Before Johnston's testimony, the committee heard Louis E. Starr, commander in chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, voice support for a bill to outlaw the Communist party and demand that control of United States atomic secrets be turned back to the hands of the military, where it was during the war. Control is now exercised by a civilian commission.

"Mission To Moscow" Cited

Johnston said his defense of the movie colony was motivated by FBI Director Hoover's testimony yesterday that the Communists have sought to infiltrate Hollywood. Among other things, Hoover cited the picture "Mission to Moscow" as "a prostitution of historical facts" in commenting on a statement by Representative Mundt (R., S.D.) that the Communists have succeeded in barring anti-Communist propaganda from the movies.

Without mentioning any films by name, Johnston declared that most Communist-dominated countries have almost a complete ban on United States movies.

"American films give the lie by visual evidence to totalitarian propaganda," he said.

Allegiance To Whom?

"The old tale about the breakdown of capitalism in America becomes pretty flimsy stuff after people have had a chance to see our pictures and draw their own conclusions."

Johnston opposed pending bills to outlaw the Communist party but said "the important thing" is to decide whether Communists are foreign agents owing their loyalties and allegiance to Russia.

"I think they do," he said.

Johnston declared that if the Government decides the Communist party is in fact a fifth column, as testified by Hoover. then they should be "dealt with as conspirators," tagged and barred from holding office in any corporation, union or co-operative.

MAR 1947

The evidence is conclusive, he said, that Communists are "a disruptive force in American industry and labor."

Some Prominent Names

Representative Vail (R., Ill.) said testimony before the committee indicated that "several prominent figures in Hollywood" have supported Communist activities. He said he had in mind "March, Robinson, Sinatra, Cagney." He asked Johnston if he they are supporting communism in any way.

Johnston said: "I have no knowledge to that effect."

Vale asked: "If it became known, would you recommend their eliminations?"

Johnston: "If they held offices in their unions and guilds I think they should be prohibited from those offices. If they were Communists, and if proven to be Communists by trial, they should be published."

"Should Be Exposed"

Representative Rankin (D., Miss.) told Johnston: "The man who makes a picture to poison the mind of children is just as dangerous as the man who plants dynamite under a defense plant in time of war."

"I think Communists should be exposed and prevented from holding office," Johnston replied. "But I don't think we are ready for concentration camps yet in America."

"Yet you say you wouldn't prevent them from working in the moving picture industry," Rankin went on.

Johnston said only directors or persons who cut film have any great influence.

"Unless you purge the industry," Rankin declared, "we in Congress are going to have to do it."

"Doing Everything We Can"

"We are doing everything we can," Johnston replied.

"I'm surprised at your attitude," Rankin snapped. "I think you are going to have to revise it and join in this crusade. You can't wink at them in the motion-picture industry."

"We are not winking at them, Mr. Rankin," Johnston returned. "I want to tell you right now there is no more American group in America than in Hollywood."

Rankin: "I know some things perhaps you don't know and I can tell you they need a housecleaning. And I think you're the man to start it."

Later Rankin suggested again that there be a housecleaning or the movies will be discredited.

"How would you suggest we do it, Mr. Rankin?" the witness inquired.

Thought Of Veterans Group

"I suggest you get as busy as the FBI does."

Starr proposed as a "security recommendation" the repeal of the act which vests control over atomic energy in the civilian commission appointed by the President, and two committee members agreed with him.

Starr said the Veterans of Foreign Wars favors the two bills now before the House committee which would outlaw the Communist party, either by prohibiting its political activities or making membership illegal.

He said one of the significant things about Communist growth on the West Coast is that "Alaska is the key to the peace of the world and Alaska is only a step from our West Coast."

Italy a Member Of World Bank, Its 42d Nation

First Ex-Enemy Country's Share Is $360,000,000; Plea for Loan Expected

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP).—Italy formally joined the International Bank and Monetary Fund today, thus becoming the first former enemy country to be accepted into the twin multi-billion-dollar institutions.

Italian Ambassador Alberto Tarchiani signed the articles of agreement on behalf of his country at a ceremony at the bank and fund headquarters.

The Italian government's application for membership was approved at the first annual meeting of the bank and fund's board of governors in Washington in October.

Italy's quota in the fund and bank will be $360,000,000.

By signing the articles, Italy becomes the forty-second country to join the fund and bank. Syria and Lebanon, whose applications for membership were approved at the same time, must join by April 15.

Although no announcement was made, Italy is expected to apply for a substantial loan from the bank soon.

Federal Reserve Gives Space For World Bank

New York, March 27 (AP)—The Federal Reserve Bank has set aside space on the fifth floor of its building at 33 Liberty street for the new World Bank office, scheduled to open April 15, it was learned today.

The International Bank for Reconstruction and Development yesterday named E. Fleetwood Dunstan, vice president of Bankers Trust Company of New York, to head the new office. Announcement of the appointment was made by John J. McCloy, president of the World Bank, at Washington.

Dunstan, as director of marketing, will have charge of arrangements relating to the sale of forthcoming debentures.

Hungary Gets Added $15,000,000 In Credit

Washington, March 27 (AP)—The Foreign Liquidation Commission announced today signing of an agreement giving Hungary an additional $15,000,000 credit which it may use in buying United States surplus property. With a previous $15,000,000 loan, Hungary has now received a total of $30,000,000 in credits.

The Commission is the agency to sell surplus property abroad. Its credits allow the buyer to get the goods now and pay for them in installments.

Swedish Business Deals Freed From Restrictions

Washington, March 27 (AP)—Business transactions with Sweden were freed from Government restrictions today.

The Treasury announced also that the way had been opened to Swedish residents to recover some $366,200,000 of their assets frozen in this country since 1941. The owners must get certificates from the Swedish foreign exchange office.

Bank Considers Cotton Export Loan

Washington, March 27 (A. P.).—The Export-Import Bank is considering a $20,000,000 loan to finance purchase of raw American cotton for the British and American zones in Germany.

Government officials reported today that a group of American cotton exporters has applied to the bank for $19,000,000 in credit to enable them to ship cotton. The exporters are willing to add $1,000,000 in credit themselves, these officials said.

ONLY 3 ALLIES GIVE SHIPS BACK TO NAVY

WASHINGTON, March 27 (U.P.)—The Navy said tonight that Great Britain, Mexico and Panama were the only countries to return any of the 4,795 naval units turned over to the allies under the lend-lease program during the war.

Russia and France are the two countries with the heaviest outstanding loans, while sixteen other nations retain the naval craft leased to them by the Navy.

According to Feb. 1 figures, 2,216 units have been returned, 643 were lost in the war and 1,943 remain to be returned "prior to termination of World War II."

Great Britain received 3,656 naval units. This included thirty-seven escort carriers, seventy-eight destroyer escorts and numerous landing craft, minesweepers and auxiliary vessels.

Of these, two carriers were sunk and thirty-five returned; seven D-E's were sunk, seventy were returned and one still remains in British possession.

In all, the British lost 635 lend-lease craft, returned 2,207 and owe another 814.

Mexico received seven units and Panama two. These were returned.

Russia leased 580 small craft, the Navy reported, and as of Feb. 1 had returned none. Three P-T boats lent to Russia were lost.

France, which leased 247 vessels including six D-E's, lost four small units and returned none.

U.S. Residents Sent 296 Million Abroad

125 Million in Gift Parcels Also Mailed Last Year

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP).—Residents of the United States sent $296,900,000 to friends and relatives in other countries in 1946, the Commerce Department estimated today. In addition, gift parcels valued at $125,500,000 were sent abroad.

The money sent was $10,500,000 more than in 1945 and $100,000,000 more than in 1944, the department said. Nearly half of the 1946 money, or $143,800,000, went to Europe, while $86,500,000 went to people of Canada, Mexico and Latin America; $1,900,000 to Africa, $60,000,000 to Asia and $4,700,000 to Australia and other Pacific Ocean Islands.

Among individual countries, Mexico got the largest sum, $44,000,000. Much of this represented money earned in this country by Mexican workers—largely engaged in farm work—and sent home to their families.

Other large sums went out as follows: Italy, $26,000,000; China, $20,200,000; Hongkong, $24,600,000; Great Britain and Northern Ireland, $17,400,000; Bermuda and other British dependencies in the Caribbean, $12,200,000; Canada, $11,700,000.

Persons in Greece, for which Congress is now considering loan aid, got $11,000,000 from people in this country. A total of $10,800,000 went to Switzerland, $10,700,000 to Sweden, $10,300,000 to Spain and $4,300,000 to Palestine.

United States residents sent $600,000 to Russia and the same amount to Egypt, the smallest sums recorded for any place listed in the report.

UNESCO GROUP DIVIDED

National Commission Unable to Agree on New Members

PHILADELPHIA, March 27 (AP)—A three-hour debate over the selection of ten new groups to receive representation marked the closing session of the National Commission of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization today.

The meeting was closed, but spokesmen said it involved a heated argument with one group favoring more representation by youth groups and another urging the admittance o° older organizations.

When it became apparent that no agreement could be reached, the spokesman said, the matter was referred back to the executive committee of the commission for further action.

Full membership of the commission is set at 100 but at present only ninety are serving.

Milton G. Eisenhower, Commission chairman, presided at today's session. The next meeting will be held in Chicago Sept. 12, 13 and 14.

Vet Paid In Canada Denied GI Jobless Pay

Washington, March 27 (AP)—The Veterans Administration has ruled that Americans who accepted veterans out-of-work benefits from foreign governments are out of luck when it comes to collecting unemployment pay under the GI bill.

The administration laid down this rule in denying the appeal of a United States citizen who served in the Royal Canadian Navy and accepted about $170 from Canada as a "rehabilitation allowance."

The veteran received the Canadian benefits in amounts ranging from $13 to $9 a week while attempting to operate a poultry farm.

Applied On Return To U.S.

Returning to the United States, he applied for GI-bill unemployment pay. The United States benefits amount to as much as $20 a week for 52 weeks, compared with Canada's maximum of $50 a month for twelve months. The official United States and Canadian terms for the payments are readjustment allowance and rehabilitation allowance, respectively.

The Veterans Administration ruled that the Canadian payments are similar to the American, even though the amounts are smaller. It held that a veteran who might have been able to collect as much as $1,040 in a year in the United States forfeits his entire United States claim when he accepts even as little as one weekly payment in Canada.

Churchill's Son at Fulton, Sees Father 'Vindicated'

FULTON, Mo. March 27 (AP).—Randolph Churchill said today that "seldom has any one been so vindicated in so short a time" as his father, Winston Churchill, Great Britain's war-time Prime Minister.

The younger Churchill spoke today at Westminster College from the same platform where his father a year ago issued a blunt warning of what he termed the desire of the Soviet Union for "indefinite expansion of its power and doctrines."

The speaker recalled the "shock and horror" with which his father's Fulton speech was received in many quarters, and added: "It is amusing to contrast it with what is going on today. . . . It seems tame by comparison. . . . Every danger he warned of has become more obvious."

Mr. Churchill was invited to address the student body after he had expressed a desire to Dr. Franc L. McCluer, the college president, to speak from the same platform from which the elder Churchill spoke.

Production And Jobs Stay At Peace Peak

Washington, March 27 (AP)—Industrial output and employment kept at record peacetime levels through February and the first half of March, the Federal Reserve Board reported today.

Its index of industrial production, which takes into account seasonal factors, remained in February at the peak rate reached in January—88 per cent above the prewar average.

Production of durable goods during February and early March was slightly above the January rate, due principally to a new postwar peak in output of automobiles and trucks and a greater-than-seasonal gain in production of lumber and other building materials.

House Passes Bill To Keep Draft Records

Washington, March 27 (AP)—The House passed a bill today to preserve draft records and liquidate the Selective Service System by March 31, 1948.

The bill, returned to the Senate for concurrence in amendments, would establish an office of selective service records with no authority to make inductions after Monday, when the draft law expires.

The House amendments require that the 12,000 selective service employés be reduced to 5,000 by June 1 and to 1,200 by November 1. The records of draft boards in each state would be assembled at a state headquarters, instead of retained in each county as provided in the Senate bill.

GRUBER SAID HE WAS ANXIOUS THAT THE FOREIGN MINISTERS DEAL FAIRLY WITH THE PROBLEM OF DEFINING GERMAN ASSETS. HE SAID AUSTRIA WOULD LIKE TO SEE CREATION OF MEDIATION MACHINERY TO TAKE CARE OF ANY CONFLICTS THAT ARISE IN CONNECTION WITH THE MATTER.

MEANWHILE THE CONFERENCE RECEIVED A REPORT THAT THE FREE STATE OF TRIESTE WAS IN NEED OF $5,000,000 TO BOLSTER ITS SAGGING ECONOMY.

TRIESTE'S FINANCIAL CONDITION WAS DISCLOSED IN A DISCUSSION BY THE MINISTERS IN WHICH BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES REJECTED A YUGOSLAV PLEA THAT IT BE HEARD ON THE SUBJECT DURING THE MOSCOW CONFERENCE. MARSHALL SAID THAT IF YUGOSLAVIA WERE INVITED THEN ITALY SHOULD ALSO BE REPRESENTED.

BEVIN SAID THE COUNCIL'S COMMISSION ON TRIESTE FINANCES WAS DIVIDED ON THE RECOMMENDATION THAT TRIESTE BE GIVEN $5,000,000, WHICH PRESUMABLY WOULD HAVE TO COME FROM THE UNITED STATES SINCE OTHER COUNTRIES WERE NOT IN A FINANCIAL POSITION TO HELP.

NO AGREEMENT WAS REACHED ON THIS POINT, AND IT BECAME ONE OF THE MANY UNDECIDED ISSUES WHICH WILL BE REFERRED TO THE COUNCIL.

THE RUSSIANS, HOWEVER, DID AGREE TO THE AMERICAN PROPOSAL -- SUPPORTED BY BRITAIN AND FRANCE -- THAT THE EXCESS OF WAR MATERIAL OF NON-ALLIED ORIGIN IN AUSTRIA, AND ALSO SPECIAL WAR PRODUCTION PLANTS, SHALL BE "RENDERED UNUSEABLE FOR MILITARY PURPOSES OR DESTROYED." THE RUSSIANS HAVE INSISTED THAT THE MATERIAL BE TURNED OVER TO THE OCCUPYING POWERS. ADD-MOSCOW-(DAY-MOLOTOV YIELDS-)XYX TREATY

ONE SOURCE SAID ALL THE MILITARY CLAUSES NOW HAD BEEN PUT IN A FORM READY FOR A REPORT TO THE COUNCIL.

TODAY'S SESSION OF THE COUNCIL OF FOREIGN MINISTERS COMMENCED AT 4 P.M. (8 A.M., EASTERN STANDARD TIME.)

PROSPECTS FOR COMPLETING A PEACE PACT FOR AUSTRIA--WHICH HAD APPEARED BRIGHT--HIT A SNAG LATE LAST NIGHT WHEN IT WAS DISCLOSED THAT RUSSIA HAD REJECTED AN AMERICAN PROPOSAL TO TACKLE IMMEDIATELY THE KEY LOG IN THE JAM: DEFINITION OF GERMAN ASSETS IN AUSTRIA.

THE MINISTERS THEMSELVES TALKED FOR NEARLY FIVE HOURS YESTERDAY WITHOUT REACHING A SINGLE DECISIVE AGREEMENT ON THE GERMAN OR THE AUSTRIAN TREATY AND SECRETARY OF STATE GEORGE C. MARSHALL SOMBERLY DECLARED THAT THE COUNCIL WAS BECOMING SO "ENSNARLED" THAT "REASONABLE PROGRESS IS UNFORTUNATELY REMOTE."

THIS SITUATION WAS PARALLELED IN A SPECIAL BIG FOUR COORDINATING COMMITTEE, WHICH HAS BEEN WORKING OVERTIME SINCE LAST WEEK SIMPLY TO LIST THE ITEMS OF AGREEMENT AND DISAGREEMENT ON GERMAN ISSUES THUS FAR DISCUSSED WITHOUT YET APPROACHING THE END OF ITS TASK.

ACTUALLY, DIPLOMATIC INFORMANTS SAID, GRIM CONFLICTS OF IMPORTANT POWER INTERESTS--AMONG THEM CONTROL OF ANY FUTURE GERMAN PEACE CONFERENCE--LIE BENEATH THE SURFACE DISAGREEMENTS.

ON THE PRIME QUESTION OF WHAT CONSTITUTES GERMAN ASSETS IN AUSTRIA, SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTER V. M. MOLOTOV TOLD MARSHALL IN A NOTE LAST NIGHT THAT THIS DEFINITION ALREADY HAS BEEN ENUNCIATED BY THE ALLIED CONTROL COUNCIL IN BERLIN AND THAT THE RUSSIANS HAVE EVERY RIGHT TO TAKE SUCH ASSETS FROM AUSTRIA AS THEY HAVE BEEN DOING TO PAY GERMAN REPARATIONS.

THE AMERICAN POSITION IS THAT A SPECIAL DEFINITION IS NEEDED TO

MAR 1947

BE APPLICABLE TO ALL ZONES OF AUSTRIA TO PREVENT INDUSTRIAL STRIPPING OF THE COUNTRY. THEY HOLD THAT GERMAN INTERESTS ACQUIRED IN AUSTRIA UNDER FORCE AND DURESS AFTER ANSCHLUSS CANNOT PROPERLY BE CONSIDERED GERMAN ASSETS FOR REPARATIONS PURPOSES. IN GENERAL, THE BRITISH ARE IN AGREEMENT.

MOLOTOV'S NOTE, HOWEVER, LEFT LITTLE DOUBT THAT THE RUSSIANS ARE STANDING FIRM ON THEIR RIGHT TO KEEP WHAT THEY ALREADY HAVE TAKEN AND TO TAKE WHATEVER ELSE FALLS UNDER THE PRESENT DEFINITION. IT ALSO DEMONSTRATED HOW SQUARELY OPPOSED WERE THE AMERICANS AND RUSSIANS ON THIS VITAL PROBLEM.

WHAT MANY AUTHORITIES VIEW AS A STRUGGLE FOR CONTROL OF THE COMING GERMAN PEACE CONFERENCE REVOLVES AROUND THE QUESTION OF HOW MANY ALLIED STATES WILL PARTICIPATE WITH THE BIG FOUR AND CHINA.

MARSHALL AND BRITISH FOREIGN SECRETARY ERNEST BEVIN ARE URGING THE LARGEST POSSIBLE ASSEMBLAGE, TO INCLUDE EVERY NATION WHICH WAS AT WAR WITH GERMANY; WHILE MOLOTOV WANTS ONLY THOSE NATIONS WHICH ACTUALLY FOUGHT AGAINST THE NAZIS TO BE REPRESENTED.

Moscow, March 27-(AP)-The Text of Secretary Marshall's statement on the Yugoslav request to be heard on the Trieste financial question (200):

The United States delegation does not believe it necessary to invite the Yugoslav government to sent representatives to present their views concerning the report of the commission on the financial situation in the free territory of Trieste. If Yugoslavia should be given a hearing, obviously the Italian government should also be invited to present its view. ~~I~~ am informed that in accordance with its terms of reference, which provided for consultation with Yugoslav and Italian authorities in Trieste, the commission during its work there in January and February was in constant consultation with these authorities. It is therefore to be assumed that both the Italian and Yugoslav governments are fully informed concerning the work of this commission.

MAR 1947

The report is of a technical nature and deals with financial assistance which the free territory of Trieste, when established, will require. BY EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, MARCH 27-(AP)-THE SPRING THAW WAS IN FULL SWING IN MOSCOW TODAY BUT THERE WERE NO SIGNS THAT THE WARM SUN WOULD TEND TO BREAK THE FREEZE-UP IN THE FOREIGN MINISTERS COUNCIL.

THE SUN, BREAKING THROUGH LEADEN CLOUDS SPASMODICALLY, FILLED MOSCOW'S SIDE STREETS WITH SLUSH, AND, COUPLED WITH A SAD SPRING WIND OFF THE MUSCOVITE PLAIN, CAUSED SOME DELEGATES TO GLANCE LONGINGLY AT THEIR LUGGAGE AND WHISPER ABOUT HOME.

IT REALLY WASN'T SPRING FEVER, BUT LACK OF CONFERENCE PROGRESS, AND WORD WAS BRUITED ABOUT IN SOME QUARTERS THAT CERTAIN HIGH PERSONAGES WOULDN'T BE HANGING AROUND MOSCOW FOR LONG IF THERE WASN'T A LITTLE PROGRESS SOON IN THE COUNCIL.

SUCH DEPARTURES WOULD NOT NECESSARILY MEAN THAT THE CONFERENCE WOULD FOLD UP, SINCE DEPUTY FOREIGN MINISTERS MIGHT BE ASSIGNED TO GO AHEAD WITH THE JOB ON THE AUSTRIAN AND GERMAN PEACE TREATIES, BUT BY NOW PRETTY NEARLY EVERYONE HAS AN OPINION OF HOW THIS WOULD WORK OUT.

THE VISITING FOREIGN MINISTERS WHO HAS NOT HAD SUCH AN AUDIENCE.

WHETHER PROPERLY OR IMPROPERLY, MOST OBSERVERS HERE ARE INTERPRETING THAT FACT AS AN INDICATION OF THE KREMLIN'S DISPLEASURE WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S PROGRAM FOR U.S. AID TO GREECE AND TURKEY, ALTHOUGH MANY SUSPECT THAT RUSSIA STILL IS MAKING MEDICINE AND IS NOT QUITE READY FOR A CONFERENCE WITH MARSHALL.

THE RUSSIAN PEOPLE, WHO HAD HIGH HOPES FOR THE SUCCESS OF THE BIG FOUR CONFERENCE WHEN IT CONVENED, HAVE GROWN PESSIMISTIC SINCE THE PRESIDENT'S SPEECH ON GREECE AND TURKEY MARCH 12. ONE RUSSIAN EVEN ASKED THIS CORRESPONDENT IF THE UNITED STATES WAS THINKING OF ATTACKING THE SOVIET UNION.

IN PREVIOUS INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCES, DIPLOMATIC INFORMANTS SAID, ANY LACK OF PROGRESS HAS SEEMED TO MILITATE AGAINST THE UNITED STATES, SINCE HER REPRESENTATIVES SEEMED TO THINK IT IMPERATIVE THAT THEY TAKE HOME SOME KIND OF AGREEMENT, AND COMPROMISED AT THE LAST MINUTE TO GET SOME.

THIS TIME, HOWEVER, THE AMERICAN OUTLOOK SEEMS TO HAVE CHANGED AND THE DELEGATION HERE NOW FEELS IT CAN QUITE CONCEIVABLY GO HOME WITHOUT ANY AGREEMENTS IF NONE ARE POSSIBLE WITHOUT UNPROFITABLE COMPROMISES.

INFORMANTS CLOSE TO ATTLEE SAID THEY AGREED THERE MIGHT BE AN "EARLY" RESHUFFLE IN THE CABINET BUT DISCOUNTED THE RUMORS THAT BEVIN WOULD BE DISPLACED.

LABOR LEGISLATORS WHO PRECIPITATED A REBELLION AGAINST BEVIN'S POLICIES LAST FALL SAID GOVERNMENT DENIALS OF A CHANGE IN BEVIN'S STATUS COULD BE EXPECTED INASMUCH AS THE GOVERNMENT DID NOT WISH TO WEAKEN HIS POSITION IN THE FOREIGN MINISTERS COUNCIL AT MOSCOW.

HOWEVER, THE TIMES ADDED, "THE COMMISSION'S REPORT MAY EXPOSE AND REMOVE MANY OF THE FALLACIOUS OPINIONS ABOUT THE PRESS WHICH HAVE LED TO ITS OWN APPOINTMENT, AND IF THERE ARE USEFUL REMEDIES WHICH CAN BE APPLIED, IT MAY ENCOURAGE THE PRESS ITSELF TO APPLY THEM"

Truman's Policy on Greece Is Stop-Gap, Austin Assures UN Security Body

Russia Declares She Will Have Reply Ready in Ten Days

LINAUER (N)

LAKE SUCCESS, March 28 (AP)—Warren R. Austin told the security council today that President Truman's proposal to bolster Greece and Turkey was a stop-gap peace-keeping measure intended to serve only until the United Nations could take over.

Russia to Reply

Russia promptly gave notice that she would have a reply ready for the council in 10 days.

Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister, said that it was a "very important" question and that he needed time for study. Presumably the Austin text already was en route to the Kremlin.

Gromyko had held up the start of Austin's major policy speech to the council for 10 minutes in a wrangle over procedure.

The Russian delegate insisted the address opened up a whole new issue distinct from the Greek border incidents which led to creation of the council's investigating commission now in the Bankans.

Overruled by the chairman, Gromyko said that he, at least, would consider it an entirely new question. He did not oppose Austin speaking.

Off the floor Gromyko said: "I have no comment (on Austin's speech) for the time being. My comment will be later."

Oscar Lange, Polish delegate who consistently votes with Gromyko on major issues, called the speech "a great victory for the United Nations."

Power Of Public Opinion

"It shows the power of public opinion, the power of the American people," Lange added.

Dr. Oswaldo Aranha, of Brazil, retiring chairman, saw the United States policy as "the best way to co-operate with the United Nations."

Dr. Quo Tai-chi, of China, who picks up the gavel next week and will be presiding when the subject is debated April 7, said the American stand was "in harmony with the purposes of the United Nations and was intended to strengthen rather than weaken" the peace agency.

Many Spectators

Austin delivered his keenly-awaited speech against a backdrop of movie cameras in a chamber overflowing with more than 400 spectators.

He contended that the administration's plan to provide $400,000,000 aid for Greece and Turkey actually would strengthen the UN and said the UN must put down threats of aggression anywhere in the world.

After Poland, Australia and France joined Gromyko in asking for time in which to study Austin's speech, the council set Easter Monday for hearing reaction.

The delegates then turned to resumption of debate on the United States proposal to take over the Japanese-Mandated islands under a strategic area trusteeship.

Canada, India, Australia, the Netherlands and the Philippines indorsed the American trusteeship proposal. New Zealand indicated it still wanted to wait for signing of the Japanese peace treaties. The council adjourned until next Wednesday when it will resume discussions on the case.

Of Emergency Nature

Laying Washington's policy before the council for the first time, the American delegate made it clear that the United States hoped the UN soon would be able to solve the problems contributing to the "tragedy of Greece."

"The program of economic assistance contemplated by the United States is of an emergency and temporay character," Austin emphasized as he carefully read a 3,000-word address drafted with approval of President Truman.

"The United States believes that the United Nations and its related agencies should assume the principal responsibility, within their capabilities, for the long-range tasks of assistance required for the reconstruction of Greece."

Specifically, Austin called upon the council to keep a border commission in northern Greece where he said "the danger of border violations obviously is increasing." He also asked that the council's temporary 11-nation commission now in the Balkans speed its report here for action.

In Milder Terms

Couched in milder terms than President Truman used in his recent appeal to congress for aid to Greece and Turkey, Austin's speech made no reference to assignment of military advisers to the two countries nor did he mention totalitarian threats. In the latter point he said pointedly that "armed bands are defying authority in northern Greece and threatening the integrity of the state."

MAR 1947

However, Austin spared no words in calling upon the UN to prevent aggression anywhere in the world as he said firmly:

"It is important that the United Nations take an active interest in all that is required for the re-establishment of stability, to discourage and prevent threats of aggression of any kind, or threats to the independence of a fellow member, and to afford opportunity to her people to enhance their welfare and dignity."

In defining the clear support of the United States for such a policy, Austin declared that "President Truman's message to congress comprehended more than Greece and Turkey when he spoke of conditions in the world affecting the security of the United States through the insecurity of the world. He then added:

"The United States does not desire to dominate, intimidate or threaten the security of any nation, large or small.

"The United States respects, of course, the right of all members of the United Nations to follow whatever way of life or system of government they choose, so long as the choice is freely made without intimidation and so long as such nations do not interfere with the rights of other countries or the liberties of other peoples."

In linking the American program to the UN, Austin said he anxiously awaited the report of the council's Balkan commission, and declared:

"It is apparent that the security council may wish to consider after receipt of the report such further action as recommending that Greece, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania agree on a system of border control regulations and that a continuing commission made up of representatives of members of the security council be established. Under this commission neutral observers could be employed to keep constant watch against violations of the border regulations agreed upon."

Austin made little reference to Turkey in the address, pointing out that she had asked for financial help and noting that the United States already had provided $95,000,000 in lend-lease. In the case of Greece, he said the American government had provided the Athens government with $442,140,000 through contributions to UNRRA or direct aid.

Discussing the economic plight of Greece, Austin said the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development "soon will be ready to begin its loan program" and that the "emergency and temporary economic assistance" contemplated by the United States might eventually qualify the Athens government for loans.

Other UN developments included:

1. Great Britain was expected to toss the Palestine case to the UN within 24 hours, with a suggestion for a special session of the 55-nation general assembly to set up machinery for tackling that explosive issue. This development came after the United States was reported to have advised London that it had no objection to such a session.

2. China laid before the commission on conventional armaments a working plan calling for simultaneous action by sub-committees on world arms reduction and creation of a system of safeguards.

Col. W. R Hodgson, Australian minister to Paris, took over the chairmanship of the arms commission following the resignation of Paul Hasluck from government service. Hodgson later sat in for Australia to hear Austin's security council speech and also will represent his country on the atomic energy commission and the commission on human rights. Norman J. O. Makin, ambassador to Washington, took the Australian seat on the trusteeship council formerly held by Hodgson.

3. In Washington, Rep. Judd (R-Minn) suggested at a house hearing that United Nations officials be invited to "observe" operation of American aid to Greece and Turkey.

Austin To Explain U.S. Aid Plan To U.N.

MAR (?) 1947

Lake Success, N.Y., March 28 (AP)—Warren R. Austin was expected to tell the Security Council today that President Truman's program to help Greece and Turkey resist totalitarian pressure would strengthen the United Nations.

The United States representative to the United Nations was scheduled to deliver a major American policy speech to the Council late today.

Austin's speech was interpreted as representing the top-level bipartisan view of the United States on foreign policy.

It was drafted after consultations with President Truman, Senators Arthur Vandenberg (R., Mich.) and Tom Connally (D., Texas), present and past chairmen, respectively, of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and others.

Copies To Russia

Copies of the speech were given in advance last night to Russia and other members of the Security Council. The advance distribution emphasized the importance the United States attaches to Austin's remarks.

The 3,000-word address, which will probably take 25 minutes to deliver, was expected to clarify the whole broad American position toward Greece and Turkey and United States relations with the United Nations.

Sources close to Austin said he would peg the speech on the Greek problem as it stands before the Council itself, which now has an eleven-nation investigating commission operating in the Balkans.

Gromyko May Talk

While Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister and delegate to the United Nations, hardly had the Austin text far enough ahead for communication with Moscow, there was the possibility that he would seize on the opportunity to deliver another attack against the Greek Government.

It was understood that Austin would not present any complaints of Russian-inspired pressure along the borders of Greece, but would, however, make it clear that the United States—as President Truman said in his speech to Congress — intends to combat the spread of communism.

Austin was expected further to explain that America's projected $400,000,000 aid program for Greece and Turkey was aimed at strengthening the United Nations, and not, as some of Mr. Truman's critics have complained, designed to bypass the world organization.

Not An Apology

Sources close to Austin emphasized that his speech would be anything but a defense of or an apology for the new American policy, which Moscow newspapers have already charged is contrary to the principles of the United Nations Charter.

It was understood that he would devote almost all of his speech to the Greek problem, with little more than passing reference to Turkey.

Although President Truman gave a detailed announcement of the new American policy, Austin was expected to touch on some "new angles."

Balkan Commission

Authoritative sources reported at the time of President Truman's speech to Congress that the United States delegation was considering a proposal that the United Nations establish a permanent Balkan commission to watch over the frontiers of Greece, Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia.

Whether Austin would touch on this was not known.

Although the United States is at present taking a lone hand regarding aid to Greece and Turkey, Senators Vandenberg and Connally hinted yesterday in Washington that America would leave the door open for future United Nations participation in the proposed assistance program.

Thus, it was expected that Austin would explain what American spokesman have contended all along—that the United States is acting in an emergency at a time when the United Nations is not in a position to handle such a burden.

The text of Austin's speech follows:

Mr. President, I greatly appreciate the kindness of my colleagues in having permitted a short postponement of our consideration of today's business in order that I might have a few days in Washington.

Mr. President, the United States asked that Item No. 7 of the March 21 summary statement on matters of which the Security Council is seized, the Greek question, be placed on the agenda of this meeting in order that I might make a statement on behalf of the United States concerning this question.

Complaint By Greece

The United States believes that the Security Council should assure itself that we are agreed as to the manner in which the commission now investigating disturbances along the northern Greek border can most effectively assist the Council in our further consideration of the complaint brought by the Greek Government.

My principal concern is that the commission continues its work, including its investigation along the northern Greek border, until the Security Council itself has disposed of the Greek case.

It is also necessary that the commission members, following the preparation of its first report, come to the seat of the United Nations and be available to the Security Council until the termination of our consideration of the Greek complaint. The commission should be available to prepare such supplementary reports as we may need. It should be ready to undertake additional investigations if those are required.

Report Of Facts

The commission has already been directed, in the resolution of the Security Council of 19 December, 1946, to "submit to the Security Council at the earliest possible date a report of the facts disclosed by its investigation."

The United States hopes that the first report of the commission will be prepared and forwarded with all possible speed following the completion of its present schedule of investigations. Under the commission's present schedule it will start preparation of this report in Geneva on April 7.

The snows in northern Greece are melting and winter is giving way to spring. We may expect an intensification of the activities of guerrilla bands operating in this area. In this situation the danger of border violations obviously is increased.

Leave Representation

In these circumstances the United States believes that it is of the utmost importance that the commission leave representation in the border area during the time both of the preparation of its report in Geneva and the Security Council's consideration of its report here in New York.

Such representatives would be able to report immediately any violations of the border and to furnish the commission and the Security Council with any additional information which might come to light or be needed in dealing with the case. The presence of representatives of the United Nations on the spot would also inevitably have the effect of stabilizing the situation pending Security Council action.

The United States understands the resolution creating the commission of investigation as giving the commission full authority to leave representation in Greece during the next few weeks.

Implicit In Resolution

It is implicit in the resolution and its purpose that the commission would continue in existence until the Security Council either disposes of the Greek case or acts to terminate the commission's existence.

The Government of the United States has a special and pressing interest in effective action by the Security Council in the Greek case.

I do not need to recall to the Security Council the desperate plight of Greece and of the Greek people or the great concern of the United States in preventing her collapse.

Three times the story of her tragedy and her danger has been heard by this Council. One aspect of the tragedy that threatens to destroy her freedom and independence is now under active investigation by the Security Council's commission of investigation in northern Greece.

Destruction—By Germans

Another aspect of the tragedy of Greece—the destruction wrought by the Germans to her economy and her society—has also received the attention of members and agencies of the United Nations.

Without the assistance of UNRRA, Great Britain and the United States, the people of Greece would not have been able to survive at all since the day of her liberation more than two years ago.

UNRRA has furnished Greece $362,000,000 of food and other relief and rehabilitation assistance. Of this amount the United States, upon whose initiative UNRRA was in the first place brought into existence in November, 1943, supplied 72 per cent of $260,640,000.

In addition, the United States has authorized since liberation $181,500,000 in other economic and financial assistance, including lend-lease, surplus property and Export-Import Bank loans and ships and shipping services by the United States Maritime Commission. Most of this amount has been spent or committed.

Shipments End This Month

UNRRA is going out of existence and will make no more shipments after March 31. Last month the British Government informed the United States that it would be obliged to discontinue on March 31 its financial, economic and advisory assistance to both Greece and Turkey.

The aid that Greece has received until now has kept the Greek people alive and little more. Greece is still prostrate because the damage to her economy, her system of law and order and her whole society wrought by the Nazi occupation was so great, and because of the operations of guerrilla bands and other factors.

On March 3 the Government of Greece addressed to the Government of the United States an urgent appeal for immediate additional economic, financial and expert assistance. It declared Greece could not survive without this aid.

Destruction Complete

It declared "the determination of the Greek people to do all in their power to restore Greece as a self-supporting, self-respecting democracy," but that "the destruction in Greece had been so complete as to rob the Greek people of the power to meet the situation by themselves."

Turkey had asked the United States for financial assistance at various times during the months preceding the notification by Great Britain that she would be forced to discontinue her economic and advisory assistance on March 31. The United States provided Turkey with $95,000,000 in lend-lease assistance during and immediately after the war, but had been unable to act upon her recent requests.

On March 12, 1947, the President of the United States proposed to the Congress a program of assistance which he believed would result in meeting the immediate requirements of Greece and would materially contribute to that country's economic and political recovery. It would also permit the extension of financial and advisory assistance to help meet the needs of Turkey.

Legislation Introduced

On March 18, 1947, legislation was introduced into the Congress of the United States which, if approved, may give legislative sanction to specific proposals based upon the recommendations of the President.

The Congress of the United States now has the proposed legislation under active consideration. The Government of the United States, as the President and Congress have fully demonstrated, believes that the whole world should be fully informed of the acts, the motives and the purposes of the United States.

The proposed program has been presented in public. The committees of Congress are holding hearings in public during which the proposals are being submitted to the most close and careful examination. The program will have been fully and exhaustively debated by the Congress and the whole American people before the Congress takes final action. Congress must make the decision.

Article 102 Of Charter

In accordance with Article 102 of the Charter, the United States will immediately register with the United Nations for publication by the secretary general copies of agreements connected with the execution of this program which may be entered into between Greece and the United States or between Turkey and the United States.

The proposed program of assistance has a specific and direct bearing upon the central objectives of United States foreign policy—to strengthen the United Nations and to advance the building of collective security under the United Nations. It would, in fact, be a most essential act in support of this policy of the United States in and toward the United Nations. As the President said:

"In helping free and independent nations to maintain their freedom, the United States will be giving effect to the principles of the Charter of the United Nations."

30.24-8809

Related To Commission

The proposed program of assistance by the United States is directly related to the act of the United Nations in creating a commission of investigation.

Armed bands are defying authority in northern Greece and threatening the integrity of the state. On the one hand, the activities of these bands have helped to make the threat of economic chaos and political anarchy throughout Greece so grevious and imminent that Greece has found it necessary to call upon the United States for immediate economic and advisory assistance in order to maintain the very existence of the Greek state. On the other hand, the situation on the frontiers itself is made far more dangerous by the economic paralysis and weakness inside Greece.

Highest Importance

The United States believes that it is of the highest importance that the United Nations take further action toward meeting the urgent problems confronting Greece as it should for any other country that may be in similar circumstances.

I have already indicated certain methods of operation which, in our opinion, would make the work of the commission of investigation more effective.

I do not anticipate in any way the substance of the report of the commission. Yet it is apparent that the Security Council may wish to consider after receipt of the report such further action as recommending that Greece, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania agree on a system of border control regulations and that a continuing commission made up of representatives of members of the Security Council be established.

Under this commission neutral observers could be employed to keep constant watch against violations of the border regulations agreed upon. The commission could be authorized to act under Article 33 as an agency for the peaceful settlement of those disputes among the four countries arising from border difficulties.

Action along these lines by the Security Council, combined with the proposed emergency program of assistance by the United States, would advance the prospects of peace and security in that part of the world. Neither action would be of as much effect if taken without the other, for these are complementary, not conflicting proposals —one to watch areas where actual disturbances occur—the other to strengthen Greece sufficiently to maintain internal order, and to restore to her people hope and confidence in their future as a free people.

Might Deteriorate

Without such measures, each supplementing the other, there is grave danger that the situation which is now before the Security Council might deteriorate.

It is partly to prevent such a development that the United States took the initiative in proposing establishment of the commission of investigation in the first place and is now considering its response to the Greek request for aid.

The United States regards it as an obligation under the Charter, as well as a matter of elementary self-interest, for every member of the United Nations to do its utmost to bring about the peaceful adjustment of any international situation before it becomes a threat to the peace.

Peace And Equality

It is my belief that the proposed United States program of assistance to Greece and Turkey, together with effective action by the Security Council in the case of northern Greek frontiers, would materially advance the cause of peace.

The United States desires to collaborate in peace and equality with all nations. It does not desire to dominate, intimidate or threaten the security of any nation, large or small. The United States will support collective security for all nations—large as well as small. The United States respects, of course, the right of all members of the United Nations to follow whatever way of life or system of government they choose, so long as the choice is freely made without intimidation and so long as such nations do not interfere with the rights of other countries or the liberties of other peoples.

Principal Responsibility

The foregoing aspects of the situation of Greece and its bearing on collective security are of especial interest to the Security Council. There are other aspects of the situation of equal importance to the maintenance of peace in this area which are the special concern of other organs of the United Nations and its related specialized agencies.

The program of economic assistance contemplated by the United States is of an emergency and temporary character. The United States believes that the United Nations and its related agencies should assume the principal responsibility within their capabilities, for the long-range tasks of assistance required for the reconstruction of Greece.

The United States gave its full support to the emergency relief program conducted by UNRRA to which I have already referred. United States officials also participated fully in drawing up the recommendations for long-range assistance to Greece made by the mission to Greece of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.

Among the recommendations made by the FAO was the following:

"Recommendation 3:

"Maintaining essential imports after UNRRA ends.

"It is recommended that the Greek Government request the Economic and Social Council, and the governments of the United States of America and the United Kingdom, to aid in securing funds for the continuation of essential food and other imports to cover the period after UNRRA's withdrawal until expanding exports, international development loans, and expanding production enable Greece to balance its international accounts without special aid."

International Bank

A further recommendation is that the Greek Government apply to the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development or to other public financial agencies for a loan of at least $100,000,000 for reconstruction and development purposes.

The International Bank is not yet ready to begin its loan program, but it soon will be. Greece has not yet appealed to the United Nations for financial assistance. There is a reason for this. Greece may now be in such bad financial and economic condition that she could not qualify as a good credit risk for bank loans.

Emergency and temporary economic assistance of the kind the United States is considering may improve the economic and financial condition of Greece sufficiently to qualify Greece for reconstruction and development loans such as that recommended in the FAO report.

Development Projects

These loans could be for the financing of such projects as irrigation and power development, the rehabilitation of transport and the modernization and development of agriculture and the reconstruction and development of industry.

The United States strongly supports the use of United Nations machinery for such purposes.

The FAO report also suggests that the Greek Government request the Economic and Social Council to arrange for a continuing United Nations advisory mission to Greece in connection with such a long-range program. Such a mission, if requested by the Greek Government, would be a constructive step for the United Nations to undertake.

The United States attaches particular importance to the establishment this week by the Economic and Social Council of the Economic Commission for Europe. The United States has given the fullest support to the establishment of such a commission from the time it was first considered last summer by the subcommission on devastated areas.

The United States is convinced that the economy of Greece, as well as that of other European nations, will be benefited by this international action to co-ordinate the efforts of all European countries in their common struggle to recover from the ravages of war. As the only non-European member of this commission, the United States pledges the fullest possible participation in its activities.

Long-Range Programs

These, however, are long-range programs. They cannot meet the present emergency. It is by combining national and international action of both immediate and long-range character and aimed both at the security and economic aspects of the problem that the members of the United Nations can advance the cause of collective security.

President Truman's message to Congress comprehended more than Greece and Turkey when he spoke of conditions in the world affecting the security of the United States through the insecurity of the world. He declared the situation in Greece and Turkey to be one of the factors of insecurity and pointed out the various requirements for restoration of stability.

The United States is giving momentum to the United Nations by its present policy and it desires and welcomes corresponding interest and support from other members of the United Nations.

Active Interest

We look forward to the time when such burdens may be carried through the United Nations. Therefore, it is important that the United Nations take an active interest in all that is required for the re-establishment of stability, to discourage and prevent threats of aggression of any kind or threats to the independence of a fellow member, and to afford opportunity to her people to enhance their welfare and dignity.

I have discussed the matter in the broadest terms, Mr. President, because of the deep interest which the American Government and the American people have shown in the Greek problem. Since you live among us you are, of course, aware of the intensity of our democratic debate and the keen desire of our people to see the United Nations grow in authority and confidence.

We now have directly before us in the Security Council one aspect of the problem. I am certain that my colleagues will agree that it is of the greatest importance that we make proper use of our commission of investigation and take the steps most likely to result in a rapid and impartial consideration of its findings and recommendations.

In conclusion, therefore, Mr. President, the United States believes that special efforts should be made to expedite the report of the commission, that the commission should come to the seat of the United Nations as soon as its report is ready and be available to the Security Council throughout our consideration of this case, and that it should leave representatives in Greece during the preparation of the commission's report and during the Security Council's consideration of the problem.

My colleagues may prefer to study the views I have expressed before further discussion of the Greek question. I am willing that we resume consideration of the item on trusteeship at this time. However, a meeting for discussion relating to the work of the Council's commission of investigation in northern Greece ought to be held at an early date.

Palestine British Move M. HARRISON Expected

Lake Success, N.Y., March 28 (AP)—A British spokesman said late today that the Palestine problem probably would be turned over to the United Nations within 24 hours along with a request for a special session of the General Assembly to start work on it.

This development came as it was learned the United States had sent a note to the British Foreign Office declaring this country had no objections to a special session on Palestine.

The spokesman said the British delegate, Sir Alexander Cadogan, was prepared to act as soon as he received a go-ahead from London. He said such instructions could be expected immediately unless the United States note contained some qualifications which early reports had not mentioned.

28 Nations' Approval

United Nations officials indicated they would canvass the 55 member nations as soon as the British request was received. Approval by a 28-nation majority is necessary before a special session can be called.

The only major opposition was expected to come from the five Arab states in the United Nations. Faris Bey El Khoury, Syrian delegate to the Security Council and leading Arab spokesman here, said the Arab countries would vote against a special session unless the British request was accompanied by a recommendation for a solution of the Palestine problem.

British sources said Britain contemplated no such action. It was explained that Cadogan planned to send a brief communication to Victor Hoo, acting secretary general, asking the United Nations to work out a solution.

Special-Session Request

The note also would contain a request for a special session to set up machinery for presentation of the case to the regular September meeting of the Assembly.

Under present plans, it was said, debate on the substance of the Palestine question would not take place until September. The task of the special session would be merely to set up a commission or committee to investigate the problem and draft a recommendation.

Informed quarters said Dean Acheson, Acting Secretary of State, had sent the American note to the British Embassy in Washington around noontime and that Cadogan has the case ready to file here. The American delegation to the United Nations declared recently that it could take no position on the Palestine question until Britain offered "a concrete formulation of the problem" to the United Nations.

Major Power Approval

Trygve Lie, Secretary- General, in the interest of conomy, had sought to get the prior approval of the five major powers for establishment of an informal interim fact-finding commission, without calling a special session. He dropped that idea, however, after the United States refused to give approval in the absence of any case to act upon.

Before Lie left for Norway yesterday, he estimated that a special session would cost a minimum of $500,000. United Nations officials estimated that the special session might last anywhere from a few days to two or three weeks, depending upon the ability of the delegates to agree on machinery for handling the Palestine inquiry. Much of the spadework of assembling information already has been done by the secretariat.

Lie said the meeting would have to be held at the temporary assembly hall at Flushing Meadow. In view of the time required for canvassing the members and sending out the official call, it appeared that the session probably could not be held before May 1.

Bard Slated for UN Arms Unit

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP)—Ralph A. Bard of Chicago, former U. S. under-secretary of the navy, will be appointed deputy to Warren R. Austin on the United Nations arms commission, an authoritative source disclosed tonight.

American delegation sources would neither deny nor confirm the appointment.

Molotov Blocks Progress Of 'Big Four' Conference, Opens Tirade On Turkey

Hopes for Treaty Agreements Fade in Face of Red Opposition.

MOSCOW, March 27—(AP) V. M. Molotov, Russia's "no" man, tonight threw a handful of monkey wrenches into the machinery of the Foreign Ministers' Council, blocking all agreements, and went out of his way to deliver a severe attack on Turkey, now being considered for a United States loan.

Despite a drive by Secretary Marshall to speed up the work of the flagging conference, hopes for an Austrian treaty, let alone agreement on much more difficult German questions, appeared dim in the face of the stubborn Soviet opposition.

Molotov Slows Program

The entire controversial question of defining German assets in Austria was dumped back on the deputy foreign ministers when Molotov rejected proposals by the other three powers and refused to discuss Austria again until the end of the current session, when Austria comes up on the agenda.

The question of what nations should participate in a peace conference was also dropped back into the lap of the deputies, who had been unable to resolve the issue, when Molotov declined to retreat an inch from his stand that only the 18 nations named in New York should take part.

The Soviet foreign minister's adamant position came a few minutes after Prince Mozaffar Firouz, the Iranian ambassador to Russia, claimed that Molotov had assured him of Russian support of Iran's participation in a peace conference.

It was during a discussion of this question that Molotov launched into a sudden tirade against Turkey, asserting that the Turks had aided the Germans during the war and had profited in so doing.

Assails Turkey

He said that Turkey had entered the war only in its last moments, and that it was "incomprehensible" that Turkey, Paraguay and the Philippines be invited to the peace conference on the same basis as the other 18 nations.

Marshall proposed a drastic three-point program to the ministers for streamlining their work, and setting an April 2 deadline for completing their consideration of German problems, "wind and weather permitting."

The response from the other ministers was generally favorable, and indications were that Marshall's plan would be adopted.

He suggested that the ministers refer all current German problems arising out of the report by the Allied Control Council to a special committee, with the exception of these three points which he said was the crux of the entire German problem:

Crux of German Problem

1. Treatment of Germany as an economic unit. Under questioning by Molotov the American secretary agreed that this would also take in the matter of reparations.

2. A review of the German level of industry and resumption of reparations, presumably referring to starting reparations shipments from the western zones to Russia again.

3. The form and scope of the German provisional government.

Molotov suggested that demilitarization be added as a fourth point and this along with a final decision on Marshall's proposal will come before the ministers tomorrow.

An indication that the Russians expect little to come out of four-power discussions here on the U. S. proposal for a 40-year treaty against Germany was seen when Molotov declared that demilitarization was a pressing question, but that a 40-year treaty was something for the distant future.

Secretary Urges 3-Point Speedup Proposal for Current Issues (D)

IT GETS FAVORABLE RESPONSE

Lists Treating of Reich as Economic Unit, Reparations and New Regime as Items.

Moscow, March 28 (A. P.).—United States Secretary of State Marshall proposed to the Council of Foreign Ministers tonight a drastic three-point streamlining of its work on current German peace treaty problems with an April 2 deadline for completing the job.

The speedup proposal met a generally favorable response from the other three ministers.

The council, meanwhile, failed completely to break the deadlock on German assets in Austria, thus dimming the prospects for completing an Austrian treaty here.

A final decision was expected tomorrow on Marshall's plan. Indications were that, in general at least, it probably would be followed.

Crux of Problem.

Marshall proposed that the council refer all current German problems arising from the report of the Allied Control Council to a special committee except the points which he described as the crux of the whole problem. These points were:

1. Treatment of Germany as an economic unit. Under questioning by Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov he also agreed that this would include the problem of reparations.

2. A review of the German level-of-industry and resumption of reparations, presumably meaning reparations shipments, from the Western zones to the Soviets.

3. The form and scope of the German provisional government.

Marshall said all other matters raised by the Allied Control Council report should be referred to a special committee.

Molotov's Suggestion.

Molotov suggested that demilitarization should be added as a fourth point and this, along with final decisions on Marshall's three points, remained open for conclusion by the Council tomorrow.

The American Secretary said his April 2 deadline was suggested as a target date, "wind and weather permitting."

The issue of German assets opened today's session, which lasted four hours. British Foreign Secretary Bevin was chairman. The argument revolved about a French proposal that assets be defined to exclude property taken over by the Germans in Austria under force or duress, and Molotov's counter-proposal that the property excluded be that taken by "direct forcible action" or "without compensation."

Bevin carried the ball for the opposition to Molotov's suggested amendment, and Marshall agreed with the Briton's objection that the Molotov proposal would be detrimental to Austria. The argument went on and on over the same ground covered before, until finally Marshall said he seemed to have failed in his efforts to speed work on the Austrian treaty. Bevin said an impasse had been reached.

New Report by Deputies.

Molotov took the position that the ministers either must accept his proposition or drop discussion of the whole subject until the Austrian treaty comes up, virtually at the end of the conference here. Finally, it was agreed that the ministers' deputies on Austria should make a final report tomorrow—accepting the definition of German assets, which is the key to the whole treaty. On that issue they will continue working, with instructions to report if and when they can reach some agreement.

It was also decided to send back to the German deputies the argument over the composition of the future German peace conference. The issue is whether that conference will be composed of the Big Four, China and States which actually fought Germany, or all States which were at war with Germany. Molotov favors the former and Marshall the latter.

Molotov attacks Turkey during this discussion, saying that Turkey had declared war only in the last days of the conflict and that she had helped the Germans during the war.

On Marshall's streamlining proposal, French Foreign Minister Bidault said he thought it was all right. Bevin said he would give it immediate consideration and express his reaction tomorrow, but in general he agreed. Molotov, along with raising questions about reparations under Marshall's first point, and the proposed point four, said he was anxious to get on with the work.

Yet, Molotov added, "As hosts we feel we must not hasten our guests on their way."

—The Russians have begun a bargaining drive in the Foreign Ministers' Conference to get reparations from current German production, it was learned today, but thus far the United States and Great Britain are standing firm against a proposed compromise.

While Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov has made clear from the start that continuing reparations are the most important Russian requirement in any German economic settlement, the situation has developed more and more into one of demand and counterdemand.

An all-night session of the Big Four Council's co-ordinating committee last night caused all the powers to begin playing some of their highest cards.

Progress By Deputies

The ministers' deputies, meanwhile, made some slight progress toward clearing up disputed provisions of the Austrian treaty. The deputies agreed on five technical and relatively minor points; decided they could not agree on four others, and received an Austrian political committee report on displaced persons.

The report showed there was four-power agreement in the committee that the Austrian displaced persons question should be solved if possible by the removal of more than 400,000 persons to Germany prior to the effective date of the Austrian treaty.

Virtually All Points Argued

The co-ordinating committee, which was supposed to have finished its job of listing agreements and disagreements last Tuesday, actually completed the task at 5.30 A.M. today and then recessed until this afternoon to review the final draft.

Informants said this would show that in exchanges to date on German political and economic problems there are disagreements of some kind on virtually every important issue.

On economic unity all four powers were said to have declared their agreement in principle, but each had reservations about practical application.

Vishinsky Formula

The Soviets insist on continuing reparations, the French on coal and the British and Americans on an assurance that exports would be made to pay for imports.

A responsible source said that at one stage of the all-night session Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky began talking about a compromise and proposed a formula, which seemed to suggest that German exports should be used initially to equalize imports as the United States and Britain suggested, but that a portion of the imports so acquired be assigned for reparations purposes.

Past Costs Brought Up

The British and Americans declined, this informant added, to make any agreement for current reparations at this time.

The overnight session also discussed British and American demands that German exports be used to pay for past financial costs of those two nations in Germany, but the Russians disagreed, saying that exports should not be used except for future occupation costs.

A series of arguments, which produced the customary sharp exchanges between Vishinsky and American General Lucius D. Clay, also produced a discussion on the Soviet demand for a hand in control of the Ruhr, and a French demand that the Ruhr be separated from Germany. The committee made no progress toward agreement on this issue.

Not Its Assigned Job

The committee's assignment was not to make any agreements but to simplify the mechanical job of listing the agreements and disagreements that developed in the Foreign Ministers Council in the first two weeks of discussion on German issues.

Vishinsky, however, insisted on talking about the real issues in connection with preparing the list, and the resulting arguments delayed the work from Tuesday until today.

American sources said there was no certainty that the committee's report would be ready even for today's Council session, at which the Foreign Ministers seemed headed into a showdown on another reparations question—Soviet withdrawals of industrial equipment from Austria as German reparations.

Marshall Sees Gruber

Dr. Carl Gruber, the Austrian Foreign Minister, visited Spasso House, home of United States Ambassador W. B. Smith, where Secretary of State Marshall is staying. American officials said Gruber conferred with Gen. Mark W. Clark, United States deputy on the Austrian treaty, and with Marshall himself.

Considerable interest was aroused by the agreement on Austrian displaced persons, in view of the French insistence upon reduction of the German population and stoppage of immigration into Germany.

Points agreed upon included a provision that Austrian treaty clauses concerning restitution of United Nations property and general economic relations should apply to Allied and associated powers and to members of the United Nations as of May 8, 1945, who had broken diplomatic relations with Germany between September, 1939, and January, 1945.

Other Agreements

The other four points agreed upon by the deputies concerned the force of annexes of the treaty; the facilitation of rail travel through Austria; the elimination of a French proposal to allow free transit of United Nations property being restored from a third country, and elimination of a British proposal to detail Austrian property rights and interests.

The disagreements included those over a French proposal to deny Austria scientific laboratories for patent examinations; a British-American proposal for reciprocal return of railway equipment between Austria and other countries; an American proposal to write into the German treaty later a provision for free Austrian transit over German territory between Salzburg and the Tyrol, and a British-American proposal for the return to Austrian owners of Austrian property and interests in United Nations territory.

Considered Important

American officials considered the latter point important and were glad it had not been rejected finally.

The big snarl, however, was still German assets in Austria and their definition.

Settlement of this question—hinging upon an agreed definition of what constitutes German assets in Austria—would eliminate the major snag standing in the way of a completed Austrian peace treaty.

Moscow, March 28 (AP)—Iran served notice today that she would claim reparations at the peace conference from Germany for war damages listed at $955,000,000.

[illegible]. Firouz said at the same time that he had received personal assurances from all the four-Power Foreign Ministers that they will support Iran's request that she be allowed to participate in the peace conference.

Find Marshall Sympathetic.

The Iranian said he had found Marshall "very sympathetic." He listed as Iran's major war losses:

Depreciation and damage to railroads carrying supplies, $502,000,000; losses to Iran's National Bank in issuing currency to the Allies, $136,000,000; losses in equipment and damage to the Iranian army, $159,000,000; money owed to Iran by Germany, $125,000,000.

Stassen in Moscow; Will See Marshall

Moscow, March 28 (A. P.).—Harold E. Stassen, Republican presidential aspirant, arrived today from Warsaw. He said he would call on Secretary of State Marshall. The Russian Society for Cultural Relations With Foreign Countries is his host for a ten-day tour of the U. S. S. R.

Delegates' Nostalgia Seen As Parley Spur

E. GILMORE

Moscow, March 28 (AP)—Up and down the corridors of the Moskva Hotel, the official hotel for foreign delegates to the Foreign Ministers Conference, such words as "boring" and "monotonous" wafted through the potted palms today.

An Englishman said this conference displayed a "ponderous lack of progress."

A Frenchman described it as "elephantine" progress.

An American said: "I want to go home and plant my garden."

The Russians drank tea.

Log Jam Seen Loosening

Despite the nostalgia for the hills of home, evident particularly among the Americans and British, there were some indications that the log-jam of issues might loosen soon. It was being said—but softly—that the Russians were showing some indications of giving.

There is something in the air besides spring, for the Russians definitely do not want this conference to fold up any time soon. Before the conference, most Russians were of the opinion that the Americans scorned going home without decisions having been made.

But now they have sensed a mood within the United States delegation, and they are pretty well convinced it will go home unless decisions are reached which it can consider beneficial to the United States and not just agreement for agreement's sake.

The Russian man in the street, too, is a weary individual these days. He has to look right and left to escape foreign newsmen looking for men in the street to interview.

"If you are in a hurry," one Russian said, "don't take a route leading anywhere near the Hotel Moskva or you'll have a collision with a foreign correspondent looking for a man in the street."

New Russian "Experts"

A number of newsmen are frankly not paying much attention to the conference, and are concentrating on "discovering" Russia.

"There is going to be a great increase in Russian experts," said a diplomat who has been here for a long time. "You know the definition of a Russian expert—a person who has been here two months or twenty years. Nothing in between really counts."

Big 4 Just a Pretext, For 'Russian Experts'

MOSCOW, March 28 (AP).—A number of foreign correspondents who came here to cover the meeting of the Big Four Council of Foreign Ministers are frankly not paying much attention to the conference and are concentrating on "discovering" the Soviet Union.

"There is going to be a great increase in Russian experts," said a diplomat who has been here for a long time. "You know the definition of a Russian expert—a person who has been here two months or twenty years. Nothing in between really counts.

ZHUKOV CITED ANEW

Moscow, March 28 (A. P.).—Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov's name was among those signed to a testimonial to the late Tank Marshal Y. N. Fedorenko, whose death on March 26 after a long illness was announced today.

Marshal Zhukov's present status in Russia haas been something of a mystery outside the U. S. S. R. for nearly a year and his name has been mentioned only infrequently by the Russian press. The army newspaper, Red Star, announced on November 21, 1946, that Marshal Ivan S. Konev had become head of Russia's ground forces(a post formerly held by Zhukov, but did not say what had happened to the latter.

Last February 4, however, Red Star, in an article on the Soviet Union's armed forces, singled out Zhukov for special praise and on February 21 Marshal Zhukov was among the delegates attending the opening session of the Supreme Soviet.

Molotov Charges Turkey Aided Germans in War

MOSCOW, March 28 (AP).—Soviet Foreign Minister Viacheslav M. Molotov made an attack on Turkey today during a Foreign Ministers' Council discussion of which countries should participate in framing the German peace treaty.

Mr. Molotov said Turkey had declared war only in the last days of the conflict, and had helped the Germans during the war.

Replying to the American contention that all United Nations members should be included in the peace conference, Mr. Molotov said it was "incomprehensible" to him that such nations as Paraguay and the Philippines should be considered in the same category as the countries which actually fought Germany. He sought to limit participation to eighteen nations.

Showdown On Bevin Seen

London, March 28 (AP)—Labor members of Parliament opposed to Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's policies say that Prime Minister Attlee must either replace Bevin or risk a split in the party.

Some of the group asserted yesterday that almost 200 Laborites in Parliament supported their view that Britain follows the United States too closely in foreign affairs and that this is moving her toward war with Russia. They said they were ready to force the issue.

Meanwhile, two newspapers—the Liberal News Chronicle and Conservative Evening Standard—speculated that Bevin might be moved to Cabinet Chief of Reconstruction, a job now held by Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison.

Shuffle Predicted

Sources close to the Prime Minister agreed that a Cabinet reshuffle might take place soon. They denied, however, that the Foreign Affairs portfolio would be taken away from Bevin.

Bevin's critics replied that the Government could not afford to say anything else now—with Bevin negotiating in the Foreign Ministers Council in Moscow and needful of full backing at home.

Morrison and Board of Trade President Sir Stafford Cripps were mentioned in the press and among the Labor insurgents as possible replacements for Bevin.

British Request Action On Greek Border Issue

London, March 28 (AP)—Britain called today for "international action of some kind" to prevent trouble on the Greek-Bulgarian border.

"His Majesty's Government fervently hopes that the United Nations commission will make some recommendation toward that end," said Hector McNeil, Minister of States, in the House of Commons. A United Nations inquiry commission is now in the Balkans investigating the border troubles and is to wind up his report in a few weeks.

McNeil spoke in a debate on a bill to ratify the peace treaties with Bulgaria, Italy, Romania, Hungary and Finland.

The House approved the bill in principle without a vote. Final passage was expected to be only a formality, although the debate showed moderate but widespread dissatisfaction with a variety of features of the treaties.

ARGENTINA WON'T JOIN WHEAT PACT

MAR 1947

London, March 28. — The Argentine delegation has informed the International Wheat Conference that its Government is unable to join the international wheat agreement for the time being, Sir Gerard Clauson, chairman of the conference, told the press. But he made clear that regardless of Argentina's action the conference would go ahead with the drafting of an agreement which will remain open for the signature of ratifying countries until July, 1947, under present plans. The agreement which is still in process of being drafted would become effective August 1.

Russia has not yet agreed to come to the conference or participate in the agreement, but Clauson did not rule the possibility out entirely.

Clauson refused to discuss the price element details of the agreement except to say that the lowest price mentioned was 85 cents a bushel and the highest $1.80. He said that all thirty-nine countries attending the conference except Argentina are in favor of the international wheat agreement.

Starvation Threatens Yugoslavs, Envoy Says

London, March 28 (AP)—Dr. L. Leontic, Yugoslav Ambassador, said today 2,500,000 persons in his country face starvation in the next 60 days unless Yugoslavia receives immediate outside food aid.

The United States has turned down a Yugoslav request for grain, but has promised to send potatoes. The British Foreign Office said last night Yugoslavia had asked $60,000,000 food aid from Britain, but Leontic denied this. He said Marshal Tito's regime merely sought support from Britain for obtaining 200,000 tons of wheat through international organizations.

Leontic said Yugoslavia had sent wheat to Albania and Romania because she "could not reconcile herself to the starvation of human beings in her neighborhood, despite her own limited reserves."

Moscow Reports Assassination of Deputy Defense Minister

LONDON, Saturday, March 29 (AP).—The Moscow radio reported tonight that the Polish Deputy Minister of National Defense, Colonel General Karl Swerczewski, was assassinated today.

Quoting a Tass dispatch from Warsaw, the broadcast said the Polish Ministry of Defense announced in a statement: "On March 28, 1947, Colonel General Swerczewski, Deputy Minister of National Defense, was treacherously killed by Ukrainian Fascists near the town of Sanok."

British Buy U. S. Tobacco

Third of Loan Money in Last Half of 1946 Went up in Smoke

LONDON, March 28 (AP).—About a third of the money from the American loan to Britain which was spent in the last six months of 1946 went up in smoke.

Harold Wilson, secretary for overseas trade, told the House of Commons today that 32 per cent of expenditures from the loan went for tobacco in that period. He said Britain regarded these expenditures "with some concern," but the government had no intention of rationing tobacco this year.

All the tobacco bought with American dollars comes from the United States.

Famine Strikes 4 Areas, Word 1947 In Paris

MAR

R. JAMES

Paris, March 28 (AP)—A highly responsible informant with an intimate personal knowledge of 1947 conditions in Russia said today that starvation had killed thousands of peasants in four separate regions of the Soviet Union recently.

The source listed these regions as the Ukraine, the lower Volga, the upper Volga and western Siberia.

Famine conditions were created by severe droughts in European Russia's wheat-growing regions last year and by excessive rains that destroyed much of the Siberian wheat crop, the informant said.

Official Statements

The report on Russian conditions by this highly placed person in Paris was given after dispatches from Moscow quoted official statements of an extremely serious food situation in the country, due to the drought.

The dispatches said A. A. Andreyev told the plenum of the Central Committee of the Communist party that "if there had not been a collective farm regime, and if it were not for the Soviet power, such a drought would have meant a serious famine in the country."

[The dispatches referred to were of March 7, when Andreyev was quoted in Moscow newspapers as crediting the collective farm system with saving Russia from famine.

Pigs As Coins

[Andreyev was also quoted at that time as reporting that potato production in the Soviet Union was below prewar levels, that there was a general shortage of cows, that pigs were being used as "coins for exchange"—Andreyev called it "a practice of embezzling that should be stopped"—and that individuals and groups had embezzled or "improperly appropriated" land from collective farms.]

The Paris source said that at Christmas time, when the food situation grew worse in Russia, the Government began slaughtering unprecedented numbers of cattle.

"There were two reasons," he said. "The first was that the cattle were about to die from lack of forage. The second was to have their meat for human consumption.

Cities Have Meat

"As a result, there is more meat to eat in the cities of Russia now than in many years. But the country's cattle population—far below normal as a result of the war—has been reduced enormously. It is estimated that one third of Russia's cattle has been butchered this winter."

Another factor contributing to the situation was the fact that UNRRA food shipments, a major source of supplies for the Donets basin industrial workers and cities in the Ukraine, ceased this winter.

"This forced the authorities to take food from other sources," the informant said.

"Can't Ask For Help"

"Russia simply did not have enough food for her people this winter.

"One thing that makes it worse is that Russia cannot tell the outside world the situation. Her leaders believe it would be ruinous to their plans in the present tense international situation to disclose any weakness at home.

"So she cannot even ask for help."

"Worst Lies Ahead"

[An Assoicated Press dispatch from Moscow on February 13 said:

["Residents of some regions of the Soviet Union—apparently because of last summer's drought, the continued effects of the German invasion and the end of UNRRA supplies—are beginning to feel a pinch in their diets, particularly bread and potatoes.

[This does not mean that people are starving, but some definitely are not getting what they have been accustomed to in a number of sections, especially in the cities of the Volga basin, southern Russia and the White Russian Socialist Soviet Republic. . . . The Russians believe that the worst period lies ahead, the period between now and the latter part of April or May."

[Another Associated Press dispatch from Moscow, this one dated February 28, said: "The Central Committee of the Communist party, recognizing the serious situation faced by Russian agriculture because of war damage and last year's drought, called on the nation's farmers for an increase of almost 30,000,000 acres of land under cultivation in the next two years. . . .

["Most of the increase was slated for collective farms, which make up the backbone of the Soviet agricultural economy."

(more)

"One thing that makes it worse," the informant commented, "is that Russia cannot tell the outside world the situation. Her leaders believe it would be ruinous to their plans in the present tense international situation to disclose any weakness at home. So she cannot even ask for help."

French Fleet Scuttler to Die

VERSAILLES, France, March 28 (AP) — Adm. Jean De Laborde, chraged with responsibility for scuttling the French fleet at Toulon in November, 1942, was condemned to death today. His property was ordered confiscated.

The verdict was returned by a 25-man jury of French parliamentarians after an hour's deliberation ending a two-day trial. The former Vichy admiral was accused of intelligence with the enemy and destruction of the naval vessels.

British Army Cars Stoned In Ruhr Food Protests

DUESSELDORF, March 28—(AP) Angry Germans protesting food shortages overturned and stoned British military vehicles today in Ruhr-wide mass demonstrations which were the largest seen here since the days of Adolf Hitler.

German sources declared Communists were behind the apparently well-organized demonstrations, but that trade union leaders handled the details. A senior British military government officer said they were timed to influence the Moscow talks on Germany, but added "we have no direct evidence that the Communists or any other party was behind them."

Mass Demonstration

In the Rhineland capital of Duesseldorf 100,000 persons chanted slogans, waved banners and paraded through the streets. The demonstrators overturned two British military cars and threw one into a lake, stoned another military car carrying British and American newsmen and smashed windows in three British-occupied buildings. Fifty-nine windows were broken in the British military telephone exchange.

Another 30,000 persons took part in demonstrations at Solingen, in Hagen, and villages in the Arnsberg area. All work ceased in factories and all but essential services were halted. No one was injured in the demonstrations, and quiet had been restored by nightfall.

British officials admitted that they had been unable for some weeks to meet the daily ration of 1,550 calories, with some places receiving as little as 800. They emphasized, however, the food distribution was now in the hands of the Germans. The demonstrators aimed at least part of their protests at the German officials.

Banners carried by the demonstrators contained such slogans as "We are Hungry," "Don't Let our Children Starve," "We Want Bread." Some called for the resignation of Schlange Schoenigen, German food chief in the British zone.

The crowds in Duesseldorf dispersed at noon after milling around in the park for two hours listening to speeches by trade union leaders. Some marched away in columns, while others streamed down the streets like spectators leaving a football game.

British uniforms were absent from the scene. A public safety official said police reinforcements had been standing by, out of sight.

In support of his belief that the demonstrations were planned to coincide with the Moscow talks the British officer declared "it is extraordinary that they should come just at this time. They are not entirely due to the food situation."

He said, however, the gatherings "will act as a safety valve," and added:

"These unfortunate people—whatever you may think of the Germans—have had a lot to put up with and are losing heart. If they choose to show disapproval by marching about the streets I don't blame them."

The officer said that the Germans had turned down an offer by the British six weeks ago to aid with the transport of food in the Ruhr. The British said they could not make long hauls from Bremen and Hamburg to the Ruhr for "technical reasons" but could make short lifts in the Ruhr and Rhineland.

100,000 Protest Reich Food Lack

Duesseldorf, Germany, March 28 (AP)—Germans in a crowd of about 100,000 stoned British-occupied buildings and attacked British military cars today in a two-hour demonstration over food shortages. It was the most violent manifestation of unrest in the Ruhr since the occupation began, and the biggest rally since Hitler.

Two military cars were overturned and one was thrown in a park lake; another, carrying British and American correspondents, was stoned by demonstrators; windows in the three British buildings were smashed.

Traffic was paralyzed as the crowd milled through the public park in the center of the city, listening to speeches by trade union leaders.

Extra Police Hidden

British public safety officials said police reinforcements were standing by, but had been kept hidden from the view of the demonstrators. Police had advised Allied vehicles to avoid the area during the demonstration.

The crowd dispersed at noon, some marching away in columns, others streaming down the streets like a football crowd going home.

British officials say the 1,550-calorie ration scale has not been met for the past few weeks and that some places received only 800 calories daily.

Workers abandoned factories, shops and offices to parade to the park, carrying banners with such slogans as "We are hungry," "Don't let our children starve" and "We want bread."

Food Chief's Ouster Asked

Some banners called for the resignation of Schlange Schoenigen, German food chief in the British zone of occupation.

Two British volkswagons (jeeps), khaki-painted and bearing military insignia, were upset by the crowds and left with wheels in the air. A military staff car carrying a uniformed correspondent was stoned twice, but no one was injured.

The whole demonstration had earmarks of systematic organization and British officials said it was political, but declined to name the party they believed responsible. German sources said Communists were responsible for the demonstration, but said trade unionists did the detailed organizing work.

Virtually all but essential activities ceased in this Rhineland capital, which has a population of half a million.

Uniformed Marchers

Prominent among the demonstrators were uniformed transport employés, who marched in solid ranks hundreds strong.

The union leaders addressed the crowd through loudspeakers. All roads to the park were blocked by persons whose passive resistance and refusal to give way stopped traffic.

Other demonstrations involving about 30,000 persons were scheduled in various Ruhr towns, including Hagen, where 10,000 were expected to participate; Solingen, where some 3,000 may parade, and villages in the Arnsberg area, where many Germans are scheduled to evacuate their homes to make room for families of Belgian occupation forces.

'38 Nazi Plot to Kill Niemoeller Is Told

Voted for Party Since '24, Pastor Said at Trial

NUERNBERG, March 28 (AP).—An American prosecutor said today that the files of Alfred Rosenberg, executed Nazi ideologist, disclosed the Nazis considered killing the Rev. Martin Niemoeller in 1938, but decided it would be too dangerous from a propaganda viewpoint.

Dr. Robert M. W. Kempner, United States prosecutor of Nazi ministries, revealed the plot was outlined in a memorandum to Rosenberg by one of his aids. Paul Joseph Goebbels, Propaganda Minister, was reported to favor the idea after the pastor had attacked the Nazis' policy toward the Church from his pulpit in Dahlem, a suburb of Berlin.

The prosecutor said that wiser heads prevailed and that, instead of being killed, Pastor Niemoeller was called to trial secretly in Berlin Feb. 7 and 8, 1938. "Surprisingly," Dr. Kempner said, "he was acquitted."

Dr. Kempner said the memorandum showed that Pastor Niemoeller's story of his life impressed the judges. The document said the clergyman told the court that he and eight other members of his family had been German naval officers, that he had voted for the Nazis since 1924 although not a member of the party, and that his sermons had nothing to do with politics but only criticized Nazi mistreatment of the Church.

However, after his acquittal, Pastor Niemoeller was seized by the Gestapo and placed in Buchenwald, from which he was liberated by United States troops seven

HANFSTAENGL ASKS AID AS PERSECUTEE

MUNICH, Germany, March 28—(AP) Dr. Ernst (Putzi) Hanfstaengl, the Harvard man who once served as Hitler's foreign press chief, filed today a claim for compensation as a victim of Nazi political persecution, German officials announced.

Hanfstaengl, asking a total of $16,150, said in his application to the Bavarian state commission for persecutees that he had been marked for murder by the Nazis after he was discharged from his propagandist post in 1937. He said he escaped death only by fleeing to Switzerland, and that he spent the war years in England and the United States.

Hanfstaengl said he "collaborated" with American diplomatic officials during the war and was personally invited by the late President Roosevelt to help reconstruct the German press after the war.

Hanfstaengl, about 50 years old, now lives in Buffing, Upper Bavaria.

He said he was asking 3,000 British pounds to pay debts incurred while he lived in exile in England and 41,500 German marks for other compensation.

U.S. Soldier Punished For Hitting German, 75

Heidelberg, Germany, March 28 (AP)—"Mistreatment of German civilians brings strict punishment to the offenders," United States constabulary headquarters said in announcing a court-martial sentence against an American soldier convicted of striking a 75-year-old man with his fists.

The soldier, Private Byron S. Backman, of Belgrade, Mont., was sentenced to six months' imprisonment and fined $264 according to announcement, which said he also was convicted of being drunk and disorderly.

Observes 'Moral Sag'

Pastor Says Americans in Europe's Occupation Zones Avoid Church

BERLIN, March 28 (AP).—Dr. Arthur Robert Siebens, of Minonk, Ill., pastor of the American (Protestant) Church of Berlin, said today he has observed a "moral sag" among Americans in the occupation zones of Europe. He attributed the decline to a "sense of freedom" from the restraints imposed by society back home, and an attitude of "tentativeness" about living conditions here in general and morality in particular.

The minister, who has served the American community of this city more than four months, said only deeply religious persons attend church regularly here and remain faithful to the institutions of religion. He added that "half-religious" people, or those who would attend church more because of social pressure than from fundamental conviction, stray away in Europe.

"The clearing of Mount Parnon started at noon today and the whole area where guerrillas were settled for many months was occupied," the Ministry said.

"Operations also started on Mounts Tayghetus and Langhada with satisfactory results. Guerrillas avoided giving battle, but wherever engaged suffered heavily."

Spanish Considering Decree To Declare Nation Monarchy

Madrid, March 28 (AP)—A decree declaring Spain a "traditional monarchy" and, in effect, recognizing the regime of Generalissimo Francisco Franco as merely a temporary one, was discussed tonight by the Franco Cabinet, an authoritative source disclosed.

The source said it was probable that the decree would not be announced until April 1, Spain's "victory day."

The decree declaring Spain a monarchy would designate Franco "chief of state" and provide that in case he were removed from power by death or incapacity a council of regency would take over the Government, the source said.

Council's First Task

The regency would be headed by the president of the Cortes (Parliament), the Archbishop of Toledo and the lieutenant general of the army, assisted by deputies of the Cortes and other representatives of the people, the council to have twenty members in all.

The council's first task would be to examine the qualifications of claimants of the Spanish throne, Don Juan, the present "pretender" and son of Spain's last king, being the principal claimant.

The source of this information pointed out that the decree, when and if announced and put into effect, would be the first recognition by Franco and his regime of the "temporary nature of the present government."

Want To Avoid War Steps

He stated that its effect would be recognition of Franco's Government as simply administrator of the Government as a result of his forces' victory in the Spanish civil war.

This position for Franco's regime has been advocated by many leading supporters of the Generalissimo, who want to avoid any step which might lead to another civil war but who, at the same time, are concerned over Spain's exclusion from the United Nations.

The source predicted that the customary weekly communiqué of the Government, expected to be released early tomorrow, might make a vague reference to the Cabinet's consideration of the decree without giving any inkling of its real nature.

Soviet Objection Futile On Macedonia Question

Sofia, Bulgaria, March 28 (AP)—Chairman David Windle of Britain ruled today that the United Nations Balkan Inquiry Commission was competent to inquire into the Macedonian autonomist movement, allegedly encouraged by Yugoslavia and Bulgaria, thus overriding strong Soviet objections.

Windle pointed out that in the lengthy debate at two public sessions and one private meeting only the Russian and Polish representatives had opposed the commission's taking up the Macedonian question on the ground it was a "territorial matter."

Australia, Britain, China, France, Syria, Belgium and Brazil sided with Mark Ethridge of the United States in demanding that the commission inquiry into Greek charges that Bulgaria and Yugoslavia had designs on Macedonia, a part of which is now incorporated in Greek territory. Ethridge contended this was an important question in the border disorder which the commission was sent to investigate.

Ethridge had proposed that the commission send formal letters to the liaison officers representing Bulgaria and Yugoslavia in the inquiry, asking them to give the precise attitude of their governments toward the alleged autonomous movement.

Poles of Underground Split on Amnesty Offer

WARSAW, March 28 (AP).—The underground National Armed Forces (NSZ), which the Polish government says has been financed largely through Lieutenant General Wladyslaw Anders, war-time commander of Polish forces under the exiled Polish government at London, now is battling an internal revolt over whether its members should accept government amnesty, an official spokesman said today.

The government spokesman said, in part, "Part of the NSZ still is boycotting the government's amnesty and is now applying acts of terror to those in the underground desiring to surrender their arms, come out of the forest and other hideouts and return to normal civilian life."

He asserted that despite the NSZ opposition, 16,800 members of underground bands have laid down their arms under the amnesty. Another 22,000 have been released from prisons where they were serving terms for criminal and political offenses.

Government figures indicate that the strength of the underground probably was far larger than the frequently estimated total of 15,000 armed persons. The spokesman said he could not estimate how many remained in the underground.

Blast Rips Iraq Oil Firm At Haifa

Jerusalem, March 28 (AP)—Five explosions ripped the Haifa installations of the Iraq Petroleum Company today, setting fires which raged for an hour and again disrupting the flow of oil from Iraq fields to the Mediterranean port.

Police said five Jews dressed as Arabs and armed with revolvers penetrated the heavily guarded Haifa oil dock area and set the explosives which started fires and burned out extensive oil and benzine stocks.

The Jews then tried to escape in a small truck, but were forced to abandon the vehicle. Police rounded up several suspects.

The attack was the second on the Haifa oil shipping area in the past fortnight. The previous attack was admitted by Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish underground resistance organization.

Other events in the troubled Holy Land today included the death of a Tel Aviv Jewish police corporal who was beaten while en route to work. The policeman, Mottele Berger, was picked up and taken to a hospital where he died. Police said the veteran of sixteen years police service apparently had been set upon by members of the Stern Gang which he had been investigating.

Welcomed Refugees

The British ship Empire Comford arrived at Haifa from Cyprus with 76 more Palestinian citizens who had become mixed with 800 immigrants from the beached immigrant ship Susannah and deported. Previously 300 other Palestinians had been returned from Cyprus.

The Palestinians had gathered to welcome the immigrants near Gaza several weeks ago and were caught in the same military net as some of the refugees. They were not sorted out until they reached Cyprus.

To Tighten Blockade

(Authoritative sources in London said the British cabinet has approved a series of far-reaching plans to tighten the Palestine land, air and sea blockade during the next few months when it is believed the "biggest ever" rush of would-be immigrants will be made. Informants said they knew of "dozens" of immigrant ships waiting for a favorable opportunity to run the blockade. British naval units will be augmented, air patrols expanded and other precautions taken the British said, and the internment camps on Cyprus have been expanded from 11,000 to 22,000 capacity.)

Jerusalem's Jewry cleared the streets for the 17th night of the 6 P.M. to 6 A.M. curfew and armored cars began their nightly prowl as rumors spread that an underground attempt might be made to spring Dov Bela Gruner from his prison.

Bomb-set Fires Rage in Haifa

British Blame Extremists for Blowing Up Oil Pipeline—Jewish Policeman Slain.

Jerusalem, March 28 (A. P.).—Bomb-set fires raged today through oil and benzine installations in the Haifa dock district and a Jewish policeman was fatally beaten in downtown Tel Aviv. British officials said a Haifa pipeline was blown up by five Jews who slipped into the area disguised as Arabs.

Policeman Mottele Berger, who was found beaten on a Tel Aviv street, died in a hospital at the all-Jewish city. His death was attributed to a skull fracture. Police said they had no clews to the identity of his assailants, but "assumed" they were members of the Stern gang which Berger had been investigating.

Blasts Start Fires.

Two blasts which wrecked the pipeline shook the entire Haifa port area and were immediately followed by the fire.

The announcement said the disguised Jews, armed with revolvers, forced their way through heavy defenses of the oil dock area at 9:05 A. M. and placed small charges of explosives under the pipeline in several places.

They tried to flee in a small truck, the report said, but were turned back and then attempted to scatter and escape afoot. Several suspects were rounded up for questioning, but police declined to say whether any were connected with the blasts.

Inhabitants of Haifa, a major Palestine port on the Mediterranean northwest of Jerusalem, told of hearing the heavy explosions.

The fires spread to nearby oil and benzene tanks of the Shell Oil Company and engulfed the contents. Police, Navy and oil company fire brigades struggled for more than an hour to bring the blaze under control.

A smoke pall spread over the city. The sight of this and the sound of the explosions and of vehicles racing through the streets spread excitement through Haifa, but no curfew was imposed.

The force of the blasts, which occurred about 9:15 A. M., shook windows of buildings high on Mount Carmel, far removed from the water front.

Haifa is the terminus of the Iraq Petroleum Company's 800-mile pipeline which carries oil from the Kirkuk fields in northeastern Iraq.

On February 20 members of the Jewish underground organization Irgun Zvai Leumi blasted the pipeline at two places near Haifa in attacks which underground spokesmen said were intended as retaliation for the deportation of uncertified Jewish immigrants to Palestine.

Jewish Policeman Wounded

Jewish Policeman Mottele Berger was found severely wounded today on busy Ben Yehuda street in the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv. Police said he apparently was the victim of what they termed "Jewish underground gangsters."

In 1937 and 1939, Berger was the target of physical attacks attributed to the Jewish underground. After the latter attack, he was transferred from the criminal investigation division to traffic duty.

British Plan New Blockade

London, March 28 (A. P.).—Authoritative sources reported today the British Cabinet had approved far-reaching plans to seal off Palestine from an expected summer rush to that country by Europe's displaced Jews. These plans were taken back to Jerusalem today by Gens. Sir Alan Cunningham and G. H. A. McMillan, high commissioner and military commander for Palestine.

The informants gave this picture: British authorities believe Jews in Palestine, Europe and the United States are preparing for the "biggest-ever" rush to the Holy Land. Small ships are believed to be nosing their way toward various European ports where thousands of Jewish men, women and children soon will gather. At an appropriate moment, when sailing conditions are most favorable, organizers of the movement will give the signal for the exodus.

British naval units in the Mediterranean soon will be augmented.

Hebrew Republic Held Main Aim Of Irgun

By Carter L. Davidson

Jerusalem, March 28 (AP)—A Hebrew republic made up of both Palestine and Trans-Jordan, possibly with an Arab vice president, is the ultimate aim of Irgun Zvai Leumi under the battle strategy outlined by two leaders of the organization.

"Naturally our struggle for the reintegration of Trans-Jordan within the frontiers of the future Hebrew republic is a question of long-range policy which current preoccupations prevent us from threshing out," said one. "But nothing can change the fact that the Jordan River flows through Eretz-Israel (Palestine) instead of past it."

[Britain seperated Trans-Jordan from the original League of Nations mandate in 1922 in a White Paper issued by Winston Churchill, then Colonial Secretary, and later granted independence to the predominately Arab desert country east of the Jordan under King Abdullah.]

"Room For All Arabs"

The Irgun spokesmen hastened to add, however:

"There is no reason for displacing a single Arab on either side of the Jordan. We believe absolutely that there is room for all Arabs who are here and for possibly an Arab vice president of the future Hebrew republic."

I was not permitted to see the Irgun commander, Menachim Beigin, "for security reasons." I was assured, however, that he would answer my written questions and that he would see me later "when the situation eased."

Strategy, Political Aims

In his place were men of the organization's "high command," who spoke of Irguns strategy and political aims.

Regarding partition, they said the following answer was written by Beigin himself:

"We cannot accept any carving up of our national territory. We are not fighting for bargaining positions but for the restoration of our homeland—all our homeland—and the liberation of our people from homelessness.

"Politics And Intrigue"

Moreover, all those proposed plans of partition, federalization or cantonization are consequences of power politics and intrigue, not even of an imaginary necessity measured against the unprecedented necessity of the Hebrew people.

"If the United Nations should succumb to the pressure of injustice and immorality, we would be compelled to fight on, certain, moreover, of the sympathy of the civilized world."

Irgun leaders said they did not believe there was any anti-terrorist co-operation between the British and either Hagana, the Jewish Defense Organization or Yishuv (the Jewish community in Palestine).

Bergson Group Praised

The Irgunists praised the "Peter H. Bergson group" for the "great work of enlightenment carried out in bringing home to the public of the United States and elsewhere the true character of our struggle for liberation."

[Peter H. Bergson, a native of Lithuania, is chairman of the "Hebrew Committee of National Liberation." He has been fighting in Europe and the United States for the last ten years for the admittance of additional Jews to Palestine. The executive committee of Vaad Leumi, the Jewish National Council in Palestine, declared last December that the H.C.N.L. was "wholly outside the organized Jewish community" and "consists of persons who are self-appointed and who represent no one except themselves."] and had been formulated because of committments by the United States and because of heroic service by Filipinos during the war.

Iranians Battle Tribe Encircling Battalion

Tehran, March 28 (AP)—Fighting continued today between the Iranian Army and Barzani tribesmen in the mountains northwest of Oshnoo, 14 miles fro mthe Iraq border, where the tribesmen have encircled a battalion of the army.

A high diplomatic source said about 4,500 Iranian troops of six different units were engaged in the campaign to relieve the encircled battalion.

He added that Molla Mustafa, a Barzani leader, and Zero Beig Behadori, leader of approximately 1,000 armed outlaws, Armenians, Assyrians and Kurds, who also have been fighting Iranian Government troops farther north of Oshnoo, "have re-established their relations with the Soviet consulate in Rezahieh," capital of western Azerbaijan.

Indians' Philippines View

New Delhi, March 28 (AP)—Paul V. McNutt said here today he was "amazed and disheartened" to be told unofficially in India that "some circles believe the United States still has an imperialistic interest in the Philippines and that American policy is resented by the Filipino people."

McNutt, retiring United States Ambassador to Manila, told a news conference that this attitude was an "unbelievable distortion of the truth, a distortion compounded of a lack of information and some small element of deliberate misrepresentation."

"If there is one area of American policy that has been disinterested and idealistic," he continued, "it has been America's policy in the Philippines."

Indian reporters—who questioned McNutt closely about the status of American capital in the Philippines, the Filipino franchise and whether the Philippines were free to make trade agreements with other countries—several times broke into laughter at his noncommittal answers.

"There is great interest in the Philippines in the mighty events taking place in India," McNutt said. "News from India is avidly followed. As an individual, I should like to see closer intercourse between India and the Philippines, the two great exponents of democracy, human dignity and liberty in the Far East."

He withheld specific answers to several questions, including one as to whether the United States would approve trade agreements by England and other countries with the Philippines similar to the pact with the United States. He declared the American agreement was unique

Chinese Claim Big Red Force Still In Darien

Nanking, March 28 (AP)—Russia still has 100,000 troops in Dairen and Port Arthur, upsetting hopes that China would occupy the big Manchurian port of Dairen in the next few days, it was reported on high authority today.

The disclosure the Russians still were in Dairen in force was made by Gen. Chen Cheng, chief of staff, at a closed session of the resident committee of the People's Political Council, the Associated Press learned.

In addition, Chen reported that there were 30,000 Chinese Communist soldiers at Pulantien, barring the way for Government troops waiting to move into Darien from the north.

Committeemen said Chen told them that a considerable number of Koreans were fighting in the Communist Army along the Manchurian-Korean border.

In rugged northwest China, meanwhile, troops pressed into northern Shensi and northwestern Shansi provinces from three directions, seeking to close in for the kill before the beaten defenders of Yenan consolidate.

From the northeast, Gen. Fu Tso-yi's troops struck out from the Shansi province rail junction city of Tatung to take Yuyu, 25 miles west of Tsoyun, already in Nationalist hands.

JAPAN TAKES STEPS TO BOLSTER ECONOMY

TOKYO, Saturday, March 29—(AP) The Japanese government took three steps today to overhaul Japan's economy after General MacArthur warned the beaten nation must help itself in order to get outside aid.

Agriculture Minister Kozaemon Kimura announced the ration system would be revised to assure early delivery of rice rations, now lagging from three to 20 days behind schedule.

As a second measure, he said, plans will be undertaken at once to develop major industries in rural areas in order to speed up production for domestic use and for export.

The economic stabilization board then called for immediate passage in the diet of a bill similar to the United States Sherman anti-trust law as a means of eliminating monopolistic practices.

Pointing out that food was sent last year to ward off starvation in Japan and that more food was scheduled to be sent this year, General MacArthur wrote: "The Allied powers, of course, are under no obligation to maintain or to have maintained any particular standard of living in Japan, nor is there any responsibility to import foodstuffs to meet deficits arising from the failure of Japan to assure the just and efficient distribution of its own food supplies."

General MacArthur said that while the food problem was basic, it was tied up with production, wage and price stabilization and public finance. He wrote: "What is required is an integrated approach across the entire economic front. Accordingly, it is essential that the Japanese government, through the Economic Stabilization Board which was created for this purpose, take early and vigorous steps to develop and implement the integrated series of economic and financial controls which the current situation demands."

General MacArthur pointed out that two weeks after the Japanese surrender on Sept. 2, 1945, he placed upon the Japanese government the responsibility for maintaining firm control over wages and prices and for initiating a strict rationing program which would insure equitable distribution.

Premier Yoshida sent a long reply, saying that in the collecting of food "force as well as persuasion is being used" and "the government will do everything possible to ensure 100 per cent collection and will see to the efficiency of the control of distribution."

He said the battle against the black market was continuing, production and sound financing were being encouraged and the economic stabilization board "will be expanded and strengthened," to do a more effective job.

Mr. Yoshida concluded with the "earnest wish" that General MacArthur "will continue the assistance and advice which you have been kind enough to give us."

MacArthur Tells Japs To Tighten Up Economy

Tokyo, March 28 (AP)—General MacArthur has instructed Premier Shigeru Yoshida to take "early and vigorous steps" to control Japan's floundering economy, warning that foreign aid will be dependent upon Japanese efforts to feed themselves.

The supreme commander addressed his remarks to Yoshida in a letter dated March 22, the Government revealed, and Yoshida, replying today, promised to take "necessary measures with expedition and efficiency."

MacArthur's letter specifically ordered controls to curb black markets and rampant inflation and urged increased industrial and agricultural production.

Given The Responsibility

"Aid to Japan cannot be expected upon a scale sufficiently great to overcome maldistribution and inflation within Japan," the letter said. "Outside assistance is contingent upon full utilization of indigenous resources, which is entirely a responsibility of the Japanese Government."

MacArthur pointed out that two weeks after the surrender he placed upon the Japanese Government the responsibility for maintaining firm control over wages and prices and for initiating a strict rationing program that would insure equitable distribution.

However, he said, the black-marketing of food and the Government's failure to collect rice quotas are two indications of a "general maldistribution" of essentials.

Economic Stabilization Board

"Accordingly," his letter said, "it is essential that the Japanese Government through the Economic Stabilization Board, which was created for this purpose, take early and vigorous steps to develop and implement the integrated series of economic and financial controls which the current situation demands. . . .

"Unless determined measures are undertaken at once by the Government, the inflationary condition of the economy, together with its attendant maldistribution of food and other necessities, will become increasingly serious, industrial recovery will be further retarded and achievement of social and political objectives toward which the Japanese people have made such an encouraging start will be endangered."

MacArthur added that the "social and economic welfare of Japan will depend largely upon Japan's own efforts in redirection of its human and natural resources to peaceful living and upon competent public administration of democratic and effective economic controls."

"No Objection" By Allies

He reminded the Premier that "the Allied powers, of course, are under no obligation to maintain or to have maintained any particular standard of living in Japan, nor is there any responsibility to import foodstuffs to meet deficits arising from failure of Japan to assure the just and efficient distribution of its own food supplies."

The warning came as the official rice-distribution program fell at least ten days behind in Tokyo and other large cities. This was blamed principally on transportation difficulties and maladministration.

Yoshida replied that "force as well as persuasion" were being used by authorities to collect foodstuffs. He promised the Government will "do everything possible" to insure collections exceeding quotas and "will see to efficiency of control of distribution."

'Japs Pulled' 3 House Of David Beards

Yokohama, March 28 (AP)—Fistfuls of hair were pulled from the beards of three American brothers, all members of the House of David, while they were prisoners of war, a witness testified today at the war-crime trial of three Japanese before an 8th Army commission.

Those tortured were John S. Zivic, of Boise, Idaho, and his brothers Michael and Thomas, whose addresses were not available.

Accused of the beard-pulling were defendants Sergt. Kyusho Masaki, Sergt. Matsusaburo Shirakawa and Capt. Masashi Sato, commandant at Hanaoka camp.

Major Arthur C. Biedenstein, of St. Louis, testified that he saw Masaki and Sato pulling hair from the beard of one of the brothers.

DUTCH COURT GETS SEIZED SHIP CASE

U.S. Operators Willing to Abide by Netherlands-Indonesian Commission's Division

BATAVIA, Java, March 28 (AP)—A petition was filed in a Dutch court today asking that the confiscated cargo of the United States Liberty ship Martin Behrman be placed in the hands of a joint Dutch-Indonesian Committee on Economic Affairs.

The action, filed for Capt. Rudy Gray by Attorney James W. Ryan, representing the Isbrandtsen Company of New York, said the company, operators of the vessel, was willing to abide by the decision of such a committee.

Clause 14 of the recently signed agreement of the Dutch and the Indonesian Republic provides for the restoration of property belonging to non-Indonesians, through a joint commission.

Mr. Ryan announced that the Isbrandtsen ship Flying Cloud would arrive here Saturday with a cargo destined for the Indonesian Republic. Indonesian sources said the ship was carrying a cargo that in part could not enter under Dutch regulations, and this would raise the possibility of a new confiscation order.

The Martin Behrman's cargo was confiscated by the Dutch after having been loaded at the Indonesian port of Cheribon. The Dutch contended it included property of estates taken over by the Indonesians.

PORTER URGES STRONG ENOUGH AID FOR GREECE

U. S. Should Demonstrate Democracy's Aims Excel Any Other System's.

ENVOY BACK FROM SURVEY

Senate Hopes to Get Measure to Floor April 7—Drive On to Bar Turkish Loan.

Washington, March 28 (A. P.).—Paul Porter, special American envoy to Greece, asserted today that proposed United States aid for others should be strong enough to "demonstrate to the world that the objectives and policies of democracy are superior to those of any other system."

His arguments, as he reviewed the Greeks' needs in testimony before the House Foreign Affairs Committee, obviously were calculated to offset the contention in some Capitol Hill quarters that American assistance to the southern European country should be limited strictly to relief.

Across the Capitol, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted to end its public hearings on Monday and aim at getting legislation to the Senate floor by April 7. Mr. Truman has sought a congressional decision on his proposal by March 31—date when British aid to Greece will end.

The Senate group heard behind closed doors from Ambassadors Lincoln MacVeagh and Edwin C. Wilson on conditions in Greece and Turkey, respectively. Chairman Vandenberg (R.-Mich.) said that the committee got a "very illuminating report," but declined to give details.

Moves also have developed in Congress to bar any aid for Turkey rather than giving Mr. Truman a free hand, as he asked, to send $400,000,000 and limited military missions to help Greece and Turkey resist Communist aggression.

Made Two-month Survey.

Just back from Athens after a two-month survey of the Greek situation, Porter declared flatly that "it is obvious to all that Greece cannot work out her own destiny alone."

A suggestion that United Nations officials be invited to "observe" operation of American aid to Greece and Turkey was put up to Porter. Representative Judd (R.-Minn.) asked him whether he saw any objection to writing such a provision into the proposed legislation.

Porter said he did not.

Judd commented that it would help eliminate criticism that the plan was motivated by "imperialistic ambitions."

Porter, as have other administration witnesses, told the committee that he did not believe the Greco-Turkish aid program would lead to war with Russia.

Representative Fulton (R.-Pa.) asked and got the reply: "It is my personal opinion that it will not."

Navy Official Heard.

Another witness was Under-Secretary of the Navy John L. Sullivan, who said the United States Navy would be "glad" to use its advice to help free peoples throughout the world "maintain their independence against aggressive forces seeking to impose their will."

He made this statement as members pressed him for the reasons behind the Navy's plan to send a task force cruising through the Mediterranean next month to the Dardanelles, Russia's southern gateway.

Sullivan denied flatly the maneuvers were designed as a "show of force," saying that such a definition implied a "threat."

"There is nothing of that kind in the minds of the Navy," he testified.

Porter, former head of the Office of Price Administration, told the committee that it was apparent that the proposed program of American financial aid to Greece would do no more than place Greece on an "austerity basis, and lay the basis for reconstruction."

State Department officials have advised Congress that if the President's plan is approved about $150,000,000 will be used to help Turkey—almost all of it military aid—and the remainder of the $400,000,000 will go to help Greece.

Talks Only of Greece.

Porter talked only of Greece and, describing conditions there, said: "In a sense, Greece is living on borrowed time—on the hope of prompt American assistance.

"It is obvious that outside assistance is required for the survival of a Democratic Greek State.

"But we must do more than that if we are to go further than merely postponing collapse. We must make available funds for reconstruction and rehabilitation. While Greece has done some restoration of ports and railroads since liberation, in general the country has made little progress in rebuilding.

"Hence, it will still be necessary for the Greek Government to use all effective measures to mobilize her own resources."

Faces Inflation Threat.

Included in his recommendations was the point that the Greek Army should be used for reconstruction work "as much as possible."

Advising that Greece faces a "new and immediate threat of inflation of disastrous proportions," Porter listed these principal elements:

The Government's budget for the fiscal year beginning April 1 indicates a deficit of $287,000,000, which is more than three times the currency in circulation.

The imminent end of UNRRA shipments "would cause an immediate and substantial increase in the internal price level which is already out of line with general world prices."

A new series of wage demands and increasing signs of labor unrest.

Disagrees With Wallace.

Representative Mundt (R.-S. D.), after asking Porter to discuss the present Greek government, said: "Then you disagree with the left-handed Mr. Henry Wallace when he says we can't work with such a government in Greece?"

Porter—"I disagree with Mr. Wallace on this and other issues."

Mundt—"All of which is to your credit, Mr. Porter."

Mundt asked Porter what type of man he thinks should be sent to Greece in connection with a program of assistance—whether "hard working bureaucrats, hard-headed businessmen, or who?"

Porter replied: "The best I could get from anywhere."

Mundt asked if he had any one in mind. The witness said: "No, except to say that I am not a candidate."

Mundt asked his opinion of barring all personnel who had previously been with UNRRA and the OPA.

Porter replied: "I don't consider service with any wartime agency as a disqualification for this."

Senator Proposes Greeks Give Up King

Washington, March 28 (AP)—Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D., Col.) proposed an amendment today to the Greek-Turkey aid program to require that Greece give up the present king and agree to a democratic form of government as a condition to getting United States help.

Other Johnson amendments would:

1. Eliminate military aid from the program.
2. Eliminate Turkey from any aid.
3. Require Greece to repay the United States ahead of any other creditor, including England.
4. Make clear that the United States "is not abandoning its traditional policy of avoiding interference with the internal or domestic affairs of other nations."

A-BOMB MENACES U.S., SAYS EARLE

Ex-Diplomat Warns Congress Against Russia

MAR 1947

Washington, March 28 (AP)—George H. Earle, former diplomat, told Congress today, "I don't believe there is better than an even chance that ten per cent of us Americans will be alive five years from now."

The reason for his pessimism, he said, is that Americans are so "charitable" that they won't use the atom bomb first.

Earle called Russia the "terrible menace."

He gave his testimony under oath to the House Committee on un-American Activities at hearings on bills to outlaw the Communist party.

"People Oppose It"

He recommended that America "immediately use the atomic bomb" against any nation that refuses to permit inspection of atomic plants. But he said "the American people wouldn't stand for it."

So, the one-time Governor of Pennsylvania said, the United States should "try to hold the Russians" by perfecting and hiding "the most terrible weapons of destruction."

Then, he said, America should "let them know that the first atom bomb that explodes here, we will destroy every city in Russia."

State Department Silent

The State Department, asked for its reaction to Earle's statements, declined to comment. So did Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and Senator Connally (D., Texas), ranking Democratic member of the committee.

Earle has been United States Minister to Austria and to Bulgaria, a naval officer, and an undercover agent for the President in Turkey during the war.

He began:

"This is a day of exaggeration for the sake of emphasis, of overstatement for dramatic effect. What I am about to say now is not for dramatic purposes.

Calls Situation Desperate

"I think the situation in the United States today is completely desperate, the reason being that the super A-bomb is here or nearly here and the country that uses it first is almost sure to win.

"The American people are so naive and charitable. I fear that they never will use it first.

"As a result, I say in all solemnity, I don't believe today there is a better than even chance that ten per cent of us Americans will be alive five years from now."

Earle said the only safeguard against complete obliteration is "complete world inspection to prevent the production of atomic weapons."

Predicts Russian A-Bomb

Russia, he said, certainly will have the A-bomb "very soon." And Russians, he said, "have a fanatical determination to dominate the world by violence and infiltration."

Earle said the Russians feel America is "the only stumbling block between them and world domination."

He pictured his idea of how Russia might use super-atomic bombs against the United States—exploding them in ships sent into ports, launching them from giant submarines, sending a fleet of jet-propelled planes from the Kurile islands (north of Japan) to pattern-bomb all of America.

He said there is no defense against the atom bomb and never will be.

Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R., N.J.) cut in to ask what this had to do with bills to outlaw the Communist party.

"There is not the slighest question in my mind," Earle replied, "that Communists and fellow travelers in this country should be considered as the agents of ruthless enemies bent upon our destruction."

"U. N. Is Helpless"

Earle said he is unfamiliar with the bills, that he would be guided by J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director. Hoover has recommended that the committee use relentless exposure of communism instead of erasing the party.

Earle hurried back to Russia and A-bombs.

"The United Nations is completely helpless in this situation," he said, "because of the Russian veto. We must absolutely forget the United Nations as far as action in this is concerned."

If America didn't have the atomic bomb, he said, Soviet armies already would have spread over Europe and most of Asia, with "islands of resistance in Sweden, Switzerland and Spain."

Before Earle went on, Gov. Kim Sigler of Michigan told the committee Communists had gained "absolute control of certain unions" in his State and that three officials of the big auto workers' union are "captives of the Communist party."

Three Are Named

He named the three, in testimony before the House committee, as R. J. Thomas, vice president; George Addes, secretary-treasurer, and Richard T. Leonard, national director of the union's Ford department.

Sigler said Thomas, Addes and Leonard follow "party lines in union activities."

Spokesmen for the three said there would be no comment until further study can be given the Governor's testimony.

Sigler testified that the Communist party should be outlawed. In backing proposed bills to outlaw the Communist party, he said that it strives for "revolution," that it is "underground anyway," and that it is moving into unions, schools, churches and Government.

He referred to Stanley Novak, Michigan State senator, as a man who has been "a Communist worker and sympathizer for a considerable period of time."

Committee Has File

Chairman Thomas advised Sigler that the committee has "quite a file" on Novak.

Representative Nixon (R., Cal.) asked whether Sigler thinks Communists will "win the current fight in Michigan to gain control of certain unions."

"I don't believe they will," Sigler said.

Labor leaders combating communism in their unions need help badly, he said, "and I, as Governor of the State, propose to give it to them."

Sigler Terms 3 U.A.W. Chiefs Red 'Captives'

Michigan Governor Tells House Body Communists Control 'Certain' Unions

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP).—Governor Kim Sigler, of Michigan, testified today that Communists have gained "absolute control of certain unions" in his state and that three officials of the big Congress of Industrial Organizations' United Automobile Workers are "captives of the Communist party."

He named the three, in testimony before the House Committee on Un-American Activities as R. J. Thomas, vice-president; George Addes, secretary-treasurer, and Richard T. Leonard, national director of the union's Ford department, who, the Governor said, follow "party lines in union activities."

Governor Sigler said he believed the Communist party should be outlawed. Former Governor George H. Earle, of Pennsylvania, took the view that exposure of Communist party activities would be the wiser course.

Mr. Earle also trem Soviet Russia the "terrbile menace" of this atomic age, and said: "I don't believe there is better than an even chance that 10 per cent of us Americans will be alive five years from now," because Americans are so "charitable" they won't use the atom bomb first.

Mr. Earle has been American Minister to Austria and to Bulgaria, a naval officer and an undercover agent for the President in Turkey during the war.

Cacchione Cancels Visit

Peter V. Cacchione, Communist Councilman of New York City, canceled his appearance before the committee today and sen a message denouncing what he called the "disgraceful manner" oft he committee. He sent a representatve, Norman Schrank, who identified himself as secretary of the Comunist party in Brooklyn, and read a message from Mr. Cacchione attacking the manner "in which this committee recently refused to permit the expression of the Communist party's viewpoint on the two proposed bills for outlawing the Communist party."

Two days ago the committee ousted Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the party, from the witness stand because he would not give any other name by Eugene Dennis.

Before the message was read Reuresentative J. Parnell Thomas, Republican, of New Jersey, committee chairman, insisted that Mr. Schrank take the oath as a witness. After objecting, he finally did so.

Governor Sigler, in backing proposed bills to outlaw the Communist party, said that it strives for "revolution," that it is "underground anyway," and that it is moving into unions, schools, churches and government. He said there are 15,000 Communists in Michigan.

He referred to Michigan State Senator Stanley Novak as a man who has been "a Communist worker and sympathizer for a considerable period of time." Representative Thomas advised Governor Sigler that the commitee has "quite a file" on Mr. Novak.

Representative Richard M. Nixon, Republican, of California, asked whether Governor Sigler thought the Communists would "win the current fight in Michigan to gain control of certain unions."

"I don't believe they will," Governor Sigler said. Labor leaders combatting Communism i ntheir unions need help badly, he said, "and I, as Governor of the state propose to give it to them."

Reuther Assails Charge

DETROIT, March 28 (AP).—The testimony of Governor Sigler before the House committee was assailed today by Walter P. Reuther as part of a "drive" by "organized reaction" against labor and liberals.

Mr. Reuther, president of the U. A. W. said here that Governor Sigler had "performed a valuable service to the Communists" in affording them the opportunity of "hiding behind genuinely liberal and progressive forces."

Mr. Reuther did not specifically mention Governor Sigler's testimony about Messrs. Thomas, Leonard and Addes—with whom he himself has been described as frequently at odds—but said the Governor"s remarks were "an attack upon the U. A. W. and the American labor movement." The three themselves said they would reply to Governor Sigler tomorrow.

The union president, an avowed foe of Communists, assailed Governor Sigler before the U. A. W.'s national Ford conference, in session here.

BRICKER DEMANDS LILIENTHAL PROBE

WASHINGTON, March 28—(AP) Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) today demanded a special FBI investigation of David E. Lilienthal and the other five nominees for the Atomic Energy Commission and moved that the senate delay confirmation until it is made.

His motion then became the pending business before the senate. The vote on it, expected next week, probably will furnish a test for the final showdown.

Bricker, who voted against Lilienthal in committee, said President Truman declined to order an FBI investigation when the Senate Atomic Energy Committee requested it last session.

Reads Truman Letter

The senator read a letter from Mr. Truman to the committee saying that records of the FBI and other government investigating agencies were checked at the time of the appointments and "no derogatory information was contained in any report" that might already have been made.

Bricker commented that of course the President felt there was nothing derogatory in the records of the six—"otherwise it would have been a crime to appoint them."

"But in this important responsibility, the senate should not be required to rely upon the judgment of the President," he declared.

"Before we vote, we should have available to us these records in order that we can decide for ourselves if they contain any derogatory information."

The first-term Republican, only member of the nine-man committee to vote against Lilienthal's confirmation, said he had been advised that neither the FBI, the Department of Justice, nor any other division of government made an investigation of the five commissioners and the nominee for general manager, "and that the President did not ask for any."

In addition to Lilienthal, who was designated chairman, Mr. Truman appointed W. W. Waymack, L. L. Strauss, Sumner T. Pike and Robert F. Bacher as commissioners, and Carroll L. Wilson as general manager.

The President's letter was dated March 1, 1947, and addressed to committee Chairman Hickenlooper (R-Iowa).

It said that it had been "long established policy" that all investigative reports are confidential documents of the executive department and that to give congress or the public access to them would not be in the public interest.

"I believe that it would be unwise to change this established policy and to set a precedent that would seriously prejudice the future usefulness of these investigating agencies," the President wrote.

Would Check All Employes

In connection with his motion to return the nominations to the atomic committee, Bricker also asked that the committee be directed to investigate the records of all officers and employes hired by the commission to date, and to hold hearings to find out whether the commission has "acted in an improper or incompetent manner" in appointing them.

In a two-hour speech which preceded his motion, Bricker had read a memorandum from Fred B. Rhodes, Jr., executive director of the senate-house atomic energy committee, containing what Rhodes described as a "summary of the derogatory information" on five employes of the Washington headquarters of the Atomic Energy Commission. Rhodes' report said:

That John Lancaster Burling, a member of the commission's legal staff, was "reported to have given to an unauthorized individual information from government files concerning an enemy alien."

That Herbert S. Marks, the commission's general counsel, "is a strong advocate of 'state socialism" and was refused a commission in the navy because he "did not possess the requisite qualifications of appointment."

That Richard O. Niehoff, a training specialist, "attended Communist meeting in the Knoxville area while employed at TVA."

That James Thomas Ramey altered a passport application.

That Joseph Volpe, deputy general counsel, has a brother, Edward who joined a Communist party affiliate in 1944. Rhodes said that a check by the FBI on Joseph Volpe failed to find any derogatory information on him.

Investigate Arabian Oil Profits From Naval Sales?

Oil Man Moffett Tells Senate Group Company Profited $68,000,000 But Navy at Once Denies

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—The senate war investigating committee was told today that an American oil company made a $68,000,000 profit from the sale of Arabian oil to the U.S. navy but the navy denied it.

Moffett Makes Charge

James A. Moffett, oil man and former government official, gave the testimony. He said he used his own figures on production and refining costs to calculate the profit to the Arabian-American Oil Co. and its predecessor, the California Arabian Oil Co., which obtained concessions in the Persian gulf area.

The navy department issued a statement, however, saying that its total oil purchases on a three-year period covered by Moffett's estimates amounted to $59,881,594, and commented:

"It is difficult to understand how purchases totalling $59,881,594 could have yielded a profit of $68,000,000."

The statement added that "the prices paid by the navy for Persian gulf oil products are substantially lower than those paid for similar products by the navy to any other producer in the world."

Navy Records Demanded

The committee called upon the navy to produce its records at a hearing tomorrow.

On the basis of Moffett's testimony, Senator Brewster (R-Me), the committee chairman, commented that the government is "paying what seems excessive profits" on Persian gulf oil although the United States is "clearly moving into the Middle East to secure" the American concessions.

Asked whether the hearing is connected with President Truman's proposal for aid to Greece and Turkey against communism, Brewster told newsmen to "draw your own conclusions."

Moffett told of unsuccessful negotiations he undertook in 1941 to get this government to advance $30,000,000 against Arabian oil to King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia. Moffett, former chairman of the board of the Bahrein Petroleum Co., and its distributing subsidiary, the California Texas Oil Co., testified that he acted in behalf of the California Arabian Oil Co.

Prices to Roosevelt

Moffett read a letter to President Roosevelt on April 6, 1941, pricing the oil and petroleum products on the contingency that this country would send Ibn Saud the $30,000,000.

Brewster interpreted Moffett's pricing estimate as meaning that the oil company now holding the concession, if it used that price structure, would have made a profit of "a little more than $11,000,000 rather than the $68,000,000."

Brewster told reporters that although the $30,000,000 deal fell through, the navy four years later contracted for oil from the Persian gulf area at a price two or three times greater than it would have been.

The senator added that the government tried to buy 50 per cent of the concession but the private corporation refused and "went ahead and got the concession and the government is holding the bag."

Moffett testified that Ibn Saud was in financial difficulties when he sought the $30,000,000 advance. The witness said the British were paying the king 400,000 pounds sterling a year and that the American oil company paid or obligated to the king, some $10,000,000 or $12,000,000 in advance royalties. However, he added, the king still needed $6,000,000 a year for five years.

Moffett said he took the proposition to Mr. Roosevelt on April 9, 1941, after conferring with Fred Davies, then president of California Arabian, and the late Lloyd Hamilton, whom he identified as the "real head" of that company.

The witness quoted Mr. Roosevelt as saying he could not lend money against oil still in the ground.

Then, Moffett related, he went to the late Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox with the proposal but Knox said he had no appropriations to buy the oil for a naval reserve.

Brewster said the executors of Mr. Roosevelt's estate will be asked for copies of Moffett's letters for the records.

Russian Occupation Zones Are Called Police States

Top U. S. Policy Makers Testify Soviet Has Big 'Impressed' Army in Korea—Ask Fund to Compete With Communism.

Washington, March 28 (A. P.).—Accusations by top administration policy makers that Russia is running "police" States in Soviet occupation zones and maintaining a half-million-man "impressed" army in northern Korea were made public today.

The assertions—lending emphasis to this country's broadening program for pitting American dollars against Russian communism—are contained in a bulky document representing testimony before the House Appropriations Committee.

They stemmed from the War Department's request for an immediate $300,000,000 emergency appropriation for relief in United States occupation zones. The committee approved the appropriation.

In the document, Assistant Secretary of War Howard C. Petersen is quoted as cautioning Congress that failure to approve the funds would "bankrupt" the nation's foreign policy.

"The position of world leadership," Petersen said, "has certain responsibilities. They cost money."

Other Outlays.

The $300,000,000 sum would be in addition to:

1. A previously voted $425,000,000 appropriation for relief costs in the occupied zones for the twelve-month period ending June 30.

2. A request for $725,000,000 for the same purpose in the War Department's budget for the twelve months beginning July 1.

3. A pending measure to authorize the expenditure of $350,000,000 for relief in five European countries — Italy, Greece, Hungary, Austria and Poland — and China.

4. President Truman's request for $400,000,000 to bolster Greece and Turkey against encroaching Communism.

5. United States contributions to UNRRA, amounting to about $350,000,000, in the form of goods allocated but not shipped by the first of this year.

In addition to Petersen's, the document includes testimony by former President Herbert Hoover, Secretary of War Patterson, Assistant Secretary of State John H. Hilldring and Lieut.-Gen. John B. Hodge, commanding general of the United States forces in Korea.

Of the requested $300,000,000, a total of $67,000,000 would be allocated for Germany; $18,000,000 for Austria; $74,000—"an inconsequential amount"—for Italy; $144,000,000 for Japan, and $68,000,000 for Korea.

Hodge's Testimony on Korea.

Hodge told the committee that an absolute curtain" divides southern Korea and the Soviet-occupied northern half of the country, and declared: "Why the Russians take the attitude they do I do not know."

Basing a question on information apparently supplied the committee members privately, Representative Keefe (R., Wis.) inquired: "Do I understand this army that has been referred to of a half million men presumably is an impressed army?"

Hodge: "The information we have from the sources of information we get indicates that it is by and large an impressed army."

[The general went further in his testimony before the committee than he did at a news conference on his return from Seoul last month. At that time he said only that there appears to be "something to" reports that the Russians are organizing and training Korean troops.]

Competing With Communism.

On the broader issue of the relief program in all occupied zones, Petersen told the committee:

"If you do not feed these people, there is bound to be unrest and disorder and that is the best breeding ground for Communism. Remember, we are in competition and very real competition with communistic ideology all over the world."

At one point, Representative Cannon (D.-Mo.) inquired: "To what extent is Russia winning over the support and allegiance and co-operation of European peoples which would make them Russian allies in the event of another war with the United States?"

"In the occupied areas," replied Petersen, "I would say they are not making much progress outside of their own zones where they have, as usual, a police state."

Cannon: "You think, then, that we, in making this appropriation, and extending this relief, are advancing the day when it will be self-supporting, we are offsetting any potential enemy which might develop in Europe, and we are combating Communism?"

Petersen: "I do think that; yes, sir."

Secretary of War Patterson reviewed the plan for joint economic operation of the British-American occupation zones in Germany, drawing from Keefe the query: "Ultimately, the whole job is going to fall on this country, is it not?"

Patterson: "I have heard people say that they thought so, but I cannot say. I just do not know."

Admiral Hoover Named

Washington, March 28 (AP)—Vice Admiral John H. Hoover, of Great Falls, Mont., will become the senior naval member of the joint Army-Navy Petroleum Board early next month, the Navy announced today. He will relieve Admiral Frederick J. Horne, who is retiring to inactive duty.

JACKSON URGES SPEEDY REVISION OF RULES OF WAR

WASHINGTON, March 28—(AP) Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson said today that a revision of the international rules of war is "urgently needed."

Noting that the code was last revised in 1929, a decade before World War II, Jackson told a reporter that the need for modernization is dictated not only by the development of new and fearsome weapons but also by the changed balances of military power.

Says Rules Obsolete

The rules "are obsolete as they stand," he said.

Jackson cited the fact that Russia is not a party to the 1929 Geneva Convention which governs the treatment of war prisoners. When the 35-nation treaty was signed, Russia was of lesser military rank. Today, as one of the three most powerful nations, her adherence to such treaties becomes of prime importance.

After discussing the background of the present code—particularly in connection with testimony at the Nuernberg trials of Nazi war criminals—Jackson said:

"The whole thing adds up to the fact that I think the rules need reconsideration in the light of modern conditions."

Stressing that he spoke only as a citizen, not as a diplomatic or military expert, Jackson suggested the calling of a new convention to consider suggestions for revision.

But the United States, he said, should decide what it wants before going to an international conference.

The justice gave his views in discussing aspects of the Nuernberg trial, where he served as chief of the U. S. prosecution staff, and in connection with an address he made to a group of American military officers concerning the trial.

Nuernberg's Lesson

In the address, published in the forthcoming issue of the magazine "Military Affairs," Jackson took issue with assertions that the Nazi war crimes trial set a precedent for shooting generals who lose wars.

"The precedent we have set is not that fallen enemies may be killed—that is old. The precedent is that they shall not be killed without proof of crime and without fair hearing," he told the officers.

"Instead of fearing the fact that you might have a trial if you lose a war—and I hope to God you never will—I think the military profession ought to feel grateful that hereafter if this precedent is followed, men will not be shot merely because they have lost a war."

The Nazi defendants at Nuernberg, he said, "had what they never gave anybody else—they had a chance to be heard."

There was no intention on the part of the allied tribunal "to convict or brand as criminal the entire profession of arms," but only to convict those officers who planned and waged aggressive warfare, he said.

Senate Tax-Cut Action Not Likely For Weeks

Washington, March 28 (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee reserved a cold-storage spot today for the House-approved tax-cutting bill until members can find out more about Government costs next year.

Chairman Millikin (R., Col.) said that hearings on the measure to lop nearly $4,000,000,000 off this year's tax bills of 46,000,000 citizens "probably won't be started for several weeks." These hearings are necessary before the full Senate can act.

With the aid of 40 Democrats, 233 Republicans pushed the bill through the House yesterday on a 273-to-137 vote. This was one short of the two thirds that would be required to override a veto and indicated that some compromising may be in order if GOP leaders hope to get such a bill enacted over White House opposition.

Changes Expected

Millikin left little doubt that some changes are likely in the measure which provides 30 per cent slashes in taxes for 25,000,000 in the lower income brackets and 20 per cent off for most of the remainder.

"Personally, I want to wait until there is some decision on the budget before we determine what we are going to do about cutting taxes," Millikin said. "It remains to be seen whether the Senate committee will want to cut as deeply as the House."

He noted that conferees haven't been able to reach a compromise on the House move to pledge a $6,000,000,000 cut in President Truman's budget and the Senate's decision not only to hold this reduction to $4,500,000,000 but to apply $2,600,000,000 in surplus revenues to debt payments.

Taft States Stand

Senator Taft, of Ohio, the GOP policy committee chairman, announced that while he considered the House measure "a good bill" in the main, he was opposed to carrying tax reductions back to last January 1, as the measure does.

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D., Col.), a Finance Committee member, said he was willing to vote for cuts in the lower income brackets but would not go along with the twenty per cent reduction given to most of the remainder.

Senator George (D., Ga.) said he was siding with Millikin.

Senator Byrd (D., Va.) assailed yesterday's House action as "a very fine example of putting the cart before the horse." Byrd charged that the proposed reduction would cause a revenue loss to the Government of nearly $6,000,000,000 in the fiscal year beginning July 1. He said the House thus far has voted only an actual cut in expenses of $100,000,000.

Private Builders Hit 'Long' Housing Plan

Washington, March 28 (AP)—The National Association of Home Builders declared today that a proposed public housing program "constitutes the most serious threat" to the private construction industry.

Edward R. Carr, president of the association, said in a statement prepared for the Senate Banking Committee that if the Wagner-Ellender-Taft long-range housing bill is passed "it will largely prevent" private builders "from getting further into the low-cost housing field."

Carr did not confine his criticism to the public housing features of the measure, which is intended to encourage construction of 15,000,000 homes during the next ten years.

Urges Separate Bills

He said:

"We believe its slum clearance provisions, its plan to co-ordinate Government agencies, its aids to private enterprise,' and its public housing proposals should be broken into separate bills and each of these acted upon indivdually."

The public housing section of the omnibus W-E-T bill, sponsored by Senators Wagner (D., N.Y.), Ellender (D., La.) and Taft (R., Ohio), provides for Federal subsidies to states and communities for the construction of 500,000 dwelling units over a four-year period.

These subsidies would begin with $26,400,000 the first year, adding a like amount at the start of each of the next three years. Thus during the fourth year the grant would total $105,600,000.

Grand Total Of Four Billion

The balance of the Government's share of the cost would be paid at this annual rate over the subsequent 41 years, a grand total of more than $4,000,000,000.

Other aid provisions of the bill, including slum clearance and subsidies for rural housing, would raise the cost to about $7,000,000,000.

"We feel," Carr told the committee, "that in view of the unknown foreign commitments which we may be called upon to meet, that such a domestic expenditure is highly inadvisable."

Carr said studies by his association "make it clear that with a high volume of production the problem of slum clearance, as well as the problem of housing the lower-income groups, will be entirely possible of solution by private enterprise methods."

SUGAR RATION OF 3 POUNDS A MONTH SEEN

Boost Of 50% Over 1946 Amount Agreed On By House-Senate Group

Washington, March 28 (AP)—Prospects now are that each person in the country will be allotted sugar at the rate of three pounds a month until rationing ends on October 31.

This amount, roughly 50 per cent more than the ration in 1946, was agreed on today by a Senate-House committee adjusting Senate and House versions of sugar legislation.

Basis Of 35 Pounds A Year

The three-pound-per-month figure is on the basis of 35 pounds for a full year. Provision is made for an increase up to a rate of 50 pounds a year, or slightly more than four pounds a month, should supplies permit it.

Both House and Senate must approve the bill in its adjusted form.

Then it will go to President Truman, who is expected to sign it Monday. Otherwise sugar controls would die on that day. With his signature, handling of sugar will pass from the OPA to the Agriculture Department.

Senator Tobey (R., N.H.) said the department will pass on to the housewife all sugar available in the following ways:

1. By increasing the sugar value of outstanding ration stamps.

2. By future stamps or by declaring an individual stamp due earlier than scheduled.

Industrial Users Affected

The conferees also agreed to allot 25,000 tons to new industrial users, including hardship cases, between April 1 and October 31.

The conference to iron out differences between the House and Senate sugar measures was held at request of the House. Both chambers had agreed on the October 31 expiration date for controls.

The legislation also allows Clinton P. Anderson, Secretary of Agriculture, to lift controls earlier if conditions warrant.

TWO-YEAR LIFTING OF COPPER IMPORT DUTIES IS URGED

WASHINGTON, March 28—(AP)—A two-year suspension of copper import excise duties, to alleviate domestic shortages of the metal, was urged before a Senate committee today by representatives of the copper and brass fabricating industry.

Senators and representatives of copper producing states, however, told the Senate finance committee that the two-year extension approved by the House is unnecessarily long and favored instead a Senate amendment for one year of free entry and an import quota of 400,000 short tons during that period.

Patterson Bill Considered

Under consideration was the House-endorsed measure by Rep. Patterson (R-Conn). It originally proposed a three-year extension and was unanimously approved by the House Ways and Means Committee in that form. The House, however, accepted an amendment by Rep. Rockwell (D-Colo) reducing the suspension to two years.

Senator McFarland (D-Ariz) expressed fear today that lifting the $80-a-ton duty for two years might jeopardize the domestic mining industry. He conceded that domestic production cannot now supply the demand. He suggested that a one-year duty suspension be granted and that Congress then extend the duty-free period if it were found necessary.

Senator McMahon (D-Conn), supported by Senator Hawkes (R-NJ), expressed doubt that copper would begin to flow to this country with just one-year suspension. Hawkes said foreign producers would hardly want to divert supplies from their other customers for such a short period.

McMahon In Warning

McMahon testified that "unless we get more copper in Connecticut wer are going to be in a very precarious situation. Layoffs already are being made by the fabricators." He said consumption now exceeds by 500,000 tons a year the domestic production.

"I am concerned about 75,000 workers in Connecticut tomorrow," McMahon said. "Senator McFarland is concerned with possible unemployment of miners a year from now. We contend that if all the available copper is brought in duty-free that it will not affect the mining industry for years to come."

Senator Johnson (D-Colo) said he thought one year would be enough for a trial, but McMahon urged:

"I don't think the time limit need worry the copper producing country. There is a world shortage and even if more copper comes in than is needed in industry our stockpile is depleted and will have to be built up as a defense measure. We would like more than a year in order to induce foreign producers to come into the market."

Needed for Economy, Defense

Former Senator John A. Danaher (R-Conn), representing Revere Copper and Brass, Inc., told his former committee colleagues that all of the witnesses testifying today appeared before the house committee with the same arguments and the house group unanimously voted for a three-year suspension.

"Much as we regret it," Danaher said, "we must, in face of the world sistuation, be prepared to go to war if necessary in behalf of our principles. It would be a serious thing indeed if that became necessary at a time when domestic copper production cannot meet even domestic civilian needs, let alone the building of a stockpile of this strategic metal.

"This suspension, for two years at least, must be made both for our economy and defense. Copper is an essential in almost every item of our economy"

The 1947 production outside this country, he said, already is largely contracted for and a suspension of duties only until March 31, 1948, as suggested by the senate amendment, would give domestic importers too short a time to get going.

He warned of legislative delays should the senate amend the house bill—requiring that the bill return to the house for concurrence in the amendment and possible conferences between the house and senate—and urged this be avoided by passage of the Patterson bill unchanged.

"We cannot afford," Danaher insisted, "to play fast and loose with our economy, with an ingredient as vital as copper."

Chairman Millikin assured Danaher "that the fact we are sitting here in all-day session is indication that we want to help your industry. The only question remaining is how long the duty should be suspended."

Cuban Molasses Allocated

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP).—The International Food Emergency Council today allocated 165,000,000 gallons of Cuban blackstrap molasses among nine countries. The biggest share, 73,100,000 gallons, will go to the United States. The United Kingdom is next with 72,400,000 gallons.

U.S. REVENUE EXPECTED TO TOP 41 BILLION

Balanced Budget Foreseen With Billion Applied On Debt

Washington, March 28 (AP)—Administration fiscal analysts foresaw today not only a balanced Federal budget this year but the possibility of a billion-dollar payment on the nation's $260,000,000,000 debt.

Federal revenues, they said, may top $41,000,000,000—almost $10,000,000,000 more than expected.

Speaker Martin (R., Mass.) immediately said the figures justify the Republican-backed bill, passed by the House yesterday and now pending in the Senate, to slash taxes by $3,840,000,000 this year.

"The figures show definitely," Martin said, "that we can balance the budget, pay on the debt and cut taxes."

Current Surplus 3 Billion

Treasury records disclosed today that the Government's current budget surplus for the current fiscal year, which ends June 30, has gone above the $3,000,000,000 mark, highest point in the nation's history. Two reasons were assigned:

1. The Government, in less than nine months, has taken in more money than President Truman estimated originally, fifteen months ago, it would get for the full twelve-month period.

2. Government spending has been running below budget estimates.

The Treasury has collected from taxes, duties and surplus property sales $3,037,264,056 more than it has spent since last July 1, the beginning of the fiscal period.

Truman Revised Estimates

Mr. Truman's initial estimate in January, 1946, was that receipts for fiscal 1947 would be $31,500,000,000. That figure was surpassed Wednesday, when receipts for eight months and 27 days went to $31,770,954,000.

The President twice revised his estimates upward. His latest prediction of Treasury receipts this year, made in January, was $40,200,000,000. Now the analysts say the figure may be $1,000,000,000 higher.

When the year's business is closed June 30, they estimated, the budget will be balanced. And there is a possibility of a $1,000,000,000 surplus.

Tax Deductions Over 7 Billion

Income-tax deductions from wages and salaries alone have brought the Government $7,401,370,000 in less than nine months. Other income-tax payments by persons and corporations have yielded another $14,934,795,000.

Before the second World War the Treasury never got more than $2,640,000,000 from all income taxes in one year. The highest total Government receipts in any pre-war year were $8,269,000,000.

HOUSE GETS BELATED BILL

$1,751,894,500 Listed As Still Due For World War II

Washington, March 28 (AP)—Congress got a belated $1,751,894,500 bill today for World War II.

It was part of a $2,471,498,548 deficiency appropriation sent to the House floor by the Appropriations Committee for action Monday. The measure provides extra funds for various agencies for the fiscal year ending June 30.

With the bill went an additional reminder that the cost of the war did not stop with the shooting—a statement by Gen. Omar N. Bradley, veterans administrator, that the cost of providing for 18,000,000 veterans of World Wars I and II will continue at a high rate unless Congress wants to curtail the services.

Cut Taken From Pension Fund

With it, also, was a caution from War Department experts that if the United States does not help prevent starvation in occupied countries, it had better remove its troops.

The Veterans Administration was allotted $1,451,894,500 of the bill's total, $551,020,000 below budget estimates. Almost the entire cut was taken from the pension fund and the fund for benefit payments under the GI Bill of Rights.

The committee said estimates of expenditures for these items were excessive and the amounts approved were more than adequate.

Didn't Ask For The Job

Bradley, obviously irked by intimations of committee members that the VA was not watching its overhead closely, declared during closed committee hearings:

"I did not ask for this job. I only took it because I was asked to do so and I am trying to do the best I can until I can be replaced, which I hope will be as soon as possible."

A second chunk of money directly attributable to the war was $300,000,000 for the Army's relief program in occupied areas. This was the amount requested by the President. It is to last until September or October, with additional funds expected to be supplied in the meantime.

NLRB Request Rejected

The committee rejected a National Labor Relations Board request for an additional $695,700, ordered a reduction of 181 in the number of Veterans Administration public relations employés.

The committee approved $35,000 for new furniture for House members and an additional stationery allowance of $300 for each representative.

Goes To White House

Meanwhile, the Senate needed less than a minute today to approve and send to the White House a $243,255,607 deficiency appropriation bill passed earlier this week by the House.

Senator Bridges (R., N.H.), chairman of the Appropriations Committee, explained that the funds were required by numerous Government agencies during the balance of the current fiscal year, which ends June 30, to meet pay increases voted by the last Congress.

The biggest share, $176,642,400, went to the Post Office Department but Congress also shared with a $3,977,711 for odd-lot legislative expenses.

Court Rules On Gem Taken From Goering

Chicago, March 28 (AP)—Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan today ordered that a diamond encrusted locket and a German field marshal's baton, taken from the former summer home of Hermann Goering by an American Army officer be turned over to the War Department.

The articles, valued at $1,500 each, were seized by customs officials early this year after the locket was found in a Loop jewelry store. Warren H. Eckberg, Chicago, former Army lieutenant who said he sent the articles to his mother-in June, 1945, did not contest the forfeiture.

N. Y. BANKER IS SLATED AS envoy TO POLAND

WASHINGTON, March 28—(AP) The White House announced today that President Truman will nominate Stanton Griffis, New York investment banker, to be ambassador to Poland succeeding Arthur Bliss Lane, resigned.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters the nomination probably will go to the senate Monday.

Griffis, 59, is a partner in Hemphill Noyes and Co., investment banking concern, chairman of the executive committee of Paramount Pictures, and chairman of the Madison Square Garden Corporation.

Lane's resignation is effective today. He returned to this country for consultations shortly after the disputed Polish elections and announced last week that he would not return.

TESTIFY FOR DURANT

Washington, March 28 (A. P.).—Three Army officers, including a major-general and a chaplain, testified at Col. Jack W. Durant's military trial today that Durant had a good reputation for honesty, integrity and ability. He is charged with stealing the $1,500,000 to $7,000,000 Hesse family jewels from a German castle formerly used as an Army rest camp.

Prior to their testimony, a War Department clerk, Miss Artie Burke, testified that she had protested "You can't do that," when Durant signed Maylon's name to papers approving Durant's separation from the Army in May, 1946.

She said that she thought this an "unusual event," but added that Durant's separation papers went through despite a message sent earlier from his former commander in Europe forbidding his release from the Army.

Draft System's Knell Sounded By Senate Action

Washington, March 28 (AP)—The Senate today completed legislative action on a bill liquidating the Selective Service System except for offices which will preserve draft records.

In sending the legislation to the White House, the Senate adopted these House amendments:

1. Selective service employment will be reduced from about 12,000 to 1,200 by November 1.

2. Records of draft boards in each state will be assembled at a state headquarters instead of being kept in each county as the Senate originally provided.

The measure calls for an end of the Selective Service System as soon as possible after next Monday, and in no event later than March 31, 1948. The authority to draft registrants ends Monday.

Schools To Get Partial Advance On GI Tuition

Washington, March 28 (AP)—The Veterans Administration said today well-established nonprofit colleges and universities will receive partial advance payments on veterans tuition fees.

The agency said that hereafter it will pay 75 per cent of the estimated tuition, book and supply costs for veterans studying under the GI bill as soon as a semester's registration is completed. It will pay the remaining costs at the semester's end or at the end of the period for refunding money for veterans who have withdrawn from school.

The Veterans Administration heretofore has deferred payments to colleges until the end of the refund period, usually six weeks or more after the semester begins. Schools complained of difficulty in meeting current expenses under the deferred payments.

Pride Nominated Head Of Navy Materiel Unit

Washington, March 28 (AP)—President Truman today nominated Rear Admiral Alfred M. Pride to be chief of the Navy's Bureau of Aeronautics for a four year term.

Now on duty in the Navy Department's materiel division here, Pride is an admiral who rose from the ranks. He enlisted in the reserve 30 years ago after graduating from engineering school at Tuft's College, Medford, Mass.

He commanded the U.S.S. Belleau Wood, a carrier, in many major fighting engagements in the Pacific during the war and commanded the Air Supporting Control Unit, Amphibious Forces, Pacific Fleet, from April to October, 1945.

Yank, Reich Wife Face Room Fight

Hempstead, N.Y., March 28 (AP)—Convenience clashed with principles today as a domestic servant and her invalid mother prepared to fight eviction from their home to make room for a veteran and his German bride.

Mrs. Helen Rupeka said she wanted her son, Peter, and Erika Schaefer, the German girl he married in Frankfurt yesterday in the first officially approved marriage in the American zone of Germany, to move into her home when they return next month.

The rooms are now occupied by Mrs. Stella Sebeski, 28, and her invalid mother.

Viewing the matter as a question of principle, she asked: "What will happen if hundreds and hundreds marry German girls and bring them over here, where there isn't room to squeeze one in?"

But Mrs. Rupeka viewed it as a matter of principle, too, feeling it a mother's right to offer her home to her son.

Dr. Rhee to Return to Asia

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP).—Dr. Syngman Rhee, Korean independence leader who has been in the United States for three months in his country's cause, said tonight he will return to Asia April 1.

SECOND LEAD AUSTIN
BY JOHN A. PARRIS, JR.
LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., MARCH 28--(AP)--WARREN R. AUSTIN, AFTER A 10-MINUTE PROCEDURAL WRANGLE SET OFF BY SOVIET DELEGATE ANDREI A.
GROMYKO, TOLD THE SECURITY COUNCIL TODAY THAT PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S
PLANS TO HELP GREECE AND TURKEY ENVISAGED A POLICY OF USING AMERICAN POWER TO BOLSTER THE UNITED NATIONS.
BEFORE AN OVERFLOW CROWD, THE AMERICAN DELEGATE MADE IT CLEAR THAT THE UNITED STATES RESPECTS THE RIGHTS OF ALL NATIONS TO FOLLOW
THE SYSTEM OF GOVERNMENT THEY CHOOSE SO LONG AS THE CHOICE IS MADE FREELY AND WITHOUT INTIMIDATION.
GROMYKO HELD UP THE SPEECH IN A BRISK EXCHANGE WITH COUNCIL CHAIRMAN
OSWALDO ARANHA OF BRAZIL OVER ADOPTION OF THE AGENDA.
THE SOVIET DELEGATE DECLARED FIRMLY THAT AUSTIN'S SPEECH, WHICH HAD BEEN HANDED TO GROMYKO AND OTHER DELEGATES LAST NIGHT, WAS A NEW QUESTION BEFORE THE COUNCIL AND COULD NOT BE LINKED WITH THE OLD

MAR 1947

PROBLEM OF GREEK BORDER INCIDENTS.
GROMYKO WAS UNABLE TO MUSTER ANY SUPPORT AND ARANHA FINALLY TOLD AUSTIN TO BEGIN SPEAKING.

MAR 1947

A202UN
AUSTIN THEN GOT TO THE HEART OF THE PROBLEM QUICKLY, INSISTING THAT THE PROPOSED $400,000,000 AID PROGRAM FOR GREECE AND TURKEY HAD A SPECIFIC AND DIRECT BEARING UPON THE CENTRAL OBJECTIVES OF UNITED STATES FOREIGN POLICY.

FOREIGN POLICY.
AT THE CLOSE OF AUSTIN'S SPEECH, GROMYKO SAID BRIEFLY THAT THIS WAS A VERY IMPORTANT QUESTION AND HE WANTED TIME TO STUDY THE TEXT. HE ADDED THAT HE WOULD BE READY TO COMMENT ON THE SUBSTANCE OF AMERICAN POLICY AS OUTLINED BY AUSTIN AT THE COUNCIL'S NEXT MEETING.

THAT POLICY, AUSTIN SAID, IS "TO STRENGTHEN THE UNITED NATIONS AND TO ADVANCE THE BUILDING OF COLLECTIVE SECURITY" UNDER THE WORLD ORGANIZATION.
THUS, THE PROPOSED GREEK-TURKISH AID PROGRAM WOULD, IN FACT, HE ASSERTED, "BE A MOST ESSENTIAL ACT IN SUPPORT OF THIS POLICY OF THE UNITED STATES IN AND TOWARD THE UNITED NATIONS. AS THE PRESIDENT SAID: 'IN HELPING FREE AND INDEPENDENT NATIONS TO MAINTAIN THEIR FREEDOM, THE UNITED STATES WILL BE GIVING EFFECT TO THE PRINCIPLES OF THE CHARTER OF THE UNITED NATIONS.'"
AUSTIN DECLARED THAT AID TO THE TWO COUNTRIES, TOGETHER WITH EFFECTIVE ACTION BY THE SECURITY COUNCIL IN THE CASE OF THE NORTHERN GREEK FRONTIERS, WOULD "MATERIALLY ADVANCE THE CAUSE OF PEACE."

MAR 1947

A52
"PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S MESSAGE TO CONGRESS COMPREHENDED MORE THAN GREECE AND TURKEY WHEN HE SPOKE OF CONDITIONS IN THE WORLD AFFECTING THE SECURITY OF THE UNITED STATES THROUGH THE INSECURITY OF THE WORLD," AUSTIN EXPLAINED. "HE DECLARED THE SITUATION IN GREECE AND TURKEY TO BE ONE OF THE FACTORS OF INSECURITY AND POINTED OUT THE VARIOUS REQUIREMENTS FOR RESTORATION OF STABILITY.
"THE UNITED STATES IS GIVING MOMENTUM TO THE UNITED NATIONS BY ITS PRESENT POLICY AND IT DESIRES AND WELCOMES CORRESPONDING INTEREST AND SUPPORT FROM OTHER MEMBERS OF THE UNITED NATIONS."
IN POINTING OUT THAT GREECE AND TURKEY PRESENT AN "EMERGENCY," AUSTIN SAID THAT "WE LOOK FORWARD TO THE TIME WHEN SUCH BURDENS MAY BE CARRIED THROUGH THE UNITED NATIONS."
"THEREFORE," HE ADDED, "IT IS IMPORTANT THAT THE UNITED NATIONS TAKE AN ACTIVE INTEREST IN ALL THAT IS REQUIRED FOR THE REESTABLISHMENT OF STABILITY, TO DISCOURAGE AND PREVENT THREATS OF AGRESSION OF ANY KIND, OR THREATS TO THE INDEPENDENCE OF A FELLOW MEMBER, AND TO AFFORD OPPORTUNITY TO HER PEOPLE TO ENHANCE THEIR WELFARE AND DIGNITY."
DECLARING THAT THE UNITED STATES HAS A "SPECIAL AND PRESSING INTEREST IN EFFECTIVE ACTION" BY THE SECURITY COUNCIL IN THE GREEK CASE NOW BEFORE THE COUNCIL, AUSTIN SUGGESTED THAT THE U.N. BALKAN INVESTIGATING COMMISSION REMAIN ON THE SPOT UNTIL THE ISSUE HAS BEEN SETTLED.
HE SAID THE SECURITY COUNCIL MIGHT RECOMMEND THAT GREECE, YUGOSLAVIA, BULGARIA AND ALBANIA AGREE ON A SYSTEM OF BORDER CONTROL REGULATIONS AND THAT A CONTINUING COMMISSION OF REPRESENTATIVES OF MEMBERS OF THE COUNCIL BE ESTABLISHED.
UNDER THIS PERMANENT COMMISSION NEUTRAL OBSERVERS COULD BE EMPLOYED TO KEEP CONSTANT WATCH AGAINST VIOLATIONS OF THE AGREED BORDER REGULATIONS, AUSTIN SAID.

MAR 19

A53
HE SAID THAT THE COMMISSION, UNDER THE CHARTER, COULD BE AUTHORIZED TO ACT AS AN AGENCY FOR THE PEACEFUL SETTLEMENT OF THOSE DISPUTES AMONG THE FOUR COUNTRIES ARISING FROM BORDER DIFFICULTIES.
"ACTION ALONG THESE LINES BY THE SECURITY COUNCIL, COMBINED WITH THE PROPOSED EMERGENCY PROGRAM OF ASSISTANCE BY THE UNITED STATES," AUSTIN ADDED, "WOULD ADVANCE THE PROSPECTS OF PEACE AND SECURITY IN THAT PART OF THE WORLD.
"NEITHER ACTION WOULD BE OF AS MCUH EFFECT IF TAKEN WITHOUT THE OTHER, FOR THESE ARE COMPLEMENTARY, NOT CONFLICTING PROPOSALS--ONE TO WATCH THE AREAS WHERE ACTUAL DISTURBANCES OCCUR, THE OTHER TO STRENGTHEN GREECE SUFFICIENTLY TO MAINTAIN INTERNAL ORDER, AND TO RESTORE TO HER PEOPLE HOPE AND CONFIDENCE IN THEIR FUTURE AS A FREE PEOPLE."
HE DECLARED THAT WITHOUT SUCH MEASURES, EACH SUPPLEMENTING THE OTHER, "THERE IS GRAVE DANGER THAT THE SITUATION WHICH IS NOW BEFORE THE SECURITY COUNCIL MIGHT DETERIORATE."
THE PRESENT COMMISSION WAS SENT INTO THE BALKANS AFTER GREECE COMPLAINED TO THE SECURITY COUNCIL THAT GUERRILLA BANDS FROM ACROSS HER NORTHERN BORDERS WERE INFILTRATING THE COUNTRY AND AIDING GREEK LEFTIST FORCES BATTLING GOVERNMENT TROOPS.
IN URGING THAT THE PRESENT COMMISSION KEEP REPRESENTATIVES ON THE SPOT UNTIL THE SECURITY COUNCIL DISPOSES OF THE GREEK CASE, AUSTIN WARNED THAT WITH GOOD WEATHER COMING ON IN GREECE "WE MAY EXPECT AN INTENSIFICATION OF THE ACTIVITIES OF GUERRILLA BANDS OPERATING IN THIS AREA."
"IN THIS SITUATION," HE SAID, "THE DANGER OF BORDER VIOLATIONS OBVIOUSLY IS INCREASED...THE PRESENCE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE UNITED NATIONS ON THE SPOT WOULD ALSO INEVITABLY HAVE THE EFFECT OF STABILIZING THE SITUATION PENDING SECURITY COUNCIL ACTION."

MAR 1947

A54
AUSTIN SAID THAT IT WAS PARTLY TO PREVENT A DETERIORATION OF THE GREEK SITUATION THAT THE U.S. TOOK THE INITIATIVE IN PROPOSING ESTABLISHMENT OF THE BALKAN COMMISSION AND IS NOW CONSIDERING ITS RESPONSE TO THE GREEK REQUEST FOR ID.
HE ASSERTED THAT THE UNITED STATES "DESIRES TO COLLABORATE IN PEACE AND EQUALITY WITH ALL NATIONS."
"IT DOES NOT DESIRE TO DOMINATE, INTIMIDATE OR THREATEN THE SECURITY OF ANY NATION, LARGE OR SMALL," AUSTIN DECLARED. "THE UNITED STATES WILL SUPPORT COLLECTIVE SECURITY FOR ALL NATIONS--LARGE AS WELL AS SMALL."
HE THEN EXPLAINED THAT THE PROGRAM OF ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE CONTEMPLATED BY THE UNITED STATES IS OF "AN EMERGENCY AND TEMPORARY CHARACTER."
"THE UNITED STATES BELIEVES THAT THE UNITED NATIONS AND ITS RELATED AGENCIES SHOULD ASSUME THE PRINCIPLA RESPONSIBILITY, WITHIN THEIR CAPABILITIES, FOR THE LONG-RANGE TASKS OF ASSISTANCE REQUIRED FOR THE RECONSTRUCTION OF GREECE," AUSTIN SAID.

UNDER THE LONG-RANGE POSSIBILITIES TO AID GREECE, AUSTIN SAID THE WORLD FOOD AND AGRICULTURAL ORGANIZATION HAD RECOMMENDED THAT GREECE APPLY TO THE INTERNATIONAL BANK FOR A LOAN OF AT LEAST $100,000,000 FOR RECONSTRUCTION AND DEVELOPMENT PURPOSES.

HE EXPLAINED THAT ALTHOUGH THE BANK IS NOT YET READY TO BEGIN ITS LOAN PROGRAM, IT SOON WILL BE, BUT THAT GREECE HAS NOT YET APPEALED TO U.N. FOR FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE. HE SAID THE REASON FOR THIS MAY BE THAT GREECE IS NOW IN SUCH BAD FINANCIAL AND ECONOMIC CONDITION THAT SHE COULD NOT QUALIFY AS A GOOD CREDIT RISK FOR BANK LOANS.

A55

THE FAO ALSO SUGGESTED, AUSTIN SAID, THAT THE GREEK GOVERNMENT REQUEST THE U.N. ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL TO ARRANGE FOR A CONTINUING UNITED NATIONS ADVISORY COMMISSION TO GREECE IN CONNECTION WITH SUCH A LONG-RANGE PROGRAM.

"THESE, HOWEVER, ARE LONG-RANGE PROGRAMS," AUSTIN SAID. "THEY CANNOT MEET THE PRESENT EMERGENCY. IT IS BY COMBINING NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL ACTION OF BOTH IMMEDIATE AND LONG-RANGE CHARACTER AND AIMED BOTH AT THE SECURITY AND ECONOMIC ASPECTS OF THE PROBLEM THAT THE MEMBERS OF THE UNITED NATIONS CAN ADVANCE THE CAUSE OF COLLECTIVE SECURITY."

AUSTIN REFERRED ONLY BRIEFLY TO THE SITUATION IN TURKEY, RECALLING THAT THAT COUNTRY HAD "ASKED THE UNITED STATES FOR FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE AT VARIOUS TIMES DURING THE MONTHS PRECEDING THE NOTIFICATION BY GREAT BRITAIN THAT SHE WOULD BE FORCED TO DISCONTINUE HER ECONOMIC AND ADVISORY ASSISTANCE ON MARCH 31."

HE OBSERVED THAT THE UNITED STATES HAD "PROVIDED TURKEY WITH $95,000,000 IN LEND-LEASE ASSISTANCE DURING AND IMMEDIATELY AFTER THE WAR, BUT HAD BEEN UNABLE TO ACT UPON HER RECENT REQUESTS."

HE TOLD MEMBERS OF THE SECURITY COUNCIL THAT THE UNITED STATES WOULD IMMEDIATELY REGISTER WITH THE UNITED NATIONS, FOR PUBLICATION BY THE SECRETARY GENERAL, COPIES OF AGREEMENTS CONNECTED WITH THE EXECUTION OF THE AID PROGRAM WHICH MAY BE ENTERED INTO BETWEEN GREECE AND THE UNITED STATES OR BETWEEN TURKEY AND THE UNITED STATES.

U.N.-ECONOMIC

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., MARCH 28-(AP)-THE UNITED NATIONS ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL TODAY GAVE ITS FINAL APPROVAL TO THE CREATION OF MACHINERY TO AID IN THE ECONOMIC RECONSTRUCTION OF THE WAR-DEVASTATED AREAS OF EUROPE AND THE FAR EAST.

THIS ACTION, GENERALLY CONCEDED TO BE THE MOST IMPORTANT EVER TAKEN BY THE COUNCIL, PROVIDES FOR TWO COMMISSIONS, ONE TO WORK EXCLUSIVELY IN EUROPE AND THE OTHER IN ASIA AND THE FAR EAST.

SOME DELEGATES EXPRESSED THE BELIEF THAT THESE TWO BODIES, WHILE PLANNED PRIMARILY AS RECONSTRUCTION AGENCIES, WOULD EVENTUALLY BECOME PERMANENT COMMISSIONS ENGAGED IN LONG-RANGE PLANNING AND DEVELOPMENT.

A SHADOW WAS CAST OVER THE COUNCIL'S ACHIEVEMENT BY RUSSIA'S REFUSAL TO APPROVE EITHER OF THE COMMISSIONS ON THE FINAL VOTE.

SOVIET DELEGATE ALEXANDER P.MOROZOV HAD SOUGHT IN VAIN TO PUSH THROUGH NINE AMENDMENTS TO THE EUROPEAN COMMISSION. THE MOST IMPORTANT OF THESE WOULD HAVE EXCLUDED ALL NON-MEMBERS OF THE U.N., INCLUDING GERMANY, FROM THE SCOPE OF THE COMMISSION.

AFTER FAILING TO AMEND THE RESOLUTION, THE SOVIET DELEGATE ANNOUNCED THAT HE WANTED TO BE RECORDED AS ABSTAINING. RUSSIA ALSO ABSTAINED ON THE COMMISSION FOR ASIA AND THE FAR EAST. SOME DELEGATES, AWARE THAT RUSSIA ALREADY HAD REFUSED TO PARTICIPATE IN MOST OF THE U.N. SPECIALIZED AGENCIES AND THE TRUSTEESHIP COUNCIL, FEARED THE SOVIET ABSTENTION MIGHT FORESHADOW RUSSIAN NON-PARTICIPATION.

THE EUROPEAN COMMISSION WILL CONSIST OF REPRESENTATIVES OF ALL MEMBERS OF THE UNITED NATIONS IN EUROPE AND THE UNITED STATES. THE FAR EASTERN COMMISSION WILL INCLUDE REPRESENTATIVES OF AUSTRALIA, CHINA, FRANCE, INDIA, THE NETHERLANDS, THE PHILIPPINE REPUBLIC, SIAM, RUSSIA, BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES.

BOTH BODIES WILL MEET AS SOON AS SECRETARY-GENERAL TRYGVE LIE CAN MAKE THE NECESSARY ARRANGEMENTS. THE EUROPEAN COMMISSION WILL ESTABLISH HEADQUARTERS AT GENEVA AND THE FAR EASTERN BODY AT SHANGHAI.

OTHER MEASURES APPROVED BY THE COUNCIL AS IT DROVE TOWARD ADJOURNMENT, NOW SCHEDULED FOR TOMORROW, INCLUDED:

FINAL APPROVAL OF A SUBCOMMISSION ON FREEDOM OF INFORMATION AND A SUBCOMMISSION FOR THE PROTECTION OF MINORITIES. RUSSIA ABSTAINED ON THIS ACTION BECAUSE SHE OBJECTED TO THE PROVISION UNDER WHICH MEMBERS ARE CHOSEN AS INDIVIDUAL EXPERTS RATHER THAN GOVERNMENT REPRESENTATIVES.

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., MARCH 28-(AP)-CHINA TODAY LAID BEFORE THE UNITED NATIONS COMMISSION ON CONVENTIONAL ARMAMENTS A WORKING PLAN CALLING FOR SIMULTANEOUS ACTION ON WORLD ARMS REDUCTION AND CREATION OF A SYSTEM OF SAFEGUARDS TO PREVENT VIOLATIONS.

CHINESE DELEGATE DR.QUO TAI-CHI, OPENING DEBATE ON THE ARMS REDUCTION QUESTION, PROPOSED SPECIFICALLY THAT THE COMMISSION SET UP IMMEDIATELY TWO MAJOR COMMITTEES, ONE TO WORK EXCLUSIVELY ON THE REDUCTION OF ARMAMENTS AND THE OTHER ON SAFEGUARDS.

THIS WAS THE FIRST SUGGESTED PLAN OF WORK TO BE SUBMITTED TO THE 11-NATION COMMISSION SINCE IT BEGAN WORK LAST WEEK.

DR. QUO EXPRESSED THE HOPE THAT BY MAY 13, THE DEADLINE FOR THE COMMISSION'S FIRST REPORT TO THE SECURITY COUNCIL, AGREEMENT COULD BE REACHED "AT LEAST IN PRINCIPLE" BOTH ON SUBSTANTIAL SLASHES IN ARMAMENTS AND ON THE "BASIC MECHANISM" OF A SYSTEM OF SAFEGUARDS.

MEANWHILE, COL. W.R. HODGSON, AUSTRALIAN MINISTER TO PARIS, TOOK OVER THE CHAIRMANSHIP OF THE ARMS COMMISSION.

HODGSON REPLACED PAUL HASLUCK, DEPUTY AND ACTING DELEGATE TO THE SECURITY COUNCIL, WHOSE RESIGNATION FROM GOVERNMENT SERVICE WAS ANNOUNCED IN THE AUSTRALIAN FEDERAL PARLIAMENT YESTERDAY BY DR. H.V. EVATT, MINISTER OF EXTERNAL AFFAIRS. NO REASON WAS GIVEN BY EVATT.

DR.EVATT RETAINS THE POST OF CHIEF DELEGATE HERE BUT HAS BEEN ABSENT SINCE LAST SUMMER.

U.N.--ATOMIC (300)
BY FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., MARCH 28-(AP)-A LONG CHECK-LIST OF PROBLEMS THAT MUST BE COVERED IN CREATING AN INTERNATIONAL AGENCY FOR ATOMIC CONTROL, SAID TO HAVE BEEN DRAWN UP BY THE UNITED STATES DELEGATION, CIRCULATED INFORMALLY TODAY AMONG MEMBERS OF THE UNITED NATIONS ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION.

THE SUBJECT "JUST WHAT IS AN AUTHORITY?" IS ONE OF THE BIGGEST QUESTIONS TO BE SETTLED, SEVERAL DELEGATES ACKNOWLEDGED. THE COMMISSION, THROUGH ITS WORKING COMMITTEE, IS EXPECTED TO TACKLE THE WHOLE QUESTION AS SOON AS IT MAKES A DECISION ON A RUSSIAN DEMAND THAT IT TAKE UP SPECIFIC SOVIET PROPOSALS IMMEDIATELY.

A COMPROMISE INTENDED TO MEET THE DEMANDS OF ANDREI A. GROMYKO, COMMISSION CHAIRMAN AND SOVIET DELEGATE, MAY BE INTRODUCED AT THE NEXT MEETING OF THE COMMITTEE ON MONDAY (3 P.M. E.S.T.). DELEGATES SERIOUSLY CONCERNED WITH THE PROBLEM HAVE BEEN WORKING OVER-TIME TRYING TO SOLVE IT.

GROMYKO TOLD THE COMMITTEE LAST TUESDAY THAT RUSSIA WANTED HER ATOMIC PROPOSALS CONSIDERED POINT BY POINT. THEY WERE OFFERED AS AMENDMENTS TO THE FIRST REPORT OF THE ATOMIC COMMISSION, WHICH WAS BASED ON THE UNITED STATES PLAN FOR ATOMIC CONTROLS.

SEVERAL DELEGATIONS, INCLUDING THE UNITED STATES, OBJECTED, SAYING THEY DESIRED TO TAKE UP THE PROBLEM AS A WHOLE. FREDERICK H. OSBORN, U.S. REPRESENTATIVE, INTRODUCED A RESOLUTION WHICH WOULD HAVE THE POLITICAL COMMITTEE OF THE COMMISSION BEGIN WORK ON THE "DETAILED POWERS, CHARACTERISTICS AND FUNCTIONS OF THE INTERNATIONAL CONTROL AGENCY."

THE DELEGATES NOW ARE TRYING TO RECONCILE THIS DIFFERENCE ON PROCEDURE. ONCE THAT IS OVER, SOME DELEGATES SAID THEY EXPECTED THAT THE CONTROL AGENCY SUBJECT WOULD COME UP.

THE UNITED STATES IDEAS ON THIS SUBJECT WERE REPRESENTED AS DEALING WITH EVERY PHASE FROM RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT, MINES AND ORES, ON UP TO THE CRITICAL QUESTION OF HOW THE EXPENSES OF SUCH AN ORGANIZATION MAY BE DISTRIBUTED AND WHAT TO DO ABOUT ENFORCING ITS DECISION.

THE FIRST PART OF THE CHECK-LIST, IT WAS SAID AUTHORITATIVELY, DEALS WITH THE OPERATING AND DEVELOPMENT TASKS OF THE AGENCY. THEN, IT WAS SAID, THE LIST TAKES UP THE RELATION OF ANY CONTROL AGENCY TO THE UNITED NATIONS, TO OTHER INTERNATIONAL ORGANS AND TO THE MEMBER STATES.

ADD-MOSCOW-(NITE-MOLOTOV BLOCKS ACTION)-
AS YYY FUTURE

MAR 1947

IT WAS FINALLY AGREED THAT THE DEPUTIES ON AUSTRIA SHOULD MAKE A FINAL REPORT TOMORROW EXCEPT ON DEFINITION OF GERMAN ASSETS UPON WHICH THEY SHOULD CONTINUE TO WORK IN AN EFFORT TO REACH SOME KIND OF AGREEMENT.

THE DEPUTIES ON GERMANY WERE HANDED THE PROBLEM OF DETERMINING WHETHER A FUTURE CONFERENCE ON A GERMAN PEACE TREATY SHOULD BE COMPOSED OF THE BIG FOUR AND CHINA AND ALL THE STATES WHICH ACTUALLY FOUGHT GERMANY, OR ALL THE STATES THAT WERE AT WAR WITH THE NAZIS BUT MAY NOT HAVE PUT FORCES INTO THE FIELD.

MARSHALL WANTS ALL THE NATIONS THERE, IN OPPOSITION TO MOLOTOV'S STAND.

THE IRANIAN AMBASSADOR DECLARED THAT IRAN WOULD ASK $955,000,000 REPARATIONS FROM GERMANY FOR ALLEGED DAMAGE SUFFERED DURING THE WAR.

HE CITED "SECRET DOCUMENTS" IN SUPPORT OF IRAN'S CLAIM FOR TAKING PART IN PEACE CONFERENCE. HE LISTED IRAN'S "LOSSES" AS: $502,000,000 IN DEPRECIATION AND DAMAGE TO RAILROADS; $136,000,000 FOR LOSSES TO IRAN'S NATIONAL BANK IN ISSUING CURRENCY TO THE ALLIES; $159,000,000 IN LOSSES IN EQUIPMENT AND DAMAGE TO THE IRANIAN ARMY; $125,000,000 IN MONEY OWED IRAN BY GERMANY; $1,000,000 FOR "ASSORTED" DAMAGE.

THE DEPUTIES ON THE AUSTRIAN TREATY REACHED AGREEMENT ON FIVE RELATIVELY MINOR POINTS AND DECIDED THEY COULD NOT REACH AGREEMENT ON FOUR OTHERS.

MAR 1947

THEY RECEIVED A REPORT FROM A COMMITTEE SHOWING FOUR-POWER AGREEMENT THAT THE QUESTION OF AUSTRIAN DISPLACED PERSONS SHOULD BE SOLVED IF POSSIBLE BY REMOVING MORE THAN 400,000 PERSONS TO GERMANY PRIOR TO THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF THE AUSTRIAN PACT.

VS455PES

THE COUNCIL OF FOREIGN MINISTERS ALSO WAS SCHEDULED TO RECEIVE TODAY A REPORT FROM A COORDINATING COMMITTEE WHICH GOT ITSELF THOROUGHLY TANGLED IN THE PROCESS OF TRYING TO LIST THE AGREEMENTS AND DISAGREEMENTS THUS FAR IN THE BIG FOUR DISCUSSIONS OF GERMAN ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL PROBLEMS.

CONSIDERATION OF THIS REPORT MIGHT SWING THE COUNCIL BACK INTO DISCUSSION OF THE MOST VITAL TASK FACING IT HERE--WHAT TO DO ABOUT THE PRESENT STATE OF ECONOMIC DISORDER IN GERMANY. JRS

HERVE ALPHAND, THE FRENCH REPRESENTATIVE ON THE COORDINATING COMMITTEE, OFFERED A PLAN LAST NIGHT WHICH WOULD HALT THE FORCED EMIGRATION OF A MILLION TO A MILLION AND A HALF GERMANS FROM POLAND, CZECHOSLOVAKIA, HUNGARY AND AUSTRIA TO THEIR HOMELAND.

SOVIET DEPUTY FOREIGN MINISTER ANDREI Y.VISHINSKY PROMPTLY OPPOSED IT, BUT GEN.LUCIUS D.CLAY, FOR THE UNITED STATES, AND GEN.SIR BRIAN ROBERTSON, FOR BRITAIN, PROMISED TO CONSIDER IT.

ALPHAND SAID THE FRENCH FEEL THE RETURN OF THAT MANY GERMANS WOULD INCREASE THE GERMAN WAR POTENTIAL, BUT VISHINSKY COUNTERED WITH A DECLARATION THAT THOSE GERMANS HAVE TO HAVE SOMEWHERE TO LIVE AND THAT ANYWAY THE HOPED-FOR DEMOCRATIZATION OF GERMANY SHOULD BE THE BEST GUARANTEE AGAINST A WARLIKE GERMANY.

TODAY'S FOUR-HOUR SESSION OPENED WITH THE ISSUE OF DEFINING GERMAN ASSETS IN AUSTRIA. THE ARGUMENT WAS OVER THE FRENCH COMPROMISE PROPOSAL THAT SUCH ASSETS BE DEFINED TO EXCLUDE PROPERTY TAKEN OVER BY THE GERMANS IN AUSTRIA UNDER FORCE OR DURESS, AND MOLOTOV'S COUNTER-PROPOSAL THAT PROPERTY BE EXCLUDED WHICH WAS TAKEN BY "DIRECT FORCIBLE ACTION" OR "WITHOUT COMPENSATION."

BRITISH FOREIGN SECRETARY ERNEST BEVIN OPPOSED MOLOTOV'S DEFINITION AND WAS SUPPORTED BY MARSHALL.

MOLOTOV ASSERTED FLATLY THAT THE MINISTERS MUST EITHER ACCEPT HIS PROPOSITION OR DROP DISCUSSION OF THE ENTIRE SUBJECT UNTIL THE AUSTRIAN TREATY COMES BEFORE THE CONFERENCE, WHICH WOULD BE VIRTUALLY AT THE SESSION'S END.

THE FIRST BREAK ON THE AUSTRIAN NEGOTIATIONS CAME LAST NIGHT WHEN FRENCH FOREIGN MINISTER GEORGES BIDAULT SUBMITTED A COMPROMISE PROPOSAL FOR DEFINING THE PHRASE--GERMAN ASSETS IN AUSTRIA. HIS PROPOSAL ROUGHLY PARALLELED BRITISH AND AMERICAN VIEWS ON THE SUBJECT AND RUSSIAN FOREIGN MINISTER V. M. MOLOTOV PROMPTLY CAME UP WITH A COUNTER-PROPOSAL.

MOLOTOV'S SUGGESTION, WHILE UNACCEPTABLE TO THE OTHER THREE POWERS, CONSTITUTED A RETREAT FROM HIS PREVIOUS REFUSAL TO DISCUSS THE SUBJECT AND THE HOPE IN WESTERN POWER DELEGATIONS WAS THAT NOW HE MIGHT AGREE TO MODIFICATIONS WHICH WOULD MAKE IT ACCEPTABLE.

THE SITUATION, ESSENTIALLY, IS THIS:

THE ALLIES ALL AGREED TO TAKE UP GERMAN ASSETS OUTSIDE GERMANY AS PART OF THEIR WAR REPARATIONS.

THE RUSSIANS WERE GIVEN EXCLUSIVE RIGHTS TO SUCH ASSETS IN THE EASTERN ZONE OF AUSTRIA.

THE BRITISH AND AMERICANS MAINTAIN THAT THE RUSSIANS TOOK PROPERTY WHICH WAS NOT TRULY GERMAN PROPERTY BUT ACTUALLY AUSTRIAN PROPERTY STOLEN BY THE GERMANS AFTER THE ANSCHLUSS OF 1938.

THE BRITISH AND AMERICANS CONTEND THAT THESE ASSETS SHOULD BE DEFINED IN SUCH A WAY AS TO PREVENT THE INDUSTRIAL STRIPPING OF AUSTRIA.

BIDAULT'S SUGGESTION WAS THAT THE DEPUTY FOREIGN MINISTERS PREPARE A "DEFINITION OF GERMAN ASSETS EXCLUDING ALL PROPERTY TAKEN BY FORCE OR DURESS AND IN GENERAL UNDULY TAKEN BY THE GERMANS FROM THE UNITED NATIONS OR AUSTRIA FOR RELIGIOUS, POLITICAL AND RACIAL REASONS."

MOLOTOV'S COUNTER-PROPOSAL WAS THAT THE DEPUTIES "PREPARE A DEFINITION OF GERMAN ASSETS EXCLUDING PROPERTY SEIZED BY THE GERMANS BY DIRECT FORCE, OR AS A MEASURE OF ARYANIZATION WITHOUT COMPENSATION FROM THE UNITED NATIONS OR AUSTRIANS."

AMERICAN SOURCES SAID SECRETARY OF STATE GEORGE C. MARSHALL THOUGHT THAT WAS TOO VAGUE.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

SECRETARY MARSHALL PROPOSED IN MOSCOW TONIGHT A DRASTIC STREAMLINING OF THE FOUR-POWER FOREIGN MINISTERS' WORK ON CURRENT GERMAN PROBLEMS WITH APRIL 2 AS A TARGET DATE FOR THE CLEANUP, "WIND AND WEATHER PERMITTING." THE MINISTERS MAY MAKE THE DECISION TOMORROW.

TENSION OVER RUSSIAN-AMERICAN RELATIONS IN THE EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN WAS REFLECTED IN BOTH MOSCOW AND WASHINGTON.

GEORGE H.EARLE, FORMER DIPLOMAT AND GOVERNOR OF PENNSYLVANIA, TESTIFIED BEFORE A HOUSE COMMITTEE THAT IF THE UNITED STATES DID NOT HAVE THE ATOM BOMB, "RUSSIAN ARMIES WOULD HAVE FANNED OUT ALL OVER EUROPE AND OVER MOST OF ASIA."

REP. JUDD (R-MINN) SUGGESTED AT ANOTHER HEARING THAT UNITED NATIONS OFFICIALS BE INVITED TO OBSERVE THE OPERATION OF AMERICAN AID TO GREECE AND TURKEY, COMMENTING THAT THIS WOULD HELP ELIMINATE CRITICISM THAT "IMPERIALISTIC AMBITIONS" MOTIVATED THE PLAN.

THE SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTER, V.M.MOLOTOV, ATTACKED TURKEY BEFORE THE FOUR-POWER COUNCIL, SAYING SHE SHOULD NOT PARTICIPATE IN THE GERMAN PEACE TREATY BECAUSE SHE HELPED THE GERMANS DURING THE FIGHTING AND DECLARED WAR ONLY A FEW DAYS BEFORE THE FALL OF THE THIRD REICH. THIS IS A SOVIET CHARGE WHICH THE TURKS PREVIOUSLY HAVE DENIED.

MARSHALL'S STREAMLINING PLAN WOULD SHUNT TO A SPECIAL COMMITTEE CURRENT GERMAN PROBLEMS ASIDE FROM THREE MAIN POINTS:

TREATMENT OF GERMANY AS AN ECONOMIC UNIT;

LEVEL-OF-INDUSTRY AND REPARATIONS; AND

THE FORM AND SCOPE OF THE GERMAN PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.

WHILE THE FOUR-POWER COUNCIL OF FOREIGN MINISTERS REMAINED BOGGED DOWN BY DISAGREEMENTS IN MOSCOW, GREECE HELD THE SPOTLIGHT IN LONDON, WASHINGTON AND NEW YORK.

BRITISH MINISTER OF STATE HECTOR MCNEIL TOLD THE HOUSE OF COMMONS IN LONDON THAT "INTERNATIONAL ACTION OF SOME KIND" WAS NEEDED TO AVOID TROUBLE ON GREECE'S BORDER WITH BULGARIA. HE SAID THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT HOPED THE UNITED NATIONS COMMISSION NOW INVESTIGATING GREECE'S TROUBLES "WOULD MAKE SOME RECOMMENDATION TOWARD THAT END."

IN WASHINGTON, CONGRESSIONAL CRITICS OF PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S AID PROGRAM FOR GREECE CENTERED FIRE ON TURKEY'S SHARE OF THE PROPOSED $400,000,000 LOAN IN AN EFFORT TO SLASH IF NOT ELIMINATE IT.

AT LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., WARREN R.AUSTIN, U.S. DELEGATE TO THE UNITED NATIONS, WAS EXPECTED TO SAY IN A SPEECH THIS AFTERNOON TO THE SECURITY COUNCIL THAT THE PRESIDENT'S AID PROGRAM FOR GREECE AND TURKEY ULTIMATELY WOULD STRENGTHEN THE U.N.

PAUL PORTER, SPECIAL AMERICAN ENVOY TO GREECE, TOLD THE SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE IN WASHINGTON THAT THE PROPOSED AID TO GREECE SHOULD BE STRONG ENOUGH TO "DEMONSTRATE TO THE WORLD THAT THE OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES OF DEMOCRACY ARE SUPERIOR TO THOSE OF ANY OTHER SYSTEM."

GOV. KIM SIGLER OF MICHIGAN TESTIFIED BEFORE THE HOUSE UNAMERICAN ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE THAT THREE HIGH OFFICIALS OF THE UNITED AUTO WORKERS UNION (CIO) WERE "CAPTIVES OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY OF THE UNITED STATES." HE SAID THE OFFICIALS WERE FORMER PRESIDENT R.J.THOMAS, NOW THE UNION'S VICE PRESIDENT; GEORGE ADDES, UNION SECRETARY-TREASURER, AND RICHARD P.LEONARD, NATIONAL DIRECTOR OF THE FORD DEPARTMENT, AND HE ADDED THAT "THEY FOLLOW THE COMMUNIST PARTY LINES IN UNION ACTIVITIES."

IN MOSCOW, FOREIGN DELEGATES TO THE FOUR-POWER CONFERENCE WERE BEGINNING TO USE SUCH WORDS AS "MONTONOUS" AND "BORING" TO DESCRIBE THE SESSIONS. THE RUSSIANS WERE SET FOR A BARGAINING DRIVE TO GET REPARATIONS FOR CURRENT PRODUCTION, AND THE SOVIET UNION AND THE WESTERN POWERS STILL WERE AT ODDS ON THE KEY ISSUE OF THE AUSTRIAN SETTLEMENT, THE DEFINITION OF GERMAN ASSETS IN AUSTRIA.

MOSCOW, MARCH 28-(AP)-THE FOUR POWER FOREIGN MINISTERS' COORDINATING COMMITTEE'S HITHERTO SECRET FINDINGS ON THE DISAGREEMENTS AMONG THE MINISTERS REVEALED TONIGHT THAT THE SOVIET UNION HAS SET A PRICE FOR AGREEING TO THE ECONOMIC UNITY OF GERMANY--AN ABSOLUTE GUARANTEE THAT RUSSIA WILL RECEIVE REPARATIONS FROM CURRENT GERMAN PRODUCTION.

REPARATIONS HAVE DEADLOCKED THE ENTIRE GERMAN QUESTION AND A KEY MUST BE FOUND BEFORE A SETTLEMENT CAN BE REACHED ON OTHER PROBLEMS. THE UNITED STATES AND GREAT BRITAIN OPPOSE THE DELIVERY OF REPARATIONS FROM CURRENT PRODUCTION.

THE FRENCH DECLARED THAT BEFORE AGREEING TO REPARATIONS FROM CURRENT PRODUCTION THEY MUST BE CERTAIN THERE IS ENOUGH COAL TO PROVIDE FOR THESE REPARATIONS AND, FURTHERMORE, THEY WILL NOT AGREE TO ECONOMIC UNITY UNTIL THE BRITISH ARE COMMITTED TO DELIVER CERTAIN AMOUNTS OF COAL FROM THE RUHR TO FRANCE.

THE BRITISH REFUSED TO BE COMMITTED TO ANY DEFINITE COAL DELIVERIES UNTIL GERMAN PRODUCTION IS RAISED AND INTERNAL GERMAN NEEDS ARE MET.

LONDON, MARCH 28-(AP)-MINISTER OF STATE HECTOR MCNEIL SAID TODAY THAT "INTERNATIONAL ACTION OF SOME KIND" WAS NEEDED TO AVOID TROUBLE ON GREECE'S BORDER WITH ALBANIA. BULGARIA

"HIS MAJESTY'S GOVERNMENT FERVENTLY HOPE THAT THE UNITED NATIONS COMMISSION (NOW INVESTIGATING BORDER TROUBLES) WILL MAKE SOME RECOMMENDATION TOWARD THAT END," MCNEIL SAID IN HOUSE OF COMMONS DEBATE ON A BILL TO IMPLEMENT PEACE TREATIES WITH THE SATELLITE STATES.

THE HOUSE APPROVED THE BILL IN PRINCIPLE WITHOUT A VOTE AFTER A DEBATE WHICH CROSSED PARTY LINES AND SHOWED WIDESPREAD DISAPPROVAL OF VARIOUS PROVISIONS IN NEARLY EVERY TREATY.

MCNEIL, REPLYING TO CHARGES THAT ITALIAN REPARATIONS WOULD BE EXCESSIVE, SAID THE GOVERNMENT "SOUGHT AT EVERY STAGE TO MODIFY REPARATIONS" BUT "FELT THEY HAD BETTER PROCEED AS QUICKLY AS POSSIBLE TOWARD THE MOST SATISFACTORY TREATY THEY COULD GET."

REPLYING TO HEATED LABORITE STATEMENTS THAT BRITAIN SHOULD NOT HAVE WAIVED HER OWN REPARATIONS CLAIMS ON ITALY, THE MINISTER DECLARED THAT:

"FOR VARIOUS REASONS--FOR SECURITY REASONS--WE MUST SECURE THE RESTORATION OF SOUND ECONOMIES AND THEN WE COULD SEEK TO DO THOSE THINGS WHICH FROM NECESSITY WILL ARISE.

"I THINK SOME OF THE REPARATIONS CLAUSES WILL PROVE PRETTY EMPTY SATISFACTION TO SOME OF THE COUNTRIES CONCERNED."

HALL WAS REPLYING TO LABORITE H.BOARDMAN IN A DEBATE ON THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN PRESS AND GOVERNMENT. BOARDMAN SAID THE GOVERNMENT SHOULD HIRE THE NATION'S BEST JOURNALISTS, REPARE WELL-WRITTEN RELEASES, THEN "INVITE THE PRESS TO PRINT WHAT HAD BEEN WRITTEN BY THOSE JOURNALISTS."

"THE GOVERNMENT'S JOB IS NOT, IN MY VIEW, TO USE THE MACHINE AT ITS DISPOSAL TO PUT OVER ITS OWN MERELY PARTY POINT OF VIEW," HALL DECLARED. "IT SHOULD USE ALL THE FACILITIES IT HAS TO GET TO THE PUBLIC THE FACTS OF ANY GIVEN SITUATION SO THAT THE PUBLIC CAN BE FULLY INFORMED AND THEIR MORALE KEPT AT THE HIGHEST PITCH."

ESSEN, MARCH 28-(AP)-HUNGER MARCHES AND STRIKES IN THE RUHR IN THE LAST TWO DAYS, IN WHICH IT IS UNOFFICIALLY ESTIMATED 500,000 PERSONS TOOK PART, WERE INTERPRETED BY BRITISH OFFICIALS TODAY AS AN OUTBURST OF PENT-UP FEELING AMONG GERMANS OVER FOOD SHORTAGES AND GENERAL HARD LIVING CONDITIONS.

"THESE STRIKES AND DEMONSTRATIONS APPEAR TO SPRING FROM THE PEOPLE THEMSELVES. THEY WANT TO CALL ATTENTION TO THEIR PLIGHT IN THE HOPE THAT SOMETHING MORE WILL BE DONE BY THE OCCUPYING POWERS," SAID ONE BRITISH OFFICIAL.

SOME OFFICIALS INSISTED THAT THE DEMONSTRATIONS WERE COMMUNIST-INSPIRED EITHER TO IMPRESS THE MOSCOW FOREIGN MINISTERS COUNCIL OR AS A SHOW OF STRENGTH FOR THE APRIL 20 STATE ELECTIONS IN THE BRITISH ZONE.

Showdown Sessions Set On Reich Issues

Marshall Gets Agreement on Basic Discussions to Start in Moscow Monday—Britain Seeks Return of Reich's War Prisoners by Dec. 31, 1948

Wes Gallagher

Moscow, March 29—(AP)—Prodded by Secretary Marshall, the foreign ministers agreed tonight to set dates to reach main bargaining decisions on the future of Germany.

Simultaneously the British sought four-power agreement on return of all war prisoners to Germany by December 31, 1948.

Authoritative sources also disclosed that in a diplomatic sideshow outside the ministers' conference Sir Maurice Peterson, the British ambassador, was conducting negotiations with the Soviet Deputy Foreign Miniser A. Y. Vishinsky on revision of the British-Russian alliance.

NIGHT

The negotiations were a followup to the meeting between British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Prime Minister Stalin at the beginning of the week. Informants said that if a basis is reached for revising the present 20-year treaty against Germany dating from 1942, the recommendations would be put before Stalin and Bevin in another meeting before Bevin leaves Moscow.

In the shortest session of the conference to date, lasting only an hour, the ministers agreed to try to settle the heart of the German problem by discussing these main points in two blunderbuss sessions starting next Monday:

1. Germany as an economic unit, including reparations, and a review of the level of industry, including industrial demilitarization.

2. The form and scope of a provisional German government.

Failure to reach common ground on these questions would doom the success of the conference as far as Germany is concerned.

Marshall pressed the conference to come to grips on these questions after three weeks of oratory and charges and countercharges on the entire German problem without any marked constructive success.

Marshall Seeks Showdown

Authoritative sources said if Marshall's strategy of focusing discussion on the most critical German issues failed to register any progress in the conference there was good reason to believe that he would move to break off negotiations and go home about the middle of April.

If the all-out effort early next week shows prospects of accomplishing something constructive, however, he might suggest fixing other deadlines for the resolving of other points as the conference goes along, in the hope of discovering the basis of acceptable agreements.

MAR 1947

Besides agreeing to discuss the most critical points themselves beginning Monday, the foreign ministers decided to appoint a special committee to draw up a directive on the lesser problems of Germany by April 3.

Members of this committee are Edward S. Mason, Marshall's economic advisor, a former economics professor at Harvard, Herve Alphand for France, Gen. Sir Brian Robertson for Britain, and Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky for Russia.

Prospects for reaching agreement on uniting Germany into a single state appeared too good.

U. S. May Compromise

It was understood that the American delegation was willing to yield some ground on the Russian demand for reparations from current production, which is the key to the entire problem.

But any yielding on this point by the United States will be accompanied by an iron stand that reparations payments from production must come after the cost of the occupation is met.

It was considered doubtful that the Russians would accept this compromise proposal, which probably means there will be no reparations of this type for two or three years, or until Germany is paying her own way. [400]

Control Council for Germany not later than June 1, 1947, their plans for repatriation of the prisoners, including provision "whereby such repatriation would be completed by December 31, 1948."

Russia Holds Most

Russia holds more prisoners than any of the other nations.

An authorized source, meanwhile, said talks were taking place between Soviet and British officials concerning revision of the British-Soviet Alliance, but that no concrete developments were expected for some time. The discussions grew out of the talk Monday between British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Prime Minister Stalin.

In a one-hour session, the shortest of this conference thus far, the Ministers agreed on a schedule for the German discussions and set up a special committee to attempt to draw up a directive on the lesser problems of the report of the Allied Control Council for Germany.

Agenda For Monday

The agreed agenda for Monday, summing up three weeks of proposals made thus far, included:

1. Germany as an economic unit, including reparations; plus a review of the levels of industry, including industrial demilitarization.

2. The form and scope of a provisional German Government.

Members Of Committee

The special committee will be composed of:

For the British, Lieut. Gen. Sir Brian Robertson.

For the Americans, Secretary of State Marshall's economic adviser Edward S. Mason, former economics professor at Harvard University.

For the French, Herve Alphand.

For the Russians, Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky.

This committee will discuss disagreements contained in the Allied Control Council report, other than the main subjects, which are being taken up by the Foreign Ministers themselves.

Secondary Subjects

The secondary subjects, include de-Nazification, territorial questions, internal matters, demilitarization and democratization.

The committee was ordered to report back by April 3.

These decisions followed Marshall's proposal last night to focus discussion in the immediate future on what he considered the key German problems. A high authority said he had been determined to force a nearly showdown on these issues to discover what would be the basis, if any, upon which Russia would come to acceptable agreements.

The final draft of a report to the council from the deputies on Austria, meanwhile, showed that of 55 proposed articles for the Austrian treaty, only 24 had been agreed upon.

The three major open questions on the treaty are the issues of German assets, frontiers and compensation to United Nations from property losses due to the war.

In the meeting of the deputies on Germany, meanwhile, a spokesman for the small Western nations entitled to reparations from Germany charged that the big powers had failed to live up to Potsdam promises on reparations, and had produced only "paltry results" in deliveries from enemy capital equipment to date.

It was learned on high authority that Marshall was determined to force an early showdown on the critical German issues, in an effort to discover upon what basis, if any, Russia was willing to make acceptable agreements.

In line with this strategy, informants said, the Secretary can be expected to suggest other deadlines as the conference progresses. They added that if the lack of accomplishment continued—and they saw good reason to think it would—then he would probably move to break off negotiations—aimed at peace treaties with Germany and Austria—and go home toward the middle of April. If prospects of doing something constructive brighten, he was reported willing to remain a reasonable time.

The small nations' charge on reparations was made by Jacques Rueff, president of the Inter-Allied Reparations Agency, which is composed of representatives of eighteen. His statement cited the deliveries made thus far and added that "no one can presume to say these paltry results are the maximum indemenities stipulated by the Potsdam agreement with which Germany is able to offset the losses and suffering she caused.

Four-Power Office

Rueff proposed creation of a special four-power "reparations office" with authority to expedite reparations deliveries.

Dr. Karl Gruber, Austrian Foreign Minister, called on United States Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith today and later told correspondents the Austrians were determined that "there will not be a treaty if Austria's frontiers are changed because we won't sign it."

[Yugoslavia has advanced claims for the Austrian province of Carinthia.]

Gruber, who conferred with Marshall yesterday, said he had expressed appreciation to the Secretary for American efforts in Austria's behalf.

Early Showdown

Marshall's proposal last night to focus discussion in the Council in the immediate future upon what he considered the three key German problems was said to have been made in an attempt to force a showdown on the critical issues. He suggested April 2 as a target date for decisions on the issues—German economic unity, the provisional government and the level of industry and reparations. [400]

DAY

Moscow, March 29 (AP)—Britain propored tonight to the Soviet Union, France and the United States that all prisoners of war be returned to Germany by the end of 1948.

This action was disclosed as the Foreign Ministers Council decided to come to grips Monday with the key questions of German economic, military and political problems, in line with Secretary of State Marshall's plan to complete discussion of these matters by Wednesday night.

The British recommended that France, Russia, Britain and the United States furnish to the Allied

This morning Stassen inspected factories in the Moscow area.

BRITAIN AGAIN DELAYS FILING ON PALESTINE

Assurances Of Support From Russia, France And China Sought

L. HAUCK

Lake Success, N.Y., March 29 (AP). Britain again today delayed filing the explosive Palestine case with the United Nations, this time to seek assurances of support from Russia, France and China for a special session of the General Assembly.

At the same time the turbulent Greek question moved toward a full airing here. A reliable United Nations source said it was known that the Security Council's eleven-nation commission now examining Greece's border troubles would submit majority and minority reports, with Russia and Poland as the dissenters.

Called "A Courtesy Step"

The plan for a special session of the Assembly to set up machinery for handling the Palestine issue already has United States support.

The new development in the Holy Land situation came after a Foreign Office spokesman in London said that Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate to the Security Council, had been authorized to present the case officially to the United Nations.

NIGHT

"It is within the latitude of his instructions to take the step at once," the London spokesman declared.

However, to carry out what a spokesman here termed "a courtesy step," Cadogan asked Secretary-General Trygve Lie first to get for him prior assurances of approval from the other three major powers.

Formal Inquiries Instituted

Lie's office immediately contacted the Secretary-General, now on a trip to Norway, and then instituted formal inquiries. France was understood to have replied that it could not answer before Monday, and there was some question whether Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate, would be ready even by then.

Upon filing of the case, Union Nations officials will canvass the 55 member nations. Approval by a 28-nation majority is necessary before a special session can be called, but the only apparent major opposition was expected from the five Arab states which are demanding that the British bid for a special session be accompanied by some type of recommendation for a solution to the long-smouldering issue.

Two Recommendations

The British contemplate no such step, and under present arrangements will file the case briefly with only two recommendations: That the Assembly take up the whole Palestine question at its fall meeting, and that a special session be called as soon as possible to set up machinery for handling the case.

Great Britain has been on the verge of filing the case several times, once holding up because the United States sought more specific information.

On the Greek question, a source who refused to permit use of his name said Russia and Poland might muster some support from France or Syria, but that the other seven commission members—the United States, Britain, China, Australia, Colombia, Brazil and Belgium—were ready to issue a report blaming armed bands supported by Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania for Greece's border troubles. The minority report, the source said, would blame the present Greek Government.

A Warmup For Summary

This situation, coupled with Warren R. Austin's move in laying the American unilateral $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid program before the Security Council, moved the turbulent Greek question into position for a full airing here.

The investigators, who have been touring for two months, will begin writing their findings in about ten days in Geneva, and the final product should reach the Security Council floor by the end of April.

As a warmup for the commission's summary, the Security Council expects to spend several sessions immediately after Easter, listening to reaction from Gromyko and others on Austin's major policy speech of yesterday.

Delegates noted with interest Gromyko's insistence on calling the American report to the Security Council "a new case" not tied to the present investigating commission. His forthcoming speech was expected to develop this point.

Other Developments

It even was considered possible that the situation might come to a head before the commission gets its report back. In his message to Congress President Truman recommended early action, and in his talk here Austin called for speed from the investigating body. Austin also asked for the commission to leave representatives in the border areas pending Security Council receipts of the findings.

"The danger of border violations obviously is increasing," Austin said, noting that spring thaws were certain to intensify activities of guerrilla bands.

Other United Nations developments:

1. President Truman appointed Ralph A. Bard, former Navy Under Secretary, as deputy American delegate to the Commission on Conventional Armaments. Herschel V. Johnson, deputy Security Council delegate, has been sitting on the commission temporarily. It meets again Tuesday.

2. The eighteen-nation Economic and Social Council wound up a month-long session highlighted by creation of commissions to aid in the economic reconstruction of the war-devastated areas of Europe and the East.

Britain May Seek $1,400,000,000 Loan

Cripps Says Exports Fail to Balance Payments

LONDON, March 29 (AP).—Great Britain may have to borrow £350,000,000 (£1,400,000,000) from abroad this year, Sir Stafford Cripps, president of the Board of Trade, warned today.

NIGHT

"That is the amount by which we cannot balance our payments by exports, Sir Stafford told 500 delegates from trade unions, the Labor party and co-operative guilds meeting in London.

He said, nevertheless, he wanted food imports to be increased. "Already, in my view, they are on too low a level for the people," he said. "We wish we could afford more, but we have not got the dollars with which to get it, and unfortunately food prices in America have risen by 30 per cent.

"That means the dollar loan is less valuable than we calculated it would be when we got it from America," he added.

Sir Stafford said the trouble with Britain's food supply was "variety," not quantity. "On any calculation of the calories there is enough, but the real drawback is that the variety is so small—so much sameness and so little chance of change."

He called it the "fault of history" that "we have not got the goods for a better standard of living."

He said he had "done my damnedest to get the Soviet Union to do a deal on industry of any kind, particularly in timber, but unfortunately, for reasons which no doubt suit their economy, they are not able to do it."

Britain To Request Special Session

London, March 29 (AP)—A Foreign Office spokesman said today that Britain will ask immediately for a special session of the United Nations Assembly to consider the problem of the Palestine mandate.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, permanent British representative to the United Nations, has been authorized to make the formal request, the spokesman said.

"It is within the latitude of his instructions to take the step at once," he added. "He may act today, but formalities involved may not be completed until next week."

KING'S ENGLISH BALKS BRITISH

Professor And Man In Street Complain Of Officialese

London, March 29 (AP)—The British learned this week that a lot of the King's English is Greek to them.

The press reported the people were baffled by the language of a Government white paper outlining the nation's serious economic problems. It was written in what the Government fondly believed was simple English because Cabinet ministers wanted everyone to understand it. But surveys showed many persons didn't know the meanings of such words as "objectives" and "embody," and many were confused by "assess," "ultimately," "resources" and "subordinates."

The Spectator, a weekly magazine of comment, quoted one scientific-survey man as saying, "There is a wide gap between the ordinary citizen's powers of understanding and the language in which he is addressed."

A professor told the House of Commons, "endless" international disputes might arise over interpreting the language of the peace treaties for Italy, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Finland.

Prof. Douglas Savory, a Conservative, who represents Belfast University in the House, said some of the treaty clauses in the English language texts were quite incomprehensible.

"It is necessary," he said, "to read the French text in order to understand what these clauses mean."

Collective Farms Urged By Shaw

London, March 29 (AP)—George Bernard Shaw, in a letter to the Times, of London, today, urged Britain to turn to collective farming on the Russian model.

The playwright said that after early Soviet experiments at solving agricultural problems Stalin "found the solution in collective farming."

"It is obvious enough—I myself have urged it again and again—that to expect an average farmer to be not only a sower and reaper but an agricultural chemist, an accountant, a meteorologist, a veterinary expert, a merchant and financier, and a resident housekeeper, all united in a single admirable crichton is ridiculous; yet this is our practice," he said.

Best Brains Employed

"The collective farm employs not only the best brains in the country, but provides as well for Hodge a little holding all to himself; the equivalent of our three acres and a cow," Shaw added.

["Hodge" is an English colloquialism for a rustic.]

"As a man of letters I may not steal a horse, but I may look over a hedge," Shaw wrote.

"My observation has convinced me that under our existing agricultural system only two classes of farmer can succeed in business: The man who has a sensible wife and is in his shirt sleeves sixteen hours a day, and the landlord of a great estate who is wise enough to employ professional scientific advisers every season to dictate the farming operation."

British Turn To U.S., Canada For Softwood

London, March 29 (AP)—The British Government reported today it had turned to Canada and the United States for urgently-needed softwood timber supplies to replace prewar shipments from Scandinavia and Russia.

With 1946 imports less than one third the prewar average of 2,307,000 standards (5,767,000 tons), the Board of Trade said no relief was in sight for the first half of this year and it was unlikely the last six months would show a marked improvement in the general supply.

The Board of Trade said this drop was due to war damage of sawmills in the timber-producing areas and disruption of the continental transport system, labor shortage, food scarcities and a shortage of consumer goods.

Nineteen vessels of the French high seas fleet, including the battleship Strasbourg and five cruisers, and 135 other naval vessels were scuttled at Toulon on November 27, 1942.

Miners Leave Pits In Ruhr To Join In Ration Protest

Essen, March 29 (AP)—A walkout of 4,000 Dortmund coal miners injected a new note today in Ruhr food-shortage demonstrations marked so far by considerable sympathy on the part of the British occupiers.

Officials watched closely whether the Ruhr's other 250,000 miners might fall into step with the Dortmund men, who were cheered by their wives as they left the pits while 2,000 hunger marchers paraded the downtown streets and sent deputations to British and German municipal authorities.

The Dortmund walkout was the first instance in three days of Ruhr strikes and demonstrations that miners left the jobs so essential to German and European economy.

Attention centered on an address scheduled tomorrow by Dr. Kurt Schumacher, leader of the Social Democratic party, at Oberhausen, a few miles north of Duesseldorf where 100,000 demonstraters yesterday stoned British buildings and overturned British jeeps.

It was generally expected that the Schumacher speech would hold the key to the course the Germans will follow.

The Dortmund strike and demonstration was without incident. Four mines were affected by the walkout of miners demanding that the daily food ration of 1,550 calories be met in full. The demonstrators said they had been receiving hardly two thirds the official ration. The miners agreed to return to work Monday, but said they would strike again unless their families received their full food allotments.

Received Courteously

If the demonstrators expected to be met by a display of machine guns and military force they were mistaken. Their deputations were received courteously by military officials.

So far, British officials have shown a disposition to give the Germans a free hand in voicing protests over their hard living conditions, but it was a question how long this would continue if the vital production of coal is interrupted to any extent.

"We are letting them have their heads and sounding off in hopes they will feel better and get on with the job," said one British official.

On their part the Germans, too, have shown restraint. Only one person has been injured in demonstrations estimated to have involved 500,000 people the last three days in Essen, Dortmund, Duesseldorf, Aachen, Wuppertal, Hagen, Cologne and scattered Ruhr towns.

Miners Of Ruhr Strike In Food Protest

Essen, Germany, March 29 (AP)—Four thousand Ruhr coal miners at Dortmund struck today in the latest German demonstration against short food rations.

It was the first such action since unrest over the food situation developed several days ago.

Hunger strikes and marches by an estimated 500,000 persons have taken place here in the last two days and an angry demonstration occurred yesterday at Duesseldorf, where crowds upset and stoned British military vehicles.

Number Of Coal Miners

There are approximately 250,000 coal miners in the Ruhr valley.

The North German control office here said four mines were affected by the Dortmund walkout.

The miners announced they would return to work Monday, but said that if no improvement in their food ration was seen by that time they would walk out again.

The strike occurred as other residents of Dortmund paraded the city's streets demanding more food.

1,550 Calorie Ration

The demonstrators, numbering about 2,000, sent deputations to both German and British municipal authorities, demanding that the food ration of 1,550 calories per person per day be fulfilled.

They claim they had been receiving hardly two thirds of the official ration. The officials made no specific promises, but said they were hopeful more food would be available soon.

British officials said the demonstrators were orderly and that the deputations presented their demands without bitterness.

Workers in virtually every city in the Ruhr area now have gone on record with complaints against food and housing conditions. Thus far there have not been any repeat performances in any city.

RUSSIANS DELAY TOUR

American Writers Must Await Action on Exclusion of One

BERLIN, March 29 (AP)—Russian authorities postponed today the proposed conducted tour of eleven American newspaper correspondents through a part of the Russian occupation zone four days after the correspondents protested the exclusion by the Russians of a correspondent of The Chicago Tribune.

A Russian spokesman advised American public relations authorities that the trip would have to be delayed until the protest made by the correspondents was forwarded to Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, chief of the Soviet military administration for Germany, now attending the Foreign Ministers' conference in Moscow.

The American Correspondents Association of Berlin also had made an "urgent request" that four cities removed by the Russians from the planned itinerary be restored.

3,000 Munich Germans Protest Fascist 'Rebirth'

MUNICH, Germany, March 29 (AP).—Three thousand victims of Nazi oppression formally protested at a mass meeting here today against what they called a "rebirth of Fascism in Germany.

Germans and Jews who were persecuted for their religion or political beliefs in Hitler's time gathered at the University of Munich for the afternoon-long demonstration. Similar protest meetings are scheduled at Nuernberg, Regensburg and Wuerzburg tomorrow.

A resolution was adopted at Munich urging life imprisonment for persons involved in the recent bombing of German government buildings at Nuernberg and Stuttgart. Dr. Philip Auerbach, Bavarian state commissioner for persecutees, called the meeting after the bombing of his branch office at Nuernberg this week.

Spain May Become Monarchy

Report Says Cabinet Is Expected to So Term Decree Nation April 1—Regency Envisioned.

Madrid, March 29 (A. P.).—An authoritative source said today the Spanish Cabinet is expected to issue a decree Tuesday declaring Spain a traditional monarchy, and, in effect, recognizing the regime of Generalissimo Francisco Franco as merely a temporary one.

This informant said that while the Cabinet discussed the decree last night it probably would not make any announcement until April 1, Spain's "Victory Day," the eighth anniversary of Franco's victory in the civil war and his assumption of full power.

It was said such a decree, when and if announced, would be the first public acknowledgment by the Franco regime of the temporary nature of the present Government.

Many Franco supporters have long advocated such a course, which would, in effect, simply recognize the Generalissimo as administrator for the monarchy because of his victory in the civil war. These partisans were not only concerned about Spain's exclusion from the United Nations, but felt such a step would bar another bloody civil war to determine Franco's successor.

Regency In Line.

The decree designating Spain a monarchy, this source said, would recognize Franco as "Chief of State" and would provide that in the event of his death or inability to rule because of incapacity he would be succeeded by a regency.

This regency, the informant added, would be a twenty-member body headed by the President of the Cortes, the Archbishop of Toledo and the lieutenant-general of the Army. Deputies of the Cortes and other representatives of the people would complete the regency.

Under the decree, the regency's first duty would be to examine the qualifications of claimants to the Spanish throne. Don Juan, son of Spain's last King and the present so-called "Pretender," is the principal claimant. He is reported to be in Lisbon.

Stalin Almost Died, Madrid Paper Says

Madrid, March 29 (AP)—Arriba, newspaper of Spain's totalitarian party, quoted a Dr. Striwahker today as saying that Prime Minister Stalin of Russia almost died last October of a heart ailment.

The article, headed "Stalin's Days Counted," reported that the physician said Stalin was gravely ill for four or five days and that only his strong resistance saved his life.

Striwahker was identified as a member of the Stockholm Institute of Cardiology and a member of a Nobel commission. Arriba said he was called into consultation to treat Stalin at Sochi, Black Sea coast resort where the Russian leader was resting.

Rumors that Stalin had been ill were circulated last fall after the Prime Minister failed to attend the November 7 Moscow celebrations of the anniversary of the Bolshevist revolution. A dispatch from Moscow last December said the best available information was that there was no basis for reports that Stalin was "seriously ill."

Spain Annuls French Journalist's Permit

Madrid, March 29 (AP)—The Spanish Government today annulled the press permit of Raymond Huber, chief of the Madrid bureau of the French Press Agency, who was charged with writing "false and calumnious news." The action was equivalent to expulsion.

Huber said the dispatch which caused the action had been stopped at the cable office here by officials of the Government. He said the French Embassy would take the case up with the Spanish Government.

Polish Minister Reported Slain

Warsaw, March 28 [AP—Delayed]—Polish radio officials said today that Gen. Karl Swerczewski, Vice Minister of National Defense, had been killed somewhere in southeastern Poland.

The officials said the "U.P.A. was suspected." U.P.A. stands for an organization of Ukrainian nationalists.

Authorities said the Ukrainian nationalists, resentful of their expulsion from Polish territory to Russia under the Polish-Soviet repatriation agreement, had been crossing the frontier at night, attacking the Polish militia in various villages.

State Council Created

Meanwhile, Poland's newly created Council of State abolished one ministry and revamped three others, in a move to slash governmental expenses and reduce bureaucracy.

A communiqué said the Ministry of Information and Propaganda, headed by Dr. Feliks Widywirski, would be abolished and control of the Polish press and radio would be turned over to the Cabinet.

A Government spokesman said no change was planned in the present internal censorship of the press but that results of Poland's recent elections proved the nation was "in a period of stabilization" and that the information ministry was no longer needed.

The Ministry of Industry will take over the supervision of foreign trade, formerly part of the Ministry of Navigation, and supervision of internal trade, formerly part of the Ministry of Food and Trade.

The Council of State, which has powers of decree, is headed by President Boleslaw Bierut.

J. D. C. to Give $8,000,000 Aid To Polish Jews

American Agency Declares Economic Rehabilitation Is Major Goal in 1947

WARSAW, March 15 (By Mail) (AP).—The American Joint Distribution Committee plans to spend more than $8,000,000 in Poland this year "trying to rehabilitate every able-bodied Jew and aid those in distress, whether they remain in Poland or leave this country," William Bein, of New York, director of the organization in Poland, said today.

"Although our main work is being directed toward economic rehabilitation, the A. J. D. C. is continuing its child and medical aid," he said. "It is making greater provisions for schools, cultural activities, religious life and other opportunities for a Jewish population which has endured more suffering than any other people in Europe."

Mr. Bein put the top estimate of Jewish population in Poland today at between 90,000 and 100,000. The nation had 3,500,000 Jews before the war. An estimated 3,000,000 died under the Nazi regime and in gas chambers of concentration camps.

Of the Jews remaining, he estimated that one-third are employed in productive capacities. Another one-third include the ill, the old and children and the remaining one-third need economic rehabilitation. He said there had been virtually no evidence of Jews trying to come back to Poland, although a few have done so for personal reasons, trying to link up missing chapters in their family lives.

In Poland the Joint Distribution

Committee is supporting thirty-eight children's homes; sanatoriums with 500 beds; six dispensaries, three hospitals, fifty ambulances and eleven mother and child care stations. At the height of repatriation of Jews from Russia the committee maintained fourteen reception centers and thirty-eight canteens. Nearly 5,000 Jewish children attend seventy-six schools supported by the committee, where they receive meals and clothing.

Twenty-five trades schools are operating, and the Jews have founded 125 co-operatives, with nearly 4,000 members. The co-operatives produce more than fifty different kinds of articles, with much attention given to leather goods and clothing manufacture.

Sweden Replies to U. S. Protest on Import Ban

STOCKHOLM, March 29 (AP).—A Foreign Ministry spokesman said today that Sweden has replied to an American note protesting against Sweden's new ban on imports. The reply will not be made public until the United States has had an opportunity to study it, he added.

The United States protested this week that the ban, which became effective March 15, made certain exceptions in favor of Russia and other European countries, and violated Sweden's reciprocal trade agreement with the United States.

Swedish officials said the purpose of the ban was to combat inflation and a shrinkage of foreign currency resources. At the time the American protest was received, the Foreign Ministry spokesman said "the United States government misunderstood the situation."

Hungarian Paper's Ban Is Denounced By Editor

Budapest, Hungary, March 29 (AP)—A ban against Hungary's newest newspaper was denounced in Parliament today by its editor, Dezso Sulyok, who said there "is no freedom of the press" in the country, and "we must lean before brutal force."

The 11-day-old newspaper Holnap ceased publication last night on orders from the Communist-dominated Trades Union Council, on the grounds that it was "attacking democracy." Printers refused to set up this morning's edition.

Sulyok, member of Parliament and leader of the Freedom party, was among those expelled from the dominant Small Holders party recently on the demand of Communists and Social Democrats.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, March 29 (AP)—Reliable informants said today that H. F. Arthur Schoenfeld would be replaced soon as United States Minister to Hungary, in a routine State Department change that had no bearing on recent political affairs in Hungary.

The report caused considerable speculation in Hungarian political circles, however.

PARLIAMENT HUSHES BELGRADE OPPOSITION

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, March 29 (AP)—A joint session of the Yugoslav Parliament approved an annual budget of the equivalent of $1,700,000,000 today after four opposition party members were denounced by Marshal Tito's followers for questioning unexplained allotments.

Dragoljub Jovanovitch, who was expelled recently from the Serbian Parliament because he opposed the Communist-dominated People's Front, attacked the budget as being topheavy with Army appropriations. When he protested that he had been misunderstood on one point of his speech, Marshal Tito pointed an accusing finger at him and shouted: "Those were your very words."

Other members of Parliament shouted: "Traitor! Out with him!"

Mr. Jovanovitch attempted to continue his speech during the outburst, but the shouting increased and he gave up.

Another opposition member, wearing a Serbian peasant's costume, attempted to speak, but the Parliament majority shouted accusations that he had hidden grain on his farm during the country's critical food shortage.

Tokyo, March 29 (AP)—Supreme Headquarters' civil property custodian is making "a complete investigation" of a charge made in the Diet that 20,000,000,000 yen in unregistered diamonds were in the vaults of the Bank of Japan.

American authorities, however, regarded the charge as just another Japanese gem rumor. There have been many current that huge stocks of gems, mostly loot of Japanese armed forces in East Asia, are hidden away against the day the occupation forces leave.

Zinzo Inamura, Social Democrat, made the charge in the Diet, saying the diamonds were purchased by the Government's wartime Trade Corporation for machine tools and were never registered on the bank's books.

6 MORE KILLED IN INDIAN ROWS

Clashes Break Out In Calcutta; Trouble Flares In North

New Delhi, March 29 (AP)—Hindu-Moslem clashes killed six more persons and injured 33 others in Calcutta today as communal and other strife harassed five of the six northernmost provinces of India.

The fiercest outbreaks were in Calcutta, where arrests since Wednesday reached the 300 mark. Armed mobs attacked busses and streetcars, fires were set and stabbings were measured in dozens. A curfew has been imposed on much of the huge Bengal city and troops have been called out to aid police.

NIGHT

The violence stemmed from civil turmoil that seemed to be taking on new life as the weeks rolled on toward the time when the British would lift their control from India and turn the Government over to the Indians.

Trouble also flared in the northwest frontier provinces, and the Punjab in northwestern India, and in Assam and Bhiar in northeastern India. All this territory was affected directly or indirectly by political conflict between Hindus and Moslems over the question of a divided or united India.

In Bhiar, a police strike, which began in Patna, spread to other cities despite appeals from Mohandas Gandhi and other leaders for the police to return to duty.

Troops And Police Clash

Troops called in to take over police work had several pitched battles with the strikers in order to get arms and stores out of the strikers' hands. Police are striking for higher pay and for the right to hold police union meetings.

In Assam, conflict over Moslem "squatters" from Bengal attempting to establish farms on pasture land owned principally by Assam Hindus showed signs of growing steadly worse.

TROOPS AIDING IN INDIA RIOTS

Check Shows 8 Dead and 59 Hurt in Day.

Calcutta, March 29 (A. P.).—Troops helped civil authorities try to restore order here today as Hindu-Moslem violence continued into a fourth day.

Police reported 17 incidents—including stray stabbings and other assaults, attempted looting and arson—in the early morning hours and said they had opened fire 28 times and made 43 arrests between one and 11 A. M. A check of hospitals last night showed that eight persons had been killed and 59 hurt yesterday.

The Army estimated that 150 Indian soldiers were being employed for patrol duty in the Mincktala and Beliaghata districts of east central Calcutta and along the Upper Circular Road, center of disturbances begun last Wednesday. A Bengal provincial Government spokesman said last night it was the first time since December that troops had been used to put down such disorders.

DAY

Curfew In Calcutta.

Tension existing in some sections showed signs of easing today, but in places where Hindu and Moslem communities bordered, people remained jittery. Nine areas of Calcutta had been put under a curfew lasting fourteen and a half hours a day.

A delayed report from Gaya, in Bihar province to the west, disclosed yesterday that soldiers on Thursday had killed five striking policemen with gunfire in dislodging strikers entrenched in the armory and treasury. Officials said the police strike, for higher pay and against a provincial ban on police union organization meetings, had spread throughout the province.

Imperialist U.S. Bunk, Filipino Leader Says

New Delhi, March 29 (AP)—Anastacio de Castro, leader of a Filipino delegation to the Inter-Asian Conference, said today any allegation of American imperialism in the Philippines "is a lot of bunk."

"We need American help," de Castro said. "The Philippines have been completely ruined by war. We cannot look to Great Britain, France or any other country."

De Castro said the Filipinos look with "love and gratitude" at the United States.

DAY

Special Privileges

De Castro, a Manila attorney and economist, added: "American policy in the Philippines centered on education of the masses and exploitation of people can only happen when the education standard of masses is very low."

Of special privileges granted United States citizens in the Philippines, he commented: "If we want to live in this world there is no other way. There is no such thing as economic independence anyway. We have our political independence and no country in the world can stay aloof and be economically independent within its borders."

"Good To Know Neighbors"

Asked his opinion of the Inter-Asian Relations Conference, de Castro commented "it's a good thing to know your neighbors. If we know a man we are not suspicious.

"I notice quite a number of representatives of Soviet Russia," he continued, declining further comment on that score. Six Soviet republics are represented at the conference.

He added: "My impression here is we are still far from world peace. The trouble is that there is a mania for power. I am losing my hopes for a concept of one world and world peace."

Press Gag Boomerangs With Rumors Unbridled

Rangoon, Burma — (AP) — Police Commissioner F. F. Wentyss recently issued an order that no information concerning police activity should be released to the press except through his police publicity officer, who would be available for one hour every day from noon to 1 P. M.

The order boomeranged. The following day four Rangoon newspapers published stories that Wemyss—who was and is very much alive and well—had committed suicide. Beneath the report the papers carried a note explaining that Wemyss' own order prevented them from checking the accuracy of the report.

Legion Head in Mexico

Griffith Calls for United Drive Against Communism

MEXICO CITY, March 29 (AP).—National Commander Paul H. Griffith of the American Legion today told an audience of American and Mexican war veterans that the two countries "must stamp out these termites of Communism within our midst."

Speaking on inter-American relations at a luncheon, Commander Griffith said: "Our joint efforts resulted in the crushing of the monstrous pagan evils of Nazism, Fascism and Nipponism by force of arms. Today a new evil ideology is rising in the world . . . we must resolutely take a common stand against the march of this world-wide philosophy of destruction."

Brazil Fights Inflation With Export Curb Plan

TRUMAN URGED TO SEE STALIN

Representative Mundt Views Parley As 'Only Way'

Washington, March 29 (AP)—A personal conference between Marshal Stalin and President Truman to iron out differences between Communist Russia and democratic powers was urged today by Representative Mundt (R., S.D.) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Mr. Truman has shown no inclination recently to travel to another big-power meeting, telling news-conference questioners that he does not see that any good could come out of further parleys by the chiefs of state at this time.

Seeks Clear-Cut Outline

However, Mundt said:

"I feel that only through such a conference can we secure the clear-cut outline of the area of agreement which can and must be developed between these great countries in the critical field of international relations."

NIGHT

He said the Administration's $400,000,000 measure to help Greece and Turkey curb communism amounts only to action" on the fringe of the international march of communism."

Consideration must also be given, Mundt said, to "analogous cases such as Iran and Iraq, Korea, China, as well as such other countries which are soon likely to find themselves in a similar situation—namely, Norway, Sweden, Finland, Italy, Lebanon, Egypt and Syria.

Moscow As "Proper Place"

"Consequently," said Mundt, "the proper place to stop the aggressive force of communism is in Moscow by insisting upon an early understanding in the following connections:

1. "Effective international safeguards against the fabrication and use of atom bombs.

2. "The real prerogatives and purposes of the United Nations as an influence protecting the autonomy of independent states.

3. "The boundary lines and external policies that are to prevail in this postwar world."

Urging speed, Mundt declared: "While we are attempting to stop communism at its fringes, nations everywhere are attempting to stockpile atom bombs, and unless we have speed the time for action may come too late."

New Curbs on U. S. Reds Likely

So Says Thomas Group Member, Who Sees Move to Bar Communist Party Defeated.

Washington, March 29 (A. P.).—A member of the House Committee on un-American Activities said today that the group may vote 4 to 3 against outlawing the Communist Party, but is sure to recommend drastic new legal curbs of Communist maneuvering in this country.

The member said the nine-man committee may be unanimous in support of anti-Communist legislation short of making the whole party an illegal organization.

Chairman Thomas (R., N.J.) said the results of a week of hearings "will have to crystallize before the committee can adequately decide what it is going to do about outlawing the Communist party."

"Agent Of Russia Since 1919"

The committee made public last night a report which it said furnished historical proof running back to 1919 that the party in this country is "the agent" of Russia.

The report listed 92 documents which it called "typical directives from Moscow affecting the Communist movement in the United States." Thomas said these were proof that the party is "a fifth column pawn of Moscow."

Included were excerpts from Russian broadcasts, Communist books and records of party conventions.

Program Shapes Up

If various members pool their ideas, the committee may report that it can fight communism vigorously by continuing to expose it and also by:

DAY

Saying in one or more laws, with appropriate penalties, that it is illegal to urge or conspire to overthrow the Government by unconstitutional methods or by force and violence.

Tightening up on finger printing of aliens, on passports and visas, and on registration.

Strengthening the law against treason to get at borderline cases. Requiring the Communist party to publish its membership lists and sources of income.

Recommending that the FBI be strengthened and perhaps that it be made independent of the Justice Department.

"Character Assassination"

Hearings on bills to outlaw the Communist party ended yesterday with a Communist protest that the committee is interested only in "character assassination."

That was the statement of Peter V. Cacchione, Communist member of the New York City Council. Cacchione had asked to testify, had been allotted the time and then canceled his appearance.

His statement was read by Norman Schrank, secretary of the Brooklyn Communist party.

Cacchione denounced the committee for its ejection Wednesday of Eugene Dennis, Communist party secretary, when he declined to give his real name.

"Like Any Honest American"

"In view of the disgraceful manner in which this committee recently refused to permit the expression of the Communist party's viewpoint on the two proposed bills for outlawing the Communist party," Cacchione's statement said, "I hereby cancel my voluntary request to appear before this committee.

"I am convinced, as any honest American must be, that this committee has no intention, and never had, of hearing opposing viewpoints expressed on the proposal to strike a blow at the Constitution and the Bill of Rights through outlawing or curbing the political activities of Communists."

CLARK LIKENS TRUMAN STAND TO MONROE'S

Says Anti-Communism Policy Will Be Known As 'Truman Doctrine'

Des Moines, Iowa, March 29 (AP). Tom C. Clark, Attorney General, predicted tonight that the stand taken by President Truman against communism "will go down in history as the Truman Doctrine."

Comparing it with the Monroe Doctrine of another century, Clark told fellow Democrats that Mr. Truman thus measures up as "a great President, a man of mettle."

The Monroe Doctrine, which forbade foreign encroachment on American shores, "was aimed at the encroaching arm of the czars," said Clark. "The Truman Doctrine . . . is aimed at the encroaching arm of communism."

Clark made the comparison in a speech at a party Jackson Day dinner.

NIGHT

Democrats Thankful

The Attorney General recalled the defeat suffered by the Democrats in last November's elections and declared:

"We know that a two-party system works both ways. We know that under that system, what happened in the last election can be reversed in the next. And we Democrats were never more thankful for that two-party system than we are today as we look forward to the November of 1948."

Clark quoted from Mr. Truman's speech to Congress asking aid to Greece and Turkey against communism as a way of life which "relies upon terror and oppression . . . a controlled press and radio, fixed elections, and utter suppression of personal freedoms."

Bulldog Tenacity

"That," said Clark, "is the daring, bold, resolute spirit of democracy speaking—speaking through the fortitude, spunk and bulldog tenacity of its leader.

"And how America has rallied around this stouthearted, fearless man who dares to do all that is necessary for his people!"

Clark observed that there are "those among the Republican party who not only have been standing and waiting but who have expressed the intention of sitting down" at a time when democracy "is at stake." He added:

"Americans do not believe in the 'sit-down doctrine,' and I am sure that those leaders of the Republican party who do know the dangers of our present situation will exert every influence they have to see that the old isolationism of the Republican party who do know the dangers of our present situation will exert every influence they have to see that the old isolationism of the Republicans of the Twenties does not overcome the necessities of the Republic of the Forties."

PROBE SEATED ON NAVY DEAL FOR ARAB OIL

Ex-Sen. Wheeler Named to Check Charges of Overpricing

Washington, March 29—(AP)—Burton K. Wheeler, who gained fame a quarter century ago as a young lawyer fighting for Government oil rights in the Teapot Dome scandal, today was assigned to probe charges that the Navy pays inflated prices to U. S. companies for Arabian oil.

Senator Brewster (R.-Me.), chairman of the Senate War Investigating Committee, said that Wheeler, former Montana Democratic Senator, will have every committee facility at his disposal in a two-week study. Wheeler was instrumental in uncovering and prosecuting the Teapot Dome oil scandal of the Harding Administration in the 1920's. He was defeated for renomination to the Senate last year.

Brewster said President Truman has agreed to call on executors of the estate of the late President Roosevelt for papers bearing on a purported 1941 offer of Arabian oil at a figure far below what the Navy has paid under a 1945 contract.

NIGHT

James A. Moffett, oil man and former Federal Housing director, testified he had carried the offer to Mr. Roosevelt and other Government officials, but that negotiations were not completed.

Says Offer 'Overlooked'

Vassily Sokolovsky for Russia.

Prospects for reaching agreement on uniting Germany into a single state appeared too good.

U. S. May Compromise

It was understood that the American delegation was willing to yield some ground on the Russian demand for reparations from current production, which is the key to the entire problem.

able" in not following the 1941 price, and replied:

"I say they deliberately defrauded the United States Government, in my opinion."

Moffett said in reply to questions by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) that he has suits pending against the Arabian-American, California-Texas and other oil firms.

An attorney for Moffett said he was seeking $6,000,000 for services in the 1941 negotiations in a suit against Arabian-American.

Moffett said he formerly was chairman of the board of the Bahrein Petroleum Company and the California-Texas Oil Company, which he described as a distributing subsidiary. He said his salary was $50,000 a year at the time.

He estimated the companies dealing with the Navy had charged the Government $1.05 a barrel for the Arabian petroleum, and that the British Admiralty had been getting oil in the Persian Gulf area for less than 40 cents. Moffett said the Navy should have been able to buy at a similar figure.

Navy's Defense

The Navy contends that what it pays for Persian Gulf oil is "substantially lower" than payments for similar products to any other producer.

Brewster put into the record an estimate that the Navy could have bought its $59,879,495 worth of oil for only $26,418,991 if the 1941 offer had prevailed.

Moffett said the 1941 negotiations came about when he approached Mr. Roosevelt to attempt to arange an advance of $30,000,000 to King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia through this Government either through Lend-Lease, the Export-Import Bank or oil purchases.

Mr. Roosevelt was anxious to assist, Moffett said, but legislation did not permit loans against royalty oil in the ground, and the Navy had no appropriation to buy the oil.

But Moffett said he understood arrangements were made for the British to advance the money to the King out of a $425,000,000 American loan that had just been negotiated. He called it "a very happy solution all around."

He explained that the arrangement "kept the King pro-Ally and happy." In addition, this Government was not involved diplomatically.

Brewster said committee records showed that $20,000,000 was advanced by the British to Ibn Saud. He observed that this Government thus did something that it was illegal to do directly.

Moffett acknowledged that the 1941 offer was contingent on the U. S. advancing $6,000,000 of the $30,000,000 to Ibn Saud. Even though this was done only indirectly he held that the companies "were under obligation to furnish that oil to the Navy when it wanted it at the price quoted in 1941."

Public hearings by the committee will be suspended until the Wheeler study is completed. After that, officials said, the testimony of all sides will be heard. Wheeler's findings will be used to guide the investiga-

Brewster Sees Aid To Greece Safeguarding Oil In Arabia

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Senator Brewster (R., Maine) declared today American aid to Greece and Turkey will safeguard oil company concessions in Arabia and the Government should get lower oil prices in return.

Brewster said the Senate War Investigating Committee, which he heads, has asked President Truman to make available files of a navy report on 1941 negotiations which Brewster contends might have given this Government much lower prices than it now is paying for Arabian oil.

DAY

"Evidence taken by our committee indicates that the oil companies in question thought that the lower price was a good one in 1941, when they were in fear of losing their concessions in Arabia," he said.

"Charged Far Higher Price"

"Four years later when the oil companies felt their concessions were safe and the Navy wanted oil, they charged the Navy a far higher figure."

James A. Moffett, oil man and ex-Government official, told the committee yesterday the Arabian-American Oil Company made a $68,000,000 profit in three years selling Arabian oil to the Navy. The Navy replied in a statement last night that its total purchases during the period came to $59,881,594 and said:

"It is difficult to understand how purchases totaling $59,881,594 could have yielded a profit of $68,000,000."

Persian Prices Held Lower

The navy statement added that prices it pays for Persian Gulf products 'are substantially lower than those paid for similar products" to any other producer.

Brewster said he believes the President's decision to bolster Greek and Turkey against Communist encroachments must have been influenced at least by the oil reserve in Arabia.

"If we consider these oil reserves a matter of strategic importance, then the Government ought to be let in on the ground floor in its purchases of petroleum there," the Maine senator declared.

The War Investigating Committee recalled Moffett to the stand today. He is former housing administrator and former chairman of the board of the Bahrein Petroleum Company and its distributing subsidiary, the California-Texas Oil Company.

Congress Recess Likely To Delay Greek Aid Bill

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Congressional plans for an Easter holiday lengthened the odds today against final action on the Administration's $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid measure before the middle of April.

The homeward trek by the lawmakers, many of whom want to talk over the diplomatic issues with constituents, also stymied the separate measure to authorize $350,000,000 of relief for Italy, Greece, Hungary, Austria, Poland and China.

There appeared some doubt a quorum could be mustered in the House next week for action on a $2,451,497,863 deficiency appropriations bill that includes another $300,000,000 for relief in American occupation zones.

May Hang On Reaction

Should a quorum call be demanded in a challenge over any of the deficiency bill's contents, it might force a delay in action until the House recess has ended April 9. In any event, Senate approval of this measure seemed highly unlikely before then.

Thus, the Administration's three-pronged program for strengthening its curb-communism drive may depend upon what reaction the lawmakers obtain in their face-to-face talks with the folks back home.

Meanwhile: DAY

1. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee ordered a public hearing on the Greece-Turkey bill for Monday and planned to go into closed-door sessions beginning Tuesday in an effort to obtain committee action on Thursday—final day before the Senate recess.

2. The House Foreign Affairs Committee is scheduled to hear former Representative Fish (R., N.Y.), outspoken prewar non-interventionist, and a representative of the American Veterans Committee, on Monday. The committee's plans for the rest of the week are still to be made.

3. Key legislators supporting the Greek-Turkish program expressed hope that United States Delegate Warren Austin's report to the United Nations on this country's objectives would dull the edge of criticism that the independent move had snubbed the United Nations.

4. Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D., Col.) proposed amendment of the aid bill to require that Greece's King step down and a democratic form of government take over before this country releases any funds.

Two Revision Moves

The amendment would also bar any aid to Turkey, eliminate military aid from the program and require Greece to repay the United States before any other creditor, including England.

Hearings thus far held here indicated two major moves to revise the plan by turning administration over to the United Nations or by splitting the measure into separate bills for Greece and Turkey.

VOICE OF AMERICA SABOTAGE TARGET

Munich Beam Switched To South Instead Of Russia

Washington, March 29 (AP)—William Benton, Assistant Secretary of State, declared today that American short wave transmitters in Munich, aimed at Russia, had been "sabotaged."

The result, he said in a statement, was that "Voice of America" broadcasts to the Russians were beamed to South America rather than to Moscow.

Now Being Heard Clearly

Banton said the sabotage has been corrected and quoted news reports from Moscow saying that United States broadcasts are being heard clearly in the Soviet capital and winning new listeners.

He said that on March 27 he received a cable from E. J. Kerrigan, special consultant to the State Department from Munich reporting that "the switching gear on one of our antennae had been sabotaged."

Switch-House Door Broken

Benton added:

"He said that the doors on the switch-house had been broken and the switch of the antennae had purposely been "reversed" so that it was directed to South America rather than to Moscow."

Benton said that during the week of March 17 to 25 experiments on a new frequency beamed to the Soviet Union failed apparently because of the sabotage. The condition was corrected on March 25, he added.

U. S. Fleet Cruise Not to Touch Russia

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 29—The Navy today ordered two battleships and two carriers to northern Europe this summer on a training cruise that will stop short of any visit to Russian waters.

The nearest the warships will go to the Baltic Sea, where Russian influence is strong, will be Copenhagen, Denmark. The itinerary was announced without explanation except that this is to be the first training cruise for Naval Academy midshipmen since before World War II.

The squadron will arrive in European waters about June 19 for a month's stay. Ports of call are to be Portsmouth, Weymouth, Plymouth, Greenwich and Woolwich in England; Rosyth in Scotland; Oslo in Norway; Goeteborg in Sweden, and Copenhagen.

Navy to Send Midshipmen on Europe Cruise

2 Battleships and 2 Large Carriers to Visit Northern Ports During Training

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP).—The Navy announced today that it will send two new battleships and two new large carriers to northern European waters in June on the first training cruise for United States Naval Academy midshipmen since the beginning of World War II.

Admiral Richard L. Conolly, commander of United States Naval forces in the Eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean, identified the battleships as the New Jersey and Wisconsin, and the carriers as the Essex class Kearsarge and Randolph. They will be accompanied by the destroyers Cone, Stribling, O'Hare and Meredith, and the landing ship (dock) Fort Mandan.

Admiral Conolly said that the complete itinerary for the cruise called for one or more of the ships to visit the following ports: Portsmouth, Weymouth, Plymouth, Greenwich and Woolwich, England; Rosyth, Scotland; Oslo, Norway; Goteborg, Sweden, and Copenhagen, Denmark.

The squadron will arrive in European waters about June 19, and start back to the United States a month later.

In addition to the approximately 2,100 Annapolis midshipmen, about 200 members of the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps now enrolled in various colleges throughout the country will go on the cruise.

Rear Admiral John Perry will command the squadron.

LILIENTHAL TEST VOTE IS DELAYED

Washington, March 29 (A. P.).—A week-end recess delayed today a test vote by the Senate on the sharply debated nomination of David E. Lilienthal to be chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The test will come on a motion by Senator Bricker (R.-Ohio), to send the nomination back to the atomic energy committee, along with those of the other four commissioners and Carroll L. Wilson, general manager.

Bricker voted against Lilienthal in committee and characterized him in a two-hour speech yesterday as a man of "utter incompetence" to build an organization to protect the rights of the American people in the atomic field.

The motion to send the nominations back came as a surprise ending to his prepared address. Lilienthal's supporters were not ready for a vote and Senator Knowland (R.-Cal.), immediately took the floor in support of the nominee.

Senator Taft (R.-Ohio), also opposes Lilienthal's confirmation but he insisted that the debate go on until all interested Senators had their say before voting on Bricker's motion. Taft estimated the nomination itself could be brought to a vote by Thursday night if the Senate continues to meet daily and holds two night sessions.

Russ Not Ready, Willing To Fight, Woman Says

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Anne O'Hare McCormick, New York newspaper woman, declared today "Russia isn't ready to fight, has no will to fight and will back down before any threat of a first-class scrap."

Mrs. McCormick, who is United States delegate to the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, said she believes this country is "too much afraid of communism."

"It is troublesome as an instrument of Russian expansion," she said in a speech prepared for a meeting of the Women's Action Committee for Lasting Peace, "but as a doctrine and way of life it 'takes' only among the impoverished, the disposed and the frustrated.

"Too Afraid Of Russia"

"We are too much afraid of Russia. Russia is the biggest and most undeveloped of empires. Victory has weakened it as it has weakened every victor except the United States."

Mrs. McCormick said that with this in mind "my guess is that the President made a major issue of the Greece crisis to warn the Soviet leaders that they were running into danger of war."

She urged that the United States play "spectacularly" the dual role of defender of democracy and United Nations sponsor.

"A Turning Point"

"It is not enough for us to belong to the United Nations," she said. "The Greek issue makes that clear. It is a turning point precisely because it shows how easily the United Nations, just because it is still young and weak, can become a way of escape—the new refuge of the isolationist or the refuge of the new isolationist."

Mrs. McCormick, a member of the New York Times staff, suggested:

"Now that we have started being bold, why not be bold in a big way and set in motion a master plan for the resurrection of Europe? Not alone, of course . . . but as a great country concerned with the future and ready to stimulate the plans for rehabilitation every nation is striving against desperate odds to carry out."

Bard Is Appointed As Deputy to U. N.

Austin Aid on Commission for Conventional Arms

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP).—President Truman appointed Ralph A. Bard, former Under Secretary of the Navy, today, as United States deputy representative of the United Nations Commission for Conventional Armaments.

Mr. Bard is chairman of Eversharp, Inc., and has organized and directed several investment corporations in Chicago.

In his new post Mr. Bard will assist Warren R. Austin, United States chief representative to the U. N., on the commission set up to deal with regulation and reduction of conventional arms, as distinguished from atomic weapons.

The appointment does not require Senate confirmation, the White House said.

Mr. Bard, sixty-three, is a native of Cleveland and a graduate of Princeton University. After association with several Chicago investment houses he became director of military relief for the central division of the American Red Cross in World War I.

He was appointed Assistant Secretary of the Navy in 1941 and became Under Secretary in 1944, a position he held until July, 1945, when he was elected chairman of Eversharp.

Next Envoy To Poland

Washington, March 29 (AP)—President Truman will send to the Senate next week the nomination of Stanton Griffis, New York investment banker, to be ambassador to Poland.

Griffis is 59 years old. He is chairman of the executive committee of Paramount Pictures and of the Madison Square Garden Corporation and a partner in the banking firm of Hemphill, Noyes & Co.

He will succeed Arthur Bliss Lane, who has resigned, effective Monday, so that he may "speak and write plainly" as a private citizen of conditions he saw during two years as ambassador to the Soviet-dominated Slavic nation.

TAFT PRESSES FOR ACTION ON TAX CUT BILL

Washington, March 29 —(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) sparked a drive today to speed Senate action on the House-approved bill to cut income taxes despite almost solid Democratic and some Republican sentiment for delay.

Taft told a reporter he disagrees with the plan of Senator Millikin (R-Col.), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, to delay hearings until the Senate and House agree on the amount they intend to whack off President Truman's budget.

Taft indicated he may ask the G. O. P. Policy Committee, of which he is chairman, to pass on the matter.

Wants Early Hearings

"I think the hearings should be started soon," he said. "I don't believe the matter of tax reductions should be delayed. We can consider both tax and budget reductions at the same time."

Millikin said in an interview, however, he has no plans to call the committee together to set a date for hearings. He has not changed his mind, he added, that the budget matter ought to be disposed of first.

Democrats on the committee have indicated they will oppose any early action on the tax cut.

With a seven to six division among the majority Republicans and the minority Democrats, Millikin's vote probably would be controlling on committee action. But it seemed doubtful that he would move against the wishes of the Policy Committee if it supports Taft's stand.

Brewster Concurs

Senator Brewster (R-Me.), a member of the finance group, said he agrees with Taft that the Senate ought to go ahead now. He supported Taft's stand that any reductions should become effective July 1, instead of being retroactive to January 1, as the House ordered.

"I think the House jocked up the amount of its reductions somewhat in order to be in a good trading position with the Senate," Brewster told a reporter. "I would favor graduated reductions of 20 per cent in the lowest bracket, 15 per cent for the middle group and 10 per cent for the high group."

The bill as it passed the House would cut taxes 30 per cent on taxable incomes of $1,000 or less, and 20 per cent on virtually all others.

Senator Hawkes (R-N. J.), another committee member, also supported Taft's go-ahead plan.

"I think we ought to proceed to make any tax cut that we find possible within the savings that can be made in expenditures under receipts," he said.

Meanwhile Rep. Dwight L. Rogers (D-Fla.) proposed special income tax concessions for World War II veterans who collect no benefits under the so-called GI Bill of Rights. He told newsmen he is obtaining figures on the effect of granting an additional $500 income tax exemption for a certain number of years to veterans who waive their benefits.

Top Hat Packed For Trek To Open U. S. Dealings With Remote Nepal

Washington, March 29—(AP)—Joseph C. Satterthwaite, veteran State Department Foreign Service officer, packed his top hat and tails tonight, along with riding breeches, for a two-week journey to the mountain kingdom of Nepal.

The purpose of the trip, on which he will start tomorrow by plane, is to establish diplomatic and commercial relations for the first time with the little kingdom in the Himalayas between China and India.

The two-week phase of the journey does not dismay Satterthwaite. He welcomes it, in fact, because he has yet to memorize the full name and title of the king, a six-footer, with white handle-bar moustache, to whom he must present his credentials. It goes:

Maharajadheraja, Tribhubana Bir Birham Jung Bahadur Shah Bahadur Shumshere Jung Deva.

The trip to Katmandu, Nepals capital 5,000 feet above sea level, entails a 1,000-mile journey from New Delhi, India, by train, automobile and horseback.

But the top hat and tails are necessary, Satterthwaite told an interviewer, for the formal ceremony of presenting his credentials. The king and his entourage, on such occasions, usually wear bright, tight-fitting military uniforms with brilliant jeweled head-piece surmounted by a curved feather draping down to the shoulder.

Satterthwaite believes he will be the 25th American to visit Katmandu. The first apparently was T. E. Lynch of Schenectady, N. Y.

Lynch wrote Satterthwaite he went there in 1910 to assemble and install a complete water power plant for the General Electric Company.

Lynch's rank in Katmandu's society evidently was judged by the fact that he lived across the street from the prime minister in a 200-room house. He said the prime minister had a 400-room house, and the king got along with 600 rooms.

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Senators Reed (R., Kan.) and Cordon (R., Ore.) complained today that Government agencies are battling every attempt by Congress to whittle down Government costs.

"The people very definitely voted for economy in government in the last election," Reed said, "but we have yet to get any real help from any Government department, bureau, agency or official."

Cordon is chairman of an Appropriations subcommittee now reviewing an $882,000,000 cut made by the House in operating funds of the Treasury and Post Office departments.

"Organized Opposition"

"Apparently Congress is facing organized opposition of the executive departments on any and all economies," he said:

Reed declared that Congress may be forced to "take unintelligent action" on slashing Government outlays unless heads of departments and agencies will advise where cuts can best be made.

The subcommittee called Treasury Department witnesses to another hearing today on the House reductions.

Commissioner H. R. Johnson, of the Customs Bureau, agreed to return Monday with plans for meeting a $3,500,000 slash in operating funds by some means other than dismissal of 1,500 border and port patrol officers.

Thousands Of Protests

Cordon, Reed and Senator Bridges (R., N.H.) protested yesterday that thousands of telegrams and letters have been showered on Congress in protest against the dismissals. They said it looked like an organized propaganda campaign.

Johnson, a veteran of 26 years in Government service, replied that he neither organized, approved nor knew about the protests.

"I've lived in Washington long enough to know better than to start a campaign against Congress," the Commissioner assured the senators.

He said his dismissal notices included the information that they would be canceled if the Senate restored funds eliminated by the House and that all Government employés have the right to appeal directly to members of the Congress.

Agencies Fight Fund Cuts, Senators Say

Johnson promised that he would discipline any of his employés if he found they had used Government cars or transportation to "whip up opposition" to the funds reduction.

WANTS MORE U. S. ECONOMIC REPORTS

Washington, March 29 (A. P.).—Anthony Hyde, resigning as deputy director of the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion, proposed today that the Government resume issuing quarterly reports on the nation's economic condition.

Hyde will leave the Government on Monday to join the public relations firm of Arthur Newmyer & Associates in Washington.

In his letter to John R. Steelman, presidential assistant, Hyde said that many business men, economists and others had come to rely on the quarterly reports formerly issued by the Reconversion Office as the "most authoritative statement in this field."

"They tell us they find these reports useful both for the statistics they contain and for the indications of Government policy," he wrote. "I believe that continuation of reports of this nature would help in a better understanding of the problems we face and shall face."

Hyde suggested that the President's Council of Economic Advisers would be best equipped to prepare the reports. The council now supplies the President with one report annually which is the basis for the President's economic message to Congress.

Ohio GOP Grooms Taft As Favorite Son

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Ohio's favorite-son candidate for the 1948 Republican presidential nomination apparently is to be Senator Robert A. Taft.

Ohio Republican leaders, several of them reported, agreed last night at a dinner at the Taft home to give him their solid support.

Among those at the dinner was Ohio's other presidential possibility, Senator John W. Bricker.

Reports have been current for several months that Bricker planned to step aside in favor of Taft and thus assure the latter of solid Ohio Republican support. Neither Taft nor Bricker has confirmed such reports.

Taft sought the presidential nomination in 1940, when it went to the late Wendell L. Willkie. In 1944 he supported Bricker, who was nominated for vice president on a ticket headed by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Rubber Controls Extended To 1948

Washington, March 29 (AP)—President Truman today signed legislation extending Government controls over the use and production of rubber until March 31, 1948.

The measure also ends Government purchasing of natural rubber at midnight Monday.

It thus restores the natural-rubber trade to private industry, removing it from the hands of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which was sole purchaser and seller throughout the war.

The bill is designed to keep the synthetic-rubber industry going until Congress fixes a permanent rubber policy for the national defense.

Control over domestic allocation and use of both natural and synthetic rubber is retained, in order to insure against individual companies acquiring and hoarding the still-scarce material to the detriment of other users.

The controls also insure that sufficient amounts of synthetic are used in tires and other products to keep the $800,000,000 Government-owned synthetic-rubber industry on a going basis.

Income-Tax Relief For Vets Sought

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Representative Dwight L. Rogers (D., Fla.) proposed today that Congress give special income-tax relief to World War II veterans who receive no benefits under the GI Bill of Rights.

Rogers, who piloted the terminal-pay legislation through the last Congress, estimated 75 per cent of the ex-service men get nothing under veterans-aid laws, yet must help foot the tax bill for benefits received by the remaining 25 per cent.

He said he is obtaining data on the effect of a possible $500 additional income-tax exemption for such veterans.

Instead Of GI Bill's Aid

The exemption would be granted only to those who formally waive their right to benefits under the GI bill and other laws. It might last for a stated number of years.

Rogers cited figures given the House Appropriations Committee recently by the Veterans Administration, showing that of 14,400,000 veterans of the last war, 2,433,000 are receiving educational benefits and 1,500,000 unemployment compensation.

Those two categories are the main "direct aid" provisions of the GI bill.

N.Y. Firm to Build 6,000 Prefabricated Houses

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP).—Housing Expediter Frank R. Creedon approved today a government-guaranteed market contract with the Pemberton Lumber and Millwork Company, of Brooklyn, covering production of 6,000 prefabricated wooden homes this year.

Mr. Creedon said that when contract arrangements are completed by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation it will bring to twelve the number of such market guaranties effected, covering production of 90,200 prefabricated homes in 1947. Two other contracts have been arranged covering production of new-type flooring materials.

Under terms of the contract, the government guarantees to take over, at 90 per cent of sale price, any homes or materials not disposed of through manufacturers' normal distribution channels.

Mr. Creedon said the Pemberton company has designed a model house for the veterans' housing program, to be produced under the government contract. The house is one story, 32 by 21 feet, and has two bedrooms. He said the company estimates the houses will cost $6,000 each, exclusive of costs of plumbing, heating and electrical systems and price of land.

PEEKSKILL HOSPITAL HAS UNUSUAL DESIGN

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—A $22,400,456 hospital being constructed at Peekskill, N. Y., has a thirty-seven-building plan which the Veterans Administration today termed unique in its current construction program.

The institution, to be named Franklin Delano Roosevelt Hospital, will be the only departure among seventy-two projects from a "main building" design, the VA said.

On a 250-acre site commanding a sweeping view of the Hudson River will be thirteen hospital buildings and a kitchen and mess all connected by closed corridors.

Other structures will include a gymnasium with a swimming pool, a theatre to seat 1,472, a chapel, staff residences and a utilities section.

Reinforced concrete and steel construction will be used throughout, and the Georgian style will characterize the limestone-trimmed brick exteriors.

While the work progresses, the VA is acquiring an adjoining 135-acre tract for a farm to supply the hospital and provide additional outdoor recreation facilities for the patients.

The agency also plans to restore the old Boscobel house, a historic landmark of the area, for use as yet undetermined.

The hospital's twenty-county area, where about 2,000,000 veterans live, comprises twelve counties in New York, three each in New Jersey and Pennsylvania and two in Conneeticut.

Truman's Loyalty Order Under Fire

New York, March 29 (AP)—The Progressive Citizens of America today charged that President Truman's executive order for review of the "loyalty" of Federal employés as the basis for continued employment was the greatest blow to American liberty "since the infamous sedition laws of 1798."

Jo Davidson and Frank Kingdon, cochairmen of PCA, in an open letter to Mr. Truman urging revocation of the order, said "there is not a sentence, not a word in the order which limits the power of the Attorney General to single out organizations for blacklisting."

"There is no standard by which he is to judge what is subversive or totalitarian," the letter said. "There is no way of reviewing his action, no appeal from the finality of his determination. . . .

"Procedural safeguards accorded an accused criminal are denied to Federal employés accused of disloyalty. The Government is not required to prove its case under the order. It merely makes the charge. It is up to the accused to prove his innocence. Under our law a man is innocent until proved guilty. Why should it be otherwise for Federal employés?"

"Standards arbitrarily set by the Attorney General," it added, "will establish a precedent for state governments and private employers. Inquiries into the opinions, beliefs and associations will become a condition of all employment."

Black Market Tax Fraud Arrests Expected by State

ALBANY, March 29 (AP).—Alger B. Chapman, State Tax Commission president, said today that arrests were expected shortly in connection with an investigation of what he called unreported wartime black market income of $1,000,000.

Mr. Chapman said the State Attorney General had obtained sealed grand jury informations charging a New York City knitwear corporation and some of its officers with evasion of state personal income and business corporation franchise taxes.

The Tax Commission chief said the corporation and officers were accused of engineering "a tax fraud involving $1,000,000 of unreported income." The investigation, he added, covered several years of operation and the state tax involved for one year alone exceeded $60,000.

Mr. Chapman said the case was the third in recent weeks resulting from tax-fraud inquiries into wartime "black market" income conducted by the special investigations bureau of the Taxation and Finance Department.

FORRESTAL WARNS ON FUNDS FOR NAVY

He Says That Any Cut Below Budget Figure Would Seriously Endanger Its Strength

ST. LOUIS, March 29 (AP)—Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal declared tonight that if Navy funds were cut below Budget Bureau figures the Navy's "program and our naval strength would be seriously endangered."

Addressing the first annual convention of the Reserve Officers of the Naval Services, he said:

"The first naval estimates that we collected from the various bureaus of the Navy totaled $8,800,000,000. The naval estimates that we sent to the Bureau of the Budget were scaled down to $5,600,000,000. That figure was cut by the Budget Bureau to $3,654,000,000." He declared that any further cut would mean the following:

"Our ships will have to perform their global missons with crews substantially smaller than is essential for efficient operation.

Other "Impairments"

"The education of reserves entering the regular line of the Navy, for which Congress and the Navy both made definite commitments, will have to be curtailed.

"We will have to cut deeply into the research program, with all that means in keeping the Navy up-to-date.

"Next, we shall have to cut down on fleet training, and this is probably the most serious impairment of all.

"And finally the entire Naval Reserve program will come in for sharp readjustment downward, including acute curtailment of the Naval Reserve flying program."

Mr. Forrestal stated that he was "particularly sympathetic" with the efforts of Congress to reduce national spending, but that "in this precarious period of transition from destructive global war to a firmly established peace it is dangerous to strip ourselves of military power too fast and too soon."

Cites Major Land Masses

Declaring that America must be "dominant on the sea, under the sea and above the sea," he said:

"There are only two major land masses in the world. If all of Europe, Asia and Africa should fall under the domination of a totalitarian aggressive power or a group of such powers their total resources would be so great that the western hemisphere would be hard put to resist them."

He praised President Truman's requested aid for Greece and Turkey as "a great contribution to the hopes of future peace."

He said that the Navy planned to send "three or four officers and a very few men" to Greece to survey the situation and if need of more personnel was indicated the total sent would not be more than "twenty-five officers and 100 men."

"Any other naval forces in European waters are there in essential support of the armies of occupation or for training according to plans long made," he added.

Earlier crowds estimated by police at more than 25,000 stood along downtown streets as Fleet Admiral William F. Halsey Jr., a leader in the war in the Pacific, and other high Navy officers rode in a parade.

Admiral Halsey told the convention that the United States must have the strongest navy in the world because "disarmament has failed in the past and we cannot expect it to succeed until adequate safeguards are devised."

One-Man, 173-Lb., Body-Less, Mass-Output 'Copter Planned

MAR 1947

Philadelphia, March 29 (AP)—An individual helicopter, which promises a new flying era for business, pleasure and public service was disclosed here by Horace T. Pentecost, president of Hoppi-Copters, Inc., of Seattle, Wash.

Pentecost described the development of the novel craft at the third annual forum of the American Helicopter Society yesterday.

Without benefit of conventional body, landing gear or instruments, the individual helicopter will fly straight up or down, forward, sideward or backward; hover motionless above the ground or rotate about its own vertical axis, a company announcement said. It will "windmill" to a safe, light power-off landing in case of engine failure.

Follows Military Model

Its small size, the company said, enables it to land or take off in a cleared area as little as 30 feet square, and it brings safe, low-cost flying within reach of all.

Pentecost told the society that the individual helicopter is a successor to "our original strictly military backstrap model" on which active development was discontinued with the end of the war. The end of the war, he added, halted development of the backstrap model in its research stages.

"The individual helicopter necessitates an extremely simple control means," Pentecost said, "and for this reason all of the required blade adjustments to render typical three-dimensional helicopter flight have been co-ordinated into a single control handle and placed conveniently in front of the operator."

Low Cost Foreseen

"Flight performance," Pentecost said, "will simulate the present larger helicopters of equivalent power and blade loadings at its maximum limits of approximately 12,000 feet service ceiling and its top speed of approximately 90 miles an hour. Its range will be in keeping with the average operator's fatigue limit . . ., and probably would not exceed one hour.

"Cost analyses have been based on large-scale quantity production and, due to its inherent simplicity, the Hoppi-Copter should retail for little more than the better modern motorcyle."

Pentecost declared the individual helicopter attempts to emulate automotive practice by designing the components as distinct and easily assembled groups, thus permitting exchanges for factory-adjusted parts in the event of damage.

4 Assembly Units

"In the interest of economy of manufacture, as well as subsequent maintenance, the individual helicopter has been divided into four assemblies which may be quickly and easily dissassembled to aid in shipping or storage," Pentecost said.

The airframe unit, most bulky of these units although weighing only 30 pounds, affords the occupant a seat, a backrest, safety belt and adjustable footrest. Three ground-contact elements, incorporating shock-absorbing means and swivel wheels, are also included in the airframe unit, as is the fuel tank, engine-support means, manual clutch and throttle controls, and minimum flight instrumentation.

The self-contained engine assembly is attached to, and in flight carries, the airframe by means of four easily detachable bolts. The ship is powered by an engine that develops about 35 horsepower at the relatively high speeds of 4,000 to 5,000 revolutions per minute.

The engine is a two-stroke cycle design, and for smoothness of operation is a simultaneous-firing, two-cylinder opposed type. It is cooled by a flywheel fan and light baffles, and starting is accomplished with a rope and grooved sector on the flywheel.

Weighs Only 173 Lbs.

The transmission group is secured to the engine by six easily accessible bolts and may be quickly removed in one 43-pound unit. It includes a manually controlled clutch to permit engine starting and warmup, two stages of gearing, giving a total speed reduction of about 10 to 1, an over-running clutch to allow autorotation of the coaxial, counterrotating blades, and the reaction-type flight-control assembly.

The blade group consists of four easily demountable blades with built-in stabilizing means and adds about 45 pounds to the individual helicopter. Its overall weight, Pentecost said, was 173 pounds.

Kent Cooper Assails World Propaganda

Hopes to See U. S. Become First to Give It Up

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., March 29 (AP).—Kent Cooper, executive director of The Associated Press, declared tonight that world-wide freedom of the press "can only be fully won when international propaganda is thrown into the discard."

Mr. Cooper reviewed the fight of the American press for a freedom of the press clause in international agreements and said the first victory was its inclusion last month in the Italian treaty. He added:

"Yet I solemnly declare that it is the bounden duty of the American press not only to keep it there but to make certain that the whole public information business is not thrown into chaotic confusion by the continuance of the nefarious practice of government propaganda."

Addressing The Associated Dailies of Florida and The Florida Press Association, he said:

"The battle to keep information channels clean and to maintain the truth in news can only be fully won when international propaganda is thrown into the discard so nations can begin to live in peace with each other without abrasive international propaganda doing its destructive work.

"And I hope to see our own country, which was the last to get into it, now become the first to give it up."

The contest in Mayor Edward J. Kelly's Democratic stronghold will have national interest because:

1—It will be the first major test of the party strength in the nation since the 1946 congressional vote.

2—The outcome could determine which way the state's 28 electoral votes would go in the 1948 presidential race.

After 14 years in the mayor's chair, Kelly stepped aside this year to support Martin J. Kennelly, 59-year-old business man making his first bid for elective public office. Kennelly will oppose Russell W. Root, 48-year-old lawyer, who is supported by Gov. Dwight H. Green's Republican organization.

Root Directed Victory

Root, who as Cook County Republican chairman directed his party to a lop-sided victory over Kelly's Democratic organization last fall, has made an issue of the Truman administration's handling of foreign affairs, in the closing weeks of a lively campaign.

Asserting that the Republican party "is against war with Communist Russia," Root told a campaign rally last night that "a vote for the Democratic candidate for mayor will be a vote for war."

The Republicans have put up posters saying, "Vote Against a New War. Vote Republican."

Kennelly has stressed local issues, expressing "unalterable opposition" to "graft and corruption in Government" and promising better housing, strict economy and improved transportation.

Presidency Involved

Both parties, noting that heavy Democratic majorities in Chicago have helped put Illinois in the Democratic column the last four Presidential elections, have waged all-out campaigns. Carrol Reece, Republican national chairman, has termed that mayoral contest an "important preliminary engagement" in the 1948 Presidential battle.

The mayoral post is a four-year job with an $18,000 annual salary. With it goes rule of the city hall and its 16,000 jobs, and political control of Chicago.

In the elections last Fall, the Republicans punched Kelly's organization back on its heels, winning 14 out of the 17 county offices at stake.

However, the chief Democratic power is in the city and this was demonstrated in the February primary when the Democratic vote was twice as heavy as the Republican and the Democrats won 25 City Council seats against six for the Republicans. Runoff contests will be held Tuesday for the 19 undecided council seats, but in one of the contests two Democrats are pitted against each other. Thus the Democrats have been assured of control of the City Council.

A total of 2,130,148 registered voters are eligible to take part in Tuesday's election.

Chicago Election Tuesday Watched As Factor In '48 Presidency Fight

Chicago, March 29—(AP)—Chicago will select a new mayor Tuesday in an election which the Republican high command regards as an important tactical skirmish leading to the next year's presidential battles.

Phillips Heads Destroyer Fleet

Norfolk, Va., March 29 (AP)—Rear Admiral William K. Phillips, USN, took command of destroyers of the United States Atlantic Fleet, here today.

Phillips relieved Rear Admiral Frank E. Beatty, USN, of the command. Beatty goes to White Oak, Md., as commanding officer of the naval ordnance laboratory now under construction. In bidding farewell to his staff and crew, he said he had "never seen better relations between a ship and a staff," and expressed appreciation for the co-operation of the commander in chief, Atlantic Fleet, type commanders, staff officers and crews.

The change-in-command ceremony was held aboard the Yosemite at the Norfolk naval station. Phillips will sail on Friday for Newport, R.I., where he will have his headquarters.

WITH FOREIGN MINISTERS (300)—
MOSCOW, MARCH 29—(AP)—THE BRITISH CIRCULATED A PAPER TODAY REPORTING ON THE STATUS OF FIVE GERMANS RECENTLY CRITICIZED BY SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTER V.M.MOLOTOV IN THE COUNCIL OF FOREIGN MINISTERS AS FORMER NAZIS HOLDING IMPORTANT POSITIONS IN THE BRITISH OCCUPATION ZONE OF GERMANY.

THE BRITISH REPORT SAID:

"HERMANN BUECHER--WAS CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD OF ALLEGEMEINE ELEKTRIZITIATS GESELLSCHAFT (GENERAL ELECTRICAL CORP.) IN HAMBURG UNTIL REMOVED FROM THE POSITION LAST NOVEMBER ON RECOMMENDATION OF BRITISH AUTHORITIES.

"ALFRED HUGENBERG--FORMER PRESIDENT OF THE GERMAN NATIONAL PEOPLES' PARTY. IN SPITE OF HIS ADVANCED AGE, HUGENBERG'S PAST ACTIVITIES AND PRESENT MENTAL ABILITIES RENDER HIM TOO DANGEROUS A MAN TO BE LEFT AT LIBERTY, AND HE AT PRESENT IS DETAINED IN CIVIL INTERNMENT CAMP NO.5 AT SENNELAGER, NEAR PADERBORN. HIS RELEASE BY THE DUESSELDORF BOARD IN DECEMBER, 1946, WAS REJECTED BY THE DUESSELDORF BOARD OF THE VEREINGTE STAHLWERKE (UNITED STEEL WORKS), DUESSELDORF. HE WAS IN A HOSPITAL IN BERNE EARLY LAST YEAR, BUT BEING ASKED TO LEAVE BY THE SWISS GOVERNMENT, IS UNDERSTOOD TO HAVE GONE TO AUSTRIA, WHERE HE NOW IS SAID ON RELIABLE AUTHORITY TO BE IN A SANATORIUM AT KITZBUHL, AUSTRIA.

"WILHELM ZANGEN--WAS GENERAL DIRECTOR OF THE MANNESMANN ROHRENWERKE (PIPE WORKS). HE WAS DUE TO BE ARRESTED IN MAY, 1946, WHEN ACTION WAS TAKEN AGAINST STEEL INDUSTRIALISTS, BUT WAS TOO ILL

TO BE MOVED. AT THE MOMENT HE IS SERIOUSLY ILL AT GOLDSHEIM KLINIK, GOLDSHEIM, NEAR DUESSELDORF.

"HEINRICH DINKELBACH--BEFORE THE WAR WAS HEAD OF THE FINANCE BRANCH OF THE VEREINIGTE STAHLWERKE A.G., DUESSELDORF, A POSITION WHICH HE ATTAINED BY HIS OWN EFFORTS AND NOT THROUGH ANY ADVANTAGE OF BIRTH OR WEALTH. HE WAS A PARTY MEMBER FROM 1938 TO 1945. HE WAS EXAMINED BY A DUESSELDORF DENAZIFICATION PANEL ON SEPT.13, 1946, AND CLASSIFIED IN A DISCRETIONARY REMOVAL CATEGORY. THE PANEL RECORDED THE OPINION THAT "DINKELBACH IS A STRICTLY RELIGIOUS MAN WHO HAD NO MENTAL RELATION TO NAZI IDEOLOGIES." HE IS AT PRESENT HEAD OF THE GERMAN ORGANIZATION OF THE NORTH IRON AND STEEL CONTROL. THERE APPEARS TO BE NO ADEQUATE GROUNDS FOR REMOVING HIM."

MOSCOW, MARCH 29-(AP)-THOUGH THE RUSSIAN PEOPLE SEEM TO BE LOSING INTEREST IN THE BIG FOUR FOREIGN MINISTERS' CONFERENCE HERE, THE SOVIET PRESS AND RADIO QUITE OBVIOUSLY HAVE NOT.

WITH MOST MUSCOVITES, THE CONFERENCE HAS GIVEN WAY TO THE WEATHER, THE FOOD SITUATION AND NEXT SUMMER'S VACATIONS AS LEADING SUBJECTS FOR CONVERSATION. THE CONFERENCE IS TOO TECHNICAL FOR THEM.

BUT JUST ABOUT EVERY DAY THE NEWSPAPERS STILL DEVOTE MORE THAN TWO OF THEIR FOUR PAGES TO FACTUAL ACCOUNTS OF SESSIONS OF THE FOREIGN MINISTERS AND THEIR DEPUTIES.

AND THE POWERFUL MOSCOW RADIO GIVES ACCOUNTS OF THE MEETINGS NEARLY AROUND THE CLOCK--TO SUCH AN EXTENT THAT ONE RUSSIAN REMARKED THAT HE COULD ALMOST TAKE HIS SETTING UP EXERCISES TO THE RHYTHMIC BEAT OF REPEATED DISAGREEMENTS.

THE NEWSPAPERS ALSO CARRY EXTENSIVE REPORTS OF CRITICISM IN THE UNITED STATES OF PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S REQUEST FOR FUNDS TO AID GREECE AND TURKEY. THEY FEATURE HENRY WALLACE SO OFTEN IT'S BEGINNING TO LOOK LIKE A SERIAL.

SPECULATION CONTINUED AS TO WHETHER PRIME MINISTER STALIN AND SECRETARY OF STATE GEORGE C.MARSHALL WOULD MEET. MARSHALL HAS BEEN HERE 20 DAYS AND NO SUCH MEETING YET IS KNOWN TO BE PLANNED, THOUGH STALIN ALREADY HAS TALKED WITH FRENCH FOREIGN MINISTER GEORGES BIDAULT AND BRITISH FOREIGN SECRETARY ERNEST BEVIN.

SOME DELEGATES ALREADY WERE TALKING ABOUT GETTING RESERVATIONS FOR RETURN TRIPS. BUT A HARDY FEW AMONG THE OBSERVERS STILL SEEMED TO FEEL THAT THERE WAS GOING TO BE A BREAK IN THE STALEMATE IN THE MINISTERS' COUNCIL--THAT THE RUSSIANS SOME DAY WERE GOING TO START GIVING SO THAT DELEGATES COULD THINK ABOUT STAYING ON A WHILE IN THE HOPE OF EVENTUALLY ACCOMPLISHING SOMETHING. INDICATIONS WERE THAT SOME OF THE HIGHER-UPS WOULD LIKE TO BE AROUND FOR RUSSIA'S BIG ANNUAL MAY DAY CELEBRATION, NOW BEING PLANNED.

BD&DN634AES

ON THE MATTER OF RETURN OF WAR PRISONERS THE BRITISH PROPOSAL SAID:

"IN ORDER THAT PLANS MAY BE MADE AT THE EARLIEST POSSIBLE DATE FOR THE ABSORPTION OF REPATRIATED PERSONS INTO THE GERMAN ECONOMY, THE CONTROLLING POWER SHOULD FURNISH TO THE ALLIED CONTROL COUNCIL NOT LATER THAN JUNE, 1, 1947, THEIR PLANS FOR REPATRIATION TO GERMANY OF GERMAN MEMBERS OF FORMER GERMAN ARMED FORCES AND AUXILIARY SERVICES UNDER THEIR CONTROL.

ADD MOSCOW (NT-For. Min.) XXX way (Gallagher)

"THESE PLANS SHOULD INCLUDE PROVISIONS WHEREBY SUCH REPATRIATIONS WOULD BE COMPLETED BY DEC. 31, 1948, AND SHOULD COVER ANY GERMAN MEMBERS OF THE FORMER ARMED FORCE AND AUXILIARY SERVICES WHO MAY HAVE BEEN TRANSFERRED BY ANY OF THE CONTROLLING POWERS TO ANY OTHER ALLIED POWER."

AT THE OUTSET OF THE CONFERENCE THE WESTERN ALLIES PRESSED THE RUSSIANS, WHO HOLD THE LARGEST NUMBER OF PRISONERS, FOR EXACT TOTALS. THE RUSSIANS DISCLOSED THEY HELD 890,532 GERMANS AS PRISONERS IN SOVIET TERRITORY, THE BRITISH REPORTED 435,295 PRISONERS "OUTSIDE GERMANY" AND THE FRENCH 641,483, MOSTLY IN FRANCE. THE UNITED STATES REPORTED HOLDING 15,103 MOSTLY IN ITALY, AND SAID ANOTHER 15,873 WERE BEING DISCHARGED RAPIDLY IN GERMANY.

THE DEPUTY FOREIGN MINISTERS ON AUSTRIA APPROVED A FINAL DRAFT OF A PROGRESS REPORT WHICH SHOWED AGREEMENT ON ONLY 24 OUT OF 55 ARTICLES IN THE TREATY. DEFINITION OF GERMAN ASSETS, FRONTIERS AND UNITED NATIONS PROPERTY COMPENSATION WERE THE MAJOR ISSUES ON WHICH AGREEMENT WAS LACKING.

JACQUES RUEFF, PRESIDENT OF THE INTER-ALLIED REPARATIONS AGENCY REPRESENTING 18 OF THE SMALLER NATIONS, CHARGED BEFORE THE DEPUTIES ON GERMANY THAT THE BIG POWERS HAD ACHIEVED ONLY "PALTRY RESULTS" IN REPARATIONS PROMISES MADE IN THE POTSDAM PACT.

HE PROPOSED A FOUR POWER "REPARATIONS OFFICE" WITH SUFFICIENT AUTHORITY TO EXPEDITE REPARATIONS DELIVERIES.

MAR 1947

W220PES

IN LINE WITH THIS STRATEGY, INFORMANTS SAID, THE SECRETARY CAN BE EXPECTED TO SUGGEST OTHER DEADLINES AS THE CONFERENCE PROGRESSES. THEY ADDED THAT IF THE LACK OF ACCOMPLISHMENT CONTINUED--AND THEY SAW GOOD REASON TO THINK IT WOULD--THEN HE PROBABLY WOULD MOVE TO BREAK OFF NEGOTIATIONS--AIMED AT PEACE TREATIES WITH GERMANY AND AUSTRIA--AND GO HOME TOWARD THE MIDDLE OF APRIL. IF PROSPECTS OF DOING SOMETHING CONSTRUCTIVE BRIGHTEN, HE WAS REPORTED WILLING TO REMAIN A REASONABLE TIME.

ADD MOSCOW (DON-For. Min.) XXX REPARATIONS (Hightower)

CHANCES OF MAKING REAL ADVANCES IN THE MAJOR TASK OF RESTORING GERMANY AS A UNIFIED NATION DIMMED LAST NIGHT WHEN DISCLOSURE OF A PREVIOUSLY SECRET REPORT OF THE MINISTERS' COORDINATING COMMITTEE REVEALED THAT THE POWERS--THE U. S., BRITAIN, FRANCE, AND RUSSIA--HAD REACHED ONLY A FEW AGREEMENTS IN PRINCIPLE ON RELATIVELY MINOR GERMAN QUESTIONS AND THAT CONFLICTS HAD HARDENED ON SUCH THINGS AS REPARATIONS AND ECONOMIC UNITY.

THE RUSSIANS TOLD THE COORDINATING COMMITTEE THAT THEY WOULD NOT ACCEPT ECONOMIC UNITY UNLESS THEY WERE ASSURED BEYOND A DOUBT OF REPARATIONS FROM CURRENT PRODUCTION. THE AMERICANS AND BRITISH TOOK AN EQUALLY FIRM STAND AGAINST ECONOMIC UNITY UNLESS GERMAN SELF-SUFFICIENCY WAS PUT ABOVE ALL ELSE.

THE BRITISH-AMERICAN VIEW WAS THAT CONTINUING REPARATIONS WOULD DELAY IF NOT PREVENT REALIZATION OF GERMANY'S ABILITY TO PAY HER OWN WAY. BOTH MARSHALL AND BRITISH FOREIGN SECRETARY ERNEST BEVIN HAVE INSISTED THAT THEIR COUNTRIES WILL NOT SPEND ANOTHER PENNY IN GERMANY IF SUCH SPENDING WILL AMOUNT TO PAYING FOR REPARATIONS TO RUSSIA.

THE REAL STRENGTH OF THE WESTERN POWERS' POSITION LAY IN THE ZONAL ECONOMIC MERGER UNDER WHICH THEY HOPE TO MAKE WESTERN GERMANY SELF-SUPPORTING WITHIN A FEW YEARS. THE STRENGTH OF THE SOVIET POSITION SEEMED TO LIE IN RUSSIA'S ABILITY TO KEEP EASTERN GERMANY

30.24-8839

RELATIVELY ISOLATED AGAINST WESTERN DESIRES AND THEREBY MAINTAIN HER EXTENSIVE POWER IN EUROPE.

A7

ON THE SCORE OF REPARATIONS, THE SOVIET UNION'S POSITION WAS BELIEVED TO BE WEAK, BECAUSE SHE NO LONGER CAN GET WHAT SHE WANTS OUT OF THE EASTERN ZONE. WHERE THE POSSIBILITIES OF ACCEPTABLE COMPROMISES LIE, UNDER THE CIRCUMSTANCES -- IF IN FACT THEY EXIST AT ALL -- IS WHAT MARSHALL, AND PRESUMABLY OTHERS, WANT TO FIND OUT.

CONCESSIONS WHICH MIGHT BE MADE ON MANY POINTS IN DISPUTE WOULD NOT SOLVE THE KEY PROBLEMS, WESTERN OFFICIALS POINT OUT, AND PROSPECTS FOR REAL ACCOMPLISHMENTS HERE ARE SLIGHT UNLESS ONE SIDE OR THE OTHER DECIDES TO GIVE WAY.

(IN BERLIN, AN AMERICAN MILITARY GOVERNMENT REPRESENTATIVE SAID YESTERDAY THAT THE FOUR OCCUPYING POWERS HAD AGREED TO INCLUDE "PRACTICALLY ANY FACTORY THAT ANYONE WANTS TO INSPECT" IN THEIR JOINT INQUIRY INTO THE PROGRESS MADE IN GETTING RID OF GERMANY'S POWER TO MAKE WAR.

(TEAMS ON THE FIRST BIG FOUR INSPECTION TOUR IN JANUARY VISITED ONLY PLANTS ON LISTS MADE UP BY THE FOUR ZONE COMMANDERS. HOWEVER, IN PREPARATION FOR THE NEXT TOUR PROBABLY NEXT MONTH, THE U.S. SPOKESMAN SAID, EACH POWER HAS TURNED IN A LONG SUPPLEMENTARY LIST OF FACTORIES IT WANTS INSPECTED IN OTHER ZONES.)

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., MAR. 29-(AP)-GREAT BRITAIN SAID TODAY THAT IT WOULD HOLRBIP FILING THE PALESTINE CASE WITH THE UNITED NATIONS PENDING APPROVAL FROM RUSSIA, FRANCE AND CHINA OF A SPECIAL SESSION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

THE UNITED STATES ALREADY HAS SUPPORTED THE PLAN.

A BRITISH SPOKESMAN SAID HIS GOVERNMENT HAD ASKED SECRETARY-GENERAL TRYGVE LIE'S OFFICE TO GET APPROVAL FROM THE OTHER POWERS IN A "COURTESY STEP."

FRANCE WAS UNDERSTOOD TO HAVE REPLIED ALREADY THAT IT COULD GIVE NO DEFINITE ANSWER BEFORE MONDAY.

A FOREIGN OFFICE SPOKESMAN SAID EARLIER IN LONDON THAT SIR ALEXANDER CADOGAN, BRITISH DELEGATE TO THE SECURITY COUNCIL, HAD BEEN AUTHORIZED TO FILE THE CASE.

MEANWHILE, WARREN R.AUSTIN'S SPEECH TO THE U.N. SECURITY COUNCIL YESTERDAY ON PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S PLANS FOR HELPING GREECE AND TURKEY TO RESIST TOTALITARIAN PRESSURE WAS BEING HAILED BY MANY DIPLOMATS AS SOLID EVIDENCE THAT THE UNITED STATES INTENDS TO BACK THE UNITED NATIONS TO THE HILT.

DELEGATES SAID THEY DID NOT INTERPRET SOVIET DELEGATE ANDREI A. GROMYKO'S WRANGLING OVER PROCEDURE JUST BEFORE AUSTIN TOOK THE FLOOR AS AN ATTEMPT TO PREVENT THE U.S. DELEGATE FROM SPEAKING.

THE RUSSIAN DELEGATE INSISTED THAT THE ADDRESS OPENED UP A WHOLE NEW ISSUE DISTINCT FROM THE GREEK BORDER INCIDENTS WHICH LED TO CREATION OF THE COUNCIL'S INVESTIGATING COMMISSION NOW IN THE BALKANS

GROMYKO DECLARED HE WAS NOT OPPOSED TO AUSTIN SPEAKING BUT SAID THE SUBJECT SHOULD BE CONSIDERED A NEW QUESTION. AFTER AUSTIN HAD SPOKEN GROMYKO SAID HE WOULD HAVE A REPLY READY IN 10 DAYS.

OSCAR LANGE, POLISH DELEGATE WHO CONSISTENTLY VOTES WITH GROMYKO ON MAJOR ISSUES, CALLED THE SPEECH "A GREAT VICTORY FOR THE UNITED NATIONS.

"IT SHOWS THE POWER OF PUBLIC OPINION, THE POWER OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE," LANGE SAID.

DR. OSWALDO ARANHA OF BRAZIL, RETIRING CHAIRMAN OF THE COUNCIL, SAW THE UNITED STATES POLICY AS "THE BEST WAY TO COOPERATE WITH THE UNITED NATIONS."

MAR 1947

A16

DR. QUO TAI-CHI OF CHINA, WHO PICKS UP THE GAVEL NEXT WEEK AND WILL BE PRESIDING WHEN THE SUBJECT IS DEBATED APRIL 7, SAID THE AMERICAN STAND WAS "IN HARMONY WITH THE PURPOSES OF THE UNITED NATIONS AND WAS INTENDED TO STRENGTHEN RATHER THAN WEAKEN" THE PEACE AGENCY.

DELEGATES EXPECTED THE PALESTINE ISSUE TO BE ONE OF THE HOTTEST TO COME BEFORE THE UNITED NATIONS.

U.N. OFFICIALS INDICATED THEY WOULD CANVASS THE 55 MEMBER NATIONS AS SOON AS THE BRITISH REQUEST FOR A SPECIAL ASSEMBLY SESSION WAS RECEIVED. APPROVAL BY A 28-NATION MAJORITY IS NECESSARY BEFORE A SPECIAL SESSION CAN BE CALLED.

THE ONLY MAJOR OPPOSITION WAS EXPECTED TO COME FROM THE FIVE ARAB STATES IN THE U.N. FARIS EL KHOURY, SYRIAN DELEGATE TO THE SECURITY COUNCIL AND LEADING ARAB SPOKESMAN HERE, SAID THE ARAB COUNTRIES WOULD VOTE AGAINST A SPECIAL SESSION UNLESS THE BRITISH REQUEST WAS ACCOMPANIED BY A RECOMMENDATION FOR A SOLUTION OF THE HOLY LAND PROBLEM.

BRITISH SOURCES SAID BRITAIN CONTEMPLATED NO SUCH ACTION.

IT WAS EXPLAINED THAT BRITISH DELEGATE SIR ALEXANDER CADOGAN PLANNED TO SEND A BRIEF COMMUNICATION TO ACTING SECRETARY GENERAL VICTOR HOO ASKING THE UNITED NATIONS TO WORK OUT A SOLUTION.

UNDER PRESENT PLANS, IT WAS SAID, DEBATE ON THE SUBSTANCE OF THE PALESTINE QUESTION WOULD NOT TAKE PLACE UNTIL SEPTEMBER. THE TASK OF THE SPECIAL SESSION WOULD BE MERELY TO SET UP A COMMISSION OR COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE THE PROBLEM AND DRAFT A RECOMMENDATION.

HE SAID THE 18-NATION COUNCIL HAD NOW REACHED THE STAGE IN ITS DELIBERATIONS WHERE DECISIONS WERE BEING MADE AND THAT THESE DECISIONS WOULD FORM THE BASIS FOR INSURING WORLD PEACE.

AMONG MAJOR ITEMS PASSED AT THE CURRENT SESSION WERE RESOLUTIONS SETTING UP COMMISSIONS TO AID IN THE ECONOMIC RECONSTRUCTION OF THE WAR-DEVASTATED AREAS OF EUROPE AND THE FAR EAST.

"WHY SHOULD IT NOT BE SO? ARE WE NOT ONE BROTHERHOOD--THE GREATEST BROTHERHOOD IN THE WHOLE HISTORY OF MAN, A BROTHERHOOD THAT HAS BEEN STRENGTHENED AND NOT WEAKENED BY PAST DIFFERENCES, OF WHICH, LIKE WISE MEN, WE HAVE FORGOTTEN THE CAUSES AND REMEMBERED ONLY THE LESSONS?"

SPEAKING AT THE OPENING OF AN EXHIBITION ENTITLED "GERMANY UNDER CONTROL," HYND SAID THE ZONE'S FOOD PROBLEMS WERE AGGRAVATED BY "INEFFICIENCY" OF GERMAN ADMINISTRATORS, WHO," HE SAID, "HAVE NOT SHOWN THE SAME DRIVE AND INITIATIVE AS THE BRITISH FROM WHOM THEY TOOK OVER A FEW WEEKS AGO."

BECAUSE OF THE MERGER OF THE BRITISH AND AMERICAN ZONES, HYND SAID, THE ZONE'S FOOD POSITION IS "PERHAPS BETTER" THAN AT ANY TIME SINCE THE START OF THE OCCUPATION.

HE IS BERTHOLD VON BOHLEN AND HALBACH, A BLUE EYED, BLOND YOUNG MAN WHO HAS BEEN WORKING AS A RESEARCH CHEMIST AT THE UNIVERSITY OF MUNICH AFTER WAR SERVICE AS A LIEUTENANT IN THE GERMAN HORSE-DRAWN ARTILLERY.

BERTHOLD RETURNED TO THE FAMILY'S PALATIAL HOME, BUT ONLY FOR A LOOK. THE HUGE STRUCTURE, STILL REPLETE WITH VALUABLE OIL PAINTINGS AND TAPESTRIES, IS HEADQUARTERS OF THE BRITISH-OPERATED NORTH GERMAN COAL CONTROL.

HE IS THE ONLY ONE OF THE AGED AND SICK STEEL MAN'S FIVE SONS WHO STILL IS LIVING AND FREE.

ALFRIED IS IN PRISON AT NUERNBERG, FACING A WAR CRIMES TRIAL; HARALD IS A PRISONER OF WAR OF THE RUSSIANS, UNHEARD FROM FOR A YEAR; CLAUS WAS KILLED IN AN AIR ACCIDENT IN 1940; ECKBERT, AN ARMY LIEUTENANT, WAS KILLED IN ITALY A FEW DAYS BEFORE THE WAR ENDED.

BERTHOLD SAID THAT CONSEQUENTLY HE HAD FOUND HIMSELF THE "HEAD OF THE FAMILY," AND AS SUCH RESPONSIBLE FOR CONDUCTING ITS FUTURE AFFAIRS EVEN THOUGH HE NEVER HAD ANY PART IN THE STEEL BUSINESS.

"FATHER ALLOWED US TO FOLLOW WHATEVER PURSUIT WE WISHED" BERTHOLD SAID. "ALFRIED WAS THE ONLY ONE WHO WENT INTO THE BUSINESS.

"I WOULD BE HAPPY TO STAY AT MY PRESENT WORK AS A RESEARCH CHEMIST, BUT THERE ARE SO MANY LOOSE ENDS TO THE FAMILY AFFAIRS THAT I MUST LOOK AFTER THEM."

HE SAID HE REFERRED TO ESTATES AND OTHER PROPERTY OWNED BY THE KRUPPS AS WELL AS TO ITS STEEL PLANTS, DAMAGED AND UNDAMAGED.

BERTHOLD REMARKED PHILOSOPHICALLY THAT HE EXPECTED THE HEAVY PARTS OF THE KRUPP WORKS WOULD BE SOCIALIZED ALONG WITH A GENERAL SOCIALIZATION OF BASIC INDUSTRIES IN THE BRITISH ZONE. BUT HE ADDED HE HOPED THE FAMILY WOULD BE ABLE TO RETAIN SOME OF THE NON-WAR FACTORIES.

"MOST PEOPLE REGARD KKRUPPS AS A SYNONYM FOR ARMAMENTS," HE SAID. "BUT AFTER WORLD WAR ONE, THE KRUPP WORKS WERE DEVOTED TO THE MANUFACTURE OF LOCOMOTIVES, AGRICULTURAL MACHINERY, RAILWAY TRACKS, TRUCKS AND SUCH THINGS UNTIL MY FATHER WAS CALLED UPON TO TURN OUT ARMAMENTS AGAIN."

NEW DELHI, MARCH 29-(AP)-A VIET-NAM REPUBLIC DELEGATE TO THE INTERASIAN RELATIONS CONFERENCE HERE DECLARED TODAY THAT THE FRENCH STARTED THE CURRENT FIGHTING IN INDOCHINA WITH AN ATTACK AT HANOI LAST DEC.19.

TRAN VAN GIAU, WHO SAID HE WAS AN OFFICER OF THE VIET-NAM ARMY AND A FORMER GOVERNOR OF COCHIN CHINA, TOLD A NEWS CONFERENCE ALSO THAT THE STORY THAT THE FRENCH WERE ATTACKED FIRST AT THAT TIME WAS A "PURE INVENTION OF THE FRENCH."

"WE HAVE PROOF THE FRENCH ATTACKED US," HE SAID. "WE HAD ONLY LIGHT MACHINE GUNS, RIFLES AND SMALL ARMS. WHY SHOULD WE BE STUPID ENOUGH TO ATTACK THE FRENCH?"

TRAN VAN LUAN, LEADER OF THE VIET-NAM DELEGATION AND DEPUTY LEADER OF THE VIET-NAM REPUBLICAN ASSEMBLY, DECLARED, "THE NATIONALIST MOVEMENT IN VIET-NAM IS AS OLD AS FRENCH DOMINATION."

"THE FRENCH AUTHORITIES WANT IT BELIEVED THAT DR.HO CHI-MINH (PRESIDENT) IS NOT THE LEADER OF VIET-NAM," HE SAID, "BUT TO FIGHT ONE OF THE BIGGEST COUNTRIES OF THE WORLD WOULD NOT BE POSSIBLE IF THE VIET-NAM PEOPLE WERE NOT BEHIND HIM."

NEW DELHI, MARCH 29-(AP)-THE VIET-NAM DELEGATE TO THE INTER-ASIAN RELATIONS CONFERENCE CHARGED THE FRENCH TODAY WITH IMPORTING 25,000 FORMER MEMBERS OF ROMMEL'S AFRIKA CORPS TO INDOCHINA A YEAR AGO AND USING THEM TO FIGHT THE VIET-NAMESE.

TRAN VAN GIAU, WHO SAID HE WAS A FORMER GOVERNOR OF COCHIN CHINA, ASSERTED AT A NEWS CONFERENCE THAT 2,000 OF THE FORMER NAZI DESERT FIGHTERS HAD DESERTED OR SURRENDERED, BUT WERE MERELY BEING DISARMED BY THE VIET-NAMESE. HE DECLARED ALSO THAT THE FRENCH WERE USING JAPANESE AND BRITISH GURKHAS AGAINST THE VIET-NAMESE, WHO ARE IN REVOLT AGAINST FRENCH COLONIAL RULE.

MEANWHILE THE DELEGATES ACCEPTED A REPORT FROM A CONFERENCE COMMITTEE DECLARING THAT ASIATIC COUNTRIES MUST OBTAIN SUBSTANTIAL IMPORTS OF FOREIGN CAPITAL FOR VITAL INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT, BUT MUST GUARD AGAINST "FOREIGN CONTROL OF DOMESTIC ECONOMY."

"IMPORTS OF CAPITAL SHOULD BE OBTAINED BY GOVERNMENTS OF COUNTRIES CONCERNED RATHER THAN BY PRIVATE INTERESTS," THE REPORT ADDED.

"THUS SUFFICIENT STRENGTH COULD BE AFFORDED TO THE BORROWER TO RESIST DIRECT AND INDIRECT DOMINATION THAT THE LENDER USUALLY EXERCISES ON THE BORROWING COUNTRY X X X IT WAS FELT THAT TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF FOREIGN BORROWING WAS A SUITABLE SUBJECT FOR MUTUAL CONSULTATION AMONG ASIAN COUNTRIES."

THE REPORT DECLARED THAT "THE REAL TEST OF ASIAN INDEPENDENCE WOULD BE THE EXTENT TO WHICH SHE IS ABLE TO ACHIEVE A SUBSTANTIAL MEASURE OF INDUSTRIALIZATION." IT SAID THAT "CAPITAL EQUIPMENT HAS TO BE OBTAINED FROM EUROPE OR AMERICA, AND IT CANNOT BE OBTAINED EXCEPT IN RETURN FOR EXPORTS FROM ASIA OF RAW MATERIALS AND PRIMARY PRODUCTS."

TOKYO, MARCH 29-(AP)-GENERAL MACARTHUR ASKED THE FOUR-POWER ALLIED COUNCIL TODAY FOR SUGGESTIONS "TO EFFECT A PROPER AND STABILIZED WAGE-PRICE RELATIONSHIP," TO PREVENT UNCONTROLLED INFLATION IN JAPAN.

THE SUPREME COMMANDER'S REQUEST, BASED ON A STUDY SIGNED BY HIS CHIEF OF STAFF, MAJ.GEN.PAUL J.MUELLER, WILL BE CONSIDERED AT THE APRIL 2 MEETING OF THE COUNCIL.

"THE PROBLEM OF EFFECTING A PROPER AND STABILIZED WAGE-PRICE RELATIONSHIP IN JAPAN IS ONE OF CONSIDERABLE DIFFICULTY IN VIEW OF THE GREAT SCARCITY IN JAPAN OF PRACTICALLY EVERY TYPE OF GOODS, AGGRAVATED BY UNEQUAL DISTRIBUTION OF MONETARY PURCHASING POWER AND DEFICIT FINANCING OF BOTH GOVERNMENTAL AND INDUSTRIAL OPERATIONS," MACARTHUR ADVISED THE COUNCIL IN A MESSAGE ACCOMPANYING THE STAFF STUDY.

"WITHOUT A STABILIZED RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN WAGES AND PRICES," HE ADDED, "IT IS PROBABLE THAT THE PRESSURE OF WAGE INCREASES TO MEET RISING COSTS OF LIVING MAY RESULT EVENTUALLY IN AN UNCONTROLLABLE INFLATIONARY SITUATION."

TOKYO, MARCH 29-(AP)-EXPRESSING FRANK FEAR OF "AN UNCONTROLLABLE INFLATIONARY SITUATION," GENERAL MACARTHUR ASKED THE FOUR-POWER ALLIED ADVISORY COUNCIL TODAY FOR SUGGESTIONS ON ESTABLISHING "A PROPER AND STABILIZED WAGE-PRICE RELATIONSHIP" IN JAPAN.

THE REQUEST IS TO BE CONSIDERED AT THE COUNCIL'S MEETING APRIL 2. IT WAS BASED ON A STUDY SIGNED BY THE OCCUPATION COMMANDER'S CHIEF OF STAFF, MAJ. GEN. PAUL J. MUELLER.

MACARTHUR'S COMMUNICATION TO THE COUNCIL, ACCOMPANYING THE STUDY, SAID THE PROBLEM WAS "ONE OF CONSIDERABLE DIFFICULTY IN VIEW OF THE GREAT SCARCITY IN JAPAN OF PRACTICALLY EVERY TYPE OF GOODS, AGGRAVATED BY INEQUAL DISTRIBUTION OF MONETARY PURCHASING POWER AND DEFICIT FINANCING OF BOTH GOVERNMENTAL AND INDUSTRIAL OPERATIONS."

THE APPENDED STUDY COMMENTED THAT MANY "MONOPOLISTIC, NON-DEMOCRATIC FEATURES" OF JAPAN'S WARTIME SYSTEM HAD NOT YET BEEN ABANDONED, DESPITE DIRECTIVES FROM OCCUPATION AUTHORITIES, AND THAT THE JAPANESE GOVERNMENT HAD CREATED THE NECESSARY MEASURES "ON PAPER, BUT HAD NOT YET MADE THESE REGULATIONS EFFECTIVE IN OPERATION."

MACARTHUR'S APPEAL TO THE COUNCIL FOLLOWED BY ONE DAY DISCLOSURE THAT HE HAD WRITTEN TO PREMIER SHIGERU HOSHIDA A DEMAND THAT THE JAPANESE GOVERNMENT TIGHTEN AND IMPROVE ITS OWN ECONOMIC AND FOOD RATIONING SYSTEMS IF IT EXPECTED FURTHER AID FROM AMERICA.

YOSHIDA REPLIED THAT THE GOVERNMENT WOULD TRY, AND THIS MORNING HIS AGRICULTURAL MINISTRY ANNOUNCED A PLAN FOR IMPROVING FOOD COLLECTIONS, PLUS A RURAL INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION PROGRAM. THE GOVERNMENT'S ECONOMIC STABILIZATION BOARD ANNOUNCED IT WOULD PUSH AN ANTI-TRUST ACT IN THE DIET.

TOKYO, MARCH 29-(AP)-THE JAPANESE GOVERNMENT MOVED TODAY TO HELP ITSELF OVER SOME OF THE ECONOMIC HUMPS.

AGRICULTURAL MINISTER KOZAEMON KIMURA ANNOUNCED PLANS TO STEP UP PRODUCTION BY DEVELOPING MAJOR INDUSTRIES IN RURAL AREAS, AND TO OVERHAUL THE SAGGING FOOD RATIONING SYSTEM.

GENERAL MACARTHUR CRITICIZED BOTH FOOD AND INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION IN A LETTER TO PREMIER SHIGERU YOSHIDA, DISCLOSED YESTERDAY, AND TOLD HIM JAPAN WOULD HAVE TO HELP ITSELF IF IT EXPECTED OUTSIDE AID.

KIMURA SAID THE INDUSTRIAL PLAN CALLED FOR TECHNICAL TRAINING OF RURAL YOUTHS IN 16 KEY FACTORIES IN THE PREFECTURES.

THEREAFTER, SUCH INDUSTRIES AS STARCH MAKING, WATCH AND CLOCK PRODUCTION, FOOD CANNING, SILK PROCESSING AND VENEER MANUFACTURING WOULD BE ESTABLISHED.

THE GOVERNMENT ECONOMIC STABILIZATION BOARD, ALSO CRITICIZED BY MACARTHUR, ANNOUNCED IT WOULD SEEK PASSAGE BY THE DIET OF AN ANTI-TRUST ACT, SIMILAR TO THE SHERMAN ANTI-TRUST ACT IN THE UNITED STATES, TO ELIMINATE MONOPOLIES AND SPEED MANUFACTURING.

(ADVANCE)-BATAVIA, JAVA, SUNDAY, MARCH 30-(AP)-THE NEWLY-RECOGNIZED INDONESIAN REPUBLIC'S FIRST DIRECT PARTICIPATION IN INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS WILL BE CONDUCTED BY PREMIER SUTAN SJAHRIR AS A DELEGATE TO THE INTER-ASIAN RELATIONS CONFERENCE NOW IN SESSION AT NEW DELHI, INDIA, IT WAS ANNOUNCED TODAY.

SJAHRIR WILL LEAVE AT MIDNIGHT TONIGHT FOR INDIA ON A PLANE PROVIDED BY THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA. HE WILL BE THE FIRST INDONESIAN NATIONALIST LEADER TO LEAVE THE EAST INDIES SINCE THE WAR AND THE REVOLT AGAINST DUTCH RULE OF THE ISLANDS THAT FOLLOWED THE JAPANESE SURRENDER.

SJAHRIR'S DEPARTURE WILL INTERRUPT DUTCH-INDONESIAN NEGOTIATIONS IMPLEMENTING THE AGREEMENT SIGNED LAST WEEK IN WHICH THE NETHERLANDS RECOGNIZED THE REPUBLIC.

INFORMED SOURCES SAID THAT THE NEGOTIATORS HAD REACHED SETTLEMENT OF MAJOR POLITICAL ISSUES INVOLVED IN THE AGREEMENT ON SATURDAY, BUT THAT THEY WERE DEADLOCKED ON ECONOMIC ISSUES.

A JOINT COMMUNIQUE SAID THE DUTCH COMMISSION GENERAL AND THE INDONESIAN REPRESENTATIVES HAD AGREED THAT THE MODJOKERTO AREA OF EAST JAVA, RECENTLY SEIZED BY DUTCH TROOPS, WOULD BE DEMILITARIZED AND RESTORED TO CIVILIAN AUTHORITY.

THE COMMUNIQUE ALSO REPORTED AGREEMENT ON A GUARANTEE THAT NEITHER THE DUTCH NOR THE INDONESIANS WOULD PROSECUTE ANYONE FOR HAVING JOINED THE OPPOSING FACTION DURING THE INDONESIAN REVOLUTION.

AN INFORMANT SAID THE DUTCH AND INDONESIAN DELEGATIONS WERE DEADLOCKED OVER WHETHER THE REPUBLIC, AS A DE FACTO SOVEREIGN POWER, COULD EXPORT STOCKPILES OF SUGAR, RUBBER AND OTHER INDUSTRIAL RAW MATERIALS PRODUCED IN THE INDIES BY SHARING PROCEEDS WITH THE DUTCH, BRITISH, AMERICAN AND CHINESE OWNERS OF THE ESTATES ON WHICH THEY WERE GROWN.

THE SOURCE SAID THE DUTCH INSISTED THAT BOTH IMPORTS AND EXPORTS FROM THE ISLANDS MUST BE LICENSED BY THE DUTCH-CONTROLLED CENTRAL GOVERNMENT DESPITE THE CHERIBON AGREEMENT, WHICH THEY SAID HAD NO EFFECT ON INDONESIA'S FOREIGN TRADE.

(ADVANCE) (NY) WASHINGTON, MARCH 29-(AP)-FREDERICK H. OSBORN, UNITED STATES DEPUTY ON THE UNITED NATIONS ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION, DECLARED TODAY THAT A TREATY WHICH LEFT ANY LOOPHOLES FOR NATIONAL RIVALRIES IN ATOMIC WEAPONS "WOULD BE MORE DANGEROUS TO THE WORLD THAN NO TREATY AT ALL."

OSBORN, IN AN ADDRESS TO THE WOMEN'S ACTION COMMITTEE FOR LASTING PEACE, SAID EFFORTS WERE BEING MADE TO GET AN ATOMIC TREATY WHICH IS ACCEPTABLE TO ALL. BUT HE SAID THERE MUST BE NO COMPROMISE OF SECURITY IN SUCH A TREATY.

"COMPROMISES MAY BE POSSIBLE WITH RESPECT TO THE FINANCING OF PLANTS, OR WITH RESPECT TO SOME OTHER MATTERS," OSBORN SAID. "BUT BEWARE OF THOSE WHO ATTEMPT TO TELL YOU THAT ANY COMPROMISE IS POSSIBLE IN SUCH A TREATY WITH RESPECT TO SECURITY."

"THOSE WHO THINK THAT COMPROMISE IS POSSIBLE HERE ARE ENDANGERING NOT ONLY THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES BUT THE PEOPLES OF ALL THE COUNTRIES IN THE WORLD," HE SAID. "THAT SEEMS TO BE THE BASIS FOR OUR DIFFERENCE WITH THE SOVIET UNION. THE SOVIETS CLAIM THAT WE WOULD HAVE SECURITY IF ALL NATIONS MADE A TREATY OUTLAWING ATOMIC BOMBS, IF THE UNITED STATES THEN DESTROYED ALL ITS BOMBS AND ATOMIC PLANTS; AND THEN ALL WOULD RELY ON SOME SYSTEM OF INSPECTION TO BE AGREED UPON, PROBABLY A NATIONAL SYSTEM OF INSPECTION RATHER THAN AN INTERNATIONAL SYSTEM.

"I SAY PROBABLY, BECAUSE, WHILE THE HEAD OF THE SOVIET UNION HAS CALLED FOR A STRICT INTERNATIONAL SYSTEM OF INSPECTION, THE SOVIET DELEGATES IN THE UNITED NATIONS SEEM TO BE MORE INCLINED TO A SYSTEM IN WHICH THE INSPECTORS WOULD HAVE RATHER LIMITED POWERS. IN ANY EVENT THE SOVIETS AND POLAND THINK THAT INSPECTION WOULD BE ENOUGH, WHILE THE OTHER NATIONS THINK THAT THE INTERNATIONAL AGENCY (PROPOSED BY THE U.S. TO SUPERVISE ATOMIC CONTROLS AND DEVELOPMENT EVERYWHERE) WOULD HAVE TO OWN AND OPERATE CERTAIN DANGEROUS ACTIVITIES BEFORE ITS CONTROL WOULD AMOUNT TO VERY MUCH.

A160

"PERSONALLY, I THINK THAT A TREATY THAT LEFT ANY LOOPHOLES FOR NATIONAL RIVALRIES IN ATOMIC WEAPONS WOULD BE MORE DANGEROUS TO THE WORLD THAN NO TREATY AT ALL. I LEAVE IT TO YOU TO DECIDE WHAT YOU THINK."

OSBORN HAS TOLD THE WORKING COMMITTEE OF THE U.N. ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION THAT THE QUESTION OF ATOMIC CONTROLS SHOULD BE TAKEN UP IN REGARD TO THE WHOLE PICTURE. HE HAS OPPOSED A RUSSIAN DEMAND THAT THE COMMITTEE DEAL FIRST WITH SPECIFIC RUSSIAN PROPOSALS MADE IN THE SECURITY COUNCIL. THE COMMITTEE IS SEEKING A COMPROMISE BEFORE IT MEETS MONDAY AT LAKE SUCCESS.

ASKED FROM THE FLOOR WHETHER HE THOUGHT IT WOULD INVITE CONFIDENCE IF THE UNITED STATES DESTROYED ITS A-BOMBS AND DISCONTINUED MAKING THEM, OSBORN SAID: "INVITE THE CONFIDENCE OF WHOM?"

"RUSSIA," HIS QUESTIONER ADDED.

"I'M GLAD YOU SPECIFIED 'RUSSIA,'" SAID OSBORN, "FOR IT WOULDN'T INVITE THE CONFIDENCE OF SOME OTHER COUNTRIES." THEN HE ASKED HIS AUDIENCE: "DO YOU THINK THAT IF WE STOPPED MAKING ATOM BOMBS, RUSSIA WOULD TURN FROM THAT TYPE OF RESEARCH?" THERE WERE NUMEROUS "NO'S" FROM THE FLOOR.

OSBORN SAID THAT WHAT PUZZLES HIM IS THAT "THE ONLY REMAINING GREAT CAPITALISTIC STATE PROPOSES THE GREATEST EXPERIMENT IN SOCIALISM" THE INTERNATIONAL ATOMIC CONTROL AGENCY--"AND THE GREATEST SOCIALIST STATE SAYS 'I WON'T HAVE ANYTHING TO DO WITH IT!' I DON'T UNDERSTAND IT."

ASKED IF HE DOES NOT BELIEVE THAT THE UNITED STATES HAS AN OBLIGATION TO THE WORLD TO MAKE ATOMIC ENERGY A BENEFIT TO MANKIND, OSBORN REPLIED THAT HE DOES AND ADDED THAT WHAT THIS COUNTRY IS SEARCHING FOR IS A WAY TO DO THAT AND NOT ALSO ENDANGER ITS SECURITY.

THE WOMEN'S COMMITTEE, WHICH IS COMMITTED TO A POLICY THAT LASTING PEACE MUST COME THROUGH SUPPORT OF THE U.M., FOUND ITSELF IN A QUANDARY ON PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S PROPOSED DIRECT RELIEF TO GREECE AND TURKEY. IT FINALLY VOTED TO ASK ITS GENERAL COMMITTEE, WHICH SETS THE ORGANIZATION'S POLICY, TO GIVE "PROMPT CONSIDERATION" TO THE FORMATION OF A POLICY STATEMENT ON THE PROBLEM.

IN OTHER ACTIONS, THE COMMITTEE:

RECOMMENDED ESTABLISHMENT OF A GOVERNMENT ACADEMY FOR EDUCATION AND (ADVANCE) WASHINGTON, MARCH 30-(AP)-A SPEED-UP IN THE RATE AT WHICH FOREIGN COUNTRIES ARE USING UP THE CREDITS ADVANCED TO THEM BY THE UNITED STATES WAS REPORTED TONIGHT BY THE COMMERCE DEPARTMENT.

THE CREDITS ARE COMPOSED OF MONEY LOANS AND SALES OF PROPERTY BY THE GOVERNMENT IN RETURN FOR PROMISES TO PAY LATER.

AT THE START OF THIS YEAR, THE DEPARTMENT SAID, THERE WERE 58 COUNTRIES WITH "ACTIVE CREDITS" FROM THIS COUNTRY--MEANING CREDITS THAT HAD NOT BEEN USED UP FULLY OR DEBTS FOR LOAN FUNDS USED BUT NOT YET REPAID.

MAR 1947

THESE ACTIVE CREDITS TOTALED $9,279,800,000, INCLUDING $6,633,-100,000 IN MONEY LOANS, BUT THE FOREIGN BORROWERS STILL HAD $3,786,-700,000 OF THAT TO DRAW UPON. ONE REASON THEY ARE SLOW IN USING IT IS THE SHORTAGE OF GOODS TO BUY.

THEIR USE OF THE AID WAS PICKING UP AT THE END OF 1946, HOWEVER, THE DEPARTMENT SAID. AT THE START OF LAST YEAR'S FOURTH QUARTER, THEY HAD USED ONLY 29 PERCENT OF THE TOTAL AVAILABLE, BUT THEY RAN THAT UP TO 38 PERCENT IN THE FOLLOWING THREE MONTHS.

BRITAIN AND FRANCE TOGETHER ACCOUNTED FOR 71 PERCENT OF THE ACTIVE CREDITS, OR $6,595,000,000. OTHERS INCLUDED RUSSIA $241,800,000, CHINA $199,800,000, GREECE $93,700,000, TURKEY $40,800,000, ITALY $204,900,000, THE AMERICAN REPUBLICS $576,900,000, BELGIUM $147,200,-000, CZECHOSLOVAKIA $72,000,000, AND THE NETHERLANDS AND POSSESSIONS $562,400,000.

TWO-THIRDS OF THAT CONSISTED OF EXPORT-IMPORT BANK LOANS AND OF PROPERTY TURNED OVER ON CREDIT TO CLEAR THE LEND-LEASE "PIPELINES" AFTER V-J DAY. MERCHANT SHIPS WERE ANOTHER ITEM.

MORE THAN HALF OF THE $3,786,700,000 STILL AVAILABLE FOR USE AT

THE START OF THIS YEAR CONSTITUTED MONEY PROMISED IN THE BRITISH LOAN.

HERE IS WHAT REMAINED FOR SOME COUNTRIES TO USE AT THIS YEAR'S START:

AMERICAN REPUBLICS $266,600,000, BRITAIN $3,193,100,000, CHINA $94,700,000, CZECHOSLOVAKIA $55,900,000, FRANCE $1,014,000,000, GREECE $81,000,000, ITALY $171,700,000, POLAND $83,400,000, TURKEY $38,600,000, AND RUSSIA $104,800,000.

PHILADELPHIA, MARCH 29-(AP)-EX-G.I.'S WHO HAD PERMANENT CIVIL SERVICE STATUS IN GOVERNMENT JOBS BEFORE THEY ENTERED AN ARMED FORCE MUST BE GIVEN SUPER-SENIORITY OVER CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT WORKERS UNDER A RULING HANDED DOWN BY U.S. DISTRICT JUDGE GUY K.BARD.

THE DECISION, ISSUED AT A TIME WHEN CONGRESS IS CONSIDERING SWEEPING CUTS IN FEDERAL PAYROLLS, HELD THAT THOMAS W.KIRKMAN, 52, OF PHILADELPHIA, WAS RIGHTFULLY DISMISSED AS A MACHINIST AT THE FRANKFORD ARSENAL AFTER MORE THAN 16 YEARS OF SERVICE TO MAKE WAY FOR A VETERAN.

COURT OFFICIALS SAID THE RULING MAY AFFECT THOUSANDS OF FEDERAL JOBHOLDERS ALTHOUGH IN WASHINGTON HARRY B.MITCHELL, PRESIDENT OF THE CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION, SAID JUDGE BARD'S DECISION IS THE SAME "AS THAT THE COMMISSION HAS ALWAYS TAKEN."

KIRKMAN HAD ARGUED THAT MANY RETURNING VETERANS HAD BEEN IN FEDERAL SERVICE FOR SHORTER PERIODS THAN HE. HE ASKED THE COURT TO RESTORE HIS JOB.

BARD SAID HE BASED HIS DECISION ON THE VETERANS PREFERENCE ACT OF 1944 AND NOT THE SO-CALLED G.I. BILL OF RIGHTS. THE SUPREME COURT HAD HELD THAT UNDER THE G.I. BILL VETERANS DO NOT HAVE SUPER-SENIORITY.

THE JURIST SAID HE AGREED WITH THE HIGH COURT RULING BUT THAT UNDER THE VETERANS PREFERENCE ACT IT IS "MANDATORY" THAT RETURNING VETERANS BE RESTORED TO PERMANENT FEDERAL CIVIL SERVICE JOBS WHICH THEY HELD BEFORE ENTERING MILITARY SERVICE OR TO POSITIONS OF "LIKE SENIORITY, STATUS, AND PAY."

BLASTS ROCK HAIFA

Violence Flares as Seized Immigrants Are Taken to Cyprus.

JERUSALEM, Monday, March 31 (AP) Explosions and flames swept the Haifa waterfront today as British troops transferred to Cyprus-bound transports the first of nearly 1,600 uncertified Jewish immigrants rescued a few hours earlier from a distressed refugee ship.

Fires following the explosions raged in the port area about two miles from the docks where the immigrants were being put aboard the transports by British troops carrying pick handles.

A quarter-mile area was burning in the neighborhood of installations of the Consolidated Refineries and Shell Oil Company. Apparently flames were raging along the Shell Company feeder lines from the Consolidated refinery.

Immigrants Rescued

The visa-less immigrants' close brush with death came yesterday 80 miles off the Palestine coast when the 700-ton schooner seeking to bring them to Palestine developed a dangerous list and began taking water.

The schooner, named Moledeth (Hebrew for "Fatherland") and formerly called the San Felipe, sent out a distress message. British naval vessels, which had been shadowing the Moldeth through the eastern Mediterranean, raced to the scene and removed 750 of the passengers crammed on the schooner's decks. This action was believed to have averted a major disaster.

Jews in Haifa were aware that the Moldeth was in trouble. When the distress message was intercepted by radio receivers there, 60,000 Jewish residents blacked out their section of the port city as a gesture of sympathy. British troops immediately took up defense positions awaiting the arrival of the refugees.

The explosions occurred after a British destroyer brought 400 of the 750 immigrants removed from the Moledeth. The rest of the refugees were following on another destroyer and on the Moledeth herself. The schooner was being towed to Haifa by a minesweeper.

The Moledeth, built in 1876, has normal passenger accommodations for 30 persons. When British sailors came alongside to aid her they found 1,550 persons jammed into the ship.

Engineers from a British destroyer boarded the Moledeth with pumps and removed a considerable amount of water which the schooner had been taking rapidly.

Haifa "Blacks Out"

When the vessel's distress signal was picked up on wireless receivers in Haifa, 60,000 residents there blacked out that Palestine port city as a gesture of sympathy. The Jews in Haifa said:

"The blackout is in sympathy with 1,600 souls fleeing from the slavery of European concentration camps."

British destroyers had been shadowing the Moledeth before the distress signal was sent. A government announcement said the 750 passengers were removed "after a request for assistance was submitted in writing by three delegates of the ship's company."

The Moledeth committee then asked for a tow into Haifa and a British minesweeper was provided for that purpose. The British counted 1,550 passengers on the schooner.

Unofficial reports said the uncertified immigrants would be transshipped to Cyprus as soon as the Moledeth reached Haifa.

The sympathy blackout in Haifa occurred in the modern Jewish section of the city. Cafes and night clubs went dark. Lights went off in residences and the streets were emptied.

In downtown areas British troops, in an operation that is becoming routine, moved barbed wire barriers and guns into place. Troops on the Sixth Airborne Division, equipped with pick handles, were alerted to begin transferrng the refugees to waiting transports for Cyprus when the Moledeth and the British naval vessels arrived.

Jews Denounce Terrorism

The rescue of the uncertified immigrants followed a renewed Jewish Agency denunciation of terrorism in Palestine and an announcement that Mayor Israel Rokach of the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv had started legal action to challenge the whole structure of the British mandate government's law in the Holy Land.

The new Jewish Agency statement against terrorism followed the death of a British police inspector from wounds received when he was ambushed near the Ramle military camp yesterday. A British army officer also was killed in the attack, which authorities blamed on Jewish terrorists.

Mrs. Goldie Myerson, head of the Jerusalem branch of the agency's political department, told a Tel Aviv public meeting:

"Terrorism assists the government and places the Jewish community on the defensive when it should be on the offensive."

She urged Palestinian Jews to prevent a minority of dissidents from breaking Jewish unity by employing terrorism against the British.

Rokach, acting as a leader of the Jewish community rather than as mayor of Tel Aviv, is using the appeal of the death sentence imposed upon Dov Bela Gruner as the basis of his court action charging that emergency defense regulations under which Gruner was prosecuted violate the Palestine mandate.

Gruner, sentenced to hang for aiding an attack on the police station at Ramat Gan a year ago, was a resident of Tel Aviv.

Call Well Blast an Error

The Jewish underground organization, Irgun Zvai Lemui, issued a communique at Tel Aviv tonight admitting that its members had blown up a well in the Jewish settlement of Kiryat Haim yesterday, but said it was the result of "an error in our battle plans."

The destruction of the well in the village north of Haifa had stirred a storm in the Jewish community. The Tel Aviv labor newspaper Davar termed it an act of dissident Jews as "collective punishment" of the suburb.

The Irgun communique said plans for sabotage of an oil pipeline near Haifa went wrong because of "erroneous information on our battle maps." It declared the explosives were dropped into the Kiryat Haim well by mistake and stated: "Irgun Zvai Leumi never would deliberately harm Jewish property."

A dispatch from Nicosia, Cyprus, said the British were putting the finishing touches on new construction of internment camps there for 10,000 uncertified Jewish immigrants deported from Palestine.

Under a Cyprus law, the number of immigrants to be confined on the island is limited to 10,000. However, the quota could be boosted simply by passage of an amendment to the original law.

The Xylotymbou and Caraolos camps, while built to accommodate only 10,000 refugees, could house up to 25,000, the dispatch said.

A dispatch from London last week said 11,000 Jews were interned on Cyprus, and that the camps had been enlarged to take care of twice that number, in anticipation of a summer rush of displaced Jews to the Holy Land.

19 U. S. SEAMEN SEIZED IN PALESTINE SENT HOME

HAIFA, Palestine, March 30—(AP) Nineteen young American seamen who spent three weeks in the ancient Acre jail on charges of "aiding illegal immigration" by manning the Jewish refugee ship Abril sailed for home today aboard the U. S. ship Marine Carp.

The 20th crewman, Norwegian Lilliby, who holds first American naturalization papers awaited a plane to Norway, where he plans to be married.

They were released this morning to an American consular representative for deportation.

The Abril, called the "Ben Hecht" by Jews here, was intercepted off Haifa March 8 and is now empounded pending legal action. It brought 600 European refugees who were deported to Cyprus detention camps.

Oil Lines Catch Fire

HAIFA, Palestine, Monday, March 31 (AP)—The first explosion here early today was described by persons in the area as "a single earth-shaking boom," but other blasts followed quickly when the oil lines caught fire. A southwest breeze sent the flames into shrubbery around the Shell Oil Company office, which appeared to be doomed.

Firemen abandoned attempts to combat the flames from the city side of the area and were attempting to move around the exploding oil lines to the sea side, where pumps for seawater were being prepared.

The fire also reached power lines along the highway leading to the Iraq petroleum tank farm, from which Mediterranean ships are fueled, and power to the area was cut off.

No casualties had been reported several hours after the first explosion, but a number of Arab dwellings and small shops in the path of the flames had been destroyed.

News of the Moledeth's distress spread to Jews in Haifa. When the SOS was intercepted, 60,000 Jewish residents blacked out their section of the city as a gesture of sympathy. British troops immediately took up defense positions to await the refugees.

The Moledeth, built in 1876, has normal passenger accommodations for thirty persons.

British Paper Reports New Offer From India

London, March 30 (AP)—The independent weekly newspaper The People said today that India's dominant Congress party had offered to accept dominion status for the subcontinent for a "trial period" prior to full independence from Britain.

Official Government quarters neither confirmed nor denied the report.

"There might be something behind it," one high source said. "There is such a thing as a Cabinet secret, and such an offer might be under consideration at high levels without being known even by Government officials."

At the Indian Office, however, it was stated officially that "nothing whatever is known" of the reported offer.

Pledged To Quit By 1948

Britain, pledged to quit India by June, 1948, has left the question of whether India should remain in the Empire for Indians to decide.

The people, without giving its source, said the Congress offer was made direct to Prime Minister Attlee by Jawaharlal Nehru, leader of the predominantly Hindu majority party and vice president of the interim Indian Government.

"The Cabinet is now considering this proposal, and I understand it has been passed on to Lord Mountbatten, the new Viceroy, with instructions that he should see both Mr. Nehru and Mr. Mahomed Ali Jinnah [Moslem League leader] and decide for himself its prospects of success," the paper's diplomatic correspondent wrote.

"Nehru . . . . is prepared to bring India into the dominions for a trial period and to guarantee that he can reach an understanding with the Moslems—if an independent Indian Government is set up with himself as leader."

British Official To Seek Goods From Russia

London, March 30 (AP)—James Harold Wilson, British Overseas Trade Secretary, will leave soon for Moscow in an effort to buy timber, cotton, jute, foodstuffs and oil cake to bolster the nation's food and reconstruction supplies.

"We hope especially to get timber," a foreign office spokesman said, "although Russia's vast program of reconstruction means that we shall probably not get nearly as much as we require."

An informed source said Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin had discussed trade possibilities with Prime Minister Stalin in recent talks in Moscow.

BRITISH GROUP URGES U. S. COAL IMPORTS

LONDON, March 30,—(AP) The Federation of British Industries urged Britain today to import 10,000,000 tons of coal from the United States or South Africa "without reducing the quantities being shipped for the relief of Europe."

In a statement of proposals for dealing with the nation's economic crisis, the manufacturers' organization said the British coal-production target for 1947 also should be increased 10 percent to 220,000,000 tons.

"A coal budget which involves the rationing of industry at anything like present levels is a policy of ruin," the report stated.

It advocated that the export of mining machinery and electricity generators be "reexamined" and, if necessary to increase power output, import equipment from Germany and "necessary German specialist labor."

Britain Told She Pays For Industrial Revolt

York, England, March 30 (AP)—The Archbishop of York, Dr. C. F. Garbett, told Britain today she was reaping the results of the "evil days" of the industrial revolution.

"Excessive profits in the way of dividends and wages must go, artificial restoration of supplies and of labor output must come to an end," the Archbishop said in an Easter message in the April issue of the York diocesan leaflet.

"Today we must realize that we must give our best for the sake of the community, that it is a crime against it to withhold from it the utmost we can give."

BRITAIN SEEKS SHOWDOWN ON DISARMAMENT

Will Call For Russia's Principles Before Backing World Slash

Lake Success, N.Y., March 30 (AP). Great Britain will seek a showdown with Russia on disarmament principles before plunging into a United Nations program to slash the world's arms, an authoritative source said today.

The issue was expected to come to a head Tuesday with completion of policy speeches in the eleven-nation Commission on Conventional Armaments. Britain's move would supplement her previous assertion that the world was not ready to disarm and wouldn't be until international security was established.

Despite Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's call for speed when he tossed the original arms reduction proposal into the General Assembly last fall, the Soviet Union so far has declined to speak in the new commission.

British Want It On Record

Regardless of whether Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko chooses to deliver a major speech, this source said the British were determined that all nations go on record over the principles of security and disarmament.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate and veteran of previous world disarmament conferences, wants these principles established first:

1. Arms reduction depends primarily on establishment of international confidence; the converse argument is misleading and dangerous.

2. Completion of an international military force by the United Nations would contribute greatly to this confidence.

3. Establishment of an effective system of international control and verification must precede adoption of any arms-slashing system.

Russia's Previous Argument

Previously, Russia has argued against the theory that security is an essential condition of disarmament, citing such a stand as an attempt at delay. Cadogan moved to spike a possible renewal of the Russian argument when he declared that such a stand was taken by Mussolini, and he hoped "no one will be inclined to repeat the Fascist government's contention" here.

A special group has been at work in London for some time on a set of British proposals, and Cadogan will present these once the issue of principles is cleared away.

The rest of the commission, including the United States, has generally supported the British stand with American Delegate Herschel V. Johnson emphasizing the immediate need to work out safeguards and verification. The French have still to speak, but it was understood they would follow the line taken by the Western powers.

Bard Taking Over Soon

Ralph A. Bard, former Under Secretary of the Navy, will take over as American representative to the commission in about three weeks, following his week-end appointment by President Truman.

The United Nations program for the week also includes the following:

1. The working committee of the Atomic Energy Commission meets tomorrow (3 P.M.) in closed session to continue discussions of the atomic report. Indications were that the French would present a compromise resolution designed to bring together the Russian and majority viewpoints on how to proceed.

2. The ten-nation Trusteeship Council, still without a Russian delegate, meets tomorrow (2 P.M.) to resume debate on rules of procedure.

3. The Security Council will convene Wednesday to seek a vote on the long-hanging American proposal to take over the Japanese mandated islands under a strategic area trusteeship.

4. The secretariat expected replies from Russia, France and China early in the week on approval of a special session of the General Assembly for setting up machinery to handle the explosive Palestine case. The United States already has sanctioned the step, and Great Britain said it would formally file the case with receipt of the approval. A final decision on calling the session then will have to be taken in a poll of the 55 member states.

DE GAULLE HAILED AS HE SPEAKS AT MEMORIAL RITES

BRUNEVAL, France, March 30—(AP) Gen. de Gaulle, emerging from a self-imposed retirement, placed a stone for a monument to allied parachute troop raiders here today and, in a speech, upheld French unity as the nation's greatest asset.

He distributed 12 liberation crosses, four of them posthumous for French resistance workers. In his address he criticized "those who are using the resistance symbol for their own profit."

Cheered by Thousands

Approximately 40,000 persons clustered on the Normandy hillsides to hear his speech. Cries of "De Gaulle au pouvoir (De Gaulle to power)" greeted him when he approached the rostrum.

The general spoke in the rain after driving here from a suburb of Le Havre, where he spent the night with his sister's family. Arches of triumph were erected in all the little towns through which he passed. Villagers bearing flowers and cheering for the former provisional president, the No. 1 resistance leader, lined his route. French and British planes droned overhead as he spoke and French minesweepers were anchored offshore.

The speech was at the site where British parachute troops in 1942 attacked and destroyed a German coastal radio station with the help of resistance workers, took some prisoners and escaped aboard naval craft. It was nearly a mile from the nearest road, and those who drove or bicycled to the ceremony had to plod the remainder of the way through the mud.

"Comeback" Rumored

He will make another speech next Monday at Strasbourg, which his friends said will touch on foreign policy, especially toward Germany, which lies just across the Rhine from Strasbourg.

En route to Bruneval he placed flowers on local war monuments, and made impromptu remarks. Those he delivered at Criquetot les Neval were interpreted by some as possibly foreshadowing his return to politics.

"All our sacrifices and sorrows should bring us something," he said. "This determination which has inspired what we have been able to do ought to remain to animate what we have still to do."

At Bruneval he warned his fellow countrymen to beware of the "voices of division, the voices of decadence," which he said "have been able for a time to overshadow the national interest.

"The times are too difficult, life is too uncertain, the world is too hard for us to allow this for a long time without running a moral risk of expiring in the shadows."

Ramadier Cites War Losses

VILLEFRANCHE, France, March 30 (AP).—Premier Paul Ramadier told France today: "We cannot repair all our war losses within the space of a generation." In a speech at this Mediterranean town, Mr. Ramadier said France's war losses amounted to more than 6,000,000,000 francs ($50,000,000,000).

"One cannot stress sufficiently the depth of our distress," the Premier said. "We were a rich country, with riches accumulated over 2,000 years. We were able to recover quickly after certain crises.

But today we are drained to the very bottom of our substance."

GERMAN ECONOMY SHOWS GAIN IN AMERICAN ZONE

BERLIN, March 30. — (AP) German economy in the American zone of occupation has started a gradual recovery after virtually a complete shutdown due to the severest inter freeze-up in decades, the latest semi-monthly report of the American Military Government said today.

Thaws have enabled an increase in water power, although not sufficient to allow lifting all restrictions on industry. Despite floods which washed out bridges and tracks and sank river craft, coal also began to move to the factories.

Textile Mills Reopen

Textile mills which had been closed since mid-December reopened in March, and chemical and ball-bearing plants began to push up their output.

The relief rolls which mounted rapidly during the winter stagnation of industry continued to rise in February, the report showed.

In February, 1,287,851 persons were receiving relief in the U. S. zone, an increase of three per cent over January, while expenditures jumped six per cent to 36,489,797 reichsmarks. (A reichsmark is worth 10 cents at the U. S. military exchange rate.)

Other highlights from the report:

Smuggling Combatted

To combat heavy smuggling around Obersuhl on the Soviet zone border four new border police posts have been established. German police took over control of the American zone borders on March 15.

Shipment of the first lumber export commitment of 80,000 cubic meters to England has been completed and shipment of another 20,000 cubic meters to the Netherlands will be finished in two weeks.

As of March 21, proceeds from exports in the U. S. zone totaled $8,950,000 while payments for imports amounted to $257,000 dollars, leaving a balance of almost $8,700,000 dollars for future essential imports.

Preysing Tells Germans U.S. Race Tensions Fade

BERLIN, March 30 (AP).—The American-licensed newspaper "Der Tagesspiegel" quoted Konrad Cardinal von Preysing today as saying he found on his recent trip to the United States that relations between whites and Negroes appeared to have improved.

"I observed no signs of any prospective social crisis in the United States," the Catholic Bishop of Berlin was quoted as saying. "It appears that the strains and tensions which gripped America between the two world wars have been substantially reduced."

Cardinal von Preysing added that, "In general, the American people appear to be optimistic, and their actual situation appears hopeful."

Berlin Wedding To End Winchester GI's Wait

Berlin, March 30 (AP)—Albert G. Hillyard, 37, of Winchester, Va., former United States Army sergeant, Wednesday will marry red-haired Ruth Rahmann, 32, the German girl for whom he has been waiting nearly two years.

Their attendants will be Thomas B. Murphy, another former sergeant, of Burlington, Iowa, and Murphy's fiancée, Waltraut Blaschek, also a red-haired fraulein. Murphy and Miss Blaschek will marry April 16.

The weddings will take place under the new army policy of permitting Americans to marry German girls when they are within 30 days of concluding their overseas service.

Hillyard, chief of the drafting department of the American Military Government's transport division, is a permanent civil-service employé and plans to return to his prewar job in the War Department at Washington. Coming to Berlin in July, 1945, with the first echelon of the AMG, he met Miss Rahmann within a week. Discharged in the United States in November, 1945, he immediately took the civilian job and returned to Germany "to wait it out" until he could marry her.

U.S. Films Destruction Of German Industries

Berlin, March 30 (AP)—An official of the American Military Government said the AMG sent a twenty-minute movie to Moscow today showing destruction of German war factories and dismantling of reparations plants in the United States occupation zone.

The official, in the AMG's information control division, said the film, made by the division's protographers with a commentary by the economics division, was for the use of United States delegates to the Big Four Foreign Ministers' Conference in debates on reparations and liquidation of Germany's capacity to make war.

Radio 'Sabotage' Laid To Employe

Munich, Germany, March 30 (AP). Edward Kerrigan, manager of the United States radio relay station here, said today he believed some technician employed at the station was responsible for the "sabotaging" of recent "Voice of America" broadcasts to Russia.

Kerrigan said the broadcasts had gone astray "on several occasions" because the unidentified saboteur had directed the beams toward countries other than Russia. He declined to say on what occasions the broadcasts had been misdirected.

The manager declared that a complete investigation was being made, and that a full report had been sent to Washington. He added that he did not know who was responsible for the sabotage, or why it had been done.

Now Reaching Moscow

William Benton, assistant United States Secretary of State, said in Washington Saturday that the State Department broadcasts had been beamed to South America instead of Russia by a saboteur who had "reversed" an antenna at the Munich relay station. He said the matter had been corrected, and that the "Voice of America" broadcasts, which at first could hardly be heard in Moscow, now were being received there clearly.

Resort To Black Market

Frankfurt, Germany, March 30 (AP)—Frankfurt physicians told the American military government today that Germans were forced to turn to the black market to supplement their regular food rations in order to prevent starvation.

The German doctors, employed in the Frankfurt health department, said the food eaten by the Germans here exceeds the authorized ration by 40 per cent, with most of the excess obtained in the black market.

"A German gets his extra food by violating laws," a report said.

Even the black market is now running out of food, it added, because the "hinterland" has been exhausted" during the winter.

The doctors recommended that food allotments be increased for city dwellers.

U.S. Bans German Auto Profiteering

Frankfurt, Germany, March 30 (AP)—The United States Army acted today to block profiteering in automobiles in the American-occupied zone of Germany.

Army headquarters temporarily banned all transfers of used motor vehicles by or to American and Allied personnel in the zone and announced that the office of American military government in Berlin was issuing similar instructions for Germans and displaced persons.

The ban will remain in effect, army headquarters announced, until procedures for registering automobile ownership can be revised. A spokesman said a centralized agency for the resale of used cars was being considered.

Second-hand jeeps obtained from the Army for $300 or $400 have been known to sell for $1,000 or more. An American-made car will bring $2,000 to $3,000. German-made Volkswagens, obtainable new only through military agencies at a standard price of $645, are often resold for more than $1,000.

Americans are forbidden to buy cars from the Germans because AMG officials maintain the German economy needs those cars in German hands.

Nazism Seen Lingering

Nuernberg, Germany, March 30 (AP)—Thousands of former victims of Nazi persecution assembled in 24 protest meetings throughout Bavaria today and heard speakers charge that Nazism still flourished in Germany.

The meetings were called by Dr. Phillip Auerbach, Bavarian commissioner for racial and religious persecutees.

Addressing approximately 1,000 persons here, Auerbach called the bombing of his Nuernberg office Wednesday night only one of many signs that Nazism had not yet been stamped out. He recently charged that there was a resurgence of anti-Semitism among the German people.

Christian Democratic (CDU) parties.

Without directly mentioning strikes or demonstrations, the gaunt, one-armed Schumacher declared in a speech that hungry people were likely to listen to new messiahs of the Hitler type unless the Allies did more to help them regain their feet economically. He contended that total victory meant total responsibility for the Allies.

He said the Germans made a mistake in approving the Nazi totalitarian regime in 1933 and would make the same mistake if they supported the Communists this year. He hit at the CDU members as looking out for their own interests and disregarding the welfare of the German people as a whole.

Schumacher rapped the Potsdam pact as a "millstone of misery" around German necks and called for greater unity between the zones, particularly British and American. He said the French and Soviet zones were places where the occupying powers were taking out more than they were putting in.

Briton Blames Germans

William Asbury, British commissioner for North Rhine-Westphalia, which includes the Ruhr, issued a statement blaming German administrators in part for the food shortages.

Declaring that scant reserves were depleted while the Rhine River and other waterways were frozen, he said if the German administrators had "applied a little more intelligence" by allocating less coal to industry and more to railways the crisis would have been less serious.

He said full food rations had not been met in large Ruhr towns "for some time past" and added: "It is not surprising that a number of demonstrations have been held."

British Expect New Outbreaks Among Ruhr Germans Today

Essen, Germany, March 30 (AP)—British officials said today they expected a new outbreak of protests against food shortages in the restless Ruhr despite a Sabbath lull in demonstrations and strikes which swept the industrial area last week.

Civil officials received unconfirmed reports that demonstrations were planned tomorrow in Cologne and Krefeld and Tuesday in Duisburg. They kept an eye on Dortmund, where 4,000 coal miners walked out Saturday. These men, the first to strike in the Ruhr since th occupation, have promised to return to work tomorrow, but have threatened to walk out again unless food rations for families are improved.

Schumacher Raps Communists

Meanwhile at Oberhausen, Dr. Kurt Schumacher, leader of the Social Democratic (SPD) party, opened the campaign for state elections in the British zone on April 20 with attacks both on the Communists and the moderate

Hesse Sells $200,000 Goods

Wiesbaden, Germany, March 30 (AP) — Export contracts totaling nearly $200,000 with seven foreign countries were signed last week by the export-import agency of the German state of Hesse.

Italians Hear 'Colonel Valerio'

Rome, March 30 (AP)—The reputed executioner of Benito Mussolini told a huge crowd of Italians today that neo-Fascists and reactionaries were "nostalgic for fascism and the monarchy" and warned that Partisans were not afraid to fight.

Walter Audisio, the "Colonel Valerio" of the Communist underground, declared at a Communist-sponsored mass meeting that fascism died in April, 1945, when he and a group of Partisans killed Mussolini and sixteen other Fascist leaders at Dongo.

There should be no talk of civil war in Italy today, he said, and the Partisans do not want war. But they will fight rather than allow Italy to return to fascism, he added.

Greek Guerrilla Move In Albania Is Charged

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, March 30 (AP)—Col. Nesti Kerenxhi, Albanian liaison officer with the United Nations commission now investigating Balkan border disorders, accused the Greek Government today of maintaining an underground guerrilla movement in Albania "to attack the Albanian Army from behind . . . when the Greeks and British launch their attack."

In a letter to the United Nations commission, Kerenxhi said a current treason trial at Koritza, Albania, produced testimony which formed the basis of his accusation.

The Greek Government, Kerenxhi declared, was given "unlimited help" by "British occupation forces." He added that defendants at the trial spoke of an "early landing of British troops in Albania . . . with the insistence" that subversive activity already is taking place on the border in Albania.

The liaison officer referred to "significant movements of British troops near the Greek-Albanian border" which, he said, "confirms the fact that the British Government and troops directly uphold the imperialistic claims of the Greek Government."

7 SENTENCED BY YUGOSLAVS

Death Decreed On Charge Of Macedonian Separatism

Belgrade, March 30 (AP)—Seven members of an organization charged with plotting to separate the People's Republic of Macedonia from Yugoslavia were sentenced today by a Skoplje court to be shot for treason.

Receiving death sentences were Konstantin Hristov-Terzijev, leader of the group; Dr. Basil Ivanov, Dr. Kosta Nikolov-Trenchev, Metodije Popov, Blagoj Gasteov, Nokola Popov and Asen Temov.

Six other defendants were sentenced to eight to twenty years.

"Anglo-Americans" Cited

The court charged the defendants had organized under the protection of the "Anglo-Americans for the purpose of severing Macedonia from Yugoslavia by liquidating the people's authority." Their activities were declared to have been carried out after the liberation of Yugoslavia when, "lacking support among the masses, the accussed organized a terrorist center in Skoplje."

[The bulk of Macedonia lies in northern Greece. The Greeks charge that Bulgaria and Yugoslavia have encouraged a Macedonian autonomy movement which would include Greek territory. A United Nations investigation commission has been discussing that problem in its study of Balkan border difficulties.]

Hoess Takes Full Blame For Killing 4,000,000

Warsaw, March 30 (AP)—Rudolf Hoess, former Nazi commandant at the Oswiecim concentration camp, today admitted before the Supreme National Tribunal full responsibility for putting over 4,000,000 prisoners to death in gas chambers.

MACARTHUR'S 'VIEW' ON SPAIN

Spaniard Says General Made Comment Last July

Madrid, March 30 (AP)—Antonio Goicoechea was quoted by the newspaper ABC today as saying Gen. Douglas MacArthur told him last July that Spain, due to her present government, "is the only bulwark against communism in Europe."

Goicoechea, governor of the Bank of Spain, was Generalissimo Francisco Franco's special envoy at the Philippine Independence ceremonies in 1946. He spoke before the Superior Council of Scientific Investigation last night on his mission to Manila.

ABC reported Goicoechea told the gathering that General MacArthur made the comment on Spain when they met at a dance.

Speculation Over U.S. Plans

London, March 30 (AP)—The Observer, a Sunday newspaper, reported speculation today "in Spanish political circles" that the United States might be preparing to resume full diplomatic relations with Spain.

The paper said the Spanish sources, whom it did not identify further, interpreted the recent appointment of Paul T. Culbertson as first secretary and charge d'affaires of the American Embassy in Madrid as the first step in that direction.

"No Change Contemplated"

Washington, March 30 (AP)—State Department officials emphasized anew today that there is no change in sight in this Government's attitude of opposition to the Franco régime in Spain.

Advised of London reports that "Spanish political circles" are speculating on the possibility of a resumption of full diplomatic relations with Madrid, these officials pointed to a statement issued by the department last Wednesday which said:

"There has been no change in this attitude (toward Spain) nor is any contemplated."

The statement was issued in connection with the assignment of Paul T. Culbertson, veteran of the Western European section of the State Department, to replace Philip Bonsal as first secretary and charge d'affaires at Madrid. It called the shift "purely routine" and said it had "no political significance whatsoever."

This country has been without an ambassador in Madrid since Norman Armour left there December 1, 1945, and in 1946 was an active sponsor of the move for withdrawal of all ambassadors representing United Nations nations.

GREEK GUERRILLAS REPORTED LOSING

4-Day Battle Swinging To Government, Athens Hears

Athens, March 30 (AP)—Athens newspapers said today that a four-day battle between Greek troops and about 1,500 guerrillas on Mount Vardoussia, southwest of Lamia was developing favorably for the Government.

At the same time, a press report said the senior naval officer for the Northern Aegean had proclaimed a blockade of the northeast Greek coast from the Gulf of Volos north to Litochoron, near Mount Olympus. Any vessels violating the blockade were warned they were liable to be sunk.

Cut Down By Aerial Gunfire

Dispatches from the Lamia area said the guerrilla forces, cornered on barren mountain peaks, were being cut down by aerial gunfire and would have to surrender. Casualties included 123 irregulars killed within the last two days.

Embros, Conservative paper, said Capetan Moravas, a Slav autonomist leader, was killed in a clash near Yannitza, in western Macedonia, in fighting during which his band suffered heavily.

Vima, a Liberal party organ, said eleven Leftists were abducted and killed last Tuesday by armed Rightists from Scala, northwest of Ghythion in the southern Peloponnesus. The incident followed the slaying of P. Katsareas, Rightist band leader.

3 Printers Killed, 7 Hurt

Rizospastis, Athens Communist organ, reported three printers were killed and seven injured when two persons wearing military uniforms attacked the printing plant of a Salonika Communist newspaper with grenades and guns. The attackers escaped.

Gen. Constantin Ventiris, Greek chief of staff, was reported en route to Athens to report to the Government tomorrow on his inspection of army units in the Volos and Larisa areas, adjacent to the 75 miles of blockaded coast.

The inspection, together with the blockade, was believed in authoritative quarters to foreshadow combined ground, naval and air operations to quell guerrilla activities in the north.

Relay Reporting System Bares All Big 4 Conference 'Secrets'

MOSCOW, March 30 — (AP) The Foreign Ministers Conference here is probably the most wide open secret meeting of its kind ever held.

Everything that has gone on around the circular table behind the guarded doors of aviation industry house has become public property.

This has been accomplished by a curious process of relay reporting at which the Russians have become, in their own way, as expert as the British, Americans and the French. In some respects the Russians are doing an even better job than the inventors of the system.

System Devised at Paris

The system was devised at Paris a year ago during the satellite treaty talks. Its purpose was to get around Russian demands for secrecy. Its result has been to roll back the velvet curtain from everything the Council of Foreign Ministers does.

This victory for open diplomacy, also a boost to propaganda maneuvers, is making the council a goldfish bowl which the world watches.

The Russians exceed all others in making capital of this fact, with Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov directing at American Secretary of State Marshall, British Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault statements evidently really addressed to the German people.

Marshall has limited virtually everything he has said to the council to statements either written out or put into note form beforehand. Whether this is done with a view to public reaction or simply to a desire for caution and accuracy, Marshall has not stated. It is probably the latter, and it has resulted in lots of Marshall's comments being made available in full, as if they were public speeches.

The basic reporting system, the same here as followed in New York and Paris, really goes back to the first conference in London in the fall of 1945. At that time James F. Byrnes promised Molotov and the others he wouldn't talk and really kept his word. They were supposed to issue joint communiques, but could never agree on those any more than on anything else at that meeting.

The result was controversy over secrecy and confusion over issues. Byrnes decided not to let it happen again.

Thus at Paris was evolved a system which now generates thousands of words of news daily. After each session the press or briefing officers of each of the three western delegations rush back to the Moskva hotel and meet the waiting correspondents at about 8 p.m. (12 noon Eastern Standard Time).

RED CONCESSIONS SEEN ONLY HOPE OF TREATY ACTION

Molotov Stands Firm on His Demands for Huge German Reparations.

U. S. MAY COMPROMISE

Britain, However, Remains Unalterably Opposed to Moscow's Demands.

MOSCOW, March 30.—(AP) Barring concessions by the Soviet Union, a majority of most of the visiting delegations saw little prospect today of any major settlement of the German problem at the Moscow foreign ministers' conference.

The foreign ministers will come to grips with the heart of the German issues tomorrow. Any settlement appeared to depend entirely on one unannounced factor.

This factor is whether Russia's economic condition is such that economic unity of Germany is essential to the Soviets.

Molotov Still Firm

While some western delegations feel that Russia's situation will force last-minute concessions, there has been nothing to bear this out in the attitude and position of Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov. Molotov has announced that Russia will consider no settlement on Germany without assurance of Russia's claims for $10,000,000,000 in reparations over 20 years and reparations from current production.

The United States, despite its stand against reparations from production thus far, is understood to be willing to compromise on this point if Russia accepts the principle that Germany must pay her own way before reparations start. This is not believed acceptable to the U.S.S.R., and the United States is prepared to go no further on compromise.

Whether the British will even go this far is doubtful. Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin is under direct orders from his government against arrangements which would require additional outlay for expenses.

Any unification of Germany with immediate reparations for the Soviets undoubtedly will mean an additional financial burden to the western allies.

Furthermore, the British and Americans demand that any merger and reparations agreement in Germany be accompanied by an ironclad agreement on the part of the Soviets to share past, present and future German deficits.

The Soviets have refused to consider any past or present deficits, which are now being shouldered by British and American taxpayers, and decline to recognize that any future deficits will be necessary.

Speculate on Concessions

Some feel that Molotov will fight to the last minute, then make concessions. There has been no indication of this in the foreign minister's meetings.

On the contrary, many of Molotov's speeches apparently have been more designed to woo Soviet support in Germany than to meet the problems of the conference. Some of the delegations express fear that Molotov is preparing the way for a conference failure and a subsequent all-out campaign to swing Germany into the Communist camp.

RUSSIAN PRESS VIEWS GIVEN ON GERMANY

3 Of Best Known Soviet Experts Trotted Out To Give Theories

Moscow, March 30 (AP)—The Soviet press trotted out three of its best known experts on Germany today to expound the Russian viewpoint on major German issues.

Prof. Aaron N. Trainin, lawyer and scientist, declared in the Government newspaper Izvestia that the only way to solve the problem of Germany was by "political and economic unification on a democratic basis by creation of a democratic, universal parliament."

Supporting the stand taken by Vyacheslau M. Molotov, Foreign Minister, in the Foreign Ministers' Council, Trainin declared that, while the old Weimar constitution had its faults, principally that of giving too much power to the president, it also had its good points and could serve as a starting point for writing a German constitution.

Charges Move For Profits

Yuri Zhukov, who has covered previous foreign ministers' sessions, attacked the British-American policy on delivery of reparations from the western zones. He said:

"It is well known that representatives of American and British monopolies are developing their activity in the western zones. They are not interested in increasing Germany's peacetime industry, for they see competition in this.

"However, prospects of turning western Germany into an industrial colony suits them perfectly, and from this they hope to squeeze out super profits."

Says Anti-Nazis Complain

Yuri Korolkov, writing from Berlin, criticized denazification policies in the western zones. He quoted from letters he said were written by anti-Nazi Germans complaining that former Nazis who held jobs under the British and Americans interfered with anti-Nazis in obtaining employment.

He charged that the British released 60,000 out of 80,000 "Hitlerites" from six camps in their zone, and the Americans freed all but 17,000 of 77,000 held in camps in their zone.

"Out of 157,000 Hitlerites, 120,000 have been set free," he said. "This is how reserves for the Fascist underground emerge."

MARSHALL RELAXES AT MOSCOW BALLET

MOSCOW, March 30—(AP) Secretary of State Marshall went to the ballet at noon today, which is something one can do in Moscow Sundays.

Seeking relaxation from last week's conferences, Marshall saw and heard the Nutcracker Suite by Tschiakowsky. He was accompanied by John Foster Dulles, a member of the American delegation, and Harold E. Stassen, visiting candidate for the Republican nomination for president in 1948.

The party sent flowers for the leading ballerina to the stage.

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin

of Britain arranged a ride around the town in the limousine assigned him. This is Bevin's favorite form of gettng away from it all.

France's foreign minister, Georges Bidault, worshipped at the Catholic Church of St. Louis of the French.

VIOLENCE IN INDIA HITS NEW PEAK; MILITARY ALERTED

Fighting Brought Under Control Only After Police Fire into Crowds.

SCORES WOUNDED

Calcutta, Cawnpore Also Are Swept by Communal Disorders.

BOMBAY, Monday, March 31—(AP) Forty persons were killed and 137 were wounded yesterday in communal riots that broke out in four different sections of Bombay, the provincial director of information announced today.

Similar riots occurred in greater Calcutta and Cawnpore, causing at least nine deaths and more than 50 other casualties.

The Bombay disorders between Hindus and Moslems were brought under control only after police fired into crowds in various sections of the city on 19 occasions. A curfew was put into effect to clear the streets of the rioters.

Military Alerted

A. A. Caffin, Bombay chief of police, said the local military organization had been ordered to stand by for duty later today when the curfew is lifted.

Newsmen touring Bombay streets saw Caffin's police riflemen and Lathi (long staff) squads move into areas where screaming rioters abandoned their activities and fled, leaving only the litter of the disorders under the light of overhead gas lights.

Rumors as to the cause of the fighting, all of them unconfirmed, swept the city immediately. The report receiving the most circulation was that a funeral procession of one community had attacked a house of worship of another, but the stories varied as to which community had made the attack.

One hospital reported it had received seven persons suffering from stab wounds, one of whom died.

Calcutta Toll Rises

The rioting in Calcutta brought the death toll there, where Hindu-Moslem clashes have been continuous since last Wednesday, to more than 50 persons killed and over 400 wounded in less than a week.

Five persons were killed yesterday in Calcutta proper, some by police fire, and 42 others were wounded, a government communique said, while communal disorders in Howrah, across the Hooghly, spread to three police districts, causing three deaths and injuries to 52. The military moved into Howrah, quelling 30 incidents and arresting 80 persons.

In Cawnpore, one man was killed and an unspecified number of others were wounded in fighting which started when Moslems objected to anti-Pakistan placards displayed at a Punjab celebration. Some senior civil officials were injured by stone throwing. A curfew was imposed and troops patrolled the streets.

Bombay Riots Widespread

Fighting broke out in Bombay almost as if by signal wherever the Hindu and Moslem districts converged and in many other sections of mixed population. Fist fighting started in the Null Bazaar, where police fired on the rioters.

Flames reddened the Bombay sky after a mob fired a cotton mill, but the blaze soon was extinguished. Police said many of the casualties occurred in fierce gang fights marked by knifings and the hurling of soda water bottles.

In Calcutta police opened fire 30 times and made more than 200 arrests. Forty-four separate clashes were reported during the day and 10 arson cases.

Relief organizations said they were evacuating persons from trouble areas to safer localities. Peace committees touring affected areas in an attempt to restore order were stoned. Calcutta's transportation system had been halted since a bus was burned recently. Street cars have not been operating for several weeks because of a strike.

The past few days of communal fighting constituted a resumption of early disorders, which had subsided for several weeks, costing more than 1,000 lives over a period of five months.

Rancor between Hindus and Moslems over Moslem status in India has been chiefly responsible for the riots. The Moslems, in the majority in the Punjab and certain other sections of India, insist that an independent Moslem state of Pakistan be provided in the India of the future. Hindus and Sikhs have violently opposed this move.

Indonesian Role In Asia

Batavia, Java, March 30 (AP)—The newly recognized Indonesian Republic's first direct participation in international affairs will be conducted by Premier Sutan Sjahrir as a delegate to the inter-Asian relations conference now in session at New Delhi, India, it was announced today.

Sjahirir will fly for India on a plane provided by the Government of India. He will be the first Indonesian nationalist leader to leave the East Indies since the war and the revolt against Dutch rule of the islands that followed the Japanese surrender.

Interrupts Dutch Negotiations

Sjahrir's departure interrupts Dutch-Indonesian negotiations implementing the agreement signed last week in which the Netherlands recognized the Republic.

Informed sources said that the negotiators had reached settlement of major political issues involved in the agreement on Saturday but that they were deadlocked on economic issues.

A joint communiqué said the Dutch commission general and the Indonesian representatives had agreed that the Modjokerto area of East Java, recently seized by Dutch troops, would be demilitarized and restored to civilian authority.

Pledge Against Prosecutions

The communiqué also reported agreement on a guarantee that neither the Dutch nor the Indonesians would prosecute anyone for having joined the opposing faction during the Indonesion revolution.

An informant said the Dutch and Indonesian delegations were deadlocked over whether the Republic, as a de facto sovereign power, could export stockpiles of sugar, rubber and other industrial raw materials produced in the Indies by sharing proceeds with the Dutch, British, American and Chinese owners of the estates on which they were grown.

Dutch Insist On Licensing

The source said the Dutch insisted that both imports and exports from the islands must be licensed by the Dutch-controlled central Government despite the Cheribon agreement, which they said had no effect on Indonesia's foreign trade.

Meanwhile, James Ryan, attorney for the Istbandsen Shipping Company, of New York, announced that he would fly to Washington on Wednesday to present a direct appeal to Congress against the confiscation by Dutch authorities of the cargo of the Istbrandsen ship, Martin Behrman.

Chinese Atrocities In Formosa

Shanghai, March 30 (AP)—John W. Powell declared today in an article in his magazine China Weekly Review that Chinese troops sent to Formosa to quell riots which started there February 28 had perpetrated "some of the most unimaginable atrocities."

Powell, son of the late J. B. Powell, prewar editor of the Review, wrote that a conservative estimate placed the number of Formosans killed at 5,000, with thousands more imprisoned. He has returned recently from a visit to Formosa.

[So far as is known Powell, who is editor of the Review, is the only correspondent who has succeeded in going to and returning from the big island province off China's East Coast since rioting began.

No Immediate Comment

[No immediate comment was forthcoming from Chinese Government sources, but the Government previously has depreciated the extent of the scantily-reported Formosan disorders.

[On March 14 Peng Hsueh-pei, Chinese Minister of Information, told foreign news men in Nanking that the Formosan "incident will soon be closed." He declined to assist reporters in going there, saying that the Government was "too busy" to look after them.

[On March 10 a Formosan delegation arrived in Nanking and charged that authorities up to that time had killed 3,000 to 4,000 Formosans. Pro-Government Chinese press reports on the first day had placed the death toll at 500.

Flagrant Misrule Cited

[Pro-Government] sources and the Formosans agreed that the Government's monopoly system in various businesses, particularly tobacco, had touched off what the Chinese Central News Agency—an official Government organ—said was open and widespread rebellion.]

Powell added the disorders culminated a year and a half of flagrant Chinese misrule which he said had squeezed and oppressed the Formosans far worse than when they were ruled by the Japanese.

China lost Formosa in 1895; it was restored to her in 1945 after the Japanese surrender.

Powell's article, entitled "Blood Bath in Taiwan," said the administration of Governor Chen Yi had coupled trickery with a reign of terror which he said was probably unequalled in the history of Kuomintang China and thus had virtually suppressed the rebellion.

Woman's Death Was Last Straw

Powell wrote that the riots were preceded by extremely severe searches of shops and peddler stands by police who, he said, were trying to enforce new economic regulations which virtually abolished private trade. These regulations, he said, directly violated Central Government laws in China proper.

The proverbial last straw came on February 27, he declared, when police killed a 40-year-old woman in Taihoku, the capital, when she protested seizure of her cigarette tray. He said a man died from a shot fired by another policeman into the crowd of onlookers.

Next day the riots began, he continued, and a mob marched toward Chen Yi's office to petition for compensation of survivors and punishment of the policemen. He said police fired into this crowd and killed four Formosans, wounding several others.

Policemen Beat To Death

Meanwhile, his account went on, another mob beat two policemen to death, sacked a tobacco monopoly building and burned all its goods. He said that other mobs roamed the streets, grabbing and beating all mainland Chinese they could find and sacking many Chinese homes.

By March 1, he related, rioting had spread to most of the cities of the island, and many were in the hands of the Formosans. Communications had collapsed and most police left their posts.

Powell said the Government tried a counter-move with flying squads which fired into all crowds with machine guns, and that examination of wounded showed dumdum bullets were used. He said such action killed 25 and wounded 125 Formosans outside the railway station.

Committee Was Arrested

He said a truce was arranged with a committee of prominent Formosans which had been formed to campaign for political and economic reforms. This committee drew up 32 demands which he said would have assured near-independence.

Powell reported that the Governor, who was expecting troops from the mainland, gave the impression he was making concessions, but when troops arrived March 8 the committee was arrested.

From then on through March 13, he wrote, there was a "blood bath," in which troops shot Formosans on sight.

Mutilations Charged

He quoted foreign eyewitnesses as saying in one instance twenty youths in a village between Taipei and Keelung were mutilated and their ears were cut off and noses slit before they were bayoneted and thrown into a creek.

He said one foreign observer watched troops searching houses wantonly shoot down whoever opened the door.

Powell concluded that "with the situation what it is in China today, there is little hope that anything constructive can be done in time to save the island economically or politically for China."

[The pro-Government press in Nanking reported on March 26 that more than 70 Formosans had been executed. The official Central News Agency said 100 had been arrested and three executed.]

Chinese Red Chief Reported Wounded

Nanking, March 30 (AP)—The mouthpiece of the Chinese Army, Peace Daily, reported with confirmation today that Mao Tse-tung, chief of the Chinese Communists, had suffered grenade wounds in the left chest while supervising defense arrangements at Yenan.

Informed quarters, expressing skepticism, said it was most unlikely that Mao would have been engaged directly in supervising troops. Yenan fell to the Government March 19.

The independent paper Hsin Min Pao said a report from the provincial government of Shansi declared Mao was in Sinhsien, North Shansi, but made no mention of any injury to him.

No A-Bomb Freaks Born

Tokyo, March 30 (AP)—The Kyodo News Agency quoted a staff doctor of the Nagasaki Medical University Hospital today as declaring he had not heard of "a single instance of a freak being born to anyone injured by the atom bomb."

The doctor was quoted as saying that he knew of two children who had been born without brains, but, "the mothers were a considerable distance from the blast and it cannot be decided that these abnormalities were the result of the bomb."

The agency gave the doctor's name as Shigeru Ito and said he was in the obstetrical department of the hospital which the Japanese Government established after the bomb burst over Nagasaki in August, 1945.

"Big Jolt" Received

It said the residents of Nagasaki had received "a big jolt" from the Atom Bomb Commission report in Washington last week indicating that freak births or mutations were possible long-range results of the bombing.

Last January in Tokyo, members of the commission who are conducting a long-term survey at both Nagasaki and Hiroshima said their studies had failed to disclose a single case of hereditary effects of the bombing, but that the final answer will not be known for 50 years.

Commenting on the recent Washington report, Dr. Ito attached no significance to the notation that more men than women had been killed. He said, "There were big factories in the blast center and more men than women worked in them."

No Unusual Reaction

He added that a considerable number of women suffered periodic disturbances as a result of the bombing, but recovered in about three months, a reaction similar to that due to extreme fatigue or shock.

As for the Washington report that sterility was an effect of the bombing, the news agency said births in Nagasaki from August, 1945, to May, 1946, totaled 2,838, and from June 1 through last February were 4,676, a marked increase. It said deaths since September, 1945, totaled 9,028 men and 8,428 women, no great change from the prebombing average.

11 NEW FIRMS IN RYUKYUS

MacArthur Says Reconstruction Includes Iron Works, Shipyards

TOKYO, Monday, March 31 (AP)—Eleven new industrail firms have been established in the Ryukyu Islands as economic reconstruction goes forward, Gen. Douglas MacArthur said today.

The Supreme Allied Commander, in his December report on the islands, said the new industries included four iron works, three shipyards, three sawmills and a kitchen utensil factory. He also said additional land had been prepared for cultivation and new Okinawan construction battalions organized.

Other points noted in the report:

Eighty-one schools were opened in December, with attendance rising to 221,926. Day nurseries were started in Naha and Shuri so that parents could seek employment.

Fourteen per cent of all employable men held jobs in United States military units. Approximately 33,000 were added to the rolls in December, increasing the total of military workers to 17,231.

U.S. Engineers Making Map Of Philippines

Manila, March 30 (AP)—United States Army engineers disclosed today that they were well under way with a project to map the entire Philippines, something never before attempted.

The late Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita remarked during the trial that led to his death last year that anyone who fought on Leyte in the future should have better maps, as "both I and MacArthur used the same American maps and thus lost a good deal of time."

The mapping project is being pushed by planes of the 13th Air Force, taking bomb sight readings and making photographs of hitherto unknown mountain and jungle areas. Some of these regions are within 40 miles of Manila.

The Army also is training two companies of Philippine scouts as surveyors for on-the-ground measurements of all the republic's 7,000 islands.

Date of completion and scale of the map are military secrets, but engineers said that it would show every large building in the Philippines.

Peso Devaluation Denied

Manila, March 30 (AP)—Emilio Abello, presidential secretary, today denied as "absolutely false" rumors current in Manila that the peso, now worth 50 cents, would be devaluated to 20 cents. He noted that the 50-cent value was pegged by the recent equal-rights-for-Americans amendment and could not be changed without repeal.

U.S. Marines 'Take' Peleliu Again

HONOLULU, March 30 (AP)—The United States Marines have landed for the second time on Peleliu—for an easy victory, this time. The first time they landed there was a war on and it cost 6,000 casualties to take the Pacific island from the Japanese. This time there were no casualties. They came back to put down a few Japanese stragglers who were supposed to be making life miserable for the Navy garrison, and, in line with the Marine tradition, everything was "well in hand."

U. S.-British Unity Urged

OTTAWA, March 30 (AP).—The Progressive-Conservative party, the principal opposition to Canada's Liberal party government, urged today the "strengthening of the British Commonwealth of Nations in effective co-operation with the United States," to further world peace. The recommendation was included in resolutions apoted by the annual meeting of the Progressive-Conservative Association of Canada.

Stamp Out Communism, Griffith Tells Mexicans

Mexico City, March 30 (AP)—Paul H. Griffith, American Legion commander, today told an audience of United States and Mexican veterans that the two countries "must stamp out these termites of communism within our midst."

Speaking on inter-American relations at a luncheon, Griffith said: "Our joint efforts resulted in the crushing of the monstrous pagan evils of Nazism, Fascism and Nipponism by force of arms. Today a new evil ideology is rising in the world. . . . We must resolutely take a common stand against the march of this world-wide philosophy of destruction."

The Legion chief recalled Mexico's wartime co-operation saying: "The day of Mexico's triple declaration of war against Germany, Italy and Japan will always be remembered in America with affection and with gratitude. . . . We were Allies in freedom's war. Now we are copartisans of peace and progress."

CONTROLS END AT MIDNIGHT

Most Remaining Wartime Limits To Be Lifted Then

Washington, March 30 (AP)—Most of the remaining wartime controls end at midnight tomorrow.

The Draft Act dies. The Solid Fuels Administration shuts up shop. Emergency controls over trucking and shipping lines end. All but a small segment of the Second War Powers Act expires.

Only on sugar and a handful of scarce commodities will the Government still have power to set priorities or regulate the use.

Rent Ceilings To Remain

Rent ceilings, too, remain in effect, the law which authorizes them expires June 30 but Congress is expected to continue rent control in some form. Committees in both the Senate and House are considering just what to do.

Awaiting presidential signature tomorrow is legislation under which 6,443 local draft boards enter liquidation. One year is given to liquidate selective service affairs under a new Office of Selective Service Records. It will preserve draft files in state capitals.

Congress is scheduled to give final approval tomorrow to two measures which salvage sugar rationing and the allocation of a few other products. Fast footwork between Capitol Hill and the White House will be necessary to permit a presidential signature before the deadline.

Provisions Listed

They provide:

1. Extension of sugar rationing and price control until October 31, under the Agriculture Department instead of OPA.

2. Extension until June 30 of allocation powers over tin, antimony, railroad freight cars, manila and agave cordage and fibers, the drug streptomycin, tractors for export sale, and cinchona (quinine) bark.

Immediately after Mr. Truman's signature, the Civilian Production Administration is expected to go through the formality of revoking the following orders rendered void by Congress' curtailment of the executive powers:

Allocation of steel and phenolic resins.

As To "Hard Goods"

Inventory controls which forbid the hoarding or withholding of refrigerators, washers and other consumer "hard goods."

Quota control which limits the export of automobiles to about six per cent of total production.

Some unneeded priority regulations, including one governing textile production.

A number of other CPA controls, limiting commercial construction and channeling scarce building materials into housing, will be transferred to the housing expediter for continuance under the Patman Emergency Housing Act.

Controls Continued

Other legislation, some of it signed only this week end, continues controls over rubber and uranium ore and the waiver of normal ship operating and manning standards.

However, the Government steps out as the nation's sole buyer of natural rubber Monday night, under an act signed by Mr. Truman yesterday. Controls over the use and production of both natural and synthetic rubber are extended one year, as a defense measure, to preserve the synthetic industry until Congress adopts a long-range rubber policy.

Two months ago the President asked for a one-year extension of three of the seven "titles," or major provisions, of the second War Powers Act then in force.

Separate Legislation

Separate legislation took care of one of them, the waiver of ship-operating standards.

The second, which gave the Interstate Commerce Commission broad authority over motor and water carriers, is being allowed to expire. This ends the authority of the ICC and the Office of Defense Transportation to order priorities into effect on trucks and vessels, to suspend certain routes in emergencies, or to require that emergency service be given.

Railroads still are subject to such control, but only by ICC.

Power Lost By ODT

The ODT thus loses its power to invoke many of the measures used in coping with the coal and rail strikes—like freight embargoes and curtailment of operation of coal-burning locomotives — but could certify to ICC that conditions warrant such action.

The third major provision of the act, Title III, is extended for 90 days only and for the limited list of commodities specified by Congress, with these additional provisions:

First—Those items may be allocated for export which are required by foreign countries to increase their production of materials needed in the United States.

Some May Be Allocated

Second—Some products, mostly foodstuffs, may be allocated when the secretaries of State and Commerce certify such action is necessary to meet United States obligations.

Third—No item may be allocated which was not being allocated on March 24.

The four other "titles" expiring tomorrow already had passed into disuse or were unneeded. TURKS VIEWED AS BULWARK IN MID-EAST

Secret Testimony Said To Put Emphasis On Military Aspect

Washington, March 30 (AP)—Secret testimony that Turkey, even more than Greece, is the key to any move to halt the spread of communism in the Mediterranean is before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Administration lieutenants said today they look to it to counter open opposition to aiding Turkey on the part of some congressmen and an apparent lack of enthusiasm for the Turkish phase even among some supporters of President Truman's program.

The testimony was given behind closed doors last week by Edwin C. Wilson, United States Ambassador to Turkey. The committee expects to make most of it public after the envoy makes some deletions.

Military Consideration Cited

One senator said that Wilson's presentation was so significant that he concluded the President's program is based even more on military than on political considerations.

Senators who heard Wilson said he testified, in effect, that Turkey remains the last strong Government on the Mediterranean standing up against Russia. If Turkey should tumble, Wilson was quoted, then Iran, Iraq, Arabia and other nations would have to bow to Communist demands, throwing the Middle East wide open to Russia.

The Ambassador added that Turkey now is solvent, but cannot long remain so if it is forced to foot the bill alone for maintaining a large standing army which drains not only its finances but its manpower.

Some $150,000,000 of the $400,000,000 fund asked by Mr. Truman would go to Turkey, all for military purposes.

Made Necessary By Russians

Wilson was quoted as testifying that the Russians have made it necessary for the Turks to maintain a large force by keeping their troops on the Turkish border but have not directly molested Turkey. The Soviets also seek a share in control of the Dardanelles.

Senators said the Ambassador reported that Turkey, unlike Greece, has few Communists within her borders, and is not facing any internal upheaval unless the Government should become too weak financially.

Lincoln MacVeagh, Ambassador to Greece, was said to have told committee members in the same session that the Communists are even stronger within Greece than had been supposed from reports reaching this country.

Battle Armed Communists

There King George's Government is battling armed Communist guerrillas reputedly trained and equipped outside the country.

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D., Col.) seeks to cut Turkey off without any funds and to limit aid to Greece to the furnishing of relief money. But Senator Hatch (D., N.M.) plans to take the lead in opposing Johnson's amendment when it comes before the Foreign Relations Committee this week.

Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.), the committee chairman, has promised that every amendment offered will receive "full consideration" when the group gets down to details of the bill Wednesday and Thursday.

PUSHES FIGHT ON LILIENTHAL

Bridges Claims Support In Move For FBI Probe

Washington, March 30 (AP)—Senator Bridges (R., N.H.) today claimed growing support for a move to delay action on the Lilienthal nomination pending an FBI check and said that at least two senators publicly in favor of confirmation will go along with it.

"We're much stronger on that question than we are on the issue of actual confirmation or rejection," he declared, without naming the two senators.

But Senator Hill (Ala.), the Democratic whip, predicted that "the Senate will vote down that motion and then confirm the nominees." Senator Sparkman (D., Ala.) also forecast rejection of the postponement, calling it "just an oblique method of trying to defeat the nominee."

Bricker Motion Is Test

The test for David E. Lilienthal and the other nominees for the Atomic Energy Commission will come on a motion made Friday by Senator Bricker (R., Ohio) to send the nominations of Lilienthal and the other four commission members and that of Carroll L. Wilson as general manager back to the Senate Atomic Committee for FBI investigation.

To date, 49 Senators have announced they will support the nominations of Lilienthal and his colleagues, while 27 have taken a public stand against them.

Senator Knowland (R., Cal.) is to take the floor tomorrow to argue for acceptance of the appointments. Leaders are pushing for a vote by Thursday night, after which the Senate may take an Easter recess.

To Rush Greek Aid Bill

Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, hopes to have the bill for President Truman's $400,000,000 Greek-Turkey aid program ready for Senate consideration then. Final public hearings are scheduled tomorrow and Vandenberg wants the committee to agree on the terms of the measure within the following 48 hours.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee also will end hearings on the President's program this week. The House measure is not expected to reach the floor until after the Easter recess.

CONGRESS URGED TO LAUNCH PROBE OF GRAIN MARKET

MAR 1947

WASHINGTON, March 30—(AP) The National Association of Commodity Markets and Allied Trades, Inc., said tonight the United States is probably shipping abroad larger amounts of grain "than are safe for our economy."

J. A. Higgons, Jr., executive vice president of the association, wrote Senator Williams (R-Del):

"Even though we raised the largest crop in history the total visible supply is less than 36 million bushels, and each week inroads are being made on these accumulations, which have had a marked effect on prices thus far, and will probably be greatly accentuated as our supplies dwindle further.

Urges Investigation

Urging a congressional investigation of the entire grain marketing situation, Higgons said:

"The market is faced with explosive possibilities due to the fact that the government's reputed export program has been stepped up to the point where it will require full realization of the bumper crop of 1,170 million bushels indicated in the last crop report to prevent the creation of a supply condition that would be dangerous in this country. With an indicated 100 million bushel reserve, latest reports are that intentions exist to export another 350 million bushels from the next crop."

"But," cautioned Higgons, "crops are not made in March."

"Any failure of the crop from this point on could lead to disaster," he warned.

"Two decades ago, with a population of 120 million people, a minmum safe carryover was considered to be 125 million bushels. Last year it was only by virtue of an all-provident nature that our reserve of 100 million bushels carried us through without trouble.

"The market cannot and will not ignore the implications of what is—whatever its purpose—a highly dangerous program."

Norris E. Dodd, undersecretary of agriculture, commented, however, that there is "no question but what we can spare the grain that we are shipping and more too."

He said he could not see "any reasons at all" for Higgons' views and that it would be "pretty poor business" not a ship grain to starving people.

He said there is plenty of wheat and that mills are running to capacity with the beginning of the next harvest only six weeks away.

In demanding a congressional study of the grain markets, where prices have been rising steadily, Higgons said:

Reason for High Prices

"Federal officials should be called to explain why they seek to mislead the public in the belief that speculation rather than 'government scraping of the bin' is responsible for current high prices."

Higgons, who made public his letter to the senator, said he wrote to him because Williams had taken the initiative in blamng high grain prices on a "technical corner" of the market because of government purchases.

Higgons said the government should be required to formulate "definite buying policies to meet export demands.

"Conflicting statements and shifting programs have caused 'government intentions' to continually hang over the grain market like the proverbial sword of Damocles," he added.

The Chicago executive also said and investigation is needed to make it clear that "humanitarian and economic operations abroad" by this country are separate from agricultural support programs.

"There is widespread fear," he declared, "that government humanitarian activities have been integrated with support activities to avoid the problems of surpluses. Such fears should be promptly dispelled."

BURTON WHEELER NAMED TO PROBE NAVY OIL CHARGES

WASHINGTON, March 30—(AP) Burton K. Wheeler, who gained fame a quarter century ago as a young lawyer fighting for government oil rights in the Teapot Dome scandal yesterday was assigned to probe charges that the Navy pays inflated prices to U. S. companies for Arabian oil.

Senator Brewster (R-Me.), chairman of the Senate War Investigating committee, said that Wheeler, former Montana Democratic senator, will have every committee facility at his disposal in a two-week study. Wheeler was instrumental in uncovering and prosecuting the Teapot Dome oil scandal of the Harding administration in the 1920's. He was defeated for renomination to the Senate last year.

Brewster said President Truman has agreed to call on executors of the estate of the late President Roosevelt for papers bearing on a purported 1941 offer of Arabian oil at a figure far below what the Navy has paid under a 1945 contract.

UN DEPUTY WARNS OF LOOPHOLES IN A-BOMB TREATY

WASHINGTON, March 30—(AP) Frederick H. Osborn, United States deputy of the United Nations Atomic Energy commission, decided yesterday that a treaty which left any loopholes for national rivalries in atomic weapons "would be more dangerous to the world than no treaty at all."

Osborn, in an address to the Women's Action Committee for a Lasting Peace, said efforts were being made to get an atomic treaty which is acceptable to all. But he said there must be no compromise of security in such a treaty.

"Compromises may be possible with respect to the financing of plants, of with respect to some other matters," Osborn said. "But beware of those who attempt to tell you that any compromise is possible in such a treaty with respect to security."

Schoenfeld Is Named Minister To Hungary

Washington, March 30 (AP)—Authoritative diplomatic sources said today that Selden Chapin, director general of the State Department's foreign service, will replace H. F. Arthur Schoenfeld as United States minister to Hungary.

Chapin declined to confirm or deny it. A dispatch from Budapest yesterday reported that Schoenfeld would be replaced soon.

Schoenfeld, a veteran diplomat who was appointed Minister to Hungary in January, 1945, is understood here to be slated for another post.

Chapin became director of the foreign service in 1945 after service in many diplomatic posts.

The diplomatic change in Hungary will be the third in recent days in countries within the Russian orbit. The American envoys to Poland and Yugoslavia resigned.

Eisenhower Starts On Tour Of Camps

Washington, March 30 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, army chief of staff, left by automobile today for an inspection tour of southern military installations until April 16.

His itinerary, not given in detail, calls for visits at Fort Bragg, N.C.; Fort Benning, Ga.; Fort Jackson, S.C., and Maxwell Field, Ala.

Eisenhower also will visit Atlanta, where he will make an Army Day address April 7.

Mrs. Roosevelt Would Let 400,000 Enter U.S.

New York, March 30 (AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt urged today that temporary legislation be passed by Congress permitting entry into the United States of 400,000 Europeans under immigration quotas unused during the war.

Addressing a United Jewish Appeal meeting, the widow of President Franklin D. Roosevelt said:

"There are some people in Congress who are going to say that they don't want even temporary legislation that is going to be proposed to allow us to take in people up to the number that did not come in on unused quotas during the war, but I think the people of America do want them in."

She also endorsed legislation which would provide that the United States pay 75 per cent of the funds necessary to support organizations now carrying on the relief program formerly administered by the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

FORRESTAL WARNS BUDGET CUT WILL ENDANGER NAVY

ST. LOUIS, March 30—(AP) Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal declared last night that if Navy funds are cut below budget bureau figures the Navy's "program and our naval strength would be seriously endangered."

Addressing the first annual convention of the Reserve Officers of the Naval Services (Rons), Forrestal said:

"The first naval estimates that we collected from the various bureaus of the Navy totaled $8,800,000,000. The naval estimates that we sent to the Bureau of the Budget were scaled down to $5,600,000,000. That figure was cut by the budget bureau to $3,554,000,000. If it should be reduced below that minimum estimate our program and our naval strength woud be seriously endangered.

"Our ships will have to perform their global missions with crews substantially smaller than is essential for efficient operation.

"We will have to cut deeply into the research program, with all that means in keeping the Navy up to date.

"And finally the entire naval reserve program will come in for sharp readjustmnet downward, including acute curtailment of the naval reserve flying program."

Ickes Charges British Tyranny

Atlanta, March 30 (AP)—Harold L. Ickes, former Secretary of the Interior, today charged that the United States, by relieving Great Britain of it financial burdens in Greece, would be "underwriting Britain's un-Christian and uncivilized course in Palestine."

In an address before the Georgia State Conference of the United Jewish Appeal, Ickes said if Britain can no longer "maintain the tottering King George upon the throne of Greece, how does it happen that money can be found to invest in tyranny in Palestine?"

The former Cabinet officer continued, "if we can make an investment of $400,000,000 in Greece and Turkey, we can make an investment in insistence that Great Britain disavow the illegal and immoral white paper and return to the policy to which it bound itself when, with the support of the United States and of the civilized world, it issued the Balfour declaration." The white paper of 1939 restricts immigration to the Holy Land.

In Palestine, Ickes declared, the United States and Britain "have a distinct moral obligation—an obligation that becomes more pressingly moral every day we are in default."

He urged immigration to Palestine to the capacity of the country and suggested that loans be made by the United States to help the Palestinians develop their land.

"We know the Jews would not only repay the money, but would contribute to the prosperity and civilization of the world," he said.

PEPPER ASKS TRUMAN CALL BIG 3 PARLEY

ALEXANDRIA, Va., March 30—(AP) Senator Pepper (D.-Fla.) expressed the opinion today that President Truman would be justified in calling a meeting of the Big Three — the United States, Great Britain and Russia—"because of the dangerous situation abroad."

Suggesting that France and China be invited to sit in on such a session, Pepper said in a transcribed broadcast over Station WPIK here that he referred especially to the "by-passing of the United Nations in considering the present conditions in Greece and Turkey."

The Floridian said he is "grieved" to disagree with President Truman's plan for aiding those countries. The President has suggested loans for them with technical aid also to be provided Greece to help strengthen them against Communism.

"I do not think we should send armies there, though I do hold it proper to send relief and food supplies," Pepper said.

FRANKFURT, MARCH 30-(AP)-GERMAN DOCTORS IN THE FRANKFURT HEALTH DEPARTMENT REPORTED TODAY THAT GERMANS HERE EAT 40 PERCENT MORE THAN THEIR AUTHORIZED RATION, GETTING MOST OF THE EXCESS IN THE BLACK MARKET.

THEIR REPORT TO THE AMERICAN MILITARY GOVERNMENT, MADE PUBLIC BY THE AMG, SAID, "A GERMAN GETS HIS EXTRA FOOD BY VIOLATING LAWS." BUT IT ADDED THAT WITHOUT THE EXTRA FOOD MANY GERMANS WOULD DIE OR SUFFER FROM SEVERE DISEASES BROUGHT ON BY HUNGER.

THE DOCTORS ESTIMATED THE AVERAGE FOOD CONSUMPTION HERE DURING LAST NOVEMBER AT 1,874 CALORIES DAILY, THOUGH ONLY 1,363 CALORIES WERE AVAILABLE THROUGH LEGAL RATIONS. THE STANDARD RATION IN THE UNITED STATES AND BRITISH ZONES IS 1,550 CALORIES, BUT FOOD SUPPLIES OFTEN ARE INSUFFICIENT TO MEET THAT STANDARD.

MACARTHUR PREVIOUSLY HAD DEMANDED DIRECTLY OF THE GOVERNMENT THAT IT DO SOMETHING TANGIBLE TO CORRECT BLACK MARKETS, INFLATION, MALDISTRIBUTION OF FOOD AND LAGGING PRODUCTION.

A STAFF STUDY OF THE INEPT AND SOMETIMES CORRUPT JAPANESE ECONOMY ACCOMPANIED HIS REQUEST TO THE FOUR-POWER COUNCIL. THIS STUDY NOTES THAT "WITHOUT A STABILIZED RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN WAGES AND PRICES IT IS PROBABLE THAT PRESSURE OF WAGE INCREASES TO MEET RISING COSTS OF LIVING MAY RESULT EVENTUALLY IN AN UNCONTROLLED INFLATIONARY SITUATION."

THE SEEDS OF INFLATION WERE PRESENT LONG BEFORE JAPAN SURRENDERED. COMMODITIES WERE SCARCE AND DEMAND HIGH. PAPER MONEY, ALREADY PLENTIFUL, BECAME MORE SO JUST BEFORE THE OCCUPATION, WHEN WAR PLANTS PAID LARGE SEVERANCE BONUSES TO EMPLOYES.

Marshall Hits Reds' Unyielding Stand On German Reparations

WARNS ATTITUDE WILL PROVE BAR TO AN AGREEMENT

Says U. S. Opposes 'Continuing Germany as a Congested Slum.'

BEVIN JOINS ATTACK

Molotov Firm but Expresses Hope Differences Can Be Reconciled.

Wes Gallagher

MOSCOW, March 31. — (AP) Secretary of State Marshall blasted at Russia's uncompromising stand on German reparations tonight and warned that the United States opposes "policies which will continue Germany as a congested slum."

In his bluntest speech to the Council of Foreign Ministers, Marshall said the four powers could never reach agreements "on the basis of an ultimatum." He added that the United States "categorically rejects" the Russian stand that "acceptance of reparations from current production is an absolute condition of economic unity."

Reds Make No Concessions

Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, whose proposals also were attacked by British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, made no concessions on reparations, but expressed hope that differences among the four powers could be reconciled.

In referring to the Potsdam agreement and discussions here on reparations, Marshall told Molotov:

"It looks very much to us as though the Soviet Union is trying to sell the same horse twice."

Molotov replied: "We did not approach this problem of reparations from a point of view of merchants, but we do not want other merchants selling our horse at a low price without our consent."

Molotov made other similarly biting replies to some of Marshall's points, but his general tone was described as mild in comparison with some of his previous speeches.

After Molotov's statement Marshall suggested that the ministers meet tomorrow in "restrict session" and they agreed. Excluded from such a session will be the extra official reporters who brief the press, and the meeting may be presented in much less detail to newsmen.

Marshall Hits French Stand

The American secretary said that France, too, had adopted an immovable attitude and had insisted that her demands for German coal be recognized before the ministers proceeded to other important German questions.

"While we realize that France was not a party to the Potsdam agreement, we cannot accept her request as a condition to our negotiations," Marshall said.

"It is not clear that conflicts inherent in these views can be reconciled, whatever position the United States may take," he continued.

"Unless we have a real meeting of minds and a real desire to carry out both the spirit and the letter of our agreement, it would be better if none were reached."

Bevin disclosed that British and American officials were trying to work out a plan for German coal exports which would meet the wishes of France.

He urged that France no longer make coal guarantees a condition of accepting German economic unity.

He hold the ministers also that "I support France in her claim for the Saar, subject to territorial adjustment and reparation adjustment."

Bevin added that Britain had a "reservation" as to the amount of German territory added to the French economy by the recent economic cordon which the French placed around the Saar, but said "we are prepared to discuss it."

Marshall, in restating the United States policy for a self-supporting German economy, declared:

"The United States is opposed to policies which will continue Germany as a congested slum or an economic poor house in the center of Europe. At the same time, we recognize that Germay must pay reparations to the countries who suffered from its aggression."

Marshall said that the four powers had agreed in principle on many points, including:

1. German resources should be pooled and equitably shared.
2. A German export-import plan should be drafted.
3. Financial reform should be effected.
4. German coal, power and steel should be utilized economically.
5. The German level of industry should be reviewed.

"But we need to reach an agreement on implementing of political and economic unity," he said. "We must agree on the creation of central German agencies and the establishment and scope of the provisional government, on freedom of movement for ideas, persons and goods, breaking down of zonal barriers, on reparations, and on sharing the temporary deficit.

"We must make certain, however, that when we reach agreement, the agreement means the same thing to all of us. We had a paper agreement at Potsdam, but it has only partially been implemented or made effective."

Molotov replied that he could not accept the view that Potsdam was a "paper agreement."

The Russian minister said difficulties "probably will continue" among the four powers, but expressed hope they would be overcome and that Russia's rights "would not be ignored." (A900)

Big 4 Reparation Bid Receives Blunt Reply

Moscow, March 31 (AP)—United States Secretary of State Marshall, in his bluntest speech of the conference, denounced Soviet Russia today for delivering "an ultimatum" to the Foreign Ministers Council. (1 insert)

"Unless we can have a real meeting of minds and a real desire to carry out both the spirit and letter of our agreements it would be better if none were reached," Marshall declared.

DAY

"We can never reach real agreement on the basis of ultimatum or immovable positions," Marshall declared in commenting on the Soviet position that unless Russia received reparations from current German production no settlements could be reached.

Bevin's Unity Proposal

He spoke just after the British had circulated a proposal by Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin to the Council for the unification of Germany by July 1, this year, a unification which he said should be made effective by abolishing all restrictions on movement of goods between the zones.

This proposal, obviously unacceptable to the Russians, provided that before any reparations could be paid the Germans would have to pay back sums advanced for Germany's maintenance by the occupying powers and meet the cost of occupation.

Also Hits French

At the same time that he commented on Russia's stand-pat position, Marshall criticized the French also for adopting the immovable attitude that they must have coal from the Ruhr or they would agree to nothing.

"It is not clear that the conflict inherent in these views can be reconciled, whatever position the United States may take," Marshall said.

"The Soviet delegation has suggested that it will be possible for the French to have their coal and still leave enough coal in Germany to manufacture the reparations the Soviet Government demands," Marshall continued. "We do not agree.

"Serious Proposal?"

"The French delegation believes that after it has obtained the coal it needs from Germany and has limited the German steel capacity to 7,500,000 tons it is still worthwhile to study the question of reparations out of current production. We do not agree."

He charged that the Russian proposal to reduce German imports in order to get repartaions for Russia would reduce German food consumption to a starvation diet of 1,100 calories a day.

"Does the Soviet Government make this proposal seriously?" he asked.

10-Page Document

"The United States is opposed to policies which will continue Germany as a congested slum or an economic poorhouse in the center of Europe."

Bevin's comprehensive 10-page proposal, in the form of an order of the Council, would supplement and where necessary revise the Potsdam Agreement.

However, the proposal, which became available for publication while the Council was still in session, will obviously be unacceptable to the Russians in its main provisions, both economic and political.

Design For Directive

Among other things, it would have the effect of prohibiting immediate reparations from current German production, as the Russians demand, and it calls for a federalized form of government, which the Russians oppose.

The plan was described in its text as a design for a directive to the Allied Control Council in Berlin for the second phase of the occupation.

In addition to calling for Germany to be made self-sufficient, the Bevin plan provides for the repayment of sums advanced to Germany by the controlling powers.

"First Charge" On Reich

"Repayment of sums advanced by the controlling powers on account of import requirements of the population of Germany shall be the first charge on Germany's foreign-exchange resources after her essentials needs have been met," Bevin's proposal set forth.

"The controlling powers will furnish the appropriate German central administration with an agreed statement as of June 30, 1947, of any sums owing to them under this head."

In computing this amount, Bevin said, the controlling powers should give full credit for all exports they had received from current German production, whether taken as reparations or not.

The effect of this provision would be to balance such reparations already taken by the Russians against the cost of occupation.

Would Delay Reparations

The plan provides that until Germany has obtained a balanced economy and paid for the costs of occupation, she shall not be called upon to make any reparations deliveries from current production or stock.

The unification of Germany on July 1 would be accomplished under the plan by removing all restrictions on movements of goods among the zones on that date and by making effective a "common export-import program for Germany as a whole." (insert)

Accord Seems No Nearer

American authorities expressed hope they could keep the conference situation fluid, but added that the next two or three days should tell the tale in that respect.

Meanwhile, it was learned that the United States was completing its statement on the fulfillment of its obligations in China under the Big Three 1945 Moscow agreement. It was understood that it would be sent by Marshall to Molotov in time to meet the April 1 deadline for the exchange of information on China.

Molotov was presumed to be preparing the Soviet reaction.

DeNazification Progress

This exchange of statements, while reluctantly agreed to by Molotov, is obviously unsatisfactory to the Russians and few think the exchange will end the matter here so far as the Soviet Union is concerned. (A90)

Secretary Marshall's Statement to the Big Four Council

MOSCOW, March 31 (AP) — The text of the statement of Secretary of State Marshall to the Council of Foreign Ministers today

There is much that the four of us have agreed is desirable in principle: We agree German resources should be pooled and equitably shared; that there should be an export-import plan; on the necessity for financial reform; that German coal, power and steel should be consumed economically, and that the level of industry plan should be reviewed.

But we need to reach agreement on the implementing of political and economic unity. We must agree on the creation of German central agencies and the establishment and scope of a provisional government, on freedom of movement for ideas, persons and goods, the breaking down of zonal barriers, on reparations and on sharing the temporary deficit.

We must make sure, however, that when we reach an agreement, the agreement means the same thing to all of us. We had a paper agreement at Potsdam, but it has only partially been implemented or made effective. Unless we can have a real meeting of minds and a real desire to carry out both the spirit and letter of our agreements, it were better none were reached. We must not repeat the experience we have had in implementing the terms of the Potsdam agreement. We can never reach real agreement on the basis of an ultimatum or immovable positions.

Rejected "Categorically"

We regret that the Soviet delegation found it necessary to state that the "acceptance of reparations in the form of current production is an absolute condition of economic unity." The Potsdam agreement for economic unity was not conditioned on acceptance of reparations from current production. The United States categorically rejects such a condition. It looks very much to us as though the Soviet Union is trying to sell the same horse twice.

The French delegation also stated that "it cannot agree to any settlement of these three matters [the German questions before the Council] without prior settlement of the question of export of coal in conformity with the demands of the French Government." While we realize that France was not a party to the Potsdam agreement, we cannot accept her request as a condition to our negotiations.

The United States delegation recognizes the need of France for coal and of the Soviet Union for consumer goods. It understands, too, the unwillingness of the British Government to increase the burden upon it of its support of the German people, an unwillingness which the United States shares.

It is not clear that the conflicts inherent in these views can be reconciled, whatever position the United States might take. The Soviet delegation has suggested it will be possible for the French to have their coal and still leave enough coal in Germany to manufacture the reparations the Soviet Government demands. We do not agree.

Disagrees With France

The French delegation believes that, after it has obtained the coal it needs from Germany and has limited the steel capacity of Germany to 7,500,000 tons, it is still worth while to study the question of reparations out of current production. We do not agree.

All Europe needs coal and is depending on increasing quantities for real recovery. We must all recognize that German coal must be equitably apportioned among the needs of Germany itself.

It is suggested that the deficit in the German balance of trade, which the United States and Britain are making good, could be avoided. This could only be accomplished immediately, which is the Soviet proposal, by reducing imports. Since the bulk of German imports are foodstuffs, this action would inevitably reduce German per capita consumption to about 1,100 calories a day, which is inadequate over any considerable period of time to sustain life. Does the Soviet Government make this proposal seriously?

Even at the present time the ration standard in Germany includes only 1,550 calories per day, or 1,000 calories below the rate set in the level-of-industry agreement of March 26, 1946.

The people of Europe lack the elementary necessities of life. This lack can be filled only by production of goods of all kinds. A reasonable increase in the level of industry in Germany will help in time produce more goods. With a four-power treaty, which we have proposed, guaranteeing the continued demilitarization of Germany, a reasonable increase in the level of industry should not endanger European security, but should contribute materially to European recovery.

"Poorhouse" Is Opposed

The United States is opposed to policies which will continue Germany as a congested slum or an economic poorhouse in the center of Europe. At the same time we recognize Germany must pay reparations to countries who suffered from its aggression. Within these limits we want Germany to use its own resources of skilled manpower, energy and industrial capacity to rebuild the network of trade on which European prosperity depends. Ultimately it [the United States] desires to see a peaceful Germany with strong democratic roots take its place in the European and world community of nations.

These are the reasons for the positions taken by the United States on the questions covered in the section of the coordinating committee's report. At a later stage of the agenda the United States will put forward again its proposal for a four-power guarantee of security. And, in connection with its views on increasing the productivity of Europe, it will later indicate how it believes the agricultural resources of the part of Germany placed under Polish administration at Potsdam can be more effectively developed and used to meet the needs of Europe for food.

Statement of U. S. Policy

At this time, however, and on this subject, the United States delegation stands for economic unity, a common plan to balance exports and imports at a livable standard in Germany, an increase in the level-of-industry plan to bring the German productive plant more into line with the requirements of Europe, and, with this, quick completion of reparations so as not to enmesh the powers who deserve reparations in continuous controversies among themselves and with Germany.

Of all these points in the United States proposals, primary emphasis is attached to the treatment of Germany as an economic unit, which was agreed at Potsdam. Our representatives in Berlin have been trying for twenty months to get that agreement implemented. The United States is still trying. It desires the treatment of Germany as an economic unit because it does not wish to see Germany partitioned. If Germany is divided, each half will require strengthening to exist independent of the other. Two strong halves of Germany may then emerge later to be fused into a revitalized and militant Germany.

The permanent partition of Germany is dangerous to the peace of Europe and the world. Moreover, a partitioned Germany means a partitioned Europe. While Germany contains but 65,000,000 of the 350,000,000 people of Europe, they live at its center. The United States wants one Germany because it wants a Europe which is not divided against itself.

Russ Ask Report On Neutral-Held German Gold

Moscow, March 31 (AP)—A. Y. Vishinsky, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, demanded today that the Inter-Allied Reparations Agency report to the Council of Foreign Ministers the amount of German gold found in neutral countries.

Vishinsky told the deputies of press reports that there are seven tons of the metal in Sweden and 50 tons in Switzerland to be added to the 220 tons captured in Germany by the United States.

Vishinsky assailed a statement made Saturday by Jacques L. Rueff, president of the Inter-Allied Reparations Agency, appealing for a speedup in the allocation of reparations to eighteen smaller western countries.

Statement Called Vague

The Russian said the statement, which criticized the lack of deliveries to the small nations by the Big Four from Germany, was vague and that he did not understand it.

He demanded explanations, which Rueff gave at length, and then insisted that they were too vague.

"What about press reports that seven tons of German gold remain in Sweden?" the Soviet deputy asked, "and that 50 tons are in Switzerland?"

Rueff said that he was unable to answer those questions and added that his only information came from American authorities who were expected to allocate to the IARA the 220 tons they captured.

Claims Are Renounced

Rueff explained that the job of finding out what gold is available as German assets in wartime neutrals was up to the tripartite commission of the United States, Britain and France.

The Americans and Russians have renounced any claim to the gold seized in Germany.

Vishinsky said that on Saturday Rueff had given two reasons—one political and the other administrative—why the smaller nations were dissatisfied with reparations deliveries from Germany.

The Russian said the administrative reason was obviously red tape and that he would discuss the political reason tomorrow.

U.S. Army Day Party in Moscow

MOSCOW, March 31 (AP).—Plans for a large party at American House April 12 in celebration of United States Army Week were announced here today, suggesting that the American delegation to the Foreign Ministers' Conference is expected to remain in Moscow at least two weeks more. American House is the hostel occupied by embassy clerks and enlisted men attached to the United States Military and Naval Attaches' offices in Moscow.

Soviet Writer Charges Dollar Woos Turkey

Zaslavsky Calls Denials by U. S. Efforts to Calm War-Alarmed People

MOSCOW, March 31 (AP).—The well known Russian commentator, David Zaslavsky, declared in an article in "Pravda" today that attempts in the United States to deny that President Truman's plans to aid Greece and Turkey are aimed against the Soviet Union and the United Nations are merely efforts to "calm an alarmed American people."

Writing under the heading, "Dollar Fever in Turkey," Mr. Zaslavsky said:

"American journalists want to know the real reasons for announced financial aid to Greece and Turkey. At numerous press conferences in the United States they ask whether or not it means a policy directed against the Soviet Union and the U. N. The official answer to these questions is 'no'—that the loans to Greece and Turkey pursue peaceful aims, that they are not aimed at the Soviet Union and the U.N.

"The gist of these answers is entirely clear. They are but an effort to calm an alarmed American people."

Mr. Zaslavsky asserted, however, that apparently these answers have not proved convincing to the Turkish press.

"The Turkish press," he said, "noisily denies daily everything that is being set forth at official press conferences in the United States. Just listen to the Turkish journalist Yurdoglu. He writes in the paper 'Aksam' that a new war is being prepared with American money. He knows not only the objectives of this war but the strategic plans."

Mr. Zaslavsky then quoted Mr. Yurdoglu as saying that a third world war is inevitable, that it will be waged in the territory of Turkey, Iran and probably Greece, and that American aid to Turkey is a signal to the Turkish people to begin to prepare for this war.

"It is obvious," Mr. Zaslavsky continued, "that the Turkish press has lost its head over the very smell of American money. There is no loan yet, but the Turkish papers have lined up like beggars before a church, stretching out their hands and shouting 'Me, me, me.' Each paper is convinced that the fiercer the call the more dollars will pour into the pockets of Turkish editors, publishers and journalists.

"The psychology of these men is understandable. They consumed German marks during the war, and planned on building their welfare on a victory by Hitler. But this did not happen; Hitler lost, and the Germanophile press in Turkey lost along with it."

Mr. Zaslavsky asserted that "Turkish profiteers o fall kinds are accustomed to enriching themselves on war."

"They want more," he added. They need war. But the Turkish people got neither marks nor pounds. Also they will not get a single cent from the American loan. The dollars will pour into another bed."

Moscow Hears U. S. Better

MOSCOW, March 31 (AP).—The Voice of America radio program, with a new wave length and better program selection, is drawing more Russian listeners. The 25-meter wave length combines to pound into Moscow on relay from Munich as loud as the Moscow radio itself. Any Soviet citizen spinning his short-wave dial—and many have sets—cannot fail to hit upon the broadcast from the United States.

Marriage Ban Explained

Designed to Keep Soviet Troops From Wedding Foreigners

MOSCOW, March 31 (AP).—An informed source said today the recent ban on marriages between Soviet citizens and foreigners was aimed at preventing unions involving Soviet Army officers and soldiers in occupied countries.

The source said approximately 80,000 Soviet soldiers had married or sought to marry foreigners in the occupied countries.

The ban was not directed against the relatively few Soviet women who marry foreigners in Moscow, the source said.

CHURCHILL BACKS ATTLEE IN FIGHT FOR CONSCRIPTION

LONDON, March 31—(AP) Winston Churchill and Prime Minister Attlee lined up on the same side of the fence today in the House of Commons debate on a bill to extend British military conscription through 1954.

Churchill supported Attlee's attempt to quell a revolt in the labor party against the measure, but not without taking some jibes at the position of the majority party leader.

Churchill Backs Attlee

The former prime minister said the conservatives on this occasion "support the government," and added "we even go so far as to compliment them on the courage they have shown in resisting the subversive and degenerate elements in their majority."

Churchill commented that it was ironical that labor leaders who opposed conscription in 1939 should "come forward in time of peace and victory to ask us to support conscription against some other dictatorship which I don't propose this afternoon precisely to define."

He said "we shall support the government against the challenge by the crypto-Communists and pacifists and other trends of left wing opinion which they (the government) have exploited to the full in days gone by and which they now very naturally and healthily resent."

Rhys Davies, leader of the 77 labor members opposing the bill, called for its defeat and attacked Churchill as a man who "has brought more ruin upon this country and Europe than any other statesman of his time."

Ignoring cries of "shame" from conservative benches, Davies asked "who are we going to fight next?"

Laborite Raps U. S.

"Having been recently in America I was amazed at the terrible antagonism to Russia in the U. S. Let me express the hope that this country is not by some secret agreement to be turned into a base for American operations in Europe," Davies said.

He asserted the bill had "political dynamite" for the labor party and commented "if we are going to fight Russia on a manower basis, we are defeated before we start."

Before the debate on the bill opened, Attlee held a closed meeting of labor members of parliament at which he appealed for party solidarity.

Under the bill approximately 200,000 men between 18 and 26 would be called up annually for service in the Army, Navy and Royal Air Force.

CHURCHILL BACKS ATTLEE ON DRAFT

London, March 31 (A. P.).—Winston Churchill tonight threw his support to Prime Minister Attlee, who is fighting a revolt within his own Labor party on the issue of continuing peace-time conscription.

"On this occasion we support the Government," Churchill declared, as leader of the Conservative minority. "We even go so far as to compliment them on the courage they have shown in resisting the subversive and degenerate elements in their majority."

Earlier Attlee had appealed to the Labor members of Parliament at a closed party meeting to support the Government's measure when it is voted upon by the House of Commons tomorrow night.

Seventy-seven Laborites have signed a measure calling for rejection of the bill.

If the bill becomes law, the act will run for five years, 1949-53, after which it may be extended by executive order.

About 200,000 Annually

Under the act, about 200,000 men between 18 and 26, would be called up annually for service in the Army, Navy or Air Force.

Attlee, it was understood, argued with the dissenters at a closed meeting that, in the present state of the world and with Britain's scattered commitments abroad, compulsory enlistment was essential to keep the nation's armed forces up to strength.

The "rebel" opposition is based upon a number of reasons, including pacifism, claims that industry needs more men than the armed forces, that conscription is inconsistent with Labor Party policy, and that the cost of the services is exorbitant.

Churchill Backs League For Independent Europe

LONDON, March 31 (AP).—Winston Churchill, proponent of a United States of Europe, has given his blessing to the newly formed Independent League for European Co-operation, it was announced today.

The disclosure was made in the publication of an exchange of telegrams between Britain's wartime Prime Minister and Paul Van Zeeland, president of the league. Mr. Van Zeeland, former Belgian Premier, now is in the United States discussing league affairs with Adolph A. Berle, former American Under Secretary of State.

"My colleagues of the United Europe Committee and I," Mr. Churchill wired, "congratulate you on the formation of the Independent League for European Co-operation. Your efforts to promote closer European collaboration in the economic and cultural spheres will have our whole-hearted support."

Mr. Van Zeeland replied "we shall warmly welcome the collaboration of your committee in our efforts to secure the acceptance of a truly European solution to the economic and cultural problems of our great continent."

British Open Atomic Secrets To Scientists

London, March 31 (AP)—The British Government opened to scientists today 73 "top secret" reports on atomic-energy research.

The Ministry of Supply said this was in line with similar action by the United States and Canada, and that the information would not disclose the methods adopted in producing atomic bombs.

Several corporations have applied for the reports relating to the basic science of atomic energy which can be applied to industry.

British May Continue Greek Aid Temporarily

London, March 31 (AP)—The deadline marking the end of British aid to Greece passed today with no announcement by the Government of its plans for assistance until United States help may be forthcoming.

Being discussed with the Greek Government, an informed Government source said, is the question of continuing assistance temporarily.

British Firms Buy 49 Former Reich Ships

London, March 31 (AP)—The Ministry of Transport announced today the sale of 49 former German merchan vtessels allocated to Britain by the Inter-Allied Reparation Agency.

The ships were purchased by about 40 shipping firms, which paid a total of $14,107,000.

A condition of the sales was that the vessels must remain under British registry.

British Troopships Now 'Wet'

LONDON, March 31 (AP)—A four-year ban on the sale of alcoholic beverages aboard British troop transports will be lifted tomorrow on vessels based in Britain and on others as "local conditions permit," the Government announced today. British troopships went "dry" early in 1943 to conform with the rule on United States ships.

Britain's Year Ends With Dwindling Deficit

LONDON, March 31 (AP).—Britain's fiscal year ended tonight with the Treasury reporting a deficit of £569,122,597 ($2,276,490,388), which was £371,620,403 ($1,486,481,612) less than estimated by Hugh Dalton, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Commenting that the deficit had dwindled to a "comparatively manageable figure," one informed Whitehall source said:

"We are within reach of a balanced budget for the first time since the war."

STASSEN MEETS MOLOTOV

LONDON, March 31 — (AP) Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota and announced candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, was granted an interview with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov today, the Moscow radio said. Stassen arrived in Moscow several days ago on a tour of Europe.

COPPER, LEAD PRICES INCREASED BY BRITAIN

LONDON, March 31 (AP)—Britain increased copper and lead prices sharply today on the heels of a jump in the price of tin.

High conductivity copper was boosted $40 a ton to $548 by the Ministry of Supply, handler of bulk purchases.

Good soft pig lead (Empire and domestic) was increased $80 a ton to $360. Prices of other types of copper and lead were correspondingly increased.

Tin was advanced Saturday from $1,522 a ton, at which it had stood since last September, to $1,748, highest price in fifty years. The increase was attributed by London financial circles to conclusion of negotiations between the American Reconstruction Finance Corporation and four groups of Bolivian producers.

Under the old contract, the United States had paid 67 cents a pound for tin. It now will pay 76 cents. Britain, which takes the full output of the Patino group in Bolivia, has a war-made agreement to pay the RFC price.

Blow at Viet Nam

French Set Up Own Customs Control In North Indo-China

PARIS, March 31 (AP).—The French set up their own customs control today at Haiphong, principal port of northern Indo-China, in another move toward disfranchising the insurgent but still unreplaced Viet Nam government.

Viet Nam shore batteries fired on French warships in Haiphong Bay last November, after the Viet Namese charged the French were exceeding their rights in boarding incoming ships. The French said the Viet Namese had agreed to joint customs control but backed down because they wanted to smuggle in arms.

De Gaulle Calls Unity France's Biggest Asset

Bruneval, France, March 31 (AP)—Amid cheers of some 40,000 listeners, gathered to see him honor Allied war heroes, Gen. Charles de Gaulle broke a self-imposed silence yesterday in a speech extolling unity as France's greatest asset and assailing "those who are using the Resistance symbol for their own profit."

Arches of triumph had been erected in all the little towns through which De Gaulle passed, and villagers, bearing flowers and shouting "De Gaulle au pouvoir" (to power), lined his route.

While French and British planes droned in the rain overhead, the former resistance leader placed a stone for a monument to British parachute troops who in 1942 attacked and destroyed a German coastal radio station here with the help of resistance workers. He then distributed twelve Liberation Crosses, four of them posthumously, for French resistance workers.

All Ruhr Miners May Strike Over Food Shortage

British Fear Union Chiefs Will Call Out 300,000 in Huge Protest Tomorrow

ESSEN, Germany, March 31 (AP).—British officials said today there was a 50-50 chance that all of the Ruhr's 300,000 coal miners would be ordered by their union leaders Wednesday to strike in protest against food shortage. Union representatives will meet Wednesday at Bochum, the officials said. The strike, if called, would close 170 mines.

Some British informants said privately that a strike of any duration would be "catastrophic" in its effect on the recovery of Europe.

News of the possible strike came as 2,500 men stayed away from the Hansa and Gneisenau mines at Dortmund, and a slowdown was reported at the Bruch Strasse mine in the same area.

An official British announcement said other miners in the Hamborn and Duisburg areas would strike tomorrow and participate in demonstrations in those two cities.

Hamborn and Duisburg miners claimed that the British military government had authorized them to participate in a protest parade, after receiving assurances that the intentions of the miners were peaceful.

Approximately 10,000 persons, including railway and factory employés, paraded through the city of Krefeld on the west bank of the Rhine today in the latest demonstration against the low food ration. No miners were involved, since Krefeld is not a coal city.

A scheduled mass meeting at Cologne was postponed.

In Berlin, RAF Marshal Sir Sholto Douglas, military governor of the British zone, and Maj. Gen. Frank A. Keating, acting military governor of the American zone, said in a joint statement that German officials and German farmers in the Ruhr were responsible for the food shortage.

2,000 Reich Miners Strike Over Food

Essen, Germany, March 31 (AP)—About 2,000 German miners struck today at Dortmund to enforce demands for more food for their families, but 4,000 others returned to four pits that had been closed.

Some 10,000 persons, including railway and wagon factory workers, marched in Krefeld, on the west bank of the Rhine, waving banners protesting food shortages. A similar demonstration was planned later today in the coal center of Duisburg. A protest was canceled at Cologne.

Official figures compiled by the British-operated North German Coal Control Office showed a decrease in Ruhr production during the period of demonstrations, although most miners so far have obeyed union instructions to remain at work.

Figures on Output

The coal output, which reached 238,000 tons March 21, dropped to 231,000 tons March 28, or about the average of late February. Current production may actually be lower because figures had not been compiled for Saturday, when the protest strikes started.

The newest mines struck at Dortmund were the Gneisnau and Hansa.

The 4,000 strikers who returned said they would walk out again tomorrow if their food demands were not met. The miners said their families were getting barely two thirds of the standard 1,550 daily calory ration established in the British and American zones.

The coal production decline came at a time when British and American authorities were striving to increase production by giving miners benefits denied other Germans such as higher food quotas, housing priorities and extra allotments of cigarettes and liquors.

Admits Rations Not Met

William Asbury, British commissioner for the North Rhine-Westphalia area—embracing the Ruhr—yesterday conceded that full food rations had not been met in big Ruhr towns "for some time past."

He said a shipping tieup brought on by last winter's freeze of the Rhine and other waterways had led to depletion of already short reserves.

Meanwhile, German doctors of the health department of Frankfurt in the United States zone reported that rationed food consumed in that city last November averaged only 1,363 calories a day—almost 200 calories under the standard ration. They estimated that actual average daily consumption for the month at 1,874 calories and said the extra calories came mostly from the black market.

Fathered Twins Of Countess, Says Gestapo Chief's Will

Munich, Germany, March 31 (AP). Scar-faced Ernst Kaltenbrunner, dreaded boss of the Gestapo, prepared himself for the gallows by writing a one-page will, it was disclosed today.

Less than a week before an American hangsman fitted the noose around his neck at Nuernberg, two United States Army chaplains witnessed Kaltenbrunner's flamboyant signature on his last testament.

In cold legal language, the Austrian-born war criminal confirmed his fatherhood of twins born out of wedlock to a young German noblewoman before his capture by American counter-intelligence agents in 1945.

She Shows Twins To Callers

Twenty-six-year-old Countess Gisele von Westarp, former Berlin society beauty, smilingly exhibits Kaltenbrunner's declaration of paternity to callers at the squalid little apartment in a Munich suburb where she lives with her two babies on public charity. Flaxen-haired Wolfgang and Ursula, the twins, will be twelve years old next month.

"Yes, I've told them that Dr. Kaltenbrunner is their father," the countess said. "Why not? I loved him."

The countess, whose total income is less than 100 marks ($10) a month as a refugee mother on relief rolls, expressed neither remorse nor complaint over her past.

Met Him At Berlin Party

"I met him (Kaltenbrunner) at a private party in Berlin in 1943 and never wanted to part with him afterward," she said. "He had two characters—the one that belonged to the Gestapo was the one I never met."

A faded snapshot of Kaltenbrunnerg grinning toothily in a garden, is on the countess's mantel.

"I haven't made up my mind yet what profession my son ought to enter," she said in answer to a question.

"But not a policeman. No, not that."

Kaltenbrunner's testament, which Chaplains Henry Gerecke, of St. Louis, Mo., and Sixtus O'Connor, of New York, also signed, made a brief reference to his lawful wife and their three children. It tersely apologized for not having any property left to bequeath his children, legitimate and illegitimate.

McNarney Says Farewell

FRANKFURT AM MAIN, March 31 (AP).—General Joseph T. McNarney urged the German people in a farewell message today to guard the "true democracy" which he said he believes the Germans are on their way to establishing. German leaders saw the general in the office of the American commander, which he recently turned over to Lieutenant General Lucius D. Clay.

DUISBURG, Germany, March 31 (AP).—A motor ferry capsized in the swift current of the Rhine today and ten of the thirty-one persons aboard were believed to have drowned. So far as known, no Allied personnel were involved.

GENERAL TO REMAIN STATE HEAD

Succession Plan Provided In Case Of Death Or Disability

Madrid, March 31 (AP)—Francisco Franco, Spain's chief of state, sent a decree to the Cortes (Parliament) today which, declaring the nation still to be a monarchy, appeared destined to seat another king on the Spanish throne, vacant for sixteen years.

The bill was introduced in the Franco-dominated Cortes on the eve of Spain's "Victory Day," eighth anniversary of the Generalissimo's taking up the reins of government following the capitulation of the Spanish Republican armies in 1939.

Labeled Chief Of State

Entitling Franco "chief of state," the bill would give the holder of that post the right to propose his own successor any time he desired and specified that a "Council of the Kingdom" would advise the chief of state on the succession.

Designed to provide a governmental head for Spain's 26,000,000 population in the event of the chief of state's death or incapacitation, the decree also provided for a council of regency to rule in the interim. The regency would summon the Council of the Kingdom to meet within three days to elect a successor. The Cortes then would have to ratify the council's choice by two-thirds majority vote.

Must Be Catholic

The chief of state, the decree stipulated, must be a king or, in the event there was no person of royal blood who qualified under the law, a regent. The king, under the decree, would have to be Spanish, a male, at least 30 years of age and a Catholic.

Spain's late King, Alfonso XIII, left Spain in 1931, although he never renounced the throne. He died in exile in 1941.

The Council of the Kingdom would have to examine the qualifications of claimants to the Spanish throne. The chief claimant would be Don Juan, Alfonso's son and Crown Prince.

Defends Regime In Speech

Franco, whose regime has been castigated by and barred from participation in the United Nations, made a nation-wide Victory Day radio address after sending the bill to the Cortes and, defending his eight-year regime, declared that the rest of the world had finally joined him in fearing and shunning communism.

The world has been wrong, he declared, in assuming his Government was rightist because Spanish rightists sided with his nationalistic cause rather than with the republicans.

Spain, he said, must increase her wealth and must achieve just distribution of the wealth.

Says Dangers Are Understood

Concerning his anti-communistic stand, he said:

"Our inquietude, not understood yesterday, has been converted into the general inquietude of the responsible men of today.

"They are beginning to understand the dangers which communism brings with it; dangers to the very existence of nations. The idea of putting communism outside the law, an idea which is now going from mouth to mouth and people to people, is a laudable intention, but is of very slight effectiveness."

The law of succession was the first admission ever made by Franco that his Government was a temporary one and that it might be replaced by another form of rule. However, it did not state the tenure of office of the chief of state and presumably would leave Franco in power for life if he so elected.

Criticized By Monarchists

An almost immediate criticism of the proposed law, however, came from a monarchist spokesman who said he anticipated that Don Juan would issue a statement from his home in exile—Estoril, near Lisbon, Portugal—rejecting the decree.

Other supporters of Don Juan interpreted the law as designed to keep Franco in office indefinitely and that it was "unacceptable." An authoritative source said last week, in predicting issuance of the decree, that it would be designed chiefly for its effect on the rest of the world.

On Council Of Kingdom

The Council of Regency would be composed of the President of the Cortes, the Catholic Primate of Spain and the Captain General of the Armies or the ranking lieutenant general.

The Council of the Kingdom would be composed of:

The president of the Cortes.

The Archbishop Primate of Spain (The Archbishop of Toledo).

The supreme chief of the general staff or Spain's ranking lieutenant-general.

The president of the Council of State.

The president of the Supreme Court.

The president of the Spanish Institute.

A delegation of deputies of the Cortes representing syndicates, municipal and provincial governments and professional associations.

Italy would include two other members of Cortes named by the Chief of state.

Don Juan Hears Broadcast

Estoril, Portugal, M[illegible] c[illegible])—Spanish Monarchist le[illegible] in exile said tonight they were studying Generalissimo Francisco Franco's proposed law of succession to the post of chief of state, but did not give an opinion on the chances of the pretender Don Juan's ascending the long vacant Spanish throne.

Don Juan, son of Alfonso XIII, heard Franco's broadcast to the Spanish people while sitting at home with some of his counselors.

Something Crazy Forecast

His secretary told newsmen: "We were expecting something sensational today and this accounts for our sitting down to listen to Franco's broadcast.

"We are now studying the situation and will make a statement within 24 hours."

Although the monarchists claimed they had been advised recently that "something crazy could happen," they appeared astonished at Franco's statement.

"Under the dictatorship supported by the falange anything can happen in Spain, including what was announced today," Don Juan's secretary said.

TEXT OF FRANCO'S DECREE

MADRID, March 31 (AP)—The text of the decree sent to the Spanish Cortes today by Generalissimo Franco:

1947

A Bill on Succession to the Chief of State

The universal conflagration having broken out when our crusade was hardly finished, the threats that circled our country were not ended with the end of the conflict. Since disturbances in the moral order that wars bring with them, and the passions and excesses that are in this way unchained, continue to affect the international order and to provoke attempts at intervention into what is universally recognized as belonging to the private rights of every people.

These circumstances, in so far as they affected Spain, have been delaying the process of constituting and perfecting our state, which still lacks a juridical statute to give a legal basis to the system that is to regulate the succession to the supreme magistracy of the state.

Those attempts at interference in our internal affairs having failed, and passions that were unchained abroad having been appeased, the moment seems to have come when, not paying attention to the outside world, we may continue the institutional work of our regime.

Spaniards' Interests Stressed

The fortunate conjunction of events that raised to the superior direction of the destinies of the Fatherland the chieftain of the crusade, the Generalissimo of the National Armies, is not likely to be repeated, so in the future it must be the laws, which, gathering up the will of Spaniards, secure the future succession to the supreme chieftainship of the nation and give stability, continuity and permanence to the state born of victory, without thus endangering the great and transcendental social work that characterize Spain's renaissance or [without] closing the road to possible and necessary improvements that at the proper time the interest of the nation may demand and the will of Spaniards legalize.

To decide, in view of the complexity of the political life of the peoples, what social imperatives characterize our revolution and what guarantees exist for the success of its Government, there must be gathered up the teaching of our history, adapting traditional Spanish institutions to the present epoch, giving them flexibility and guarantees that assure the stability of institutions, serve the social interests of Spaniards and offer solutions for all cases and vicissitudes that may present themselves to the nation.

Empiric Growth Noted

The respect and consideration due to the thought of different political groups that, making up the national movement, rose up to gain victory, and the instructive experience of Spain's political life in the past century, have been presiding until now over the formation of our state's constituent laws, forming them on a basis of what is common to us and keeping away so far as possible from what might separate us in this respect. Whatever definition might be made outside, the general ideology in which we all are interested, would lack general support and the continuity in time that this important matter demands.

Fatherland is the content, the fact that there is no nullification of the spiritual, patriotic and social principles that [Franco] movement illuminated, without the roads being closed to the possibility that at any conjunction of events the supreme destinies of the Fatherland may be ruled by the person who, faithful to those principles, may count on the greatest guarantees of success and the approval and confidence of all Spaniards, thus saving the human crisis that may be brought about by inheritance and justified deviations of opinion.

What is sought in the present proposal for an institutional law, which is submitted for the study of the Cortes, is permanence of the essences of the movement, legitimacy in the exercise of powers, continuity in social work and service to the will of the nation:

ARTICLE 1

Spain, as a political unity, is a Catholic and social state, which in accordance with its tradition is constituted as a Kingdom. The Head of the State is the chieftain of the crusade and Generalissimo of Armies, Don Francisco Franco y Bahamonde.

ARTICLE 2

A Council of the Kingdom will assist the Chief of State in those matters and those transcendent decisions that are within his exclusive competence and will be presided over by the President of the Cortes and composed of the following members:

The Cardinal Primate, or the Archbishop most outstanding in case the Primacy is vacant or incapable; the general who is head of the High General Staff, or if there is none, the ranking of three generals who are Chiefs of Staff of Land, Air and Sea Forces; the President of the Spanish Institute; one counselor elected by a vote of Cortes Deputies belonging to each of the following groups: syndicates, local administration, presidents of universities, professional associations, and two counselors chosen by the Chief of State from among Deputies he named directly.

In case of death or incapacity of the Chief of State, there will be called to succeed him that person of royal blood with the best right to the position who satisfies the conditions established by law and who, having been proposed by the Council of Kingdom and the Government meeting together, is accepted by at least two-thirds of the Cortes.

In the case that those meeting decide there is no person who fulfills those conditions or if their proposal is not accepted by the Cortes, there may be proposed as a Regent that person who by his capacity, prestige and possible support by the nation is considered the most proper.

ARTICLE 4

To exercise his rights as Chief of State, either as King or Regent, the candidate must be male, have completed 30 years of age, be a Spaniard and a Catholic and swear to the fundamental laws of the nation.

ARTICLE 5

The fundamental laws of the nation are the Spanish Bill of Rights, the Bill of Labor Rights, the law constituting the Cortes, a law of National Referendum, and the present Law of Succession.

To change or substitute the fundamental law hereafter, a favorable vote of an absolute majority of the Cortes and a referendum by the nation will be necessary.

ARTICLE 6

When the office of Chief of State is vacant, his powers will be assumed by the Regency Council, consisting of the President of the Cortes, the Cardinal Primate and the captain general of the land, sea and air forces, or the lieutenant general highest ranking in active service in the same order. Within three days, the Council will call together the Government and the Council of the Kingdom, which, meeting in uninterrupted session, will decide by a two-thirds vote the person who as King or Regent is to be proposed to the Cortes as successor, taking into account the supreme interests of the nation, the state of opinion, possible public support and the circumstances of suitability required by the present law.

The full Cortes will meet within eight days, and when it has approved the choice by a two-thirds vote, the successor will take the oath before the Cortes to the fundamental laws of the state, and the Regency Council will immediately transfer powers to the successor.

If the candidate does not obtain a two-thirds vote, the Council of the Kingdom will meet with the Government and choose a new candidate.

ARTICLE 7

At any time, the Chief of State may propose to the Cortes a person who, fulfilling the conditions that the law establishes, he considers should be called at the proper time to succeed him. Approval of such persons will require the same two-thirds vote specified.

ARTICLE 8

The Council of the Kingdom will be heard by the Chief of State in an advisory capacity in the following cases:

When a matter of returning to the Cortes for a restudy of any law that the Cortes has approved; in declarations of war and peace treaties; when he proposes his successor to the Cortes.

ARTICLE 9

In case of the incapacity of the Chief of State, it is the duty of the Government and the Council of the Kingdom, meeting together, to recognize this situation by a two-thirds vote. The incapacity having been recognized, the Regency Council established in this law will take over the duties of the Chief of State, and the regular procedure will be followed in the choice of a definite successor.

Don Juan Studies New Law

ESTORIL, Portugal, March 31 (AP)—Spanish monarchist leaders in exile said tonight they were studying Generalissimo Franco's proposed law of succession to the post of Chief of State. They did not give an opinion on the changes of the Pretender's ascending the long-vacant Spanish throne.

Don Juan—son of Alfonso XIII, who left Spain in 1931 without having renounced the throne—heard Generalissimo Franco's broadcast to the Spanish people while sitting at home with some counselors.

His secretary told newsmen: "We were expecting something sensational today, and this accounts for our sitting down to listen to Franco's broadcast.

Poletti Denies Claim He Cheered As Mussolini's Aide Was Shot

1947

By Brief

ROME, March 31—(AP) Charles Poletti, former governor of New York and war-time allied military governor of Lombardy, said tonight he witnessed the execution of Achille Starace in Milan, but denied that he commented "okay! okay!" as a partisan firing squad shot the Fascist party secretary.

"I was just one of the spectators," said Poletti. He also denied having expressed approval or disapproval of the execution of Benito Mussolini, whose body was exposed in a Milan square.

Walter Audisio, reputed slayer of Mussolini, told a mass meeting in Rome yesterday that Poletti had commented favorably on both executions.

Saw Starace Executed

"I don't think anybody even knew I was there," said Poletti, who arrived in Milan during the war before allied troops officially entered the city.

He said he learned on April 28, 1945, that Mussolini had just been executed in Dongo, a town near Milan, from "people in the street," and that he and a British colonel drove to Milan's Piazza Loreto.

"We were in the 15th row of spectators when Starace was shot and then we drove away," Poletti said.

He added that he later suggested to Ferruccio Parri, vice-commander of the partisans, that the bodies should be taken down and removed to a morgue and that "he felt the same way."

Poletti Now in Rome

Audisio related that Poletti, then a U. S. Army colonel, saw the bodies of Mussolini and 16 other partisan-executed fascists in the square and said "okay! okay!"

Later, Audisio said, Poletti watched with avowed approval while Starace was shot to death in the square.

Poletti, in Rome on a business trip, said he, too, had become interested in the reported disappearance of part of the treasure confiscated from the top fascists when they were captured. Rightists recently have alleged that Communists never fully accounted for this treasure.

"I assigned two officers to investigate the reported disappearance of some 50 kilos of gold (about 100 pounds, worth $56,000)," Poletti said, "but they were never able to determine anything. People they questioned said the Partisans took it."

DUCE KILLER SAYS POLETTI APPROVED

By Brief

Rome, March 31 (A. P.).—The man who claims to have shot Benito Mussolini says the execution won the approval of Charles Poletti, then the Allied regional commissioner for Lombardy.

Walter Audisio told thousands of Italians at a Communist sponsored meeting here yesterday how he killed the ex-Duce with a sub-machine-gun at Dongo, near the Swiss border, on April 28, 1945. The bodies of Mussolini and sixteen other Fascists were later strung up in a public square in Milan.

1947

Audisio related that Poletti, then a United States Army colonel under orders to set up a military government office in Milan, entered the city ahead of the troops, saw the bodies in the square and said "O. K., O. K." Later, the Italian said, Poletti watched with avowed approval while Achille Starace, former secretary of the party, was shot to death in the square.

Poletti, a former Governor of New York, who is in Italy on private business, denied today that he had either approved or disapproved of the executions. "I could well understand their doing it," Poletti said, but he declared that both the Mussolini and Starace killings had occurred before he took over in Milan and that he had never passed judgment on either.

HEALTH WORK IN CHINA

New Organization Takes Over From UNRRA Today

GENEVA, Switzerland, March 31 (AP)—The interim commission of the World Health Organization will take over, effective tomorrow, the health activities of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration in China.

The Commission also approved today health programs in Austria, Czechoslovakia, Ethiopia, Finland and Greece. Public health projects in White Russia, Korea and the Philippines are under consideration. The Commission's activities in these countries will be financed by a $1,500,000 grant from the UNRRA.

POLES SLASH 5 MILLION OFF RATIONING LISTS

WARSAW, March 31—(AP) The Polish government slashed approximately 5,000,000 persons off rationing lists today in an effort to conserve dwindling food supplies and ward off the threat of even more serious shortages.

The action meant that 25 classes of civil service employes and workers in many industries were deprived of the opportunity to obtain basic foodstuffs on ration cards at low, government-fixed prices. They will have to obtain their food in the open uncontrolled market, where prices are rising steadily.

Those taken off the list of 13,000,000 ration card holders included 100,000 of the militia, 150,000 in the security police, 50,000 university students and all women without children.

The government directed that those losing their cards be paid an equivalent value in zlotys.

Lie Silent on Austin Speech

OSLO, Norway, March 31 (AP)—Trygve Lie, Secretary General of the United Nations, declined to comment today on the speech last Friday by Warren R. Austin at Lake Success, N. Y., in which the American delegate asked the United Nations to recognize the United States' plan to give financial aid to Greece and Turkey. Mr. Lie said he had not seen the text of the speech.

Greek Patriarch To Retire

Istanbul, Turkey, March 31 (AP)—A reliable informant said today Maximos V, although reported recovering from a nervous disorder, would retire with in ten weeks as Patriarch of the Greek Orthodox Church and its 129,000,000 communicants throughout the world.

'U.S. IMPERIALISM' ASSAILED BY TITO

O. Carruthers

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, March 31—(AP) Marshal Tito, in an attack on "Anglo-American imperialism" told the Yugoslav parliament today that Greece had become "one of the bases of imperialistic forces" and charged that Yugoslavia was being "blackmailed" with relief supplies.

The Yugoslav leader declared: "Greece has become one of the bases for imperialistic forces from which peace in the Balkans and the world can be imperilled."

He added that he was obliged to reject all "libels and accusations brought against Yugoslavia as without any basis and with clear intent."

Speaking of UNRRA aid, for which Yugoslavia has petitioned, Tito said:

"It sometimes looks as though we are being blackmailed for help which is given to our people, as in the case of wheat and other things."

The Americans, he continued, "with one word, said we need their help and if we allow them to become our tutors (politically) then they will give us 200,000 tons of wheat. We, comrades, do not want any tutor."

Applause and cheers burst from the parliament at that statement and one member shouted, "down with Anglo-American imperialism."

Tito blamed Richard C. Patterson, former United States Ambassador, and his staff for the bad relations between Yugoslavia and the United States, saying:

"We are constantly asked why our relationship with America isn't better.

Says He "Tried Everything"

"We answer that such bettering of relations doesn't depend on us. We tried everything to better them, but what can we do if the American Embassy, headed by Ambassador Richard C. Patterson, didn't make one gesture to enable an approach to better relations?"

Regarding Yugoslavia's claim to about 1,000 square miles of Austrian Carinthia, Tito said "the question for us will not be liquidated nor taken from our agenda until it is rightfully solved."

It was Tito's first speech in months and Parliament rose and cheered his remarks on Carinthia.

Claims Right To Aid

Speaking of his request for United States food aid, which has been denied, Tito asserted:

"We did, through the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, let the Allies know we were not asking for help on our knees, but we were asking help to which we had a right. If help is given to Germany and Austria and other countries who were in the war against us and the Allies, why can't we have that help?"

He continued:

"Yugoslav foreign policy is for peace with economic and cultural co-operation. We are asking all international conferences for satisfaction of claims on the basis that Yugoslavia suffered the most and gave the most during the war.

Cites Support By Russia

"We have had the greatest support from the Soviet Union and from delegations of other brotherly Slav countries—Poland and Czechoslovakia. With great sorrow, we are convinced that some of our allies in the war, especially England and America, in all possible ways are denying us our rights and are taking a stand that can hardly be called the stand of a friendly country."

"Even though some of our allies wish for various reasons to forgive Austria and Germany part of their reparations, then let them do it at their own expense and not at the expense of a small nation which materially suffered relatively more damage and for that reason can't afford to give up the reparations due her."

He asserted that what he called western reactionaries were libeling Russia by saying she was interfering in small countries of eastern Europe.

Denies Satellite Role

"Yugoslavia is libeled, too, as a simple satellite," he said. "Yes, Yugoslavia and other countries of the East are going together with the Soviet Union because they know she isn't imperilling their independence ... and because they were convinced that, of all big and small allied powers, only the Soviet Union has an understanding of our sufferings and our sacrifices in the mighty war of liberation.

"From the West we always hear about the atomic bomb and threats of war. We see that American imperialists are openly threatening with war countries which won't submit to their financial and imperialistic dictatorship."

Tito said bad relations with Greece were caused by "those who forced themselves as holders of authority upon the Greek people."

Blocs Termed War Threat

"Reactionaries in the West are speaking of two blocs—West and East—and the ones who wish war speak of that," he said. "If these assertions become true, then the danger of war will be permanent because the blocs contain in themselves such dangers.

"But today we must work with all our might on the hope that these wishes of all reactionaries and warmongers don't come true."

Tito said two "fronts" existed in the world, one with what he said was a small but dangerous number of "imperialists and warmongers," and the other with the great bulk of the people and all the countries which wanted peace.

"To the latter front belongs the unbeatable Soviet Union, the new Yugoslavia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Bulgaria, Albania, the Democratic forces of Greece and Hungary, the big majority of the people in America, England, France and Italy and all others not only in Europe but in the whole world."

Greek Farmer Denies Refugees Are Trained at Yugoslav Camp

BELGRADE, March 31 (AP).—A twenty-eight-year-old Greek farmer told the United Nations Balkan inquiry commission today that there was no "political or military training" in the Bulkjes camp, and that the Greeks should be "eternally grateful" for the refuge there offered by Yugoslavia.

The Greek government has charged that guerrillas were trained at the camp near Belgrade for fighting in northern Greece.

Kostudis Evangelos, the young farmer, known also as "Captain Alexis," said refugee Greeks at Bulkjes "worked in the fields and earned a living." He said the Yugoslavs gave them a chance to live in "a village of true democracy."

He said he had heard through newspaper and radio reports the names of several persons who testified they had received training in Bulkjes, but he did not know them personally. He said also he had no knowledge of the existence of a military manual at the camp.

He said he left his home in Serres and crossed into Bulgaria in July, 1945, then went to Bulkjes, where he has remained since.

Warning to U. S. Reported

LONDON, March 31 (AP).—The Tass (Soviet) News Agency reported from Sofia today that "General Markos," legendary Greek guerrilla leader, had told two newspaper men at a meeting in western Macedonia that "the Americans had better not come here."

Tass asserted Markos made the statement during an interview with a French journalist named Rigal and another unidentified correspondent who accompanied the Soviet and Polish representatives of the United Nations Investigating commission to guerrilla headquarters on March 20.

The correspondents, Tass said, asked Markos what methods he advocated for solving the Greek problem. Markos was quoted as referring the journalists to the EAM (National Liberation Front) program and commenting: "The first condition is that the British evacuate Greece and that the Americans had better not come here."

JEWS MUST PAY FOR HAIFA FIRE LOSS, SAY BRITISH

C. J. Davidson

JERUSALEM, March 31—(AP) A government representative asserted tonight that Palestine Jews will be made to pay for the destruction at the Haifa oil docks, where flames still crackled 18 hours after an explosion that set off the worst fire in the port city's history.

An official information officer, who had spent hours in conference with high Palestine government leaders, told a news conference:

"For this act of wanton destruction, the community involved will have to pay. This is terrorism pure and simple as we have known it before, but in this case the community is going to have to bear the cost."

4 Millions

Technicians at the oil installations estimated the damage at $4,000,000. Early unofficial estimates had run as high as $16,000,000.

The blasts which set off the fire were attributed generally to Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish underground organization which has admitted two previous attacks on Haifa oil installations in the past two weeks, both minor in nature.

The government representative, pressed as to whether the British-administered mandate government planned to levy a special tax against Holy Land Jewry, replied:

"I cannot say at this time what course of action will be taken."

He said it was the first time such a statement had been made in regard to destruction by terrorists and added:

"I can only say that in this case the community involved will have to pay the costs. You can put what interpretation you like on that. I can give you no further guidance."

As the fires continued to burn, the last of 1,570 Jews taken off the refugee vessel San Filipo were placed on board the deportation ships Ocean Vigor and Empire Rival in Haifa Harbor and started on their trip to detention camps on Cyprus.

Some of the refugees refused to leave their tiny ship, which had passenger accommodations for only 30, and the British threw tear gas into their tanks in order to subdue them. The ship, renamed the Moledeth (Fatherland) by the refugees, had been in danger of sinking when the British intercepted it.

3-Hour Protest Strike

A three-hour strike by Haifa Jews protesting the deportation went virtually unnoticed because the British clamped a five-hour curfew on the city's 80,000 Jews during the strike call.

Thick black smoke from the fire at Shell Oil Co. installations was still rising over Haifa at dusk, enveloping the streets in a murky gloom. Lower Haifa, including the dock area, was freckled with soot stains.

The explosions and fire struck a blow at military motor fuel supplies as well as wrecking large installations used to store oil for shipment to England. Civilian motor fuel supplies for Palestine were also hard hit, company officials said.

A government spokesman said the Shell Oil Company suffered the major loss, and that there would be no covering insurance since the attack "probably comes under the act of war category."

Haifa Oil Fire Loss Set At 4 Millions

C. J. Davidson

Jerusalem, March 31 (AP)—Black smoke towered thousands of feet over Haifa today from oil fires set by explosions last night while the British were rescuing 1,570 Jewish refugees from a rotten, foundering schooner built 70 years ago.

Company technicians estimated damage at around $4,000,000, but said the fires in the oil installations along the Haifa water front might continue several days. Earlier unofficial estimates were that the damage might approximate $16,000,000.

Shell Claims Loss Of Million

Near-by buildings were damaged severely. The Shell Oil Company alone said its loss was $1,000,000. The underground Irgun Zvai Leumi had claimed responsibility for sabotaging the oil installations previously.

The fires, raging for a quarter mile of docks, were described by British authorities as "the biggest ever in Haifa." Eight storage tanks were demolished and six others were burning out. An official statement said the entire harbor area was "blackened by smoke from a blazing mixture of kerosene and fuel oil and at noon smoke still rising was darkening the city."

The unauthorized Jewish immigrants saved from the 700-ton schooner San Filippe were being transferred to the British transports for removal to detention camps on Cyprus.

30,000 Under Technical Arrest

Some 30,000 Jews in Haifa were placed under technical house arrest at 7 A.M., but the curfew was lifted at noon.

The fire was the second in four days at the Haifa terminus of the Iraq Petroleum Company's 800-mile pipeline. Most of the destroyed tanks were of 9,000-ton capacity. The fire burned about two miles from the business district. Arab buildings and shops were destroyed and a power line was burned down. A British communiqué said two simlutaneous explosions under two pipelines started the blazes.

New Appeal For Gruner

Mayor Israel Rokach of Tel Aviv filed today with the Palestine Supreme Court an appeal from the death sentence imposed upon Dov Bela Gruner, 33-year-old Jew convicted of anti-British violence.

The appeal, filed by Rokach on behalf of the Jewish community, maintained that the death sentence violated the terms of the mandate under which Britain administers Palestine and asked for an order directing the Birtish military commander to show cause why the sentence should be carried out.

Hearing on the petition was scheduled for tomorrow.

Police Inspector Dies

British casualties resulting from the Holy Land strife rose, meanwhile, with the death of a police inspector shot from ambush near the Ramle military cantonment Saturday. The British Army said he was riding horseback with two other persons when Jews opened fire, killing an army officer on the spot.

An official announcement today also reported that a British police constable had been shot to death in Haifa by the accidental discharge of a Bren gun on a passing armored car shortly before the oil fire broke out.

Cities of Egyptian Delta Free of British Troops

CAIRO, March 31 (AP).—King Farouk hoisted the Egyptian flag today over the Kasr el Nil barracks here, which had been occupied by the British Army since 1882, marking the total evacuation of British forces from the cities in the Egyptian delta to the Suez Canal zone.

Premier Nokrashy Pasha and high-ranking Egyptian Army officers attended the ceremony, which was witnessed by thousands of Egyptians. No representatives of Great Britain were present.

Iran Executes Three Rebels

TEHRAN, March 31 (AP).—Ghazi Mohammed, president of the outlawed "Kurdish people's Republic," his brother, Sadr Ghazi, an Iranian Parliament deputy who assisted Ghazi, and Seif Ghazi, their cousin and the "Republic's" War Minister, all were executed at Mehabad today, the Iranian Army chief of staff announced. The trio was sentenced to death on an. 6 by a military court.

Chinese Report Capture Of 2 Communist Towns

Peiping, March 31 (AP)—Field dispatches reported today that Government troops had scored victories on two major battle fronts, capturing Taian, in coastal Shantung province, and Paoan, in the rugged Communist country of northwest China.

Taian is a rail town 33 miles south of Tsinan, provincial capital of Shantung. Nationalist forces were also reported to have gained complete control of a triangular area formed by the towns of Feihsien, Szeshut and Tenghsien, in southern Shantung.

[Associated Press dispatches from Tsingtao said foreign observers considered as exaggerated reports from Government quarters that the Communists were massing 60,000 troops in preparation for an assault on that Shantung port city.]

Red Headquarters Taken

Government forces in Shensi province, pushing out from Yenan, fallen Red capital, announced the capture of Paoan, 42 miles northwest of Yenan. Paoan was the first headquarters established by the Reds after their long march to Shensi.

The whereabouts of Communist leaders who fled Yenan provided the subject for countless rumors. One report said Mao Tse-tung, Red chief, was in Sinhsien, in Shansi province, which adjoins Shensi. Another rumor, on the highly improbable side, had Mao in Vladivostok with Gen. Chou En-lai, No. 2 Communist.

The fact remains that twelve days after the fall of Yenan, nothing definite is known about the whereabouts of Communist leaders or the main body of the Red troops who retreated from Yenan. The only information from the Communists themselves was a broadcast assertion that all leaders and organizations escaped Yenan.

Navy Sentry Kills Chinese Woman

Tsingtao, China, March 31 (AP)—The provost marshall's office said today that a Chinese woman who had illegally entered a United States Navy compound was mortally wounded by an American sentry last Monday.

The provost marshal's statement said the sentry called out in Chinese, ordering the woman to halt. she ignored this as well as a warning shot, the statement said, and the sentry fired to cripple her. The bullet went through her chest, and she died in a hospital.

The sentry was confined to his barracks pending investigation of the incident.

BOMBAY RIOTING CONTINUES; POLICE MAP STRICT CURBS

BOMBAY, March 31 (AP)—Sporadic rioting between Hindus and Moslems caused at least seven more deaths in Bombay today, boosted the city's two-day toll of 47 and raised the possibility of house arrest for all persons in the troubled areas.

Ten persons were killed and 74 were injured in outbreaks during the last 20 hours in Calcutta and nearby Howrah. Bengal Chief Minister H. S. Suhrawardy set up a 14-man all-party committee "to consider the situation in Calcutta as it develops day to day and advise the government in regard to steps to be taken."

50 Killed In Calcutta

More than 50 persons were killed in Calcutta during a five-day period ending yesterday.

Bombay Police Commissioner A. E. Caffin said in a communique that the city would be placed under a 24-hour curfew, barring persons from the streets in the troubled area, unless there was an immediate "distinct" improvement.

Another communique, issued by the Bombay provincial information director, said that mobs burned four persons to death yesterday in a horse-drawn victoria carriage which was set afire.

British troops joined police in patrolling streets here, and a noon announcement said that conditions were under control, although tension continued high.

Fires Break Out

Considerable tension also gripped Calcutta, despite action by troops and police. Hindus and Moslems clashed repeatedly at Howrah, across the river from Calcutta, where 12 new cases of arson were reported.

Meanwhile, Mohandas K. Gandhi, spiritual leader of the predominantly Hindu Congress Party, conferred in New Delhi with the new viceroy, Lord Mountbatten, on the question of Indian independence. The talks will be continued tomorrow.

Gandhi declined to comment on the meeting. An official British statement said Mountbatten hoped to confer "toward the end of the week" with M. A. Jinnah, president of the Moslem League.

Bombay Riot Dead Now Total 42

Bombay, March 31 (AP)—A communiqué said today that in rioting between Hindus and Moslems four persons were burned to death yesterday in a horse-drawn Victoria carriage which was set ablaze.

The dead were among the 42 killed here, and 144 others were injured. Nine persons were killed and 50 wounded in similar disturbances in Calcutta and Cawnpore.

The communiqué, from the Bombay provincial information director, said four persons managed to escape from another carriage which rioters burned.

Police Commander A. E. Caffin threatened to place Bombay under a 24-hour curfew, barring all persons from streets in the trouble areas, unless there was a "distinct improvement" in the riot situation. He threatened also to impose heavy collective fines on trouble areas.

A noon communiqué said authorities had conditions under control although tension continued in the areas where yesterday's outbreaks occurred. Troops were placed at strategic points.

Most of the Bombay casualties were recorded yesterday, 40 being killed and 137 wounded during disorders which were quelled only after police fired repeatedly into rioting mobs. One of the two men killed today was burned to death when a crowd set his home afire.

British troops joined police in patrolling the streets today, and public gatherings of more than four persons were prohibited.

Rumors spread throughout the city as to the cause of the disorders, which resulted in gang fights, stabbings and arson, including the firing of a cotton mill.

Fighting was the heaviest in areas where Hindu and Moslem districts converged and in sections of mixed population. Fisticuffs and the hurling of bottles added to the confusion.

A Government communiqué said that in Calcutta five persons were killed yesterday, some of them by police fire, and 42 wounded. Ten arson cases were reported during the day. More than 50 persons have been killed and over 400 wounded in Calcutta since the clashes began Wednesday. Transportation is at a virtual standstill.

Japs Flee Dutch Prison

Batavia, March 31 (AP)—A manhunt was under way today for Japanese war-crimes suspects who escaped from Tjipinang prison near Batavia last week after a gun battle which, the Dutch press said, resulted in the death of one guard, the wounding of two others and the killing of several Japanese.

Japanese House Of Peers Dies

Tokyo, March 31 (AP) — Japan's House of Peers formally died tonight after a half century of aristocratic approval of Japanese imperialism.

Adjournment of the ninety-second regular Diet session—last under the Nineteenth Century constitution—ended the life of the House of Peers. Under the new constitution, effective May 3, it will be replaced by a house of councillors whose 300 members will be elected April 20.

The once-powerful Privy Council, last political adjunct of the imperial court, emerged briefly from obscurity to make into law revisions in election procedures. The Privy Council also will be abolished by the new constitution. It formerly served as the emperor's highest political body, charged with final decisions on matters of major policy.

Members of the House of Representatives prepared to return to their constituencies for their second election campaign in two years. Many face tough battles in the April 25 balloting, including some of the 38 women who served in this first post-surrender lower house.

During its past 46-day session, the Diet spent 40 days mainly in political battles. In the last four days the Diet quickened its pace. In all, 94 bills were passed, including a budget totaling 114,500,000,000 yen.

McArthur Denies Spanish Quotation

Tokyo, March 31 (A. P.).—Gen. MacArthur, reading a Madrid dispatch today in which he was quoted as calling Spain "the only bulwark against Communism in Europe," seized a pencil and wrote across the bottom of the copy:

"The quotation is incorrect—possibly due to language difficulties."

He did not elaborate.

Jap Gem Cache Charge Debunked

Tokyo, March 31 (AP)—An assertion by a member of the Diet that deposit boxes of the Bank of Japan held 20,000,000,000 yen worth of unregistered diamonds proved today to be without foundation, Allied headquarters said.

Except for securities and bonds, headquarters announced there was no trace of diamonds when the boxes were opened in the presence of Allied representatives, bank officials and the executor of the Japan Trade Corporation.

Diet Member Zinzo Inamura made the charge that a rich store of unlisted industrial diamonds were in the bank.

Prince Passes Driving Test

Tokyo, Tuesday, April 1 (AP)—Prince Mikasa, brother of the Emperor, took and passed a driver's license test today, explaining: "In these modern times it is a step toward becoming a full-fledged man."

'Horror Ship' Yanks' Bodies Identified

Yokohama, March 31 (AP)—The prosecution in the trial of nine Japanese charged with responsibility for the hellship deaths of 1,300 Allied prisoners today established identification of the bodies of Americans beheaded in the Philippines during the journey of horror to Japan.

The prosecution introduced reports from the Army's Graves Registration Service which stated that the bodies of eighteen American prisoners were recovered from a shallow grave in a cemetery at San Fernando, P.I. Seven were identified as the bodies of members of a group of sick men taken from the area where hundreds of men from the prison ship Oryoko Maru were quartered.

Pearl Shipping To Resume

Yokohama, March 31 (AP)—Nineteen cases containing 8,161 strands of pearls, the first postwar shipment from Japan, will be taken to the United States aboard the Flying Arrow, due to sail about April 15.

Philippine Guerrillas Lose U.S. Recognition

Manila, March 31 (AP)—Maj. Gen. George F. Moore, chief of the Philippines-Ryukyus command, today announced withdrawal of United States Army recognition of one of the largest guerrilla organizations in the Philippines as a legitimate wartime underground force.

The group, the so-called Blue Eagle Brigade, had a reported strength of 6,000 men, but failed to prove it really contributed to the war effort, the Army said.

Army recognition entitles guerrillas to back pay and other benefits.

Pilfering Plagues Army In Philippines

Manila, March 31 (AP)—A campaign to halt pilferage at United States military depots in the Philippines has held top priority in planning at Philippines-Ryukyus command headquarters for the last two months, Maj. Gen. George F. Moore said today.

Investigators have reported that black marketeers and rings of pilferers operating with the aid of persons inside have looted depots of millions of dollars worth of material.

Moore, new commanding general of the Philippines-Ryukyus command, disclosed that Allied headquarters at Tokyo has taken an interest in the situation. He said reports indicated "some improvement" in the last week. Military investigating agencies have been strengthened to cope with the pilfering.

on a matter of "substance" requires unanimity among the big powers, which enables any one of them to exercise a veto.

Under the Vandenberg plan, the United States would in effect signify its willingness to abide by the decision of the majority, even if it disagreed with the decision.

Conversely, however, any critic of the American program would have to muster a majority to stop it. If the United States had sought to persuade the United Nations itself to carry out the program of aid to Greece or Turkey, Russia or any other single big power could senting a majority of the people of either such nation.

2. "If the President finds that the purposes of the act have been substantially accomplished or are incapable of satisfactory accomplishment."

Vandenberg told the Senate that if his amendment is adopted "there can be no further remote suggestion of any violence of the autonomy" — or self-government — of Greece and Turkey, on the one hand, or of the authority of the UN on the other.

Before the House Foreign Affairs Committee, Rep. Crawford (R-Mich.) urged blunt, unmistakeab must be free and the masters of their government.

Vandenberg Urges U.S. To Give U.N. Veto Over Aid to Greece, Turkey

Proposes Body Be Given Power to Halt U. S. Plan by Majority Vote.

WASHINGTON, March 31—(AP) To meet criticism that the United States is bypassing the United Nations, Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) proposed today to give the UN power to halt the American plan to bolster Greece and Turkey against Communism.

Vandenberg, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, suggested that his proposal be written into pending legislation to give $400,000,000 aid to Greece and Turkey.

Under the plan, the UN could veto the American aid either by (1) a "procedural vote in the security council" or (2) by "a majority vote in the general assembly of the United Nations."

Seven of the 11 members of the security council are needed for a "procedural" decision. Twenty-eight out of 55 are required for a general assembly majority.

U. S. Would Veto Power

In effect, under the Vandenberg proposal, the United States would give up its power to veto any move to halt its Greek-Turkish program. A decision in the security council have balked it with a veto.

Not to Ignore UN

Vandenberg told newsmen he offered his amendment "to make it plain that we propose to operate clearly within the spirit of the United Nations."

In response to a question, he said it is not designed as a wedge in an effort to eliminate the security council veto in other matters.

"It is neither sinister nor prophetic," he said.

Vandenberg said he has been "disturbed" by criticism that the Greek-Turkey aid proposal bypasses the UN.

"I don't think it does," he said. "I think the worst thing that could happen to the UN would be to call upon it to assume a responsibility it was neither intended nor organized to carry out."

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told reporters he approves Vandenberg's amendment, and Senator George (D-Ga.) called it "a step in the right direction."

Testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Vandenberg also proposed that the President be "directed" to withdraw any or all aid to Greece and Turkey under two additional circumstances:

Other Proposed Curbs

1. "If requested by any government of Greece or Turkey repre-

action in dealing with the U.S.S.R.

The United States, he said, should tell the Russians they must disarm or this country will unleash its atomic bombs and economic power against them.

Such a course would mean war if Russia balked, he conceded, but he said that if war comes "Russia will get licked."

Crawford declared American spokesmen should "shove their chins right up against the chins of Mr. Molotov, Mr. Stalin and Mr. Vishinski" and "shove their stomachs right up against the stomachs of these gentlemen, physically, and say this is our program."

"Tell them either to disarm or we will proceed."

Would Create Commission

Among other developments:

1. Senator Murray (D-Mont.) proposed a six-man congressional committee to keep an eye on relief operations and future needs in Greece and Turkey. He also urged the appointment of an administrator, an economic mission for each country, and a requirement that in applying for aid the hard-pressed countries pledge themselves to observe all terms of the relief act.

2. Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) proposed an amendment to bar any aid which would (A) promote the continuance or expansion of any totalitarian purpose or goal, and (B) reject the credo that individuals have inalienable rights and receiving our aid while shooting and killing American personnel."

Fish Raps Greek Plan

3. Hamilton Fish, former Republican representative from New York, criticized Mr. Truman's plan as "a dangerous departure from our traditional foreign policy" and declared that it "in effect sabotages the Monroe doctrine."

Fish told the House Foreign Affairs Committee that if the United States "intervenes" in Europe, it will invite similar intervention in the western hemisphere.

"The doctrine of Monroe kept European empires from the young republics of South America for 124 years," Fish said. "The doctrine of Truman puts the American empire on the shores of the Mediterranean in a single day.

"If this policy of global imperialism is consummated, the doctrine of Monroe is dead."

Fish said he does not believe Russia wants war now, that the Soviets are unprepared and have no atomic bombs. He predicted that America is safe from Russian attack for another five years, but Russia will use the bomb "when she gets it and is ready to use it."

Urges Amendment to Bill Making Truman Subject to Agency's Vote.

GEORGE ALSO FOR U. N. ACTION

Crawford and Judd Want U. S. to Order Russia to Disarm Even if It Means War.

Washington, March 31 (A. P.).—Senator Vandenberg (R.-Mich.) proposed today to give the United Nations power, by majority vote, to halt any American aid Congress approves for Greece and Turkey.

At hearings by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on legislation to authorize $400,000,000 of aid, he suggested writing in an amendment under which President Truman would be required to halt the aid when and if the United Nations directed him to.

Suggested Amendment.

His suggested amendment reads:

"The President is directed to withdraw any or all aid authorized herein under any of the following circumstances:

"1. If requested by any Government of Greece or Turkey representing a majority of the people of either such nation;

"2 If requested by a procedural vote in the Security Council or a majority vote in the General Assembly of the United Nations;

"3. If the President finds that the purposes of the act have been substantially accomplished or are incapable of satisfactory accomplishment."

Lodge Proposes Restrictions.

Vandenberg later told the Senate that if his amendment is adopted "there can be no further remote suggestion of any violation of the autonomy" of Greece and Turkey on the one hand, or of the authority of the United Nations on the other.

Senator Lodge (R.-Mass.) offered an amendment which would bar any aid under the bill "which shall have the object (A) of promoting the continuance or expansion of any totalitarian purpose or goal, whether communistic or fascistic; or (B) of rejecting the proposition that individuals have inalienable rights and must be both free and the masters of their Government."

In a statement Lodge said his amendment would make "it crystal clear that the aid provided in this bill will not be used to promote ideologies which are hateful to us."

George Calls It Job for U. N.

At the Senate group's hearings, Senator George (D.-Ga.), protested that the whole Greek-Turkish problem should have been put before the United Nations long ago. He told other committee members that he agreed with testimony of Dr. Frank Kingdon, chairman of the Progressive Citizens of America, that the needs of Greece and Turkey must have been known for a long time

"This whole problem could, by timely action and a dismissal of dramatics, have been carried to the United Nations," George declared. "If we had received a 'no' answer there then we could have acted individually with full justification."

George added that he sees no reason why American help couldn't be delayed a month or two while the U. N. is consulted.

"We're not proposing to put troops in there," he commented.

Witnesses in Opposition.

Other witnesses before the Senate committee today included:

Russell Smith, legislative representative of the National Farmers Union. He said his organization "opposes very vigorously" any military aid to Greece and Turkey, but would approve relief.

Donald Cloward, appearing for the Council of Christian Social Progress, Northern Baptist Convention. He said Congress should not act on the program until other nations' representatives to the U. N. have reported their Governments' reactions to the U. N. report made by Warren R. Austin.

"Let us not take upon ourselves the task of policing the world against Communism," Cloward urged. "Let us turn to the United Nations."

George Pirinsky, secretary of the National Committee of Macedonian American Peoples League, said it was "preposterous to maintain that the peace and security of these great United States depend upon the existence and stability of a decadent Greek monarchy and the remnants of the old Ottoman empire." He urged that no loans be granted "to the anti-democratic Governments of Greece and Turkey."

Charles F. Boss Jr., executive secretary of the Commission on World Peace of the Methodist Church, said his organization opposes the "use of relief funds and the making of loans for the purpose of political war against the Soviet Union, in Greece, Turkey and the Near East, or for supervised training of armed forces in Greece and Turkey."

Senator Murray (D.-Mont.) proposed the creation of a joint congressional committee to keep an eye on relief operations and future needs in Greece and Turkey. The committee, three members from each House, would visit countries receiving aid at least twice a year and report to Congress on progress.

Crawford Would Warn Russia.

Across the Capitol, the House Foreign Affairs Committee proceeded with separate hearings. Among others, it heard Representative Crawford (R.-Mich.) declare that the United States should tell the Russians they must disarm or this country will use her atomic bombs and economic power against them, and heard Hamilton Fish, former Republican member of Congress from New York, contend that if the United States intervenes in Europe it will invite similar intervention in the American hemisphere.

Fish said President Truman's plan to assist Greece and Turkey is "a dangerous departure from our traditional foreign policy and in effect sabotages the Monroe Doctrine."

"The doctrine of Monroe," Fish said, "kept European empires from the young republics of South America for 124 years. The doctrine of Truman puts the American empire on the shores of the Mediterranean in a single day.

"By economic and military intervention in Europe and elsewhere we invite similar intervention in the American hemisphere. If this policy of global imperialism is consummated, the doctrine of Monroe is dead."

Must Face Reality, Fish Says.

Fish said that few will disagree with the goal of stopping Communism throughout the world but that it should be stopped first here at home. He said war with Russia over control of the Mediterranean is not inevitable. But he said if America is to go in for global imperialism it should face realities.

"Why not ask Congress," he asked, "to declare war on the Soviet at once?"

Fish said that because of his provided the program is definitely divorced from military intervention."

He proposed amendments to "demilitarize" the aid bill. These would limit military and naval missions to fifty officers in Greece and Turkey and forbid their use with active combat troops.

Admits It Would Mean War.

Crawford conceded that the course he advocated would mean war if Russia defied America, but he said that if war came Russia would "get licked."

30.24-8867

The Michigan Representative said the people of the United States "have the power to disarm the world" and should start with Russia.

"Take our spokesmen," he said, "and tell them to shove their chins right up against the chins of Mr. Molotov, Mr. Stalin and Mr. Vishinski. Tell them to shove their stomachs right up against the stomachs of these gentlemen, physically, and say this is our program.

"Tell them either to disarm or we will proceed."

Judd Sees Surrender or War.

Representative Judd (R.-Minn.) said he went along with Crawford "100 per cent" on compelling Russia to disarm. He sized things up this way:

"We face only two choices—either abject surrender or war. And we are Anglo-Saxons. We won't surrender.

"In my district the motto is: If we're going to have to do it, why not now?"

But he suggested modification of the United Nations Charter first to try to stop "these aggressors by infiltration."

"Then if we get no place," Judd said, "we've got the atom bomb."

Only Security Council Needed

Under the Charter the Security Council has the power to act only in situations or disputes which endanger the peace or threaten to cause international friction. The Vandenberg amendment, however, would eliminate the necessity of a complaint or of proof that peace was threatened.

Any member could offer a simple resolution proposing that the American aid program be terminated. If this proposal received seven of the Council's eleven votes, the United States would be obliged to end the program.

Under the Vandenberg proposal the President is directed to withdraw the aid to the two countries "if requested by a procedural vote in the Security Council or a majority vote in the General Assembly."

One of the key phrases in this clause is "by procedural vote." Under the Charter, the Big Power veto does not apply on procedural votes but is restricted to votes on questions of substance. This means that the United States would not consider the veto applicable.

Might Raise Legal Question

United Nations officials said this might raise a legal question, since the Council itself has exclusive power to decide whether questions are matters of procedure or of substance. It was not known, however, whether any delegate would be willing to challenge the United States position.

Since the vote would apply only to the question of terminating the American aid program, it was regarded as highly improbable that Russia would ever seek to block such a move. On the other hand, it appeared more likely that, if any such proposal came before the Council, Russia probably would be one of its sponsors.

In any event, even if the veto was used, the United States would be on record as having declared in advance that she would disregard it.

U.N. Reaction To Vandenberg

Lake Success, N.Y., March 31 (AP). United Nations officials said tonight that Senator Vandenberg's proposal to give the United Nations power to determine American aid to Greece and Turkey goes far beyond the obligations laid down in the Charter.

The amendment, United Nations officials said, would have these primary effects:

1. It would recognize the right of the Security Council to act in the case even though there was no complaint charging that the situation "endangered international peace and security."

2. It would obligate the United States to give up its own Big Power veto rights on this particular question and to ignore the veto of any other power.

Would Bind The United States

3. It would bind the United States to accept a decision of the General Assembly, even though the Assembly has no power under the Charter except to make recommendations.

4. It would pledge the United States to act on a majority vote of the Assembly instead of the usual two-thirds majority required on major questions.

WARTIME DRAFT COMES TO CLOSE

Hershey Nominated To Head Unit Succeeding It

Washington, March 31 (AP)—President Truman today signed legislation setting up the Office of Selective Service Records and nominated Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey to head the new agency.

The office will handle the bookkeeping job of liquidating the wartime draft system. It will have no authority to draft selective service registrants because the draft law expires tonight at midnight.

Hershey has been director of selective service. His nomination for the new office was sent to the Senate today by the President. The new post pays $10,000 a year.

The selective service system inducted 10,022,367 men from 1940 until last October, when inductions halted.

20,000 Men Expected

Maj. Gen. Willard S. Paul, chief of army personnel, reported today the recruiting program is continuing at a fairly satisfactory level. On the basis of the first three weeks in March, that month will bring in about 20,000 men. About three quarters of them are three-year enlistment men instead of the high percentage of short-enlistment men who signed up immediately after the war.

While the 20,000 figure is below the hoped-for 30,000 monthly average, Paul said the fact that the majority are long-term enlistments compensates.

FBI To Continue Probes

J. Edgar Hoover said the FBI will continue to investigate all cases of willful violations of selective service regulations during the law's lifetime.

Since 1940 the FBI has conducted 598,506 such investigations. Prosecutions of "deliberate and aggravated evasions" resulted in 15,458 convictions.

The FBI director recalled in a statement that attempted draft evasions frequently involved "ingenuity at its best." He cited a California case where a horse was claimed as a dependent, numerous cases of men masquerading as women, self-mutilation, psychoneurotic or other symtoms likely to lead to rejection.

TEXT OF STATEMENT

The text of President Truman's statement was as follows:

The Selective Service system has rendered the nation a service of incalculable value. Those who made possible its accomplishments during the emergency—the vast majority of whom served without compensation—deserve the country's gratitude.

The Selective Training and Service Act expires at midnight. Its records and personnel will be transferred to the newly created Office of Selective Service Records.

Since enactment of the Selective Training and Services Act, Sept. 16, 1940, the Selective Service system has furnished to the armed forces more than ten million men. These fighting men, comprising approximately two-thirds of all our armed forces, were selected by local boards through the most democratic process ever created for the purpose.

But that only begins to indicate the accomplishments of the local boards and other units of the Selective Service system. For every man who was selected to fight, many others had to be selected to stay at home to make the guns and mold the bullets for the successful prosecution of the war. Others had to stay to secure the domestic economy and to care for the health and safety of the civilian nation.

How well the process of Selective Service was carried out is recorded not alone by victories won on battlefields, but by the statistics showing the production figures in agriculture and industry—the highest in history.

I extend my heartfelt appreciation on behalf of the nation to the Selective Service system, not only to the unpaid officials but to the thousands of loyal clerks who have worked so faithfully through these long years.

GEN. EISENHOWER SAYS DRAFT END POSES GREAT TEST

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP) Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said tonight that the end of the draft gives the American people "the task of writing the insurance against the chaos of another war."

"From now on," said the army chief of staff in a statement, "we are engaged in a great test, to see whether a system traditionally American in peacetime—the volunteer system—can give us the stable, well-trained regular army our current international commitments require."

Stupendous Task"

He conceded that the task of providing such an army (the average strength for the year beginning next July 1 is set for 1,070,000) "is enormous." He noted that never before had the nation even considered raising and maintaining a million-man army in peacetime.

The selective service system, ended at midnight, inducted 10,022,367 men from 1940 until last October, when inductions halted. It will be replaced by a record-keeping organization and a system of record depots in the states to keep on file the 44,000,000 records of men who registered.

Maj. Gen. Willard S. Paul, chief of army personnel, reported today the recruiting program is continuing at a fairly satisfactory level. On the basis of the first three weeks in March, that month will bring in about 20,000 men. About three-quarters of them are three-year enlistment men instead of the high percentage of short-enlistment men who signed up immediately after the war.

PRESIDENT SIGNS LAW ENDING SUGAR RATIONING OCT. 31

Voices His Disapproval Over 'Early Date' for Termination of Controls.

OTHER CURBS DROPPED

Many Wartime Restrictions Wiped Out in Sweeping Legislation.

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—President Truman today signed "with reluctance" a law extending sugar rationing only until Oct. 31.

He also signed another rush bill passed by congress during the day preserving federal controls over a small group of scarce materials until June 30.

Both measures were hustled through senate and house and sent to the White House in a race against the midnight expiration of the Second War Powers Act, basis of the wartime rationing, priority and allocation power.

Raps Sugar Legislation

The president, evidently more dissatisfied by the short life given sugar rationing than by the curtailment of his own broad executive powers of allocation, issued a sharp statement on the sugar legislation.

Oct. 31 "appears to be too early for the termination of sugar controls," he said. He added that this had been recognized by many congressmen "both in committee and in debate."

Mr. Truman also noted that congress assumes that sugar supplies by Oct. 31 "might be materially larger than those now definitely in prospect."

The sugar act also extends price control on sugar through October. It otherwise would have expired June 30.

The rationing and price control will be administered by the Agriculture department instead of the dying OPA.

The bill as signed by Mr. Truman provides that each persons shall have a ration of at least 20 pounds of sugar in the next seven months. This is equivalent to a minimum of 35 pounds a year, or 10 pounds more than was allowed last year.

Mr. Truman had asked for a year's extension of sugar controls and an equal extension of major sections of the Second War Powers Act. In the latter case, he sought authority to allocate any item in case of a national emergency.

Requests Disregarded

Instead, congress named these few, at the same time forbidding the allocation of any items not under control on March 24:

Tin, antimony; railroad freight cars, the new drug streptomycin, cinchona bark (for quinine), manila and agave cordage and fibre, and tractors built for export.

In addition, the act allows "materials and facilities" essential to meeting international obligations to be allocated if the secretaries of state and commerce certify control is essential.

The two departments drafted this list of certified items, all in scarce world supply:

Grain, flour and grain products; rice and rice products; soap and soap powder; fats and oils; ammonium nitrate for export; oil bearing seeds; beans and nuts; fatty acids; oil cakes and oil cake meal; meat and meat products; butter; dry beans and peas.

Housing Controls Stay

These developments accompanied expiration of the bulk of the second war powers act:

1. All housing and construction controls passed from the Civilian Production Administration to Housing Expediter Frank R. Creedon, who announced they will be continued in full force. He will use the authority of the Patman Emergency Housing Act.

2. Secretary of Agriculture Anderson created a new office, the Sugar Rationing Administration, to take over sugar rationing and price control from OPA. All present OPA regulations on it will remain in effect. OPA's sugar staff is being transferred to agriculture's payroll.

3. The OPA revoked the inventory controls which served to curb the hoarding and withholding of goods; allocation of steel and resins; restrictions on textile producers; and variety of minor priority orders.

4. The Agriculture Department announced that the following war food orders continue in effect: All import controls; regulations and on the use of grain and rice by distillers and brewers; and regulations covering molasses, sugar, rice and butter.

5. Goverment purchase of natural rubber was ended and the trade restored to private hands. But the earlier legislation CPA will continue to control the use of both natural and synthetic rubber for one year, or until congress adopts a permanent policy for the $800,000,000, war-created synthetic industry.

6. The control of uranium ore, basic material for atomic energy, passed from CPA to the Atomic Energy Commission. The commission already has announced its control regulations.

Solid Fuels Body Dies

7. The Solid Fuels Administration ended all its controls over coal distribution. The lingering war agency was due to go out of existence at midnight, but employes said they had not received their one-month advance notice of discharge.

8. Emergency powers over truck lines and water carriers expired. They were lodged in the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Office of Defense Trasportation, which retain their authority over railroads. This gives them the right to declare rail freight embargoes and to curtail freight and passenger service in such emergencies as a coal strike.

9. The federal subsidy paid to operators of "stripper," or marginal, oil wells ran out. This was by coincidence, however. The subsidy was paid under a clause of the price control act. This clause expired today but rent control and other provisions continue until June 30.

10. Allocation of ethyl alcohol to industry ended. The Reconstruction Finance Corporation promptly announced it will accept sealed bids for cargo lots of cuban alcohol, 1,250,000 gallons to the lot.

11. Again by coincidence, the Commerce Department killed off more than 30 export controls as of midnight. Tractors will be removed from the control list April 7, even though the new legislation permits their reulation until June 30.

was recognized by many members in both houses of the Congress, both in committee and in debate.

As I explained in my message to the Congress on Jan. 31, 1947, regarding the extension of certain powers granted in the second war powers act, there is a continuing world shortage of sugar. While our supplies in 1947 will be larger than those available last year, they will still be substantially below pre-war per capita supply and still farther below estimated demand.

Low Level in Fall

I should like to emphasize the fact that sugar supplies in the United States normally approach a low level early in the fall. If controls are ended on Oct. 31, the situation may be as dangerous as if they had been allowed to lapse today.

In setting the Oct. 31 termination date the Congress apparently assumed that supplies by that time might be materially larger than those now definitely in prospect. It is true that domestic sugar production is being greatly expanded, especially in our beet-sugar areas, as a result of the government's program to increase supplies, and that under the Commodity Credit Corporation's purchase program we shall obtain our pledge of dealing fairly with other nations while guaranteeing to the American consumers the maximum amount that our share of total world supplies permits this year. A premature ending of controls over sugar would bring about a scramble of competing countries for the inadequate supplies now in prospect. A period of soaring sugar prices and unrestrained competition in the world market might, after a brief period of false prosperity, result in disastrous economic consequences for the sugar-producing countries.

Original Bill Preferred

In view of all these factors the provisions in the bill originally reported out by the Senate Banking and Currency Committee for continuation of controls through March 31, 1948, with provisions for earlier termination by the Secretary of Agriculture if the supply situation made such action possible, would have been preferable to the earlier mandatory termination date of this act.

If it becomes apparent later in the year that hopes for supply increases are not materializing and that discontinuance of sugar controls by Oct. 31 would not be in the public interest, I shall ask the Congress to reconsider the present terminal date for sugar control authorization. Such action would be in accordance with the possibilities which were clearly recognized by members of the Congress in the course of debate on the current extension.

I have been informed that the appropriated funds available for continued sugar controls are inadequate to carry out these controls effectively for the rest of this fiscal year. No administrative agency can be expected to administer these controls without sufficient funds. The Congress should see to it that necessary financial provisions are made, both for the rest of this fiscal year and for the period of operation and liquidation in the next fiscal year.

Truman Statement on Sugar

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP).—Following is the complete text of President Truman's statement today upon signing the new sugar-control act:

I am today signing the sugar-control extension act of 1947 which continues through Oct. 31, 1947, the authority to control the price, allocation and rationing, importation and exportation of sugar and related materials. Through this legislation the Congress has recognized the urgent need of continuing this authority beyond March 31, 1947, and has taken action which to that extent is in the national interest.

It is necessary that I sign this measure in order to avoid any lapse in sugar distribution controls after March 31. I sign it with reluctance, however, in view of the fact that Oct. 31 appears to be too early for the termination of sugar controls. This fact share of the greatly increased Cuban production. However, we shall not benefit substantially by an increase in new crop supplies until early in 1948. In addition, normally large export producers, such as the Philippine Islands, Java and Formosa, are still practically out of production as a result of war devastation. Recovery will be slow, although the favorable production factors for this year in those areas have been considered in allocation and rationing calculations.

Sugar controls are of concern not only to domestic producers and users but have international implications as well. As the purchaser of the Cuban sugar crop this country acts as the agent of friendly nations to make sure that other countries as well as our own receive their fair share of the world's sugar supply. We must continue to fulfill our

SENATE SEEKS VOTE THURSDAY ON LILIENTHAL

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(AP) Senator Cain (R-Wash) assailed the Lilienthal appointment as "largely political" today while Senator Knowland (R-Calif) praised it and said that further delay in confirmation would cause "irreparable damage to this nation."

Cain declared that President Truman picked David E. Lilienthal for chairman of the Atomic Energy commission before the November election to please "the radical fringe, the left-wing and the 'tread softly with Russia' advocates."

Not First Choice, Says Cain

He also told the Senate that Lilienthal was not the President's first choice for the post, nor even the second or third choice.

"I don't know what numbered choice he was," Cain added, "but I very much doubt that he was even considered when the President initially became concerned over what to be done with atomic energy."

Knowland argued against a motion by Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) to return the nominations of Lilienthal and his colleagues to the Senate Atomic committee for FBI investigations. He contended that such an action would cost time which can not be spared, damage the morale of atomic scientists, and have grave international repercussions.

"Mr. Lilienthal, chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority has had more experience than any other available man in operating a government agency of the general type and character of the Atomic Energy commission," Knowland said. "The qualifications that make him objectionable to some make him appear to me to be a man who would be well suited for the tremendous task at hand."

Overton Urges Caution

Senator Overton (D-La), arguing for the motion, said that "if any error is to be committed, is it not better for us to err on the side of caution or prudence than to rush pell-mell into the selection of appointees?"

Overton cautioned his colleagues they are preparing to pass on appointments to "the most important commission ever appointed by Congress." If rumor is to be believed, he said, the atomic bomb has reached a stage of development where, by comparison, the one dropped on Hiroshima is "as the noise of a pop-gun to the blast of a cannon."

The Senate expects to reach a vote Thursday.

In the House, meanwhile, Rep. Jenkins (R-Ohio) introduced legislation to take atomic energy from the Civilian commission to which Lilienthal has been named and give it to a board headed by Secretary of State Marshall. Similar proposals were made in the Senate last week.

NEW BELGRADE ENVOY NAMED

C. W. Cannon, Now At Lisbon, Nominated As Ambassador

Washington, March 31 (AP)—President Truman today selected a veteran career diplomat, Cavendish W. Cannon, to fill a diplomatic hot spot as Ambassador to Yugoslavia.

The President also sent to the Senate the nominations of six other men to be ambassadors in European and Latin-American countries.

Included was Stanton Griffis, New York investment banker, whose choice as Ambassador to Poland was announced by the White House last week. The others are all career officers.

27 Years In European Posts

Cannon has had 27 years' experience in European international politics and is now first secretary at Lisbon.

At Belgrade, he will succeed Richard C. Patterson, an outspoken critic of Marshal Tito's authoritarian regime, who likewise resigned last week.

A native of Salt Lake City and graduate of the University of Utah, Cannon has served entirely in Europe since he entered the diplomatic service in 1920 following World War I service in the Marine Corps overseas.

Other Nominations

The other nominations today:

JOHN C. WILEY, now Ambassador to Columbia, to succeed Herman Baruch as Ambassador to Portgual. Baruch has been transferred to the Netherlands.

WALTER J. DONNELLY, now counselor at Lima, Peru, to succeed Hallett Johnson as Ambassador to Costa Rica.

WILLIAMSON S. HOWELL, JR., of Bran, Texas, to be Ambassador to Uruguay. He will succeed Ambassador Joseph McGurk, who is retiring.

ALBERT F. NUFER, of New York, now counselor for economic affairs at Havana, Ambassador to El Salvador.

FLETCHER WARREN, now Ambassador to Nicaragua, to be Ambassador to Paraguay. He will succeed Willard Beaulac. His home is Wolfe City, Texas.

The President deleted the name of Lieut. Col. James A. Kilian, former commander of the Lichfield replacement depot, from a list of 683 lieutenant colonels submitted to the White House by the War Department for promotion to the rank of colonel.

Convicted By Court-Martial

Kilian was convicted by court-martial of permitting "cruel" punishment of enlisted men detained at Lichfield in England during the war. The sentence was handed down August 29, 1946, and the case is now pending on appeal.

Kilian was sentenced to be reprimanded and to pay a fine of $500.

The Senate previously held up action on a promotion list because Kilian's name was included.

ishment of enlisted men detained at Lichfield in England during the war. The sentence was handed down on August 29, 1946, and the case is pending on appeal.

Kilian was sentenced to be reprimanded, and to pay a $500 fine.

The Senate previously held up action on a promotion list because Kilian's name was included. Charles G. Ross, presidential secretary, in announcing the President's action, told reporters:

"Col. Kilian's name was on the list. It is on there no longer. The President took it off."

He explained that under the present laws the War Department was required to submit the names of officers eligible for promotion by reason of seniority. Secretary of War Patterson is advocating legislation which would permit the Army to select men for promotion on a basis of merit.

Patterson, in a letter accompanying the promotion list, told the President:

"Although a system of promotion for seniority may have some merit, I have felt for some time that it should be replaced by a system of promotion by selection for merit wherever possible.

In line with that conviction, earlier this month, the War Department filed with the Congress a draft of a bill which provides for promotion by selection in all ranks above that of first lieutenant. Were that proposed bill the law today, I would not submit this list to you."

Kilian Off Promotion List

President Deletes Name of Officer Who Commanded Lichfield Prison Camp.

Washington, March 31 (A. P.).—President Truman deleted today the name of Lieut.-Col. James A. Kilian, former commander of the Lichfield replacement depot, from an Army promotion list.

Kilian's name was included originally in a list of 683 lieutenant-colonels submitted to the White House by the War Department for promotion to full colonelcies. The President removed Kilian's name before sending the list to the Senate for action.

others identified as members of the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee's governing board today on charges of conspiracy. The jury accused the group of conspiring to prevent the House Committee on un-American Activities from gaining access to records of the organization, and failing to produce the records before the committee.

The indictment named Dr. Edward K. Barsky of New York city as chairman of the committee. Members of the committee recently sought unsuccessfully to have the District Court instruct the Grand Jury not to indict them.

They maintained, through their attorney, O. John Rogge, formerly of the Department of Justice, that they did not have the records, and therefore could not be held in contempt of the committee for not producing them. Officials of two other organizations also were indicted by the Grand Jury on the single charge of failing to produce records before the committee. They were Richard Morford, of the National Council of American-Soviet Friendship, Inc., and George Marshall, of the National Federation for Constitutional Liberties.

In addition to East and Dr. Barsky, those named on the two counts were: Jacob Auslander; Lyman R. Bradley, New York Ernestine G. Flieshman, Leverett Gleason, Harry M. Justiz, Mrs. Samuel Kamsley, Ruth Leider, James Lustig, Manuel Magana, Louis Miller, Herman Shumlin, Charlotte Stern, Jesse Tolmach, and Mrs. Bobbie Weinstein. All except Lustig, who is from Newark, are from New York city.

ELDER HAUPT'S GUILT IS UPHELD

Conviction of German Spy's Father Is Sustained.

Washington, March 31 (A. P.).—The Supreme Court upheld today the conviction for treason of Hans Max Haupt, father of a German saboteur executed here during the war. Haupt, a Chicago resident, was sentenced to life imprisonment and fined $10,000.

His son, Herbert Haupt, was a German agent who landed on the Florida coast from a submarine. Herbert made his way to Chicago where FBI agents later arrested him at his father's house.

Justice Jackson delivered the court's 8—1 opinion. Justice Murphy wrote a dissent.

Plea for Mercy.

Counsel for the father protested to the Supreme Court that the verdict of the jury at his trial in United States District Court was a result of "passion, prejudice and war hysteria." The Department of Justice replied that the jury, after reaching its verdict voluntarily, wrote a letter to the trial judge asking that he be merciful to Haupt. The department said that the letter impressed the judge so much that he did not sentence Haupt to death, "as he otherwise would have done."

Haupt and his son were born in Germany. The father came to this country in 1923, and later was naturalized. His counsel said that he has been held in custody without bail since his arrest in July, 1942.

'Design for Treason.'

Jackson said that the elder Haupt's acts "were aid in steps essential to his son's design for treason."

"There can be no question," Jackson wrote, "that sheltering, or helping to buy a car, or helping to get employment is helpful to an enemy agent, that they were of aid and comfort to Herbert Haupt in his mission of sabotage."

It was charged that the elder Haupt sheltered his son six days, assiseted him in obtaining employment in a lens plant, and helped him to buy an automobile.

Murphy's Dissent.

Murphy, in dissenting, said that every act which gives aid and comfort to an enemy does not necessarily constitute an overt act of treason, "even though the agent's status is known."

"An act of assistance may be of the type which springs from the well of human kindness, from the natural devotion to family and friends, or from a practical application of religious tenets," he said. "Such acts are not treasonous, however else they may be described. They are not treasonous, even though, in a sense, they help in the effectuation of the unlawful purpose."

Murphy added that to be an act of treason, "it must be an act which is consistent only with a treasonable intention, and with the accomplishment of the treasonable plan, giving due consideration to all the revelant surrounding circumstances."

NAVY ASKS BAN ON TALK ABOUT CODE SOURCES

Penalty Of 10 Years And $10,000 Fine Provided In House Bill

Washington, March 31 (AP)—Government employés or former service men who talk about codes or anything transmitted by code would receive stiff punishment under legislation sponsored by the Navy and introduced in the House today.

Another navy bill would give free educational training either in the United States or abroad to Government workers selected by agency heads. The workers, mainly scientific personnel, a navy official said, would be paid while they learned. No estimate on cost was given.

Civilian employés or former service men who "disclosed information secured through official sources" would be subject to a maximum of ten years in jail and $10,000 in fines.

"Derived" Information Banned

The bill would restrict not only information on code matters but information "derived" from coded documents unless authorized by department or agency heads.

A great deal of information at the Navy, War and State departments would fall in this category, since everything but routine business is coded in the early stages of discussion if not later.

Specifically covered are:

1. Information on code systems or machines of the United States or any foreign government.

2. "Any information which has been or purports to be derived from cryptanalysis of messages transmitted by the United States or any foreign government." Employés of foreign governments also could be punished for breaches of United States security, provided United States courts could obtain jurisdiction over the cases.

Previous Bill Failed In House

Similar legislation was passed last year by the Senate but didn't get House approval. At that time the Pearl Harbor inquiry was in full swing and House members feared the measure might block testimony based on secret messages.

This year's version carries a clause that makes it proper to give otherwise-prohibited information to the congressional committees.

Future Arabian Oil Prices Under Scrutiny

Washington, March 31 (AP)—Senator Brewster (R., Maine) said today he wants to know whether the Navy will have to "pay through the nose for the next 60 years" for Arabian oil bought through American concerns.

The Navy has denied the price it paid out of line. It has purchased oil for $59,879,954 under contracts with the Arabian-American and California-Texas Oil companies.

Brewster, chairman of the Senate War Investigating Committee, estimated this is $33,460,603 above the quotations in a 1941 contingent offer which James E. Moffett testified he carried to this Government for Arabian-American. That offer was rejected.

Concerned About Future

"Whether we have paid out $30,000,000 or $40,000,000 too much largely in time of war is not so important now," Brewster said. "The issue is whether we are going to pay too much in time to come. The Navy is getting one third of its oil supply from there (Arabia), and I want to know whether it is going to have to pay through the nose for the next 60 years."

"If we are going to protect that area we should be let in on the ground floor on prices," he contended.

The committee lowered a curtain on its inquiry into the Arabian oil prices while Burton K. Wheeler, former Montana Senator and Teapot Dome investigator, digs out facts to form the basis of future hearings. Brewster said he expects Wheeler to report in two weeks.

Wants To Hear All Sides

Senator Ferguson (R., Mich.) said the committee wants to hear "all sides."

"We've heard Moffett's story. We want to hear from the companies and from the Government. We can't hear one witness and decide the case," he said.

Moffett testified he has a $6,000,000 suit pending against Arabian-American for services in connection with his 1941 negotiations. His attorney said he also has a suit on file against California-Texas and other companies.

GERMANS COMING TO U. S. TO STUDY

Washington, March 31 (A. P.).—The Government announced today a cultural relations program for occupied Germany designed to further the "democratic reorientation of the German people."

A combined State, War and Navy department statement said that carefully screened Germans will be brought to this country to observe, work in, and study these fields: education, religion and public information; civil, welfare, youth and other social organizations; occupational and professional organizations; arts, letters, music and the stage.

The announcement said private institutions are welcome to participate in financing the program and that offers for training and accommodating Germans will be of "maximum value."

No estimate was given of the number of Germans that may benefit from the program nor its cost to the Government.

Broadcasts to Reds Will Be Jazzed Up

WASHINGTON, March 31—(AP) Benny Goodman, the hot clarinet man, is going to help the State department jazz up the "Voice of America" broadcasts to Russia—as requested by the Soviets.

Officials said tonight, the orchestra leaders will act as musical adviser for the daily short-wave program beamed to the U.S.S.R., starting April 14.

The announcement coincided with Moscow reports that the program's new 25-meter wave length is now hitting Moscow as loud as the Moscow radio itself and drawing more Soviet listeners.

Officials here said neither Goodman nor his band, in the flesh, will play for the Russians. The music for overseas broadcasts is all recorded.

Russians who have listened to the two-month-old broadcasts have made it clear they would like more jazz-type tunes, and less music such as "Turkey in the Straw" which featured the initial program.

U.S. Congress To Hear President Of Mexico

Washington, March 31 (AP)—Congress will hear a good neighbor message from Mexico's President Miguel Alemar., on May 1.

Scheduled to arrive in Washington April 29, he will be returning President Truman's March 3 visit to Mexico City.

The address to Congress in joint session will highlight the Mexican President's two-and-a-half days in Washington.

BELGIUM TO DECORATE 'INDIAN HEAD' DIVISION

WASHINGTON, March 31—(AP) Belgium has cited the Second "Indian Head" Infantry division and five units that were attached to it in the Ardennes forest fighting.

The W.. department said today that Count Yvan Georges du Monceau de Bergefindal, Belgian military and air attache, plans to fly to Fort Lewis, Washington, April 5 to present the Belgian fourragere to the division and the 462nd anti-aircraft air warning battalion; 741st tank battalion; company C, 86th chemical mortar battalion; 612th and 644th tank destroyer battalions.

Americans Buy 22 Liberty Ships

Washington, March 31 (AP)—The Maritime Commission disclosed it has approved sale of 22 Liberty ships to American citizens for operation under the flags of Panama or Honduras.

The action was taken over protest by the National Maritime Union, which put out pickets in Baltimore, New Orleans and other port cities.

The NMU charged that the ships would be operated under foreign flag as a device to "avoid paying the salaries and providing the decent living conditions which American seamen demand."

The union said that sale of the ships "means unemployment for American seamen."

The Maritime Commission said the 22 vessels selected for purchase would be ships not required for American flag operation. They will be taken from reserve fleet of Liberties, which the commission does not expect to use for its charter operations.

Terms of sale will be similar to those granted earlier to foreign purchasers, but the commission said American citizen applicants will be given preference over foreigners in selecting the 22 vessels.

9th Air Force HQ Scheduled To Move

Washington, March 31 (AP)—Headquarters of the 9th Air Force probably will be moved from Greenville, S.C., to a field in North Carolina or Georgia within the next three months.

While officials of the Army Air Forces declined to discuss plans for the 9th Air Force headquarters, based at the Greenville field since its return from England, other persons in a position to know said they believe the new headquarters will be either Pope Field, near Fort Bragg, N.C., or Lawson Field, a few miles from Columbus, Ga.

Sun Eclipse May Shed More Light On A-Bomb

Washington, March 31 (AP)—Scientists hope to learn more about atomic and rocket weapons by studying an eclipse of the sun May 20.

Calls For Communist List

Washington, March 31 (AP)—Senator Ferguson (R., Mich.) called on Attorney General Tom Clark today to publish a list of Communist front organizations. The Michigan Senator said the Communist party was using such organizations as "smoke screens" to trick well-meaning citizens.

Gen. Huglin Gets A. T. C. Post

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP).—Brigadier General Harold Q. Huglin, forty, has been named deputy commanding general of the Air Transport Command, the Army Air Forces announced today. He succeeds Colonel Morris J. Lee as chief of staff. Colonel Lee has been assigned to the faculty of the Military Academy at West Point.

RENT HIKE DENIED BY SENATE GROUP

WASHINGTON, March 31—(AP) The Senate Banking Committee today rejected a fresh bid for a general rent increase and voted unanimously to continue limited controls next Feb. 29.

Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) moved to authorize a blanket 10 percent boost in rent ceilings, but the committee turned thumbs down on this. By voice vote it approved instead, a bill which would set up advisory committees of representative citizens in each rental area.

These committees could recommend rent increases or removal of ceilings on an area basis to housing expediter Frank Creedon, who takes over the rent program from OPA. These recommendations would go into effect after 30 days unless Creedon ruled otherwise.

Rent controls are due to expire June 30 unless renewed.

The bill provides for outright decontrol of new housing, newly rented dwellings, houses renting for more than $225 a month, and hotels and motor courts.

The measure also would permit individual states to take over direction of rent control whenever state legislatures authorize this.

Holiday-Minded House Pushes Fund Debate

Washington, March 31 (AP)—A $2,471,498,548 appropriation bill, including the first big step in a Republican drive against Government "press agents," stands today between the House and an Easter recess.

If it is passed and sent to the Senate by tomorrow evening, the House will adjourn Wednesday for a one-week holiday, returning on Thursday, April 10.

While there was likelihood of long debate over several provisions of the bill, House leaders were confident they could get it behind them on schedule and get their branch out of town for the first vacation since Congress convened early in January.

The Senate, still deep in debate on David E. Lillienthal's nomination to head the Atomic Energy Commission—and with President Truman's Greek-Turkish aid program almost ready for consideration, plans only a long Easter week end beginning Thursday night.

Factors In Debate

The debate provoking provisions of the House Appropriation bill, a deficiency measure financing miscellaneous agencies for the three remaining months of the current fiscal year, include these:

1. An order directing the Veterans Administration to reduce the number of its public relations employés from 281 to 100. Republican leaders announced several months ago that they were planning a drive against all Government "press agents," Chairman Taber (R., N.Y.) of the the Appropriations Committee claiming they are too numerous and are making Washington reporters "lazy."

2. A cut of more than half a billion dollars in VA allotments, mainly from the pension fund and from funds for benefit payments under the GI Bill of Rights.

3. Refusal to appropriate additional money for the National Labor Relations Board, whose 1948 allotment was cut sharply in a separate bill passed by the House last week but still pending in the Senate.

4. Rejection by the Appropriations Committee of a Budget Bureau request for funds to pay court-approved salary claims of three former Federal workers fired in 1943 at congressional insistence. The three are Goodwin B. Watson, Robert Morss Lovett and William E. Dodd, Jr. In refusing the claims, aggregating $2,158, the committee ignored a Supreme Court ruling.

REDS YIELD POINT ON ATOMIC ISSUE

Accept Part of French Compromise on Work Plan for Committee.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 31.—(AP) Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate, accepted part of a French compromise tonight but refused to vote on a final plan of work for the committees of the United Nations Atomic Energy commission.

The working committee of the commission voted 10-0, with Russia and Poland abstaining, to approve the work plan after four hours of argument in a closed committee meeting.

Earlier, the committee had defeated a proposal by Gromyko which would have broadened the base of its future work. The vote was 5-7. Russia, Poland, China, Australia and Belgium voted for the proposition while the United States, France, Britain, Colombia, Brazil, Syria and Canada were against it.

Committee to Proceed

The net result of the session was:

1. The working committee can take up the basic points of disagreement between the United States and Russia on atomic controls, particularly the proposal made by Gromyko.

2. The political committee will deal with other questions concerned with atomic control.

Authoritative reports from the committee room said it was unanimously agreed that the working committee would take up immediately the Soviet proposals and the points of disagreement.

The final resolution also provided that the political committee would take up the various questions dealing with atomic controls as outlined in mandates from the general assembly to the atomic commission.

It was said that Gromyko abstained because the directive to the political committee was not flexible enough in his opinion to take up a number of amendments to the first report of the atomic commission.

Meantime, Dr. Pendleton Herring, director of the atomic energy group of the UN secretariat, announced he was returning to private life tomorrow. He said that he was hopeful on atomic controls and pointed to agreement on strict international controls as a basic advance in the past year.

Cadogan Becomes Chairman

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, will become chairman tomorrow and will fixe the date for the working committee and the political committee to begin their studies.

Frederick H. Osborn, United States representative, said "the result is satisfactory to everyone; we divided the work between two committees."

Gromyko agreed to the first part of the French compromise early in the session and then argued with other members of the committee on the orders for the political committee's work.

After little more than an hour's session, an authoritative source said Gromyko agreed to the first part of the French resolution which directed the working committee of the commission to take up Russia's proposals for atomic controls. He began an attempt to change the second part of the French proposal.

The working committee then tackled the last part of the French compromise.

Alexandre Parodi of France appealed to Gromyko to accept it in the interests of getting to work now on the atomic problem.

The French Proposal

The French proposal, accepted before the meeting by the United States, Canada and Britain, envisions:

1. The Soviet proposals for atomic controls, covering the basic points of disagreement between the United States and Russia, will be dealt with in the commission's working committee, made up of the principal delegates.

2. The political committee, made up of delegates or experts, will deal with general phases of atomic control, beginning with an attempt to state specifically just what is an authority.

Frederick H. Osborn, U. S. representative, withdrew a resolution he presented last week by which the political committee would have begun considering the make-up of an international control authority.

Gromyko told the working committee last week that the Soviet proposals could not be ignored. He demanded they be taken up immediately. The United States and Great Britain objected. The delegates have held prolonged conferences since then attempting to find a way out.

The commission is working under a mandate from the security council to submit a second report before the regular meeting of the general assembly next September and to draw up a treaty on atomic control "in due course." Its main task is to reconcile sharp differences between Russia and the United States.

Meanwhile, members of the commission for conventional armaments prepared for a meeting tomorrow (3 p. m., E.S.T.) at which further general statements on arms limitation and reduction are expected. The delegates were waiting to hear Soviet Russia's statement, which Gromyko has not yet given.

In the absence of answers from China, Russia and France, there was no decision yet on the formal filing of the Palestine case. Approval by those three powers of a special assemby session apparently was the only condition holding up Britain's presentation issue to the UN.

Palestine Case Filing Held Likely This Week

Lake Success, N.Y., March 31 (AP)—The United Nations moved today into a busy week which promised to bring formal filing of the Palestine case and a final vote on the American plan to take over the Japanese-mandated islands.

Approval of a special General Assembly session by Russia, France and China appeared to be the only condition holding up Great Britain's long-anticipated presentation of the Holy Land question.

The United States earlier agreed to the step and Secretary General Trygve Lie's office was awaiting sanction from the other three major-power delegates, who have referred the matter to their home governments.

May 1 Session Possible

With approval by the trio, Britain said she would file the case asking for the special session. Lie then will poll the 55 member nations.

No difficulty was expected in getting the necessary 28 concurring votes. The date of the meeting will depend on the time required for all this procedure, but some observers believe it may be as early as May 1.

It was learned that the British note to the United Nations would make only two points—ask for the special session to set up machinery for handling the case, and ask the case, and ask the Assembly to take up the issue at its regular meeting in September.

Atom Group Meeting

On the Pacific islands case, American officials were confident that the Security Council would reach a vote at its meeting Wednesday.

Today's calendar listed a closed meeting of the working committee of the Atomic Energy Commission, where France was expected to offer a compromise resolution designed to bring together Russia and the majority over the work program.

Gromyko has insisted that his suggestions, which amount to modifications and alterations of the report already approved by all the commission members except Russia and Poland, should be considered first.

Trusteeship Session

The others have sought to go ahead with defining powers of the proposed authority and laying down the rules of control, safeguards and inspections.

Also scheduled for a meeting today was the ten-nation Trusteeship Council, which is working on rules of procedure with the Russian delegate still absent.

Tomorrow, the Commission on Conventional Armaments goes back into session, with France expected to make a policy speech.

GREEK PLAN IS ASSAILED BY WALLACE

Says Truman Aid Program Will Unite World Against America

New York, March 31 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace told a Madison Square Garden rally tonight that "sooner or later Truman's program of unconditional aid to anti-Soviet governments will unite the world against America and divide America against itself."

"The Truman program must turn the world against America," the former Vice President and Cabinet member declared in a speech at a meeting on Greece and Turkey sponsored by the Progressive Citizens of America.

"At our command freedom, in whose name Americans have died, will become a catchword for reaction. Once we grant unconditional loans to the undemocratic governments of Greece and Turkey, then, in the name of freedom, every Fascist dictator will know that he has credit in our bank.

Urges Transfer To U.N.

"Today it is the governments of Greece and Turkey. Tomorrow it may be Perón and Chiang Kai-shek. Our banks will give dollars, our arsenals will give weapons. When that is not enough, our people will be asked to give their sons."

Wallace, now editor of the magazine New Republic, urged that the Greek-Turkish aid program be assigned to the United Nations.

He said "no one pretends that the United Nations will meet all needs and solve all problems overnight," adding "the budget of the United Nations is $6,000,000 less than the budget of the New York city sanitation department.

Elliott Roosevelt Speaks

"We ask," the former Vice President declared, "that the United Nations face the problem of security not piecemeal but on a world-wide basis. This means the internationalization of the Dardanelles, the Suez Canal and the Panama Canal.

Elliott Roosevelt told the meeting that "communism is spreading throughout the world . . . because of the vacillating 'do nothing' foreign policy of our Government which has failed to demonstrate the advantages of democracy."

Assailing aspects of the Truman Administration's foreign policy, including the recent aid to Greece and Turkey, he said:

"There is no doubt that a major part of our Government's consideration of international problems is predicated on aiding American big business expansion throughout the world."

Wants Party Revitalized

"Today our Government leaders by their actions have undermined the future of the United Nations," he continued.

"I believe the future of our country depends upon our devitalizing the Democratic party before the 1948 election," he said. "The Democratic party must be made the voice of the fighting Progressives.

"It must become the party of organized labor, the party of the farmer, and the party committed to wholehearted support of the United Nations. . . ."

Red Chief Hits Probe Group

New York, March 31 (AP)—Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the Communist Party in the United

30.24-8871

States, who refused last Thursday to tell a House committee his birthplace or give other names he had used, told a party rally yesterday that he was born Francis Waldron in Seattle, Wash., 42 years ago, of Irish-Norwegian ancestry.

Before a crowd of approximately 3,000 Dennis denounced the House Committee on UnAmerican Activities as "vicious, fascist-minded and unscrupulous." He said it sought to "besmirch our party," to "create a new anti-comintern axis and to bludgeon the American people with the bogey of a Communist menace."

Subpoenaed For April 9

The committee has subpoenaed Dennis to appear again before it April 9. He had volunteered to testify but was dismissed upon refusing to tell his right name.

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Identification, told the committee that Dennis was "a man of many aliases." Representative Nixon (R., Cal.) said Dennis was "wanted in Los Angeles for inciting to riot."

Referring to Hoover's statement, Dennis said that he took the name Eugene Dennis fifteen years ago—"a name that I try to honor by my activity as a Communist."

Explains Charge Of Crime

"What is the crime that Mr. Nixon refers to?" the party leader asked. "It is a charge that I helped to organize and lead the March 6 (1930) unemployment demonstration. What we demonstrated for has now become the recognized law of the land."

Dennis added "for Mr. Nixon's information," that he had been arrested also in San Bernardino, Cal., "in a free-speech fight" and in San Pedro, Cal., "some three or four times in helping to organize the National Maritime Union (CIO)."

Citizenship Denied Communist

HAMMOND, Ind., March 31 (AP)—A petition by an admitted Communist to compel the Immigration and Naturalization Service to accept his application for citizenship was denied today by Judge Luther M. Swygert of Federal court. He acted in the case of James E. McKay, 48 years old, of Gary, a steel drafting engineer employed by a Chicago company. Mr. McKay, a Canadian, had sought to set aside a ruling of the immigration service which refused his application for citizenship because he admitted being a member of the Communist party.

Parts of Atom Smasher Shipped to Oak Ridge

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., March 31 (AP).—The first section of a 100,000,000-electron-volt atom smasher have been shipped to Oak Ridge, Tenn., for use of the Atomic Energy Commission, the General Electric Company announced today.

The betatron was the first to be built on a commercial basis and can produce X-rays fifty times more powerful than those produced by the highest voltage conventional X-ray equipment, General Electric said.

The betatron was constructed for the Clinton Laboratories, operated for the commission by the Monsanto Chemical Company. Final assembly is expected by mid-July. General Electric is building a similar atom smasher for the University of Chicago to use in nuclear research.

Tobin Urges New Truman Term

BOSSTON, March 31 (AP)—Maurice J. Tobin, former Democratic Governor of Massachusetts, wants President Truman to seek another term. Just back from an inspection of conditions in Guam and American Samoa as a member of a Federal Commission, Mr. Tobin told newsmen: "I think Truman should run. I believe it would be a mistake, in view of the critical international situation, to have a change of administration."

First Quarter Car Output Sets Post-War Peak

Total of 1,151,000 Units Reported; Further Gain Seen in Next 3 Months

DETROIT, March 31 (AP).—The nation's car and truck industry finished the first quarter of 1947 today with an estimated output of 1,151,000 units, the highest level attained since the April-May-June period of 1941.

Output of the second three months of the last pre-war year totaled 1,501,567 vehicles. Assemblies for the quarter just ending would have reached an even higher level but for the blizzard that last week crippled transportation and forced several factories in the car-manufacturing area to close a full day or more.

Output for the three months ahead probably will equal if not exceed the figure for the corresponding period of 1941 if the supply situation does not take a more serious turn than is currently indicated.

The continued availability of labor in the car making and automotive parts supplying plans also figures in the forecasting of production probabilities for this year's second quarter. The next few weeks will see the opening of negotiations between the C. I. O. United Automobile Workers and Ford and General Motors over contract renewals.

In the following tabulation "Automotive News" estimates passenger car output by each manufacturer for the week ended March 29; the week ended March 22, and the period from Jan. 1 to March 29, 1947:

MOSCOW, MARCH 31-(AP)-BRITISH FOREIGN SECRETARY BEVIN DISCLOSED TONIGHT THAT BRITISH AND AMERICAN OFFICIALS WERE TRYING TO WORK OUT A PLAN FOR GERMAN COAL EXPORTS WHICH HE HOPED "WILL MEET THE WISHES OF FRANCE IN THIS VERY IMPORTANT MATTER."

URGING THAT FRANCE NO LONGER MAKE GUARANTEES OF COAL DELIVERIES FROM THE RUHR A CONDITION FOR ACCEPTING PROPOSALS TO UNIFY GERMANY ECONOMICALLY, BEVIN SAID:

"I HOPE ARRANGEMENTS WHICH WE CAN MAKE WITH FRANCE WILL BE SUCH AS TO REMOVE THE NECESSITY FOR MR.BIDAULT (FRENCH FOREIGN MINISTER) TO ADHERE TO THIS AS A CONDITION."

IN A SPEECH TO THE COUNCIL OF FOREIGN MINISTERS TODAY, BEVIN ALSO TOUCHED ON ANOTHER PROBLEM CONCERNING FRANCE, SAYING, "I SUPPORT FRANCE AND HER CLAIM FOR THE SAAR, SUBJECT TO TERRITORIAL ADJUSTMENT AND REPARATION ADJUSTMENT."

HE SAID BRITAIN HAD RESERVATIONS AS TO THE AMOUNT OF TERRITORY IN THE SAAR THAT HAD BEEN "INCORPORATED INTO FRENCH ECONOMY" BY "UNILATERAL ACTION," BUT WAS WILLING TO DISCUSS THE QUESTION.

AS FOR FRENCH REQUIREMENTS FOR COAL, HE DECLARED: "I AM MOST DESIROUS THEY SHOULD BE MET. OUR REPRESENTATIVES, IN CONJUNCTION WITH OUR AMERICAN COLLEAGUES, ARE DOING THEIR UTMOST TO PRODUCE A PLAN TO MEET THE WISHES OF THE FRENCH IN THIS VERY IMPORTANT MATTER."

MOSCOW, MARCH 31-(AP)-WHAT THE FOREIGN MINISTERS DID TODAY:

BRITISH FOREIGN SECRETARY BEVIN PROPOSED JULY 1 AS DATE FOR UNIFICATION OF GERMANY IN SESSION DEVOTED TO REPARATIONS AND ECONOMIC QUESTIONS.

U.S.SECRETARY OF STATE MARSHALL CHALLENGED THE SOVIET REFUSAL TO AGREE UNLESS RUSSIA GETS REPARATIONS FROM GERMANY'S CURRENT PRODUCTION, SAYING "WE CAN NEVER REACH REAL AGREEMENT" THAT WAY.

MOLOTOV EXPRESSED HOPE FOR RECONCILING DIFFERENCES, BUT MADE NO OFFER OF COMPROMISE.

MINISTERS AGREED TO "RESTRICTIVE SESSION" TOMORROW, WHEN OFFICIAL REPORTERS WILL BE ABSENT.

UNRATED RUSSIAN

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE ISSUE BETWEEN AMERICAN AND RUSSIAN VIEWPOINTS

ON THE FUTURE OF GERMANY WAS SHARPLY DRAWN BY SECRETARY OF STATE

MARSHALL BEFORE THE FOREIGN MINISTERS COUNCIL IN MOSCOW TODAY.

HE REJECTED A RUSSIAN ULTIMATUM TO THE COUNCIL---THE SOVIET DEMAND FOR REPARATIONS FROM CURRENT GERMAN PRODUCTION AS INDISPENSABLE FOR A SETTLEMENT.

Marshall, commenting on the Soviet demand for reparations from current German production as indispensable for a settlement, told the council that unless there were "a real meeting of minds and a real desire to carry out both the spirit and letter of our agreement, it would be better if none were reached."

In Washington, the House Foreign Affairs Committee CONTINUED conducting hearings on the proposed $400,000,000 American aid program for Greece and Turkey. Rep. Fred L. Crawford (R-Mich) told the committee he believed the United States should tell the Russians they must disarm or that the U.S. would use her atomic bombs and economic power against them. He conceded the course he advocated would mean war if Russia defied America.

Edwin C. Wilson, American Ambassador to Turkey, was said to have told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in closed session that Turkey was the last strong government in the Middle East to stand up to Russia and that, if the Ankara regime [illegible], Iran, Iraq, Arabia and other nations would have to bow to Soviet demands.

Rep. Karl E. Mundt (R-SD), another member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, urged today that President Truman seek a personal conference with Prime Minister Stalin to [illegible] a solution for diplomatic tension. Sen. Arthur H. Vandenburg (R-Mich) told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that the United Nations should have a veto over the proposed American Greek-Turkish aid plan.

3024 — 8873

At Lake Success, N. Y., Russian-American relations appeared smoother on the question of the proposed American mandate over conquered Japanese islands. The United States was reported likely to yield to Russian demands to give the Security Council rather than the U.S. the right to amend or alter the mandate agreement.

Down in Atlanta, Harold L. Ickes, former secretary of the interior, said at an interview that Russia was "tough to get along with" but there was no reason for a "defeatist attitude" on America's chances for continued peace with the U.S.S.R.

PRAVDA-LEONOV (170)

MOSCOW, MARCH 31-(AP)-SOVIET NOVELIST LEONID LEONOV BITTERLY ASSAILED THE FOREIGN MINISTERS' COUNCIL IN PRAVDA TODAY, ASSERTING THAT THE GHOSTS OF 7,000,000 RUSSIANS WHO LOST THEIR LIVES IN THE WAR ARE STANDING AROUND THE CONFERENCE TABLE SMILING IRONICALLY AT THE "GENTLEMEN" WHO, HE SAID BROKE THE YALTA AND POTSDAM AGREEMENTS ON GIVING REPARATIONS TO RUSSIA.

"THE WOMEN IN THE STREETS," LEONOV SAID, "HAVE BEGUN TO APPRAISE THE CONFERENCE AS A TIRESOME DISCUSSION IN WHICH SOME OF THE PARTICIPANTS DO NOT WANT TO RETURN TO THE ORPHANS THE BREAD AND ROOFS TAKEN AWAY BY BURGLARS.

"ALTHOUGH THE MOSCOW MEETING IS NOT OVER YET," HE WROTE, "THE OLD WOMAN (HISTORY) SMILES IRONICALLY...UNUSUAL THINGS ARE HAPPENING AROUND THE CONFERENCE TABLE...IT WAS THE SOVIET PEOPLE WHO SACRIFICED MOST OF ALL IN BEATING DOWN THE FASCIST SAVAGE...IN THE COURSE OF THE GREAT DAYS MEMORABLE DECISIONS WERE MADE BY THE STATE LEADERS AT YALTA AND POTSDAM.

"THERE WERE AGREEMENTS ON COMPENSATING THE SOVIET UNION FOR THE MONSTROUS DEVASTATION WHICH AT PRESENT IS SO MILDLY DESCRIBED AS DAMAGE...WHEN AT LAST IT CAME TO FULFILLING THESE OBLIGATIONS THE GENTLEMAN'S WORD AT YALTA AND POTSDAM, ATTESTED BY THESE DOCUMENTS, MAGICALLY BECAME AN EXQUISITE EXPRESSION OF SYMPATHY COVERING THIS DEVIATION FROM A GENTLEMAN'S WORD."

"IN ALL THIS GREAT UNDERTAKING," THE NOVELIST CONTINUED, "REPARATIONS IS A SUBSTANTIAL THING, BUT IT IS NOT THE CHIEF ONE FOR GENTLEMEN. THERE ARE THINGS ABOUT WHICH IT IS NOT CUSTOMARY TO HOLD DISCUSSIONS OVER A FRESH GRAVE. THEY ARE THERE ALL RIGHT UNDER THE SURFACE, BUT IT ALSO HAPPENS THAT THE JUDGES GATHER TO TALK WITHOUT ESPECIALLY BRILLIANT RESULTS, BECAUSE ONE SIDE IS NOT TRYING TO STRAIGHTEN OUT THE DAMAGE, BUT INSTEAD TO CARRY OUT ITS EGOTISTICAL PLANS.

"IF ONE LISTENS TO THEM IT LOOKS AS IF NOTHING HAS HAPPENED AT ALL--NOT EVEN TO YOU, THE 7,000,000 SOVIET SOLDIERS TO WHOM THE LEADERS OF MANY PEOPLES SO ARDENTLY BOWED WHILE THEY WERE ALIVE."

LEONOV SAID IT WAS HARDLY WORTH CREATING A FOREIGN MINISTER SUB-COMMISSION FOR STUDYING EXACTLY WHAT IS MEANT BY AN HONEST WORD.

"THE WORD 'GENTLEMEN' DOESN'T MEAN THE SAME THING AT DIFFERENT MERIDIANS," HE SAID.

"FOR EACH OF US WHO HAVE LOST 7,000,000 BROTHERS IN THE WAR," LEONOV ADDED, "THE YALTA DOCUMENT IS NOT MERELY A SHEET OF PAPER. NO ONE SHOULD APPRAISE THE MEETING AT YALTA AS A VACATION AT A HEALTH RESORT. WE DO NOT HAVE TIME FOR THAT. FMY MY COUNTRY, YALTA IS AT LEAST A RECEIPT IN BLOOD FOR THE WORD OF A GENTLEMAN. YALTA IS AT LEAST A RECEIPT IN BLOOD FOR THE WORD OF A GENTLEMAN. SUCH OBLIGATIONS WERE FULFILLED FROM ANCIENT TIMES WITHOUT RESERVATION. OUR SACRIFICES AND LOSSES CANNOT BE FORGOTTEN."

IN ANOTHER ARTICLE IN PRAVDA REFERRING TO THE FOREIGN MINISTERS' DELIBERATIONS, COMMENTATOR A.LEONTIEV DWELT AT SOME LENGTH ON RUSSIA'S ADVOCACY OF A CENTRAL GERMAN GOVERNMENT AND DECLARED:

"A UNITED GERMANY, IF REALLY A DEMOCRATIC AND PEACEFUL STATE, WOULD BE ENTIRELY CAPABLE OF ENTERING THE FAMILY OF PEACE-LOVING PEOPLES AFTER A WHILE AND OF OCCUPYING AMONG THEM A WORTHY PLACE."

LEONTIEV ADDED, HOWEVER, THAT THE GERMANS COULD NOT BE "DEMOCRATIZED" BY FORCE.

"A FORCED PERSCRIPTION OF ONE OR ANOTHER POLITICAL FORM IS IN ITSELF A VIOLATION OF DEMOCRACY," HE DECLARED. "HOW CAN PEOPLE BE TAUGHT DEMOCRACY BY THE USE OF FORCE?"

LEONTIEV SAID THAT CERTAIN QUARTERS IN THE UNITED STATES HAD BEEN "HAMPERING THE DEMOCRATIZATION" OF GERMANY BY "SHAKING THE FLAMING BRIMSTONE OF 'BOLSHEVIK DANGER' AS IF IT WERE HANGING POINTBLANK OVER GERMANY."

MARSHALL SAID THE COUNCIL SHOULD NOT PERMIT "OUR DIFFERENCES TO STAND IN THE WAY OF EUROPEAN RECOVERY." NIGHT (Gallagher)

"BECAUSE THE UNITED STATES DELEGATION CANNOT ACCEPT SOME OF THE PROPOSALS WHICH MAY BE MADE HERE DOES NOT MEAN THAT WE ARE NOT READY TO REVIEW SYMPATHETICALLY ANY PROPOSALS WHICH MAY BE MADE TO IMPLEMENT THE PROGRAM ON WHICH WE HAVE TO EMBARK TOGETHER," MARSHALL SAID.

"WE ARE HERE TO RESOLVE AND NOT TO ACCENTUATE OUR DIFFERENCES. BUT WE SHOULD NOT SEEK AGREEMENT MERELY FOR THE SAKE OF AGREEMENT. THE UNITED STATES RECOGNIZES THAT ITS RESPONSIBILITIES IN EUROPE WILL CONTINUE AND IT IS MORE CONCERNED IN BUILDING SOLIDLY THAN IN BUILDING FAST." MOSCOW (NL-For. Min.) XXX 19mar47

MOLOTOV SAID HE AGREED WITH MARSHALL THAT THE REBUILDING SHOULD BE SOLID, RATHER THAN FAST.

ON THE QUESTION OF RUSSIAN DEMANDS FOR REPARATIONS, MOLOTOV SAID HE COULD NOT UNDERSTAND WHY THE UNITED STATES WAS SO CONCERNED, SINCE AMERICA HAD NOT BEEN OCCUPIED DURING THE WAR AND HAD SUFFERED NO WAR DAMAGE.

BEVIN, LIKE MARSHALL, REJECTED THE SOVIET CLAIM AT LEAST FOR THE TIME BEING, ON GROUNDS THAT THE GERMAN ECONOMY COULD NOT STAND THE DRAIN.

MOLOTOV REPLIED THAT THE GERMAN ECONOMY HAD MANAGED TO SUSTAIN A TREMENDOUS WAR EFFORT, AND SAID THE GERMANS COULD PAY RUSSIA THE $10,000,000,000 WHICH THE SOVIETS DEMAND IF GERMAN INDUSTRY WERE REVIVED AND IF THE GERMAN PEOPLE CARRIED OUT THEIR DUTIES "HONESTLY."

DAY FOURTH LEAD FOREIGN MINISTERS 1947

MOSCOW, MARCH 31-(AP)-THE UNITED STATES AND BRITAIN ATTACKED SOVIET PROPOSALS FOR GERMANY IN THE FOREIGN MINISTERS COUNCIL TODAY AND THE SESSION FOUND RUSSIAN FOREIGN MINISTER V.M.MOLOTOV EXPRESSING HOPE THAT "DIFFERENCES AMONG THE DELEGATIONS" COULD BE RECONCILED.

THE SOVIET MINISTER WAS REPORTED SUBDUED.

U.S.SECRETARY OF STATE MARSHAL CRITICIZED BOTH RUSSIA AND FRANCE BEFORE THE COUNCIL, SAYING "WE CAN NEVER REACH REAL AGREEMENT ON THE BASIS OF AN ULTIMATUM OR IMMOVABLE POSITIONS." IT WAS HIS MOST AGGRESSIVE SPEECH IN THE COUNCIL TO DATE.

BRITISH FOREIGN SECRETARY ERNEST BEVIN PROPOSED THE UNIFICATION OF GERMANY ON JULY 1, 1947, UNDER SOME CONDITIONS WHICH THE RUSSIANS HAVE PREVIOUSLY OPPOSED.

DIRECTLY CHALLENGING SOVIET PROPOSALS AND MOTIVES, MARSHALL DECLARED MOLOTOV WAS "TRYING TO SELL THE SAME HORSE TWICE" IN REGARD TO REPARATIONS, AND SAID SOVIET PROPOSALS TO CUT DOWN GERMAN IMPORTS WERE IN EFFECT A PLAN TO STARVE THE GERMANS.

"DOES THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT MAKE THIS PROPOSAL SERIOUSLY?" MARSHALL ASKED. 1947

THE MINISTERS THEN AGREED TO A MARSHALL SUGGESTION TO MEET IN A "RESTRICTIVE SESSION" TOMORROW.

THIS MEANS THAT EACH MINISTER WILL HAVE ONLY HIS INTERPRETER AND TWO OR THREE AIDES PRESENT. EXTRA-OFFICIAL REPORTERS WHO HAVE BEEN BRIEFING THE NEWSPAPER CORRESPONDENTS ON WHAT OCCURRED AT THESE SESSIONS WILL NOT BE PRESENT.

MOLOTOV, WHILE ANSWERING THE AMERICAN POINTS BITINGLY, REFERRED CONTINUALLY TO HOPES THAT AGREEMENT COULD BE REACHED AT THIS MEETING ON GERMANY. PARTICIPANTS SAID HIS ATTITUDE WAS MILD CONSIDERING HIS PREVIOUS STAND. BUT HE MADE NO MOVE FOR A COMPROMISE ON KEY POINTS.

ANSWERING MARSHALL'S STATEMENT THAT EHT RUSSIANS APPARENTLY WERE TRYING TO SELL THE SAME HORSE TWICE, MOLOTOV SAID "WE DID NOT APPROACH THIS PROBLEM OF REPARATIONS FROM A POINT OF VIEW OF MERCHANTS, BUT WE DO NOT WANT OTHER MERCHANTS SELLING OUR HORSE AT A LOW PRICE WITHOUT OUR CONSENT." 1947

HE SAID THE UNITED STATES WAS NOT SO CONCERNED WITH GETTING REPARATIONS OUT OF GERMANY SINCE THE UNITED STATES WAS NOT OCCUPIED BY GERMAN TROOPS AND HAD NOT SUFFERED THE CONSEQUENT LOSSES.

HE REITERATED SOVIET DETERMINATION NOT TO AGREE ON GERMANY UNLESS RUSSIA RECEIVED REPARATIONS FROM GERMANY'S CURRENT PRODUCTION, THE POINT WHICH HAD AROUSED MARSHALL.

BEVIN ALSO ATTACKED THIS STAND OF MOLOTOV'S BECAUSE, HE SAID, GERMAN ECONOMY COULD NOT STAND THE DRAIN. BUT MOLOTOV DECLARED THE GERMAN ECONOMY HAD SUSTAINED A TREMENDOUS WAR EFFORT AND COULD EASILY PAY $10,000,000,000 IN REPARATIONS IF HER INDUSTRY WAS REVIVED AND THE GERMAN PEOPLE MADE TO CARRY OUT THEIR DUTIES "HONESTLY."

HE ALSO REJECTED A TENTATIVE SUGGESTION BY MARSHALL THAT THE GERMAN AGRICULTURAL AREA WHICH POLAND NOW CONTROLS BE FIGURED IN THE GERMAN ECONOMY.

HE SAID THIS AREA WAS TRANSFERRED TO POLISH SUPERVISION BY MUTUAL CONSENT AT YALTA AND POTSDAM AND THERE COULD BE "NO DISCUSSION OF THIS QUESTION." 1947

MOLOTOV SAID MARSHALL'S ASSERTION THAT SOVIET PROPOSALS WOULD REDUCE GERMANS TO STARVATION WAS "NOT RIGHT". THE RUSSIANS ENVISAGED INCREASED IMPORTS THAT WOULD RAISE THE PRESENT LOW CALORY LEVEL, HE SAID, AND HE REPEATED HIS CHARGE THAT FAILURE TO CARRY OUT LAND REFORMS IN THE AMERICAN, BRITISH AND FRENCH ZONES HAD CURBED GERMAN FOOD PRODUCTION.

THE FOREIGN MINISTERS WERE SCHEDULED TO BEGIN DISCUSSION THIS AFTERNOON OF THE MAJOR QUESTION OF THE ECONOMIC UNITY OF GERMANY.

AFTER THREE WEEKS OF EXCHANGING PROPOSALS FOR A GERMAN SETTLEMENT, THE BIG FOUR SEEMED NO NEARER AGREEMENT THAN WHEN THEIR CONFERENCE OPENED. BUT WESTERN DIPLOMATS APPEARED HOPEFUL THAT THIS WEEK WOULD PRODUCE ARGUMENTS ON THE REAL ISSUES WHICH WOULD INDICATE WHETHER ANYTHING COULD BE ACCOMPLISHED HERE.

TIED UP WITH THE PROBLEM OF ECONOMIC UNIFICATION WAS RUSSIA'S DEMAND FOR $10,000,000,000 IN GERMAN REPARATIONS AND AMERICAN AND BRITISH INSISTENCE THAT THE FIRST AIM OF SUCH UNIFICATION SHOULD BE TO MAKE GERMANY SELF-SUPPORTING.

THE U.S. WAS UNDERSTOOD TO BE LIKELY TO AGREE, BY WAY OF BARGAINING, TO THE PRINCIPLE OF REPARATIONS FROM CURRENT GERMAN PRODUCTION. BUT AMERICAN EXPOERTS SAID THAT RUSSIA WANTED THE MARGIN OF PRODUCTION FOR EXPORT IN THE NEXT FEW YEARS TO BE SO NARROW THAT THEY COULD NOT SEE HOW GERMANY COULD PAY BOTH REPARATIONS AND THE COST OF NEEDED IMPORTS.

WITH THE AMERICAN AND BRITISH ZONES OF GERMANY MERGED ECONOMICALLY AND THE TWO COUNTRIES JOINTLY CONTROLLING THE RICH MINERAL RESOURCES OF THE RUHR, SECRETARY OF STATE GEORGE C. MARSHALL WAS REPORTED READY TO FOLLOW A STRATEGY OF SITTING TIGHT TO SEE WHAT SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTER V. M. MOLOTOV WAS WILLING TO DO TO BRING ABOUT A SETTLEMENT.

IN FACT, SAID TOP OFFICIALS, IF THE U.S. GROUP CAN'T GET AGREEMENT ON THE PRINCIPLES IT BELIEVES NECESSARY TO PRODUCE A REALLY PEACEFUL AND ECONOMICALLY INDEPENDENT GERMANY, IT IS QUITE WILLING TO GO HOME WITH NO AGREEMENT AT ALL.

U.S. OFFICIALS SAID THE RUSSIANS HAD MADE ONE BAD MOVE RECENTLY IN WHAT THE AMERICANS TERMED A CAMPAIGN OF PROPAGANDA AIMED AT THE GERMAN PEOPLE.

WHEN THE COORDINATING COMMITTEE ON THE GERMAN TREATY DISCUSSED GERMAN SELF SUFFICIENCY, THEY POINTED OUT, THE AMERICANS AND BRITISH ARGUED THAT ALL FOUR OCCUPYING POWERS MUST SHARE IN THE DEFICIT CREATED BY THE COST OF SUPPLYING GERMANY WITH NECESSITIES UNTIL SHE COULD PAY HER OWN WAY.

DEPUTY FOREIGN MINISTER ANDREI Y. VISHINSKY, SPEAKING FOR THE RUSSIANS, TOOK THE POSITION, THE OFFICIAL COMMITTEE RECORD SHOWED, THAT THE SOVIET UNION WOULD NOT SHARE IN PAST OR PRESENT DEFICITS AND THAT THE ECONOMIC LEVEL OF THE FUTURE SHOULD BE SO FIXED THAT NO FUTURE DEFICITS WOULD BE INCURRED.

THE AMERICAN OFFICIALS, COMMENTING ON THIS LINE, CONTENDED THAT SUCH A LEVEL WOULD BE BELOW THE SUBSISTENCE STANDARD AND THAT THE GERMAN PEOPLE WERE BOUND TO RECOGNIZE THIS FOR A FACT.

IN THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT NEWSPAPER IZVESTIA, LAWYER-SCIENTIST AARON N. TRAININ SAID YESTERDAY THAT THE GERMAN PROBLEM COULD BE SOLVED ONLY BY "POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC UNIFICATION ON A DEMOCRATIC BASIS BY CREATION OF A DEMOCRATIC UNIVERSAL PARLIAMENT."

FURTHER BACKING UP MOLOTOV'S POSITION ON THE FUTURE GERMAN GOVERNMENT, PROF. TRAININ ADDED THAT WHILE THE OLD WEIMAR CONSTITUTION HAD ITS FAULTS, MAINLY IN GIVING THE PRESIDENT TOO MUCH POWER, IT HAD VIRTUES, TOO, AND OULD SERVE AS

HAD VIRTUES, TOO, AND COULD SERVE AS A BASIS FOR A NEW GERMAN CONSTITUTION.

BERLIN,MARCH 31-(AP)-ERIC AUERBACH, SUPPLY OFFICER IN THE AMERICAN MILITARY GOVERNMENT'S WELFARE SECTION, SAID TODAY THERE WERE NO RULES TO PREVENT AN AMERICAN OR OTHER UNITED NATIONS CITIZEN FROM SENDING GIFT FOOD PACKAGES TO NAZIS IF THEY WANTED TO.

AUERBACH'S COMMENT WAS MADE IN ANSWER TO STATEMENTS IN THE RUSSIAN-CONTROLLED PRESS OF BERLIN THAT NAZIS HAD BEEN RECEIVING CARE (COOPERATIVE FOR AMERICAN REMITTANCES TO EUROPE) PACKAGES BY PARCEL POST FROM THE UNITED STATES. THE BERLINER ZEITUNG SAID ONE SUCH PACKAGE ARRIVED IN BAVARIA ADDRESSED TO MRS.MARTIN BORMANN, WHOSE HUSBAND WAS SENTENCED TO DEATH IN ABSENTIA AT NUERNBERG, AND THAT NAZIS IN INTERNMENT CAMPS HAD RECEIVED SIMILAR PACKAGES.

WARSAW, POLAND, MARCH 31-(AP)-POLAND, ALREADY CONTINENTAL EUROPE'S BIGGEST COAL PRODUCER, IS AIMING FOR AN OUTPUT OF 58,000,000 TO 60,000,000 TONS THIS YEAR.

THAT'S THE TARGET SET BY MINISTER OF INDUSTRY HILARY MINC, EXULTANT OVER THE FACT THAT POLISH MINERS TURNED OUT SLIGHTLY MORE THAN 47,000,000 TONS IN 1946--A FULL MILLION MORE THAN WAS ANTICIPATED.

MINC SAID THE GOVERNMENT PLANS TO STEP UP THE EXPORTATION OF COAL TO WESTERN AND EASTERN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES AS FAST AS [illegible] INCREASED PRODUCTION PERMITS.

UNDER POLAND'S NEW THREE-YEAR ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM, MINC PREDICTED COAL OUTPUT WOULD REACH 80,000,000 TONS BY 1949, AND EXPORTS WOULD RANGE FROM 20,000,000 TO 23,000,000.

MINC SAID HE ESTIMATED POLAND WOULD NEED ABOUT 26 PERCENT OF TOTAL PROPOSED EXPENDITURES INVOLVED IN THE THREE-YEAR PLAN IN THE FORM OF FOREIGN CREDITS. CREDITS WERE RECEIVED UNDER COMMERCIAL AGREEMENTS WITH SWITZERLAND, FRANCE, SWEDEN, DENMARK, RUSSIA, NORWAY AND ITALY.

ADDITIONALLY, MINC POINTED OUT THAT POLAND HAD RECEIVED LOANS AND CREDITS AMOUNTING TO $90,000,000 FROM THE UNITED STATES, TO BE USED MOSTLY IN THE PURCHASE OF EQUIPMENT NEEDED IN THE REHABILITATION OF POLISH INDUSTRY.

HE ADDED THAT POLAND WANTED 90,000 TONS OF RAW COTTON ANNUALLY WHICH MAY BE PURCHASED IN THE UNITED STATES, RUSSIA, BRAZIL AND EGYPT. "WE'LL BUY WHERE WE FIND THE MOST CONVENIENT CREDITS," HE SAID.

MINC SAID FOREIGN CAPITAL HAD HEAVY INVESTMENTS IN POLAND BEFORE THE WAR, REACHING AS HIGH AS 63.1 PERCENT OF ALL INDUSTRIAL HOLDINGS IN 1937. HE ADDED HE BELIEVES POLAND NOW WILL SUBSTANTIALLY PULL HERSELF UP THROUGH HER OWN POWER AND FOREIGN INVESTMENTS WOULD NOT TOTAL MORE THAN 20 PERCENT.

BELGRADE, MARCH 31-(AP)-MARK ETHRIDGE, UNITED STATES DELEGATE ON THE UNITED NATIONS INVESTIGATING COMMISSION, CALLED UPON BULGARIAN LIAISON OFFICE GEORGE KOULISHEV TODAY TO EXPLAIN AN ARTICLE IN A COMMUNIST NEWSPAPER OF SOFIA WHICH SAID BULGARIANS WOULD WELCOME "CREATION OF A MACEDONIAN STATE WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK" OF YUGOSLAVIA.

IN A LETTER ADDRESSED TO KOULISHEV AND DISTRIBUTED TO OTHER MEMBERS OF THE U.N. COMMISSION, ETHRIDGE REQUESTED CLARIFICATION OF THE ARTICLE AND ITS IMPORT.

30.24-8881

OVER RUSSIAN AND POLISH OPPOSITION, THE COMMISSION HAS AGREED WITH EHTRIDGE'S CONTENTION THAT IT IS COMPETENT TO INQUIRE INTO THE REPUTED YUGOSLAV AND BULGARIAN BACKING OF A PLAN TO CREATE A SEPARATE STATE BY SEVERING MACEDONIA FROM GREECE.

THE ARTICLE TO WHICH ETHRIDGE REFERRED WAS QUOTED IN HIS LETTER AS STATING:

"THE BULGARIAN PEOPLE WOULD WELCOME WITH SATISFACTION THE CREATION OF A MACEDONIAN STATE WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK OF THE FRATERNAL FEDERATIVE PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF YUGOSLAVIA. X X X

"UNIFICATION OF OTHER PARTS OF THE MACEDONIAN NATION CAN TAKE PLACE ONLY ON THE BASIS OF THIS REPUBLIC. SUCH UNIFICATION IS IN THE INTERESTS OF THE FUTURE PEACEFUL DEVELOPMENT OF BULGARIA IN CLOSE COOPERATION WITH A BROTHERLY YUGOSLAVIA."

ETHRIDGE ALSO ADDRESSED A LETTER TO GREEK LIAISON OFFICER ALEXIS KYROU ASKING FOR MORE INFORMATION ON KYROU'S STATEMENT THAT "BULGARIA SEEMS TO BE RELEASING ITS ORIGINAL OPPOSITION TO THE INCORPORATION OF BULGARIAN MACEDONIA WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK OF THE FEDERATIVE PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF YUGOSLAVIA IN RETURN FOR YUGOSLAV SUPPORT OF ITS DESIGNS ON WESTERN THRACE."

B16 (Q)

ETHRIDGE ASKED SPECIFICALLY OF KYROU WHETHER HE HAD ANY EVIDENCE OF THE EXISTENCE OF SUCH AN AGREEMENT BEYOND THE CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE HE PRODUCED PREVIOUSLY.

ETHRIDGE ALSO SAID HE HAD BEEN PROMISED BY YUGOSLAV LIAISON OFFICER JOSIP DJERDJE AN ANSWER TO A SIMILAR SET OF QUESTIONS CONCERNING YUGOSLAV POLICY ON MACEDONIA, BUT THAT HE HAD RECEIVED NO REPLY AS YET.

OBSERVERS SAID THAT THE INSISTENCE OF THE WESTERN POWERS' REPRESENTATIVES ON THE INVESTIGATING COMMISSION ON CLARIFICATION OF THE MACEDONIAN ISSUE WAS PROMPTED BY THE POSSIBILITY OF AN IMMEDIATE DECLARATION OF AN INDEPENDENT MACEDONIA BY GUERRILLAS IN NORTHERN GREECE.

A 28-YEAR-OLD GREEK FARMER TOLD THE UNITED NATIONS BALKAN INQUIRY COMMISSION EARLIER THAT THERE WAS NO "POLITICAL OR MILITARY TRAINING" IN THE BULKJES CAMP AND THAT THE GREEKS SHOULD BE "ETERNALLY GRATEFUL" FOR THE REFUGE THERE OFFERED BY YUGOSLAVIA.

HE SAID HE CROSSED INTO BULGARIA IN JULY, 1945, THEN WENT TO BULKJES, WHERE HE HAS REMAINED SINCE.

PEIPING,MARCH 31-(AP)-PRESS DISPATCHES FROM CHINESE WAR CORRESPONDENTS WITH GOVERNMENT FORCES SAID TODAY NATIONALIST ARMIES HAD CAPTURED PAOAN, 42 MILES NORTHWEST OF THE FALLEN COMMUNIST CAPITAL OF YENAN, AND WERE MAKING RAPID STRIDES IN SEABOARD SHANTUNG PROVINCE.

PAOAN, IN NORTHWEST SHENSI PROVINCE, IS NOTABLE ONLY BECAUSE IT WAS THE FIRST COMMUNIST HEADQUARTERS AFTER THEIR HISTORIC LONG MARCH FROM SOUTH CHINA TO THE NORTHWEST TERRITORIES.

IN SHANTUNG, GOVERNMENT ACCOUNTS SAID NATIONAL ARMIES FROM THE SOUTH HAD CAPTURED THE RAILWAY TOWN OF TAIAN, 33 MILES SOUTH OF THE PROVINCIAL CAPITAL, TSINAN, AND ALSO HAD GAINED CONTROL OF A TRIANGULAR AREA, 40 MILES ON A SIDE, BOUNDED BY FEIHSIEN, SSUSHUI (CQT) AND TENGHSIEN. THE AREA STARTS ABOUT 70 MILES SOUTH OF TSINAN.

MANY QUARTERS CONTINUED THE NEW GUESSING GAME ON WHEREABOUTS OF COMMUNIST LEADERS SINCE THE FALL OF YENAN MARCH 19, BUT THE WIDE CROP OF RUMORS HAD NO CONFIRMATION. THEY PLACED THE COMMUNIST CHIEF, MAO TSE-TUNG, ALL THE WAY FROM VLADIVOSTOK TO SHANSI PROVINCE.

THE ONLY INFORMATION FROM THE COMMUNISTS THEMSELVES WAS A BROADCAST THAT ALL OF THEIR LEADERS AND ORGANIZATIONS HAD RETREATED SAFELY FROM YENAN.

FORMOSA (375)

BY SPENCER MOOSA

SHANGHAI, MARCH 31-(AP)-JOHN W.POWELL, EDITOR OF THE MAGAZINE CHINA WEEKLY REVIEW, CHARGED TODAY THAT FORMOSA'S GOVERNOR-GENERAL, CHEN YI, HAS "COUPLED TRICKERY WITH A REIGN OF TERROR PROBABLY NOT EQUALLED IN CHINA IN THE HISTORY OF THE KUOMINTANG (GOVERNING PARTY)" TO "VIRTUALLY SUPPRESS THE FORMOSA REVOLUTION."

POWELL SAID DISTURBANCES ARE CONTINUING ONLY IN THE MORE REMOTE SECTIONS, BUT THAT, BY CONSERVATIVE ESTIMATES, 5,000 FORMOSANS ALREADY ARE LISTED AS DEAD AND THOUSANDS HAVE BEEN IMPRISONED. HE PUBLISHED HIS REPORT AFTER RETURNING FROM A VISIT TO THE BIG ISLAND, WHICH WAS RETURNED TO CHINESE CONTROL AFTER THE DEFEAT OF JAPAN.

THE CENTRAL NEWS AGENCY--OFFICIAL GOVERNMENT ORGAN--PREVIOUSLY TERMED THE FORMOSAN DISORDERS OPEN AND WIDESPREAD REBELLION. NO IMMEDIATE COMMENT ON POWELL'S REPORT WAS FORTHCOMING FROM GOVERNMENT SOURCES.

1947

"WHEN INTERVIEWED ABOUT THESE EVENTS, GOVERNOR CHEN YI DEPRECATED THE WHOLE AFFAIR, SAYING IT WAS REALLY QUITE INSIGNIFICANT, BEING A LOCAL INCIDENT CAUSED BY 'HARD ELEMENTS'," POWELL'S REPORT SAID.

"HE (THE GOVERNOR) SAID IT WOULD NEVER HAVE BECOME AT ALL SERIOUS IF HE HAD JUST HAD TROOPS ON HAND. HE ALSO BLAMED THE COMMUNISTS.

"ALL FOREIGNERS I TALKED WITH STATED EMPHATICALLY THAT THERE WERE NO SIGNS OF ANY COMMUNIST ACTIVITY AND THAT THEY DID NOT BELIEVE THERE ERE ANY COMMUNISTS TO SPEAK OF ON THE ISLAND."

TH UPRISING AGAINST THE CHINESE ADMINISTRATION WHICH BEGAN LAST FEB.28, POWELL SAID, FOLLOWED "A YEAR AND A HALF OF FLAGRANT MISRULE" IN WHICH FORMOSANS WERE "SQUEEZED AND OPPRESSED FAR WORSE THAN WHEN RULED BY THE JAPANESE. SINCE THEN, LOOTING AND GENERAL CIVIL DISTURBANCES SWEPT WHAT ONCE WAS THE RICHEST ISLAND IN ASIA."

GOVERNMENT TROOPS PERPETRATED "SOME OF THE MOST UNIMAGINABLE ATROCITIES," POWELL--SON OF THE LATE, WIDELY KNOWN J.B.POWELL--WROTE, CONCLUDING THAT:

"WITH THE SITUATION WHAT IT IS IN CHINA TODAY, THERE IS LITTLE HOPE THAT ANYTHING CONSTRUCTIVE CAN BE DONE IN TIME TO SAVE THE ISLAND ECONOMICALLY OR POLITICALLY FOR CHINA."

DESCRIBING ALLEGED ATROCITIES, HE SAID "AMONG EYEWITNESS ACCOUNTS I WAS ABLE TO COLLECT FROM RELIABLE FOREIGN OBSERVERS, ONE OF THE MOST HORRIBLE WAS THE KILLING OF 20 YOUTHS IN A VILLAGE BETWEEN TAIPEH AND KEELUNG. THEY WERE CASTRATED, THEIR EARS WERE CUT OFF AND THEIR NOSES SLIT BEFORE THEY WERE BARYONETED. THEIR BODIES WERE THROWN IN A CREEK.

POWELL'S ACCUSATION OF "TRICKERY" IN PUTTING DOWN THE RIOTING REFERRED TO A TRUCE, "ARRANGED UNTIL MARCH 10 WHEN NEGOTIATIONS WERE TO GET UNDER WAY" BETWEEN GOVERNOR CHEN AND A FORMOSAN COMMITTEE.

BUT GOVERNMENT TROOPS FROM THE MAINLAND ARRIVED BEFORE MARCH 10, HE ADDED, AND INSTEAD OF NEGOTIATIONS FOR A PEACEFUL SETTLEMENT, "THE COMMITTEE HAD BEEN ARRESTED--SOME OF THEM HAVE NOW BEEN SHOT--AND THE REIGN OF TERROR WAS ON.....TRUCKLOADS OF SOLDIERS ARMED WITH MACHINE-GUNS AND AUTOMATIC RIFLES SPED THROUGH THE STREETS, FIRING AT ANY PERSON FOUND ON THE STREET, AND INTO SHOPS AND HOUSES."

OTTAWA, MARCH 31-(AP)-PESSIMISTIC REPORTS ON THE CONDITION OF WINTER WHEAT SEEDED LAST FALL IN THE UNITED KINGDOM AND CONTINENTAL EUROPE INDICATE "ANOTHER YEAR OF SHORTAGES" CANADA'S BUREAU OF STATISTICS SAID TODAY.

"SHOULD THE WINTER-KILL PROVE TO BE OF SERIOUS EXTENT AND THE CURRENT WET WEATHER FURTHER DELAY SPRING SEEDING," THE BUREAU SAID IN ITS MONTHLY REVIEW OF THE WORLD WHEAT OUTLOOK, "THERE MAY BE AMPLE GROUNDS FOR ASSUMING ANOTHER YEAR OF SHORTAGES IN THE AFFECTED COUNTRIES.

"OVER AND ABOVE THE WEATHER FACTORS, TOO, IT IS UNLIKELY THAT ALL DEFICITS OF POWER, LABOR, SUITABLE SEED AND FERTILIZERS CAN BE MADE GOOD WITHIN THE NEXT YEAR OR TWO, AND ANY LACK OF THESE ITEMS IS CERTAIN TO HAVE A NEGATIVE EFFECT UPON PRODUCTION.

"IN INDIA, A MODERATELY GOOD WHEAT CROP NOW IS BEING HARVESTED. BUT SOME IMPORTS WILL STILL BE REQUIRED."

THE REPORT SAID THERE WERE NO INDICATIONS YET THAT AUSTRALIA AND THE ARGENTINE WOULD SEED INCREASED ACREAGES OF WHEAT AND IT WAS TOO EARLY TO VENTURE ANY ESTIMATE AS TO PROBABLE 1947 YIELDS IN THOSE COUNTRIES. IN CANADA, SOIL MOISTURE CONDITIONS IN THE SPRING WHEAT AREAS WERE REPORTED GOOD BUT HERE TOO, IT WAS MUCH TOO EARLY TO HAZARD A PRODUCTION ESTIMATE.

"THE UNITED STATES HAS INCREASED ITS OVER-ALL WHEAT AREA BY SOME 4,000,000 ACRES, AND GIVEN AVERAGE CONDITIONS IN THE SPRING WHEAT AREA AND A CONTINUATION OF THE PRESENT EXCELLENT CONDITIONS IN THE WHEAT CROP, A RECORD PRODUCTION IN EXCESS OF 1,200,000,000 BUSHELS COMPARED WITH 1,158,000,000 IN 1946 COULD BE ACHIEVED."

POLITICS

BY JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, MARCH 31-(AP)-CAPITOL HILL POLITICIANS GENERALLY AGREED TODAY THAT THE BACKHAND SLAP AT FORMER VICE PRESIDENT HENRY A.WALLACE AND SENATOR CLAUDE PEPPER (D-FLA), BY GAEL SULLIVAN, DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE EXECUTIVE, IS LIKELY TO GIVE IMPETUS TO A GROWING PARTY SPLIT.

SULLIVAN'S DECLARATION THAT THE NATIONAL COMMITTEE DOESN'T INTEND TO CALL ON EITHER WALLACE OR PEPPER FOR HELP IN THE 1948 CAMPAIGN BECAUSE THEIR VIEWS DIVERGE FROM THOSE OF THE PRESIDENT WAS WIDELY REGARDED AS AN EFFORT TO READ THOSE SELF-CLASSIFIED "LIBERALS" OUT OF THE PARTY.

WHILE NEITHER WALLACE NOR PEPPER VOLUNTEERD ANY IMMEDIATE REJOINDER, FEW THOUGHT THE TWO WOULD TAKE THE SULLIVAN SPANKING LYING DOWN.

BUT EVEN IF THEY STRIKE BACK, THEIR FRIENDS ON CAPITOL HILL DOUBT THAT THE PAIR WILL TAKE SULLIVAN'S CRACK AS THE SIGNAL TO MARCH OFF INTO A THIRD PARTY MOVEMENT.

THEY ARE MORE LIKELY, THESE FRIENDS SAY, TO TRY TO RALLY THOSE OF LIKE VIEWS AROUND THEM FOR A SPEEDY EFFORT TO GET SULLIVAN OUT OF THE OFFICE HE NOW HOLDS AND TO TRY FOR A BIGGER HAND THEMSELVES IN PARTY AFFAIRS. SULLIVAN, THE PARTY'S EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, IS SUBBING FOR NATIONAL CHAIRMAN ROBERT E.HANNEGAN, WHO IS ILL.

IT APPEARED DOUBTFUL THAT SULLIVAN'S REMARKS, DELIVERED IN THE COURSE OF A RADIO INTERVIEW, WERE KNOWN TO THE PRESIDENT IN ADVANCE.

IF THEY WEREN'T, THE DEMOCRATIC OFFICIAL MAY BE CALLED ON THE CARPET AGAIN, AS HE WAS EARLIER THIS MONTH WHEN HE PROPOSED THAT REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CHAIRMAN CARROLL REECE JOIN HIM IN A STATEMENT SUPPORTING THE PRESIDENT'S GREECE-TURKEY AID PROGRAM. SULLIVAN ACKNOWLEDGED THAT MR.TRUMAN TOLD HIM TO KEEP FOREIGN AFFAIRS OUT OF POLITICS IN THE FUTURE.

WALLACE AND PEPPER ARE OPPOSING THE GREECE-TURKEY PROGRAM, ALTHOUGH SULLIVAN DID NOT LINK HIS SLAP AT THE PAIR TO THEIR STAND ON THAT MATTER.

WHILE MANY DEMOCRATS THINK THE PARTY WILL HAVE TO HAVE THE SUPPORT OF THE WALLACE-PEPPER CONTINGENT IF IT HOPES TO WIN IN 1948, THERE IS NO RELIABLE INDICATION WHETHER MR.TRUMAN SHARES THIS VIEW.

SOME REPUBLICANS LOOKED ON SULLIVAN'S ACTION AS A BREAK FOR THEM. THESE GOP MEMBERS SAID THEY DON'T CARE WHETHER WALLACE AND PEPPER STRIKE OFF ON THEIR OWN OR MERELY SULK IN THEIR POLITICAL TENTS IN 1948. EITHER WAY, THEY CONTEND, THE DEMOCRATIC SPLIT WILL BE MAGNIFIED.

OTHER REPUBLICANS SAID FRANKLY, BUT PRIVATELY, THAT IF THE TREND MANIFEST IN THE 1946 CONGRESSIONAL ELECTIONS CARRIES THROUGH INTO NEXT YEAR, SULLIVAN MAY HAVE DUMPED SOME POLITICAL LIABILITIES IN WALLACE AND PEPPER.

NEW YORK, MARCH 31-(AP)-DR.EDWARD K.BARSKY, NATIONAL CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE JOINT ANTI-FASCIST REFUGEE COMMITTEE, SAID A WASHINGTON GRAND JURY'S INDICTMENT TODAY OF 17 PERSONS IDENTIFIED AS MEMBERS OF THE GOVERNING BODY OF THE COMMITTEE ON CHARGES OF CONSPIRACY WOULD BECOME "AN OUTSTANDING AND HISTORICAL TEST CASE IN THE DEFENSE OF THE CIVIL LIBERTIES OF AMERICAN CITIZENS."

AUTHOR HOWARD FAST AND BARSKY WERE AMONG THOSE OF THE GROUP CHARGED WITH CONSPIRING TO PREVENT THE HOUSE COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES FROM GAINING ACCESS TO RECORDS OF THE ORGANIZATION, AND FAILING TO PRODUCE THE RECORDS BEFORE THE COMMITTEE.

GEORGE MARSHALL, CHAIRMAN OF THE NATIONAL FEDERATION FOR CONSTITUTIONAL LIBERTIES, ONE OF TWO MEN ALSO INDICTED BY THE GRAND JURY ON THE SINGLE CHARGE OF FAILING TO PRODUCE RECORDS BEFORE THE COMMITTEE, ALSO ISSUED A STATEMENT TONIGHT ASSAILING THE PROCEEDINGS.

MARSHALL SAID "I INTEND TO FIGHT MY CASE TO THE HIGHEST COURT AND TAKE IT TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE."

RICHARD MORFORD, OF THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF AMERICAN-SOVIET FRIENDSHIP, WAS INDICTED ON THE SAME CHARGE AS MARSHALL.

MEMBERS OF THE JOINT ANTI-FASCIST REFUGEE COMMITTEE HAVE MAINTAINED THEY DID NOT HAVE THE RECORDS AND THEREFORE COULD NOT BE HELD IN CONTEMPT OF THE COMMITTEE FOR NOT PRODUCING THEM.

BARSKY SAID IN A STATEMENT THAT IN INDICTING THE 17 MEMBERS OF THE COMMITTEE "THE FEDERAL GRAND JURY HAS PLACED BEFORE THE COURTS THE WHOLE QUESTION OF THE JURISDICTION, THE METHODS OF PROCEDURE AND THE CONSTITUTIONALITY OF THE HOUSE COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES.

"THIS, THEN, BECOMES AN OUTSTANDING AND HISTORICAL TEST CASE IN THE DEFENSE OF THE CIVIL LIBERTIES OF AMERICAN CITIZENS. WE ARE CONFIDENT THAT THE COURTS IN REVIEWING THE ENTIRE SITUATION WILL UPHOLD THESE INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS GUARANTEED BY THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES."

MARSHALL SAID "THE SIMULTANEOUS INDICTMENT OF THE 17 MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF THE JOINT ANTI-FASCIST REFUGEE COMMITTEE, OF REV.MORFORD X X X AND OF MYSELF X X X IS BUT AN INDICATION OF THE LENGTHS TO WHICH REACTIONARIES WILL GO TO CRUSH ALL OPPOSITION IF THEY CAN GET AWAY WITH IT.

"THESE INDICTMENTS AND ALL OTHER ATTEMPTS TO SUPPRESS PROGRESSIVES MUST BE VIGOROUSLY FOUGHT IN THE INTEREST OF DEMOCRACY."

NEW YORK, MARCH 31-(AP)-KIRSTEN FLAGSTAD, NORWEGIAN SOPRANO, HAS RECEIVED A WORKING PERMIT FROM THE AMERICAN GUILD OF MUSICAL ARTISTS (AFL) BUT THE UNION HAS REFUSED TO RESTORE HER MEMBERSHIP BECAUSE OF CRITICISM OF HER RETURN TO NORWAY IN 1941 WHEN IT WAS OCCUPIED BY THE NAZIS.

THE WAGNERIAN SINGER RETURNED TO THE UNITED STATES ON MARCH 14 AND SAID THEN THAT "IT WAS NOT TRUE THAT I WENT BACK ON A GERMAN PASSPORT AND WITH THE HELP OF THE GERMAN EMBASSY."

THE GUILD'S DECISION WAS ANNOUNCED YESTERDAY IN THE FORM OF A RESOLUTION PASSED UNANIMOUSLY BY ITS BOARD OF GOVERNORS.
